26 Notwithstanding the Lorde turned not from the r fiercenes of his great wrath wherewith hee was angry against Iudah, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

8 ¶ And in the fifth moneth, and [f] seuenth day of the moneth, which was [p] nineteenth yeere of King Nebuchad nezzar King of Babel, came Nebuzar-adan ‖ chiefe steward and seruant of the king of Babel, to Ierusalem.

9 And burnt the house of the Lorde, and the kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe the walles of Ierusalem round about.

11 And the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and those that were fled and [g] fallen to the king of Babel, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adan chiefe steward carie away captiue.

12 But the chiefe stewarde left of the poore of the lande to dresse the vines, and to till the land.

13 * Also the pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen Sea that was in the house of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caried the brasse of them to Babel.

14 The pottes [h] also and the besomes, and the instruments of musike, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the ashe pannes, and the basens, and all that was of golde, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away,

16 With the two pillars, one Sea and the bases, which Salomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 * The height of the one pillar was eighteene cubites, and the chapiter thereon was brasse, and the height of the chapiter was with networke three cubites, and pomegranates upon the chapiter rounde about, all of brasse: and likewise was the second pillar with the networke.

18 And the chiefe stewarde tooke Seraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the [i] second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the citie hee tooke an Eunuch that had the ouersight of the men of warre, and [k] fiue men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were founde in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoste, who mustred the people of the lande, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

21 And the king of Babel smote them, and slew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

22 * Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel left, and made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan ruler ouer them.

23 Then when all the captaines of the hoste, and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah gouernour, they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Iaazaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah [l] sware to them, and to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwell in the lande, and serue the king of Babel, and ye shalbe well.

25 * But in the seuenth moneth Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah the sonne of Elishama of the kings seede, came, and tenne men with him, and smote Gedaliah, and he died, and so did hee the Iewes and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people both small and great, and the captaines of the armie arose, and came to [m] Egypt: for they were afraid of the Caldees.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Iewes comprehende both these bookes in one, which the Grecians because of the length diuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the bookes of the Kings of Iudah and Israell, which did at large set foorth the storie of both the kingdomes, and afterward perished in the captiuity: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke conteineth conteineth a briefe rehearsall of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Izhak, Iaakob, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah and of the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth foorth more amply his acts, both concerning ciuill gouernment, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyceth, and giueth thanks to the Lord.

CHAP. III.

1 The genealogie of Dauid, and of his posteritie vnto the sonnes of Iosiah.

THese also were the sonnes of a Dauid, which were borne vnto him in Hebron: the eldest Amnon of Ahinoam the Izreelitesse: the seconde b Daniel of Abigail the Carmelitesse.

a He returneth to the genealogie of Dauid, to shew that Christ came of his stocke.

b Which 2.Sam. 3.3. is called Cheleab, borne of her that was Nabals wife the Carmelite.

2 The third Absalom the sonne of Maachah daughter of Talmai King of Gessur: the fourth Adonijah the sonne of Haggith:

3 The fifth Shephatiah of Abital: the sixt Ithream bp Eglah his wife.

4 These sixe were borne vnto him in Hebron: and there he reigned seuen yeere and sixe moneths: and in Ieruſalem he reigned three and thirtie yeere.

5 And these foure were borne vnto him in Ieruſalem, Shimea, and Shobab, and Nathan, and Salomon of c Bathshua the daughter of Ammiel:

c Calle I also Bathsheba the daughter of Eliam: so they gaue them diuers names.

6 Ibhar also, and d Elishama, and Eliphalet, d Elishama, or Elishua, 2.Sam. 5.15. & Eliphelet died, as Dauid named those sonnes, which were next borne by ỹ same names: in the booke of Kings his children are mentioned which were aliue, and here both they that were aliue and dead.

7 And Nogah, and Nepheg, & Iaphia,

8 And Elishama, and Eliada, and Eliphelet, nine in number.

9 These are all the sonnes of Dauid, besides the sonnes of the concubines, & Thamar their sister.

10 ¶ And Salomons sonne was Rehoboam, whose sonne was Abiah, and Asa his sonne, and Iehoshaphat his sonne, 11 And Ioram his sonne, and Ahaziah his sonne, and Ioash his sonne, 12 And Amaziah his sonne, and Azariah his sonne, and Iotham his sonne, 13 And Ahaz his sonne, and Hezekiah his sonne, and Manasseh his sonne, 14 And Amon his sonne, and Iosiah his sonne.

15 ¶ And of the sonnes of Iosiah, the eldest was ‖ Iohanan, the seconde Iehoiakim, the thirde Zedekiah, and the fourth Shallum.

‖Or, Iehoahaz, 2.King.23.30.

16 And þ sonnes of Iehoiakim were Iechoniah his sonne, and Zedekiah his sonne.

17 And the sonnes of Iechoniah, Assir, and Shealtiel his sonne:

18 Malchiram also and Pedaiah, and Shenazar, Iecamiah, Hoshama, and Nedabiah.

19 And the sonnes of Pedaiah were e Zerubbabel, and Shimmei: and the sonnes of Zerubbabel were Meshullam, and Hananiah, and Shelomith their sister, e S. Matthewe saith that Zorobabel was sonne of Zalathiel, meaning that he was his nephewe according to the Browe speach: for he was Pedaiahs sonne.

20 And Hashubah, and Ohel, and Berechiah, and Hasadiah, and Iushabhesed, fiue in number.

21 And the sonnes of Hananiah were Pelatiah, and Iesaiah: the sonnes of Rephaiah, the sonnes of Arnan, the sonnes of Obadiah, the sonnes of Shechaniah.

22 And the sonne of Shechaniah was Shemaiah: and the sonnes of Shemaiah were Hattush, and Igeal, and Bariah, and Neariah, and Shaphat, 6 sire.

f So that Shemaiah was Shechaniahs naturall sonne, and the other fiue his nephewes, and in all were sixe.

23 And the sonnes of Neariah were Elioenai, and Hezekiah, and Azrikam, three.

24 And the sonnes of Elioenai were Hodaiah and Eliashib, and Pelaiah, and Akkub, and Iohanan, and Delaiah, and Anani, seuen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The genealogie of the sonnes of Iudah, 5 Of Ashur, 9 Of Iabez and his prayer, 11 Of Chelub, 24 And Simeon: their habitation, 38 and conquests.

THe a sonnes of Iudah were * Pharez, Hezron, and Carmi, and Hur, and Shobal.

a Meaning, they came of Iudah, as nephewes and kinsemen: for onely Pharez was his naturall sonne.

2 And Reaiah the sonne of Shobal begate Iahath, and Iahath begate Ahumai, and Lahad: these are the families of the Zoreathites.

3 And these were of the father of Etam, Izreel, and Ishma and Idbash: & the name of their sister was Hazelelponi.

Gene.38.29. and 46.12. chap.2.4.

4 And Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer the father of Hushah: these are the sonnes of Hur the b eldest sonne of Ephratah, the father of Beth-lehem.

b The first borne of his mother, and not the eldest sonne of his father.

5 But Ashur the father of Tekoa had two wiues, Heleah, and Naarah.

6 And Naarah bare him Ahuzam, and Hepher, and Temeni, and Haahashtari: these were the sonnes of Naarah.

7 And the sonnes of Heleah were Zereth, Izohar and Ethnan.

8 Also Coz begate Anub, and Zobebah, and the families of Aharhel the sonne of Harum.

9 But Iabez was more honorable then his brethren: and his mother called his name c Iabez, saying, Because I bare him in sorowe.

c Otherwise called Othniel, Iudg.1.13.

10 And Iabez called on the God of Israel, saying, If thou wilt blesse me indeede, and enlarge my coastes, and d if thine hand be with me, and thou wilt cause me to be deliuered from euill, that I be not hurt. And God granted the thing that he asked.

d It is to be vnderstood, that then he would accomplish his vowe which he made.

11 ¶ And Chelub the brother of Shuah begate ‖Mehir, which was the father of Eshton.

12 And

12 And Elhton begate Beth-raphа, and Paseah, and Tehinnah the father of the citie of Nahath: these are the men of Rechah.

13 ¶ And the sonnes of Kenaz were Othniel and Seraiah, and the sonne of Othniel, Hathath.

14 And Meonothai begate Ophrah. And Seraiah begate Joab the [e] father of the valley of craftesmen: for they were craftesmen.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of Caleb the sonne of [f] Jephunneh were Iru, Elah, & Naam. And the sonne of Elah was Kenaz.

16 And the sonnes of Jehaleel were Ziph, and Ziphah, Tiria, and Asareel.

17 And the sonnes of Ezrah were Jether, and Mered, and Epher, and Jalon, and he begate Miriam, and Shammai, and Ishbah the father of Eshtemoa.

18 Also his ‖ wife Jehudiah bare Jared the father of Gedor, and Heber the father of Socho, and Jekuthiel the father of Zanoah: and these are the sonnes of Bithiah the daughter of Pharaoh, ‖ which Mered tooke.

19 And the sonnes of the wife of Hodiah the sister of Naham the father of Keilah were the Garmites, and Eshtemoa the Maachathite.

20 And the sonnes of Shimon were Amnon and Rinnah, Ben-hanan and Tilon. And the sonnes of Ishi were Zoheth, and Ben-zoheth.

21 ¶ * The sonnes of Shelah, the sonne of Judah were Er the father of Lecah, and Laadah the father of Mareshah, and the families of the houlholdes of them that wrought fine linnen in the house of Ashbea.

22 And Jokim and the men of Chozeba and Joash, and Saraph, which had the dominion in Moab, & ‖ Jashubi Lehem. These also are ancient things.

23 These were potters, and dwelt among plants and hedges: there they dwelt with the king for his worke.

24 ¶ * The sonnes of Simeon were Nemuel, and Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, & [b] Shaul.

25 Whose sonne was Shallum, and his sonne Mibsam, and his sonne Mishma.

26 And the sonnes of Mishma, Hamuel was his sonne, Zacchur his sonne, and Shimei his sonne.

27 And Shimei had sixteene sonnes, and sixe daughters, but his brethren had not many children, neither was all their familie like to the children of Judah in multitude.

28 And they dwelt at [i] Beer-sheba, and at Moladah, and at Hazar Shual, 29 And at Bilhah, and at Ezem, and at Tolad,

30 And at Bethuel, and at Hormah, and at Ziklag,

31 And at Beth marcaboth, and at Hazar Susim, at Beth-birei, and at Shaaraim. these were the cities vnto the reigne of [k] Dauid.

32 And their townes were Etam, and Ain, Rimmon, and Tochen, and Ashan, fiue cities.

33 And all their townes that were round about their cities vnto Baal. These are their habitations, and the declaration of their genealogie,

34 And Meshobab and Jamlech, and Joshah the sonne of Amaziah, 35 And Joel and Jehu the sonne of Joshibiah, the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Asiel, 36 And Elionai, and Jaakobah, and Jehohaiah, and Asaiah, and Adiel, and Jesimiel and Benaiah, 37 And Ziza the sonne of Shiphei, the sonne of Allon, the sonne of Jedaiah, the sonne of Shimri, the sonne of Shemaiah.

38 These were famous Princes in their families, and increased greatly their fathers houses.

39 And they [l] went to the entring in of Gedor, euen vnto the East side of the valley, to seeke pasture for their sheepe.

40 And they founde fatte pasture and good, and a wide lande, both quiet and fruitfull: for they of Ham had dwelt there before.

41 And these described by name, came in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Judah, and smote their tents, and the inhabitants that were found there, & destroyed them vtterly vnto this day, and dwelt in their roome, because there was pasture there for their sheepe.

42 And besides these, fiue hundreth men of the sonnes of Simeon went to mount Seir, and Pelatiah, and Neariah, and Rophaiah, and Vzziel the sonnes of Ishi were their captaines, 43 And they smote the rest of Amalek that had [m] escaped, and they dwelt there vnto this day.

CHAP. V.

1 The birthright taken from Reuben and giuen to the sonnes of Joseph. 3 The genealogie of Reuben. 11 and Gad. 23 and of the halfe tribe of Manasseh.

THe sonnes also of Reuben [a] eldest sonne of Israel (for he was the eldest, * but had defiled his fathers bed, therefore his birthright was giuen vnto the [a] sonnes of Joseph the sonne of Israel, so that the genealogie is not reckoned after his birthright.

2 For Judah preuailed aboue his brethren, and of him came [b] the Prince, but the birthright was Josephs)

3 * The sonnes of Reuben the eldest sonne of Israel, were Hanoch and Pallu, Hezron and Carmi.

4 The sonnes of Joel, Shemaiah his sonne, Gog his sonne, & Shimei his sonne.

5 Michah his sonne, Reaiah his sonne, and Baal his sonne, 6 Beerah his sonne: whome Tilgath Pilneser king of Asshur [c] caried away: he was a Prince of the Reubenites.

7 And when his brethren in their families reckoned the genealogie of their generations, Jeiel and Zechariah were the chiefe.

8 And Bela the sonne of Azaz, the sonne of Shema, the sonne of Joel, which dwelt in [d] Aroer, euen vnto Nebo and Baal-meon.

e The Lord of that valley where the Artificers did worke.

f Called also Esron.

Or, she bare, meaning the second wife of Ezrah. Or, of whom he had Mered.

Gen. 38. 1, 3, 5.

Or, of the inhabitants of Lehem.

They were ing Dauids garners, and serued him in his works.

Gene. 46. 10. Exod. 6. 15. His sonne Oad is here omitted.

These cities belonged to the tribe of Iudah, Ios. 19. 1. and were giuen to the tribe of Simeon.

Then Dauid stored them to the tribe of Iuda.

l For the tribe of Simeon was so great in number, that in the time of Ezekiah they sought newe dwellings vnto Gedor, which is in the tribe of Dan.

m And were not slaine by Saul and Dauid.

Gene. 35. 22. and 49. 4.

a Because they were made two tribes, they had a double portion.

b That is, he was the chiefest of all the tribes, according to Iaakobs prophesie, Gene. 49. 8. and because Christ shoulde come of him.

Gene. 46. 9. exod 6. 14. numb. 26. 5.

c To wit, in the time of Vzziah king of Israel, 2. King. 15. 29.

d These places were beyond Iorden toward the East in the lande of the Reubenites.

9 Also eastward he inhabited vnto the entring in of the wildernes from the riuer ‖Perath: for they had much cattell in the land of Gilead.

‖ Or, Euphrates.

10 And in the dayes of Saul they warred with the Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the East parts of Gilead.

e The Ishmaelites that came of Hagar Abrahams concubine.

11 ¶ And the children of Gad dwelt ouer against them in the land of Bashan, vnto Salchah.

12 Joel was the chiefest, and Shapham the second, but Jaanai and Shaphat were in Bashan.

13 And their brethren of ṗ house of their fathers were Michael, and Meshullam, and Sheba, and Jorai, and Jacan, and Zia, and Eber, seuen.

14 These are the children of Abihail, the sonne of Huri, the sonne of Jaroah, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Michael, the sonne of Jeshishai, the sonne of Jahdo, the sonne of Buz.

15 Ahi the sonne of Abdiel, the sonne of Guni was chiefe of the household of their fathers.

16 And they dwelt in Gilead in f Bashan, and in the townes thereof, and in all the suburbs of Sharon, by their borders.

f Both the whole countrey & one peculiar citie were called by this name Bashan.

17 All these were reckoned by genealogies in the dayes of Jotham king of Judah, & in the dayes of Jeroboam king of Israel.

18 ¶ The sonnes of Reuben and of Gad, and of halfe the tribe of Manasseh of those that were valiant men, able to beare shielde and sword, and to drawe a bowe, exercised in warre, were foure and fourtie thousand, seuen hundreth and threescore, that went out to the warre.

19 And they made warre with the Hagarims, with g Jetur, and Naphish, and Nodab.

g These twaine were the sonnes of Ishmael, Gen. 25.15.

20 And they were h holpen against them, & the Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, and all that were with them: for they cried to God in the battell, and hee heard them, because they trusted in him.

h To wit, by the Lord, that gaue them the victory.

21 And they led away their cattell, euen their camels fiftie thousand, and two hundreth and fiftie thousand sheepe, and two thousand asses, and of ǂ persons an hundreth thousand.

ǂ Ebr. soules of men.

22 For many fell downe wounded, because the warre was of God. And they dwelt in their steads vntill the i captiuitie.

i Meaning, the captiuitie of the ten tribes vnder Tilgath Pilneeser.

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manasseh dwelt in the land, from Bashan vnto k Baal Hermon, and Senir, and vnto mount Hermon: for they increased.

k Otherwise called, Baal-gad.

24 And these were the heads of the houses of their fathers, euen Epher and Ishi, and Eliel and Azriel, and Jeremiah, and Hodauiah, and Jahdiel, strong men, valiant and famous, heades of the houses of their fathers.

25 But they transgressed against the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the lande, whome God had destroyed before them.

l Thus God stirred vp the wicked, and vsed them as instruments to execute his iust iudgement against sinners, although they were led with malice and ambition.

26 And the God of Israel l stirred vp the spirit of Pul king of Assyr, and the spirit of Tilgath Pilneeser king of Assyr, and he caried them away: euen the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, and brought them vnto * Halah, and Habor, and Hara, and to the riuer Gozan, vnto this day.

3 And the children of Amram, Aaron, and Moses and Miriam. And the sonnes of Aaron, * Nadab, and Abihu, and * Eleazar, and Ithamar.

Leuit. 10.1. Numb. 20.25.

4 Eleazar begat Phinehas, Phinehas begat Abishua,

5 And Abishua begat Bukki, and Bukki begat Vzzi,

6 And Vzzi begat Zerahiah, and Zerahiah begat Meraioth.

7 Meraioth begat Amariah, and Amariah begat Ahitub,

8 And Ahitub begat a Zadok, and Zadok begat Ahimaaz, a Which was hie Priest after that Abiathar was deposed according to the prophesie of Eli the Priest, 1. Sam. 2. 31, 35.

9 And Ahimaaz begat Azariah, and Azariah begat Johanan,

10 And Johanan begat Azariah (it was he that was b Priest in the house that Salomon built in Jerusalem)

b And did valiantly resist king Vzziah, who would haue vsurped the Priestes office, 2. Chron. 26. 17, 18.

11 And Azariah begat Amariah, and Amariah begat Ahitub, 12 And Ahitub begat Zadok, and Zadok begat Shallum,

13 And Shallum begat Hilkiah, and Hilkiah begat Azariah, 14 And Azariah begat Seraiah, and Seraiah begat Jehozadak, 15 And c Jehozadak departed, when the Lorde caried away into captiuitie Judah and Jerusalem by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar.

c That is, he was led into captiuitie with his father Seraiah the hie Priest, 2. King. 25.18.

16 ¶ The sonnes of Leui were Gershom, Kohath and Merari.

17 And these be the names of the sonnes of Gershom, Libni, and Shimei.

18 And the sonnes of Kohath were Amram, and Izhar, and Hebron, and Vzziel.

19 The sonnes of Merari, Mahli, and Mushi: and these are the families of Leui concerning their fathers.

20 Of Gershom, Libni his sonne, Jahath his sonne, Zimmah his sonne, 21 Joah his sonne, Iddo his sonne, Zerah his sonne, Jeaterai his sonne.

22 The sonnes of Kohath, d Aminadab his sonne, * Korah his son, Assir his sonne, d Who seemeth to be called Izhar, Exo. 6.21, Numb. 16.1.

23 Elkanah his sonne, and Ebiasaph his sonne, and Assir his sonne, 24 Tahath his sonne, Vriel his sonne, Vzziah his sonne, and Shaul his sonne, 25 And the sonnes of Elkanah, Amasai, and Ahimoth.

26 Elkanah, the sonnes of Elkanah, Zophai his sonne, and Nahath his sonne, 27 Eliab his sonne, Jeroham his sonne, Elkanah his sonne.

28 And

28 And the ſonnes of Shemuel, the eldeſt e Vaſhni, then Abiah.

29 ¶ The ſonnes of Merari were Mahli, Libni his ſonne, Shimei his ſonne, Vzzah his ſonne, 30 Shimea his ſonne, Haggiah his ſonne, Aſaiah his ſonne.

31 And theſe be they whom Dauid ſet for to ſing in the houſe of the Lorde, after that the Arke had f reſt.

32 And they miniſtred before the Tabernacle, euen the tabernacle of the Congregation with g ſinging, vntill Salomon had built the houſe of the Lorde in Ieruſalem: then they continued in their office, accoꝛding to their cuſtome.

33 And theſe miniſtred with their children: of the ſonnes of Kohath, Heman a ſinger, the ſonne of Ioel, the ſonne of Shemuel, 34 The ſonne of Elkanah, the ſonne of Ieroham, the ſonne of Eliel, the ſonne of Toah.

35 The ſonne of Zuph, the ſonne of Elkanah, the ſonne of Mahath, the ſonne of Amaſai, 36 The ſonne of Elkanah, the ſonne of Ioel, the ſonne of Azariah, the ſonne of Zephaniah, 37 The ſonne of Tahath, the ſonne of Aſſir, the ſonne of Ebiaſaph, the ſonne of Korah, 38 The ſonne of Izhar, the ſonne of Kohath, the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael.

39 And his ‖ brother h Aſaph ſtoode on his right hand: and Aſaph was the ſonne of Berechiah, the ſonne of Shimea, 40 The ſonne of Michael, the ſonne of Baaſeiah, the ſonne of Malchiah, 41 The ſonne of Ethni, the ſonne of Zerah, the ſonne of Adaiah, 42 The ſonne of Ethan, the ſonne of Zimmah, the ſonne of Shimei, 43 The ſonne of Iahath, the ſonne of Gerſhom, the ſonne of Leui.

44 And their brethren the ſonnes of Merari were on the left hand, euen Ethan the ſonne of Kiſhi, the ſonne of Abdi, the ſonne of Malluch,

45 The ſonne of Haſhabiah, the ſonne of Amaziah, the ſonne of Hilkiah, 46 The ſonne of Amzi, the ſonne of Bani, the ſonne of Shamer, 47 The ſonne of Mahli, the ſonne of Muſhi, the ſonne of Merari, the ſonne of Leui.

48 ¶ And their i brethren the Leuites were k appointed vnto all the ſeruices of the Tabernacle of the houſe of God, 49 But Aaron and his ſonnes burnt incenſe vpon the altar of burnt offring, and on the altar of incenſe, foꝛ all that was to doe in the moſt holy place, and to make an attonement foꝛ Iſrael, accoꝛding to all that Moſes the ſeruant of God had commaunded.

50 Theſe are alſo the ſonnes of Aaron, Eleazar his ſonne, Phinehas his ſonne, Abihua his ſonne, 51 Bukki his ſonne, Vzzi his ſonne, Zerahiah his ſonne,

52 Meraioth his ſonne, Amariah his ſonne, Ahitub his ſonne, 53 Zadok his ſonne, and Ahimaaz his ſonne.

54 ¶ And theſe are the l dwelling places of them throughout their townes & coaſts, euen the ſonnes of Aaron foꝛ the familie of the Kohathites, foꝛ the m lot was theirs.

55 So they gaue them n Hebron in the land of Iudah, and the ſuburbes thereof round about it:

56 But the fielde of the citie, and the villages thereof they gaue to Caleb the ſonne of Iephunneh.

57 And to the ſonnes of Aaron they gaue the cities of Iudah foꝛ o refuge, euen Hebron and Libna with their ſuburbes, and Iattir and Eſhtemoa with their ſuburbes,

58 And p Hilen with her ſuburbes, and Debir with her ſuburbes, 59 And Aſhan and her ſuburbes, and Beth-ſhemeth and her ſuburbes:

60 ¶ And of the tribe of Beniamin, Geba and her ſuburbes, and q Alemeth with her ſuburbes, and Anathoth with her ſuburbes: all their cities were thirteene cities bp their families.

61 And vnto the ſonnes of r Kohath the remnant of the familie of the tribe, euen of the halfe tribe of the halfe of Manaſſeh, bp lot ten cities.

62 And to the ſonnes of Gerſhom accoꝛding to their families out of the tribe of Iſſachar, and out of the tribe of Aſher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the tribe of Manaſſeh in Bashan, thirteene cities.

63 Vnto the ſonnes of Merari accoꝛding to their families out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, bp lot twelue cities.

64 Thus the children of Iſrael gaue to the Leuites cities with their ſuburbes.

65 And they gaue bp lot out of the tribe of the children of Iudah, & out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, and out of the tribe of the children of Beniamin, theſe cities, which they called bp their names.

66 And they of the families of the ſonnes of Kohath, had cities, and their coaſtes out of the tribe of Ephraim.

67 * And they gaue vnto them cities of refuge, Shechem in mount Ephraim, and her ſuburbes, and Gezer and her ſuburbes,

CHAP. VII.

1 The genealogie of Issachar, 6 Beniamin, 13 Naphtali, 14 Manasseh, 20 Ephraim, 30 And Asher.

AND the sonnes of Issachar were Tola and ‖ Puah, a Iashub, and Shimron, foure, 2 And the sonnes of Tola, Vzzi, and Rephaiah, and Ieriel, and Iahmai, and Ibsam, and Shemuel, heads in the houshoulds of their fathers. Of Tola were valiant men of warre in their generations, b whose number was in the dayes of Dauid two and twentie thousand, and sixe hundreth.
3 And the sonne of Vzzi was Izrahaiah, and the sonnes of Izrahaiah, Michael, and Obadiah, and Ioel, and Isshiah, c fiue men all princes.
4 And with them in their generations after the houshoulde of their fathers were bands of men of warre for battell, sixe and thirtie thousand: for they had many wiues and children.
5 And their ‖ brethren among all the families of Issachar were valiant men of warre, reckoned in all by their genealogies foure score and seuen thousand.
6 ¶ The sonnes of Beniamin were Bela, and Becher, and d Iediael, e three.
7 And the sonnes of Bela, Ezbon, & Vzzi, and Vzziel, and Ierimoth, and Iri, fiue heads of the houshoulds of their fathers, valiant men of warre, and were reckoned by their genealogies, two & twentie thousand and thirtie and foure.
8 And the sonnes of Becher, Zemirah, and Ioash, and Eliezer, and Elioenai, and Omri, and Ieremoth, and Abiah, and Anathoth, and Alameth: all these were the sonnes of Becher.
9 And they were numbred by their genealogies according to their generations, and the chiefe of ‖ houses of their fathers, valiant men of warre, twentie thousande and two hundreth.
10 And the sonne of Iediael was Bilhan, and the sonnes of Bilhan, Ieush, and Beniamin, and Ehud, and Chenaanah, and Zethan, and Tharshish, and Ahishahar.
11 All these were the sonnes of Iediael, chiefe of the fathers, valiant men of warre, seuenteene thousande and two hundreth, marching in battell arap to the warre.
12 And Shuppim, and Huppim were the sonnes of ‖ Ir, but Hushim was the sonne ‖ of another.
13 ¶ The sonnes of Naphtali, Iahziel, and Guni, and Iezer, and ‖ Shallum g of the sonnes of Bilhah.
14 The sonne of Manasseh was Ashriel, whom thee bare vnto him, but his concubine of Aram bare Machir the * father of Gilead.
15 And Machir tooke to wife the sister of Huppim and Shuppim, and the name of their sister was Maachah. And the name of the second sonne was Zelophehad, and Zelophehad had daughters.
16 And Maachah the wife of Machir bare a sonne, and called his name ‖ Peresh, and the name of his brother was Shereh: and his sonnes were Ulam and Rakem.
17 And the sonne of Ulam was Bedan. These were the sonnes of Gilead the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasseh.
18 And h his sister Molecheth bare Ishod, and Abiezer, and Mahalah.
19 And the sonnes of Shemida were Ahian, and Shechem, and Likhi, and Aniam.
20 ¶ The sonnes also of Ephraim were Shuthelah, and Bered his sonne, and Tahath his sonne, and his sonne Eladah, and Tahath his sonne, 21 And Zabad his sonne, and Shuthelah his sonne, and Ezer, and Elead: and the men of i Gath that were borne in the land, slewe them, because they came downe to take away their cattell.
22 Therefore Ephraim their father mourned many dayes, and his ‖ brethren came to comfort him.
23 And when he went in to his wife, she conceiued, and bare him a sonne, and he called his name Beriah, because affliction was in his house.
24 And his ‖ daughter was Sherah, which built Beth-horon the nether, and the vpper, and Vzzen Sheerah.
25 And Rephah was his k sonne, and Resheph, and Telah his sonne, and Tahan his sonne, 26 Laadan his sonne, Ammihud his sonne, Elishama his sonne, 27 Non his sonne, Iehoshua his sonne.
28 And their possessions and their habitations were Beth-el, & the villages thereof, and Eastward Naaran, and Westward Gezer with the villages thereof, Shechem also and the villages thereof, vnto ‖ Azzah, and the villages thereof, 29 And by the places of the children of Manasseh, Beth-shean and her villages, Taanach and her villages, Megiddo and her villages, Dor and her villages. In those dwelt the children of Ioseph the sonne of Israel.

30 ¶ The sonnes of Asher were Jimnah, and Jshuah, and Jshuai, & Beriah, and Serah their sister.

31 And the sonnes of Beriah, Heber, and Malchiel, which is the father of Birzauith.

32 And Heber begate Japhlet, and Shomer, and Hotham, and Shuah their sister.

33 And the sonnes of Japhlet were Pasach, and ‖Bimhal, and Asuath: these were the children of Japhlet.

‖Or, Kimbal.

34 And the sonnes of Shamer, Ahi, and Rohgah, Jehubbah, and Aram.

35 And the sonnes of his brother Helem were Zophah, and Jmna, and Shelesh, and Amal.

36 The sonnes of Zophah, Suah, and Harnepher, and Shual, & Beri, & Jmrah, 37 Bezer and Hod, and Shamma, and Shilhah, and Jthran, and Beera.

38 And the sonnes of Jether, Jephunneh, and Pispa, and Ara.

39 And the sonnes of Vlla, Harah, and Haniel, and Rizia.

40 All these were the children of Asher, the heads of their fathers houses, noblemē, valiant men of warre and chief princes, and they were reckoned by their genealogies for warre and for battell to the number of fiue and twentie thousand men.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The sonnes of Beniamin, 33 And race of Saul.

BEniamin also a begate Bela his eldest sonne, Ashbel the second, and Aharah the third,

8 And Ibneiah the sonne of Ieroham, and Elah the sonne of Vzzi, the sonne of Michri, and Meshullam the sonne of Shephatiah, the sonne of Reuel, the sonne of Ibnuiah.

9 And their brethren according to their generations nine hundreth, fiftie and sixe: all these men were ‖chiefe fathers in the houholds of their fathers.

‖Or, chiefs of the families.

10 ¶ And of the Priests, Iedaiah, and Iehoiarib, and Iachin, 11 And Azariah the sonne of Hilkiah, the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Zadok, the sonne of Meraioth, the sonne of Ahitub the c chiefe of the house of God, c That is, he was the hie Priest.

12 And Adaiah the sonne of Ieroham, the sonne of Pashhur, the sonne of Malchiah, and Maasai the sonne of Adiel, the sonne of Iahzerah, the sonne of Meshullam, the sonne of Meshillemith, the sonne of Immer.

13 And their brethren the chiefe of the householdes of their fathers a thousand seuen hundreth and threescore valiant men, for the d worke of the seruice of the house of God.

d To serue in the Temple, euery one according to his office.

14 ¶ And of the Leuites, Shemaiah the sonne of Hashub, the sonne of Azrikam, the sonne of Hashabiah of the sonnes of Merari, 15 Also Bakbakkar, Hereth and Galal, & Mattaniah the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zichri, the sonne of Asaph, 16 And Obadiah the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Iedithun, and Berechiah the sonne of Asa, the sonne of Elkanah, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.

17 ¶ And the porters were Shallum, and Akkub, and Talmon, and Ahiman, and their brethren: Shallum was the chiefe.

18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leui vnto the e kings gate Eastward.

e So called, because the king came into the Temple thereby, and not the common people.

19 And Shallum the sonne of Kore the sonne of Ebiasaph the sonne of Korah, and his brethren the Korathites (of the house of their father) were ouer the worke, and office to keepe the gates of the f Tabernacle: so their families were ouer the hoste of the Lord, keeping the entrie.

f Their charge was, that none should enter into those places which were only appointed for the Priests to minister in.

20 And Phinehas the sonne of Eleazar was their guide, & the Lord was with him.

21 Zechariah, the sonne of Meshelemiah was the porter of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 All these were chosen for porters of the gates, two hundreth and twelue, which were numbred according to their genealogies by their townes. Dauid established these and Samuel the Seer ‖in their perpetuall office.

‖Or, for their fidelitie.

23 So they and their children had the ouerlight of the gates of the house of the Lord, euen of the house of the Tabernacle by wardes.

24 The porters were in foure quarters Eastward, Westward, Northward, and Southward.

25 And their brethren which were in their townes, came at g seuen dayes from time to time with them.

g They serued weekely, as Eze. 4.10.

26 For these foure chiefe porters were in perpetuall office, & were of the Leuites, and had charge of the ‖chambers, and of the treasures in the house of God.

‖Or, opening the doores.

27 And they lay round about the house of God, because the charge was theirs, and they caused it to be opened euery morning.

28 And certaine of them had the rule of the ministring vessels: for they brought thē in by tale, and brought them out by tale.

29 Some of them also were appointed ouer the instruments, and ouer all the vessels of the Sanctuarie, and of the h floure, and the wine, and the ople, and the incense, and the sweete odours.

h Whereof the meate offering was made, Leuit. 2.1.

30 And certaine of the sonnes of the Priests made ointments of sweete odours.

31 And ‖Mattithiah one of the Leuites which was the eldest sonne of Shallum the Korhite, had the charge of the things that were made in the frying panne.

32 And other of their brethren the sonnes of Kohath had the ouersight of the *shewbread to prepare it euery Sabbath.

*Exod. 25.30.

33 And these are the singers, the chiefe fathers of the Leuites, which dwelt in the chābers, i and had none other charge: for they had to do in that businesse day and night.

i But were continually occupied in singing prayses to God.

34 These were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites according to their generations, and the principall which dwelt at Ierusalem.

35 * And in Gibeon dwelt ‖the father of Gibeon, Ieiel, and the name of his wife was Maachah.

*Chap. 8.29.

‖Or, Abigibeon.

36 And his eldest sonne was Abdon, then Zur, and Kish, and Baal, and Ner, & Nadab, 37 And Gedor, and Ahio, and Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 And Mikloth begat Shimeam: they also dwelt with their brethren at Ierusalem, euen by their brethren.

39 And * Ner begate Kish, and Kish begate Saul, and Saul begate Ionathan, and Malchishua, and Abinadab, and Eshbaal.

*1. Sam. 14.51. chap. 8.33.

40 And the sonne of Ionathan was Merib-baal: and Merib-baal begate Micah.

41 And the sonnes of Micah were Pithon, and Melech and Tahrea.

42 And Ahaz begate k Iarah, and Iarah begate Alemeth, and Azmaueth and Zimri, and Zimri begate Moza.

k Who was also called Iehoadah, Chap. 8.36.

slaine in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saul and after his sonnes, and the Philistims smote Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Malchishua the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battel was sore against Saul, and the archers ‡ hit him, & he was wounded of the archers.

‡ Ebr. found.

4 Then said Saul to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sworde, and thrust mee through therewith, lest these uncircumcised come and mocke at mee: but his armour bearer would not, for hee was sore afraide: therefore Saul tooke the sword and fell upon it.

5 And when his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, hee fell likewise upon the sword, and died.

6 So Saul died and his three sonnes, and all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and fled away, and the Philistims came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morowe when the Philistims came to spoile them that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes ‡ lying in mount Gilboa.

‡ Eb. fallen.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it unto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they layde up his armour in the house of their god, and set up his head in the house of a Dagon.

a Which was the idole of the Philistims, and from the belly downeward had the forme of a fish, and vpward of a man.

11 ¶ When all they of Jabesh Gilead heard all that the Philistims had done to Saul, 12 Then they arose (all the valiant men) and tooke the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sonnes, and brought them to Jabesh, and buried the bones of them under an oke in Jabesh, and fasted seuen dayes.

1. Sam. 15. 23. 13 So Saul died for his transgression, that hee committed against the Lorde, *euen against the word of the Lord which he kept not, and in that hee fought and asked counsell of a ¶ *familiar spirit, ‖ Or, witch, and sorceresse.

14 And asked not of the Lorde: therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdome unto Dauid the sonne of Ishai.

1. Sam. 28. 8.

CHAP. XI.

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid annoynted in Hebron. 5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom hee taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Ioab is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

2. Sam. 5. 1. THen *all Israel a gathered themselues to Dauid unto Hebron, saying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

a This was after the death of Ishbosheth Sauls sonne, when Dauid had reigned ouer Iudah seuen yeeres and sixe moneths in Hebron, 2. Sam. 5 5.

2 And in time past, euen when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God said unto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt bee captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron, before the Lord. And they anoynted Dauid king ouer Israel, *according to the worde of the Lorde by the hand of Samuel.

1. Sam. 13. 16.

4 ¶ And Dauid & all Israel went to Jerusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuertheless Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayd,* Whosoeuer smiteth the Iebusites first, shall bee the chiefe and captaine. So Joab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was captaine.

2. Sam. 5. 8.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And hee built the citie on euery side, from Millo euen rounde about: and Joab repaired the rest of the citie.

2. Sam. 5. 9.

9 And Dauid prospered, and grewe: for the Lord of hostes was with him.

10 ¶ *These also are the chiefe of the valiant men that were with Dauid, and ioyned their force with him in his kingdome with all Israel, to make him king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord.

2. Sam. 23. 8.

11 And this is the number of the valiant men whome Dauid had, Jashobeam the sonne of Hachmoni, the b chiefe among thirtie: hee lift vp his speare against three hundreth, whom he slew at one time.

b Meaning, the most excellent and best esteemed for his valiantnes: some reade the chiefe of the Princes.

12 And after him was Eleazar the sonne of ‖Dodo the Ahohite, which was one of the three valiant men.

13 Hee was with Dauid at Pas-dammim, and there the Philistims were gathered together to battel: and there was a parcell of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistims.

14 And they stoode in the middes of the fielde, and c saued it, and slewe the Philistims: for the Lord gaue a great victorie.

c This acte is referred to Shammah, 2. Sam. 23. 11. which seemeth was the chiefest of these.

15 ¶ And three of the d thirtie captaines went to a rocke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullam. And the armie of the Philistims camped in the valley of Rephaim.

d That is, Eleazar and his two companions.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistims garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayd,* Oh, that one woulde giue mee to drinke of the water of the Well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

2. Sam. 23. 15.

18 Then these three brake thorowe the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the Well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and tooke it and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid woulde not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord.

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to doe this: should I drinke the e blood of these men's liues? for they haue brought it with the ieopardie of their liues: therefore hee woulde not drinke it: these things did these three mightie men.

e That is, this water for the which they ventured their blood.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Joab, he was chiefe of the three, and hee lift vp his speare against three hundreth, and slewe them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three hee was more honourable then the two, and hee was their captaine: * but he attained not unto the first three.

2. Sam. 23. 19.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Jehoiada (the

1 Who they were that went with Dauid when he fled from Saul. 14 Their valiantneſſe, 23 They that came vnto him vnto Hebron out of euery tribe to make him king.

THeſe alſo are they that came to Dauid to a Ziklag, while he was yet kept cloſe, becauſe of Saul the ſonne of Kiſh: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battell.

a To take his part againſt Saul who perſecuted him.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and could vſe the right and the left hande with ſtones and with arrowes and with bowes, and were of Sauls b brethren, euen of Beniamin.

b That is, of the tribe of Beniamin, wherof Saul was, and wherein were excellent throwers with ſlings, Iudges 20.16.

3 The chiefe were Ahiezer, and Ioaſh the ſonnes of Shemaah a Gibeathite, and Ieziel, and Pelet the ſonnes of Azmaueth, Berachah and Iehu the Antothite,

4 And Iſhmaiah the Gibeonite, a valiant man among thirtie, and aboue the thirtie, and Ieremiah, and Iahaziel, and Iohanan, and Ioſhabad the Gederathite,

5 Eluzai, and Ierimoth, and Bealiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite,

6 Elkanah, and Iſhiah, and Azarel, and Ioezer, and Iaſhobeam of Korhemite,

7 And Ioelah, c and Zebadiah, the ſonnes of Ieroham of ‖ Gedor.

‖Or, Gedur.

8 And of the Gadites there ſeparated themſelues ſome vnto Dauid into the holde of the wildernes, valiant men of warre, and men of armes, & apt for battel, which could handle ‖ ſpeare and ſhielde, and their faces were like the faces of c Lyons, and were like the Roes in the mountaines in ſwiftneſſe,

‖Or, buckler.

c Meaning, fierce and terrible.

11 Attai the ſixt, Eliel the ſeuenth,

12 Iohanan the eight, Elzabad the ninth,

13 Ieremiah the tenth, Macbannai the eleuenth.

14 Theſe were the ſonnes of Gad, Captaines of the hoſte: one of the leaſt could reſiſt an hundreth, and the greateſt a thouſande.

15 Theſe are they that went ouer Iorden in the d firſt moneth when hee had filled ouer all his bankes, and put to flight all them of the vallep, toward the Eaſt and the Weſt.

d Which the Ebrewes called Niſan or Abib, conteining halfe March and halfe April, when Iorden was wont to ouerflow his bankes, reade Ioſh.3.15.

16 And there came of the children of Beniamin, and Iudah to the holde vnto Dauid, 17 And Dauid went out to meete them, and anſwered, and ſayde vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto mee to helpe mee, mine heart ſhall bee knit vnto you, but if you come to betray mee to mine aduerſaries, ſeeing there is no wickednes in mine hands, the God of our Fathers beholde it, and rebuke it.

18 And the e ſpirite came vpon Amaſai, which was the chiefe of thirtie, and hee ſaide, Thine are wee, Dauid, and with thee, O ſonne of Iſhai. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace bee vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Then Dauid receiued them, and made them Captaines of the garniſon.

e The ſpirit of boldnes and courage moued him to ſpeake thus.

19 ¶ And of Manasseh some fell to Dauid, when he came with the Philistims against Saul to battell, but they f helped them not: for the Princes of the Philistims * by aduisement sent him away, saying, He will fall to his master Saul ‖ for our heads.

20 As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him of Manasseh, Adnah, & Iozabad, and Iediael, and Michael, and Iozabad, and Elihu, and Zilthai, heads of the thousands that were of Manasseh.

21 And they helped Dauid against g that band: for they were all valiant men and were captaines in the hoste.

22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, until it was a great hoste, like the hoste of h God.

23 And these are the numbers of the captaines that were armed to battell, and came to Dauid to Hebron to turne ṗ kingdome of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Iudah that bare shielde and ‖ speare, were fiue thousand and eight hundred armed to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon valiant men of warre, seuen thousand & an hundred.

26 Of the children of Leui foure thousand and fiue hundred.

27 And Iehoiada was the chiefe of them of i Aaron: and with him three thousande and seuen hundred,

28 And Zadok a young man very valiant, and of his fathers houshold came two and twentie captaines.

29 And of the children of Beniamin the brethren of Saul three thousande: for a great part of them vnto that time k kept the ward of the house of Saul.

30 And of ṗ children of Ephraim twentie thousande, and eight hundred valiant men and famous men in the housholde of their fathers.

31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasseh eighteene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid king.

32 And of the children of Issachar which were men ṗ had vnderstanding of ṗ l times, to know what Israel ought to do: ṗ heads of them were two hundred, and al their brethren were at their commandement.

33 Of Zebulun that went out to battell, expert in warre, and in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousand ‖ which could set the battell in arap: they were not of a ‡ double heart.

34 And of Naphtali a thousand captaines, and with them with shield & speare seuen and thirtie thousand.

35 And of Dan expert in battell, eight and twentie thousand and fiue hundred.

36 And of Asher that went out to the battell and were trained in the warres, fourtie thousand.

37 And of the other side of Iorden of the Reubenites, and of the Gadites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasseh with al instrumets of warre to fight with, an hundred and twentie thousand.

38 m All these men of warre ‖ that could lead an armie, came with ‖ vpright heart to Hebron to make Dauid King ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid King.

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes, eating and drinking: for their n brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreouer they that were neere them vntill Issachar, and Zebulun, and Naphtali brought bread vpon asses, and on Camels, and on mules, & on oxen, euen meate, floure, figges, and reisins, & wine and oyle, and beeues & sheepe abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kiriath-iearim to Ierusalem. 9 Vzza dieth because he touched it.

AND Dauid counselled with the captaines of thousands and of hundreds, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid said to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, we will send to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priestes and the Leuites in the cities and their suburbes) that they may assemble themselues vnto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the a Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 ¶ So Dauid gathered all Israel together from ‖ Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the entring of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from b Kiriath-iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to ‖ Baalath, in Kiriath-iearim, that was in Iudah, to bring vp from thence ṗ Arke of God the Lorde that dwelleth betweene ṗ Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Vzza and Ahio c guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before d God with all their might, both with songes and with harpes, and with violes, and with tymbrels and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

9 ¶ And when they came vnto ṗ threshing flooze of e Chidon, Vzza put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzza, and he smote him, because he laid his hand vpon the Arke: so he died there f before God.

11 And Dauid was angry, because the Lord had made a breache in Vzza, and he called the name of that place Perez-Vzza vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God ṗ day, saying, How shal I bring in to me ṗ Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not ṗ Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused

8 But when the Philistims heard that Dauid was anointed king ouer Israel, all þ Philistims came vp to seeke Dauid. And whē Dauid heard, he went out against thē.

9 And the Philistims came and spred themselues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe vp against the Philistims, & wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Baal-perazim, and Dauid smote them there: and Dauid said, God hath diuided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are diuided: therefore they called the name of that place, ᶜ Baal-perazim.

12 And there they had left their goods: & Dauid saide, Let them euen be burnt vp fire.

13 Againe the Philistims came & spred themselues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not goe vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou mayest come vpon them ouer against the mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest þ noise of one going in the toppes of the mulberie trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite þ host of þ Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gezer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands, and the Lord brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

11 ¶ And Dauid called Zadok and Abiathar the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vriel, Asaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And he saide vnto them, Ye are the chiefe fathers of the Leuites: sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lorde God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For * because ye were not there at the first, the Lorde our God made a breache among vs: for we sought him not after due ᶠ order.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified them selues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Doe c all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

c As yet God had not reuciled to the Prophet what he purposed concerning Dauid: therefore seeing God fauoured Dauid, he spake what he thought.

3 And the same d night euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying, d After that Nathan had spoken to Dauid.

4 Go, and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not builde me an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from e tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

e That is, in a tent which remoued to and fro.

6 Whereseeuer I haue f walked with all Israel, spake I one worde to any of the Iudges of Israel (whome I commanded to feede my people) saying, Why haue yee not built me an house of cedar trees?

f Meaning, wheresoeuer his Arke went, which was a signe of his presence.

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepecoate and from following the sheepe, that thou shouldest bee a prince ouer my people Israel.

g Of a shepheard of sheepe I made thee a shepheard of men, so that thou camest not to this dignitie through thine owne merits, but by my pure grace.

8 And I haue bene with thee whithersoeuer thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue ‖ made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

‖ Or, gotten thee fame.

11 And when thy dayes shall be fulfilled to goe with thy fathers, then will I raise vp thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sonnes, and will stablish his kingdome.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his throne for k euer.

l Which was Saul.

14 But I will establish him in mine house, and in my kingdome for euer, and his throne shalbe established for euer, 15 According to all these words, and according to al this vision, So Nathan spake to Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King m went in, and ‖ sate before the Lord, and sayde, Who am I, O Lorde God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought mee n hitherto?

m He went into the tent where the Arke was, shewing what we ought to doe when we receiue any benefits of the Lord.

17 Yet thou esteeming this a small thing, O God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of o hie degree, O Lord God.

o Thou hast promised a kingdome that shall continue to me and my posteritie, and that Christ shall proceed of me.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruant? for thou knowest thy seruant.

19 O Lorde, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine p heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

p Freely, and according to the purpose of thy wil, without any deseruing.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreouer, what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeeme them to be his people, and to make thy selfe a Name, and to doe great and terrible things by casting out nations from before thy people, whome thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore nowe Lorde, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant and concerning his house, bee confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name bee stable and magnified for euer, that it may bee sayde, The Lorde of hostes, God of Israel, is the 25 For thou, O my God, hast r reuealed vnto the eare of thy seruant, that thou wilt builde him an house: therefore thy seruant hath ‡ beene bolde to pray before thee.

26 Therefore nowe Lorde (for thou art s God, and hast spoken this goodnesse vnto thy seruant)

AND after this Dauid smote the Philistims, and subdued them, and tooke a Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, & the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and ‖ brought gifts.

3 ¶ And Dauid smote ‖ Hadarezer King of Zobah vnto Hamath, as he went to stablish his border by the riuer ‖ Perath.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charets, and seuen thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footmen, and * destroyed all the charets, but reserued of them an hundreth charets.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer King of Zobah, but Dauid slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of ‖ Damascus, and the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought giftes: and the Lord b preserued Dauid whersoeuer he went.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 And from c Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Salomon made the brasen * Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasse.

9 ¶ Then Tou King of Hamath heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer King of Zobah:

10 Therefore hee sent d Hadoram his sonne to King Dauid, to salute him, and to reioyce with him, because hee had fought against Hadarezer, and beaten him (for Tou had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of golde, and siluer, and brasse.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and gold that he brought from all the nations, from e Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistims, and from Amalek.

12 ¶ And Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley f eighteene thousand, 13 And he put a garison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: and the Lord preserued Dauid whersoeuer he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Joab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Jehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder, 4 Hanun king of the children of Ammon doeth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie against Dauid, 15 and ouercome.

AFter this also * Nahash the King of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And Dauid said, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his a father shewed kindnes vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the lande of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon sayde to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that hee doeth send comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to b search, to searche and to spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, & c shaued them, and cut off d their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certeine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King sayde, Tarie at Jericho vntill your beards be growen: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon sawe that they ‖ stanke in the sight of Dauid, then sent Hanun and the children of Ammon a thousand talents of siluer to hire them charets and horsemen out * of Aram Naharaim, and out of Aram Maachah, and out of e Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirtie thousand charets, and the king of Maachah and his people, which came and pitched before f Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselues together from their cities, and came to the battell.

8 ¶ And when Dauid heard, he sent Joab and all the hoste of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in arap at the gate of the citie. And the Kings that were come, were by themselues in the field.

10 When Joab sawe that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, then hee chose out of all the choise of Israel, and set himselfe in arap to meete the Aramites.

12 And hee sayd, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succour mee: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs shew our selues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his owne sight.

g He declareth, that where the cause is euill, the courage cannot be valiant, and ỹ in good causes men ought to be couragious, and commit the successe to God.

14 So Ioab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Aramites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishai his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioab came to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Aramites sawe that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyond the h riuer: and Shophach the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid causeth the people to be numbred, 14 and there die seuentie thousand men of the pestilence.

AND a Satan stoode vp against Israel, and prouoked Dauid to number Israel.

a He tempted Dauid in letting before his eyes his excellencie and glory, his power and victories: reade 2. Sam. 24. 1.

2 Therefore Dauid said to Ioab, and to the rulers of the people, Goe, and number Israel from b Beer-sheba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the number of them.

b That is, from South to North.

3 And Ioab answered, The Lorde encrease his people an hundreth times so many as they be, O my lorde the king: are they not all my lords seruants? wherefore doeth my lorde require this thing? why should he be a cause of c trespasse to Israel?

c It was a thing indifferent and vsuall to number the people, but because he did it of an ambitious minde, as though his strength stood in his people, God punished him.

4 Neuerthelesse the kings word preuailed against Ioab. And Ioab departed and went thorow all Israel, and returned to Ierusalem.

5 And Ioab gaue the number & summe of the people vnto Dauid: and all Israel were d eleuen hundreth thousand men that drew sword: and Iudah was e foure hundreth and seuentie thousand men that drew sword.

d Ioab partly for griefe and partly through negligence, gathered not the whole summe as it is here declared.

6 But the Leuites and Beniamin counted he not among them: for the kings word was abominable to Ioab.

7 ¶ And God was displeased with this thing: therefore he smote Israel.

8 Then Dauid sayde vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but nowe, I beseech thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

e In Samuel is mention of thirtie thousand more: which was either by ioyning to them some of the Beniamites, which were mixed with Iudah, or as the Ebrewes write, here the chiefe and princes are left out.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids ‖ Seer, saying,

10 Goe and tell Dauid, saying, Thus sayth the Lorde, I offer thee three things: chuse thee one of them, that I may doe it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Take to thee

12 Either three yeeres famine, or three moneths to bee destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sworde of thine enemies ‖ to take thee, or else the sworde of the Lorde and pestilence in the lande three dayes, that the Angel of the Lorde may destroy thorowout all the coastes of of Israel: nowe therefore aduise thee, what word I shall bring againe to him that sent me.

13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull straite. let me nowe fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And e as he was destroying, the Lorde beheelde, and f repented of the euil, & said to the Angel that destroyed, It is nowe enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lorde stoode by the threshing flooze of ‖ Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and sawe the Angel of the Lorde stand betweene the earth and p heauen with his sword drawen in his hand, and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euil, but these sheepe, what haue they done? O Lord my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me, and on my fathers house, and not on h thy people for their destruction.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lorde commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should goe vp, and set vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing flooze of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which he had spoken in the Name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the Angel, & his foure sonnes that were with him, i hid themselues, and Ornan threshed wheate.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and sawe Dauid, and went out of the threshing flooze, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid saide to Ornan, Giue me the place of thy threshing flooze, that I may build an k altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be staied from the people.

23 Then Ornan said vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my Lord the king doe that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullocks for burnt offerings, and threshing instruments for wood, & wheate for meate offering. I giue it all.

24 And king Dauid said to Ornan, Not so: but I will buy it for sufficient l money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offerings without cost.

25 So Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place m six hundred shekels of golde by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, & offred burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and he n answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offering.

27 And when the Lorde had spoken to the Angel, he put vp his sword againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid sawe that the Lorde had heard him in the threshing flooze of Ornan the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29 (But the tabernacle of ỹ Lord which Moses had made in the wildernesse, & the altar of burnt offering were at that season m the hie place of Gibeon.

2 Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the building of the Temple. 6 He commaundeth his sonne Salomon to builde the Temple of the Lorde, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

AND Dauid said, This is the a house of the Lorde God, and this is the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the b strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hewe and polish stones to builde the house of God.

3 Dauid also prepared c much yron for the nailes of the doores & of the gates, and for the ioynings, and abundance of brasse passing weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid saide, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and we must builde an house for the Lorde, magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreys. I will therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, and charged him to builde an house for the Lord God of Israel.

17 Dauid also commanded all the princes of Israel to helpe Salomon his sonne, saying,

18 Is not the Lord your God with you, and hath giuen you rest on euery side? for he hath giuen the i inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Now set k your hearts & your soules to seeke the Lord your God, and arise, and build the Sanctuarie of the Lorde God to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house built for the Name of the Lord.

i The nations rounde about.

k For else he knew that God would plague them, and not prosper their labours, except they sought with all their hearts to set foorth his glory.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being old, ordeineth Salomon king. 3 He causeth the Leuites to be numbred, 4 And assigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his sonnes are for the hie Priest. 14 The sonnes of Moses.

1 King. 1. 30.

SO when Dauid was old & full of dayes, S* he made Salomon his sonne king ouer Israel.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priests and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set ‖ to aduance the worke of the house of the Lorde, and sixe thousand were ouerseers and iudges.

‖Or, to haue care ouer.

5 And foure thousand were porters, and foure thousand praysed the Lorde with instruments which ‡ he made to praise the Lord.

‡Ebr. I made, meaning Dauid. Chap. 6. 1. Exod. 6. 17.

6 *So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gerhon, Kohath, and Merari.

‖Or, Libni, chap 6. 17.

7 Of the Gerhonites were ‖ Laadan and Shimei.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Jehiel, and Zetham, and Joel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith and Haziel, and Haram, three: these were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Jahath, Zina, Jeush, and Beriah: these foure were the sonnes of Shimei, ‖Or, Zina.

11 And Jahath was the chiefe, and ‖ Zizah the second, but Jeush and Beriah had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Vzziel, foure.

13 *The sonnes of Amram, Aaron, and Moses: and Aaron was separated to a sanctifie the most holy place, he and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before the Lord, to minister to him, and to bleſſe in his Name for euer.

Exo. 2. 2. & 6. 20. Leuit. 5. 4. 5.

a That is, to serue in the most holy place, and to consecrate the holy things.

14 ¶ Moses also the man of God, and his children were named with the b tribe of Leui.

b They were but of the order of the Leuites, and not of the Priests, as Aarons sonnes.

15 The sonnes of Moses were Gerhom, and Eliezer,

16 Of the sonnes of *Gerhom was Shebuel the chiefe.

Exod. 2. 22. and 18. 3.

17 And the sonne of Eliezer was Rehabiah the c chiefe: for Eliezer had none other sonnes: but the sonnes of Rehabiah were very many.

c The scripture vseth to call chiefe or the first borne, although he be alone and there be none borne after, Mat. 1. 25.

18 The sonnes of Izhar was Shelomith the chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron was Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekamiam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michah the first, and Isshiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died, & had no sonnes, but daughters, & their d brethren the sonnes of Kish tooke them.

d Meaning, their cousins.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names and their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the House of the Lorde from the age of e twentie yeeres and aboue.

e Dauid did chuse the Leuites twise, first at the age of thirtie, as vers. 3. and againe afterward at 20. as the necessitie of the office did require: at the beginning they had no charge in the Temple, before they were fiue and twentie yeere olde, and had none after fifty, Numb. 4. 3.

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Jerusalem for euer.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 Therefore according to the last words of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courts, and chambers, & in the f purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God, f In washing & clensing all the holy vessels.

29 Both for the shewbread, and for the fine floure, for the meat offering, and for the vnleauened cakes, and for the fried things, and for that which was rosted, and for all measures and size,

30 And for to stand euery morning, to gine thankes and to praiſe the Lorde, and likewiſe at euen,

31 And to offer all burnt offerings vnto the Lord, in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the number and according to their cuſtome continually before the Lord,

32 And that they ſhould keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of the ſonnes of Aaron their brethren in the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Dauid aſſigneth offices vnto the ſonnes of Aaron.

Leuit. 10.1,6. numb. 3.4. and 26.60.

THeſe are alſo the *diuiſions of the ſonnes of Aaron. The ſonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died *before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar, and Ithamar executed the Prieſts office.

3 And Dauid diſtributed them, euen Zadok of the ‖ ſonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the ſonnes of Ithamar according to their offices in their miniſtration.

4 And there were found mo of the ſonnes of Eleazar by the ‡ number of men, then of the ſonnes of Ithamar. and they deuided them, to wit, among the ſonnes of Eleazar, ſixteene heads, according to the houſhold of their fathers, and among the ſonnes of Ithamar, according to the houſholde of their fathers, eight.

‡ Ebr. heads,

5 Thus they diſtributed them by lot the one from the other, and ſo the Rulers of the Sanctuarie, and the Rulers of the houſe of God, were of the ſonnes of Eleazar, and of the ſonnes of Ithamar.

6 And Shemaiah the ſonne of Nethaneel the Scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King and the Princes, and Zadok the Prieſt, and Ahimelech the ſonne of Abiathar, and before the chiefe fathers of the Prieſtes and of the Leuites, one familie being reſerued for Eleazar, and another reſerued for Ithamar.

7 And the firſt b lot fell to Iehoiarib, and the ſecond to Iedaiah, b This lot was ordeined to take away all occaſion of enuie or grudging of one againſt another.

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Malchiiah, the ſixt to Miiamin,

10 The ſeuenth to Hakkoz, the eight to c Abiiah, c Zacharie the father of Iohn Baptiſt was of this courſe or lot of Abia, Luke 1.5.

11 The ninth to Ieſhua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 The eleuenth to Eliaſhib, the twelfth to Iakim,

13 The thirteenth to Huppah, the foureteenth to Ieſhebeab,

14 The fifteenth to Bilgah, the ſixteenth to Immer,

15 The ſeuenteenth to Hezer, the eighteenth to Happizzez,

16 The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Iehezekel,

17 The one and twentie to Iachin, the two and twentie to Gamul, 18 The three and twentie to Deliah, the foure and twentie to Maaziah.

19 These were their orders according to their offices, when they entred into the houſe of the Lord according to their cuſtome vnder d the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lorde God of Iſrael had commaunded him.

d By the dignitie that God gaue to Aaron.

20 ¶ And of the ſonnes of Leui that remained of the ſonnes of Amram, was Shubael, of the ſonnes of Shubael, Iedeiah, 21 Of Rehabiah, euen of the ſonnes of Rehabiah, the firſt Iſſhiiah, 22 Of Izhari, Shelomoth, of the ſonnes of Shelomoth, Iahath, 23 And his ſonnes Ieriah the firſt, Amariah the ſecond, Iahaziel the thirde, and Iekameam the fourth.

24 The ſonne of Vzziel was Michah, the ſonne of Michah was Shamir, 25 The brother of Michah was Iſſhiiah, the ſonne of Iſſhiiah, Zechariah, 26 The ſonnes of Merari were Mahli, and Mushi, the ſonne of Iaaziah was Beno, 27 The ſonnes of Merari, of Iahaziah were Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur and Ibri.

28 Of Mahli came Eleazar, which had no ſonnes.

29 Of Kiih, the ſonne of Kiih was Ierahmeel,

30 And the ſonnes of e Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth: these were ſonnes of the Leuites after the houſhold of their fathers.

e Which was the ſecond ſonne of Merari.

31 And these alſo caſt lots with their brethren the ſonnes of Aaron before King Dauid, and Zadok and Ahimelech and the chiefe fathers of the Prieſts, and of the Leuites, euen the chiefe of the families againſt their ponger brethren.

f That is, euery one had that dignitie, which fell vnto him by lot.

CHAP. XXV.

The ſingers are appointed, with their places and lottes.

MOreouer Dauid and the captaines of the armie a ſeparated for the miniſterie the ſonnes of Aſaph, and Heman, and Iedurhun, who ſhould ſing prophecies with harpes, with violes, and with cymbales, and their number was euē of the men for the office of their miniſterie, to wit, 26 Which Shelomith and his brethren were ouer all the treasures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the king, & the chiefe fathers, the captains ouer thousands, and hundreths, and the captaines of the armie had [m] dedicated.

27 (For of the battels and of the spoples they did dedicate to maintaine the house of the Lord)

28 And all that Samuel the Seer had dedicate, and Saul the sonne of Kish, and Abner the sonne of Ner, & Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah, and whosoeuer had dedicate any thing, it was vnder the hand of Shelomith, and his brethren.

29 Of the Izharites was Chenaniah and his sonnes, for the busines [n] without ouer Israel, for officers and for iudges.

30 Of the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thousand, and seuen hundreth were officers for Israel beyond Iorden Westward, in all the businesse of the Lord, & for the seruice [o] of the king.

31 Among the Hebronites, was Iehiah the chiefest, euen the Hebronites, by his generations according to the families. And in the fourtieth yeere of the reigne of Dauid they were sought for: and there were found among them men of actiuitie, at Iazer in Gilead.

32 And his [p] brethren, men of actiuitie, two thousand and seuen hundreth chiefe fathers, whom king Dauid made rulers ouer the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasseh, for euery matter pertaining to [q] God, and for the kings businesse.

CHAP. XXVII.

Of the princes and rulers that ministred vnto the King.

THE children of Israel also after their number, euen the chiefe fathers and captaines of thousands and of hundreths, and their officers that serued the king by diuers [r] courses, [s] which came in and went out, moneth by moneth throughout all the moneths of the yere: in euery course were foure and twentie thousand.

2 Ouer the first course for the first moneth was Iashobeam the sonne of Zabdiel: and in his course were foure and twentie thousand.

CHAP. XXVIII.

3 Because Dauid was forbidden to build the Temple, he willeth Salomon and the people to performe it, 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord,

NOw Dauid assembled all the princes of Israel: the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the bands that serued the king, and the captaines of thousands and the captaines of hundreths, and the rulers of all the substance and possession of the king, and of his sonnes, with the ‖ Eunuches, and the mightie, and all the men of power, vnto Jerusalem.
2 And king Dauid stoode vp vpon his feet, and said, Heare me, my brethren and my people: I purposed to haue built an house of a rest for the arke of the couenaunt of the Lord, & for a * footestoole of our God, and haue made ready for the building.
3 But God said vnto me, * Thou shalt not build an house for my Name, because thou hast bin a man of warre, and hast shed blood.
4 Yet as the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be king ouer Israel for euer (for in Iudah would he chuse a prince, and of the house of b Iudah is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he delighted in me to make me king ouer all Israel)
5 * So of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) he hath euen chosen Salomon my sonne to sit vpon the throne of þ kingdome of þ Lord ouer Israel.
6 And hee said vnto me, Salomon thy sonne, hee shall build mine house and my courtes: for I haue chosen him to bee my sonne, and I will be his father.
7 I wil stablish therefore his kingdome for euer, if he indeuour himselfe to doe my commandements, and my iudgements, as c this day.
8 Nowe therefore in the sight of all Israel the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for all the commaundements of the Lord your God, that yee may possesse this d good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you e for euer.
9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfect heart, and with a willing minde: * For the Lord searcheth all hearts, and vnderstandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee: but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.
10 Take heede nowe, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build f the house of the Sanctuarie: be strong therefore, and g doe it.
11 ¶ Then Dauid gaue to Salomon his sonne the paterne of the porch and of the houses thereof, and of the cloists therof, and of the galeries therof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the house of the Mercieate,
12 And the paterne of all that ‡ he had in his minde for the courts of the house of the Lord, & for all the chambers round about, for the treasures of the house of God, and for the treasures of the dedicate things,
13 And for the courses of the Priestes, and of the Leuites, and for all the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lord, and for all the vessels of the ministerie of the house of the Lord.
14 Hee gaue of golde by weight, for the vessels of golde, for all the vessels of all maner of seruice, and all the vessels of siluer by weight, for al maner vessels of all maner of seruice,
15 The weight also of gold for the h candlestickes, and gold for their lampes, with the weight for euery candlestick, and for the lampes thereof, and for the candlesticks of siluer by the weight of the candlesticke, and the lampes thereof, according to the vse of euery candlesticke, 16 And the weight of the gold for the tables of shewbread, for euery table, and siluer for the tables of siluer, 17 And pure golde for the fleshhookes, and the bowles, and platres, and for basens, gold in weight for euery basen, and for siluer basens by weight for euery basen,
18 And for the altar of incense pure gold by weight, and gold for the paterne of i the charet of the Cherubs that spread themselues, and couered the Arke of the couenant of the Lord:
19 All, sayd he, by writing sent to me * by the hand of the Lord which made mee vnderstand all the workemanship of the paterne.
20 And Dauid sayde to Salomon his sonne, Be strong, and of a valiaunt courage and do it: feare not, nor be afraid: for þ Lord God, euen my God is with thee: he will not leaue thee nor forsake thee, till thou hast finished all the worke for the seruice of the house

CHAP. XXIX.

2 The offering of Dauid and of the princes for the building of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thanket to the Lord. 20 Hee exhorteth the people to doe the same. 22 Salomon is created King. 28 Dauid dieth, and Salomon his sonne reigneth in his stead.

MOreouer Dauid the King saide vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong and tender, and the worke is great: for this house is not for man, but for the [a] Lord God.

a And therefore ought to be excellent in all points.

2 Nowe I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for them of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood, and Onyx stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreouer, because I haue [b] delight in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuarie, b His great zeale toward the furtherance of the temple made him to spare no expenses, but to bestowe his owne peculiar treasure.

4 Euen [c] three thousand talents of gold of the golde of Ophir, and seuen thousand talents of fined siluer to ouerlay the walles of the houses.

c He sheweth that he had of his owne store for the Lordes vse.

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the siluer for things of siluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is [d] willing ‖ to fill his hand to day vnto the Lord?

d He was not onely liberall himselfe, but prouoked others to foorth the worke of God.

‖ Or, to offer,

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands & of hundreths, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God fiue thousand talents of gold, and tenne thousand pieces, and tenne thousand talents of siluer, and eighteene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundreth thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were [e] found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Jehiel the Gershunnite.

e Meaning, from that had it.

9 And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offered willingly vnto the Lord, with a [f] perfect heart. And Dauid the King also * reioyced with great ioy.

f That is, with a good courage & without hypocrisie.

* Psal. 122. 1. Which didst heale thy selfe our father Iakob.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregation, and Dauid said, Blessed be thou O Lorde God of [g] Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse & power, and glory, and victorie, and praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lorde, and thou exceldest as head ouer all.

12 Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, & to giue strength vnto all.

13 Nowe therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, & what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things [h] come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

h We gaue thee nothing of our owne, but that which we haue receiued of thee: for whether the giftes be corporall or spirituall, we receiue them all of God, and therefore must giue him the glory.

15 For wee are [i] strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none ‡ abiding.

i And therefore haue this lande but lent to vs for a time.

‡ Ebr. waiting for them to returne. 1. Sam. 16. 7. chap. 28. 9.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that wee haue prepared to builde thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand and all is thine.

17 I know also, my God, that thou * triest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnes: I haue offred willingly in the vprightnesse of mine heart all these things: now also haue I seene thy people which are found here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioy.

k Continue them in this good minde, that they may serue thee willingly.

18 O Lord God of Abrahami, Izhak and Israel our fathers, keepe this for euer in the [k] purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomon my sonne a perfite heart to keepe thy commandements, thy testimonies & thy statutes, and to doe all things, and to builde the house which I haue prepared.

20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congregation, Nowe blesse the Lorde your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lorde God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, and worshipped the Lord, and the [l] King.

l That is, did reuerence to the King.

21 And they offered sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morowe after that day, they offered burnt offerings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong bullocks, a thousand rammes, and a thousand sheepe, with their [m] drinke offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

m Meaning all kinde of licour which they mingled with their sacrifices, as wine, oyle, &c.

22 And they did eate, and drinke, before the Lord the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid king the second time, and anointed him Prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomon sate on [n] the throne of the Lord, as king in stead of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israel obeyed him.

n This declareth that the kings of Iudah were figures of Christ, who was the true anointed, and to whom God gaue the chiefe gouernement of all things.

24 And all the princes & men of power, and all the sonnes of king Dauid ‡ submitted themselues vnder king Salomon.

‡ Ebr. gaue the hand. 1. King. 2. 12.

25 And the Lorde magnified Salomon in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, & gaue him so glorious a kingdome, as no king had before him in Israel.

26 ¶ Thus Dauid the sonne of Ishai reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that hee reigned ouer Israel, was fourtie yeere: seuen yeere reigned hee in Hebron, and three and thirtie yeere reigned he in Jerusalem:

28 And hee died in a good age, full of dayes, riches, and honour, and Salomon his sonne reigned in his stead.

29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the king, first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Samuel the Seer, and in the booke of o Nathan the Prophet, and in the booke of Gad the Seer, 30 With all his reigne and his power, and p times that went ouer him, and ouer Israel, & ouer all ꝑ kingdomes of the earth.

o The bookes of Nathan and Gad are thought to haue bene lost in the captiuitie.

p Meaning the troubles and griefes.

The second booke of the Chronicles.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis second booke conteineth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, & the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set foorth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First, that the godly Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remooued. The second, howe it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his religion, shoulde ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, howe the good rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set foorth his religion throughout al their dominions, and contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and word of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and conteine in the whole three thousand, fiue hundreth, threescore and eighteene yeeres, and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

6 The offering of Salomon at Gibeon. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wisedome: 11 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The number of his charets and horses, 15 And of his riches.

NOw Salomon the sonne of Dauid was ‖confirmed in his kingdome: and the Lorde his God was with him, and magnified him highly.

‖Or, established, and strong, reade 1.King.2.46.

2 And Salomon a spake vnto all Israel, to the captaines of thousands, and of hundreths, and to the Iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Israel, euen the chiefe fathers.

a That is, hee proclaimed a solemne sacrifice, and commanded that all should be at the same.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at b Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle c of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wildernesse.

b Reade 1.Kings 3.4.

c So called, because that God thereby shewed certaine signes to the Congregation, of his presence.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid brought vp from Kiriath-iearim, whe Dauid had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Jerusalem.

5 Moreouer the d brasen altar *that Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lorde: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

d Which was for the burnt offerings, Exod. 27.1.

6 And Salomon offered there before the Lord vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: * euen a thousand burnt offerings offered he vpon it.

*Exod.38.1,2.

*1.King.3.4.

7 ¶ The same night did God appeare vnto Salomon, and saide vnto him, Aske what I shall giue thee.

8 And Salomon saide vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercy vnto Dauid my father, and hast made me to reigne in his stead.

9 Nowe therefore, O Lorde God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be e true: for thou hast made me king ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

e Performe thy promise made to my father concerning me.

10 Giue me nowe wisedome and knowledge, that I may f goe out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

f That I may gouerne this people, reade 1.Chron. 27.1. and 1.King. 3.7.

11 And God saide to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, and thou hast not asked riches, treasures, and honour, nor the g liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisedome & knowledge, that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whom I haue made thee king, g That is, to be reuenged on thine enemies.

12 Wisdome and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches, and treasures & honour, so that there hath not beene the like among the kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place that was at Gibeon, to Jerusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 *And Salomon gathered the charets and horsemen: and hee had a thousande and foure hundreth charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom hee placed in the h charet cities, and with the King at Jerusalem.

*1.King.10.26.

h Which were cities appointed to keepe and maintaine the charets.

15 And the King gaue siluer and gold at Jerusalem as i stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

i He caused so great plentie that it was no more esteemed then stones. Isa.19.9. ezek.27.7.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt and * fine linnen: k the kings merchants receiued the fine linnen for a price.

k Reade 1.king. 10.28.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charet, worth fiue hundreth shekels of siluer, that is, an horse for an hundreth and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Aram by their ‡meanes.

CHAP. II.

2 The number of Salomons workemen to builde the Temple. 3 Salomon sendeth to Hiram the king of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

THen Salomon determined to builde an house for the Name of the Lord, and an ‖house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon told out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, & fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and a fyue hundred to ouerse them.

3 And Salomon sent to ‖ Huram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and diddest * send him Cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so do to me.

4 Beholde, I builde an house vnto the Name of the Lorde my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shew bread, and for the burnt offerings of the morning, and euening, on the Sabboth dayes, and in the new moneths, and in the solemne feasts of the Lorde our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I build, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is hee then that can bee able to builde him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens can not conteine him? who am I then that I should builde him an house? but I doe it to burne b incense before him.

7 Send mee nowe therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and scarlet, and blue silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send mee also Cedar trees, firre trees and c ‖ Algummim trees from Lebanon: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and beholde, my seruants shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe build, is great and woonderfull.

10 And beholde, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters and the hewers of timber twentie thousand ‡ measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twentie d thousand baths of oile.

11 Then Huram king of Tyrus answered in writing which hee sent to Salomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, he hath made thee king ouer them.

12 Huram said moreouer, Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the king a e wise sonne that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lorde, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Nowe therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hurams, 14 The sonne of a woman of the f daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silke, and in fine linnen, and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and bryder in all broidered worke that shall be giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Nowe therefore the wheate and the barley, the oile, and the wine, which my lorde hath spoken of, let him sende vnto his seruants.

16 And wee will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt need, and will bring it to thee in ‖ rafters by the sea to ‖ Japho, so thou mayest carie them to Ierusalem.

17 ¶ And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the lande of Israel, after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundreth and three and fiftie thousand, and fyue hundreth.

18 And he set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and fyue hundreth ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

1 The Temple of the Lord, and the porch are builded, with other things thereto belonging.

SO * Salomon began to builde the house of the Lorde in Ierusalem, in Mount a Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of * Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And hee began to builde in the second moneth and the second day, in the fourth yere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomon grounded to build the house of God: the length of cubites after the first b measure was three score cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites:

4 And the porche, that was before the length in the front c of the breadth was twentie cubites, & the height was an d hundred and twentie, and he ouerlayd it within with pure golde.

5 And the greater house hee sieled with firre tree which hee ouerlayde with good golde, and graued thereon palme trees and chaines.

6 And he ouerlayde the house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was golde of e Paruaim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof, and the doores thereof ouerlayde he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and hee ouerlayde it with the best golde, of fyue hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie shekels of golde, and he ouerlayd the chambers with golde.

f It is also written that she was of the tribe of Naphthali, 1. Kin. 7. 14 which may be vnderstoode that by reason of the confusion of tribes, which then began to be, they maried in diuers tribes, so that by her father shee might be of Dan, & by her mother of Naphtali.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The molten Sea. 6 The caldrons. 7 The candlesticks, &c.

MOreouer he made an altar of brasse twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broad, and ten cubites high.

2 And he made a molten a Sea of tenne cubites from brimme to brimme, round in compasse, and fiue cubites high: and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it about.

3 And vnder b it was the fashion of oxen, which did compasse it round about, c ten in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stood vpon twelue oxen: three looked towarde the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stood about vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thicknesse thereof was an hand breadth, and the brimme thereof was like the worke of the brimme of a cup, with flowres of ‖ Lilies: it contained d three thousand baths.

6 ¶ He made also ten caldrons, and put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to wash in them, and to cleanse in them that which appertained to the burnt offerings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And hee made tenne candlesticks of golde (according to e their forme) and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left.

8 ¶ And he made tenne tables, and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left: and hee made an hundreth basens of golde.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great f Court, and doores for the Court, and ouerlayed the doores thereof with brasse.

10 And hee set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made ‖ pots, & besoms, and basens, and Huram finished the worke that he should make for king Salomon for the house of God,

12 To wit, two pillars, and the bowles and the chapiters on the toppe of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapiters, which were vpon the toppe of the pillars:

13 And foure hundreth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapiters, which were vpon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons vpon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pots also & besomes, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Huram g his father, to king Salomon for the house of the Lord, of shining brasse.

17 In the plaine of Jordan did the king cast them in clay betweene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made all the vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made all the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables, whereon the h shewbread stood.

20 Moreouer the candlesticks, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the Oracle, of pure golde.

21 And the floures, and the lampes, and the snuffers of golde, which was fine golde, 22 And the ‖ hookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the ashpans of pure golde: the entrie also of the house & doores thereof within, euen of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were i of golde.

SO * was all the worke finished that Salomon made for the house of the Lord, and Salomon brought in the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and the golde, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

1.King.7.51. and 8.1.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heades of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto Jerusalem to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the a citie of Dauid, which is Zion.

3 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto the King at the b feast: it was in the seuenth

4 And all the elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And they caried vp the Arke, and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in þ Tabernacle, those did the Priests and Leuites bring vp.

6 And king Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before þ Arke, offring sheepe and bullocks, which could not bee told nor numbred for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into þ most Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke, & the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drewe out the barres, that the ends of the barres might bee seene out of the arke before the Oracle, but they were not seene ‖without: and there they are vnto this day.

‖Or, without the Oracle.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue d the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

d For Aarons rod and Manna were taken thence before it was brought to this place.

11 And when the Priestes were come out of the Sanctuarie (for all the Priestes that were present, were e sanctified and did not waite by course.

12 And the Leuites þ singers of all sorts, as of Asaph, of Heman, of Iedithun, and of their sonnes & of their brethren, being clad in fine linnen, stood with cymbals, and with viols, and harpes at the East end of the altar, and with them an hundred and twentie priests blowing with trumpets:

13 And they were f as one blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sound to be heard in praysing and thanking the Lorde, & when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets and with cymbals, and with instruments of musike, and when they praysed the Lord, singing, g For hee is good, because his mercy lasteth for euer) then the house, euen the house of the Lord was filled with a cloud, f They agreed all in one tune.

14 So that the priests could not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

g This was the effect of their songs, as Psalm. 118. 1. and psal. 136. 1.

2 And I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for euer.

3 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stood there.)

8 But the Lord said to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou didst well that ‡ thou wast so minded.

‡ Ebr. that it was in thine heart.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy lopnes, he shal build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lorde hath performed his word that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue built an house to the name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the b couenant of þ Lord, that hee made with the children of Israel.

b Meaning, the two Tables, wherein is conteined the effect of the couenant, that God made with our fathers.

12 ¶ And the king c stoode before the altar of the Lorde, in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands, c On a scaffold that was made for that purpose, that hee praying for the whole people might be heard of all, as 1. King. 8. 22.

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen scaffold and set it in the mids of the court, of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites broade, and three cubites of height, and vpon it hee stoode, and kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and d stretched out his hands toward heauen)

16 Therefore nowe Lorde God of Israel, keepe with thy seruaunt Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou ‡ shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take heede to their wayes, to walke in my Lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

18 (Is it true in deede that God will dwell with man on earth? Beholde, the *heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to conteine thee: how much more vnable is this house, which I haue built?)

1. King. 8. 27.

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruaunt, and to his supplication, O Lorde my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy ſeruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine e eyes may bee open toward this house day & night, euen toward the place, whereof thou hast sayd, that thou wouldest put thy Name there, that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Yeare thou therefore the supplication of thy seruaunt, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: & heare thou in the place of thine habitation, euen in heauen, and when thou hearest, be mercifull.

22 ¶ *When a man shal sinne against his f neighbour, and he lay vpon him an othe to cause him to sweare, and the ‡ swearer shall come before thine altar in this house,

23 Then heare thou in heauen, & do, and iudge thy seruaunts, in recompensing the wicked to bring his way g vpon his head, & in iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnesse.

24 ¶ And when thy people Israel shall be ouerthrowen before the enemie, because they haue sinned against thee, and turne again and ‖ confesse thy Name, and pray, and make supplication before thee in this house, 25 Then heare thou in heauen, and bee mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the lande which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen shalbe shut vp, & there shall be no rayne, because they haue sinned against thee, and shal pray in this place, and confesse thy Name, and ‖ turne from their sinne, when thou doest afflict them, 27 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardon the sinne of thy seruants, & of thy people Israel (when thou hast taught them the good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon thy land, which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 ¶ *When there shall be famine in the land, when there shalbe pestilence, blasting, or mildew, when there shall be grashopper, or caterpiller, whē their enemy shal besiege them ‡ in the cities of their lande, or any plague or any sickneſſe,

29 Then what prayer & supplication so euer shall bee made of any man, or of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall know his owne plague, and his owne disease, and shall stretch foorth his hands toward this house,

30 Yeare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and bee mercifull, and giue euery man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest know his h heart (for thou only knowest the hearts of the children of men)

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreouer, as touching the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, who shall come out of a farre countrey for thy great Names sake, and thy mightie hand, & thy stretched out arme: when they shall come and i pray in this house,

33 Yeare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and do according to al that the stranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may know thy Name, & feare thee like thy people Israel, and that they may know, that thy Name is called vpon in this house which I haue built.

34 ¶ When thy people shall goe out to battell against their enemies, by the way that k thou shalt send them, and they pray to thee, ‖ in the way toward this citie, which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built to thy Name,

35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their supplication, and iudge their cause.

36 If they sinne against thee (*for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them and deliuer them vnto the enemies, & they take them and carrie them away captiue vnto a land farre or neere,

37 If they ‖ turne againe to their heart in the land whither they be carried in captiues, and turne and pray vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie, saying, Wee haue sinned, we haue transgressed and haue done wickedly,

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their soule in the land of their captiuitie, whither they haue carried them captiues, and pray toward their land, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the citie which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy Name,

39 Then heare thou in heauen, in the place of thine habitation their prayer and their supplication, & ‖ iudge their cause, and bee mercifull vnto thy people, which haue sinned against thee.

40 Nowe my God, I beseech thee, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 *Now therefore arise, O Lord God, to come into thy l rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength: O Lord God, let thy Priests bee clothed with m saluation, and let thy Saints reioyce in goodnesse.

42 O Lorde God, refuse not the face of n thine anoynted: remember the mercies promised to Dauid thy seruant.

5 And king Salomon offered a sacrifice of two and twentie thousand bullocks, and an hundreth and twentie thousand sheepe. so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priestes waited on their offices, and the Leuites with the instruments of musicke of the Lorde, which king Dauid had made to praise the Lorde, Because his mercie lasteth for euer: when Dauid praised God ‡by them, the Priests also blew trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stoode by.

7 Moreouer Salomon halowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offrings, and the fatte of the peace offrings, because the brasen altar which Salomon had made, was not able to receiue the burnt offering, and the meate offering, and the fatte.

8 And Salomon made [b] a feast at that time of seuen dayes, & all Israel with him, a verie great cõgregation, from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

c They assembled to heare the word of God after that they had remained seuen dayes in the boothes or Tabernacles.

10 And the [d] three and twentieth day of the seuenth moneth, hee sent the people away into their tents, ioyous and with glad heart, because of the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomon, and for Israel his people.

d They had leaue to depart the two and twentieth day, 1. King. 8. 66. but they went not away til the next day.

14 If my people, among whome my Name is called vpon, doe humble themselues, and pray, & seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes, then will I heare in heauen, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will [e] heale their lande.

e I will cause the pestilence to cease and destroy the beastes that hurt the fruits of ỹ earth, and send raine in due season.

15 Then mine eyes shall be open, & mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may bee there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shal be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before mee, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto al that I haue commaunded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements, 18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, *Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if yee turne away, & forsake my statutes and my commaundements which I haue set before you, and shall goe & serue other gods, and worship them, 20 Then will I plucke them vp out of my lande, which I haue giuen them, & this house which I haue [f] sanctified for my Name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to bee a prouerbe and a common talke among all people.

f Which thing declareth that God had more respect to their saluation, then to the aduancement of his owne glory: and whereas men abuse those things, which God hath appointed to set foorth his praise, he doeth withdraw his graces thence.

21 And this house which is most hie, shall bee an astonishment to euery one that passeth by it, so that hee shall say, Why hath the Lorde done thus to this lande, and to this house?

25 And Salomon had [m] foure thousand stalles of horses and charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whome he bestowed in the caret cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

26 And hee reigned ouer all the Kings from the ‖ Riuer euen vnto the lande of the Philistims, and to the border of Egypt.

4. 14 The rigour of Rehoboam. 13 He followeth lewde counsell. 16 The people rebell.

THen * Rehoboam [a] went to Shechem: for to Shechem came all Israel to make him King.

1. King. 12.1.

a After the death of Salomon,

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither hee had fledde from the presence of Salomon the King) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father [b] made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous seruitude of thy father, and his soze yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, & we will serue thee.

b That is, handled vs rudely. It seemeth that God hardened their hearts, so that they thus murmured without cause: which declareth also the inconstancie of the people.

5 And he sayde to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto mee. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboam tooke counsell with the old men that had stood before Salomon his father, while hee yet liued, saying, What counsell giue ye that I may answere this people?

7 And they spake vnto him, saying, If thou bee kinde to this people, and please them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But hee left the counsell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counsel of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and [c] waited on him.

c Or, that stood by him, that is, which were of his counsell and secrets.

9 And he said vnto them, What counsell giue ye, that wee may answere this people, which haue spoken to me, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My [d] least part shall bee bigger then my fathers loynes.

d Or, little finger, meaning, that he was of farre greater power then was his father.

11 Now whereas my father did burden you with a grieuous yoke, I will put increase your yoke: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will correct you with ‖ scourges.

12 ¶ Then Ieroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam the thirde day, as the King had appointed, saying, Come againe to me the thirde day.

13 And the king answered them sharpely: and King Rehoboam left the counsell of the ancient men, 14 And spake to them after the counsell of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I will increase it: my father chastised you with roddes, but I will correct you with scourges.

15 So the king hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the [e] ordinance of God, that the Lorde might performe his saying, which hee had spoken ‡ by Ahiah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat.

e Gods will imposeth such a necessitie to the second causes, that nothing can be done but according to the same, and yet mans will worketh as of it selfe, so that it cannot be excused in doing euil, by alledging that it is Gods ordinance.

‡ Ebr. by the hand. 1. King. 12.16.

16 So when all Israel saw that the king would not heare them, the people answered the King, saying, * What portion haue we in Dauid? for we haue none inheritance in the sonne of Ishai. O Israel, euery man to your tentes: nowe see to thine owne house, Dauid. So all Israel departed to their tentes.

17 Howbeit Rehoboam reigned ouer the children of Israel, that dwelt in the cities of Iudah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram that was ‖ ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he died: then King Rehoboam ‡ made speede to get him vp to his caret, to flee to Ierusalem.

ANd * when Rehoboam was come to Ierusalem, he gathered of the house of Iudah and [a] Beniamin nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against [b] Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

1. King. 12.20, 21.

a That is, the halfe tribe of Beniamin: for the other halfe was gone after Ieroboam.

2 But the worde of the Lorde came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboam, the sonne of Salomon king of Iudah, and to all Israel, that are in Iudah, and Beniamin, saying,

b Meaning, the ten tribes which rebelled.

4 Thus saith the Lord, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house: for this thing is done of me. They obeyed therefore the word of the Lorde, and returned from going against Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ierusalem, and [c] built strong cities in Iudah.

c Or, repaired them and made them strong, to be more able to resist Ieroboam.

6 Hee built also Beth-lehem, and Etam, and Tekoa,

7 And Beth-zur, & Shoco, & Adullam,

8 And Gath, and Mareshа, and Ziph, 9 And Adoraim, and Lachish, & Azekah,

Iudah and Beniamin were his.
13 ¶ And the Priestes and the Leuites

Ierusalem of all the tribes of Israel, such e Which were zealous of true religion, and feared God. as set their e hearts to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, to offer vnto the Lorde God of 17 So they strengthened the kingdome of Iudah, and made Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon mightie, three yeere long: for f So long as they feared God, and set forth his worde, they prospered. three yeere they f walked in the way of Da-lath the daughter of Ierimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Isai, 19 Which bare him sonnes, Ieush, and Shemariah, and Zaham.

20 And after her hee tooke Maakah the daughter of Absalom which bare him Abi-ah, and Atthai, and Ziza, and Shemomith.
21 And Rehoboam loued Maakah the daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues and his concubines: for he tooke eighteene wiues, and threescore concubines, and begate eight and twentie sonnes, and three-score daughters.

his sonnes throughout all the countreys of Iudah and Beniamin vnto euery strong taile, and h desired many wiues.

h He gaue himselfe to haue many wiues.

1 Rehoboam forsaketh the Lorde and is punished by Shishak. 5 Shemaiah reproueth him. 6 He humbleth himselfe. 7 God sendeth him succour. 9 Shishak taketh his treasures. 13 His reigne and death. 16 Abiah his sonne succeedeth him.

rael with him.
a For lo, this is the inconstancie of the people, that for the most part they follow the vices of their gouernours. 2 Therefore in the fift yeere of King Rehoboam, Shishak the king of Egypt came vp against Ierusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)
b Which were a people of Africa called the Troglodites, because they dwelt in holes. 3 With twelue hundreth charets, & three that were gathered together in Ierusalem, because of Shishak, and sayde vnto them,

Thus saith the Lord, Ye haue forsaken me, c therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Shishak.
c Signifying that no calamitie can come vnto vs, except we forsake God, and that he neuer leaueth vs, till we haue cast him off. 6 Then the princes of Israel, and the King humbled themselues, and sayde, The Lord is d iust.
d And therefore doeth iustly punish you for your sinnes. 7 And when the Lorde sawe that they humbled themselues, the word of the Lorde came to Shemaiah, saying, They haue humbled themselues, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will sende them deliue-and hee caried away the shieldes of golde, house of the Lorde, the garde came and bare them and brought them againe vnto the

2 He reigned three yeere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was b Michaiah the daughter of c Uriel of Gibea) and there was warre betweene Abiiah & Ieroboam.
3 And Abiiah set the battel in arap with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundreth thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in arap against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, which were strong and valiant.
4 And Abiiah stoode vp vpon mount d Zemeraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me,
5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to e Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his sonnes by a couenant f of salt?
6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, & hath *rebelled against his lord:
7 And there are gathered to him ‡ vaine men & ‡ wicked, & made themselues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was h but a child and ‖ *tender hearted, and could not resist them.
8 Nowe therefore ye thinke that ye bee able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, and the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.
9 *Haue ye not driuen away the Priests of the Lorde the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priestes like the people of other countreys? whosoeuer commeth to ‡ consecrate with a i yong bullocke and seuen rams, the same may bee a Priest of them that are no gods.
10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, and haue not forsaken him, and the Priests the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office, 11 And they burne vnto the Lorde euery k morning and euery euening burnt offerings and sweete incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of gold with the lampes thereof, to burne euery euening: for we keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him.
12 And behold, this God l is with vs as a captaine, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to cry an alarme against you. O yee children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.
13 ¶ But Ieroboam caused an ambushment m to compasse, & come behinde them, when they were before Iudah, and the ambushment behind them.
14 Then Iudah looked, and behold, the battel was before and behind them, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priestes blew with the trumpets, 15 And the men of Iudah gaue a shout: and euen as the men of Iudah shouted, God ‖ smote Ieroboam and all Israel before Abiiah and Iudah.
16 And n children of Israel fled before Iudah, & God deliuered them into their hand.
17 And Abiiah and his people slewe a great slaughter of them, so that there fell downe wounded of Israel fiue hundred thousand chosen men.
18 So n children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Iudah preuailed, o because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.
19 And Abiiah pursued after Ieroboam, & tooke cities from him, euen Beth-el, and the ‡ villages thereof, and Iethanah with her villages, & Ephron with her villages.
20 And Ieroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abiiah, but the Lord plagued him, and he died.
21 So Abiiah waxed mighty, & married fourteene wiues, & begate two and twentie sonnes, and sixteene daughters.
22 The rest of the acts of Abiiah, and his maners and his sayings are written in the storie of the Prophet Iddo.

CHAP. XIIII.

3 Asa destroyeth idolatrie, and commaundeth his people to serue the true God. 11 Hee prayeth vnto God when hee should goe to fight. 12 Hee obteineth the victorie.

SO *Abiiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Asa his sonne reigned in his steade: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yeere.
2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.
3 For hee tooke awap the altars of the strange gods & the hie places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the p groues,
4 And commaunded Iudah to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the lawe and the commandement.
5 And he tooke awap out of all the cities of Iudah n hie places & the images: therefore the kingdome was q quiet before him.
6 Yee built also strong cities in Iudah, because the land was in rest, and hee had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.
7 Therefore he sayde to Iudah, Let vs builde these cities and make walles about, and towers, gates, and barres, whiles the land is r before vs: because we haue sought the Lord our God, we haue sought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.
8 And Asa had an armie of Iudah that bare shields & speares, three hundred thousand, & of Beniamin that bare shields and drew bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.
9 ¶ And there came out against them Zerah d of Ethiopia with an hoste of tenne hundred thousand, and three hundred charets, and came vnto e Mareshah.
10 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battell in arap in the valley of Zephathah beside Mareshah.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa & the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians host was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lorde, and before his host: and they caried away a mighty great spoile.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the g feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoyled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoyle in them.

1 The exhortation of Azariah. 8 Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 11 He sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

THen the Spirit of God came vpon a Azariah the sonne of Obed.

a Who was called Obed, as his father was, ver. 8.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, & sayd vnto him, O Asa, and all Iudah and Beniamin, heare ye mee. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, hee will bee found of you, but if yee forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Now for a long season Israel hath bin without the b true God, & without Priest to teach, and without law.

b For the space of twelue yeeres vnder Rehoboam, and three yeeres vnder Abiiah, religion was neglected and idolatrie planted.

4 But whosoeuer returned in his affliction to the Lorde God of Israel, and sought him, he c was found of them.

c He sheweth that notwithstanding the wickednes of tyrants and their rage, yet God hath his, whom he hedreth in the tribulation, as he deliuered his from Zerah king of the Ethiopians, Chap. 14. 9, 12. and out of all other dangers, when they called vpon the Lord.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

d Your confidence and trust in God shall not be frustrate.

7 Bee ye strong therefore, & let not your handes be weake: for your d worke shal haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Asa heard these wordes, and the prophecie of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudah and Beniamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renued the altar of the Lord, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Iudah & Beniamin, & the strangers w them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw p the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the e third moneth, in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

e Called Shiuan, conteining part of May, and part of Iune.

11 And they offred vnto the Lord p same time of the f spoile, which they had brought, euen seuen hundred bullocks, & seuen thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenaunt to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And g whosoeuer will not seeke the Lord God of Israel, shall bee slaine, whether hee were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, and with shouting and with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and he was h found of them. And the Lord gaue them rest round about.

16 ¶ And king Asa deposed * Maachah his i mother from her regencie, because shee had made an idole in a grone: And Asa brake downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidron.

17 But the hie places were not k taken away out of l Israel: yet the heart of Asa was m perfit all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that he had dedicate, siluer, and golde, and vessels.

19 And there was no warre vnto the fiue and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

5 And when Baasha heard it, hee left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asa the king tooke all Iudah, and caried away the stones of Ramah and and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanani the ‖Seer came to Asa king of Iudah, and said vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the king of Aram, & not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Aram escaped out of thine hand.

8 * The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoste with charets and horsemen, exceeding many? yet because thou diddest rest vpon the Lord, hee deliuered them into thine hand.

9 * For the eyes of the Lorde beholde all the earth to shew himselfe strong with them that are of perfite heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a ‡ prison: for hee was d displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed certeine of the people at the same time.

11 And beholde, the acts of Asa first and last, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 ¶ And Asa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was ‖* diseased in his feete, and his disease was ‖* extreme: yet he sought not the Lorde in his disease, but to the f Physicians.

13 So Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fourtieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for himselfe in the citie of Dauid, and layd him in the bed, which they had filled with sweete odours and diuers kindes of spices, made by the arte of the Apothecarie: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lorde, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee aboliſheth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueth the tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions, and men of warre.

AND Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And hee put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bands in the lande of Iudah, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because hee walked in the a first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not b Baalim, 4 But sought the Lorde God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the ‡ trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And hee c lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, & he tooke away moreouer the hie places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne he sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nethaneel, and Michaiah, that they should d teach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Ionathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, & Tob-adonijah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Iehoram Priests.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the landes that were round about Iudah, and they e fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat gifts & tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him flocks, seuen thousand and seuen hundred rammes, and seuen thousand and seuen hundred hee goats.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grew vp on hie: and hee built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers. In Iudah were captaines of thousands, Adnah the captaine, and ‡ with him of valiant men three hundred thousand.

15 And ‖ at his hand Iehohanan a captaine, and with him two hundred & fourescore thousand.

18 And at his hand Iehozabad, and with him an hundred and fourescore thousand armed to the warre.

d Hee knew it was in vaine to professe religion, except such were appointed which could instruct the people in the same, and had authoritie to put away all idolatry.

4 And Iehoshaphat sayd vnto the king of Israel, Aske counsell, I pray thee, at the [d] word of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the king of Israel gathered of [e] Prophets foure hundred men, and sayd vnto them, Shall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they sayd, Goe vp: for God shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

6 But Iehoshaphat sayd, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that we might inquire of him?

7 And the king of Israel sayde vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whom wee may aske counsell of the Lorde, but I [f] hate him: for he doeth not prophesie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla. Then Iehoshaphat said, Let not the king say so.

8 And the king of Israel called an eunuch, and sayd, Call quickly Michaiah the sonne of Imla.

9 ¶ And the king of Israel, and Iehoshaphat king of Iudah sate either of them on his throne clothed in their [h] apparell: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entring in of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him [i] hornes of yron, and sayde, Thus saith the Lord, With these shalt thou push the Aramites, vntill thou hast consumed them.

11 And all the Prophets prophesied so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lorde shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophets declare good to the king with one [k] accorde: let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

13 And Michaiah sayd, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer my God saith, that will I speake.

14 ¶ So hee came to the king, and the king sayd vnto him, Michaiah, shall wee goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I leaue off? And hee sayd, [l] Goe yee vp, and prosper, and they shalbe deliuered into your hand.

15 And the king said to him, How oft shal I charge thee, that thou tell mee nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he said, I saw all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe that haue no shepheard: and the Lord said, [m] These haue no master: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel sayd to Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophesie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Againe he said, Therefore heare ye the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the [n] hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

19 And the Lorde sayd, Who shall ‖ perswade Ahab king of Israel, that hee may goe vp and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and sayd thus, and another sayde that.

20 Then there came forth a spirite, and stoode before the Lorde, and sayde, I will perswade him. And the Lord said vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he sayd, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And hee [o] sayd, Thou shalt perswade, and shalt also preuaile: go forth and do so.

22 Nowe therefore beholde, the Lorde hath put a [p] false spirite in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lorde hath determined euill against thee.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, and smote Michaiah vpon the [q] cheeke, and sayd, By what way went the Spirit of the Lord from mee, to speake with thee?

24 And Michaiah sayde, Beholde, thou shalt see that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Israel sayd, Take ye Michaiah, and carry him to Amon the gouernour of the city, and to Joash the kings sonne, 26 And say, Thus sayth the King, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of [r] affliction and with water of affliction, vntill I returne in peace.

27 And Michaiah sayd, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And ‖ he said, Heare, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel [s] & Iehoshaphat the king of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, I will [t] change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparel. So the king of Israel changed him selfe, and they went into the battell.

30 And the king of Aram had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the king of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets saw Iehoshaphat, they sayd, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat [u] cried, and the Lorde helped him and moued them to depart from him.

32 For when the captaines of the charets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certeine man drewe a bowe [‡] mightily, and smote the king of Israel betweene the ioynts ‖ of his brigandine: therefore he sayd to his charetman, Turne thine hand, and carry me out of the host: for I am hurt.

34 And the battell increased that day: and the king of Israel [x] stood still in his charet against the Aramites vntill euen, and died at the time of the sunne going downe.

AFter this also came the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, and with them of the a Ammonites against Iehoshaphat to battell.

rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him, and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. Then did e Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because hee had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreouer, he made hie places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit f fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him frō g Eliiah the Prophet, saying, Thus saieth the Lorde God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa king of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to go a whoring, as þ house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Behold, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues, and all thy substance, 15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill h thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoiam the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the i Ethiopians.

17 And they came vp into Iudah, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue k Iehoahaz, the youngest of his sonnes.

18 And after al this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, euen after the end of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he died of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When hee began to reigne, hee was two and thirtie yeere olde, and reigned in Ierusalem eight yeere, l and liued without being desired: yet they buried him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Iehoram. 9 Iehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the kings linage. 11 Ioash escapeth.

AND * the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne king in his stead: for the armie that came with a the Arabians to the campe, had slaine all the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and b fourtie yeere old was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned c one yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter d of Omri.

3 He walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the house of Ahab: for they were his e counsellers after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And hee walked after their counsell, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab king of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 ¶ And he returned to be healed in Iezreel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when he fought vp Hazael king of Aram. Nowe Azariah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah, went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Iezreel, because he was diseased.

7 And þ destruction of Ahaziah f came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when he was come, he went forth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimshi, * whom the Lorde had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore whē Iehu ‖ executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and founde the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slewe them also.

9 And hee sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where hee was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slewe him, and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lorde with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to retеine the kingdome.

10 ¶ * Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and l destroyed all the kings seede of the house of Iudah.

11 But Iehoshabeath the daughter of the king, tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stale him from among þ kings sonnes, that should be slaine, and put him and his nurse in the bed chamber: so Iehoshabeath the daughter of king Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so she slewe him not.

12 And hee was with them hidde in the i house of God sixe yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the k land.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah is made king. 15 Athaliah is put to death. 17 The Temple of Baal is destroyed. 19 Iehoiada appointeth ministers in the Temple.

2 And they went about in Iudah, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers b of Israel: and they came to Ierusalem.

3 And all the congregation made a couenant with the king in the house of God:

CHAP. XXIIII.

4 Ioash repaireth the house of the Lord. 17 After the death of Iehoiada he falleth to idolatrie. 21 He stoneth to death Zecharish the Prophet. 25 Ioash is killed of his owne seruants. 27 After him reigneth Amaziah.

1. King. 12. 1.

IOash * was seuen yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

a Who was a faithfull counseller, and gouerned him by the word of God.

2 And Ioash did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of a Iehoiada the Priest.

‖ Or, gaue him two wiues.

3 And Iehoiada ‖ tooke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioashs minde, to renue the house of the Lord.

b He meaneth not the tenne tribes, but only the two tribes of Iudah and Beniamin.

5 And he assembled the Priests and the Leuites, and saide to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all b Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, & haste the thing: but the Leuites hasted not.

c For he was the hie Priest.

6 Therefore the king called Iehoiada the c chiefe, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem * the tare of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

Exod. 30. 13.

d The Scripture doeth terme it thus, because she was a cruell murderer, and blasphemous idolatresse.

7 For d wicked Athaliah, and her children brake vp the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestowe vpon Baalim.

2. King. 12. 5.

8 Therefore the king commanded, * and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

Exod. 30. 13.

9 And they made proclamation through Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lord * the tare of Moses the seruant of God, laide vpon Israel in the wildernesse.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

e Such as were faithfull men whom the king had appointed for that matter.

11 And whē it was time, e they brought the chest vnto the kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they sawe that there was much siluer, then the kings kings Scribe (and one appointed by the high Priest) came and emptied the chest, & tooke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

12 And the king and f Iehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hired Masons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron & brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke ‡ amended through their handes: and they restored the house of God to his state, and strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the siluer before the king and Iehoiada, and he made thereof g vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both mosters & incense cups, and vessels of golde, & of siluer: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lorde continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed olde, and was full of dayes, and died. An hundreth and thirtie yere olde was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the citie of Dauid with the h kings, because hee had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the i princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the king, and the king hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lorde God of their Fathers, and serued groues & idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of their trespasse.

19 And God sent prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lorde: and they k made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirite of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Iehoiada ℘ Priest, which stoode l aboue the people, and saide vnto them, Thus saieth God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lorde? surely ye shall not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lorde, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him, and stoned him with stones at the m commandement of the king, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioash the King remembred not the kindnesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slewe his sonne. And when he died, he said, The Lord n looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when the yeere was out, the hoste of Aram came vp against him, & they came against Iudah and Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the king of Damascus.

24 Though the armie of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lorde God of their fathers: and they o gaue sentence against Ioash.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the p children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slewe him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: but they buried him not in the sepulchres of the kings.

26 And these are they that conspired against him, Zabad the sonne of Shimrath an Ammonitesse, and Iehozabad the sonne of Shimrith a Moabitesse.

27 But q his sonnes, and the summe of the tare gathered by him, and the r foundation of the house of God, beholde, they are written in the storie of the booke of the Kings. And Amaziah his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXV.

3 Amaziah putteth them to death which slewe his father. 10 Hee sendeth backe them of Israel. 11 He ouercommeth the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatrie. 17 And Ioash King of Israel ouercommeth Amaziah. 27 Hee is slaine by a conspiracie.

AMaziah was fiue & twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yere in * Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Iehoaddan, of Ierusalem.

2 And he did a vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, hee slew his seruants, that had slaine the king his father.

4 But he slew not their children, but did as it is written in the Law, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, * The fathers shal not die for the b children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their Fathers, throughout all Iudah and Beniamin: and he numbred them from c twenty yere olde & aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men to goe foorth to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 Hee hired also an hundreth thousand valiant men d out of Israel for an hundreth talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O king, let not the armie of Israel goe with thee: for the Lord is not e with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If f not, goe thou on, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battell, but God shall make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lorde is able to g giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Judah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of h Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Judah take alive, and caried them to the top of a i rocke, and cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the k armie, which Amaziah sent awap, that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell upon the cities of Judah from Samaria unto Bethhoron, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoile.

14 Now after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up to be his gods, and l worshipped them & burned incense unto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent unto him a Prophet, which saide unto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to m deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, n he said unto him, Haue they made thee the kings counseller? cease thou: why shouldest they o smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I know that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah king of Judah tooke counsell, and sent to Joash the sonne of Jehoahaz, the sonne of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, p let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Joash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the Cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went & trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: loe, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to braggе: abide nowe at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, and Judah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for q it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Joash the king of Israel went vp: and he, and Amaziah king of Judah sawe one another in the face at Bethshemesh, which is in Judah.

22 And Judah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Joash the king of Israel tooke Amaziah king of Judah, the sonne of Joash, the sonne of Jehoahaz in Bethshemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem, and brake downe the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim unto the corner gate, foure hundred cubits.

24 And he tooke all the golde and the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with r Obed Edom, & in the treasures of the kings house, and the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Joash king of Judah liued after the death of Joash sonne of Jehoahaz king of Israel, fifteene yeere.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Judah and Israel?

27 Nowe after the time that Amaziah did turne awap from the Lorde, * they wrought treason against him in Jerusalem: and when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, & slew him there.

28 And they brought him upon horses, and buried him with his fathers in the citie of Judah.

2. King. 15.2.

c This was not that Zechariah that was the sonne of Iehoiada, but some other Prophet of that name.

d For God neuer forsaketh any that seeketh vnto him, and therefore man is the cause of his owne destruction.

e That is, they payed tribute in signe of subiection.

9 Moreouer Vzziah built towres in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the * turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wildernesse, and digged many cisternes: for he had much cattell both in the valleys & plaines, plowmen, & dressers of vines in the mountaines, and in & Carmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Ieiel the scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the kings captaines.

12 The whole ‖ number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men were two thousand and fiue hundreth.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundreth and seuen thousand, & fiue hundreth that fought valiantly to helpe the king against the enemie.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shieldes, and speares, and helmets, and habergeons, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very ‡ artificiall engines in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name spred farre abroade, because God did helpe him marueilously, till he was mighty.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart ‖ was lift vp to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the Temple of the Lord, to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstood Vzziah the king, and said vnto him, * It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto ℌ Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: k goe forth of the Sanctuarie: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priests, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before ℌ Priests in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priests looked vpon him, behold, he was leprous in his forehead, and they caused him hastily to depart thence: and he was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And Vzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an ‖ house apart, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the actes of Vzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the fielde of the buriall, which pertayned to the kings: for they saide, He ᵐ is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iotham reigneth, and ouercommeth the Ammonites. 8 His reigne and death. 9 Ahaz his sonne reigneth in his stead.

IOtham * was fiue and twentie yeere olde ‖ when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Ierushah ℌ daughter of Zadok.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord according to all that his father Vzziah did, saue that he entred not into ℌ Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet ᵇ corrupt their wayes.

3 He built the hie ᶜ gate of the house of the Lorde, and he built very much on the wall of the castell.

4 Moreouer he built cities in the mountaines of Iudah, and in the forests he built palaces and towres.

5 And he fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundreth talents of siluer, & ten tenue thousand ‡ measures of wheate, and tenne thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him ‖ both in the second yeere and the third.

6 So Iotham became mighty ᵈ because he directed his way before the Lorde his God.

7 Concerning the rest of the acts of Iotham, and all his warres and his wayes, loe, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel and Iudah.

8 He was fiue and twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Ierusalem.

9 And Iotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid: and Ahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

AHaz * was twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeere in Ierusalem, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lorde, like Dauid his ‖ father.

2 But ª he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, & made euen molten images for ᵇ Baalim.

3 Moreouer he burnt incense in the valley of Ben-hinnom, and ‖ burnt his sonnes with fire, after the abominations of the heathen whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also and burnt incense in the hie places, and on hilles, and vnder euery greene tree.

6 For c Pekah the sonne of Remaliah slewe in Iudah fiue score thousand in one day, all ‡valiant men, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

7 And Zichri a ‖mighty man of Ephraim slew Maaseiah the kings sonne, and Azrikam the gouernour of the house, and Elkanah the second after the king.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, ¢two hundreth thousand of women, sonnes and daughters, and caried away much spoyle of them, and brought the spoyle to Samaria.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lord, (whose name was Oded) and he went out before the hoste that came to Samaria, and saide vnto them, Beholde, e because the Lorde God of your fathers is wroth with Iudah, he hath deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue slaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

10 And nowe ye purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iudah and Ierusalem, as seruants and handmaides vnto you: but are not you such, that f sinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captiues againe, which ye haue taken prisoners of your brethren: for the fierce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certaine of the chiefe of the children of g Ephraim, Azariah the sonne of Iehohanan, Berechiah the sonne of Meshillemoth, & Iehizkiah the sonne of Shallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stood vp against them that came from h warre, 13 And said vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for this shall be h a sinne vpon vs against the Lord: ye intende to adde more to our sinnes and to our trespasse, though our trespasse be great, and the fierce wrath of God is against Israel.

14 So the armie left the captiues and the spoyle before the Princes and all the Congregation.

15 And the men that were i named by name, rose vp and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoyle clothed all that were naked among them, and araied them, and shodde them, and gaue them meate and gaue them drinke, and k anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho h citie of Palme trees to their l brethren: so they returned to Samaria.

16 ¶ At that time did king Ahaz send vnto the m kings of Assur, to helpe him.

17 (For the Edomites came moreouer, ¢ & smote Iudah, & caried away captiues.

18 The Philistims also inuaded the cities in the lowe countrey, and toward the South of Iudah, and tooke Bethshemesh and Aialon, and Gederoth ¢ Shocho, with the villages thereof, and Timnah, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages: and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lorde had humbled Iudah, because of Ahaz king of n Israel: for he had brought vngodlinesse in Iudah and had grieuously transgressed against the Lord)

20 And Tilgath Pilneeser king of Assur came vnto him, who troubled him and did not strengthen him.

21 For Ahaz ‡ tooke a portion * out of the house of the Lord, and out of the kinges house ¢ of the Princes, and gaue vnto the king of Assur: yet it helped him not.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet trespasse more against the Lord, (this is king Ahaz)

23 For he sacrificed vnto the gods of Damascus, which o plagued him, and he saide, Because the gods of the kings of Aram helped them, I will sacrifice vnto them, and they will helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all ‖ Israel.

24 And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God, and brake the vessels of the house of God, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lorde, and made him altars in euery corner of Ierusalem.

25 And in euery citie of Iudah he made hie places, to burne incense vnto other gods, and prouoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the rest of his actes, and all his waies first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Iudah and Israel.

27 And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie ‖ of Ierusalem, but brought him not into the p sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his stead.

14 And of the ſonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the ſonnes of Iedithun, Shemaiah, and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and ſanctified themſelues, and came according to the commandement of the king, and ‖ by the words of the Lord, for to cleanſe the houſe of the Lord.

16 And the Prieſts went into the inner parts of the houſe of the Lord, to ‖ cleanſe it, and brought out all the vncleanneſſe that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the houſe of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to carrie it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began the firſt day of the ‖ firſt moneth to ſanctifie it, & the eight day of the moneth came they to the porche of the Lorde: ſo they ſanctified the houſe of the Lord in eight dayes, & in the ſixteenth day of the firſt moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and ſaide, Wee haue cleanſed all the houſe of the Lord, and the altar of burnt offering, with all the veſſels thereof, and the ‖ ſhewbread table, with all the veſſels thereof:

19 And all the veſſels which King Ahaz had caſt aſide when hee reigned, and tranſgreſſed, haue wee prepared and ſanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the king ‖ roſe early, and gathered the Princes of the citie, and went vp to the houſe of the Lord.

21 And they brought ſeuen bullocks, and ſeuen rammes, and ſeuen lambes, and ſeuen hee goates, for a * ſinne offering for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And hee commanded the Prieſts the ſonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they ſlewe the bullockes, and the Prieſtes receiued the blood, and ‖ ſprinkled it vpon the altar: they ſlewe alſo the rams and ſprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they ſlewe the lambes, and they ſprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the ſinne offering before the king and the Congregation, k and they laid their handes vpon them.

24 And the Prieſts ſlew them, and with the blood of them they cleanſed the altar to reconcile all Iſrael: for the king had commanded for all Iſrael the burnt offring and the ſinne offering.

25 He appointed alſo the Leuites in the houſe of the Lord with cymbals, with vials, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for the ‖ commandement was by the hand of the Lorde, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And the Leuites ſtoode with the inſtruments of Dauid, and the Prieſtes with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: and when the burnt offering beganne, the ſong of the ‖ Lorde began with the trumpets, and the inſtruments ‖ of Dauid king of Iſrael.

28 And all the Congregation worſhipped, ſinging a ſong, and they blewe the trumpets: all this continued vntil the burnt offering was finiſhed.

29 And when they had made an ende of offering, the king and all that were preſent with him, bowed themſelues, and worſhipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the king & the princes commanded the Leuites to praiſe the Lorde with the ‖ wordes of Dauid, and of Aſaph the Seer. ſo they praiſed with ioy, and they bowed themſelues and worſhipped.

31 And Hezekiah ſpake, and ſaide, Now yee haue ‡ conſecrate your ſelues to the Lorde: come neere and bring the ſacrifices and offerings of praiſe into the houſe of the Lorde. CHAP. XXX.

1. 13 The keeping of the Passeouer by the kings commandement. 6 He exhorteth Israel to turne to the Lord. 18 He prayeth for the people. 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites blesse the people.

AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel, & Iudah, and also wrote letters to a Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Ierusalem, to keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lorde God of Israel.

a Meaning, all Israel whom Tilgath Pilneeser had not taken away into the captiuitie, 2. King. 15. 29.

2 And the king and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsell in Ierusalem to keepe the Passeouer in the b second moneth.

b Though they ought to haue done it in the first moneth, as Exod. 12. 18. Numb. 9. 3. yet if any were not cleane, or els had a long iourney, they might deferre it vnto the second moneth, as Num. 9. 10, 11.

3 For they coulde not keepe it at this time, because there were not Priests enow sanctified, neither was the people gathered to Ierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from c Beer-sheba euen to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, d as it was written.

c From one end of the land to the other, North and South.

d In such sort & perfection as God had appointed.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the king & his princes, throughout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Izhak, and Israel, and e hee will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the kings of Asshur.

e He will haue compassion on them, and preserue them.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, & like your brethren, which trespalled against the Lord God of their fathers, and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

f Submit your selues to ye Lord, and rebell no more.

8 Be not ye now stiffnecked like your fathers, but f giue the hand to the Lord, and come into his Sanctuarie, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

g God will not onely preserue you, but through your repentance restore your brethren, which for their sinnes he gaue into the hands of the enemies.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lorde, your brethren and your children shall finde mercy before them that ledde them captiues, and they shall g returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and mercifull, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

h Though the wicked mocke at the seruants of God, by whome he calleth them to repentance, as Gen. 19. 14. yet the word ceaseth not to fructifie in the hearts of Gods elect.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie throughout the lande of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they h laughed them to scorne, & mocked them.

i He sheweth the cause why some obey and some mocke at Gods calling, to wit, because his spirit is with the one sort, and moueth their heart, and the other are left to themselues.

11 Neuertheless, diuers of Asher, and Manasseh, & of Zebulun submitted themselues, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one i heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of the vnleauened bread in the second moneth, a verie great assemblie.

14 ¶ And they arose, and tooke away the k altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

k Which declareth that we must put away those things wherewith God is offended, before we can serue him aright.

15 Afterward they slewe the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priestes and Leuites were l ashamed, and sanctified themselues, & brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

l Seeing their owne negligence (who shoulde haue bene most prompt) and the readinesse of the people, Chap. 29. 36.

16 And they stoode in their place after their maner, according to the Lawe of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the m blood, receiued of the hands of the Leuites.

m To wit, of the Lambe of the Passeouer.

17 Because there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passeouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleansed themselues, yet did eate the Passeouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The n good Lord be mercifull toward him, n He knew, that faith and sincerite of heart was more agreeable to God, then the obseruation of these ceremonies, and therefore he prayed vnto God to pardon this fault vnto the people, which did not offend of malice, but of ignorance.

19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lorde God, the God of his Fathers, though he be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lorde heard Hezekiah, and o healed the people.

o That is, did accept them as purified.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes with great ioy, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah & spake comfortable vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eat in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offerings, and praised the Lord God of their fathers.

& Ebr. spake to the heart.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah king of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a p thousand bullocks, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, & ten thousand sheepe: and many Priests were sanctified.

p This great liberalitie declareth how Kings, Princes, and all they to whome God hath giuen wherwith, ought to be most ready to bestowe it in setting forth of Gods glorie.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priests and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioy in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priestes and the Leuites arose, & q blessed the people, and their voice was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, and to his holy habitation.

q According to that which is written, Num. 6. 23. when they should dismisse the people.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing. 13 He ordaineth ouerseers to distribute to euery one his portion.

NOw when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and a brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and brake downe the hie places, and the altars throughout all Iudah and Beniamin, in Ephraim also & Manasseh, vntill they had made an end: afterward all the b children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

a According to the commandement of ỹ Lord, Deut.7.25.iosh. 7.1.2.mac.12. 40.

b That is, all they which came to the Passeouer.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Leuites, by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the burnt offering and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thankes, and to praise in the gates of the c tents of the Lord.

c That is, the Temple where they assembled as in a tent.

3 (And the kings portion was of his owne substance for the burnt offrings, euen for the burnt offerings of the morning and of the euening, and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the newe moones, and for the solemne feastes, * as it is written in the Law of the Lord)

*Num.28.3.9.

4 Hee commanded also the people that dwelt in Ierusalem, to giue d part to the Priests, and Leuites, that they might be e encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

d The tithes and first fruits for the maintenance of the Priests and Leuites.

e That their mindes might not be intangled with prouision of worldly things, but that they might wholly & cheerefully serue the Lord.

5 ¶ And when the commandement was ‖ spred, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruites of corne, wine, & oyle, and honp, and of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

‖ Or, published.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes f which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them on g many heapes.

f Which they had dedicate to the Lord by a vow.

g For the releefe of the Priestes, Leuites, widowes, pupils, fatherlesse, strangers, & such as were in necessitie.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the Princes came, and saw the heaps, they h blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

h They praised the Lorde, and prayed for all prosperitie to his people.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priestes and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and sayd, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lorde, wee haue i eaten and haue bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lorde hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

i Hee sheweth that this plentyous liberalitie is expedient for the maintenance of the ministers, and that God therefore prospereth his people, and increaseth by his blessing that which is giuen.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lorde: and they prepared them, 12 And caried in the first fruits, and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: and ouer them was Conaniah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

13 And Iehiel, and Azariah, and Nahath, and Asahel, and Ierimoth, and Iosabad, and Eliel, and Ismachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah were ouerseers ‡ by the appointment of Conaniah, and Shimei his brother, and by the commandement of Hezekiah the King, and of Azariah the chiefe of the house of God.

‡ Ebr. by the hand.

14 And Kore the sonne of Imnah the Leuite porter toward the East, was ouer the things that were willingly offered vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Iehua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priests, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

16 Their daily portion: beside their generation being males k from three yere olde and aboue, euen to all that entred into the house of the Lorde to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

k Who had also a portion and allowance in this distribution.

17 Both to the generation of the Priests after the house of their fathers, and to the Leuites from twentie yere olde and aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wiues, and their sonnes & their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their l fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

l Meaning, that either by the faithfull distributions of the officers, euery one had their part in the things that were offered, or els ỹ their wiues & children were relieued, because the Leuites were faithfull in their office, and so depended on them.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priests, which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, in euery citie the men that were appointed by names, should giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generations of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did well and vprightly, and truely before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that hee began for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Lawe and in the commandements, to seeke his God, hee did it with all his heart, and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sancherib inuadeth Iudah. 3 Hezekiah prepareth for the warre. 7 He exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lorde. 9 Sancherib blasphemeth God. 20 Hezekiah prayeth. 21 The Angel destroyeth the Assyrians, and the King is slaine. 25 Hezekiah is not thankefull towarde the Lord. 33 His death.

g Thus the wicked put no difference betweene true religion and false, God and idoles: for Hezekiah onely destroyed idolatrie and placed true religion, thus the papists slander the seruants of God: for when they destroy idolatrie, they say that they abolish religion.

h This is his blasphemie, that he will compare the liuing God to vile idoles.

i When man hath prosperitie, hee swelleth in pride and thinketh himselfe able to resist and ouercome euen God himselfe.

k Herein we see that when the wicked speake euill of the seruants of God, they care not to blaspheme God himselfe: for if they feared God they would loue his seruants.

5 And ‡ he tooke courage, ‡ built all the broken wall, and made vp the towres, and another wall without, and repaired a Millo in the b citie of Dauid, and made many c darts and shields.

6 And hee set captaines of warre ouer the people, and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and ‡ spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither be afraide for the King of Assyr, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there bee moe with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an d arme of flesh, but with vs is the e Lorde our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the words of Hezekiah king of Iudah.

9 * After this, did Sancherib king of Assyr send his seruants to Jerusalem (while he was f against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah and vnto all Iudah that were at Jerusalem, saying,

10 Thus sayth Sancherib the King of Assyr, Wherein do you trust, that ye will remaine in Jerusalem, during the siege?

11 Doth not Hezekiah entise you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine and by thirst, saying, The Lorde our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Assyr?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his high places and his g altars, and commanded Iudah and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Know ye not what I ‡ my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreys? Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the h gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleeue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdom was able to deliuer his people out of i mine hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: howe much lesse shall your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his k seruant Hezekiah.

17 Hee wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lorde God of Israel, and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countreys could not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they l cried with a loude voice in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Jerusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the m workes of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, & the Prophet Isaiah the sonne of Amoz n prayed against this, and cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes and o captaines of the hoste of the king of Assyr: so he returned ‡ with shame to his owne land. And when hee was come into the house of his god, they that came forth of his p owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hande of Sancherib king of Assyr, and from the hand of all other, and ‖ maintened them on euery side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lord to Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that hee was 9 magnified in the sight of all nations from thence forth.

24 * In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him r a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the rewarde bestowed vpon him: for his heart s was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudah and Jerusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treasures of siluer, and of golde, & of pretious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shieldes, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of storehouses for the increase of wheat and wine, and oile, and stalles for all beasts, and ‖ rowes for the ‖ stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water spring of t Gihon, and ledde them streight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid Westward. So Hezekiah prospered in all his works.

31 But because of the ambassadours of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the lande, God left him to v trie him, and to knowe all that was in his heart.

23 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

1 Manasseh an idolater. 9 He causeth Iudah to erre. 11 He is led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord and is deliuered. 14 He aboliſheth idolatrie. 16 And setteth vp true religion. 20 He dieth, and Amon his sonne succeedeth. 24 Whom his owne seruants slay.

MAnasseh was twelue yeere olde, * when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiue and fiftie yeere in Ierusalem:

2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the abominations of the Heathen, * whom the Lorde had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the high places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had saide, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And he built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 [a] And he caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: he gaue himselfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: he did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carued image, which he had made in the house of God: whereof God had saide to Dauid, and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer,

8 Neither will * I make the foote of Israel to remoone any more out of the lande which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heede, and doe all that I haue commaunded them, according to the Lawe and statutes and iudgements by the [b] hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lorde had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lorde spake [c] to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regarde.

11 Wherefore the Lorde brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, & humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was [d] entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knewe that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Westside of [e] Gihon in the valley, euen at the entrie of the fishgate, and compassed about [f] Ophel, and raised it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

15 And he tooke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lorde, and all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of the Lorde, and in Ierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also he prepared the [g] altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offrings, and of thankes, and commaunded Iudah to serue the Lord God of Israel.

17 Neuertheleſſe the people did sacrifice [h] still in the hie places, but vnto the Lord their God.

18 ¶ Concerning the rest of the actes of Manasseh, and his [i] prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that spake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Israel, beholde, they are written in the booke of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer and howe God was intreated of him, and all his sinne, and his trespasse, and the places wherein he built hie places, and set groues and images (before he was humbled) beholde, they are written in the booke of the Seers.

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne [k] house: and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 ¶ Amon was two and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeere in Ierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, as did Manasseh his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, & serued them, 23 And he humbled not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasseh his father had humbled himselfe: but this Amon trespassed more and more.

24 And his seruants * conspired against him, and slewe him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the lande slewe all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the people of the land made Iosiah his sonne king in his stead.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the high Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Beniamin, and ‖ of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

f For there were many portions & pieces annexed to the Temple.

12 And the men did the worke [g] faithfully, and the ouerseers of them were Iahath and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meshullam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that could skill of instruments of musike.

i For the king was commanded to haue continually a copie of this booke, and to reade therein day and night, Deut. 17.18.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was found in the house of the Lorde, & haue deliuered it into the handes of the ouerseers, & to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphan the chancellor declared to the king, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath giuen me a booke, and Shaphan read it before the king.

19 And when the king had heard the words of the Lawe, he [k] tare his clothes.

k For sorow that the word of God had bene so long suppressed, and the people kept in ignorance, considering also the curses conteined therein against the transgressours.

20 And the king commaunded Hilkiah and Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asaiah the kings seruant, saying,

31 And the King stood by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lorde, to walke after the Lord, & to keepe his commandements, and his testimonies, & his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and that he would accomplish the wordes of the couenant written in the same booke.

32 And he caused all that were found in Jerusalem, and Benjamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the couenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.

33 So Josiah tooke away all the abominations out of all the countreys that pertemed to the children of Israel, & compelled all t that were found in Israel, to serue the Lorde their God: so all his dayes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Josiah keepeth the Passeouer. 22 He setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dieth. 20 The people bewaile him.

MOreouer *Josiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lorde in Jerusalem, and they slew the a Passeouer in the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and incouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And bee sayd vnto the Leuites, that b taught all Israel and were sanctified vnto the Lorde, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shalbe no more a c burden vpon your shoulders: serue nowe the Lord your God and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as *Dauid the King of Israel hath written, and according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuary according to the diuision of the families of your brethren ‖ the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kill the Passeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and d prepare your brethren that they may doe according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Josiah also gaue to the ‡people sheepe, lambes and kiddes, all for the Passeouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullocks: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his Princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passeouer, euen two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, & three hundred bullocks.

9 c Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nethaneel his brethren, & Hashabiah and Iriel, and Iosabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, fiue thousand sheepe, and fiue hundred bullocks.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stoode in their places, also the Leuites in their orders, according to the Kings commandement:

11 And they slewe the Passeouer, and the Priests i sprinkled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites flayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the g burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of ‖Moses, and so of the bullocks.

13 And * they rosted the Passeouer with fire, according to the custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes, and caldrons, and distributed them quickely to all the people.

14 Afterwarde also they prepared for themselues and for the Priestes: for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offerings, and the fatte vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asaph stoode in their standing * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun the kings h Seer: and the porters at euery gate, who might not depart from the seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lorde was prepared the same day, to keepe the Passeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lorde, according to the commandement of King Josiah, 17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, & the feast of ỹ vnleauened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet: neither did all the kings of Israel keepe such a Passeouer as Josiah kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all Judah, and Israel that were ‡ present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 This Passeouer was kept in i the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Josiah.

20 ¶ * After al this, when Josiah had prepared the Temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against k Carchemish by ‖Perath, and Josiah went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying, What haue I to doe with thee, thou king of Judah? I come not against thee this day, but against the house ‡ of mine enemie, and God commaunded mee to make haste: leaue off to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroy thee.

22 But Josiah would not turne his face from him, but l changed his apparell to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

f Meaning, of the lambe, which was called the Passeouer: for only the Priests might sprinkle, and in necessitie the Leuites might kill the sacrifice.

a For three moneths after the death of Iosiah came Necho to Ierusalem, and so the plagues began, which Huldah, and the Prophets forewarned should come vpon Ierusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt tooke him away at Ierusalem, and condemned the land in an [b] hundreth talents of siluer, and a talent of golde.

14 All the chiefe of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according to all the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lord which he had sanctified in Ierusalem:

15 Therefore the Lorde God of their fathers sent to them † by his messengers, f rising early and sending: for he had compassion on his people, and on his habitation.

h Whither they fled, thinking to haue bene saued for the holinesse thereof.

i Which is not because God approueth him which yet is the minister of his iustice, but because God would by his iust iudgement punish this people: for this King was ledde with ambition and vaine glory, whereunto were ioyned furie and crueltie: therefore his worke was condemnable not withstanding it was iust & holy on Gods part, who vsed this wicked instrument to declare his iustice.

18 And all the vessels of the house of God great and small, and the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the king, and of his princes: all these caried he to Babel.

19 And they burnt the house of God, and brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fire, and all the precious vessels therof, to destroy all.

20 And they that were left by the sword caried he away to Babel, and they were seruants to him and to his sonnes, vntill the kingdome of the [k] Persians had rule,

THE

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Hebrewe, but is translated out of the Greeke.

O Lord Almighty, God of our Fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen & earth with all their ornament, which hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandement, which hast shut vp the deepe and sealed it vp thy terrible and glorious name, whom all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the maiestie of thy glory cannot be borne, & thine angry threatning toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is unmeasurable & unsearchable. For thou art most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, & repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lorde, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised [a] repentance and forgiuenesse to them that sinne against thee, & for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art ꝑ God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, & Isaac, and Jacob, which haue not [b] sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, art multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde and see the height of the heauens, for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnesse. I am bowed downe ꝛ many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath, and done euill before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy cõmandements. I haue set vp abominations, & haue multiplied offences. Nowe therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lorde, I haue sinned, & I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgiue me, O Lord, forgiue me, & destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angry with me for euer by reserving euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower parts of ꝑ earth. For thou art the God, euen ꝑ God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shewe all thy goodnesse: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life. For all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer. Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shall be the way for them to returne to thee.
b He speaketh this in comparison of himselfe and those holy fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of himselfe he calleth their sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousnesse.

Ezra.

THE ARGVMENT.

As the Lorde is euer mercifull vnto his Church and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde, and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange countrey among infidels and idolaters, he remembred his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raysed them vp a deliuerer, & mooued both the heart of the chiefe ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding least they should growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, hee keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which indeuour as much as they can to hinder their most worthy enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forward by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest and Scribe of the Lawe, as Chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who succeded Cyrus, that is, about fiftie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. Hee brought with him a great company, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such things as should be necessary for the Temple: and at his comming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

2. Chro. 36. 22. 1. esd. 2. 1. ier. 25. 12. & 29. 10.

Now [a] in the [b] first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the word of the Lord, spoken by the [b] mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the [c] spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, and he made a proclamation through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying,

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me [d] all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hath commaunded me to builde him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whom his God is? let him goe vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudah, and build the house of the Lorde God of Israel: hee is the God, which is in Ierusalem.

4 And euery one that remaineth in any place (where he soiourneth) [e] let the men of his place relieue him with siluer and with golde, and with substance, and with cattell, [f] and with a willing offring, for the house of God that is in Ierusalem.

5 Then the chiefe fathers of Iudah and Beniamin, and the Priestes and Leuites rose vp, with all them whose spirite God had raised to goe vp, to builde the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

6 And a After that he and Darius had wonne Babylon.

b Who promised them deliuerance after that seuenty yeeres were past, Iere. 25. 11.
c That is, moued him, and gaue him heart.
d For hee was chiefe Monarch, and had many nations vnder his dominiõ, which this heathen king confesseth to haue receiued of the liuing God.
e If any through pouertie were not able to returne, the Kings commission was that he should be furnished with necessaries.
f Which they themselues should send toward the reparation of the Temple.

6 And all they that were about them, strengthened their handes with vessels of siluer, with golde, with substance and with cattell, and with precious things, besides all that was willingly offered.

7 Also the king Cyrus brought foorth the vessels of the house of the Lord, * which Nebuchad-nezzar had taken out of Ierusalem, and had put them in the house of his god.

8 Euen them did Cyrus king of Persia bring foorth by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer, & counted them vnto [h] Sheshbazzar the Prince of Iudah.

9 And this is the number of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of siluer, nine and twentie [i] knines.

10 Thirtie boules of golde, and of siluer boules of the second sort, foure hundreth and ten, and of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of golde and siluer were fiue thousand and foure hundreth. Sheshbazzar brought vp all [k] with them of the captiuitie that came vp from Babel to Ierusalem.

g The Babylonians and Caldeans gaue them these presents: thus rather then the children of God should want for their necessities, he would stir vp the heart of the very infidels to helpe them. 2. King. 25. 13. 2. chron. 36. 7. Iere. 27. 19, 20. Dan. 1. 2.

2 Then roode vp Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and his brethren the Priests, and Zerubbabel the b sonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, and builded the altar of the God of Israel, to offer burnt offrings thereon, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, the man of God, b Meaning, nephewe: for he was the sonne of Pedaiah, reade 1. Chron. 3. 19.

3 And they set the altar vpon c his bases (for feare was among them, because of the people of those countreyes) therefore they offered burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord, euen burnt offerings in the morning, and at euen.

c In the place where Salomon had placed it.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is written, and the burnt offering * daily, by number according to the custome day by day,

Exod. 23. 16.

5 And afterward d the continuall burnt offering, both in the newe moneths and in all the feast dayes that were consecrate vnto the Lorde, and in all the oblations willingly offered vnto the Lord.

d That is, after the feast of Tabernacles.

6 From the first day of the seuenth moneth began they to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lorde: but the foundation of the Temple of the Lord was not layd.

7 They gaue money also vnto the Masons, and to the workemen, and meate and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidon and of Tyrus, to bring them cedar wood from Lebanon to the sea vnto ‖ Japho, according to the graunt that they had of Cyrus king of Persia.

‖ Or, Iappe.

8 ¶ And in the second peere of their comming vnto the house of God in Jerusalem in the e seconde moneth began Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, & Jeshua the sonne of Jozadak, and the remnant of their brethren the Priestes and the Leuites, and all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Jerusalem, and appointed the Leuites from twentie peere olde and aboue, to set forward the house of the worke of the Lorde.

e Which moneth conteined part of Aprill and part of May: for in the meane season they had prouided for things necessarie for the worke.

9 And Jeshua f stoode with his sonnes, and his brethren, and Kadmiel with his sonnes, and the sonnes of Judah together to set forward the workemen in the house of God, and the sonnes of Henadad with their sonnes, & their brethren the Leuites.

f They gaue them exhortations, and encouraged euery man forward in the worke.

10 And when the builders layde the foundation of the Temple of the Lord, they appointed the Priestes in their apparell with trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbals, to praise the Lord, * after the ordinance of Dauid king of Israel.

* 1. Chro. 16. 7, &c.

11 Thus they sang when they gaue praise, and when they gaue thankes vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer towarde Israel. And all the people shouted with a great shoute, when they praised the Lord, because the foundation of the house of the Lorde was layde.

12 Many also of the Priests and the Leuites and the chiefe of the fathers, ancient men, which had seene the first house, (when the foundation of this house was layd before their eyes) g wept with a loude voyce, and many shouted aloud for ioy, 13 So that the people could not discerne the sounde of the shoute for ioye, from the noyse of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loude crye, and the noyse was heard farre off.

g Because they saw that it was nothing so glorious as the Temple, which Salomon had built, notwithstanding Aggeus comforteth them, and prophecieth that it shall bee more beautifull then the first: meaning the spirituall Temple, which are the members of Christes body.

a The building of the Temple is hindered, and how.
11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the answere.

NOw a the aduersaries of Iudah & Beniamin heard, that the children of the captiuitie builded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And they came to Zerubbabel, and to the chiefe fathers, and sayd vnto them, We will builde with you: for we seeke the Lord your God as ye doe, and we haue sacrificed vnto him, since the time of Esar Haddon king of Asshur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabel, and Ieshua, and the rest of the chiefe fathers of Israel, sayde vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to build the house vnto our God: b for we our selues together will build it vnto the Lorde God of Israel, as king Cyrus the King of Persia hath commanded vs.

4 Wherefore the people of the land ‡discouraged the people of Iudah, and troubled them in building,

5 And they c hired counsellers against them, to hinder their deuice, all the dayes of Cyrus king of Persia, euen vntil the reigne of Darius king of Persia.

6 And in the reigne of d Ahashuerosh (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accusation against the inhabitants of Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And in the dayes of e Artahshashte, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their companions wrote when it was peace, vnto Artahshashte king of Persia, and the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, and the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

8 Rehum the ‖chancellour, and Shimshai the Scribe wrote a letter against Ierusalem to Artahshashte the king, in this sort.

9 Then wrote Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, f Dinaie, & Arphasathcaie, Tatpelaie, Apharsaie, Archeuaie, Babiaie, Shushanchaie, Dehaue, Elmaie,

10 And the rest of the people whome the great and noble g Asnappar brought ouer and set in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyond the h River and i Cheeneth.

11 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they sent vnto king Artahshashte, THY SERVANTS the men beyond the River and Cheeneth, salute thee.

12 Be it knowen vnto the king that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ierusalem (a citie rebellious and wicked) and build, and lap the foundations of the walles, and haue ioyned the foundations.

13 Bee it knowen now vnto the King, that if this citie be built, and the foundations of the walles layde, they will not giue tolle, tribute, nor k custome: so shalt thou hinder the kings tribute.

14 Now therefore because ‡ wee haue bene brought vp in the kings palace, it was not meete for vs to see the kings dishonour: for this cause haue we sent and certified the king,

15 That one may searche in the booke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou shalt finde in the booke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noysome vnto kings & prouinces, and that they haue moued sedition of old time, for ‖ which cause this citie was destroyed.

16 Wee certifie the king therefore, that if this citie bee builded, and the foundation of the walles layde, by this meanes the possession beyond the River, shall not be thine.

17 ¶ The King sent an answere vnto Rehum the chancellour, and Shimshai the Scribe, and to the rest of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyonde the River, l Shelam, and m Cheeth.

18 ¶ The letter which yee sent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commaunded and they haue searched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hath made insurrection against kings, and hath rebelled, & rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings also ouer Ierusalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyonde the River, and tolle, tribute, and custome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that those men may cease, and that the citie be not built, til I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede now that yee faile not to doe this: why should domage growe to hurt the King?

23 When the copie of king Artahshashtes letter was read before Rehum and Shimshai the Scribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haste to Ierusalem vnto the Iewes, and caused them to cease by force and power.

24 Then n ceased the worke of the house of God, which was in Ierusalem, and did stay vnto the second yeere of Darius King of Persia.

arose, and began to build the house of God at Jerusalem, and with them were the prophets of God, which [a] helped them.

a Which incouraged them to go forward, and accused them that they were more carefull to builde their owne houses, then zealous to build the Temple of God.

3 ¶ At the same time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyonde the River, and Shether-boznai and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commaundement to builde this house, and to lay the foundations of these walles?

4 [b] Then said wee vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

b That is, the enemies asked this, as verse 10.

5 But the [c] eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to cease, til the matter came to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

c His fauour and the spirit of strength.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyonde the River, and Shether-boznai & his companions, Apharsechaie, (which were beyonde the River) sent vnto King Darius.

7 They sent a letter vnto him wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIVS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the King, that we went into the Prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is builded with ‖great stones, and beames are layde in the walles, and this worke is wrought speedily, and prospereth in their hands.

‖Or, marble.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hath giue you commandement to builde this house, and to lay the foundation of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, that wee might certifie thee, & that wee might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a [d] great King of Israel* builded, and founded it.

13 But in the [e] first yeere of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

e Reade Chap. 1.1,2.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple that was in Ierusalem, and brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto one ‖ Shesbbazzar by his name, whom hee had made captaine.

‖Reade Chap. 1.8.

15 And hee saide vnto him, Take these vessels and goe thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be built in his p'ace.

16 Then came the same Shesbbazzar, and layde the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill now, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be search made in the house of the Kings [g] treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to build this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

a Wherein were the actes of the Kings of Medes and Persians.

3 IN THE FIRST yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem, Let the house bee built, euen the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be three score cubites, and the breadth thereof three score cubites,

4 Three ‖ orders of ‖great stones, & one order of timber, and let the expenses be giuen of the Kings house.

‖Or, rowes, or courses. ‖Or, marble.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of gold and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let [b] him goe vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place & put them in the house of God.

b Meaning, Zerubbabel, to whom he giueth charge.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyonde the River, and Shethar Boznai, (and their companions Apharsecaie, which are beyonde the river) be ye farre [c] from thence.

c Meddle not with them, neither hinder them.

7 Suffer yee the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what yee shall doe to the Elders of these Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyond the river, there be incontinently expenses giuen vnto these men that they [d] cease not.

d For lacke of money.

9 And that which they shall haue needs of, let it bee giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rammes, or lambes for the burnt offrings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine and oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there bee no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer sweete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoeuer shal alter this sentẽce, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall hee set vp, and hee shall bee hanged thereon, and his house shall be made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name [c] to dwell there, destroy all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroy this house of God, which is in Jerusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speede.

13 ¶ Then Tatnai the captaine beyond the River, and Shethar Bozenai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

14 So the Elders of the Iewes builded, and they prospered by the prophecying of [f] Haggai the Prophet, and Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, and they builded & finished it, by the appointment of the God of Israel, and by the commaundement of Cyrus & Darius, & Artahshashte king of Persia.

15 And this house was finished the third day of the moneth [g] Adar, which was [h] the sixt yeere of the reigne of King Darius.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the priests and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie, kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy, 17 And offered at the dedication of this house of God an hundreth bullockes, two hundreth rammes, foure hundreth lambs, and twelue goates, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set the Priestes in their order, and the Leuites in their courses ouer the seruice of God in Jerusalem, as it is written in the * booke of Moses.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Passeouer on the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests & the Leuites were purified all together) and they killed the Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priestes, and for themselues.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had [i] separated themselues vnto them, from the filthines of the heathen of the land, to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eate,

16 Therefore sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemaiah, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meshullam the chiefe, and to Ioiarib, and to Elnathan, men of vnderstanding, 17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the [d] chiefest at the place of Casiphia, and I ‡ tolde them the wordes that they should speake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Casiphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

d He was the chiefest that taught there the Lawe of God vnto the Leuites.

18 So by the good hande of our God, which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderstanding of the sonnes of Mahali the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, and Sherebiah with his sonnes and his brethren, euen eighteene.

19 Also Hashabiah, and with him Iesaiah of the sonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes twentie.

20 And of the [e] Nethinims, whom Dauid had set, and the Princes for the seruice of the Leuites, two hundreth and twentie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

e Reade Chap. 2.43.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a fast, that wee might humble [f] our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

f He sheweth that the ende of fasting is to humble the bodie to the spirit, which must proceede of the heart liuely touched, or els it is but hypocrisie.

22 For I was [g] ashamed to require of the king an army and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemie in the way, because wee had spoken to the king, saying, The hande of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, but his power and his wrath is against all them that forsake him.

g He thought it better to commit himselfe to the protection of God, then by seeking these ordinarie meanes to giue an occasion to others to thinke that he did doubt of Gods power.

23 So we fasted, and besought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelue of [p] chiefe of the Priests, Sherebiah, and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, euen the offering of the house of our God, which the King and his counsellers, and his princes, and all Israel that were present had offered.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand fiue hundreth and fiftie h talents of siluer, and in siluer vessell, an hundreth talents, and in gold, an hundreth talents:

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand drammes, and two vessels of shining brasse very good, & precious as gold.

28 ¶ And I said vnto them, Ye are consecrate vnto the Lorde, and the vessels are consecrate; and the golde and the siluer are freely offered vnto the Lorde God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them vntill yee weigh them before the chiefe Priestes and the Leuites, and the chiefe fathers of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the Lord.

30 So the Priests & the Leuites receiued the weight of the siluer, and of the gold, and of the vessels to bring them to Jerusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the riuer of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to goe vnto Jerusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hande of the enemie, and of such as layde k waite by the way.

32 And wee came to Jerusalem, and abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was the siluer weighed, and the gold and the vessell in the house of our God vp the hande of Meremoth the sonne of Vriah the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabad the sonne of Jeshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnui the l Leuites, 34 By number and by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the same time.

35 Also the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offered burnt offerings vnto the God of Israel, twelue bullockes for all Israel, nintie and sixe rammes, seuentie and seuen lambes, & twelue hee goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commission vnto the Kings officers and to the captaines beyond the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the house of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra complaineth on the people that had turned themselues from God, & married with the Gentiles. 5 He prayeth vnto God.

WHen * as these thinges were done, the rulers came to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the Priestes and the Leuites are not a separated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, & Iebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Ammonites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themselues, and to their sonnes, and they haue mixed the holie seede with the people of the landes, and the hande of the b princes and rulers hath bene chiefe in this trespasse.

3 But when I heard this saying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and sate downe c astonied.

4 And there assembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Israel, because of the transgression of them of ỹ captiuitie. And I sate downe astonied vntil the * euening sacrifice.

5 And at the euening sacrifice I arose vp from mine heauinesse, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and spred out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And said, O my God, I am confounded and ashamed to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee, my God: for our iniquities are increased ouer d our head, and our trespasse is growen vp vnto e the heauen.

7 From the dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great trespasse vnto this day, and for our iniquities haue wee, our kings, and our Priests bene deliuered into ỹ hand of the kings of the landes, vnto the sword, into captiuitie, into a spoyle, and into confusion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And nowe for a little space grace hath bene shewed from the Lorde our God, in causing a remnant to escape, and in giuing vs a f naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a little reuiuing in our seruitude.

9 For though we were bondmen, yet our God hath not forsaken vs in our bondage, but hath inclined mercie vnto vs in the sight of the kings of Persia, to giue vs life, and to erect the house of our God, and to redresse the desolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.

10 And nowe, our God, what shall we say after this? for wee haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the Prophets, saying, * The lande whereunto yee goe to possesse it, is an vncleane lande, because of the filthinesse of the people of the landes, which by their abominations, and by their vncleannesse haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore giue not ye your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor seeke their * peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be strong and eate the goodnes of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your sonnes for euer.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euill deedes, & for our great trespasses, (seeing that thou our God hast staied vs from being beneath g for our iniquities, and hast giuen vs such deliuerance)

14 Shoulde wee returne to breake thy commaundements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of such abominations? wouldest not thou bee angry toward vs til thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant nor any escaping?

CHAP. X.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

1.Esdr.8.90. WHiles * Ezra prayed thus, and a confessed himselfe weeping, and falling downe before the house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great cōgregation of men, and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

a He confessed his sinnes, and the sinnes of the people.

2 Then Shechaniah the sonne of Iehiel one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and saide to Ezra, Wee haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the lande, yet nowe there is b hope in Israel concerning this.

b Meaning, that God would receiue them to mercie.

3 Nowe therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away c all the wiues, (and such as are borne of them) according to the counsell of the Lorde, and of those that feare the cōmandements of our God, & let it be done according to the Law.

c Which are strangers and maried contrary to the law of God.

4 Arise: for the matter d belongeth vnto thee: we also will be with thee: be of comfort and doe it.

d Because God hath giuen thee authoritie, and learning to perswade the people herein, and to commend them.

1.Esd.9.1. 5 ¶ Then arose Ezra, & caused the chiefe Priestes, the Leuits, & all Israel to sweare, that they would do according to this word. So they sware.

6 *And Ezra rose vp frō before the house of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but hee did eate neither bread, nor drinke water: for hee mourned, because of the transgression of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they caused a Proclamatiō to go throughout Iudah and Ierusalem, vnto ‡ all them of the captiuitie, that they should assemble themselues vnto Ierusalem.

8 And whosoeuer would not come within three dayes according to the counsell of the Princes and Elders, all his substance should be ‖ forfeite, and he should be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudah & Beniamin assembled themselues vnto Ierusalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the e ninth moneth: and al the people sate in the streete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the f raine.

e Which conteined part of Nouember and part of December.

f For the season was giuen to raine, and so the weather was more sharpe and colde, and also their conscience touched them.

10 And Ezra the Priest stood vp, & said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and haue taken strange wiues, to g increase the trespasse of Israel.

g Ye haue layed one sinne vpon another.

11 Now therefore h giue praise vnto the Lord God of your father, and do his will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

h Reade Iosh. 7.19.

12 And all the Congregation answered, and said with a loude voyce, So will we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

12 But the people are many, and it is a rainie weather, & we are not able to stande without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for wee are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore before all the Congregation, & let all them which haue taken straunge wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, & with them the Elders of euery citie and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

i Let them be appointed to examine this matter.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the sonne of Asah-el, and Iahaziah the sonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and Meshullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did so and k departed, euen Ezra the Priest and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and sate downe in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

k They went to the chiefe cities to sit on this matter, which was three moneths in finishing.

17 And vntil the first day of the first moneth they were finishing the businesse with all the men that had taken strange wiues.

18 And of the sonnes of the priests there were men founde, that had taken strange wiues, to wit, of the sonnes of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maaseiah, Eliezer, and Iarib, and Gedaliah.

19 And they gaue l their handes, that they would put away their wiues, & they that had trespassed, gaue a ramme for their trespasse.

THE ARGVMENT.

GOD doth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compasse of seuentie yeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preseruation of his people, after their returne frō Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, & Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and prouided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their maners, and planted religion: and the third builded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and prouided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

4 Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem. 5 He confesseth the sinnes of the people, & prayeth God for them.

THe wordes of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In the moneth [a] Chislen, in ꝑ twentieth yeere, as I was in the palace of Shushan, 2 Came Hanani one of my [b] brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning ꝑ Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.
3 And they sayde vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the [c] prouince, are in great affliction and in reproche, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.
4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,
5 And sayde, * O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth couenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,
6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daye and night for the children of Israel thy seruants, and confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:
7 We haue ‡ grieuously sinned against thee, & haue not kept the cōmandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.
8 I beseech thee, remember the worde that thou cōmandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye will transgresse, and I * will scatter you abroad among the people.
9 But if yee turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, & do them, * though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, & will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen, to place my Name there.
10 Now these are thy seruants and thy people, whome thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.
11 O Lorde, I beseech thee, let thine eare nowe hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to [d] feare thy Name, and I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of [e] this man: for I was the kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obteined letters of Artaxerxes, 11 He came to Ierusalem, 17 And builded the walles.

NOw in the moneth [a] Nisan in the twentieth yeere of King [b] Artahshahte, the wine stoode before him, and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. Now I was not before time sad in his presence.
2 And the King sayde vnto me, Why is thy countenance sadde, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorrowe of heart. Then was I sore afraide,
3 And I said to the King, God saue the King for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie & house of the sepulchres of my fathers lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?
4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed [c] to the God of heauen, 5 And sayde vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of ꝑ sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.
6 And ꝑ King said vnto me, (the Queene also sitting by him) Howe long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.
7 After I said vnto the King, If it please the King, let them giue me letters to ꝑ captaines beyonde the ‖ Riuer, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iudah, a Which was the first moneth of the yeere, and conteineth part of March and part of April.

9 I Then came I to the captaines beyonde the ryuer, and gaue them the kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But e Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieued them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, and was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few men with mee: for I told no man what God hath put in mine heart to do at Ierusalem, and there was not a beast with me, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the Dragon well, and to the dung port, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, howe they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto the gate of the ‖ fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoole, and there was no roome for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to ᵖ Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in, howe Ierusalem lieth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wal of Ierusalem, that we be no more f a reproch.

18 Then I told them of the hand of my God (which was good ouer mee) and also of the Kings wordes, that hee had spoken vnto mee. And they sayde, Let vs rise, and builde. So they g strengthened their hande to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and h Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs, and despised vs, and sayde, What a thing is that ye doe? Will ye i rebel against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and said to them, The God of heauen, hee will prosper vs, and wee his seruants will rise vp and builde: but as for you, yee haue no portion nor right, nor k memoriall in Ierusalem.

[Or, paradise.

d As God moued me to aske, & as he gaue me good successe therein.

e These were great enemies to the Iewes, and laboured alwayes both by force and subtiltie to ouercome them, and Tobiah, because his wife was a Iewesse, had aduertisement euer of their affaires, and so wrought them great trouble.

21 After him repaired Meremoth, the sonne of Vrijah, the sonne of Hakkoz, another portion from the doore of the house of Eliashib, euen as long as the house of Eliashib extended.

22 After him also repaired the Priestes, the men of [e] the plaine.

e Which dwelt in the plaine countrey by Iordan and Iericho.

23 After them repaired Beniamin, and Hashhub ouer against their house: after him repaired Azariah the sonne of Maaseiah, the sonne of Ananiah by his house.

24 After him repaired Binnui, the sonne of Henadad another portion, frō the house of Azariah vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

25 Palal, the sonne of Vzai, from ouer against the corner, and the high towre that lyeth out from the kings house, which is beside the court of the prison. After him, Pedaiah the sonne of Parosh.

26 And the [f] Nethinims they dwelt in the fortresse vnto the place ouer against the water gate, Eastwarde, & to the towre that lyeth out.

f Vnderstande Ezra Chap. 2. 43.

27 After him repaired the Tekoites another portion ouer against the great towre, that lyeth out, euen vnto the wall of the fortresse.

28 From aboue the horse gate repaired the Priestes, euery one ouer against his house.

29 After them repaired Zadok the sonne of Immer ouer against his house: and after him repaired Shemaiah, the sonne of Shechaniah the keeper of the Eastgate.

30 After him repaired Hananiah, the sonne of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sonne of Zalaph, the [g] sixt, another portion: after him repaired Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah, ouer against his chamber.

g Meaning, the sixt of his sonnes.

31 After him repaired Malchiah the goldesmithes sonne, vntill the house of the Nethinims, and of the marchants ouer against the gate [h] Miphkad, & to the chamber in the corner.

h Which was the place of iudgement, or execution.

32 And betweene the chamber of the corner vnto the sherpegate, repaired the goldesmiths and the marchants.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The building of Ierusalem is hindred. 15 But God breaketh their enterprise. 17 The Iewes build with one hand, & holde their weapons in the other.

BVt whē Sanballat heard that we builded the wal, then was he wroth and sore grieued, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And said before his brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What doe these [a] weake Iewes? will they fortifie themselues? will they sacrifice? will they finish it in a day? will they make the stones whole againe out of the heapes of dust, seeing they are burnt?

a Of his companions, that dwelt in Samaria.

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they builde, yet if a fore goe vp, he shal euen breake down their stoute wall.

b Thus the wicked, that consider not that Gods power is euer in a readinesse for the defence of his, mocke them as though they were weake and feeble.

4 Heare, O our God (for we are despised) and turne their shame vpon their own head, and giue them vnto a pray [i] in the land of their captiuitie, c This is the remedie that the children of God haue against the derision and threatnings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.

5 And couer not their iniquitie, neither let their sinne be put out in thy presence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

d Let them be spoyled and led away captiue.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the [j] halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

e Let thy plagues declare to the world that they see themselues against thee, and against thy Church: thus he prayeth, only hauing respect to Gods glory, and not for any priuate affection or grudge.

7 ¶ But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalem were repaired, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired al together to come and to fight against Ierusalem, and to [k] hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day and night, because of them.

10 And Iudah said, The strength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, so that we are not able to builde the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had saide, They shall not know, neither see, till we come into the middes of them and slay them, and cause the worke to cease.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beside them) came, they told vs [l] ten times, [g] From all places whence ye shal returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore set I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the toppes of the stones, & placed the people by their families with their swordes, their speares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and rose vp, and said vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, Bee not afraide of them: remember the great Lord, and feareful, & fight for your brethren, your sonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, & your houses.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, then God brought their counsel to nought, and wee turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the young men did the labour, & the other halfe part of them held the speares, and shieldes, and bowes, and habergions: and the rulers stood [i] behinde all the house of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wal, & they that f That is, often times.

g They, which brought the tydings, said thus, When you leaue your worke, and go either to eate or to rest, your enemies will assaile you.

h Who is euer at hand to deliuer his out of danger, and therefore seeing they should fight for y maintenance of Gods glory and for the preseruation of their owne liues and of theirs, he encourageth them to play the valiant men.

i To ouersee them and to encourage them to their worke.

that bare burdens, and they that loded, did the worke with one hande, and with the o-ther held the sword.

18 For euery one of the builders had his sword girded on his lopnes, and so builded: & he that blewe the trumpet, was beside me.

19 Then said I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are separated vpon the wall, one farre from a-nother.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the sound of the trumpet, k resort ye thither vnto vs: our God shall fight for vs.

21 So wee laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the speares from the ap-pearing of the morning, till the starres came forth.

22 And at the same time said I vnto the people, Let euery one with his seruant lodge within Jerusalem, ℘ they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So neither I, nor my brethren, nor my seruaunts, nor the men of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put off our clothes, saue euery one put them off for washing.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppressed, and in necessitie. 6 Nehemiah remedieth it. 14 He tooke not the por-tion of others that had ruled before, 16 yet wold not grieue the people.

NOwe there was a great crie of the peo-ple, and of their wiues a against their brethren the Iewes.

2 For there were that sayde, Wee, our sonnes and our daughters are many, ther-fore we take vp b corne, that wee may eate and liue.

3 And there were that sayde, We must gage our landes, and our vineyardes, and our houses, & take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were also that sayde, Wee haue borowed money for the kings c tribute vp-on our lands and our vineyards.

5 And nowe our flesh is as d the flesh of our brethren, & our sonnes as their sonnes: and lo, we bring into subiection our sonnes, and our daughters, as seruants, and there be of our daughters nowe in subiection, and there is no power e in our handes: for other men haue our landes and our vineyards.

6 Then was I verie angrie when I heard their crie and these wordes.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and sayde vnto them, Ye laye f burdens euery one vpon his brethren: and I set a great s assemblie against them,

8 And I said vnto them, We (according to our ability) haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were solde vnto the hea-then: & will ye sel your brethren againe, or shall they bee h solde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and could not answere.

9 Also I said, That which ye doe, is i not good. Ought ye not to walke in ℘ feare of our God, for the k reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, & my ser-uants doe lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this ‖ burden.

11 Restore, I pray you, vnto them this day their landes, their vineyards, their olives, and their houses, and remit the hun-dreth part of the siluer and of the corne, of the wine and of the oyle l that ye exact of them.

12 Then said they, We will restore it, and will not require it of them: we will doe as thou hast said. Then I called the Priestes, and caused them to sweare, ℘ they should doe according to this promise.

13 So I shooke my lap, and saide, So let God shake out euery man that will not performe this promise, from his house, and from his labour: euen thus let him bee shaken out, and emptied. And all the congregation saide, Amen, and praysed the Lord: and the people did according to this promise.

14 And from the time that the King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the lande of Judah from the twentieth yeere, euen vn-to the two and thirtieth yeere of King Ar-taxshashte, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the m bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, besides fourtie shekels of siluer: yea, and their seruants bare rule ouer the peo-ple: but so did not I, because of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, & we bought no land, and all my seruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundreth and fifte of the Iewes, and Ru-lers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daily an ore, and sixe chosen sheepe, and birdes were pre-pared for me, and ‖ within ten dayes wine for all n in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in good-nesse, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

1 Nehemiah answereth with great wisedome, and zeale to his aduersarie. 11 Hee is not discou-raged by the false prophets.

NAd when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, & the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no more a breaches therein (though at that time I had not set vp the doores vpon the gates)

e We are not a-ble to redeeme them, but for pouertie are constrained to hire them to others.

f You presse them with vsu-rie, and seeke howe to bring all things into your handes.

3 Therefore I sent messengers vnto them, saying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I cannot come downe: b why should the worke cease, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they sent vnto me foure times after this sort. And I answered them after the same maner.

5 Then sent Sanballat his seruant after this sort vnto me the fifth time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and ‖ Gashmu hath saide it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cause thou buildest the wall, and thou wilt be their king according to these c words.

7 Thou hast also ordeined d the Prophets to preache of thee at Ierusalem, saying, There is a king in Iudah: and now according to these words it shall come to the kings eares: come nowe therefore, and let vs take counsell to gether.

8 Then I sent vnto him, saying, It is not done according to these words that thou sayest: for thou fainest them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afrayed vs, saying, Their handes shall be weakened from the worke, and it shall not be done: nowe therefore incourage thou mee.

10 ¶ And I came to the house of Shemaiah the sonne of Delaiah the sonne of Mehetabeel, and he was e shut vp, and he said, Let vs come together into the House of God in the middes of the Temple, and shut the doores of the Temple: for they will come to slay thee: yea, in the night will they come to kill thee.

11 Then I said, f Should such a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that would goe into the Temple to liue? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that hee pronounced this prophecy against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was he hired, that I might be afraide, and doe thus, and sinne, & that they might haue an euill report that they might reproch me.

14 My God, remember thou Tobiah and Sanballat according vnto these their workes, and Noadiah the g Prophetesse also, & the rest of the Prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 ¶ Notwithstanding the wall was finished on the fiue and twentieth day of h Elul, in two and fiftie dayes.

16 And when all our enemies hearde thereof, euen all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraide, and their courage failed them: for they knewe that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these dayes were there many of the princes of Iudah, whose i letters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: for hee was the sonne in lawe of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arah: and his sonne Iehonathan had the daughter of Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah.

19 Yea, they spake in his praise before me, and tolde him my wordes, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

1 After the wall once builded, is the watch appointed. 6 They that returned from the captiuitie are numbred.

NOw * when the wall was builded, and I had set vp the doores, and the porters, and the singers and the Leuites were appointed,

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanani and Hananiah the prince of the palace in Ierusalem (for he was doubtlesse a faithfull man, and feared God aboue many)

3 And I said vnto the, Let not the gates of Ierusalem be opened, vntill the heate of the sunne: and while a they stande by, let them shut the doores, and ‡ make the fast: and I appointed warders of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, euery one in his warde, and euery one ouer against his house.

4 Now the citie was large and great, but the people were few therein, and the houses were not builded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, and the people to count their genealogies: and I found a booke of the genealogie of them, * which came vp at the first, and founde written therein,

2 Esra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Lawe. 12 They reioyce in Israel for the knowledge of the word of God. 15 They keepe the feast of Tabernacles or boothes.

‡ Ebr. as one man

AND all the people assembled themselues ‡ together, in the streete that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the a Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Lawe of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

a Reade Ezra 7.6.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law before the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that b could heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the seuenth moneth, b Which had age and discretion to vnderstand.

3 And he read therein in the streete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the c midday) before men and women, and them that vnderstoode it, and the eares of al the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

c This declareth the great zeale, that the people had to heare the word of God.

4 And Ezra the Scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood, which hee had made for the preaching, & beside him stood Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriah, and Hilkiah, and Maaseiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashbadana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for he was d aboue all the people: and when hee opened it, all the people stoode vp.

d To the intent that his voyce might be the better heard.

6 And Ezra praised the Lorde the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their handes: and they bowed themselues, & worshipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, & Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites caused the people to vnderstand the Lawe, and the people stood in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.

e In considering their offences against the Law. Therfore the Leuites doe not reproue them for mourning, but assure them of Gods mercies forasmuch as they are repentant.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest and Scribe, and the Leuites that instructed the people, sayd vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lorde your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people e wept, when they heard the words of the Lawe.

10 He sayd also vnto them, Goe and eate of the fat, and drinke the sweete, & send part vnto them, for whome none is f prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lorde: be yee not sorie therefore: for the g ioy of the Lord is your strength.

f That is, remember the poore.

g Reioyce in the Lord, and he will giue you strength.

11 And the Leuites ma de silence throughout all the people, saying, Hold your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send awap part, & to make great ioy, because they had vnderstand the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day, the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priestes and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that hee also might instruct them in the words of the Lawe.

14 And they found written in the Lawe, (that the Lord hath commaunded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwel in * boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth, Leuit.23.34.

15 And that they should cause it to bee declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring olive branches, and pine branches, and branches of ‖ myrtus, and palme branches, & branches of thicke trees to make boothes, as it is written.

‖ Or, goodly branches, as Leuit.23.40.

16 So the people went forth and brought them and made them boothes, euery one vpon the h roofe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

h For their houses were made flat aboue, reade Deut.22.8.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captuitie, made boothes, & satebvnder the boothes: for since the i time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

i Which was almost a thousande yeeres.

18 And he read in the booke of the Law of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, and on the eight day a solemne assemblie, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, and forsake their strange wiues. 5 The Leuites exhort them to praise God, 6 Declaring his wonders, 26 And their ingratitude, 30 And Gods great mercies towarde them.

IN the foure and twentieth day of this a moneth, the children of Israel were assembled with * fasting, and with sackecloth, and earth vpon them.

a Meaning, the seuenth. 1.Esdr.9.4.

2 (And they that were of the seede of Israel were separated from al the ‡ strangers) and they stoode and confessed their sinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

3 And they stoode vp in their place and read in the booke of the Lawe of the Lorde their God foure times on the day, and they b confessed and worshipped the Lorde their God foure times.

b They made confession of their sinnes and vsed prayers.

4 Then stoode vp vpon the staires of the Leuites Ieshua, and Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chenani, and cried with a loude voyce vnto the Lord their God.

5 And the Leuites said, euen Ieshua and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodiiah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah, Stande vp, and praise the Lorde your God for for euer and euer, and let them prayse thy glorious Name, O God, which excelleth aboue all thankesgiuing and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou hast made heauen, and the heauen of al heauens, with all their hoste, the earth, and all things that are therein, the seas, & all that are in them, and thou preseruest them all, and the hoste of the heauen worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lorde, the God, that hast chosen Abram, and broughtest him out of * Vr in Caldea, * and madest his name Abraham, 8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, * & madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the lande of the Cananites, Hittites, Amorites, and Perizzites, and Iebusites, and Girgalhites, and hast performed thy wordes, because thou art iust.

9 * Thou hast also considered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the red Sea,

10 And shewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaoh, and on all his seruants, and on all the people of his lande: for thou knewest that they dealt proudly against them: therefore thou madest thee a name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou diddest breake vp the sea before them, and they went through the middes of the Sea on drie lande: and those that pursued them, hast thou cast into the bottoms as a stone, in the mightie waters:

12 And * leddest them in the day with a pillar of a cloude, and in the night with a pillar of fire to giue them light in the way that they went.

13 * Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sinai, and spakest vnto them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgments, and true lawes, ordinances and good commandements,

14 And declaredst vnto them thine holy Sabbath, & commaundedst them precepts, and ordinances, and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen for their hunger, * and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke for their thirst: and * promisedst them that they should go in, and take possession of the land, for the which thou haddest lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

16 But they and our fathers behaued themselues proudly, and hardened their necke, so that they hearkened not vnto thy commandements, 17 But refused to obey, and would not remember thy marueilous workes that thou haddest done for them, but hardened their neckes, and had in their heads to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou O God of mercies, gracious and full of compassion, of long suffering and of great mercie, pet forsookest them not.

18 Moreouer, when they made them a molten calfe (and sayde, This is thy God that brought thee vp out of the land of Egypt) and committed great blasphemies, 19 Pet thou for thy great mercies forsookest them not in ꝑ wildernesse: * the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by day to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire by night, to shewe them light, and the way wherein they should goe.

20 Thou gauest also thy good Spirit to instruct them, & withholdest not thy MAN from their mouth, and gauest them water for their thirst.

21 Thou diddest also feede them fourtie yeeres in the wildernesse: they lacked nothing: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their feete c swelled not.

22 And thou gauest them kingdomes and people, and d scatteredst them into corners: so they possessed * the land of Sihon and the lande of the King of Hesbon, and the land of Og king of Bashan.

23 And thou diddest multiply their children, like the starres of the heauen, and broughtest them into the lande, whereof thou haddest spoken vnto their fathers, that they should goe, and possesse it.

24 So the children went in, & possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabitants of the lande, euen the Cananites, & gauest them into their handes, with their kings and the people of the land, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their strong cities and the fat land, and possessed houses, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, and olines, and trees for foode in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleasure through thy great goodnesse.

26 Pet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, and cast thy law behind their backes, & slewe the Prophets (which e protested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hande of their enemies that vexed them: pet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gauest them sauiours, who saued them out of the hand of their aduersaries.

28 But when they had f rest, they returned to do euill before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion ouer them. pet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardest them from heauen, and deliueredst them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And protestedst among them that thou mightest bring them againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued themselues proudly, & hearkened not vnto thy commaundements, but sinned against thy iudgements (* which a man should do and liue in them) and ꝑ pulled away the shoulder, and were stiffenecked, and would not h heare.

30 Pet thou ‡ diddest forbeare them many yeeres, and protestedst among them by thy Spirite, euen by the hande of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gauest thou them into the hand of the people of the landes.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou hast not consumed them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Now therefore our God, *thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepest couenant and *mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, seeme a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our Princes, and to our Priestes, and to our Prophetes, and to our fathers, and to all thy people since the time of the Kings of i Assyrie vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou k hast dealt truely, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our Kings and our Princes, our Priests and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast l protested among them.

35 And they haue not serued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnesse that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the large and fatte land which thou diddest set before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill workes.

36 Beholde, wee are seruants this day, and the land that thou gauest vnto our fathers, to eate the m fruite thereof, and the goodnes therof, beholde, wee are seruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruite vnto the Kings whom thou hast set ouer vs, because of our sinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattell at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now because of all this we make n a sure couenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priestes seale vnto it.

CHAP. XI.

1 Who dwelled in Ierusalem after it was builded, 21 And who in the cities of Iudah.

AND the rulers of the people dwelt in Ierusalem: the other people also cast lots, [a] to bring one out of tenne, to dwell in Ierusalem the holy citie, and nine partes to be in the cities.

a Because their enemies dwelt round about thē, they prouided that it might be replenished with men, & vsed this policie, because there were fewe that offered thēselues willingly.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwell in Ierusalem.

3 These now are the chiefe of the prouince, that dwelt in Ierusalem, but in the cities of Iudah, euery one dwelt in his owne possession in their cities of Israel, the Priests & the Leuites, and the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants.

4 And in Ierusalem dwelt certaine of the children of Iudah, and of the children of Beniamin. Of the sonnes of Iudah, Athaiah, the sonne of Vzziah, the sonne of Zechariah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Shephatiah, the sonne of Mahaleel, of the sonnes of [b] Perez.

b Which came of Perez ỹ sonne of Iudah.

17 And Mattaniah, the sonne of Micha, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Asaph was the chiefe to [e] beginne the thanksgiuing and prayer: and Bakbukiah ỹ second of his brethren, & Abda the sonne of Shammua, the sonne of Galal, the sonne of Ieduthun.

e That is, he began the psalme, & was the chanter.

18 All the Leuites in the holy citie were two hundreth fourescore and foure.

19 And the porters Akkub, Talmon and their brethren that kept the [f] gates, were an hundreth twentie and two.

f Meaning, of the Temple.

20 And the [g] residue of Israel, of the Priests, and of the Leuites dwelt in all the cities of Iudah, euery one in his inheritance.

g Of thē, which dwelt not in Ierusalem.

21 And the Nethinims dwelt in the ‖ fortresse, and Ziha, and Gispa was ouer the Nethinims.

‖ Or, Ophel.

22 And the ouerseer of the Leuites in Ierusalem was Vzzi the sonne of Bani, ỹ sonne of Hashabiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Micha: of the sonnes of Asaph singers were ouer ỹ worke of ỹ house of God.

23 For it was the kings commandement concerning them, that saythfull prouision should be for the singers euery day.

24 And Pethahiah the sonne of Meshezabeel, of the sonnes of Zerah, the sonne of Iudah [h] was at the kings hande in all matters concerning the people.

h Was chiefe about the king for all his affaires.

25 And in the villages in their landes, some of the children of Iudah dwelt in Kiriath-arba, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibon, and in the villages thereof, and in Iecabzeel, and in the villages thereof,

26 And in Ieshua, and in Moladah, and in Beth-palet, 27 And in Hazer-shual, and in Beer-sheba, and in the villages thereof, f Whereof was Zacharie Iohn Baptists father.

22 In the dayes of Eliashib, Ioiada, and Iohanan & Iaddua were the chiefe fathers of the Leuites written, and the Priests in the reigne of Darius the Persian.
23 The sonnes of Leui, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of the Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib.
24 And the chiefe of the Leuites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, & Iesbua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thankes, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, warde ouer against warde.

g That is, one after another, & euery one in his course.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were porters keeping the warde at the thresholds of the gates.
26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim the sonne of Iesbua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and scribe.
27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalem they sought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thanksgiuings and with songs, cymbals, violes and with harpes.

‡ Ebr. sonnes of the singers.

28 Then the ‡ singers gathered themselues together both from the plaine countrey about Ierusalem, and from the villages of h Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, & out of the countries of Geba, and Azmaueth: for the singers had built them villages round about Ierusalem.
30 And the Priests and Leuites were purified, & cleansed the people, & the gates, and the wall.
31 And i I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thankes, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

i Meaning, Nehemiah.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,
34 Iudah, Beniamin, and Shemaiah, and Ieremiah,
35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph, 36 And k his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the musicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: & Ezra the scribe went before them.

k That is, the brethren of Zaccur.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by l the staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the Water gate Eastward.

l Which was the going vp to the mount Zion, which is called the citie of Dauid.

38 And the seconde company of them that gaue thankes, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, & vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.
39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fishgate, and the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: & they stood in the gate of the warde.
40 So stood the two companies (of them that gaue thanks) in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.
41 The Priests also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, 42 And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Vzzi, and Iehohanan, and Malchiiah, and Elam, and Ezer: and the singers sang loud, hauing Izrahiah which was the ouerseer.

43 And the same day they offered great sacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the wome and the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Ierusalem was heard farre off.
44 Also at the same time were men appointed m ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings (for the first fruites, and for the tithes) to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions of the Lawe for the Priestes and the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priestes and for the Leuites, that serued.

m Which were chambers appointed by Hezekiah to put the tithes, and such things, Chro. 31. 11 now were repaired again for the same vse.

45 And both the singers and the Leuites kept the ward of their God, & the warde of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the dayes of Nehemiah did all Israel giue portions vnto the singers & porters, euery day his portion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites [n] gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

n That is, the tenth part of the tithes.

1 The Lawe is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 15 Nehemiah reproueth them that breake the Sabboth. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

ON that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, & it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * thoulde not enter into the Congregation of God,

Deut. 23.3.

2 Because they mette not the children of Israel with bread and with water, *but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

Numb. 22.5,6.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel [a] all those that were mixed.

a That is, all such which had ioyned in vnlawfull mariage, and also those with whome God had forbidden them to haue societie.

4 ¶ And before [b] this had [p] Priest Eliashib [p] ouersight of the chāber of the house of our God, being [c] kinsman to Tobiah:

b That the separation was made.

c He was ioyned in affinitie with Tobiah the Ammonite and enemie of the Iewes.

5 And he had made him a great chāber, and there had they aforetime layde the offrings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tythes of corne, of wine, & of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offrings of the Priestes.

6 But in all this time was not I in Jerusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yeere [d] of Artahshahte King of Babel, came I vnto the king, and ‖ after certaine dayes I obteined of the King.

d Called also Darius, Ezra. 7.1.

7 And when I was come to Jerusalem, I vnderstoode [e] the euill that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, [p] he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

e Thus we see to what inconueniences the people fall into, when they are destitute of one that hath the feare of God, seeing that their chiefe gouernour was but a while absent, and yet they fell into such great absurdities: as appeareth also, Exod. 32.1.

8 And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commaunded them to cleanse the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meate offring and the incense.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, & that euery one was fled to his lande, euen the Leuites and singers that executed the worke.

11 Then reproued I the rulers & saide, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tythes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, & wipe not out my [f] kindenesse that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

f I declared vnto them, that God would not suffer such transgressours of his Law to be vnpunished.

15 In those dayes sawe I in Iudah them, that trode wine presses on the Sabbath, and that brought in sheaues, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Jerusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and I protested to them in the day that they solde victailes.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and sold on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Jerusalem.

17 Then reproued I the rulers of Iudah, and layde vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers [h] thus, & our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet ye increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

h Was not this a great cause, why God plagued vs in times past? meaning, that if they transgressed now in the same againe, their plague should be greater.

19 And when the gates of Jerusalem began to be darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to shut the gates, & charged, that they should not bee opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there shoulde no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

i About the time that the sunne went downe: for the Sabbath lasted from the sunne going downe of the one day, to the sunne setting of the other.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of all marchandise remained once or twise all night without Jerusalem.

21 And I protested among them, & said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye doe it once againe, I will lay handes vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I said vnto the Leuites that they should clense themselues, & that they should come & keepe the ‖ gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and pardon me according to thy great mercie.

k Meaning, of the Temple, that none that was vncleane, should enter.

23 In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that marryed wiues of [l] Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

l Which was a citie of the Philistims, and they had maried wiues thereof, and so had corrupted their speach and religion.

24 And their children spake half in the speach of Ashdod, & could not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and [m] cursed them, and smote certaine of them, & pulled off their haire, and tooke an oth of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall ye take of their daughters vnto your sonnes, nor for your selues.

m That is, I did excommunicate them, and driue them out of the Congregation.

26 *Did not Salomon the king of Israel sinne by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him: for hee was * beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Israel: * Yet strange women caused him to sinne.

1.King. 3.7,12.

2.Sam. 12.24,25 1.Kng. 11.1,4. ecclus. 47.19,20.

27 Shall we then obey vnto you, to doe all this great euill, & to transgresse against our God, euen to marrie strange wiues?

n Punish them according to their fault, and euill example, which they haue giuen to the rest of thy people contrary to their vocation.

28 And one of the sonnes of Joiada the sonne of Eliashib the high Priest was the sonne in lawe of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 Remember them, O my God, [p] [n] defile the Priesthood, and the couenant of the Priesthood, and of the Leuites.

30 Then cleansed I them from all strangers, & appointed the wardes of þ Priests and of the Leuites, euery one in his office, 31 And for the offering of the wood at times appointed, and for the first fruites. Remember me, O my God, ° in goodnesse.

° That is, to shew mercie vnto me.

THE ARGVMENT.

BEcause of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeeres, | wherein the Ebrewes, and the Grecians doe varie, diuers authors write diuerslie as touching this Ahashueroshh, but it seemeth, Daniel 6.1. and 9.1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashueroshh, which was a name of honour, and signified great and chiefe, as chiefe head. Heerein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church, who neuer faileth them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some by whom he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the ambition, pride and crueltie of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preserueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

3 King Ahashueroshh maketh a royall feast, 12 whereunto the Queene Vashti will not come. 19 for which cause she is diuorced. 20 The kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

IN the dayes of a Ahashueroshh (this is Ahashueroshh þ reigned frō India euen vnto Ethiopia ouer an b hundreth, & seuen and twentie prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahashueroshh c sate on his throne, which was in the palace of * Shushan,

3 In the third yere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes & his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the captaines & gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shew the riches & glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundreth and foure score dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast to all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, greene, and blewe clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linen and purple, in siluer rings, and pillars of marble: the d beds were of gold, and of siluer vpon a pauement of porphyre, and marble and alabaster, and blewe colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, & changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance according to the e power of the King.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might f compel: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they shoulde doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royal house of king Ahashueroshh.

10 Vpon the g seuenth day, when þ king was merie with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Bizitha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen Eunuches, (that serued in the presence of king Ahashueroshh)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the King with the crowne royall, that he might shewe the people & the princes her beautie: for she was faire to looke vpon.

12 But þ Queene Vashti refused to come at the kings word, ‡ which he had giuen in charge to þ eunuches: therfore þ king was very angry, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King sayd to the wise men, h that knew þ times (for so was the kings maner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia & Media, which sawe the i kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we doe vnto the Queene Vashti according to the law, because she did not according to þ word of þ king Ahashueroshh by the commission of the eunuches?

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done k euill against the king, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahashueroshh.

17 For the l act of the Queene shall come abroade vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, and shall say, The king Ahashueroshh commanded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the m princesses of Persia & Media this day say vnto all the Kinges Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shall there be much despite & fulnesse, and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree procede from him, and let it be written among the statutes of Persia, and Media (and let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come n no more before king Ahashueroshh: and let the King giue her royall estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of þ king which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (though it be ° great) all the women shall giue their husbandes honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the king and the the princes, and the king did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the king, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, & to euerie people after their language, that euery man should p beare rule in his owne house, and that he should publish it in the language of the same people.

p That is, that the wife should be subiect to the husband, and at his commandement.

CHAP. II.

1 After the Queene is put away, certaine yong maids are brought to the king. 17 Esther pleaseth the king, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai discloseth vnto the King those that would betray him.

AFter these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerosh was appeased, hee a remembred Vashti, and what shee had done, and what was decreed b against her.

a That is, hee called the matter againe into communication.

b By the seuen wisemen of his counsell.

2 And the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, saide, Let them seeke for the king beautifull yong virgins,

3 And let the King appoint officers thorough all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let them gather all the beautifull yong virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the Kings eunuche keeper of the women, to giue them their things d for purification.

c The abuse of these countreies was so great, that they inuented many meanes to serue the lustes of princes, and therefore, as they ordeyned wicked lawes, that the King might haue whose daughters he would, so they had diuers houses appoynted, as one for them whiles they were virgins, an other when they were concubines, and for the Queenes another.

d Reade what this purification was, verse 12. 2. King. 24. 15.

4 And the maide that shall please the king, let her reigne in the stead of Vashti. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shushan, there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Shemei, the sonne of Kish a man of Iemini,

6 Which had bene caried away from Ierusalem * with the captiuitie that was caried away with Iechoniah king of Iudah (whom Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had caried away)

7 And hee nourished Hadassah, that is Ester, his vncles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, & the maid was faire, and beautifull to looke on: and after the death of her father & her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the kings commandement, and his decree was published, and manie maides were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hande of Hege, Ester was brought also vnto the kinges house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the maide pleased him, and shee found fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to bee giuen her speedily, and her † state, and seuen comely maides to bee giuen her out of the kings house, and hee gaue chaunge to her and to her maides of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Ester shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecai had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mordecai walked euery day before the court of p womens house, to know if Ester did well, and what should bee done with her.

12 And when the course of euery maide came, to goe in to king Ahasuerosh, after that shee had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of p women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and sixe moneths with sweete odours and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maide vnto the king) whatsoeuer she required, was e giuen her, to go with her out of the womens house vnto the kings house.

e For though she was taken away by a cruell lawe, yet hee ceased not to haue a fatherly care ouer her, and therefore did resort oft times to heare of her.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morow shee returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of Shaashgaz the kings eunuch, which kept the concubines: she came in to the king no more, except she pleased the king, and that she were called by name.

15 Nowe when the course of Ester the daughter of Abihail the vncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that she should goe in to the king, shee desired nothing, but what ‖ Hege the kings eunuche the keeper of the women f said: and Ester found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

f What apparell she asked of the Eunuche, that was he bound to giue her.

‖ Or, Hegai.

16 ¶ So Ester was taken vnto king Ahasuerosh into his house royal in the tenth moneth, which is the h moneth Tebeth, in the seuenth yeere of his reigne.

g Wherein her modestie appeared, because she sought not apparell to commend her beautie, but stoode to the Eunuches appointment.

h Which conteined part of December and part of Ianuarie.

17 And the King loued Ester aboue all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight more then al the virgins: so that hee set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes, & his seruants, which was i the feast of Ester, and gaue rest k vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to l the power of a King.

i That is, made for her sake.

k He released their tribute.

l That is, great and magnificall.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the m second time, then Mordecai sate in the Kings gate.

m That is, at the mariage of Ester, which was the second mariage of the king.

20 Ester had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Ester did after p word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished ‖ with him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecai sate in the Kings gate, two of the kings eunuches, Bigthan, & Teresh, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay n hand on the king Ahasuerosh.

n Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was knowen to Mordecai, and he tolde it vnto Queene Ester, and Ester certified the king thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the o Chronicles before the King.

o In the Chronicles of the Medes and Persians, as Chap. 10. 2.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, after he was exalted, obteined of the king, that all the Iewes should be put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

AFter these things did king Ahasuerosh promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seate aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were at the Kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for þ King had so commaunded concerning him: but Mordecai a bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

3 Then the kings seruants which were at the kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the Kings commaundement?

4 And albeit they spake daily vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therfore they b tolde Haman, that they might see howe Mordecais matters would stand: for he had told them, that he was a Iew.

5 And when Haman sawe that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Nowe he ‡ thought it too litle to lay handes onely on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerosh, euen the people of Mordecai.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth c Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of King Ahashuerosh, they cast Pur (that is a lot) d before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelft moneth, that is the moneth e Adar.

8 Then Haman said vnto king Ahashuerosh, There is a people scattered, & dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the f Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the King, let it be written that they may be destroyed, & I will ‡ pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the hands of them that haue the charge of this businesse to bring it into the Kings treasurie.

10 Then the King tooke his ring from his hande & gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Iewes aduersarie.

11 And the King saide vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the Kings ‖scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, & there was written (according to all that Haman commaunded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of King Ahashuerosh was it written, and sealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent ‡ by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Iewes, both yong and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelft moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should bee giuen a commaundement in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be readie against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by þ kings commandement went forth, and the commaundement was giuen in the palace at Shushan: and the king and Haman sate g drinking, but the ‡ citie of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Mordecai giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

NOw when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cryed with a great crie, and a bitter.

2 And hee came euen before the kings ‡ gate, but he might not enter within the kings gate, being clothed with sackcloth.

3 And in euery prouince, and place, whither the kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorowe among the Iewes, and fasting, & weeping, and mourning, & ‡ many lay in sackcloth & in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Esters maids & her eunuches came and told it her: therefore the Queene was very heaue, and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, & to take away his sackcloth from him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the kings eunuches, whom he ‡ had appointed to serue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, & of the ‡summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the ‖copie of the writing & commission that was giue at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shewe it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that she should go in to the king, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatach came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester spake vnto Hatach, and commanded him to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the Kings seruants and the people of the kings prouinces doe know, that whosoeuer, man or woman, that commeth to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shall die, except him to whom the King holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecai saide that they should answere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, ‡ comfort and deliuerance b shall appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shal perish: and a The Persians maner was to kneele downe and reuerence their Kings, and such as he appointed in chiefe authoritie, which Mordecai would not doe to this ambitious and proud man.

b Thus wee see that there is none so wicked, but they haue their flatterers to accuse the godly.

‡ Ebr. despised in his eyes.

c Which answereth to part of March and part of Aprill.

d To knowe what moneth and day should be good to enterprise this thing, that it might haue good successe: but God disappointed their lots and expectation.

e Conteyning part of Februarie, and part of March.

f These be the two arguments which commonly the worldlings and the wicked vse toward princes against the godly, that is, the contempt of their lawes, and diminishing of their profite: without respect how God is either pleased or displeased.

and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for ᶜ such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answere Mordecai,

16 Go, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shulham, and fast yee for me, and eate not, nor drinke in three dayes, day nor night. I also and my maydes will fast likewise, & so will I go in to the King, which is not according to the lawe: and if I perish, ᵈ I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

ᶜ For to deliuer Gods Church out of these present dangers.

ᵈ I will put my life in danger and referre the successe to God, seeing it is for his glory and the deliuerance of his Church.

CHAP. V.

1 Ester entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 14 Haman prepareth a gallous for Mordecai.

ANd on the thirde ᵃ day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stoode in the court of the Kinges palace within, ouer against the kings house: and the King sate vpon his royall throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King sawe Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight: and the King ᵇ helde out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drewe neere, and touched the toppe of the scepter.

3 Then sayde the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? and what is thy request? it shall be euen giuen ᶜ thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then said Ester, If it please the king, let the King & Haman come this day vnto the banket, that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king sayde, Cause Haman to make haste that he may doe as Ester hath said. So the King and Haman came to the banket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Ester at the banket of ᵈ wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? it shall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then answered Ester, and saide, My petition and my request is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the sight of the King, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to performe my request, let the King and Haman come to the banket that I shall prepare for them, and I will do to morow according to the kings ᵉ saying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman forth the same day ioyful & with a glad heart. But when Haman sawe Mordecai in the Kings gate, that hee stoode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuertheles Haman refrained himselfe: and when he came home, he sent, and called for his friendes, & Zereth his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had ᶠ promoted him, and how that he had set him aboue the princes and seruants of the King.

12 Haman saide moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banket that she had prepared, saue me: and to morow am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But al this doeth nothing anaile me, as long as I see Mordecai ᵖ Iewe sitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then said Zereth his wife & all his friendes vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie ᵍ cubites hie, and to morowe speake thou vnto the king, that Mordecai may be hanged therron: then shalt thou go ioyfully with the King vnto the banket. And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused to make the tree.

ᵃ To wit, after that the Iewes had begun to fast.

ᵈ Because they vsed to drinke excessiuely in their bankets, they called the banket by the name of that, which was most in vse or esteemed.

CHAP. VI.

1 The king turneth ouer the Chronicles & findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai. 10 And commandeth Haman to cause Mordecai to be had in honour.

THe same night ‡ the King slept not, and he commaunded to bring the booke of the recordes and the Chronicles: and they were read before the King.

‡ Ebr. the kings sleepe departed.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai *had tolde of Bigtana, and Tereth two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the dooze, who sought to lay hands on the King Ahashuerosh.

*Chap. 2. 22.

3 Then the King sayde, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai ᵃ for this? And the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, said, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in ᵖ court? (Nowe Haman was come into the inner court of the Kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to ᵇ hang Mordecai on the tree that hee had prepared for him.)

5 And ᵖ Kings seruants said vnto him, Beholde, Haman standeth in the court. And the King sayde, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, ᵖ king said vnto him, What shalbe done vnto ᵖ man, whom the king will honour? The Haman thought in his heart, To whome would the King do honour more then to me?

7 And Haman answered the King, The man whom the King would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparel, which the King vseth to weare, & the ᶜ horse that the King rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be set vpon his head.

9 And let the rayment and the horse bee deliuered by the hand of one of the Kings most noble princes, and let them apparell the man (whom the king will honour) and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done vnto the man, whom the king will honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, take the rayment and the horse as thou hast said, and do so vnto Mordecai the Iew, that sitteth at the Kings gate: let no thing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 So Haman tooke the rayment & the horse, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king will honour.

ᵃ For he thought it vnworthie his estate to receiue a benefite, & not rewarde it.

ᵇ Thus while the wicked imagine the destruction of others, they themselues fall into the same pit.

ᶜ Meaning hereby, that the king should make him next vnto himselfe, as Ioseph hereby was knowen to be next to Pharaoh, Gen. 41. 42.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the kings gate, but Haman hasted home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zereth his wife, & all his friendes all that had befallen him. Then said his wise men, & Zereth his wife vnto him, If Mordecai bee of the seede of the Iewes, before whome thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, d but shalt surely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings eunuches & hasted to bring Haman vnto the banket that Ester had prepared.

d Thus God sometime putteth in ỹ mouth of the very wicked, to speake that thing which he hath decreed shall come to passe.

CHAP. VII.

3 The Queene biddeth the king and Haman againe, and prayeth for her selfe and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallous, which he had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the King and Haman came to banket with the Queene Ester.

2 And the King said againe vnto Ester on the second day at the banket of a wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy request? It shalbe euen performed vnto the halfe of the kindome.

3 And Ester the Queene answered, and said, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, O King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4 For we are solde, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slaine and to perish: but if we were solde for seruants, and for handmaides, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduersarie could not b recompense the Kings losse.

5 Then King Ahashuerosh answered, & saide vnto the Queene Ester, Who is hee? and where is hee that ‡ presumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester saide, The aduersarie and enemie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraide before the King and the Queene.

7 And the King arose from the banket of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the Queene Ester: for he sawe that there was a c mischiefe prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Haman was d fallen vpon the bed whereon Ester sate: therfore the king said, Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? As the worde went out of the kings mouth, they c couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the eunuches, said in the presence of the King, Beholde, there standeth yet ỹ tree in Hamans house fiftie cubites hie, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that spake e good for the King. Then the King sayde, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree, that hee had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

a Reade Chap. 5.6.

b Haman could not so much profite the king by this his malice, as he should hinder him by the losse of ỹ Iewes, and the tribute which he hath of them.

e This was the maner of the Persians, when one was out of the Kings fauour.

f Which discouered the conspiracie against the King, Chap. 2.21,22.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Cõfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

THe same day did King Ahashuerosh giue the house of Haman the aduersary of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai a came before the king: for Ester tolde what he was b vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feete weeping, and besought him that he would put away the c wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that hee had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King helde out the golden d scepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stood before the King,

5 And said, If it please the king, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, & the thing be acceptable before the king, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may bee called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euil, that shall come vnto my people? Or howe can I suffer and see the destruction of my kinred?

7 And ỹ King Ahashuerosh said vnto ỹ Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Behold, I haue giuen Ester ỹ house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon ỹ tree, because he ‖ laide hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the kings ring (for the writings written in the kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no e man reuoke.)

9 Then were the Kings scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth f Siuan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Iewes, & to the princes, and captaines, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia an hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the g writing thereof, and to euery people after their speach, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahashuerosh name, and sealed it with the Kings ring: and he sent letters by posts on horsebacke, and that rode on beastes of price, as dromedaries and ‖ coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the king granted the Iewes (in what cities soeuer they were) to gather themselues together, and to stand for their life, and to roote out, to slay and to destroy all the power of the people and of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women, and to spoyle their goods:

day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth i Adar.

i Which hath part of Februarie, and part of March.

13 The copie of the writing was, howe there should be a commandement giuen in all and euery prouince, published among al the people, and that the Iewes should be readie against that day to k auenge themselues on their enemies.

k The king gaue them libertie to kill all that did oppresse them.

14 So the postes rode vpon beasts of price, & dromedaries, & went forth with speede, to execute the kings commaundement, and the decree was giuen at Shushan the palace.

15 And Mordecai went out from the king in ropal apparel of blewe, and white, and with a great crowne of gold and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the citie of Shushan reioyced and was glad.

l He sheweth by these words that follow, what this light was.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and ioy and gladnesse, and honour.

17 Also in all and euery prouince, and in all and euery citie & place, where the kings commandement and his decree came, there was ioy and gladnesse to the Iewes, a feast and good day, and many of the people of the land m became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

m Conformed themselues to the Iewes religion.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the king the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

NOw in the twelft moneth, which is þ moneth Adar, vpō the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings commandement and his decree drewe neere to be put in execution, in þ day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer thē (but it a turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them,) a This was by Gods great prouidence, who turneth the ioy of the wicked into sorow, and the teares of ỹ godly into gladnesse.

2 The Iewes gathered them selues together into their cities, throughout all the prouinces of the king Ahashuerosh, to lay hande on such as sought their hurt, and no man could withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

b Did them honour, and shewed them friendship.

3 And al the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the king b exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

c Which had cōspired their death by the permission of the wicked Haman.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their c enemies with strokes of the sword & slaughter, & destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

d Besides those three hundreth, that they slewe the second day, ✻ verse 15.

6 And at Shushan the palace slewe the Iewes and destroyed d fiue hundred men,

7 And Parshandatha, & Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Pozatha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaiezatha,

10 The tenne sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slewe they: but they layed not their hands e on the spoyle.

e Whereby they declared ỹ this was Gods iust iudgement vpon the enemies of his Church, for asmuch as they sought not their owne gaine, but to execute his vengeance.

11 On the same day came the nomber of those that were slaine, vnto the palace of Shushan before the king.

12 And the king saide vnto the Queene Ester, The Iewes haue slayne in Shushan the palace and destroied fiue hundreth men, and the tenne sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the kinges prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? or what is thy request moreouer, that it may bee performed?

13 Then saide Ester, If it please the king, let it bee graunted also to morowe to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to doe accoyding f vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tree Hamans tenne sonnes.

f This she requireth, not for desire of vengeance, but with zeale to see Gods iudgementes executed against his enemies.

14 And the king charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, & they hanged Hamans tenne sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselues vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slewe three hundreth men in Shushan, but on the spoyle they laide not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the kings prouinces assembled themselues, and stoode for g their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that h hated them, seuentie & fiue thousand: but they laide not their hand on the spoyle.

g Reade Chap. 8.11.

h Meaning, that they laide handes on none, ỹ were not the enemies of God.

17 This they did on the i thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

i Meaning, in all places saue in Shushan.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselues on þ thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, and they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, k kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, euen a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

k As the Iewes do, euen to this day, calling it in the Persians language Purim, that is, the day of lots.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote l these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of þ king Ahashuerosh, both neere and farre, l The Iewes gather heereof that Mordecai wrote this storie, but it seemeth that he wrote but onely these letters, and decrees that follow.

21 Inioyning them that they shoulde kepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yeere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorowe to ioye, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting and ioye, and m to send presentes euery man to his neighbour, and giftes to the poore.

m He setteth before our eyes the vse of this feast, which was for the remembrāce of Gods deliuerance, the maintenance of mutuall friendship, and relieue of the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to doe as they had begun, & as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite al the Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroy them, and had n cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

n Read Chap. 3.7.

25 And

o That is, Ester.

25 And when o she came before the king, he commanded by letters, Let his wicked r deuice (which he imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne heade, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

p These are the words of ỳ kings commaundement to disanull Hamans wicked enterprise.

26 Therefore they called these daies Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seene beside this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, & promised for them and for their seede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, ṕ they would not ‖ faile to obserue those q two daies euery yere, according to their writing, and according to their season,

q Meaning, the fourteenth & the fifteenth day of the moneth Adar.

28 And that these dayes should be remembred, and kept throughout euery generation and euery familie, and euery prouince, and euery citie: euen these dayes of Purim should not faile amõg the Iewes, and the memoriall of them should not perish from their seede.

29 And the Queene Ester the daughter of Abihail and Mordecai the Iewe wrote with all ‖ authoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim the second time)

‖ Or, strength, or efficacie.

30 And he sent letters vnto al ṕ Iewes to the hundreth & seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashuerosh, with r wordes of peace and trueth, r Which were letters declaring vnto them quietnesse, and assurance, and putting them out of doubt and feare.

31 To confirme these dayes of Purim, according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Iewe and Ester the Queene had appointed them, & as they had promised for them ‡ selues and for their seed with ſ fasting and prayer.

‡ Ebr. soules.

ſ That they would obserue this feast with fasting & earnest prayer, which in Ebrewe is signified by this word (their cry.)

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed these words of Purim, and was written in the booke.

CHAP. X.

The estimation and authoritie of Mordecai.

AND the King Ahashuerosh layde a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the sea.

a These three points are here set foorth as commendable, and necessarie for him that is in authoritie: to haue ỳ fauour of the people, to procure their wealth, and to be gentle and louing towarde them.

2 And all the actes of his power and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mordecai, wherewith the king magnified him, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecai the Iewe was the second vnto king Ahashuerosh, and great among the Iewes, & ª accepted among the multitude of his brethren, who procured the wealth of his people, and spake peaceably to all his seede.

IOB.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his minde, & conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chiefe friendes: which by their vehement words, and subtill disputations brought him almost to dispaire: for they set foorth God as a seuere Iudge, and mortall enemie vnto him, which had cast him off, therefore in vaine hee should seeke vnto him for succour. These friendes came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good successe. In this storie we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euill: againe, his aduersaries haue an euill matter, but they defendeit craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that hee had secret iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreouer, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments and affliction, he brasteth foorth into many inconueniences both of wordes and sentences, and sheweth himselfe as a desperate man in many things, and as one that woulde resist God: and this is his good cause which he doth not handle well. Againe, the aduersaries mainteine with many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespasse, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, & mans sinnes, yet their intention is euill: for they labour to bring Iob into despaire, and so they mainteine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezekiel 14.14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5.11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holinesse, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

THere was a man in the lande of ª Vz called Iob, & this man ᵇ was an vpright & iust man, ᶜ one that feared God and eschewed euill.

a That is, of the countrey of Idumea as Lamenta. 4.21. or bordering thereupon. for the land was called by the name of Vz the sonne of Dishon the sonne of Seir, Gen. 36.28.

b Forasmuch as he was a Gentile and not a Iewe, and yet is pronounced vpright, and without hypocrisie, it declareth that among the heathen God hath his.

c Hereby is declared, what is meant by an vpright and iust man.

2 And hee had seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

3 His ᵈ substance also was seuen thousande sheepe, ſ and three thousande camels, and fiue hundreth yoke of oxen, and fiue hundreth shee asses, and his familie was verie great, so that this man was the greatest of all the ‡ men of ᵉ the East.

d His children & riches are declared to commend his vertue in his prosperitie, and his patience and constancie, when God had taken them from him.

4 And his sonnes went and banketted in their houses, euery one his day, and sent, and called their three sisters to eate and to drinke with them.

e Meaning, the Arabians, Chaldeans, Idumeans, &c.

5 And when the daies of their banketting were

were gone about, Job sent, and f sanctified them, & rose vp earely in the morning, and g offered burnt offerings according to the nomber of them all. For Job thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, and h blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Job euery day.

6 ¶ Now on a day when the k children of God came and stoode l before the Lorde, Satan m came also among them.

7 Then the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Whence n commest thou? And Satan answered the Lorde, saying, o From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Job, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, & escheweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lord, and said, Doeth Job feare God for p nought?

10 Hast thou not made an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that he hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand and q touch all that he hath, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to r thy face.

12 Then the Lord said vnto Satan, Loe, all that he hath is in s thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the t presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Job, and sayd, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the x Shabeans came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, an other came, and sayde, The y fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and sayde, The Caldeans set out three bandes, and fell vpon the Camels, and haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sworde: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came another, and saide, Thy z sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And behold, there came a great wind from beyond the wildernesse, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Job arose, and a rent his garment, and shaued his head, and fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And sayde, * Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne b thither: the Lorde hath giuen, and the Lorde hath taken it: c blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Job sinne, nor charge God d foolishly.

f That is, commaunded them to be sanctified: meaning, that they should consider the faultes, that they had committed, and reconcile themselues for the same.

g That is, he offered for euery one of his children an offering of reconciliation, which declared his religion towarde God, and the care that he had toward his children.

h In Ebrew it is, and blessed God, which is sometime taken for blaspheming and cursing, as here, & 1. King. 21. 10. & 13 &c.

i While the feast lasted.

k Meaning, the Angels which are called the sonnes of God, because they are willing to execute his will.

l Because our infirmitie can not comprehend God in his maiestie, he is set forth vnto vs as a King, that our capacitie may be able to vnderstand that which is spoken of him.

m This declareth that although Satan be aduersarie to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and to doe him al homage, without whose permission and appointment hee can doe nothing.

n This question is asked for our infirmitie: for God knewe whence he came.

o Herein is described the nature of Satan, which is euer ranging for his pray, 1. Peter 5.8.

p He feareth thee not for thine owne sake, but for the commoditie that he receyueth by thee.

q Meaning, the grace of God, which serued Iob, as a rampart against all tentations.

r This signifieth that Satan is not able to touch vs, but it is God that must doe it.

s Satan noteth the vice, whereunto men are commonly subiect: that is, to hide their rebellion, and to bee content with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in the time of their aduersitie.

t God giueth not Satan power ouer man to gratifie him, but to declare that hee hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him.

u That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to doe: for els hee can neuer goe out of Gods presence.

x That is, the Arabians.

y Which thing was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Iob the more grieuously, forasmuch as hee might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God made warre against him.

z This last plague declareth, that when one plague is past which seemeth hard to be borne, God can send vs another farre more grieuous, to trie his, and teach them obedience.

a Which came not of impatiencie, but declareth that the children of God are not insensible like blockes, but that in their patience they feele affliction, and griefe of minde: yet they keepe a meane herein, and rebell not against God, as the wicked doe. Eccles. 5. 14. 15. m. 6. 7.

b That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all.

c Hereby hee confesseth that God is iust, and good, although his hand be sore vpon him.

d But declared that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath permission to afflict Job. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God, 11 His three friendes visite him.

AND on a day the a children of God came and stood before the Lord, and b Satan came also among them, and stoode before the Lorde.

2 Then the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, & said, From compassing the earth to and fro, & from walking in it.

3 And the Lord saide vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Job, howe none is like him in the earth? * an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euill? for yet he continueth in his vprightnes, c although thou mouedst me against him to destroy him d without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lorde, and said, e Skinne for skinne, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch now out thine hand, and touch his f bones and his flesh, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord saide vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but g saue his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed frō the presence of the Lord, & smote Job with sore h boiles, a That is, the Angels, as chap. 1. 6, b Reade Chap. 1. 6. Ezek. 14. 14. chap. 1. 1.

c He proueth Iobs integritie by this that he ceased not to feare God when his plagues were grieuously vpon him.

d That is, when thou hadst nought against him, or whē thou wast not able to bring thy purpose to passe.

e Hereby hee meant that a mans owne skin is dearer vnto him then another mans.

f Meaning, his owne person.

g Thus Satan can goe no further in punishing, then God hath limited him.

h This sore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exo. 9. 9. & threatneth to punish the rebellious people. Deu. 28. 27. So that this tentation was most grieuous: for if Iob had measured Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, hee might haue thought that God had cast him off.

from

[i] As destitute of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorowe of his disease.
[k] Satan vseth the same instrument against Iob, as he did against Adam.
[l] Meaning, what gayneth thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemie? This is the most grieuous tentation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perswade them, that they trust in God in vaine.
[m] For death was appointed to the blasphemer, & so she meant that he should be soone ridde out of his paine. [n] That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when hee sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust. [o] Hee so brideled his affections, that his tongue through impaciencie did not murmure against God. [p] Which were men of authoritie, wise and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, & came to comfort him, but whē they sawe howe he was visited, they conceyued an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his sinnes. [q] This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countries, as the renting of their clothes in signe of sorowe, &c. [r] And therefore thought that he would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

8 And he tooke a [i] potsheard to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.
9 Then said his [k] wife vnto him, Doest thou [l] continue yet in thine vprightnesse? [m] Blaspheme God, and die.
10 But he said vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall wee receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euill? In all this did not Iob sinne with his [o] lippes.
11 Nowe when Iobs three [p] friendes heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, & Bildad the Shuhite, and Tophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.
12 So when they lift vp their eyes afarre off, they knewe him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces and wept, & euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled [q] dust vpon their heades towarde the heauen.
13 So they sate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nightes, and none spake a worde vnto him: for they saw, that the griefe was very [r] great.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth & curseth the day of his birth.
11 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

[a] The seuē daies ended, chap. 2. 13
[b] Here Iob beginneth to feele his great imperfection in this battell betweene the spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7. 18. and after a manner yeeldeth, yet in the ende he getteth victorie, though he was in the meane time greatly wounded.

AFterwarde [a] Iob opened his mouth, and [b] cursed his day.
2 And Iob cried out, and said,
3 Let the day [c] perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was sayde, There is a man childe conceiued.
4 Let that day be darkenesse, let not God [d] regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it,
5 But let darkenesse, and the [e] shadow of death staine it: let ꝑ cloud remaine vpon it, & let them make it fearefull as a bitter day.
6 Let darkenes possesse that night, let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into ꝑ count of the moneths.
7 Yea, desolate be that night, and let no ioy be in it.

[c] Men ought not to be wearie of their life, and curse it because of the infirmities that it is subiect vnto, but because they are giuen to sinne and rebellion against God. [d] Let it be put out of the number of dayes, and let it not haue the light of the sunne to separate it from the night. [e] That is, most obscure darkenesse, which maketh them afraide of death, that are in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being [f] ready to renue their mourning) curse it.
9 Let ꝑ starres of ꝑ twilight be dimme thereof: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it see [‡] the dawning of the day,
10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe: nor hid sorowe from mine eyes.
11 [h] Why dyed I not in the birth? or why dyed I not, when I came out of the wombe?
12 Why did the knees preuent me? and why did I sucke the breasts?
13 For so should I nowe haue [i] lyen and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest, 14 With the kings and counsellers of the earth, which haue builded themselues [k] desolate places:
15 Or with the princes that had golde, and haue filled their houses with siluer.
16 Or why was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, either as infants, which haue not seene the light?
17 The wicked [l] haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.
18 The [m] prisoners rest together, & heare not the voyce of the oppressour.
19 There are small and great, & the seruant is free from his master.
20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and [n] life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?
21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would euen search it more then treasures:
22 Which ioy for gladnesse, & reioyce, when they can finde the graue.
23 Why is the light giuen to ꝑ man whose way is [o] hidde, and whom God hath hedged in?
24 For my sighing commeth before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water.
25 For the thing I [p] feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afraid of, is come vnto me.
26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnesse, neither had I rest, [q] yet trouble is come.

[f] Which curse the day of their birth, let them lay that curse vpon this night.
[g] Let it be alwayes night, and neuer see day.
[‡] Ebr. the eye lids of the morning.
[h] This and that which followeth, declareth that when man giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keepe measure, but runneth headlong into all euil, except God call him backe.
[i] The vehemencie of his afflictions made him to vtter these words, as though death were the ende of all miseries, & as if there were no life after this, which hee speaketh not as though it were so, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to braste out into this errour of the wicked.
[k] He noteth the ambition of them, which for their pleasure, as it were, change the order of nature, and builde in most barren places, because they would here by make their names immortall.
[l] That is, by death the cruelnie of the tyrant hath ceased.
[m] All they that susteine anie kinde of calamity and miserie in this worlde: which he speaketh after the iudgement of the flesh.
[n] He sheweth that the benefites of God are not comfortable, except the heart be ioyfull, and the conscience quieted.
[o] That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because he dependeth not on Gods prouidence.
[p] In my prosperitie I looked euer for a fall: as is come nowe to passe.
[q] The feare of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperitie to seeme to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iob is reprehended of impaciencie, 7 And vniustice, 17 & of the presumptiō of his own righteousnes.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,
2 If wee assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieued? but [a] who can withhold himself from speaking?
3 Beholde, thou hast taught many, and [b] hast

[a] Seeing this thine impaciencie, b Thou haſt comforted others in their afflictions, and canſt not nowe comfort thy ſelf.

c Thus he concludeth that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had no true feare nor truſt in God.

d He concludeth that Iob was reprooued, ſeeing that God handled him ſo extreemely, which is the argument that the carnall men make againſt the children of God.

e They that doe euill cannot but receiue euill.

f He ſheweth that God needeth no great preparation to deſtroy his enemies: for he can doe it with the blaſt of his mouth.

g Though men according to their office doe not puniſh tyrants (whom for their crueltie he compareth to lyons and their children to their whelpes) yet God both is able, and his iuſtice will puniſh them.

h A thing that I knewe not before, was declared vnto mee by viſion: that is, that whoſoeuer thinketh himſelfe iuſt, ſhalbe found a ſinner, when he commeth before God.

i In theſe viſions which God ſheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the authoritie thereof might be had in greater reuerence.

k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was ſomewhat aſſwaged, as God appeared to Eliiah, 1.King.19.12.

l He prooueth that if God did puniſh the innocent, the creature ſhould be more iuſt then the Creator, which were a blaſphemie.

m If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, howe much more ſhall hee lay folly to mans charge, when hee woulde iuſtifie himſelfe againſt God?

n That is, in this mortall body, ſubiect to corruption, 2.Cor.5.1.

o They ſee death continually before their eyes, and dayly approching towarde them.

p No man for all this doeth conſider it.

q That is, before that any of them were ſo wiſe as to thinke on death.

b haſt ſtrengthened the wearie hands.

4 Thy woords haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou haſt ſtrengthened the weake knees.

5 But nowe it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy c feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightneſſe of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer periſhed being an d innocent? or where were the vpright deſtroyed?

8 As I haue ſeene, they that e plow iniquitie, and ſowe wickednes, reape the ſame.

9 With the f blaſt of God they periſh, and with the breath of his noſtrels are they conſumed.

10 The roaring of the g Lion, and the voyce of the Lioneſſe, and the teeth of the Lions whelpes are broken.

11 The Lion periſheth for lacke of pray, and the Lions whelpes are ſcattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to me h ſecretly, and mine eare hath receiued a little thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the viſions of the night, when ſleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, & dread which made all my bones to i tremble.

15 And the winde paſſed before me, and made the haires of my fleſh to ſtand vp.

16 Then ſtoode one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in k ſilence heard I a voyce, ſaying, 17 Shall man be more l iuſt then God? or ſhal a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde no ſtedfaſtneſſe in his ſeruants, and laid folly vpon his m Angels.

19 How much more in them that dwell in houſes of n clay, whoſe foundation is in the duſt, which ſhall be deſtroyed before the moth?

20 They bee deſtroyed from o the morning vnto the euening: they periſh for euer, p without regard.

21 Doeth not their dignitie goe away with them? do they not die, and that without q wiſedome?

CHAP. V.

1.2 Eliphaz ſheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 9 Gods power, who deſtroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.

CAll now, if any will a anſwere thee, and to which of the ſaints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtleſſe b anger killeth the fooliſh, and enuie ſlayeth the idiote.

3 I haue ſeene the c foolish well rooted, & ſuddenly I d curſed his habitation, ſaying,

4 His e children ſhall bee farre from ſaluation, and they ſhall bee deſtroyed in the f gate, and none ſhall deliuer them.

5 The hungry ſhall eate vp his harueſt: yea, they ſhall take it from among the g thornes, and the thirſtie ſhall drinke vp their ſubſtance.

6 For miſerie commeth not forth of the duſt, h neither doeth affliction ſpring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto i trauaile, as the ſparkes flie vpward.

8 But I would enquire k at God, and turne my talke vnto God:

9 Which l doeth great things and vnſearcheable, and marueilous things without nomber.

10 He m giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the ſtreetes, 11 And ſetteth vp on hie them that bee lowe, that the ſorowfull may bee exalted to ſaluation.

12 He ſcattereth the deuiſes of the craftie: ſo that their hands can not accompliſh that which they doe enterpriſe.

13 * He taketh the wiſe in their craftines, and the counſel of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meete with n darkeneſſe in the day time, and o grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But hee ſaueth the p poore from the ſword, from their q mouth, & from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie ſhall r ſtoppe her mouth.

17 Beholde, bleſſed is the man whome God correcteth: therefore refuſe not thou the chaſtiſing of the Almightie.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: he ſmiteth, and his hands make whole.

19 He ſhall deliuer thee ſ in fiue troubles, and in the ſeuenth the euill ſhall not touch thee.

20 In famine he ſhall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the ſword.

21 Thou ſhalt be hid from the ſcourge of his owne ſinne.

a He willeth Iob to conſider the example of all them that haue liued or doe liue godly, whether any of them be like vnto him in raging againſt God as hee doeth.

b Murmuring againſt God in afflictions, increaſeth the paine and vexation of mans follie.

c That is, the ſinner that hath not the feare of God.

d I was not moued with his proſperitie, but knewe that God had curſed him and his.

e Though God ſometime ſuffer the fathers to paſſe in this world, yet his iudgements will light vpon their wicked children.

f By publique iudgement they ſhall be condemned and none ſhall pitie them.

g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet theſe ſhalbe taken from him.

22 But thou shalt t laugh at destruction and dearth, and shalt not be afrayde of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the field u shalbe in league with thee, and the beasts of the field shalbe at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe, that peace shalbe in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visite thine habitation, and shalt not x sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy seed shalbe great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt goe to thy graue in ya full age, as a ricke of corne commeth in due season into the barne.

27 Lo, z thus haue we enquired of it, and so it is: heare this and know it for thy selfe.

t Whereas the wicked lament in their troubles, thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce.

u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures shall serue vs.

x God shall so blesse thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended.

y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth recompense it otherwise to their aduantage.

z We haue learned these poynts by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man cannot compare in iustice with him, that the hypocrites shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which man sustaineth, commeth for his owne sinne.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

BVt Iob answered, and said,

2 Oh that my griefe were wel weighed, and my miseries were laide together in the a balance!

3 For it would be now heanier then the sande of the sea: therefore my wordes are b swallowed vp.

4 For the arrowes of the Almightie are in me, the venime whereof doeth drinke vp my spirite, and the terrours of God c fight against me.

5 Doeth the d wilde asse bray when he hath grasse? or loweth the ore when hee hath fodder?

6 That which is e vnsauorie, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, as were sorowes, are my meate.

8 Oh that I might haue my f desire, and that God would graunt me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand goe, and cut me off.

10 Then shoulde I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorowe, let him not spare) g because I haue not denied the wordes of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I shoulde endure? or what is mine h end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in mee no i helpe? & that strength is taken from me?

14 Hee that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almightie.

15 My brethren haue deceiued mee as a k brooke, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with yce, and wherein the snowe is hid.

17 But in time they are dried vp with heate and are consumed: and when it is hot, they faile out of their places.

18 Or they depart from their way and course, yea, they vanish and perish.

19 They that goe to Tema, l considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, wayted for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely nowe are ye like m vnto it: ye haue seene my fearefull plague, and are afraid.

22 Was it because I sayde, Bring vnto me? or giue a reward to me of your substance?

23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransome me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach mee, and I will o holde my tongue: and cause me to vnderstand, wherein I haue erred.

25 Howe p stedfast are the wordes of righteousnesse? and what can any of you iustly reproue?

26 Doe ye imagine to reproue q words, that the talke of the afflicted shoulde be as the winde?

27 Ye make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to r looke vpon me: for I will not lie before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousnesse in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feele sorowes?

a To know whether I complaine without iust cause.

b My griefe is so great, that I lacke words to expresse it.

c Which declareth that hee was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conscience, which is the greatest battell that the faithfull can haue.

d Thinke you that I crie without cause, seeing the brute beasts doe not complaine when they haue what they would?

e Can a mans taste delite in that that hath no sauour? meaning that none take pleasure in affliction, seeing they cannot away with things that are vnsauorie to the mouth.

f Herein he sinneth double, both in wishing through impatiencie to die, and also in desiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his will.

g That is, let mee die at once, before I come to distrust in Gods promise through mine impatiencie.

h Hee feareth least he shoulde be brought to inconueniences, if his sorowes should continue.

i Haue I not sought to helpe my selfe as much as was possible? ‖ Or, wisedome, or lawe.

k He compareth those friendes which comfort vs not in miserie, to a brooke, which in sommer, when we neede waters, is drie, in winter is hard frosen, and in the time of raine, when we haue no neede, ouerfloweth with water.

l They that passe thereby to goe into the hote countreyes of Arabia, thinke to find water there, to quench their thirst, but they are deceiued.

m That is, like to this brooke, which deceiueth them, that thinke to haue water there in their neede, as I looked for consolation at your hands.

n He toucheth the worldlings, which for no necessitie will giue part of their goods, and much more these men, which would not giue him comfortable wordes.

o Shewe mee wherein I haue erred, and I will confesse my fault.

p He that hath a good conscience, doeth not shrinke at the sharpe wordes or reasonings of others, except they bee able to perswade him by reason.

q Doe you cauill at my wordes because I should be thought to speake foolishly, which am nowe in miseries?

r Consider whether I speake as one that is driuen to this impatiencie through very sorowe, or as an hypocrite as you condemne me.

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob sheweth the shortnes & miserie of mans life.

IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an a hireling?

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, and as an hireling looketh for the end of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritence the b moneths of vanitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I lay de me downe, I say de, When I shall a Hath not an hyred seruant some rest and ease? then in this my continuall torment I am worse then an hireling.

b My sorow hath continued from moneth to moneth, and I haue looked for hope in vaine.

c This signifieth that his disease was rare & most horrible.

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuitie of mans life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof, he desireth God to haue compassion on him.

e If thou behold me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.

f Shal no more enioy this mortall life.

g Seeing I can by none other meanes comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by wordes: and thus he speaketh as one ouercome with griefe of minde.

h Am not I a poore wretch? what needest thou then to lay so much paine on me?

i So that I can haue no rest, night nor day.

k He speaketh as one ouercome with sorowe, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.

l Seeing my terme of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease.

m Seeing that man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that honour to contende against him? Iob vseth all kindes of perswasion with God, that he might stay his hand.

n After all tentations faith braseth forth, and leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in such perfection, that he could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he still tried his faith.

o That is, I shall be dead.

shall I arise? and measuring the euening, I am euen full with tossing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is c clothed with wormes and filthines of the dust: my skinne is rent, and become horrible.

6 My daies are swifter then a d weauers shittle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me, shal see me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shal be no longer.

9 c As the cloude vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall f come vp no more.

10 He shal returne no more to his house, neither shal his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirite, and muse in the bitternesse of my minde.

12 Am I a sea h or a whalefish, that thou keepest me in ward?

13 When I say, My couch shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then fearest thou me i with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule k chuseth rather to be strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: l spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

17 What is man, that thou m doest magnifie him, and that thou settest thine heart vpon him?

18 And doest visite him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?

19 How long will it be yer thou depart from mee? thou wilt not let mee alone whiles I may swallowe my spettle.

20 I haue n sinned, what shal I doe vnto thee? O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set mee as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasse? & take away mine iniquitie? for now shall I sleepe in the dust, & if thou seekest me in the morning, I shal o not be found.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

THe answered Bildad the Shuhite, and saide,

2 Howe long wilt thou talke of these things? and howe long shall the woords of thy mouth a be as a mightie winde?

3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the Almightie subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, and he hath sent them into the place of their b iniquitie,

5 Yet if thou c wilt earely seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almightie,

6 If thou be pure & vpright, then surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and hee will make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning d be small, yet thy latter ende shall greatly encrease.

8 e Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy selfe to searche of their fathers.

9 (For we are but f of yesterday, & are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadowe)

10 Shal not they teach thee and tell thee, and vtter the woordes of their heart?

11 Can a g rush grow without mire? or can the grasse growe without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cut downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are h pathes of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shalbe cut off, and his trust shalbe as the house of a k spider.

15 Hee shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The l tree is greene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, and are folden about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it k denie, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Behold, it will reioyce h by this meanes, that it may grow in another molde.

20 Behold, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand, 21 Till hee haue filled thy mouth with m laughter, and thy lips with ioy.

22 They that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

a He declareth that their wordes which would diminish any thing from the iustice of God, is but a puffe of winde that vanisheth away.

b That is, hath rewarded them according to their iniquities meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the example of his children, that he offend not God.

c That is, if thou turne betime, whiles God calleth thee to repentance.

d Though the beginnings be not so pleasant, as thou wouldest desire, yet in the ende thou shalt haue sufficient occasion to content thy selfe.

e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquitie, and he shall finde it true which he here saith.

f Meaning, that it is not ynough to haue the experience of our selues, but to be confirmed by the examples of them, that went before vs.

g As a rush can not grow without moysture, so can not the hypocrite, because he hath not faith, which is moystened with Gods Spirite.

h Which is to day, and to morowe swept away.

i He compareth the iust to a tree, which although it be remooued out of one place vnto another, yet flourisheth: so the affliction of the godly turneth to their profite.

k That is, so that there remaine nothing there to proue whether the tree had growen there or no.

l To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleasure.

m If thou be godly, he will giue thee occasion to reioyce, and if not, thine affliction shall increase.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

THen Iob answered, and said,

2 I know verely that it is so: for how should man compared vnto God, be a iustified?

3 If he would dispute b him, he could not answere him one thing of a b thousand.

a Iob here answereth to that poynt of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching the iustice of God and his innocencie, confessing God to be infinite in iustice, and man to bee nothing in respect.

b Of a thousand things, which God could lay to his charge, man can not answere him one.

4 Hee is wise in heart, and mightie in strength: who hath bene fierce against him and hath prospered?

5 Hee remoueth the mountaines, and they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 Hee [c] remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 Hee commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres [d] Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the clymates of the South.

10 He doth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, marueylous things without nomber.

11 Lo, when he goeth [e] by me, I see him not: and when hee passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh a pray, [f] who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God [g] will not withdraw his anger, and the most mightie helpes [h] do stoupe vnder him.

14 How much lesse shal I answere him? or how should I find out [i] my words with him?

15 For though I were iust, yet could I [k] not answere, but I would make supplication to my iudge.

16 If I [l] crie, and he answere mee, yet would I not beleeue, [p] he heard my voyce.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me [m] without cause.

18 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If we speake of strength, behold, he is [n] strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shal bring me in to pleade?

20 If I would iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne mee: [o] if I would be perfite, he shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfite, yet I knowe not my soule: therefore abhorre I my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I saide, He destroyeth the [p] perfite and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly [q] slay, should God [r] laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee [s] couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where [t] is he? or who is he?

25 My dayes haue bene more swift then a poste: they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with [u] most swift shippes, and as the eagle that fleeth to the pray.

27 If [x] I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me, 28 Then I am afraide of all my sorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why [x] labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I [y] wash my selfe with snow water, and purge mine handes most cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge mee in the pit, and mine owne [z] clothes shall make me filthie.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answere him, if we come together to iudgement.

33 Neither is there any [a] umpire that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me:

35 Then wil I speake, and feare him not: [b] but because I am not so, I hold me still.

c He declareth what is the infirmitie of man by the mightie and incomprehensible power that is in God, shewing what he coulde doe, if he would set forth his power.

d These are the names of certaine starres, whereby he meaneth that all starres both knowen and vnknowen are at his appoyntment.

e I am not able to comprehend his works, which are common and dayly before mine eyes, much lesse in those things which are hid and secret.

f He sheweth that when God doeth execute his power, he doeth it iustly, forasmuch as none can controule him.

g God will not be appeased for ought that man can lay for himselfe for his iustification.

h That is, all the reasons that men can lay to approue their cause.

i Howe should I be able to answere him by eloquence? where by hee noteth his friendes, that albeit they were eloquent in talke, yet they felt not in heart that which they spake.

k Meaning, in his owne opinion, signifying, that man will sometime flatter himselfe to be righteous, which before God is abomination.

l Whiles I am in my pangs, I can not but braste foorth into many inconueniences, although I knowe still that God is iust.

m I am not able to feele my sinnes so great, as I feele the weight of his plagues: and this, he speaketh to condemne his dulnesse, and to iustifie God.

n After hee hath accused his owne weakenesse, hee continueth to iustifie God and his power.

o If I would stand in mine owne defence, yet God hath iust cause to condemne me, if he examine mine heart, and conscience.

p If God punish according to his iustice, he will destroy as well them that are counted perfite, as them that are wicked.

q To wit, the wicked.

r This is spoken according to our apprehension, as though he would say, If God destroy but the wicked, as Chap. 5. 3 why shoulde he suffer the innocentes to be so long tormented by them?

s That they can not see to doe iustice.

t That can shew the contrary?

u I thinke not to fall into these affections, but my sorowes bring me to these manifold infirmities, and my conscience condemneth me.

x Why doeth not God destroy me at once? thus he speaketh according to the infirmitie of the flesh.

y Though I seeme neuer so pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God.

z Whatsoeuer I would vse to couer my filthinesse with, shal disclose me so much the more.

a Which might make an accorde betweene God and me speaking of impatience, and yet confessing God to be iust in punishing him.

b Signifying that Gods iudgements keepe him in awe.

CHAP. X.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his fragilitie before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

[a] My soule is cut off though I liue: I will leaue my [b] complaint vpon my selfe, & will speake in the bitternesse of my soule.

2 I will say vnto God, [c] Condemne me not: shewe mee, wherefore thou contendest with me.

3 Thinkest thou it [d] good to oppresse me, and to cast off the [e] labour of thine handes, and to fauour the [f] counsell of the wicked?

4 Hast thou [g] carnal eyes? or doest thou see, as man seeth?

5 Are thy dayes as mans [h] dayes? or thy yeeres, as the time of man,

6 That thou inquirest of mine iniquitie, and searchest out my sinne?

7 Thou knowest that I cannot do wickedly: for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

8 Thine [k] hands haue made me, and fashioned me wholly rounde about, and wilt a I am more like to a dead man, then to one that liueth.

b I will make a ample declaration of my torments, accusing my selfe, and not God.

c He would not that God should proceede against him by his secret iustice, but by the ordinarie meanes that he punisheth others.

d Is it agreeable to thy iustice to do me wrong?

e Wilt thou be without compassion?

f Wilt thou gratifie the wicked and condemne me?

g Doest thou this of ignorance?

h As to day a friend, to morrow an enemie?

i By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, and restraineste me from doing euill, neither can any set me at libertie.

k In these eight verses following he describeth the mercie of God in the wonderfull creation of man: and thereon groundeth that God should not shewe himselfe rigorous against him.

l As brittle as a pot of clay.

thou destroy me?

9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou hast made me as l the clay, and wilt thou bring me into dust againe?

10 Hast thou not powred mee out as milke? and turned me to cruds like cheese?

11 Thou hast clothed mee with skinne and flesh, and ioyned mee together with bones and sinewes.

12 Thou hast given me life, & m grace: and thy n visitation hath preserued my spirite.

m That is, reason and vnderstanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.

n That is, thy fatherly care and prouidence, whereby thou preseruest me, & without ỹ which I should perish straightway.

13 Though thou hast hid these things in thine heart, yet I knowe o that it is so with thee.

o Though I be not fully able to comprehende these things, yet I must needes confesse ỹ it is so.

14 If I haue sinned, then thou wilt straightly looke vnto mee, and wilt not hold me guiltlesse of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, woe vnto me: if I haue done righteously, I will not p lift vp mine head, being full of confusion, because I see mine affliction.

p I will alway walke in feare & humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee.

16 But let it increase: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne and shewe thy selfe q marueilous vpon me.

q Iob being sore assaulted in this battell betweene the flesh and the spirite, breaketh out into these affections, wishing rather short dayes then long paine.

17 Thou renewest thy plagues against mee, and thou increasest thy wrath against me: r changes and armies of sorowes are against me.

r That is, diuersitie of diseases & in great abundance, shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man.

18 Wherefore then hast thou brought me out of the wombe? oh that I had perished, and that none eye had seene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

20 Are not my dayes fewe? let him s cease, and leaue off from mee, that I may take a litle comfort, s He wisheth that God would leaue off his affliction, considering his great miserie and the breuitie of his life.

21 Before I goe and shall not t returne, euen to the land of darkenesse, and shadowe of death:

22 Into a land, I say, darke as darkenes it selfe, and into the shadowe of death, where is none u order, but the light is there as darkenesse.

t Hee speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is ouercome with passions and with the feeling of Gods iudgements, and therefore cannot apprehende in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection.

u No distinction betweene light and darkenesse, but where all is very darkenesse it selfe.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniustly reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that liue godly.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and saide,

2 Should not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great a talker bee iustified?

a Should he perswade by his great talke, that he is iust?

3 Should men holde their peace at thy lyes? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast saide, b My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

b He chargeth Iob with this, that he should say, that ỹ thing which he spake, was true, and that he was without sinne in the sight of God.

5 But oh, that God would speake and open his lips against thee!

6 That he might shew thee the c secrets of wisdome, how thou hast deserued double, according to right: knowe therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

c Which is, not to stand in iustifying of thy selfe: he signifyeth that man will neuer be ouercome, whiles he reasoneth with another, and therefore God must breake off the controuersie, and stop mans mouth.

7 Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou finde out the Almightie to his perfection?

8 The heauens are hie, what canst thou doe? d it is deeper then the hell, how canst thou knowe it?

d That is, this perfection of God: & if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, ỹ depth of hell, ỹ length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures: how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?

9 The measure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off, and e shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

e If God should turne the state of things, and establish a new order in nature, who could controule him?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man would be wise, though man newe borne is like a wilde asse f colt.

f That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoeuer gifts he hath afterward, come of God, and not of nature.

13 If thou prepare thine heart, & stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine h hand, put it farre away, and let no wickednesse dwell in thy tabernacle.

g If thou repent, pray vnto him.

h Renoūce thine owne euil works, & see that they offend not God, ouer whom thou hast charge.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy i face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

i He declareth what quietnesse of conscience and successe in all things such shall haue, which turne to God by true repentance. Leuit.26.5.6.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bold, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, & shalt lie downe safely.

19 * For when thou takest thy rest, none shall make thee afrayde: yea, many shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eyes of the k wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shall be sorowe of minde.

k He sheweth that contrarie things shall come vnto them that doe not repent.

CHAP. XII.

2 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how he changeth the course of things.

THen Iob answered, and said,

2 In deede because that yee are the people onely, a wisdome must die with you.

a Because you feele not that, which you speake, you thinke ỹ whole standeth in words, & so flatter your selues as though none knew any thing, or could knowe his friends of two faultes: the one, that they thought they had better knowledge then in deede they had, and the other, that in stead of true consolation they did deride and despise their friende in his aduersitie.

3 But I haue vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferiour vnto you: yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 * I am b as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he c heareth him: the iust & the vpright is laughed to scorne.

b The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but hee, because hee hath all things that he desireth.

c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but hee, because hee hath all things that he desireth.

5 d He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the rich.

d As the riche esteeme not a light, or torch that goeth out, so is he despised that falleth from prosperitie to aduersitie.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, & they are in safetie, that prouoke God, whom God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Aske now the beastes, c and they shall teach thee, and the fowles of the heauen, and they shall tell thee:

8 Or speake to the earth, and it shall shewe thee: or the fishes of the sea, and they shall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all these, but that the hand of the Lord hath made these?

10 In whose hand is the soule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all ‖ mankinde.

11 Doth not d eares e discerne f words? and the mouth taste meate for it selfe?

12 Among the g ancient is wisdome, and in the length of dayes is vnderstanding.

13 With him is wisedome and strength: he hath counsell and vnderstanding.

14 Beholde, he will breake downe, and it cannot be built: hee shutteth a man vp, and he cannot be loosed.

15 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when he sendeth them out, they destroy the earth.

16 With him is strength and wisedome: he that is deceiued, and that h deceiueth, are his.

17 Hee causeth the counsellers to goe as spoyled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 i He looseth the k collar of kings, and girdeth their loynes with a girdle.

19 Hee leadeth away the princes, as a praye, and ouerthroweth the mightie.

20 He taketh away the speach from the l faithfull counsellers, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 He powreth contempt vpon princes, & maketh the strength of the mightie weake.

22 He discouereth the deepe places from their darkenesse, and bringeth forth the shadowe of death to light.

23 He m increaseth the people, & destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wander in the wildernesse out of the way.

25 They grope in n darke without light: and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

‡ Ebr. to whome God hath brought it with his hand.

c He declareth to them that did dispute against him, that their wisedome is common to all, and such as the very brute beasts doe dayly teach.

‖ Or, flesh.

f He exhorteth them to be wise in iudging, and as well to knowe the right vse why God hath giuen them eares, as he hath done a mouth.

g Though men by age, and continuance of time attaine to wisedome, yet it is not comparable to Gods wisedome, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he answereth to that, which was alledged, Cha. 8. 8.

h He sheweth that there is nothing done in this world without Gods wil & ordinance: for else he should not be almighty.

i He taketh wisedome fro them.

k He abateth the honour of princes, & bringeth them into the subiection of others.

l He causeth that their words haue no credit, which is, when he wil punish sinne.

m In this discourse of Gods wonderfull workes, Iob sheweth that whatsoeuer is done in this world, both in the order and change of things, is by Gods wil and appointment: wherein he declareth that he thinketh well of God, and is as able to set foorth his power in wordes, as they that reasoned against, were.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friends. 16 The penitent shalbe saued, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

LOe, mine eye hath seene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderstand it.

2 I know also as much as you knowe: I am not inferiour vnto you.

3 But I will speake to the Almightie, and I desire o to dispute with God.

4 For ye deede ye forge lyes, and all you are p physicions of no value.

5 Oh, that you would hold your tongue, that it might bee imputed to you for wisedome!

6 Now heare my disputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye speake q wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept his person? or will ye contend for God?

9 Is it well that he should seeke of you? will you make a lie for him, as one lyeth for a man?

10 He will surely reproue you, if ye doe secretly accept any person.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraide? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your r memories may bee compared vnto ashes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my presence, that I may speake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I s take my flesh in my teeth, and put my soule in mine hand?

15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, and I will reproue my wayes in his sight.

16 He shall be my saluation also: for the t hypocrite shall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my words, & marke my talke.

18 Beholde nowe: if I prepare me to iudgement, I knowe that I shall bee u iustified.

19 Who is hee, that will pleade x with me? and if I now hold my tongue, I y die.

20 But doe not these two things vnto me: then will I not hide my selfe from thee.

21 z Withdraw thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraide.

22 Then call thou, and I will answere: or let me speake, and answere thou me.

23 How many are a mine iniquities and sinnes? shewe mee my rebellion, and my sinne.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and takest me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou writest bitter things against mee, and makest me to possesse b the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the c stocks, and lookest narowly vnto all my paths, and makest the print thereof in the ‡ heeles of my feete.

28 Such one consumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

a For although he knew God had a iustice, which was manifest in his ordinarie working, & another in his secret counsell, yet he would vtter his affection to God, because he was not able to vnderstande the cause why he did thus punish him.

b You doe not well applie your medicine to the disease.

c He condemneth their zeale which had not knowledge, neither regarded they to comfort him, but alway grated on Gods iustice, as though it was not euidently seene in Iob, except they had vndertaken the probation thereof.

d Your fame shall come to nothing.

e Is not this a manifest signe of mine affliction, and that I doe not complaine without cause, seeing that I am thus tormented as though I should teare mine owne flesh, and put my life in danger?

f Whereby hee declareth that he is not an hypocrite as they charged him.

g That is, cleared, and not cast off for my sinnes, as you reason.

h To proue that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes.

i If I defende not my cause, euery man will condemne me.

k Hee sheweth what these two things are.

l His pangs thus mooue him to reason with God, not denying but ‡ he had sinned: but he desired to vnderstand what were his great sinnes that he had deserued such rigor, wherein hee offended, that he would know a cause of God why he did punish him.

m Thou punishest mee now for the faultes that I committed in my youth.

n Thou makest me thy prisoner, and doest so presse me that I can not stirre hand nor foote. ‡ Ebr. rootes.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope sustaineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

MAn a that is borne of a woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble.

2 He shooteth forth as a flower, and is cut downe: he vanisheth also as * a shadowe, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon such b one, and causest me to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 * Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthinesse? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the nomber of his moneths are with thee: thou hast appointed his bounds, which he cannot passe.

6 Turne from him that hee may cease vntill his desired day, c as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sproute, & the branches thereof will not cease.

8 Though the roote of it ware old in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground, 9 Yet by the sent of water it will bud, & bring forth boughes like a plant.

10 d But man is sicke, and dieth, and man perisheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,

12 So man sleepeth and riseth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in the graue, and keepe mee secrete, vntill thy e wrath were past, and wouldest giue mee terme, and remember me!

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till f my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall h answere thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thou * nombrest my steps, and doest not delay my sinnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a i bag, & thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the k rocke that is removed from his place:

19 As the water breaketh the stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which growe in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alwaye against him, so that he passeth away: thee changeth his face when thou sendest him away.

21 And hee knoweth not if his sonnes shall be honourable, neither shal he vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of lowe degree, 22 But while his l flesh is vpon him, he shall be sorowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisedome, and pureness to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

THen answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and sayde,

2 Shal a wise man speake wordes of the a winde, and fill his bellie b with the East winde?

3 Shall he dispute w words not comelye? or with talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off c feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen d the tongue of the craftie.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, & not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.

7 Art thou the e first man, p was borne? and wast thou made before the hils?

8 Hast thou heard the secrete counsell of God, and doest thou restraine wisedome to f thee?

9 What knowest thou that wee knowe not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?

10 With vs are both ancient & very aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God g small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doeth thine heart h take thee away, and what doe thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God ‡ at thy pleasure, and bringest such wordes out of thy mouth?

14 What is man, that hee shoulde be cleane? and hee that is borne of woman, that he should be i iust?

15 Behold, hee found no stedfastnesse in his saints: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 Howe much more is man abominable, and filthie, which k drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secrete:

19 To whome alone the land was l giuen, and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauaileth of childe, and the nomber of m yeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sound of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 Hee beleeueth not to returne out of n darknes: for he seeth p sword before him.

23 Hee wandreth o to and fro for bread

1 Yet whiles he liueth, he shall be in paine and miserie.

a That is, vaine words, and without consolation.

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten as soone as they are vttered, as y East winde drieth vp the moisture as soone as it falleth.

c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused men to cast off the feare of God and prayer.

d Thou speakest as doe the mockers, & contemners of God.

e That is, the most ancient, & so by reason the most wise.

f Art thou onely wise?

g He accuseth Iobs pride, and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsel.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceite?

i His purpose is to proue, that Iob as an vniust man and an hypocrite is punished for his sinnes, like as he did before, Chap. 4. 18.

k Which hath a desire to sinne, as he that is thirstie, to drinke.

l Who by their wisedome so gouerned, that no stranger inuaded them, and so the land seemed to bee giuen to them alone. m The cruel man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience. n Out of that miserie whereinto he once falleth. o God doeth not onely impouerish the wicked oft times: but euen in their prosperitie he punisheth them with a greedinesse euermore to gather: which is as a beggerie.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shal feele thy mercies, and answere when thou calleest me. Prou. 5. 21. i Thou layest them altogether and sufferest none of my sinnes vnpunished. k He murmureth through the impatiencie of the flesh against God, as though hee vsed as great seueritie against him as against the harde rockes, or waters that ouerflowe, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away.

where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkenesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and [p] anguish shall make him afraid: they shall prevaile against him as a king ready to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his hande against God, and made himselfe strong against the Almightie.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the moste thicke part of his shield, 27 Because he hath couered his face with [q] his fatnesse, & hath collops in his flanke.

28 Though he dwell [r] in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the [s] perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenes: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and hee shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 Hee [t] beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therfore vanitie shalbe his change.

32 His branch shall not be greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her sowre [u] grape, and shall cast him off, as the olive doth her flower.

34 For the congregation of the hypocrite shalbe desolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of [x] bribes.

35 For they [y] conceiue mischiefe, & bring forth vanitie, and their belly hath prepared deceite.

p He sheweth what weapons God vseth against the wicked which lift vp themselues against him, to wit, terrour of conscience, and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was so puft vp with great prosperitie & abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, that Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God.

r Though he build and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought, & turne his great prosperitie into extreeme miserie.

s Meaning, that his sumptuous buildings should neuer come to perfection.

t He standeth so in his owne conceite, that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shall bring him to destruction. u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. x Which were built or maintained by powling and briberie. y And therefore all their vaine deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extremitie he is. 19 And taketh God witnesse of his innocencie.

BVt Iob answered, and said,

2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shal there be none ende of wordes of [a] winde? or what maketh thee bolde so to [b] answere?

4 I could also speake as ye doe: (but would God your [c] soule were in my soules stead) I could keepe you compasse in speaking, and could [d] shake mine head at you.

5 But I would strengthen you [e] with my mouth, and the comfort of my lippes should asswage your sorowe.

6 Though I speake, my sorow [f] can not be asswaged: though I cease, what releaseth haue I?

7 But nowe [g] he maketh me wearie: O God, thou hast made all my [h] congregation desolate, a Which serue for vaine ostentation & for no true comfort.

b For Eliphaz did reply against Iobs answere.

c I would you felt that which I doe.

d That is mocke at your miserie, as you doe at mine.

e If this were in my power, yet would I comfort you, and not doe as ye doe to me. f If they would say, Why doest thou not then comfort thy selfe? hee answereth, that the iudgements of God are more heauie, then he is able to asswage either by wordes or silence. g Meaning God. h That is, destroyed most of my familie.

8 And hast made me full of [i] wrinckles, which is a witnesse thereof, & my leannesse riseth vp in mee, testifying the same in my face.

9 [k] His wrath hath torne me, and he hateth me, and gnasheth vpon mee with his teeth: mine enemie hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon mee, and smitten me on the [l] cheeke in reproche: they gather themselues together against me.

11 God hath deliuered me to the vniust, and hath made me to turne out of the way by the [m] hands of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken mee by the necke, & beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His [n] archers compasse me round about: he cutteth my reines, and doeth not spare, and powreth my gall [o] vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken mee with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a giant.

15 I haue sowed a sackecloth vpon my skinne, and haue abased mine [p] horne vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, & the shadowe of death is vpon mine eyes, 17 Though there bee no wickednesse in [q] mine hands, and my prayer [r] be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my [s] blood, & let my crying finde no place.

19 For lo, now my [t] witnesse is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friendes [u] speake eloquently against me: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might [x] pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeeres accounted come, & I shal go the way, whence I shal not returne.

i In token of sorow and griefe.

k That is, God by his wrath: and in this diuersitie of words and his stile, he expresseth how grieuous the hand of God was vpon him.

l That is, hath handled me most contemptuously: for so smiting on the cheeke signified, 1. King. 22. 24. marke 14. 65.

m They haue led me whither they would.

n His manifold afflictions.

o I am wounded to the heart.

p Meaning, his glory was brought lowe.

q Signifying, that he is not able to comprehend the cause of this his grieuous punishmēt.

r That is, vntainted, & without hypocrisie.

s Let my sinne be knowen, if I be such a sinner as mine aduersaries accuse me, & let me finde no fauour.

t Though man condemne me, yet God is witnes of my cause. u Vse painted wordes in stead of true consolation. x Thus by his great torments he is caried away, and bresteth out into passions, and speaketh vnaduisedly, as though God shoulde intreate man more gently, seeing he hath but a short time here to liue.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob saieth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friendes to repentance, 13 Shewing that he looketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt: my dayes are cut off, and the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but [a] mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in [b] their bitternesse.

3 [c] Lay downe now and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that [d] will touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart frō [e] vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not set them vp on hie.

a In steade of comfort, being nowe at deaths doore, he had but them that mocked at him, and discouraged him.

b I see still that they seeke but to vexe me. c He reasoneth with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light. d And answere for thee? e That these mine afflictions are thy iust iudgements, though man knowe not the cause.

f He that flattereth a man, and onely iudgeth him happie in his prosperitie, shal not himselfe onely, but in his posteritie bee punished.
g God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions.
h That is, as a continuall sound in their eares.
i To wit, when they see the godly punished: but in the ende they shall come to vnderstanding, and knowe what shalbe the rewarde of the hypocrite.
k That is, will not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished as well as the wicked.

5 f For the eyes of his children shal faile, that speaketh flatterie to his friends.
6 He hath also made me a g by word of the people, and I am as a tabret h before them.
7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for griefe, and all my strength is like a shadow.
8 The righteous shalbe astonied at i this, and the innocent shall bee mooued against the hypocrite.
9 But the righteous wil hold his k way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.
10 All l you therefore turne you, and come nowe, and I shall not finde one wise among you.
11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart
12 Haue changed the m night for the day, and the light that approched, for darkenes.
13 Though I hope, a yet the graue shall be mine house, and I shall make my bed in the darke.
14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister.
15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shall consider the thing, that I hoped for?
16 p They shall goe downe into the bottome of the pit: surely it shal lie together in the dust.

l Which count your selues iust? as Chap. 12.4.
b Whome you take to be but beasts, as Chap. 12.7.
c That is, like a mad man.
d Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doeth with all men?
e When the wicked is in his prosperitie, then God changeth his state: and this is his ordinarie working for their sinnes.
f Meaning, that the wicked are in continuall danger.

12 His strength shall bee g famine: and destruction shall be readie at his side.
13 It shall deuoure the inner partes of his skinne, and the h first borne of death shal deuoure his strength.
14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to goe to the i king of feare.
15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not k his) l and brimstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation.
16 His rootes shall be dried vp beneath, and aboue shall his branch be cut downe.
17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streete.
18 They shall drive him out of m light vnto darkenesse, and chase him out of the world.
19 He shall neither haue sonne nor nephewe among his people, nor any posteritie in his dwellings.
20 The posteritie shalbe astonied at his a day, and feare shall come vpon the ancient.
21 Surely such are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

g That which should nourish him shalbe consumed by famine.
h That is, some strong and violent death shall consume his strength: or as the Ebrew worde signifieth, his mebers or parts.
i That is, with most great feare.
k Meaning, not truely come by.
l Though all the world would fauour him, yet God would destroy him & his.
m He shall fall from prosperitie to aduersitie.
n When they shall see what came vnto him.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reproueth his friends, 15 And reciteth his miseries and grieuous paines, 25 He assureth himselfe of the generall resurrection.

a That is, many times, as Nehe. 4.12.
b That is, I my selfe shalbe punished for it, or you haue not yet confuted it.
c He brasteth out againe into his passions, and declareth still, y his affliction cometh of God, though he be not able to feele the cause in himselfe.
d Meaning, out of his afflictions.
e Meaning, his children, and whatsoeuer was deare vnto him in this world.
f Which is pluckt vp, and hath no more hope to growe.
g His manifold afflictions.
h Mine household seruants: by all these losses Iob sheweth that touching the fleth he had great occasion to be moued.

Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd,
2 When will a yee make an ende of your woordes? b cause vs to vnderstande, and then we will speake.
3 Wherefore are we counted as beastes, and are vile in your sight?
4 Thou art c as one that teareth his soule in his anger. Shal the d earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or the rocke remooued out of his place?
5 Yea, the light of the wicked shall bee e quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.
6 The light shall bee darke in his dwelling, & his candle shal be put out with him.
7 The steppes of his strength shalbe restrayned, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.
8 For he is taken in the net by his feete, and he f walketh vpon the snares.
9 The grenne shal take him by the heele, and the theefe shall come vpon him.
10 A snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trappe for him in the way.
11 Fearefulnesse shal make him afrayde on euery side, and shal driue him to his feet.

a That is, how long will you vexe my soule, and torment me with words?
3 Ye haue now a tenne times reproched me, and are not ashamed: ye are impudent toward me.
4 And though I had in deede erred, mine errour b remayneth with me.
5 But in deede if you will aduance your selues against me, and rebuke mee for my reproch,
6 Knowe now, that God hath c ouerthrowen me, and hath compassed me with his net.
7 Behold, I crie out of violence, but I haue none answere: I crie, but there is no iudgement.
8 He hath hedged vp my way that I can not d passe, and he hath set darkenesse in my paths.
9 He hath spoiled me of mine honour, & taken the e crowne away from mine head.
10 He hath destroyed me on euery side, and I am gone: & he hath remooued mine hope like f a tree.
11 And he hath kindled his wrath against me, & counteth me as one of his enemies.
12 His g armies came together, & made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.
13 He hath remooued my brethren farre from me, and also mine acquaintance were strangers vnto me.
14 My h neighbors haue forsaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.
15 b They that dwell in mine house, and my maides tooke me for a stranger: for I was a stranger in their sight.
16 I called my seruant, but he would not i Which were hers and mine.

k Besides these great losses and most cruel vnkindnes, he was touched in his owne person as followeth.
l All my flesh was consumed.
m Seeing I haue these iust causes to complaine, condemne me not as an hypocrite, specially ye which should comfort me. n Is it not ynough that God doth punish me, except you by reproches increase my sorowe?
o To see my bodie punished, except ye trouble my minde?
p He protesteth that notwithstanding his sore passions, his religion is perfite, and that he is not a blasphemer, as they iudged him.
q I doe not so iustifie my selfe before the world, but I knowe that I shall come before the great Iudge, who shalbe my deliuerer and Sauiour.
r Herein Iob declareth plainely that he had a full hope, that both the soule and body should enioy the presence of GOD in the last resurrection.
s Though his friendes thought that hee was but persecuted of God for his sinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deeper consideration: to wit, the triall of his faith and patience, and so to be an example for others.
t God will bee reuenged of this hastie iudgement, whereby you condemne me.

answere, though I prayed him with my mouth.
17 My breath was strange vnto my wife, though I prayed her for the childrens sake of mine owne body.
18 The wicked also despised mee, and when I rose, they spake against me.
19 All my secret friendes abhorred mee, and they whome I loued, are turned against me.
20 My bone [k] cleaueth to my skinne and to my flesh, and I haue escaped with the [l] skinne of my teeth.
21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue [m] pitie vpon me, (O ye my friends) for the hande of God hath touched me.
22 Why doe ye persecute me, as [n] God? and are not satisfied with my [o] flesh?
23 Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were written euen in a booke, 24 And grauen with [p] an yron penne in lead, or in stone for euer!
25 For I am sure, that my [q] Redeemer liueth, & he shall stand the last on the earth.
26 And though after my skinne wormes destroy this bodie, yet shall I see God [r] in my flesh.
27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shall behold, and none other for mee, though my reines are consumed within me.
28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? And there was [s] a deepe matter in me.
29 Be ye afraid of the sword: for [t] sword will be [c] auenged of wickednesse, that yee may knowe that there is a iudgement.

CHAP. XX.

1 Zophar sheweth, that the wicked and the couetous shal haue a short ende, 22 Though for a time they flourish.

a He declareth that two things moued him to speake: to wit, because Iob seemed to touch him, and because he thought he had knowledge sufficient to confute him.
b His purpose is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, because God punished him, and changed his prosperitie into aduersitie.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,
2 Doubtlesse my thoughts cause mee to answere, and therefore I make haste.
3 I haue heard [a] the correction of my reproch: therefore the spirit of mine vnderstanding causeth me to answere.
4 Knowest thou not this of olde? and since God placed man vpon the earth,
5 That the reioycing of the wicked is short, and that the ioy of hypocrites is but a moment?
6 Though [b] his excellencie mount vp to the heauen, and his head reach vnto the cloudes, 7 Yet shall hee perish for euer, like his dung, and they which haue seene him, shall say, Where is he?
8 He shall flee away as a dreame, & then shall not finde him, and shall passe away as a vision of the night.
9 So that the eye which had seene him, shall doe so no more, and his place shall see him no more.
10 His children shall [c] flatter the poore, and his hands shall [d] restore his substance.
11 His bones are full of the sinne of his youth, and [e] it shall lie downe with him in the dust.
12 When wickednes [f] was sweete in his mouth, and he hid it vnder his tongue, 13 And fauoured it, and would not forsake it, but kept it close in his mouth, 14 Then his meate in his bowels was turned: the gall of Aspes was in the middes of him.
15 He hath deuoured substance, and hee shall vomit it: for God shall draw it out of his bellie.
16 He shall sucke the [g] gall of Aspes, and the vipers tongue shall slay him.
17 He shal not see the [h] riuers, nor [p] floods and streames of hone and butter.
18 He shall restore the labour, & shal deuoure no more: euen according to the substance shalbe his exchange, [i] and he shal enioy it no more.
19 For he hath vndone many: he hath forsaken the poore, and hath spoyled houses which he builded not.
20 Surely he shall feele no quietnesse in his bodie, neither shall he reserue of [p] which he desired.
21 There shall none of his [k] meate bee left: therefore none shal hope for his goods.
22 When he shalbe filled with his abundance, he shall be in paine, and the hand [l] of all the wicked shall assaile him.
23 He shall be about to fill his bellie, but God shall sende vpon him his fierce wrath, [m] and shall cause to raine vpon him, euen vpon his meate.
24 He shal flee from the yron weapons, & the bow of steele shall strike him through.
25 The arrowe is drawen out, and commeth forth of the [n] bodie, and shineth of his gall, so feare commeth vpon him.
26 [o] All darknesse shall be hid in his secret places: the fire that is not [p] blowen, shal deuoure him, & that which remaineth in his tabernacle, shalbe destroyed.
27 The heauen shal declare his wickednesse, & the earth shall rise vp against him.
28 The [q] increase of his house shall goe away: it shall flow away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the portion of the wicked man from [r] God, and the heritage that hee shall haue of God for his [s] wordes.

c Whereas the father through ambition and tyranny oppressed the poore, ỹ children through pouertie & miserie shall seeke fauour at ỹ poore.
d So that the thing, which he hath taken away by violence, shall be restored againe by force.
e Meaning, that he shall carie nothing away with him, but his sinne f As poyson that is sweete in the mouth bringeth destruction, whē it commeth into the body: so all vice at the first is pleasant, but afterward God turneth it to destruction.
g He compareth euil gotten goods to the venime of aspes, which serpent is most dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not truely come by, and therefore God did plague him iustly for the same.
h Though God giue to all other abundance of his blessings, yet he shall haue no part thereof.
i That is, these raueners and spoylers of the poore shall enioy their theft but for a time: for after God will take it from them, and cause them to make restitution, so that it is but an exchange.
k He shall leaue nothing to his posteritie.
l The wicked shall neuer be in rest: for one wicked man shall seeke to destroy another.
m Some reade, vpon his flesh, alluding to Iob, whose flesh was smitten with a scab.
n Some reade, of the quiuer.
o All feare and sorowe shal light vpon him, when he thinketh to escape.
p That is, fire from heauen, or the fire of Gods wrath.
q Meaning, the children of the wicked shall flowe away like riuers, and be dispersed in diuers places.
r Thus God will plague the wicked.
s Against God, thinking to excuse himselfe, and to escape Gods hand.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proude. 15 In so much that they blaspheme God. 16 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

BVt Iob answered, and said,
2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this a shalbe in stead of your consolations.
3 Suffer mee, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it b were so, howe should not my spirite bee troubled?
5 Marke me, and be abashed, & lay your hand vpon your c mouth.
6 Euen when I remember, I am afraid, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.
7 Wherefore doe the wicked d liue, and waxe olde, and growe in wealth?
8 Their seede is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.
9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, & the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Their bullocke gendreth, and faileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.
11 They sende foorth their children e like sheepe, and their sonnes daunce.
12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organs.
13 They spend their dayes in wealth, & suddenly f they goe downe to the graue.
14 They say also vnto God, Depart frō vs: for we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.
15 Who is the Almightie, ṗ we shoulde serue him? and what profite shoulde wee haue, if we should pray vnto him?
16 Lo, their wealth is not in their g hand: therefore let the counsell of the wicked bee farre from me.
17 Howe oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he wil deuide their liues in his wrath.
18 They shall bee as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the stormie carieth away.
19 God will lay vp the sorowe of the father for his children: when hee rewarderh him, he shall knowe it.
20 h His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drinke of the wrath of the Almightie.
21 For what pleasure hath hee in his house after him, when the nomber of his moneths is cut off?
22 Shall any teach i God knowledge, who iudgeth the highest things?
23 One m dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.
24 His breasts are full of milke, and his bones run full of marowe.
25 And another n dieth in the bitternesse of his soule, & neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall sleepe both in o the dust, & the wormes shall couer them.
27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the enterprises, wherewith ye doe me wrong.
28 For ye say, Where is the princes p house? and where is the tabernacle of the wickeds dwelling?
29 Haue ye not q aske them that goe by the way? and ye cannot deny their signes.
30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of r destruction, and they shall bee brought forth to the day of wrath.
31 Who shall declare his waye s to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?
32 Yet shall he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.
33 The t slime valley shalbe sweete vnto him, and euery man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.
34 How then comfort u ye me in vaine, seeing in your answeres there remaine but ipes?

a Your diligent marking of my words shall be to me a great consolation.
b As though he would say, I doe not talke with man, but with God, who will not answere me, & therefore my mind must needs be troubled.
c He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this his feeling of Gods iudgement, and exhorteth them therefore to silence.
d Iob proueth against his aduersaries, that God punisheth not straightwayes the wicked, but oft times giueth the long life, & prosperitie: so ṫ we must not iudge God iust or vniust by the things that appeare to our eye.
e They haue store of children, lustie and healthfull, and in these pointes he answereth to that which Zophar alledged before.
f Not being tormented with long sickenesse.
g They desire nothing more then to be exempt from all subiection that they shoulde beare to God: this Iob sheweth his aduersaries, that if they reason onely by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt with all, then they that loue him.
h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them.
i God keepe me from their prosperitie.
k Whē God recompenseth his wickednesse, he shall know that his prosperitie was but vanitie.
l Who sendeth to the wicked prosperitie, and punisheth the godly.
m Meaning, the wicked.
n To wit, the godly.
o As concerning their bodies: and this he speaketh according to the common iudgement.
p Thus they called Iobs house in derision, concluding ṫ it was destroyed because he was wicked.
q Which through long trauailing haue experience and tokens hereof, to wit, that the wicked doe prosper and the godly liue in affliction.
r Though the wicked flourish here, yet God wil punish him in the last day. s Though men do flatter him, & none dare reproue him in this world, yet death is a token, that God will bring him to an account.
t Hee shalbe glad to lie in a slimie pit, which before would not be content with a royall palace.
u Saying, that the iust in this world haue prosperitie, and the wicked aduersitie.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse, 13 And that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,
2 May a man be a profitable vnto God, as he that is wise, may be profitable to himselfe?
3 * Is it any thing vnto the Almightie, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?
4 Is it for feare b of thee that he will accuse thee? or go with thee into iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednesse great, & thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the c pledge from thy brother for nought, and spoiled the clothes of the naked.
7 To such as were wearie, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, & hast withdrawen bread from the hungrie.
8 But the mightie man d had the earth, and he that was in authoritie, dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, & the armes of e the fatherles were broken.
10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee:
11 Or darkenes ṗ thou shouldest not see, & f abundance of waters shall couer thee.
12 Is not God g on high in the heauen? &

a Though man were iust, yet God could haue no profite of this his iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne. Chap.35.7.
b Least thou shouldest reproue or hurt him.
c Thou hast bene cruel and without charitie, and wouldest doe nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.
d When thou wast in power and authoritie, thou diddest not iustice, but wrōg.
e Thou hast not onely not shewed pitie, but oppressed them.
f That is, manifolde afflictions.
g He accuseth Iob of impietie and contempt of God, as though he would say, Iob if thou passe not for men, yet consider the height of Gods maiestie.

That so much e more by that cellent worke ou mayest are God, and uerence him. He reproueth ob as though e denied Gods ouidence, and at he could not e the things hat were done this world. c Howe God ath punished hem from the beginning: d He proueth Gods prouidence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe. e In He answereth to that, which Iob had sayd, Chap. 21. 7. that the wicked haue prosperitie in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like. n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth him selfe iudge of the world, and by this meanes continueth his honour and glory: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his, in that he punisheth their enemies. o That is, the state and preseruation of the godly is hidde vnder Gods wings. p Meaning, of the wicked. q Hee exhorteth Iob to repentance, and to returne to God. r God will restore vnto thee all thy substance. s Which shall bee in abundance like dust. t That is, the fauour of God. u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodome. x God will deliuer a whole countrey from perill, euen for the iust mans sake.

beholde the height of the * starres howe hie they are.

13 But thou sayest, Howe shoulde God i knowe? can he iudge through the darke cloude?

14 The cloudes hide him that he cannot see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked ℘ way of ℘ world, k wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were l cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a riuer that ouerflowed:

17 Which said vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almightie could doe for them.

18 Yet he m filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shal see them, and shal reioyce, n and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.

20 Surely o our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of ℘ them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, q with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the lawe of his mouth, & lay vp his words in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almightie, thou shalt r be built vp, and thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy Tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp gold for * dust, and the golde of Ophir, as the stuffe of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almightie shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delight in the Almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shal establish it vnto thee, & the t light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 u When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shal saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shal deliuer the x yland, and it shall be preserued by the pureneſſe of thine hands.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Iob affirmeth that he both knoweth & feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

BVt Iob answered, and saide,

2 Though my talke bee this daye in a bitternesse, and my plague greater then my groning,

3 Would God yet I knew how to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.

4 I woulde pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.

5 I would knowe the wordes, that hee would answere me, and would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

6 Woulde he b pleade against mee with his great power? No, but hee would c put strength in me.

7 d There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

8 e Behold, if I goe to the East, he is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:

9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I cannot see him: he wil hide him selfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

10 But he knoweth my f way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.

11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, and I haue g esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.

13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can h turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.

14 For he will performe that, which is decreed of me, and i many such thinges are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraide of him.

16 For God k hath softened mine heart, and the Almightie hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in l darkenes, but he hath hid the darkenesse from my face.

a He sheweth the iust cause of his complayning, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Chap. 22 21. he declareth that he desireth nothing more: but it seemeth that God would not be found of him.

b Vsing his absolute power, & saying, because I am God, I may doe what I will. c Of his mercie he would giue me power to answere him. d When he of his mercie hath giuen strength to maintaine their cause. e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to comprehende his iudgements on what side or part soeuer he turneth himselfe. f God hath this preeminence aboue me, that he knoweth my way: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he sheweth also his confidence, that God doeth visite him for his profite. g His worde is more precious vnto mee, then the meate wherewith the bodie is sustained. h Iob confesseth that at this present hee felt not Gods fauour, and yet was assured, that he had appointed him to a good ende. i In many poynts man is not able to attaine to Gods iudgements. k That I should not be without feare. l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Iob describeth the wickednes of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked, 12 How all thinges are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

HOw should not the times be a hid from the Almightie, seeing that they which knowe him, see not his b dayes?

2 Some remoue the lande markes, that rob the flockes and feede thereof.

3 They leade away ℘ asse of the fatherlesse: and take the widowes ore to pledge.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselues c together.

5 Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wilderneſſe, goe forth to their businesse, and d rise earely for a pray: the wildernesse

a Thus Iob speaketh in his passions and after the iudgement of the flesh: that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care ouer all, because he punisheth not the wicked, nor reuengeth the godly. b When hee punisheth the wicked and rewardeth the good. c And for crueltie and oppression dare not shew their faces. d That is, spare no diligence, e He and his, liue by robbing and murthering.

f Meaning, the poore mans.
g Signifying, that one wicked man will not spoyle another, but for neceſſitie.
h The poore are driuen by the wicked into rocks and holes, where they can not lie drie for the raine.
i That is, they ſo powle and pill the poore widowe, that ſhe cannot haue to ſuſtaine her ſelfe, that ſhee may bee able to giue her childe ſucke.
k That is, his garment, wherewith he ſhould be couered or cladde.
l In ſuch places, which are appointed for that purpoſe: meaning that thoſe that labour for the wicked, are pined for hunger.
m For the great oppreſſion and extortion.
n Cry out and cal for vengeance.
o God doeth not condemne the wicked, but ſeeneth to paſſe ouer it by his long ſilence.
p That is, Gods word, becauſe they are reproued thereby.
q By theſe particular vices, and the licence thereunto, he woulde prooue that God puniſh not the wicked, and rewardeth the iuſt.

e giueth him and his children foode.
6 They reape f his pronſion in the field, but they gather the late g vintage of the wicked.
7 They cauſe the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.
8 They are wet with the ſhowres of the mountaines, h and they embrace the rocke for want of a couering.
9 They plucke the fatherleſſe i from the breaſt, and take the pledge k of the poore.
10 They cauſe him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleaning from the hungry.
11 They that make oyle l betweene their walles, and treade their wine preſſes, ſuffer thirſt.
12 Men m crie out of the citie, and the ſoules of the ſlaine n cry out: yet God doth o not charge them with follie.
13 Theſe are they, that abhorre the p light: they know not the wayes thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.
14 The murtherer riſeth early, and killeth the poore and the needie: and in the night he is as a thiefe.
15 The eye alſo of the q adulterer waiteth for the twylight, and ſayeth, None eye ſhall ſee me, and diſguiſeth his face.
16 They dig through houſes in the darke, which they marked for themſelues in the day: they knowe not the light.
17 But the morning is euen to them as the ſhadowe of death: if one know them, they are in the terrours of the ſhadowe of death.
18 Ye is ſwift vpon the r waters: their ſ portion ſhall be curſed in the earth: he will not behold the way of the vineyards.
19 As the dry ground and heate conſume the ſnowe waters, ſo ſhall the graue t the ſinners.
20 u The pitifull man ſhall forget him: the wormе ſhall feele his ſweetneſſe: he ſhall be no more remembred, and the wicked ſhal be broken like a tree.
21 Yee x doeth euill intreate the barren, that doeth not beare, neither doeth he good to the widow.
22 Ye drawеth alſo the y mightie by his power, and when he riſeth vp, none is ſure of life.
23 Though men giue him aſſurance to be in ſafety, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.
24 They are exalted for a litle, but they are gone, and are brought low as all others: they are deſtroyed, and cut off as the toppe of an eare of corne.

25 But if it be not z ſo, where is hee? or who will proоue mee a liar, and make my wordes of no value?

z That is, that contrary to your reaſoning no man can giue a perfite reaſon of Gods iudgements, let me be reproued.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without ſinne before God.

THen anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, and ſayd,
2 a Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.
3 Is there any nomber in his armies? and vpon whom b ſhall not his light ariſe?
4 And how may a man be iuſtified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?
5 Beholde, hee will giue no light to the moone, d and the ſtarres are vncleane in his ſight.
6 How much more a man, a wormе, euen the ſonne of man, which is but a wormе?

a His purpoſe is to proоue, that albeit God trie and afflict the iuſt, yet ſoone after he ſendeth proſperitie, and becauſe he did not ſo to Iob, hee concludeth that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him from his preſence?
c That is, be iuſt in reſpect of God?
d If God ſhew his power, the moone and ſtarres can not haue that light, which is giuen them, much leſſe can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob ſheweth that man cannot helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

BVt Job anſwered, and ſayd,
2 a Whom helpeſt thou? him that hath no power? ſaueſt thou the arme that hath no ſtrength?
3 Whom counſelleſt thou? him that hath no wiſedome? thou b ſheweſt right well as the thing is.
4 To whome doeſt thou declare theſe wordes? or whoſe ſpirit cometh out of thee?
5 The c dead things are formed vnder the waters, and neere vnto them.
6 The graue is d naked before him, and there is no couering for e deſtruction.
7 Ye ſtretcheth out the f North ouer the empty place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.
8 Ye bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloud is not broken vnder them.
9 He holdeth backe the face of his throne: h and ſpreadeth his cloud vpon it.
10 Yee hath ſet boundes about the waters, vntill the i day & night come to an end.
11 The k pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.
12 The ſea is calme by his power, and by his vnderſtanding hee ſmiteth the pride thereof.
13 His Spirite hath garniſhed the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked l ſerpent.
14 Loe, theſe are part of his wayes: but m how litle a portion heare we of him? and a Thou concludeſt nothing: for neither thou helpeſt me, which am deſtitute of al helpe, neither yet ſpeakeſt ſufficiently on Gods behalfe, who hath no neede of thy defence.

b But thou doeſt not apply it to the purpoſe.
c That is, mooueth thee to ſpeake this?
d Iob beginneth to declare the force of Gods power and prouidence in the mines and metals in the deepe places of the earth.
e There is nothing hid in the bottome of the earth, but hee ſeeth it.
f Meaning the whole heauens to turne about the Northpole.
g He cauſeth the graue, wherein things putrifie.
h That is, he hideth the heauens, which are called his throne.
i So long as this world endureth.
k Not that heauen hath pillars to vpholde it, but he ſpeaketh by a ſimilitude, as though he would ſay, The heauen it ſelfe is not able to abide his reproch.
l Which is a figure of ſtarres facioned like a ſerpent, becauſe of the crookednеſſe.
m If theſe few things, which we ſee daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

who can vnderstand his fearefull power?

CHAP. XXVII.

3 The constancie and perfectnesse of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked and of the tyrants.

MOreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my [a] iudgement: for the Almightie hath put my soule in bitternesse.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirite of God in my nostrels, 4 My lips surely shall speake no [b] wickednesse, and my tongue shall vtter no deceite.

5 God forbid, that I shoulde [c] iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine [d] innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnesse, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reproue me of my [e] dayes.

7 Mine enemie shall bee as the wicked, and hee that riseth against mee, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what [f] hope hath the hypocrite when hee hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

9 Will God heare his cry, when trouble commeth vpon him?

10 Will he set his delite on the Almightie? will he call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teach you what is in the hand of [g] God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almightie.

12 Behold, all ye your selues [h] haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish [i] in vanitie?

13 This is the [k] portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almightie.

14 If his children be in great nomber, the sword shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shalbe buried in death, and his widowes [l] shall not weepe.

16 Though he should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare rayment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall deuide the siluer.

18 He buildeth his house as the [m] moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, he shal not bee gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrours shall take him as waters, and a tempest shal carry him away by night.

21 The East winde shall take him away, and hee shall depart: and it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast vpon him and not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.

23 Euery man shall clappe their hands at him, and hisse at him out of their place.

THe siluer surely hath his veine, [1] and the gold his place, where they take it.

2 Iron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to [a] darkenesse, [b] and he trieth the perfection of all things: he setteth a bonde of darkenesse, and of the shadowe of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the [c] inhabitant, and the waters [d] forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth cōmeth [e] bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a place [f] of saphirs, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no foule hath knowen, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The lyons whelpes haue not walked it, nor the lyon passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the rocks, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the rootes.

10 He breaketh riuers in the rocks, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe, and the thing that is hidde, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisedome found? [b] and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not [i] the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the sea also saith, It is not with me.

15 [k] Gold shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer bee weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shal not be valued with the wedge of gold of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the saphir.

17 The golde nor the crystall shall be equall vnto it, nor the exchange shalbe for plate of fine gold.

18 No mention shall be made of cozall, nor of the [l] gabish: for wisedome is more precious then pearles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be equall vnto it, neither shal it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence then commeth wisedome? and where is the place of vnderstanding, 21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the [m] foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares, 23 But God vnderstandeth the [n] way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For hee beholdeth the endes of the worlde, and seeth all that is vnder heauen, 25 To make the weight for the windes, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightning of the thunders, 27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

a He hath so sore afflicted me, that men cannot iudge of mine vprightnesse: for they iudge onely by outward signes.

b Howsoeuer men iudge of me, yet will I not speake contrary to that, which I haue sayd, and so doe wickedly in betraying the trueth.

c Which condemne me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is vpon me.

d I will not confesse, that God doeth thus punish me for my sinne.

e Of my life past.

f What aduantage hath the dissembler to gaine neuer so much, seeing he shall lose his owne soule?

g That is, what God reserueth to himselfe, and whereof he giueth not the knowledge to al.

h That is, these secrete iudgements of God, and yet loe not vnderstand them.

i Why mainteine you then this error?

k Thus will God order the wicked, and punish him, euen vnto his posteritie.

l None shall lament him.

m Which breedeth in another mans possession or garment, but is soone shaken out.

n He meaneth that the wicked tyrants shall not haue a quiet death, nor be buried honourably.

a His purpose is to declare that man may attaine in this worlde to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend the wisedome of God.

b There is nothing but it is compassed within certaine limites and hath an end, but God wisedome.

c Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.

d Which a man cannot wade through.

e That is, corne and vnderneath is brimstone or cole, which easily conceiueth fire.

f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, where into neither foules nor beast can enter.

g After that he hath declared the wisedome of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.

h Though God power and wisedome may be vnderstand in earthly things, yet his heauenly wisedome cannot be attained vnto.

i It is too hie a thing for man to attaine vnto in this world.

k It can neither be bought for golde nor precious stones, but is onely the gift of God.

l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.

m Meaning, that there is no naturall meanes, whereby man might attaine to the heauenly wisdom which he meaneth by the foules that flie hie.

n He maketh God onely the author of this wisedome, and giuer thereof.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisdom of God is vnsearchable.

Prouerb.1.7. o He declareth that man hath so much of this heauenly wisedome, as hee sheweth by fearing God, and departing from euill.

28 And vnto man he said, Behold, * the o feare of the Lord is wisedome, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7.21 His authoritie, 12 Iustice and equitie.

SO Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as †in times past, when God preserued me!

3 When his a light shined vpon mine head: & whe by his light I walked through the b darkenesse,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when c Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the Almightie was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my pathes d with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgement seat, & when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.

8 The young men sawe mee, and e hid themselues, & the aged arose, and stoode vp.

9 The princes staied talke, and laid their hand on their f mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

11 And when the g eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe mee, it gaue witnesse to h me.

12 For I deliuered the i poore that cried, and the fatherlesse, & him that had none to helpe him.

13 k The blessing of him that was readie to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put l on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the pray out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my m nest, & I shall multiplie my dayes as the sand.

19 My roote is n spread out by the water, and the dewe shall be vpon my branch.

20 My glory shall renue toward me, and my bowe shall be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and held their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my wordes they replied not, and my talke o dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth p as for the latter raine.

24 If I q laughed on them, they beleeued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance r to fall.

25 I appointed out f their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a king in the armie, and like him that comforteth h mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Iob complayneth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 11.21. Because of his aduersitie and affliction, 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

BVt nowe they that are younger then I mocke mee: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the b dogges of my flockes.

2 For whereto shoulde the strength of their hands haue serued me, seeing age c perished in them?

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleeing into the wildernesse, which is darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp ‖nettles by the bushes, & the iuniper rootes was their meate.

5 They were d chased forth from among men: they shouted at them, as at a theefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the bushes, & vnder the thistles they gathered themselues.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their e song, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hath loosed my f cord and humbled mee, g they haue loosed the bridle before me.

12 The youth rise vp at my right hand: they haue pusht my feet, and haue trode on me as on the h paths of their destruction.

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they tooke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none i helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of waters, and k vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon mee: and they pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.

16 Therefore my soule is nowe l powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken hold on me.

17 m It pearceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compasseth me about as the collar of my coate.

19 n Hee hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like ashes and dust.

20 When I cry vnto thee, thou doest not heare mee, neither regardest mee, when I stand vp.

21 Thou turnest thy selfe o cruelly against mee, and are enemie vnto mee with the strength of thine hand.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest me to ride vpon the p winde, and makest my a That is, mine estate is changed, and were as before the ancient men were glad to doe me reuerence, the yong men now contemne me.

b Meaning, to be my shepheards, or to keepe my dogges.

c That is, their fathers died for famine before they came to age d Iob sheweth that these that mocked him, in his affliction, were like to their fathers, wicked and lewde fellowes, such as he here describeth.

e They make songs of me, and mocke at my miserie.

f God hath taken from me the force, credite and authoritie wherewith I kept them in subiection.

g He said that the yong men when they saw him, hid themselues, as Chap.29.8. and now in his miserie they were impudent and licentious.

h That is, they sought by all meanes how they might destroy me.

i They need none to helpe them.

k By my calamitie they tooke an occasion against me.

l My life faileth me, and I am as halfe dead.

m Meaning, sorowe.

n That is, God hath brought me into contempt.

o He speaketh not thus to accuse God, but to declare the vehemencie of his affliction, whereby he was caried beside himselfe.

p He compareth his afflictions to a tempest or whirlewind.

† Hebr. Moneths before.

a When I felt his sauour.

b I was free from affliction.

c That is, seemed by euident tokes to be more present with me.

d By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be such a sinner, as they accused him.

e Being ashamed of their lightnesse, and afraide of my grauitie.

f Acknowledging my wisdom.

g All that heard me, praised me.

h Testifying that I did good iustice.

i Because his aduersaries did so much charge him with wickednes, hee is compelled to render a count of his life.

k That is, I did succour him that was in distres, and he had cause to praise me.

l I delited to doe iustice, as others did to weare costly apparell, m That is, at home in my bed without all trouble, and vnquietnesse.

n My felicitie seeth increase.

o That is, was distaisant vnto them.

p As the drie ground thirsteth for the raine.

q That is, they thought it not to be a iest, or they thought not that I would condescend vnto the, or they were afraide to offend me, and cause me to be angrie.

r They made them at commandement.

‖ Or, wiſedome, or Lawe.

q None can deliuer me thence though they lamēt at my death.

r In ſteade of comforting they mocked at me.

ſ Not deliting in any worldly thing, no not ſo much as in the eſe of the ſunne.

t Lamenting them that were in affliction, and mouing others to pitie them.

u I am like the wilde beaſts that deſire moſt ſolitarie places.

x With the heate of affliction.

‖ ſtrength to faile.

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the houſe appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doubtleſſe none can ſtretch his hand q vnto the graue, though they crie in his deſtruction.

25 Did not I weepe with him that was in trouble? was not my ſoule in heauineſſe for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, r euill came vnto mee: and when I waited for light, there came darkeneſſe.

27 My bowels did boyle without reſt: for ſ dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning ‖ without ſunne: I ſtood vp in the congregation t and cried.

29 I am a brother to the u dragons, and a companion to the oſtriches.

30 My ſkinne is blacke vpon mee, and my bones are burnt with x heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organes into the voice of them that weepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Iob reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, and number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithfull.

I Made a couenant with mine a eyes: why then ſhould I thinke on b a maide.

2 For what portion ſhould I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almightie from on hie?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked, and ſtrange puniſhment to c the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he behold my wayes, and tell all my ſteps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haſte to deceite,

6 Let God weigh me in the iuſt balance, and he ſhall know mine d vprightneſſe.

7 If my ſteppe hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath e walked after mine eye, or if any blot haue cleaued to mine handes,

8 Let me ſow, and let another f eate: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue layed waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife grind vnto another man, and let other men bowe downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickednеſſe, & iniquitie to be condemned:

12 Yea, this is a fire that ſhall deuoure h to deſtruction, and which ſhall roote out all mine increaſe.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ſeruant, and of my mayde, when they i did contend with me, 14 What then ſhall I doe when k God ſtandeth vp? and when he ſhall viſite mee, what ſhall I anſwere?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath hee not made l him? hath not hee aa I kept mine eyes from all wanton lookes.

b Would not God then haue puniſhed me?

c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a bridle to ſtay him from all wickednеſſe.

d He ſheweth wherein his vprightneſſe ſtandeth, that is, in as much as he was blameleſſe before men, and ſinned not againſt the ſecond table.

e That is, hath accompliſhed the luſt of mine eye.

f According to the curſe of the Lawe, Deut. 28 33.

g Let her bee made a ſlaue.

h He ſheweth that albeit man neglect the puniſhment of adulterie, yet the wrath of God will neuer ceaſe till ſuch be deſtroyed.

i When they thought themſelues euill intreated by mee, k If I had oppreſſed others, how ſhould I haue eſcaped Gods iudgement?

lone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I reſtrained the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widow m to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morſels alone, and the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth he hath growen vp with me n as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue ſeene any periſh for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his lopes haue not bleſſed mee, becauſe hee was warmed with the fleece of my ſheepe,

21 If I haue lift o vp mine hand againſt the fatherleſſe, when I ſaw that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine p arme fall from my ſhoulder, & mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods puniſhment was q fearefull vnto mee, and I could not be deliuered from his highneſſe.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue ſayde to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced becauſe my ſubſtance was great, or becauſe mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the r Sunne, when it ſhined, or the moone walking in her brightneſſe,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in ſecret, or if my mouth did kiſſe mine ſ hand,

28 (This alſo had bene an iniquitie to bee condemned: for I had denyed the God t aboue)

29 If I reioyced at his deſtruction that hated me, or was mooued to ioy when euill came vpon him, 30 Neither haue I ſuffred my mouth to ſinne, by wiſhing a curſe vnto his ſoule.

31 Did not the men of my u tabernacle ſay, Who ſhall giue vs of his fleſh? we can not be ſatisfied.

32 The ſtranger did not lodge in the ſtreete, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the way.

33 If I haue hid x my ſinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my boſome, 34 Though I could haue made afraid a great multitude, yet the moſt contemptible of the families did y feare me: ſo I kept z ſilence, and went not out of the doore.

35 Oh that I had ſome to heare me! beholde my a ſigne that the Almightie will witneſſe for mee: though mine aduerſarie ſhould write a booke againſt me, 36 Would not I take it vpon my ſhoulder, and binde it as b a crowne vnto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a c prince.

38 If my lande d crie againſt me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together,

39 If I haue eaten the fruites thereof

m By long waiting for her requeſt.

n He nouriſhed the fatherles and maintained the widowes cauſe.

o To oppreſſe him and doe him iniurie.

p Let me rot in pieces.

q I refrained not from ſinning for feare of men, but becauſe I feared God.

r If I was proude of my worldly proſperitie and felicitie, which is meant by the ſhining of the ſunne and brightneſſe of the moone.

ſ If mine owne doings delighted me.

t By putting confidence in any thing, but in him alone.

u My ſeruants mooued me to be reuenged of mine enemie, yet did I neuer wiſh him hurt.

x And not confeſſed it freely: whereby it is euident that he iuſtified himſelfe before men and not before God.

y That is, I reuenged the malice and contemned, and was afraide to offend them.

z I ſuffered them to ſpeake euill of me, and went not out of my houſe to reuenge it.

a This is a ſufficient token of my righteouſneſſe, that God is my witneſſe and will iuſtifie my cauſe.

b Should not this booke of his accuſations be a proteſtation and commendation to me?

c I will make him account of all my life, without feare.

d As though I had withholden their wages that laboured in it.

e Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner.

f That is, the talke which he had with his three friendes.

without siluer: or if I haue grieued e the soules of the masters thereof, 40 Let thistles growe in stead of wheat, and cockle in stead of barley.

THE f WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reproueth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the Spirit of God.

SO these three men ceased to answere Iob, because he ‡esteemed himselfe iust.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the sonne of Barachel the a Buzite, of the familie of b Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I say, was kindled against Iob, because hee iustified himselfe c more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his three friendes, because they coulde not finde an answere, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had spoken: for d they were more ancient in yeeres then he)

5 So when Elihu sawe that there was none answere in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite answered, and sayde, I am yong in yeeres, and yee are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afrayde to shew you mine opinion.

7 For I sayde, The e dayes shall speake, and the multitude of yeres shal teach wisedome.

8 Surely there is a spirite in man, f but the inspiration of the Almightie giueth vnderstanding.

9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doe the aged alway vnderstand iudgement.

10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shewe also mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did wait vpon your wordes, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you sought out reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, loe, there was none of you that reproued Iob, nor answered his wordes:

13 Least ye should say, We haue h found wisedome: for God hath cast him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath i he not directed his wordes to me, neither will I answere k him by your wordes.

15 Then they fearing, answered no more, but left off their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stoode still, and answered no more)

17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of l matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.

19 Behold, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the newe bottels that brast.

20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and will answere.

21 I will not nowe accept the person of man, m neither will I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue n titles, least my Maker should take me away suddenly.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man and so drawe him from sinne. 19.29 Hee afflicteth man, and suddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered, giueth thanks to God.

WHerfore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke, and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Behold now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightnesse of mine heart, and my lips shall speake pure knowledge.

4 The a Spirite of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.

6 Behold, I am according to thy wish in b Gods steade: I am also formed of the clay.

7 Behold, my terrour shall not feare thee, neither shall mine hand c bee heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtlesse thou hast spoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:

9 I am d cleane, without sinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Loe, he hath found occasions against me, and counted me for his enemie.

11 Hee hath put my feete in the stockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my paths.

12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right: I will answere thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why doest thou striue against him? for hee doeth not e giue account of all his matters.

14 For God speaketh f once or twise, and one seeth it not.

15 In dreames and visions of the night, when sleepe falleth vpon men, & they sleepe vpon their beds,

16 Then hee openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which he b had sealed,

17 That hee might cause man to turne away from his enterprise, and that he might hide the i pride of man,

18 And keepe backe his soule from the pit, and that his life should not passe by the sword.

19 He is also striken with sorowe vpon his bed, and the griefe of his bones is sore, 20 So that his k life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meate.

21 His flesh falleth that it cannot bee seene, and his bones which were not seene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life l to the buriers.

23 If there be a m messenger with him, or ‡ Ebr. was iust in his owne eyes.

a Which came of Buz the sonne of Nahor Abrahams brother.

b Or, as the Chalde paraphrast readeth, Abram.

c By making him selfe innocent, and by charging God of rigour.

d That is, the three mentioned before.

e Meaning, the ancient, which haue experience.

f It is a speciall gift of God that man hath vnderstanding, and commeth neither of nature nor by age.

g To proue that Iobs affliction came for his sinnes.

h And flatter your selues, as though you had ouercome him.

i To wit, Iob.

k He vseth almost the like arguments, but without tanting, and reproches.

l I haue conceiued in my mind great store of reasons.

m I will neither haue regard to riches, credite, nor authoritie, but will speake the very trueth.

n The Ebreweword signifieth, to change the name, as to call a foole a wise man: meaning that he would not cloke the trueth to flatter men.

a I confesse the power of God, and am one of his, therefore thou oughtest to heare me.

b Because Iob had wished to dispute his cause with God, Chap. 16, 21. so that he might doe it without feare, Elihu saith, he will reason in Gods stead, whom he needeth not to feare, because he is a man made of the same matter that he is.

c I will not handle thee so roughly as these others haue done.

d He repeateth Iobs wordes, whereby he protested his innocencie in diuers places, but specially in the 13. 16. and 30. Chap.

e The cause of his iudgements is not alwayes declared to man.

f Though God by sundry examples of his iudgements speake vnto man, yet the reason thereof is not knowen: yea, and though God shoulde speake, yet he is not vnderstoode.

g God, saith he, speaketh commonly, either by visions to teach vs the cause of his iudgements, or els by afflictions, or by his messenger.

h That is, determined to send vpon them.

i He sheweth for what ende God sendeth afflictions: to beate downe mans pride, and to turne from euill.

k That is, his painefull and miserable life.

l To them that shall burie him.

m A man sent of God to declare his will.

a A singular man, and as one chosen out of a thousand, which is able to declare the great mercies of God vnto sinners: & wherein mans righteousnesse standeth, which is through the iustice of Iesus Christ and faith therein.

an interpreter, one of a thousande a to declare vnto man his righteousnesse, 24 Then will hee haue o mercie vpon him, and will say, p Deliuer him, that hee goe not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

25 Then shall his flesh be q as fresh as a childes, and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.

o He sheweth that it is a sure token of Gods mercie toward sinners, when he causeth his word to be preached vnto them.

p That is, the minister shall by the preaching of the word pronounce vnto him the forgiuenesse of his sinnes.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he will render vnto man his r righteousnesse.

27 He looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and s peruerted righteousnesse, and it did not profite t me, 28 u He will deliuer his soule from going into the pitte, and his life shall see the light.

29 Loe, all these things will God worke x twise or thrise with a man, 30 That he may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare mee: keepe silence, and I will speake.

32 If there be y matter, answere me, and speake: for I desire to z iustifie thee.

33 If thou hast not, heare me: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisedome.

q He shall feele Gods sauour and reioyce: declaring hereby, wherein standeth the true ioy of the faithfull: and that God will restore him to health of body, which is a token of his blessing. r God will forgiue his sinnes, and accept him as iust. s That is, done wickedly. t But my sinne hath bene the cause of Gods wrath towarde me. u God will forgiue the penitent sinner. x Meaning, oft times, euen as oft as a sinner doeth repent. y If thou doubt of any thing, or see occasion to speake against it. z That is, to shewe thee, wherein mans iustification consisteth.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that hee called himselfe righteous. 12 Hee sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

MOreouer Elihu answered, and said,

2 Heare my wordes, ye a wise men, and hearken vnto me, yee that haue knowledge.

a Which are esteemed wise of the world.

3 For the eare trieth the wordes, as the mouth tasteth meate.

b Let vs examine the matter vprightly.

4 Let vs seeke b iudgement among vs, & let vs knowe among our selues what is good.

c That is, hath afflicted mee without measure.

5 For Iob hath sayde, I am righteous, and God hath taken c away my iudgement.

d Should I say, I am wicked, being an innocent?

6 Should I lie in my d right? my wound of the arrow is e grieuous without my sinne.

e I am sore punished, then my sinne deserueth.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh f scornefulnesse like water?

f Which is compelled to receiue the reproch and scornes of many for his foolish words.

8 Which goeth in the company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath said, h It profiteth a man nothing, that he should i walke with God.

g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorifie God and submit himselfe to his iudgements. h He wresteth Iobs wordes, who sayde that Gods children are oft times punished in this world, and the wicked goe free. i That is, liue godly, as Gen. 5.22.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, yee men of wisedome, God forbid that wickednesse shoulde be in God, and iniquitie in the Almightie.

11 For he wil render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almightie peruert iudgement.

13 Whom k hath he appointed ouer the earth beside himselfe? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If l he let his heart vpon man, & gather vnto himselfe his spirit & his breath, 15 All flesh shal perish together, and man shall returne vnto dust.

16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shall hee that hateth iudgement, m gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art n wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, and regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his hands.

20 They shall die suddenly, o and the people shall be troubled at midnight, p and they shall passe away and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenesse nor shadow of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For he will not lay on man so much, that he should q enter into iudgement with God.

24 He shall breake the mightie without r seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shall hee declare their s workes: hee shall turne the t night, and they shall be destroyed.

26 Hee striketh them as wicked men in the places of the u seers,

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his waies:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to x come into him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the y hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are snared.

31 Surely it apperteyneth vnto God z to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 a That if I see not, teach thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I will doe no more.

33 Will he performe the thing through b thee? for thou hast reproued c it, because k To destroy him.

l The breath of life which he gaue man.

m If God were not iust, howe could he gouerne the world?

n If man of nature feare to speake euill of such as haue power, then much more ought they to be afraide to speake euill of God.

o When they looke not for it.

p The messengers or visitation that God shall send.

q God doeth not afflict man aboue measure, for that he should haue occasion to contend with him.

r For all his creatures are at hand to serue him, so that he needeth not to seeke for any other armie.

s Make them manifest that they are wicked.

t Declare the things that were hid.

u Meaning openly in the sight of all men.

x By their cruelties and extortions.

y When tyrants sit in the throne of iustice, which vnder pretence of executing iustice, are but hypocrites and oppresse the people, it is a signe that God hath drawen backe his countenance and fauour from that place.

z Onely it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man. a Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob, because he would be wiser then God. b Wil God vse thy counsel in doing his works? c Thus he speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should chuse & refuse affliction at his pleasure, that that thou hast chosen, & not I. now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tel me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his wordes according to wisedome.

36 I desire that Iob may be [d] tried, vnto the ende touching the answeres for wicked men.

37 For hee [e] addeth rebellion vnto his sinne: he clappeth his handes among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doth godlinesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crie vnto God, and are not heard.

ELihu spake moreouer, and sayd,

2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast sayde, I am [a] more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast said, What profiteth it thee, and what auayleth it me, to purge mee from my sinne?

4 Therefore will I answere thee, and thy [b] companions with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and see, and behold [c] cloudes which are higher then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou [d] against him, yea, when thy sinnes be many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueth hee at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art: and thy righteousnesse may profite the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, [e] to crie, which cry out for the violence of the mighty.

10 But none sayth, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then the beasts of the earth, & giueth vs more wisedome then the fowles of the heauen.

12 Then they cry because of the violence of the wicked, but [f] he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the almightie regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, [g] yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great extremitie, 16 Therefore Iob [h] openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplyeth words without knowledge.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 And his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

ELihu also proceeded and said,

2 Suffer me a little, and I will instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will fetch [i] my knowledge a farre off, and will attribute righteousnesse vnto my Maker.

4 For truely my words shal not be false, and hee that is [k] perfite in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Beholde, the mightie God casteth away none that is [l] mightie and valiant of courage.

6 [m] He mainteineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with [n] kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tied with the cordes of affliction, 9 Then wil he shew them their [o] worke and their sinnes, because they haue been proude.

10 Hee openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 * If they obey and serue him, they shall ende their dayes in prosperitie, & their yeres in pleasures.

12 But if they will not obey, they shall passe by [p] sword, & perish [q] without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites [r] of heart increase the wrath: for they [s] call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dieth in [t] youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 Hee deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would hee haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broade place and not shutte vp beneath: and [u] that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fatte.

17 But thou art full of the [w] iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

18 [x] For Gods wrath is, least he should take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of gifts can deliuer thee.

19 Will he regard thy riches? he regardeth not gold, nor all them that excel in strength.

20 [y] Be not carefull in the night, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to [z] iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Behold, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.

25 All men see it, and men behold it [a] a farre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, [b] and we knowe him not, neyther can the number of his yeres be searched out.

[a] Iob neuer spake these wordes: but because he mainteined his innocencie, it seemed as though hee would say, that God tormented him without iust cause.

[b] Such as are in the like errour.

[c] If thou canst not controll the cloudes, wilt thou presume to instruct God?

[d] Neither doth thy sin hurt God, nor thy iustice profit him: for he wil be glorified without thee.

[e] The wicked may hurt man & cause him to cry, who if he sought to God, which sendeth comfort, should be deliuered.

[f] Because they pray not in faith as feeling Gods mercies.

[g] God is iust, howsoeuer thou iudgest of him.

[h] For if he did punish thee, as thou deseruest, thou shouldest not be able to open thy mouth.

[i] He sheweth that when we speake of God, we must lift our spirits more hie then our naturall sense is able to reach.

[b] Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithfull instructour, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

[c] Strong & constant, & of vnderstanding: for these are the giftes of God, & he loueth them in man: but for asmuch as God punished now Iob, it is a signe that these are not in him.

[d] Therefore he will not preserue the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted heart he will shewe grace.

[e] He preferreth the godly to honour.

[f] He will moouе their hearts to feele their sinnes, that they may come to him by repentance, as he did Manasseh. Isa.1.19.

[g] That is, in their follie or obstination, and so shall be cause of their owne destruction.

[h] Which are maliciously bent against God and flatter themselues in their vices.

[i] When they are in affliction they seeke not to God for succour, as Asa, 2.Chron.16. 12. Reue,16.11.

[k] They die of some vile death, and that before they come to age.

[l] If thou hadst bene obedient to God, he would haue brought thee to libertie and wealth.

[m] Thou art altogether after the maner of the wicked: for thou doest murmure against the iustice of God.

[n] God doeth punish thee, least thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth, and so perish.

[o] Be not thou curious in seeking the causes of Gods iudgements, when he destroieth any.

[p] And so murmure against God through impatiencie.

[q] The workes of God are so manifest, that a man may see them a farre off, and know God by the same.

[r] Our infirmitie hindereth vs so, that we cannot attaine to the perfite knowledge of God.

27 When hee reſtraineth the drops of water, the raine f powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the cloudes doe droppe and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can knowe the diuiſions of the cloudes, and the thunders of his t tabernacle?

30 Behold, he ſpreadeth his light vpon u it, and couereth the x bottome of the ſea.

31 For thereby he iudgeth y the people, and giueth meate abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to goe z againſt it.

33 a His companion ſheweth him thereof, and there is anger in riſing vp.

f That is, the raine commeth of thoſe drops of water, which he keepeth in the cloudes.

t Meaning, of the cloudes, which he calleth the Tabernacle of God.

u Vpon the cloude.

x That men can not come to the knowledge of the ſprings thereof.

y He ſheweth that the raine hath double vſe: the one that it d clareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflowe any places, and the other that it maketh the lande fruitfull.

z That is, one cloude to dash against another.

a The colde vapour ſheweth him: that is, the cloude of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the colde cloude, mounteth vp towarde the place where the fire is, and ſo anger is ingendred: that is, noyſe and thunder claps.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 Elihu proueth that the vnſearchable wiſedome of God is manifeſt by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The ſnow, 9 The whirlewind, 11 And the raine.

a At the mariuciling of the thunder, and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithful are liuely touched with the maieſtie of God, when they behold his works.

b That is, the thunder, whereby he ſpeaketh to men, to waken their dulnes, and to bring them to the conſideration of his workes.

c Meaning the raines and thunders.

d So that neither ſmal raine nor great, ſnowe nor any thing els cōmeth without Gods appointment.

e By raines and thunders God cauſeth men to keepe themſelues within their houſes.

f In Ebrewe it is calle l the ſcattering winde, becauſe it driueth away the cloudes, and purgeth the ayre.

g That is, is froſen vp and dried.

h Gather the vapours, and moue to and fro to water the earth.

i That is, the cloude that hath lightening in it.

k Raine, colde, heate, tempeſtes and ſuch like are ſent of God, either to puniſh man, or to profite the earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap. 36. 31.

AT this alſo mine heart is a aſtonied, and is moued out of his place.

2 Heare the b ſound of his voyce, and the noiſe that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the world.

4 After it a noyſe ſoundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maieſtie, and hee will not ſtay c them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundreth marueilouſly with his voyce: he worketh great things, which we know not.

6 For he ſaith to the ſnow, Be thou vpon the earth: d likewiſe to the ſmall raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof he e ſhutteth vp euery man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beaſts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewinde commeth out of the South, & the cold from the f North winde.

10 At the breath of God the froſt is giuen, and the breadth of the waters is made narrowe.

11 He maketh alſo the cloudes to g labor, to water the earth, and ſcatereth the cloude of i his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernment, that they may do whatſoeuer he cōmaundeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for k puniſhment, or for his land, or of mercie he cauſeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: ſtand and conſider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddeſt thou know when God diſpoſed them? and cauſed the l light of his cloud to ſhine?

16 Haſt thou knowen the m varietie of the cloude, and the wonderous workes of him, that is perfite in knowledge?

17 Or how thy clothes are n warme, whē hee maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Haſt thou ſtretched out the heauens, which are ſtrong, and as a molten o glaſſe?

19 Tell vs what we ſhall ſay vnto him: for we can not diſpoſe our matter becauſe of p darkeneſſe.

20 Shal it be q told him whē I ſpeake? or ſhall man ſpeake when hee ſhall bee r deſtroyed?

21 And now men ſee not ſ light, which ſhineth in the cloudes, but the winde paſſeth and cleanſeth them.

22 The t brightneſſe commeth out of the North: the praiſe thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almightie: we can not find him out: hee is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iuſtice: hee u afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regard any that are wiſe in their owne conceite.

l That is, the lightning to breake forth in the cloudes.

m Which is ſometime changed into raine, or ſnowe, or haile or ſuch like.

n Why thy clothes ſhould keepe thee warme, when the South winde bloweth, rather then when any other winde bloweth?

o For their clereneſſe.

p That is, our ignorance: ſignifying that Iob was ſo preſumptuous, that hee would controll the workes of God.

q Hath God neede that any ſhould tell him when man murmureth againſt him?

r If God would deſtroy man, ſhould he repine?

ſ The cloude ſtoppeth the ſhining of the ſunne, that man cannot ſee it till the winde haue chaſed away the cloude: and if man be not able to attaine to the knowledge of the things, how much leſſe of Gods iudgements?

t In Hebrew, golde meaning, faire weather and cleare as gold.

u Meaning, without cauſe.

CHAP XXXVIII.

God ſpeaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakeneſſe of man in the conſideration of his creatures, by whoſe excellencie the power, iuſtice, and prouidence of the Creator is knowen.

THen anſwered the Loide vnto Iob out of the a whirlewinde, and ſaid,

2 Who is this that b darkeneth the counſell by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp nowe thy lopnes like a man: I c will demaund of thee and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where waſt thou when I layde the d foundations of the earth? declare, if thou haſt vnderſtanding,

5 Who hath layd the meaſures thereof, if thou knoweſt, or who hath ſtretched the line ouer it?

6 Wherupon are the foundations therof ſet: or who layd the corner ſtone thereof:

7 When the ſtarres of the morning e praiſed mē together, and al the ſ children of God reioyced?

8 Or who hath ſhut vp the ſea with doores, when it iſſued and came forth as out of the wombe:

9 When I made the cloudes as a couering

a That his worke might haue greater maieſtie, and that Iob might knowe with whome he had to doe.

b Which by ſ king out the ſecret counſell of God by mans reaſon maketh more obſcure and ſheweth his owne follie.

c Becauſe he wiſhed to diſpute with God, Ch. 13. 3. God reproueth him and declare his rneſſe.

d Seeing he could not iudge of thoſe things, which were done ſo long before he was borne, he was not able to comprehend all Gods works: much leſſe the ſecret cauſes of his iudgements.

e Theſe ſtarres and dumme creatures are ſaid to praiſe God, becauſe his power, wiſedome and goodneſſe is manifeſted and knowen therein.

f Meaning, the Ange

g As though the great sea were but as a little babe in the hands of God to turne to & fro.

h That is, Gods decree and commandement, as verse 10.

i To wit, to rise, since thou wast borne?

k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wickednesse, cannot abide the light, but hide themselues.

l The earth which seemed in the night to haue no forme, by the rising of the sunne is as it were created anewe, and all things therin clad with new beauty.

m If thou art not able to seeke out the depth of the sea, howe much lesse art thou able to comprehend ỹ counsell of Gods n That thou mightest appoynt it his way and limits.

o To punish mine enemies with them, as Exod. 9. 18. Iosh. 10. 11.

p The yce couereth it, as though it were paued with stone.

q Which starres arise when the sunne is in Taurus, which is the spring time, and bring flowres.

r Which starre bringeth in winter.

s Certaine starres so called: some thinke they were the twelue signes.

t The North starre, with those that are about him?

u Canst thou cause the heauenly bodies to haue any power ouer the earthly bodies?

thereof, and darkenesse as the u swadling bands thereof?

10 When I established my comandement vpon it, and set barres and doores, 11 And sayde, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and here h shall it stay thy proude waues.

12 Hast thou commanded the i morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, l and all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shalbe taken away, and the hie arme shalbe broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the m depth?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the gates of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tell it thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkenesse, 20 That thou n shouldest receiue it in the bounds therof, and that thou shouldest knowe the pathes to the house therof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, and because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snowe? or hast thou seene the treasures of the haile, 23 Which I haue o hid against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hath deuided the spowtes for the raine? or the way for the lightning of the thunders, 26 To cause it to rayne on the earth where no man is, and in the wildernesse where there is no man?

27 To fulfill the wilde and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring foorth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the droppes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose wombe came the yce? who hath engendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hidde p as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou restraine the sweete influences of q the Pleiades? or loose the bands of r Orion?

32 Canst thou bring foorth s Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide t Arcturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen, or canst thou set u the rule therof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes that the abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou send the lightnings that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Loe, here we are?

36 Who hath put wisdome in the x reines? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number the clouds by wisedome? or who can cause to ceale the y bottels of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardnesse, z and the clottes are fast together?

y That is, the cloudes, wherein the water is conteined as in bottels.

z For when God doth not open these bottels, the earth commeth to this inconuenience.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 The bountie & prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauens, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God. 37 Iob confesseth and humbleth himselfe.

WIlt a thou hunt the pray for the Lyon? or fill the appetite of the lyons whelpes,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the couert to lie in wayte?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meat, when his birdes b crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring foorth yong? or doest thou marke when the c hindes doe calue?

5 Canst thou number the moneths that they d fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring foorth?

6 They bowe themselues: they e bruse their yong and cast out their sorowes.

7 Yet their yong ware fat, and growe vp with corne: they goe foorth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at liberty? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 It is I which haue made the wildernesse his house, and the f salt places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the crye of the driuer.

11 He seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the Unicorne g serue thee? or will he tary by thy crib?

13 Canst thou binde the Unicorne with his band to labour in the furrowe? or will he plowe the valleis after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleeue him, that he will bring home thy seede, and gather it vnto thy barne?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacockes? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh h them hote in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 Hee sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauailed i in vaine.

20 For God hath depriued him of k wisdome, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When l time is, hee mounteth on hie: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength? or a After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens, hee sheweth his marueilous prouidence in earth, euen toward the bruite beastes.

b Reade Psalme 147. 9.

c He chiefly maketh mention of wilde goates and hindes, because they bring foorth their yong with most difficultie.

d That is, howe long they goe with yong?

e They bring forth with great difficultie.

f That is, the barren ground where no good fruites growe.

g Is it possible to make the vnicorne tame? signifying that if man cannot rule a creature, that it is much more impossible that he should appoynt the wisedome of God, whereby he gouerneth all the world.

h They write that the ostrich coureth her egges in the sand, and because the countrey is hot, and the sunne still keepeth them warme, they are hatched.

i If he should take care for them.

k That is, to haue a care and naturall affection toward his yong.

l When the yong ostrich is growen vp, hee outrunneth the horse.

couered his necke with m neying?

23 Hast thou made him afrayde as the grashopper? his strong neying is fearefull.

24 He n diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meete the harnessed man.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword, 26 Though the quiuer rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shielde.

27 Yea he o swalloweth the grounde for fiercenesse and rage, and heleeueth not that it is the noyse of the trumpet.

28 Hee saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battel afarre off, and the noyse of the captaines, and the shouting.

29 Shall the hauke flie by thy wisedome, stretching out his wings towarde the p South?

30 Doth the eagle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on hie?

31 She abideth & remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, & the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes behold afarre off.

33 His yong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is shee.

34 Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Iob, and sayd,

35 Is this to q learne, to striue with the Almightie? he that reproueth God, let him answere to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, saying,

37 Behold, I am r vile: what shall I answere thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answere no more, yea twise, but I will proceede no further.

CHAP. XL.

2 How weake mans power is, being compared to the workes of Gods, 10 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beasts.

AGaine the Lord answered Iob out of the * whirlewinde, and sayd,

2 Gird vp nowe thy loines like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanull a my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy selfe nowe with b maiestie and excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie and glorie.

6 Cast abroade the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proude, and abase him.

7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde c their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can d saue thee.

10 ¶ Behold now e Behemoth, (whom I made f with thee) which eateth g grasse as an oxe.

11 Beholde nowe, his strength is in his loines, & his force is in the nauell of his belly.

12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a Cedar: the sinewes of his stones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like staues of brasse, and his small bones like staues of yron.

14 h He is the chiefe of the waies of God: i hee that made him, will make his sworde to approch vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him forth grasse, where all the beasts of the field play.

16 Lieth he vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadowe? or can the willowes of the riuer compasse him about?

18 Beholde, hee spoyleth the riuer, k and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, & thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out l Leuiathan with an hooke, and with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? canst thou pierce his iawes with an angle?

22 Will he make many m prayers vnto thee, or speake thee faire?

23 Will he make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take n him as a seruant for euer?

24 Wilt thou play with him, as with a bird? or wilt thou binde him for thy maids?

25 Shall the companions banket with him? shall they deuide him among the marchants?

26 Canst thou fill the basket with his skinne? or the fish panier with his head?

27 Lay thine hand vpon him: remember o the battell, and doe no more so.

28 Behold, p his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him?

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnesse of this monster Leuiathan God sheweth his greatnesse, and his power, which nothing can resist.

1 NOne is so fierce that dare stirre him vp. Who is he then q can stand r before me?

2 Who hath preuented me that I should b make an ende? All vnder heauen is mine.

3 I will not keepe silence concerning c his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discouer the face d of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double e bridle?

5 Who shall f open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.

6 The maiestie of his scales is like strong shieldes, and are sure sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they cannot be sundred.

9 His neesings g make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye liddes of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth goe lampes, and sparkes of fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrels cometh out smoke, as

m That is, giueth him courage? which is meant by neying and shaking his mane: for with his breath he couereth his necke.

n He beateth with his hoofe.

o He so riddeth the ground, that it seemeth nothing vnder him.

p That is, when colde commeth, to flie into the warme countries.

q Is this the way for a man that will learne, to striue with God? which thing he reproueth in Iob.

r Whereby he sheweth that he repented, and desired pardon for his faults.

Chap. 38. 1.

a Signifying, that they that iustifie themselues, condemne God as vniust.

b Meaning, that these were proper vnto God, and belonged to no man.

c Cause them to die if thou canst.

d Prouing hereby that whosoeuer attributeth to himselfe power and ability to saue himselfe, maketh himselfe God.

e This beast is thought to be the elephant, or some other, which is vnknowen.

f Whom I made as well as thee.

g This commendeth the prouidence of God toward man: for if he were giuen to deuoure as a lyon, nothing were able to resist him or content him.

h He is one of the chiefest works of God among the beastes.

i Though man dare not come neere him, yet God can kill him

k He drinketh at leasure, and feareth no body

l Meaning, the whale.

m Because he feareth lest tho shouldest take him.

n To doe thy businesse, and be at thy commandement.

a If none dare stand against a whale, which is but a creature, who is able to compare with God the Creator

b Who hath taught me to accomplish my worke?

c The partes and members of the whale.

d That is, who dare pull off his skinne?

e Who dare put a bridle in his mouth?

f Who dare lay in his mouth?

g That is, cast out flames of fire as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coles burnet for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and h labour is retected before his face.

14 The members of his body are ioyned: they are strong in themselues, and can not be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, and as heard as the nether millstone.

16 The mightie are afraid of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in themselues.

17 When the sword doth touch him, hee will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergeon.

18 Hee esteemeth yron as strawe, and brasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: the stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The dartes are counted as strawe: and he laughteth at the shaking of a speare.

21 Sharpe stones i are vnder him, and he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the mire.

22 He maketh the depths to k boile like a pot, & maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.

23 He maketh a path to l shine after him: one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friendes. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

THen Iob answered the Lord, and sayd,

2 I knowe that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no a thought hid from thee.

3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without b knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstoode not, euen things too wonderfull for me, c and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demaund of thee, d and declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue e heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lorde had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also sayde vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friendes: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is f right, like my seruant g Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you nowe seuen bullocks and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall h pray for you: for I will accept him, lest I shoulde put you to shame, because yee haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Sophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lorde had sayde vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 ¶ Then the Lorde turned the i captiuitie of Iob, whe he prayed for his friends: also the Lorde gaue Iob twise so much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his k brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eate bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for al the euill, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a peece of money, and euery one an earering of golde.

12 So the Lorde blessed the last dayes of Iob more then the first: for he had l fourteene thousande sheepe, and sixe thousande camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

13 Hee had also seuen sonnes, and three daughters.

14 And hee called the name of one m Iemimah, and the name of the seconde n Kezíah, and the name of the third o Kerenhappuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundreth and fourty yeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob died, being old, & full of daies.

The * Psalmes of Dauid.

* Or, prayses, according to the Hebrewes: and were chiefly instituted to prayse and giue thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Psalmes or Songs of Dauid, because the most part were made by him.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost, to bee esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, aswel in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenly wisedome are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would know the great, and high maiestie of God, here wee may see the brightnesse thereof shine most clearely, If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdome, heere is the schoole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approch neere thereunto, and fill our handes with that treasure, here wee may haue a most liuely and comfortable taste thereof. If wee would knowe wherein standeth our saluation, and howe to attaine to life euerlasting, heere is Christ our onely Redeemer, and Mediatour most euidently discribed. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioye, and howe to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to prayse God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shall see howe the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he brideleth them, in so much as they can not touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and howe in the ende their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here wee haue most prefent remedies against all tentations, and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being well practised herein, wee may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glory, which is layde vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it semeth he did set this Psalme first in maner of a Preface, to exhort all godly men to studie and meditate the heauenly wisedome. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be blessed, which giue themselues wholly all their life to the holy scriptures: 4 And that the wicked contemners of God, though they seeme for a while happie, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

BLessed is the mā that doth not walke in the [a] counsel of the wicked, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seate of the scornfull:

2 But his delite is in the *Law of the Lord, & in his [b] Law doth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shalbe like a *tree planted by the riuers of waters, that will bring foorth her fruit in due seasō: whose leafe shall not fade: so [c] whatsoeuer he shal doe, shal prosper.

4 [d] The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stande in the [e] iudgement, nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous.

6 For the Lorde [f] knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

a When a man hath giuen once place to euill counsell, or to his owne concupiscence, hee beginneth to forget himselfe in his sinne, & so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seate of the scorners. Deut.6.6. iosh.1. 8. prou.6.20.

b In the holy Scriptures. Iere.17.8.

c Gods children are so moystened euer with his grace, that whatsoeuer commeth vnto them, tendeth to their saluation.

d Though the wicked seeme to beare the swinge in this worlde, yet the Lorde driueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stande in the company of the righteous.

e But tremble when they feele Gods wrath.

f Doth approue and prosper, like as not to know, is to reproue and reiect.

PSAL. II.

1 The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdome for euer, and aduaunce it euen to the end of the world, 10 And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Herein is figured Christs kingdome.

WHy doe the [a] Heathen * rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

2 The Kings of the earth band themselues, & the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his ‖Christ.

3 [b] Let vs breake their bandes, and cast their cordes from vs.

4 *But he that dwelleth in ỳ heauen shall laugh: the Lord shal haue them in derision.

5 [c] Then shal he speake vnto them in his wrath, and vexe them in his sore displeasure, saying,

6 Euen I haue set my King vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

7 I will declare the [d] decree: that is, the Lorde hath saide vnto mee, *Thou art my Sonne: this [e] day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aske of mee, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the [f] ends of the earth for thy possession.

9 *Thou shalt crush them with a sceptre of yron, and breake them in pieces like a potters vessell.

10 [g] Bee wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lorde in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

12 [h] Kisse the sonne, least he be angry, and ye [i] perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne, blessed are all that trust in him.

a The conspiracie of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Iewes, and power of Kings cannot preuaile against Christ. Acts 4.25.

‖ Or, anoynted.

b Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God, and of his Christ, Prou. 1.26. c Gods plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they fought against him.

d To shew that my vocation to the kingdome is of God. Acts 13.23,33. hebr.1.5.

c That is to say, as touching mans knowledge, because it was the first time that Dauid appeared to bee elected of God. So is it applyed to Christ in his first comming and manifestation to the worlde.

f Not onely the Iewes, but the Gentiles also. Reuel.2.27.

g Hee exhorteth all rulers to repent in time.

h In signe of homage.

i When the wicked shall say, Peace and rest, seeming yet to be but in the midway of their purposes, then shal destruction suddenly come. 1.Thes.5.3.

PSAL. III.

1 Dauid driuen forth of his kingdome, was greatly tormented in minde for his sinnes against God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bolde through his promises against the great rayings and terrours of his enemies, yea, against death it selfe, which he saw present before his eyes. 7 Finally, he reioyceth for the good successe, that God gaue him, and all the Church.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when hee fled from his sonne Absalom.

LOrde, howe are mine aduersaries [a] increased? how many rise against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God, [b] Selah.

3 But thou Lorde art a buckler for mee: my glory, and the lifter vp of mine head.

4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I layde mee downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord sustained me.

6 I will not be afraid for ten thousand of ỳ people that should beset me round about.

7 O Lorde, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheek bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 [d] Saluation belongeth vnto the Lorde, and thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

a This was a token of his stable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recourse to God.

b Selah here signifieth a lifting vp of the voyce, to cause vs to consider the sentence, as a thing of great importance.

c When he considered the trueth of Gods promise and tryed the same, his faith increased maruelously.

d Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer meanes to deliuer his.

PSAL. IIII.

1 When Saul persecuted him, hee called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promise, and therefore boldly reproueth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his dominion, 7 And finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

¶ [a] To a Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalmes, and to play on the instruments, one was appointed chiefe to set the tune, and to begin: who had the charge, because he was most excellent, and he begannethis Psalme on the instrument called Neginoth, or in a tune so called.

b Thou that art the defender of my iust cause.

c Both of mind and body.

d Ye that thinke your selues noble in this world.

e Though your enterprises please you neuer so much, yet God will bring them to nought.

f A King that walketh in his vocation.

g For feare of Gods iudgement.

h Cease your rage.

i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies.

k The multitude seeke worldly wealth, but David setteth his felicitie in Gods fauour.

l This worde in Ebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to Dauid, signifying that he should dwell as ioyfully alone, as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

PSAL. V.

1 Dauid oppressed with the cruelties of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing howe requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. 7 After being assured of prosperous successe, hee conceiueth comfort, 12 Concluding that when God shal deliuer him, others also shall bee partakers of the same mercies.

Or, musicall instrument or tune.

a That is, my vehement prayer and secret complaint and sighings.

b With patience and trust till I be heard.

c Seeing that God of nature hateth wickednesse, he must needes punish the wicked and saue the godly.

d Which runne most ragingly after their carnall affections.

e In the deepest of his tentations he putteth his sul confidence in God.

f Because thou art iust, therefore leade me out of the dangers of mine enemies.

¶ [a] To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare mee when I call, [b] O God of my righteousnes: thou hast set me at liberty, when I was [c] in distresse: haue mercy vpon me and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O ye [d] sonnes of men, how long will ye turne my glory into shame, [e] louing vanitie, and seeking lyes? Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe [f] a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 [g] Tremble, and sinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bedde, and bee [h] still. Selah.

5 [i] Offer the sacrifices of righteousnes, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shewe vs any [k] good? but Lorde, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.

8 I will lay mee downe, and also sleepe in peace: for thou, Lord, [l] onely makest mee dwell in safetie.

1 Or, cause them to erre.

g Let their deuices come to nought.

h Thy fauour toward me shall confirme y faith of all others.

Or, giue good successe.

i So that he shal be safe from all dangers.

Rom. 3. 13.

PSAL. VI.

1 When Dauid by his sinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt not onely his hand against him, but also conceiued the horrors of death euerlasting, he desireth forgiuenesse, 6 Bewayling that if God tooke him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him as he was wont to doe, whiles he was among men. 9 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercy, he sharpely rebuketh his enemies, which reioyced in his affliction.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth vpon the eight tune. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, [a] rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lorde, for I am weeke; O Lord heale me, for my [b] bones are vexed.

3 [c] My soule is also sore troubled: but Lord how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in [d] death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning: I cause my bed euery night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.

7 ‖ Mine eye is dimmed for despite, and sunke in because of all mine enemies.

8 [e] Away from me all ye workers of iniquitie: for the Lord hath heard the voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shal be confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame [f] suddenly.

Iere. 10. 24.

a Though I deserue destruction, yet let thy mercy pitie my frailtie.

b For my whole strength is abated.

c His conscience is also touched with the feare of Gods iudgement.

d He lamenteth that occasion should be taken from him to praise God in the congregation.

‖ Or, mine eye is eaten as it were with wormes.

e God sendeth comfort & boldnesse in affliction.

f When the wicked thinke that the godly shall perish, God deliuereth them suddenly,

PSAL. VII.

1 Being falsely accused by Chush one of Sauls kinsmen, he calleth to God to be his defender. 3 To whom he commendeth his innocencie, 9 First shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euill towards Saul: 10 Next that it touched Gods glory to award sentence against the wicked. 13 And so entring into the consideration of Gods mercies and promise, he waxeth bolde, and derideth the vaine enterprises of his enemies, 16 Threatning that it shall fall on their owne necke which they haue purposed for others.

that wee may triumph ouer our enemies.

c They thinke themselues able to perswade whatsoeuer they take in hand.
d The Lorde is moued with the complaints of his, and deliuereth in the ende from all dangers.
e Because the Lordes word and promises is true and vnchangeable, he will performe it, and preserue the poore from this wicked generation.
f That is, thine, though he were but one man.
g For they suppresse the godly, and maintaine the wicked.

4 Which haue said, c With our tongue will we preuaile: our lippes are our owne: who is Lord ouer vs?

5 d Nowe for the oppression of the needie, and for the sighs of the poore, I will vp (sayth the Lord,) and will e set at libertie him, whome the wicked hath snared.

6 The wordes of the Lorde are pure wordes, as the siluer, tried in a fornace of earth, fined seuen folde.

7 Thou wilt keepe f them, O Lord: thou wilt preserue him from this generation for euer.

8 The wicked walke on euery side: when they are exalted, g it is a shame for the sonnes of men.

PSAL. XIII.

1 Dauid as it were ouercome with sundry and new afflictions, fleeth to God as his onely refuge. 3 And so at the length being encouraged through Gods promises, hee conceiueth most sure confidence against the extreme horrours of death.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

a He declareth that his afflictions lasted a long time, and that his faith fainted not.
b Changing my purpose as the sicke man doeth his place.
c Which might turne to Gods dishonour, if he did not defend his.
d The mercie of God is the cause of our saluation.
e Both by the benefites past and by others to come.

HOw long wilt thou forget me, O Lord, a for euer? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take b counsell within my selfe, hauing wearinesse dayly in mine heart? how long shall mine enemie be exalted aboue me?

3 Beholde, and heare me, O Lorde my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death:

4 Lest mine enemie say, I haue c preuailed against him: and they that afflict me, reioyce when I slide.

5 But I trust in thy d mercie: mine heart shall reioyce in thy saluation: I will sing to the Lord, because he hath e dealt louingly with me.

PSAL. XIIII.

1 He describeth the peruerse nature of men, which were so growen to licentiousnes, that God was brought to vtter contempt. 7 For the which thing although he was greatly grieued, yet being perswaded that God would send some present remedie, hee comforteth himselfe and others.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

Psal. 53. 1.
a He sheweth that the cause of all wickednesse is to forget God.
b There is nothing but disorder & wickednes among them.
c Dauid here maketh comparison betweene the faithful & the reprobate: but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10.

THE * foole hath said in his heart, a There is no God: they haue b corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke God.

3 c All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Doe not all the workers of iniquitie knowe that they eate vp my people, as they eate bread? they call not vpon the Lorde.

5 d There they shall be taken with feare, because God is in the generation of the iust.

6 You haue made e a mocke at the counsell of the poore, because the Lord is his trust.

7 Oh giue saluation vnto f Israel out of Sion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakob shall reioyce, and Israel shall be glad.

¶ Note that of this 14. Psalme, the 3. 6. and 7. verses which are put into the common translation, and that seeme vnto some to be left out in this, are not in the same Psalme in the Hebrewe text, but are rather put in, more fully to expresse the maners of the wicked: & are gathered out of the 5. 140 and 10. Psalmes, the 59. of the Prophet Isaiah, and the 36. Psalme, and are alledged by S. Paul, and placed together in the 3. to the Romanes.

d Where they thinke themselues most sure.
e You mocke them that put their trust in God.
f He prayeth for his whole Church whom he is assured God will deliuer: for none but he onely can doe it.

PSAL. XV.

1 This Psalme teacheth on what condition God did chuse the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightly and godly, might witnesse that they were his special and holy people.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

LOrde, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle? who shall rest in thine holy Mountaine?

2 He that a walketh vprightly and worketh righteousnesse, and speaketh the trueth in his heart.

3 Hee that slaundereth not with his tongue, nor doeth euill to his neighbour, nor receiueth a false reporte against his neighbour.

4 b In whose eyes a vile person is contemned, but hee honoureth them that feare the Lord: he that sweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.

5 He that c giueth not his money vnto vsurie, nor taketh reward against the innocent: he that doeth these things, d shall neuer be moued.

a First God requireth vprightnes of life, next doing well to others, & thirdly trueth and simplicitie in our wordes.
b He that flattereth not the vngodly in their wickednesse.
c To the hinderance of his neighbour.
d That is, shall not be cast forth of the Church hypocrites.

PSAL. XVI.

1 Dauid prayeth to God for succour, not for his workes, but for his faiths sake. 4 Protesting that he hateth all idolatrie, taking God only for his comfort and felicitie, 8 Who suffereth him to lacke nothing.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation, and thankesgiuing in the entring into his kingdome; wherein he extolleth and prayseth most highly the marueilous mercies and graces of God, who hath thus preserued & defended him. 32 Also hee setteth forth the image of Christes kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquere and ouercome by the vnspeakeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should striue there against.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lorde the wordes of this song (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said,

I Will loue thee dearely, O Lorde my strength.

2 * The Lorde is my rocke, and my fortresse, and hee that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shielde, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge.

2. Sam. 22. 2.

a He vseth this diuersitie of names to shew that as the wicked haue many meanes to hurt, so God hath many wayes to helpe.

3 I will call vpon the Lorde, which is worthy to bee b prayed: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.

b For none can obtaine their requests of God, that ioyne not his glory with their petition.

4 The c sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednesse made mee afraid.

c He speaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies, from the which God hath deliuered him.

5 The ‖ sorowes of the graue haue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertooke me.

‖ Or, coardes, or, cables.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cried vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.

7 d Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines mooued and shooke, because hee was angrie.

d A description of the wrath of God against his enemies after he had heard his prayers.

8 Smoke went out of his nostrils, and a e consuming fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

e He sheweth how horrible Gods iudgements shalbe to the wicked.

9 Hee bowed the heauens also and came downe, and f darkenes was vnder his feete.

f Darkenesse signifieth the wrath of God, as the cleare light signifieth Gods fauour.

10 And he rode vpon g Cherub and did flie, and hee came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenesse his h secret place, and his paullion rounde about him, euen darkenes of waters, & cloudes of the ayre.

12 At the brightnesse of his presence his clouds passed, hailestones and coles of fire.

13 The Lorde also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue i his voyce, hailestones and coles of fire.

14 Then hee sent out k his arrowes and scattered them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.

g This is described at large, Psalm. 104.

h As a King angry with the people, will not shew himselfe vnto them.

i Thundred, lightned, and hailed.

k His lightnings.

15 And

15 And the chanels of waters were seene, and the l foundations of the worlde were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lorde, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrels.

16 Hee hath sent downe from above, and taken mee: he hath drawen me out of many m waters.

17 Hee hath deliuered mee from my n strong enemie, and from them which hate me: for they were o too strong for me.

18 They preuented mee in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.

19 Hee brought mee forth also into a large place: p he deliuered mee, because hee fauoured me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my q righteousnesse: according to the pureness of mine hands he recompensed me:

21 Because I kept the waies of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.

22 For all his lawes were before mee, and I did not cast away his r commandements from me.

23 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my s wickednesse.

24 Therefore the Lord rewarded me according to my righteousnesse, and according to the pureness of mine handes in his sight.

25 With the t godly thou wilt shew thy selfe godly: and with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy selfe pure, and with the froward thou wilt shew thy selfe froward.

27 Thus thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt u cast downe the proud lookes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenes.

29 For by thee I haue x broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The way of God is vncorrupt: the y word of the Lord is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.

31 For who is God besides the Lorde? and who is mightie saue our God?

32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my z way vpright.

33 He maketh my feete like hindes feete, and setteth me vpon mine a high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: so that a bowe of b brasse is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou hast also giuen mee the c shield of thy saluation, and thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy c louing kindenesse hath caused me to increase.

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me, and mine feeles haue not slid.

37 d I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.

38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.

39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battell: them, that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.

40 And thou hast e giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me.

41 They f cryed, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lorde, but hee answered them not.

42 Then did I beate them small as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.

43 Thou hast deliuered mee from the contentions of the people: thou hast made mee the head of the g heathen: a people, whom I haue not h knowen, shall serue mee.

44 As soone as they heare, they shall obey me: the strangers shall i be in the subiection to me.

45 Strangers shall k shrinke away, and feare in their paule chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and blessed be my strength, and the God of my saluation bee exalted.

47 It is God that giueth mee power to auenge me, & subdueth the people vnder me.

48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set mee vp from them, that rose against mee: thou hast deliuered mee from the l cruell man.

49 Therefore m I will praise thee, O Lord, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.

50 Great deliuerances giueth hee vnto his king, & sheweth mercy to his anointed, euen to Dauid, and to his n seede for euer.

l That is, the deepe bottoms were seene, when the red sea was deuided.
m Out of sundry and great dangers.
n To wit, Saul.
o Therefore God sent mee succour.
p The cause of Gods deliuerãce is his only fauour and loue to vs.
q Dauid was sure of his righteous cause and good behauiour toward Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of Gods fauour and deliuerance.
r For all his dangers he exercised himselfe in the Lawe of God.
s I neither gaue place to their wicked tentations, nor to mine owne affections.
t Here he speaketh of God according to our capacitie, who sheweth mercie to his, and punisheth the wicked, as is sayde also, Leuit. 26. 21, 24.
u When their sinne is come to the full measure.
x Hee attributeth it to God, that he both gate the victorie in the field, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.
y Be the dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promise must take effect.
z Hee giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.
a Astowres and forts, which he tooke out of the hands of Gods enemies. ‖ Or, steele.
b To defend me from dangers.
c He attributeth the beginning, continuance and increase in weldoing, only to Gods fauour.
d Dauid declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods Spirite to execute his iudgements.
e Thou hast giuen them into mine hands to be slaine.
f They that reie & the crie of the afflicted, God will also reie & them, when they crie for helpe: for either paine or feare cause those hypocrites to crie.
g Which dwell round about me.
h The kingdome of Christ is in Dauids kingdome prefigured: who by the preaching of his word bringeth all to his subiection.
i Or, lie: signifying a subiection constrained and not voluntarie.
k Feare shal cause them to be afraid and come foorth of their secret holes and holds to seeke pardon.
l That is, Saul, who oft n alice persecuted him.
m This prophecie appertaineth to the kingdome of Christ, and vocation of the Gentiles, as Rom. 15. 9.
n This did not properly appertaine to Salomon, but to Iesus Christ.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the intent hee might moone the faithfull to a deeper consideration of Gods glory, he setteth before their eies the most exquisite workemanship of the heauens with their proportion, and ornaments: 8 And afterward calleth them to the Law, wherein God hath reuealed himselfe more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law he setteth foorth more at large.

¶ To him p excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe a heauens declare the glorie of God, and the firmament sheweth the worke of his hands.

2 Day vnto day vttereth the same, and night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speach nor language, where their voice is not heard.

4 Their b line is gone forth through all the earth, and their words into the endes of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

5 Which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his c chamber, & reioyceth like a He reprocheth vnto man his ingratitude, seeing the heauens, which are dumb creatures, set foorth Gods glory.

Rom. 1. 20.

b The continual successe of the day and night is sufficient to declare Gods power and goodnesse.
c The heauens are a Schoolemaister to all nations, be they neuer so barbarous.
d The heauens are as a litle of great capitall letters to shew vnto vs Gods glory.
e Or, vaile. The maner was, that the bride and bridegrome should stand vnder vaile together, and after come forth with great solemnitie and reioycing of the assembly.

a mightie

a mightie man to runne his race.

6 His going out is from the ende of the heauen, and his compasse is vnto the endes of the same, and none is hid from the heate thereof.

7 The [f] Law of the Lord is perfect, conuerting the soule: the testimony of the Lord is sure, [g] giueth wisedome vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and reioyce the heart: the comandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are [s] trueth: they are righteous [h] altogether,

10 And more to be [i] desired then golde, yea, then much fine gold: sweeter also then honie and the honie combe.

11 Moreouer by them is thy seruaunt made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great [k] reward.

12 Who can vnderstande his [l] faultes? cleanse me from secret faults.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from [m] presumptuous sinnes: let them not reigne ouer me: [n] so shall I be vpright, and made cleane from much wickednesse.

14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the [o] meditation of mine heart, bee acceptable in thy sight, O Lorde, my strength, and my redeemer.

f Though the creatures can not serue, yet this ought to be sufficient to leade vs vnto him.
g So that all mans inuentions and intentions are lies.
h Euery one without exception.
i Except Gods word be esteemed aboue all worldly things, it is contemned.
k For God accepteth our indeuour, though it be farre vnperfect.
l Then there is no reward of duetie, but of grace: for where sinne is, there death is the reward.
m Which are done purposely and of malice.
n If thou suppresse my wicked affections by thine holy Spirit.
o That I may obey thee in thought, word and deed.

PSAL. XX.

1 A prayer of the people vnto God, that it would please him to heare their King, and receiue his sacrifice, which he offred before he went to battel against the Ammonites.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

a Hereby kings are also admonished to call to God in their affaires.
b The vertue, power, and grace of God.
c In token that they are acceptable vnto him.
d Granted to the king, in whose wealth our felicitie standeth.
e The Church feeleth that God hath heard their petition.
f As by the visible Sanctuarie Gods familiaritie appeared toward his people, so by the heauenly is meant his power and maiestie.
g The worldlings that put not their onely trust in God.
h Let the King be able to deliuer vs by thy strength, when we seeke vnto him for succour.

THe [a] Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the [b] Name of the God of Iaakob defend thee:

2 Sende thee helpe from the Sanctuarie, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and [c] turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And graunt thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose:

5 That we may reioyce in thy [d] saluation, and set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Nowe [e] knowe I that the Lord will helpe his anointed, and will heare him, from his [f] Sanctuarie by the mightie helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 [g] They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lord: [h] let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid in the person of the people prayseth God for the victorie, attributing it to God, & not to the strength of mã. Wherin the holy Ghost directeth the faithful to Christ who is ỹ perfectiõ of this kingdom.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe King shall [a] reioyce in thy strength O Lord: yea, how greatly shall hee reioyce in thy saluation!

2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire, and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou [b] diddest preuent him with liberall blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 [c] He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: dignitie and honour hast thou laide vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him as [d] blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 Because the King trusteth in the Lord, and in the mercie of the most High, he shall not slide.

8 [e] Thine hand shall finde out all thine enemies, and thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fierie ouen in time of thine anger: the Lorde shall destroy them in his [f] wrath, and the fire shal deuoure them.

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seede from the children of men.

11 For they [g] intended euill against thee, and imagined mischiefe, but they shall not preuaile.

12 Therfore shalt thou put them [h] apart, and the strings of thy bow shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 [i] Be thou exalted, O Lorde, in thy strength: so will we sing & praise thy power.

a When he shall ouercome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.
b Thou declaredst thy liberall fauour towarde him before he prayed.
c Dauid did not onely obteine life, but also assurance that his posteritie should reigne for euer.
d Thou hast made him thy blessings to others, and a perpetuall example of thy fauour for euer.
e Here he describeth the power of Christes kingdome against the enemies thereof.
f This teacheth vs patiently to endure the crosse till God destroy the aduersarie.
g They layd as it were their nets to make Gods power to giue place to their wicked enterprises.
h As a marke to shoote at.
i Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

PSAL. XXII.

1 Dauid complained because he was brought into such extremities, that he was past all hope, but after he had rehearsed the sorowes and griefes wherewith he was vexed, 10 Hee recouereth himselfe from the bottomlesse pit of tentations, & groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whome hee did foresee by the Spirit of prophecie, that he should marueilously and strangely be deiected, and abased, before his Father should raise and exalt him againe.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon ‖ Aijeleth Hashshahar. A Psalme of Dauid.

‖ Or, the hinde of the morning, and this was the name of some common song.

MY [a] God, my God, why hast thou forsaken mee, and art so farre from mine health, and from the wordes of my [b] roaring.

2 O my God, I crie by day, but thou heerest not, and by night, but ‖ haue no audience.

a Here appeareth that horrible conflict, which he sustained betweene faith and desperation.
b Being tormented with extreme anguish.
‖ Or, I cease not.

c He meaneth the place of praiſing, euen the Tabernacle: or els it is ſo called, becauſe he gaue the people continually occaſion to prayſe him.

d And ſeeming moſt miſerable of all creatures, which was ment of Chriſt. And herein appeareth the vnſpeakable loue of God toward man, that he would thus abaſe his ſonne for our ſakes.

‡ Ebr. rolled vpon God. Matth. 27. 43.

e Euen from my birth thou haſt giuen me occaſion to truſt in thee.

f For except Gods prouidence preſerue the infant, they ſhould periſh a thouſand times in the mothers wombe.

g He meaneth, that his enemies were ſo fatte, proud and cruell, that they were rather beaſts then men.

h Before, hee ſpake of the cruelties of the enemies, and nowe he declareth the inwarde griefes of the minde, ſo that Chriſt was tormented, both in ſoule and body.

i Thou haſt ſuffered me to be without all hope of life.

k Thus Dauid complayneth as though he were nayled by his enemies both handes and feete: but this was accompliſhed in Chriſt.

l My life that is ſolitarie, left alone and forſaken of all, Pſal. 35. 17. and 25. 16.

m Chriſt is deliuered with a more mightie deliuerance by ouercomming death, then if he had not taſted death at all. Hebr. 2. 12.

n He promiſeth to exhort the Church, that they by his example might prayſe the Lorde.

o The poore afflicted are comforted by this example of Dauid, or Chriſt.

the c prayſes of Iſrael.

4 Our fathers truſted in thee: they truſted, and thou didſt deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they truſted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a d woorme, and not a man: a ſhame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that ſeeme, haue mee in derition: they make a mowe and nod the head, ſaying,

8 ‡ * He truſted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him ſaue him, ſeeing he loueth him.

9 But thou didſt drawe me out of the e woombe: thou gaueſt me hope, euen at my mothers breſts.

10 I was caſt vpon thee, euen from f the woombe: thou art my God from my mothers bellie.

11 Be not farre from me, becauſe trouble is neere: for there is none to helpe me.

12 Many young bulles haue compaſſed me: mightie g Bulles of Baſhan haue cloſed me about.

13 They gape vpon mee with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lion.

14 I am like h water powred out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.

15 My ſtrength is dryed vp like a potſheard, and my tongue cleaueth to my tawes, and thou haſt brought me into the duſt of death.

16 For dogges haue compaſſed me, and the aſſemblie of the wicked haue incloſed mee: they k pierced mine handes and my feete.

17 I may tell all my bones: yet they beholde, and looke vpon me.

18 They part my garmentes among them, and caſt lots vpon my veſture.

19 But be not thou farre off, O Lorde, my ſtrength: haſten to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my ſoule from the ſword: my l deſolate ſoule from the power of the dog.

21 m Saue mee from the lyons mouth, and anſwere me in ſauing me from ỹ hornes of the vnicornes.

22 * I will declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the midſt of the Congregation will I prayſe thee, ſaying, 23 * Prayſe the Lorde, yee that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the ſeede of Iaakob, and feare yee him, all the ſeede of Iſrael.

24 For hee hath not deſpiſed nor abhorred the affliction of the o poore: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when hee called vnto him, he heard.

25 My prayſe ſhall be of thee in the great Congregation: my p vowes will I performe before them that feare him.

26 ¶ The poore ſhall eate and be ſatisfied: they that ſeeke after the Lord, ſhall prayſe him: your heart ſhall liue for euer.

27 All the endes of the worlde ſhall remember themſelues, and turne to the Lorde: and all the kinreds of the nations ſhall worſhip before thee.

28 For the kingdome is the Lordes, and he ruleth among the nations.

29 All they that be fat in the earth, ſhall eate and worſhip: all they that goe downe into the duſt, ſhall bowe before him, q euen he that cannot quicken his owne ſoule.

30 r Their ſeede ſhall ſerue him: it ſhal be counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

31 They ſhall come, and ſhall declare his righteouſneſſe vnto a people that ſhall bee borne, becauſe he hath s done it.

p Which were ſacrifices of thankeſgiuing, which they offered by Gods commandement, when they were deliuered out of any great danger.

q Hee doeth allude ſtill to the ſacrifice.

r Though the poore be firſt named, as verſ. 26. yet the wealthie are not ſeparated from the grace of Chriſtes kingdome.

ſ In whome there is no hope that hee ſhall recouer life: ſo neither poore nor rich, quicke nor dead ſhal be reiected from his kingdome.

t Meaning, the poſteritie, which the Lorde keepeth as a ſeede to the Church to continue his prayſe among men.

u That is, God hath fulfilled his promiſe.

1 Albeit the Lorde God hath made, and gouerneth all the worlde, yet toward his choſen people his gratious goodneſſe doeth moſt abundantly appeare, in that among them he will haue his dwelling place. Which though it was appointed among the children of Abraham, yet only they doe enter aright into this Sanctuarie, which are the true worſhippers of God, purged from the ſinfull filth of this worlde. 7 Finally he magnifieth Gods grace for the building of the Temple, to the ende he might ſtirre vp all the faithfull to the true ſeruice of God.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

THe earth *is the Lords, t al that therein is: the world & they that dwell therein.

Deut. 10. 14. iob 28. 24. 1. cor. 10. 26.

2 For a Hee noteth two things: the one, that the earth to mans iudgement seemeth aboue the waters: and next, that God miraculously preserueth the earth, that it is not drowned with the waters, which naturally are aboue it.

b Though circumcision separate the carnall seede of Iaakob from the Gentiles, yet he that seeketh God, is the true Iaakob and the very Israelite.
c Dauid desireth the building vp of the Temple, wherein the glory of God should appeare: and vnder the figure of this Temple, he also prayeth for the spirituall Temple, which is eternall, because of the promise which was made to the Temple, as it is written, Psal. 132.14.

2 For he hath founded it vpon the [a] seas: and established it vpon the floods.
3 Who shall ascend into the mountaine of the LORD? and who shall stand in his holy place?
4 Euen he that hath innocent handes, and a pure heart: which hath not lift vp his minde vnto vanitie, nor sworne deceitfully.
5 Hee shall receiue a blessing from the LORDE, and righteousnesse from the God of his saluation.
6 This is the [b] generation of them that seeke him, of them that seeke thy face, this is Iaakob. Selah.
7 [c] Lift vp your heads, ye gates, and be ye lift vp yee euerlasting doores, and the King of glory shall come in.
8 Who is this King of glory? the LORD, strong and mightie, euen the LORDE mightie in battell.
9 Lift vp your heads, yee gates, and lift vp your selues, ye euerlasting doores, and the King of glory shall come in.
10 Who is the King of glory? the LORDE of hostes, he is the King of glory. Selah.

PSAL. XXV.

1 The Prophet touched with the consideration of his sinnes, and also grieued with the cruell malice of his enemies, 6 Prayeth to God most feruently to haue his sinnes forgiuen, 7 Especially such as he had committed in his youth. Hee beginneth euery verse according to the Ebrewe letters, two or three except.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

UNto thee, [a] O LORD, lift I vp my soule.
2 My God, I [b] trust in thee: let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer me.
3 * So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed: but let them be confounded, that transgresse without cause.
4 [c] Shewe me thy wayes, O LORD, and teach me thy paths.
5 Leade me forth in thy trueth, and teach mee: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee doe I trust [d] all the day.
6 Remember, O LORDE, thy tender mercies, and thy louing kindnesse: for they haue bene for euer.
7 Remember not the [e] sinnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindenesse remember thou me, euen for thy goodnesse sake, O LORDE.
8 Gratious and righteous is the LORDE: therefore will hee [f] teach sinners in the way.
9 Them that be meeke, will he [g] guide in iudgement, and teach the humble his way.
10 All the paths of the LORDE are mercie and trueth vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.

a I put not my trust in any worldly thing.
b That thou wilt take away mine enemies, which are thy rodes, Isa. 28.26, rom. 10.11.
c Reteine mee in the faith of thy promes, that I swarue not on any side.
d Constantly, and against all tentations.
e He confesseth that his manifolde sinnes were the cause that his enemies did thus persecute him, desiring that the cause of the euill may be taken away, to the intent that the effect may cease.
f That is, call them to repentance. g He wil gouerne and comfort them that are truely humbled for their sinnes.

11 For thy [h] Names sake, O LORDE, be merciful vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.
12 What [i] man is hee that feareth the LORD? him will hee teach the way that hee shall [k] chuse.
13 His soule shall dwell [l] at ease, and his seede shall inherite the land.
14 The [m] secret of the LORD is reueiled to them that feare him: and his couenant to giue them vnderstanding.
15 Mine eyes are euer toward the LORDE: for he will bring my feete out of the net.
16 Turne thy face vnto me, & haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.
17 The sorowes of mine heart [n] are enlarged: draw me out of my troubles.
18 Looke vpon mine affliction and my trauell, and forgiue all my sinnes.
19 Beholde mine [o] enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruell hatred.
20 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee.
21 Let [p] mine vprightnesse and equitie preserue me: for mine hope is in thee.
22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSAL. XXVI.

1 Dauid oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and assured of his integritie towarde Saul, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defend his innocencie. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to bee in the company of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whence hee was banished by Saul, promising integritie of life, and open prayses and thankesgiuing.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

IUdge me, [a] O LORD, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my trust hath bene also in the LORD: therefore shall I not slide.
2 Proue me, O LORD, and trie me: examine my [b] reines, and mine heart.
3 For thy [c] louing kindenesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy trueth.
4 I haue not [d] haunted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.
5 I haue hated the assemblie of the euill, and haue not companied with the wicked.
6 I will [e] wash mine hands in innocencie, O LORD, and compasse thine altar,
7 That I may declare with the voyce of thankesgiuing, and set forth all thy wonderous workes.
8 O LORDE, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9 [f] Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloody men:

a He fleeth to God to be the Iudge of his iust cause, seeing there is no equitie among men.
b My very affections and inward motions of the heart.
c He sheweth what stayed him, that hee did not recompence euill for euill.
d He declareth that they cannot walke in simplicitie before God, that delight in the company of the vngodly.
e I will serue thee with a pure affection, and with the godly that sacrifice vnto thee.
f Destroy mee not in the ouerthrow of the wicked.

g Whoſe cruell hands doe execute the malicious deuices of their hearts.
h I am preſerued from mine enemie by the power of God, and therefore will prayſe him openly.

10 In whoſe hands is g wickednesse, and their right hand is full of bribes.
11 But I wil walke in mine innocencie: redeeme me therefore, and be mercifull vnto me.
12 My foote ſtandeth in h vprightneſſe: I will prayſe thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh this Pſalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the prayſes and thankeſgiuing annexed: 6 Whereon wee may ſee the conſtant faith of Dauid againſt the aſſaults of all his enemies, 7 And alſo the ende wherefore he deſireth to liue and to be deliuered, onely to worſhip God in his Congregation.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

THe Lord is my a light and my ſaluation, whome ſhall I feare? the Lorde is the ſtrength of my life, of whome ſhall I be afrayd?
2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon mee to eate vp my fleſh, they ſtumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoſte pitched againſt mee, mine heart ſhould not bee afrayd: though warre be raiſed againſt me, I will truſt in b this.
4 c One thing haue I deſired of ỹ Lord, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the houſe of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lorde, and to viſite his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he ſhall hide me in his Tabernacle: in the ſecret place of his pauilion ſhall hee hide me, and ſet me vp vpon a rocke.
6 d And nowe ſhall he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle ſacrifices of ioy: I wil ſing and prayſe the Lord.
7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lord, when I cry: haue mercy alſo vpon mee and heare mee.
8 When thou ſaydeſt, e Seeke ye my face, mine heart anſwered vnto thee, O Lord, I will ſeeke thy face.
9 Hide not therefore thy face from mee, nor caſt thy ſeruant away in diſpleaſure: thou haſt bene my ſuccour: leaue mee not, neither forſake me, O God of my ſaluation.
10 f Though my father and my mother ſhould forſake me, yet the Lord will gather me vp.
11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, & lead me in a right path, becauſe of mine enemies.
12 Giue mee not vnto the g luſt of mine aduerſaries: for there are falſe witneſſes riſen vp againſt me, & ſuch as ſpeake cruelly.
13 I ſhould haue fainted, except I had beleeued to ſee the goodneſſe of the h Lorde in the land of the liuing.
14 i Hope in the Lord: be ſtrong, and he ſhall comfort thine heart, and truſt in the Lorde.

a Becauſe he was aſſured of good ſucceſſe in all his dangers, and that his ſaluation was ſurely layde vp in God, he feared not the tyrannie of his enemies.
b That God will deliuer mee and giue my faith the victorie.
c The loſſe of countrey, wife, and all worldly commodities grieue mee not in reſpect of this one thing, that I may not prayſe thy name in the middes of the congregation.
d Dauid aſſured himſelfe by the Spirite of prophecie, that he ſhould ouercome his enemies and ſerue God in his Tabernacle.
e Hee groundeth vpon Gods promiſe, and ſheweth that he is moſt willing to obey his commaundement.
f He magnifieth Gods loue towardes his, which farre paſſeth the moſt tender loue of parents towardes their children. g But either pacifie their wrath, or bridle their rage. h In this preſent life before I dye, as Iſaiah 38.11. i He exhorteth himſelfe to depend on the Lorde, ſeeing he neuer failed in his promiſes.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare and heauineſſe of heart to ſee God diſhonoured by the wicked, he deſireth to be ridde of them, 4 And cryeth for vengeance againſt them: and at length aſſureth himſelfe, that God hath heard his prayer, 9 Vnto whoſe tuition he commendeth all the faithfull.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

VNto thee, O Lorde, doe I crye: O my ſtrength, be not deafe toward me, leſt, if thou anſwere mee not, I be a like them that goe downe into the pit.
2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I crye vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hands toward thine b holy Oracle.
3 c Drawe mee not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which ſpeake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.
4 d Rewarde them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inuentions: recompenſe them after the worke of their hands: render them their reward.
5 For they regard not the workes of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore e breake them downe, and build them not vp.
6 f Prayſed be the Lorde, for hee hath heard the voyce of my petitions.
7 The Lord is my ſtrength, & my ſhielde: mine heart truſted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart ſhall reioyce, and with my ſong will I prayſe him.
8 The Lord is g their ſtrength, & he is the ſtrength of ỹ deliuerances of his anoynted.
9 Saue thy people, and bleſſe thine inheritance: feede them alſo, and exalt them for euer.

a He counteth himſelfe as a dead man, til God ſhew his fauour toward him, and graunt him his petition.
b Hee vſed this outward meanes to helpe the weakeneſſe of his faith: for in that place was the Arke, and there God promiſed to ſhewe the tokens of his fauour.
c Deſtroy not the good with the bad.
d He thus prayeth in reſpect of Gods glory, and not for his owne cauſe, being aſſured, that God would puniſh the perſecuters of his Church.
e Let them be vtterly deſtroyed, as Mala. 1.4.
f Becauſe he felt the aſſurance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to ſing his prayſes. g Meaning, his ſouldiers, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the world, (which for the moſt part thinke there is no God) 3 At the leaſt to feare him for the thunders and tempeſts, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threateneth ſinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his, and mooueth them thereby to prayſe his Name.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

PSAL. XXX.

1 When Dauid was deliuered from great danger, he rendred thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuere and rigorous towards his children, 7 And also that the fall from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to praise God for euer.

h I thought thou hadst established me in Zion most surely.
i After that thou haddest withdrawen thine helpe, I felt my my miserie.
k Dauid meaneth that the dead are not profitable to the Congregation of the Lord here in earth: therefore he would liue to prayse his Name, which is the ende of mans creation.
l Because thou hast preserued me, that my tongue shall prayse thee, I will not be vnmindfull of my duetie.

¶ * A Psalme or song of the a dedication of the a house of Dauid.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lord: b for thou hast exalted mee, and hast not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lorde my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou hast c restored me.

3 O Lorde, thou hast brought vp my d soule out of the graue: thou hast reuiued me from them that goe downe into the pit.

4 Sing prayses vnto the Lord, yee c his Saints, and giue thankes f before the remembrance of his Holinesse.

5 * For he endureth but a while in his anger: but in his fauour is life: weeping may abide at euening, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my g prosperitie I said, I shall neuer be mooued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnesse haddest made my h mountaine to stand strong: but thou diddest hide thy face, and I i was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lorde, and prayed vnto my Lord.

9 What profite is there in my blood, whē I goe downe to the pit? shall the dust k giue thankes vnto thee? or shall it declare thy truetb?

10 Heare O Lord, and haue mercy vpon me: be thou mine helper.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke and girded me with gladnes.

12 Therefore shall my l tongue prayse thee and not cease: O Lord my God, I will giue thankes vnto thee for euer.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 Dauid deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation hee had by the power of faith, whē death was before his eies, his enemie being ready to take him. 15 Then hee affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally hee exhorth all the faithfull to trust in God, and to loue him, because hee preserueth and strengthened them, as they may see by his example.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

IN* thee, O Lorde, haue I put my trust: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy a righteousnes.

2 Bow downe thine eare to mee: make haste to deliuer mee: bee vnto mee a strong rocke, and an house of defence to saue me.

3 For thou art my rocke and my fortresse: therefore for thy Names sake direct me and guide me.

4 Draw mee out of the b net, that they haue laide priuily for mee: for thou art my strength.

5 Into thine c hand I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of trueth.

6 I haue hated them that giue themselues to deceitfull vanities: for I d trust in the Lord.

7 I will be glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou hast seene my trouble: thou hast knowen my soule in aduersities,

8 And thou hast not shut me vp in y hand of the enemie, but hast set my feete at e large.

9 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lorde: for I am in trouble: mine f eye, my soule and my belly are consumed with griefe.

10 For my life is wasted with heauines, and my yeeres with mourning: my strength faileth for my paine, and my bones are consumed.

11 I was a g reproch among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, h who seeing me in the streete, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken vessell.

13 For I haue heard the railing of i great men: feare was on euery side, while they conspired together against mee, and consulted to take my life.

14 But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, k Thou art my God.

15 My l times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.

16 Make thy face to shine vpon thy seruant, and saue me through thy mercy.

17 Let me not be confounded, O Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confusion, & m to silence in the graue.

18 Let the lying lippes be made dumme, which cruelly, proudly and spitefully speake against the righteous.

19 Howe great is thy goodnesse, which thou n hast layd vp for them, that feare thee, and done to them that trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men!

Psal.71,1.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 Dauid punished with grieuous sickenesse for his sinnes, counteth them blessed, to whom God doth not imputе their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes and obteined pardon, 6 Hee exhorteth the wicked men to liue godly, 11 And the good to reioyce.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid to giue a instruction.

BLessed is he whose wickednesse is b forgiuen, and whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man, vnto whome the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, and in whose spirite there is no guile.

3 When I held my c tongue, my bones consumed, or when I d roared all the day.

4 (For thine hand is heauie vpon me, day and night: and my moysture is turned into the drought of sommer. Selah.

5 Then I e acknowledged my sinne vnto thee, neither hidde I mine iniquitie: for I thought, I will confesse against my selfe my wickednesse vnto the Lord, and thou forgauest the punishment of my sinne. Selah.

6 Therfore shall euery one that is godly, make his prayer vnto thee in a f time when thou mayest be found: surely in the flood of great waters e they shal not come neere him.

7 Thou art my secret place: thou preseruest me from trouble: thou compassest me about with ioyfull deliuerance. Selah.

8 I will h instruct thee, and teach thee in the way, that thou shalt goe, and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 Be ye not like an horse, or like a mule, which vnderstand not: whose i mouthes thou doest binde with bit and bridle, least they come neere thee.

10 Many sorowes shall come to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercie shall compasse him.

11 Be glad ye righteous, and k reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyfull all yee, that are vpright in heart.

a Concerning the free remission of sinnes, which is the chiefest point of our faith.

b To be iustified by faith, is to haue our sinnes freely remitted, and to be reputed iust, Rom. 4. 6.

c Betwene hope and despaire.

d Neither by silence nor crying found I ease: signifying, that before the sinner be reconciled to God, he feeleth a perpetuall torment.

g To wit, the waters, and great dangers. h Dauid promiseth to make the rest of Gods children partakers of the benefits, which hee felt, and that he will diligently looke and take care to direct them in the way of saluation.

i If men can rule brute beastes, thinke they, that God will not bridle and tame their rage? k Hee sheweth, that peace and ioy of conscience in the holy Ghost is the fruite of faith.

PSAL. XXXIII.

Hee exhorteth good men to prayse God, for that he hath not onely created all things, & by his prouidence gouerneth the same, but also is faithfull in his promises. 10 He vnderstandeth mans heart, and scattereth the counsell of the wicked, 16 So that no man can bee preserued by any creature or mans strength: but they that put their confidence in his mercie, shalbe preserued from all aduersities.

REioyce in the Lorde, O ye righteous: for it becometh vpright men to be thankful.

2 Praise the Lord with harpe: sing vnto him with viole, and b instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto him a newe song: sing cheerefully with a loude voyce.

4 For the c worde of the Lord is righteous and all his d workes are faithful.

5 He e loueth righteousnes & iudgement: the earth is ful of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the worde of the Lorde were the heauens made, and all the hoste of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 Hee f gathereth the waters of the sea together as vpon an heape, and laieth vp the depths in his treasures.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lorde: let al them that dwell in the world, feare him.

9 For hee spake, and it was done: hee commanded, and it ‖ stoode.

10 The Lorde breaketh the g counsell of the heathen, and bringeth to nought the deuices of the people.

11 The counsell of the Lorde shall stand for euer, and the thoughts of his heart throughout all ages.

12 Blessed is that nation, whose h God is the Lorde: euen the people, that hee hath chosen for his inheritance.

13 The Lord i looketh downe from heauen, and beholdeth all the children of men.

14 From the habitation of his dwelling he beholdeth all them that dwell in y earth.

15 He k facioneth their hearts euery one, and vnderstandeth all their workes.

16 The l King is not saued by the multitude of an hoste, neither is the mightie man deliuered by great strength.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.

18 Behold, m the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them, that trust in his mercy, 19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserue them in famine.

20 n Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shielde.

21 Surely our heart shal reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.

22 Let thy mercy, O Lorde, be vpon vs, as we trust in thee.

a It is the duetie of the godly to set forth the prayses of God for his mercy and power shewed toward them.

b To sing on instruments was a part of the ceremonial seruice of the Temple, which doeth no more appertaine vnto vs, then the sacrifices, censings and lights.

c That is, counsel or commandement in gouerning the world.

d That is, the effect & execution

e Howsoeuer the world iudgeth of Gods workes, yet hee doeth all things according to iustice and mercy.

‖ Or, was created g No counsell can preuaile against God, but he defeateth it, and it shall haue euill successe.

h Hee sheweth that all our felicitie standeth in this, that the Lord is our God. i Hee prooueth that all things gouerned by Gods prouidence and not by fortune. k Therefore knoweth their wicked enterprises. l If Kings & the mightie of the world caanot be saued by worldly meanes, but onely by Gods prouidence, what haue others to trust in, that haue not like meanes? m God sheweth that toward his of his mercy, which man by meanes is able to compasse. n Thus he speaketh in the name of the whole Church, which onely depend on Gods prouidence.

PSAL. XXXIIII.

1 After Dauid had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Sam. 21. 11. whome in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a generall name to all the kings of the Philistims) he prayseth God for his deliuerance, 3 Prouoking all others by his his example to trust in God, to feare and serue him: 14 Who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 15 And vtterly destroyeth the wicked in their sinnes.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when hee changed his behauiour before Abimelech, who droue him away, and he departed.

I Will [a] alway giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shalbe in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glorie in the Lord: the [b] humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and hee heard mee: yea, he deliuered me out of all my [c] feare.

8 Taste ye and see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The [f] lyons doe lacke, and suffer hunger, but they which seeke the Lord, shall [g] want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto mee: I will teach you the [h] feare of the Lord.

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschewe euill and doe good: seeke peace and followe after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their cry.

16 But the [k] face of the Lord is against them that doe euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lorde is neere vnto them that are of a [l] contrite heart, and will saue such as be afflicted in spirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lorde deliuereth him out of them all.

20 [m] Hee keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the [n] wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

m And as Christ saith, all the haires of his head.
n Their wicked enterprises shall turne to their owne destruction.
o For when they seeme to bee ouercome with great dangers and death it selfe, then God sheweth himselfe their redeemer.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemie to Dauid, all that had any authoritie vnder him, to flatter their king (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whom he praieth God to pleade and to auenge his cause, 8 That they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they laide for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 And that the innocent, which taketh part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his seruant. 28 And so he promiseth to speake foorth the iustice of the Lord, and to magnifie his name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

PLeade thou my [a] cause, O Lorde, with them that striue with mee: fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 [b] Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare, and stoppe the way against them, that persecute me: say vnto my [c] soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord [d] scatter them.

6 Let their way bee darke and slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lorde persecute them.

7 For [e] without cause they haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon [f] him at vnwares, and let his net, that hee hath layd priuily, take him: let him fall into [g] the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shall bee ioyfull in the Lord: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my [h] bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him! yea, the poore, and him that is in miserie, from him that spoyleth him!

11 [i] Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to [k] haue spoyled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting: and my [l] prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewayleth his mother.

15 But in mine [m] aduersity they reioyced, and gathered themselues together: the abiects assembled themselues against mee, and I knew not: they tare [n] me and ceased not,

16 With the false scoffers at [o] bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lorde, howe long wilt thou beholde this? deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my desolate soule from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thankes in a great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against them that did persecute him and slander him.

b Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost attributeth vnto him these outward weapons, to assure vs of his present power.
c Assure me against these tentations, that thou art the authour of my saluation.
d Smite them with the spirite of giddinesse, that their enterprises may bee fooliish, and they receiue iust reward.
e Shewing, that we may not call God to be a reuenger, but onely for his glorie, and when our cause is iust.
f When he promiseth to himselfe peace.
g Which he prepared against the children of God.
h He attributeth his deliuerance onely to God, praising him therefore both in soule and body.
i That would not suffer me to purge my selfe.
k To haue taken from mee all comfort, and brought mee into despaire.
l I prayed for them with inward affection, as I would haue done for my selfe: or, I declared mine affection, with bowing downe mine head.
m When they saw me readie to slip, and as one that had halted for infirmitie.
n With their railing wordes.
o The word signifieth cakes: meaning, that the proude courtiers at their daintie feastes scoffe, raile, and conspire his death.

vniustly reioyce ouer mee, neither let them p winke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speake not as friends: but they imagine deceitfull wordes against the ‖quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on mee with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, q our eye hath seene.

22 Thou hast seene it, O Lord: keepe not silence: be not farre from me, O Lord.

23 Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

24 Iudge mee, O Lord my God, according to thy r righteousnesse, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, s O our soule reioyce: neither let them say, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them bee confounded, and put to shame t together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them bee clothed u with confusion and shame, that lift vp themselues against me.

27 But let them be ioyfull and glad, x that loue my righteousnesse: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the y prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And my tongue shall vtter thy righteousnesse, and thy praise euery day.

p In token of contempt and mocking.

‖Or, clefts of the earth: meaning himselfe & others in their miserie.

q They reioyced as though they had nowe seene Dauid ouerthrowen.

r It is the iustice of God to giue to the oppressers affliction and torment, and to the oppressed, ayde and relieue, 2. Thess. 1. 6.

s Because we haue that, which we sought for, seeing he is destroyed.

t That is, at once, were they neuer so many or mightie.

u This prayer shall alwayes be verified against them, that persecute the faithfull.

x That at least fauour my right, though they be not able to helpe me.

y He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruants, and for the destruction of his aduersaries.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grieuously vexed by the wicked, doeth complaine of their malicious wickednesse. 6 Then he turneth to consider the vnspeakeable goodnesse of God towards all creatures: 9 But specially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinarie course of Gods worke, 13 Who in the ende destroyeth the wicked and saueth the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, the seruant of the Lord.

WIckednesse saith to the wicked man, a euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he b flattereth himselfe in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is founde worthie to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and c deceit: he hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.

4 Hee d imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed: he setteth himselfe vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

5 Thy e mercie, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, & thy faithfulnes vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousnesse is like the ‡ mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great f deepe: thou, Lord, doest saue man & beast.

7 Howe excellent is thy mercie, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shalbe satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extende thy louing kindenesse vnto them that h knowe thee, and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not the i foote of pride come against mee, and let not the hand of the wicked men moouе me.

12 k There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

a I see euidently by his deedes, that sinne pusheth forward the reprobate from wickednesse to wickednesse, albeit he goe about to couer his impietie.

b Though all other detest his vile sinne, yet he himselfe seeth it not.

c The reprobate mocke at wholesome doctrine, and put not difference betweene good and euill.

d by describing at large the nature of the reprobate, hee admonisheth the godly to beware of these vices.

e Though wickednesse seemeth to ouerflowe all the world, yet by thine heauenly prouidence thou gouernest heauen and earth.

‡ Ebr. the mountaine of God: for whatsoeuer is excellent, is thus called.

f The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, and disposeth them, albeit the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the world.

g Onely Gods children haue ynough of all things both concerning this life and the life to come.

h He theweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that knowe him & leade their liues vprightly.

i Let not the proud aduance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked driue me away.

k That is, in their pride, wherein they flatter themselues.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Psalme conteineth exhortation & consolation for the weake, that are grieued at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For howe prosperously soeuer the wicked doe liue for the time, he doth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the ende they are destroyed as his enemies, 11 And howe miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his ende is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and preserued.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

FRet not a thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euil doers.

2 For they shall soone be b cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the greene herbe.

3 c Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwel in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

4 And delight thy selfe in the Lord, and he shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

5 d Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousnesse as the light, and thy e iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lorde, and hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him f which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe also to doe euill.

9 For euill doers shalbe cut off, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

10 h Therefore yet a little while, and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.

11 But * meeke men shall possesse the earth, and shall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 i The wicked practiseth against the iust, and gnasheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lord shall laugh him to scorne: for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawen out the sword, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and needie, and to slay such as be of vpright conuersation.

15 Their sword shall enter into their owne heart, and their bowes shall be broken.

16 A little that the righteous hath, is better then the riches of many wicked.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the vpright, and their inheritance shall endure for euer.

19 They shall not be confounded in the euil time, and in the dayes of famine they shall be satisfied.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be as the fat of lambes: they shall consume, and vanish away like smoke.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not: but the righteous is mercifull, and giueth.

22 For such as be blessed of him shall possesse the earth: but they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.

23 The steppes of a man are directed of the Lord, and he delighteth in his way.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be vtterly cast downe: for the Lord vpholdeth him with his hand.

25 I haue been young, and now am old: yet haue I not seene the righteous forsaken, nor his seede begging bread.

26 He is alwayes mercifull, and lendeth: and his seede is blessed.

27 Depart from euil, and do good, and dwell for euermore.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, and forsaketh not his Saints: they are preserued for euermore: but the seede of the wicked shall be rooted out.

29 The righteous shall possesse the land, and dwell therein for euermore.

30 The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisedome, and his tongue talketh of iudgement.

31 The lawe of his God is in his heart, and none of his steppes shall slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 The Lord will not leaue him in his hand, nor condemne him when he is iudged.

34 Waite on the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall exalt thee to possesse the land: when the wicked shall perish, thou shalt see it.

35 I haue seene the wicked in great power, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Yet he passed away, and lo, he was not: I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 Marke the perfect man, and behold the iust: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the saluation of the righteous is of the Lord, who is their strength in the time of trouble.

40 And the Lord shall helpe them, and deliuer them: he shall deliuer them from the wicked, and saue them, because they trust in him.

a He admoniseth vs neither to vexe our selues for the prosperous estate of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make on state the better.

b For Gods iudgment cutteth downe their state in a moment.

c To trust in God, and to doe according to his will, are sure tokens that his prouidence will neuer faile vs.

d Be not led by thine owne wisdome, but obey God, and he will finish his worke in thee.

e As the hope of the day light cause seth vs not to be ashamed, so ought we patiently to tarie vpon God, and to our right.

f When God suffereth the wicked to prosper, it seemeth to the flesh that he fauoureth their doings, Iob 21. 7. &c.

g Meaning, except he moderate his affections, he shall be led to doe as they doe.

h He correcteth the impatiencie of our nature, which cannot abide till the fulnesse of Gods time bee come. Matt. 5. 5.

i The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne neckes, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, and in the meane while bewaile their sinnes, and offer vp their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience.

iust, and gnasheth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lord shall laugh him to scorne: for he seeth, that his day is comming.

14 The wicked haue drawē their sword, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe the poore and needie, and to slay such as bee of vpright conuersation.

15 But their sworde shall enter in to their owne heart, and their bowes shal be broken.

16 [k] A small thing vnto the iust man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked shall be broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iust mē.

18 The Lord [l] knoweth the dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance shall bee perpetuall.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perillous time, and in the dayes of famine they shall haue [m] ynough.

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lorde shall bee consumed as the [n] fat of Lambes: euen with the smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, and [o] giueth.

22 For such as be blessed of God, shal inherite the lande, and they that be cursed of him, shal be cut off.

23 [p] The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his way.

24 Though he [q] fall, he shall not be cast off: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and am olde: yet I sawe neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his [r] seede begging bread.

26 But hee is euer mercifull and lendeth, and his seede inioyeth the blessing.

27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwel for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, and forsaketh not his saintes: they shall be preserued for euermore: but the seede of the wicked shalbe cut off.

29 The righteous men shall inherite the land, and dwell therein [s] for euer.

30 The [t] mouth of the righteous will speake of wisedome, and his tongue will talke of iudgement.

31 For the law of his God is in his heart, and his steps shall not slide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 But the Lord wil not leaue him in his hand, nor condemne him, when he is [u] iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lorde, and keepe his way, and he shall exalt thee, that thou shalt inherite the lande: when the wicked men shall perish, thou shalt see.

35 I haue seene the wicked strong, and spreading himselfe like a greene bay tree, 36 Yet he [x] passed away, and loe, he was gone, and I sought him, but he could not be found.

37 [y] Marke the vpright man, and beholde the iust: for the ende of that man is peace.

38 But the transgressours shall bee destroyd together, & the end of the wicked shal be cut off.

39 But the [z] saluation of the righteous men shall bee of the Lorde: hee shall bee their strength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lorde shall helpe them, and deliuer them: hee shall deliuer them from the wicked, and shall saue them, because they trust in him.

the ende hath good successe, though for a time God proue them by sundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

1 David lying sicke of some greuous disease, acknowledgeth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 He vttereth the greatnesse of his griefe by many words and circumstances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forsaken of his friendes, euil entreated of his enemies. 22 But in the ende with firme confidence he commendeth his cause to God, and hopeth for speedie help at his hand.

A Psalme of Dauid for [a] remembrance.

O Lorde, rebuke me not in thine [b] anger, neither chastise me in thy wrath.

2 For thyne [c] arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lieth vpon me.

3 There is nothing sound in my flesh, because of thine anger: neither is there rest in my bones, because of my [d] sinne.

4 For [e] mine iniquities are gone ouer mine heade, and as a weightie burden they are too heaue for me.

5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt because of my [f] foolishnes.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very sore: I goe ‖ mourning all the day.

7 For my reines are ful of burning, and there is nothing sound in my flesh.

8 I am weakened and sore broken: I [g] roare for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lorde, I powre my whole desire before thee, and my sighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart [h] panteth: my strength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen [h] they are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friendes stande aside from my plague, and my [i] kinsemen stande a farre off.

12 They also, that seeke after my life, lay snares, and they that goe about to do me euill, talke wicked things and imagine deceite continually.

13 But I as a [k] deafe man heard not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lorde, doe I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I said, Heare me, lest they reioyce

y Hee exhorteth the faithfull to marke diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and also of his iudgements.

z He sheweth that the patient hope of the godly is neuer in vaine, but in a To put himselfe & others in minde of Gods chastisement for sinne.

A penitentiall Psalme

b He desireth not to be exempted from Gods rod, but that hee would somoderate his hand, ‖ he might be able to beare it.

c Thy sickneſſe, wherewith thou hast visited me, d Dauid acknowledgeth God to be iust in his punishments, because his sinnes had deserued much more.

e He confesseth his sinnes, Gods iustice, & maketh prayer his refuge.

f That rather gaue place to mine owne lusts, then to the will of God.

‖ Or, blacke, as one that is disfigured and consumed with sickenesse.

g This example warneth vs neuer to despaire, be the torment neuer so great: but alwayes to crye vnto God with sure trust for deliuerance. ‡ Ebr. runneth about, or, is tossed to and fro: meaning, that he was destitute of all helpe and counsell. h My sight faileth me for very sorowe, i Partly for feare, & partly for pride they denied all duetie & friendship. k For I can haue no audience before men, and therefore patiently waite for the helpe of God.

k For they are dayly fedde as with Manna from heauen, and haue sufficient, when the wicked haue neuer ynough, but euer hunger.

l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, and by what meanes to deliuer them.

m For God will giue them contented mindes, and that which shalbe necessary.

n They shall vanish away suddenly: for they are fed for ỹ day of slaughter.

o God so furnisheth him with his blessing, that he is able to help others.

p God prospereth the faithfull, because they walke in his wayes with an vpright conscience.

q When God doeth exercise his faith with diuers tentations.

r Though the iust man die, yet Gods blessings are extended to his posteritie, and though God suffer some iust man to lacke temporall benefites, yet he recompenseth him with spirituall treasures.

s They shal continually be preserued vnder Gods wings, and haue at least inward rest.

t These three points are required of the faithfull, that their talke be godly, that Gods Lawe be in their heart, and that their life bee vpright.

u For though it bee sometime so expedient both for Gods glory and their saluation, yet hee will approue their cause, and reuenge their wrong. x So that the prosperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vanisheth away in a moment.

l That is, if they see that thou succour me not in time, they will mocke and triumph, as though thou hadst forsaken me.

ouer me: for l when my foote slippeth, they extoll themselues against me.

17 Surely I am ready to m halt, and my sorowe is euer before me.

18 When I declare my paine, and am sorie for my sinne,

19 Then mine n enemies are alive & are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They also that reward euill for good, are mine aduersaries, because I followe o goodnesse.

21 Forsake me not, O Lord: be not thou farre from me, my God.

22 Haste thee to helpe me, O my Lorde, my p saluation.

m I am without hope to recouer my strength.

n In my greatest miserie they most reioyce.

o He had rather haue the hatred of all the worlde, then to faile in any part of his duetie to Godward. p Which art the authour of my saluation: and this declareth that he prayed with sure hope of deliuerance.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 Dauid vttereth with what great greife & bitternesse of minde hee was driuen to these outragious complaints of his infirmities. 2 For hee confesseth that when he had determined silence, that he brast forth yet into words that he would not, through the greatnesse of his griefe. 4 Then hee rehearseth certaine requests with taste of the infirmitie of man, 8 And mixeth with them many prayers: but all doe shew a minde wonderfully troubled, that it may plainely appeare how he did striue mightily against death and desperation.

To the excellent musician a Jeduthun. A Psalme of Dauid.

I Thought, b I will take heede to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth bridled, while the wicked is in my sight.

2 I was dumme and spake nothing: I kept silence euen from good, c and my sorowe was moze stirred.

3 Mine heart was hotte within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and d I spake with my tongue, saying,

4 Lord, let me knowe mine end, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let mee know how long I haue to liue.

5 Behold, thou hast made my dayes as an handbreadth, & mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether e vanitie. Selah.

6 Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.

7 And nowe Lorde, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.

8 Deliuer me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.

9 I should haue bin dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, because f thou didst it.

10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.

11 Whe thou with rebukes doest chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a moth h maketh his beautie to consume: surely euery man is vanitie. Selah.

12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my crye: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner as all my fathers.

13 Stay thine anger from me, that I may recouer my strength, k before I goe hence and be not.

a This was one of the chiefe singers, 1. Chr. 16.41.

b Albeit he had appoynted with himselfe patiently to haue tarried Gods leasure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to breake his purpose.

c Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to change his minde.

d He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatnesse of his sorowes, and the shortnesse of his life.

e Yet Dauid offended in that that hee reasoned with God, as though that he were too seuere toward his weake creature. f Make mee not a mocking stocke to the wicked, or wrappe me not vp with the wicked, when they are put to shame. g Seeing my troubles came of thy prouidence, I ought to haue endured them patiently. h Though thine open plagues light not euermore vpon them, yet thy secret curse continually fretteth them.

i The word signifieth all that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beautie, and in whatsoeuer he hath delight, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. k For his sorowe causeth him to thinke that God will destroy him vtterly: whereby wee see howe hard it is for the very Saintes to keepe a measure in their wordes, when death and despaire assaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 Dauid deliuered from great danger, doth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, & cõmendeth his prouidence towards all mankind. 5 Then doeth hee promise to giue himselfe wholy to Gods seruice, and so declareth how God is truly worshipped. 14 Afterward he giueth thankes & prayseth God, and hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

To him ỹ excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

I Waited a patiently for the Lorde, and he inclined vnto me, and heard my cry.

2 He brought mee also out of the b horrible pit, out of the myrie clay, and set my feete vpon the rocke, & ordered my goings.

3 And he hath put in my mouth c a newe song of prayse vnto our God: many shall see it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.

4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lord his trust, & regardeth d not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.

5 e O Lord my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughtes towardes vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are moe then I am able to expresse.

6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire: (for f mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offering and sinne offering hast thou not required.

7 g Then sayd I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me,

8 I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy lawe is within mine heart.

9 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the h great Congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lippes: O Lord, thou knowest.

10 I haue not hidde thy righteousnesse within mine heart, but I haue declared thy i trueth and thy saluation: I haue not concealed thy mercie and thy trueth from the great Congregation.

11 Withdraw not thou thy tender mercie from me, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy trueth alway preserue me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed mee: my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon mee, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are moe in number a Though God deferred his help, yet hee patiently abode, till he was heard.

b He hath deliuered me from most great dangers.

c That is, a speciall occasion to prayse him: for Gods benefites are so many occasions for vs to prayse his name.

d To follow their example, which he must needes do, ỹ trusteth not only in the Lord.

e Dauid goeth from one kind of Gods fauour, to ỹ contemplation of his prouidence ouer all, & confesseth ỹ his counsels towards vs are farre aboue our capacities: we can not so much as tel them in order.

f Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand the spiritual meaning of the sacrifices: and here Dauid esteemeth ỹ ceremonies of the law nothing in respect of the spirituall seruice.

g When thou hadst opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this ende. h In the Church assembled in the Sanctuarie. i Dauid here numbreth three degrees of our saluatiõ: Gods mercy, wherby he pitieth vs: his righteousnesse, which signifieth his continuall protection: and his trueth, whereby appeareth his constant fauour, so that hereof proceedeth our saluation.

then the haires of mine heade: therefore mine heart hath [k] failed me.

13 Let it please thee, O Lorde, to deliuer me: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them be [l] confounded and put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backwarde and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

15 Let them be [m] destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto mee, Aha, aha.

16 Let all them that seeke thee, reioyce, & be glad in thee: & let them, that loue thy saluation, say alway, [n] The Lord be praised.

17 Though I be poore & needy, the Lord thinketh on mee: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no tarying.

k As touching the iudgement of the flesh, I was vtterly destitute of all counsell: yet faith inwardly mooued mine heart to pray.

l He desireth that Gods mercie may contend for him against the rage of his enemies.

m Let the same shame and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. n As the faithfull alwayes praise God for his benefites: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Dauid being grieuously afflicted, blesseth them, that pitie his case, 9 And complaineth of the treason of his owne friends & familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Iohn 13.18. After hee feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giueth most heartie thankes vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed is hee that [a] iudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lorde shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.

2 The Lord will keepe him, and preserue him aliue: he shalbe blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.

3 The Lord will strengthen him vpon the [b] bed of sorow: thou hast turned all his [c] bed in his sicknesse.

4 Therefore I said, Lord, haue mercy vpon mee: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies [d] speake euill of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, hee speaketh [e] lyes, but his heart heapeth iniquitie vnto him, & when he commeth forth, he telleth it.

7 All they that hate mee, whisper together against me: euen against me doe they imagine mine hurt.

8 [f] A mischiefe is light vpon him, and he that lyeth, shall no more rise.

9 Yea, my [‡] familiar friend, whome I trusted, which did eate of my bread, [g] hath lifted vp the heele against me.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercie vpon me, & raise me vp: so I shall reward them.

11 By this I knowe that thou fauourest me, because mine enemie doeth not triumph against me.

12 And as for mee, thou vpholdest mee [h] in mine integritie, and doest set me before thy face for euer.

13 Blessed bee the Lorde God of Israel world without end. [k] So be it, euen so be it.

a As a treasure to be kept of them which were of the number of the Leuites.

b By these similitudes of thirst and panting he sheweth his feruent desire to serue God in his Temple.

c As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether giuen to weeping.

d That is, how I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrary estate, I die for sorowe.

e Though he susteined grieuous assaults of the flesh to cast him into despaire, yet his faith grounded on Gods accustomed mercies, getteth the victorie.

f That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment among the mountaines.

g Afflictions came so thicke vpon mee, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no ende of our miserie, till God be pacified, and send remedie. h He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come. i That is, I am most grieuously tormented. k This repetition doeth declare that Dauid did not ouercome at once: to teach vs to be constant, forasmuch as God will certainely deliuer his.

i Shewing me euident signes of thy fatherly prouidence.

k By this repetition he stirreth vp the faithfull to praise God.

PSAL. XLII.

1 The Prophet grieuously complaineth, that being letted by his persecutours, he could not be present in the congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And last of all hee sheweth, that he was not so farre ouercome with these sorowes and thoughts, 8 But that hee continually put his confidence in the Lord.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, [a] committed to the sonnes of Korah.

AS the heart brayeth for the riuers of water, so [b] panteth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 [c] My teares haue bene my meate day and night, while they dayly say vnto mee, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembred [d] these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the house of God with the voyce of singing, and prayse, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within me? [e] wayte on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 My God my soule is cast down within me, [f] because I remember thee, from the land of Iorden, and Hermonim, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One [g] deepe calleth an other deepe by the noyse of the water spoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lorde [h] will graunt his louing kindnes in the day, and in the night shall I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

9 I will say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten me? Why goe I mourning, when the enemie oppresseth me?

10 My [i] bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying dayly vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 [k] Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? waite on God: for I will yet giue him thankes: hee is my present helpe, and my God.

a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against the enemies, but chiefly that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.
b That is, the cruel company of mine enemies.
c To wit, thy fauour, which appeareth by the performance of thy promises.
d He promiseth to offer a solemne sacrifice of thankesgiuing in token of his great deliuerance.
e Whereby hee admonisheth the faithfull not to relent, but constantly to waite on the Lorde, though their troubles bee long and great.

a Iudge me, O God, and defend my cause against the vnmercifull b people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.
2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put mee away? why goe I so mourning, when the enemie oppresseth mee?
3 Sende thy c light and thy trueth: let them lead me: let them bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.
4 Then d wil I go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy and gladnesse: and vpon the harpe wil I giue thankes vnto thee, O God, my God.
5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? e waite on God: for I will yet giue him thankes, he is my present helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIIII.

1 The faithful remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 9 After, they complaine, because they feele it no more. 17 Also they alleadge the couenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shew what grieuous things they suffred. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a This Psalme seemeth to haue bene made by some excellent Prophet for the vse of the people, when the Church was in extreeme miserie, either at their returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochus, or in such like affliction.
b That is, the Canaanites.
c To wit, our fathers.
d Of Canaan.
e That is, our fathers.
f Gods free mercie and loue is the onely fountaine and beginning of the Church, Deut. 4.37.
g Because thou art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their misery. h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselues, which before they did attribute to their fathers. i As they confessed before, that their strength came of God, so now they acknowledge ỹ this affliction came by his iust iudgement.

a WE haue heard with our eares, O God: our fathers haue told vs the workes, that thou hast done in their dayes, in the olde time:
2 How thou hast driuen out the b heathen with thine hand, and planted c them: howe thou hast destroyed the d people, and caused e them to grow.
3 For they inherited not the lande by their owne sworde, neyther did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hande, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou diddest f fauour them.
4 Thou art my King, O God: send help vnto g Iaakob.
5 h Through thee haue wee thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy name haue wee troden downe them that rose vp against vs.
6 For I doe not trust in my bowe, neyther can my sworde saue me.
7 But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate vs.
8 Therefore will wee praise God continually, and will confesse thy name for euer. Selah.
9 But nowe thou art farre off, and puttest vs to i confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.
10 Thou makest vs to turne backe from the aduersarie, and they, which hate vs, spoyle ‖ for themselues.
11 *Thou giuest vs k as sheepe to bee eaten, & doest scatter vs among the nations.
12 Thou sellest thy people l without gaine, and doest not increase their price.
13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.
14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, and a nodding of the head among the people.
15 My m confusion is daily before mee, and the shame of my face hath couered mee, 16 For the voyce of the slaunderer and rebuker, for the enemie and n auenger.
17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe wee not o forget thee, neither deale wee falsely concerning thy couenant.
18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of ‖ Dragons, and couered vs with the shadowe of death.
20 If wee haue forgotten the name of our God, and holden vp our handes to a p strange God, 21 Shall not God q search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.
22 Surely for thy sake r are wee slaine continually, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.
23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lorde? awake, be not farre off for euer.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our miserie and our affliction?
25 For our soule is s beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.
26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy t mercies sake.

‖ Or, at their pleasure.
Rom. 8.26.
k Knowing God to bee authour of this calamitie, they murmure not, but seeke remedy at his handes, who wounded them.
l As slaues which are solde for a low price, neither looketh thou for him that offereth most, but takest the first chapman.
m I dare not lift vp mine head for shame.
n Meaning, the proude and cruell tyrant.
o They boast not of their vertues, but declare that they rest vpon God in the middes of their afflictions: who punished not now their sinne but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heauenly ioyes.
‖ Or, whales:

meaning the bottomles seas of tentations, here we see the power of faith which can be ouercome by no perils.
p They shew that they honored God aright, because they trusted in him alone.
q They take God to witnesse, that they were vpright to himward.
r The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked punish them not for their sinnes, but for Gods cause, Matt. 5.10. 1. Pet. 4.14.
s The is no hope of recouerie, except thou put to thine hand, and raise vp.
t Which is the onely and sufficient ransome to deliuer both body and soule from all kind of slauery and miserie.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiestie of Salomon, his honour, strength, beauty, riches and power are praised, & also his mariage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman is blessed, 10 If that she can renounce her people, & the loue of hir country, & giue her self wholy to hir husband. Vnder the which figure the wonderful maiesty & increase of the kingdome of Christ, & the church his spouse now taken of the Gentiles is described.

¶ To him that excelleth on a Shoshannim a song of b loue to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a This was a certaine tune or an instrument.
b Of that perfect loue that ought to be betweene the husband and the wife.
c Salomós beautie & eloquence to win fauor with his people, and his power to ouercome his enemies, is here describ-

MY heart wil vtter foorth a good matter: I will intreate in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the penne of a swift writer.
2 Thou art c fairer then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

3 Gird thy sword vpon thy thigh, O most mightie, to wit, thy worship and thy glory,
4 And prosper with thy glory: d ride vpon the worde of trueth & of meekenesse and of righteousnesse: so thy right hande shall teach thee terrible things.
5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pearce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.
6 Thy e throne, O God, is for euer & euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousnesse.
7 Thou louest righteousnesse, and hatest wickednesse, because God, euen thy God hath f anointed thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.
8 All thy garments smell of myrre and aloes, and Cassia, when thou comest out of the yuorie palaces, g where they haue made thee glad.
9 Kings daughters were among thine honourable wiues: vpon thy right hand did stand the h Queene in a vesture of golde of Ophir.
10 i Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.
11 So shall the King haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lorde, and reuerence thou him.
12 And the k daughter of Tyrus with the rich of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.
13 The Kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of broydered golde.
14 Shee shalbe brought vnto the king in rayment of needle worke: the virgines that followe after her, and her companions shall be brought vnto thee.
15 With ioy and gladnesse shall they bee brought, and shall enter into the Kings palace.
16 In steade of thy Fathers shall thy l children be: thou shalt make them princes a through all the earth.
17 I will make thy o Name to bee remembred through all generations: therefore shall the people giue thankes vnto thee world without ende.

d He alludeth to them that ride in chariots in their triumphes, shewing that the quiet estate of a Kingdome standeth in trueth, meekenesse and iustice, not in worldly pompe and vanitie.
e Vnder this figure of this kingdome of iustice is set forth the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.
f Hath established thy kingdome as the figure of Christ, which is the peace and ioy of the Church.
g In the which palace the people made thee ioyfull to see them giue thanks and reioyce for thee.
h Though he had many kings daughters among his wiues, yet he loued Pharaohs daughter best.
i Vnder ỹ figure of Pharaohs daughter hee sheweth that the Church must cast off all carnall affections to obey Christ onely.
k He signifieth that diuers of them that be rich, shall be benefactors to the Church, albeit they giue not perfect obedience to the Gospell. ‖ Or, Zor.
l There is nothing fayned nor hypocriticall, but shee is glorious both within and without: and howbeit the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed onely to their owne ingratitude.
m They shall haue greater graces then their fathers.
n He signifieth the great compasse of Christs kingdome, which shall be sufficient to enrich all his members.
o This must onely be referred to Christ, and not to Salomon.

PSAL. XLVI.

1 A song of triumph or thanksgiuing for the deliuerance of Ierusalem, after Senacherib with his armie was driuen away, or some other like sudden and marueilous deliuerance by the mightie hand of God.
8 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefite, doeth exhort the faithfull to giue themselues wholy into the hand of God, doubting nothing but that vnder his protection they shall bee safe against all the assaults of the enemies, because this is his delite to assuage the rage of the wicked, when they are most busie against the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Alamoth. A song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

GOd is our hope & strength, and helpe in b troubles, ready to be found.
2 Therefore will not we c feare, though the earth be moued, & though the Mountaines fall into the middes of the sea.
3 Though the waters thereof d rage and be troubled, and the mountaines shake at the surges of the same, Selah.
4 Yet there is a e Riuer, whose streames shall make glad the citie of God: euen the Sanctuarie of the Tabernacles of the most High.
5 God is in the mids of it: therefore shall it not be mooued: God shall helpe it f very early.
6 When the nations raged, & the kingdomes were mooued, God ‡ thundred, and the earth melted.
7 The Lord of hostes is g with vs: ỹ God of Iaakob is our refuge. Selah.
8 Come, and beholde the workes of the Lord, h what desolations he hath made in the earth.
9 Hee maketh warres to cease vnto the endes of the worlde: he breaketh the bowe and cutteth the speare, and burneth the chariots with fire.
10 Be i still and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.
11 The Lorde of hostes is with vs: the God of Iaakob is our refuge. Selah.

a Which was eyther a musicall instrument or a solemne tune, vnto the which this Psalme was sung.
‖ Or, protection.
b In all manner of troubles God sheweth his speedie mercie and power in defending his.
c That is, we will not be ouercome with feare.
d Though the afflictions rage neuer so much, yet the riuers of Gods mercies bring sufficient comfort to his.
e The riuer of Shiloah, which passed through Ierusalem: meaning, though the defence seeme neuer so small, yet if God haue appointed it, it is sufficient.
f Alwayes when neede requireth. ‡ Ebr. gaue his voyce.
g They are assured that God can and will defend his Church from all dangers and enemies.
h To wit, how oft he hath destroyed his enemies, and deliuered his people.
i He warneth them that persecute the Church, to cease their crueltie: for else they shall feele that God is too strong for them, against whome they fight.

PSAL. XLVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all people to the worship of the true and euerliuing God, commending the mercie of God toward the posteritie of Iaakob:
9 And after prophecieth of the kingdome of Christ in this time of the Gospel.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

ALl people a clappe your handes: sing aloude vnto God with a ioyfull voyce.
2 For the Lord is high, & terrible: a great King ouer all the earth.
3 He hath b subdued the people vnder vs, and the nations vnder our feete.
4 He hath chosen c our inheritãce for vs: euen the glory of Iaakob whome hee loued. Selah.
5 God is gone vp with triumph, euen the Lord, with the d sound of the trumpet.
6 Sing prayses to God, sing prayses: sing prayses vnto our King, sing prayses.
7 For God is ỹ king of all the earth: sing praises euery one that hath e vnderstanding.

a Here is figured Christ, vnto whome all his should giue willing obedience, and who would shewe himselfe terrible to the wicked.
b He hath made the Iewes, who were the keepers of the Lawe and Prophets, scholemasters to the Gentiles, that they should with gladnesse obey them.
c God hath chosen vs aboue all other nations to enioy a most glorious inheritance.
d Hee doth allude vnto the trumpets that were blowen at solemne feastes: but hee doth further signifie the triumph of Christ and his glorious ascension into the heauens.
e He requireth that vnderstanding be ioyned with singing, lest the name of God be prophaned with vaine crying.

f Hee praiseth Gods highnes, for that he ioyneth the great Princes of the world (whom he calleth shields) to the fellowship of his Church.

8 God reigneth ouer the Heathen: God sitteth vpon his holy throne.

9 The princes of the people are gathered vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for the shieldes of the world belong to God: he f is greatly to be exalted.

PSAL. XLVIII.

1 A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many Kings is mentioned, for the which, thankes are giuen to God, and the state of that citie is praised, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. This Psalme seemeth to bee made in the time of Ahaz, Iosaphat, Asa or Ezechias: for in their times chiefly was the citie by forreine Princes assaulted.

¶ a A song or Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

GReat is the Lord, and greatly to be praised, in the b Citie of our God, euen vpon his holy Mountaine.

2 Mount Zion, lying Northwarde, is faire in situation: it is the c ioy of the whole earth, and the citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is known for a d refuge.

4 For lo, the Kings were e gathered and went together.

5 When they saw f it they marueiled: they were astonied, and suddenly driuen backe.

6 Feare came there vpon them, and sorrow, as vpon a woman in trauaile.

7 As with an East wind thou breakest the ships g of Tarshish, so were they destroyed.

8 As we haue h heard, so haue we seene in the Citie of the Lord of hostes, in the citie of our God: God will stablish it for euer. Selah.

9 We waite for thy louing kindenesse, O God, in the mids of thy temple.

10 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the i worlds ende: thy right hand is full of righteousnesse.

11 Let k mount Zion reioyce, and the daughters of Iudah be glad, because of thy iudgements.

12 l Compasse about Zion, and go round about it, and tell the towres thereof.

13 Marke well the wall thereof: beholde her towers, that ye may tell your posteritie.

14 For this God is our God for euer and euer: he shall be our guide vnto the death.

a Some put this difference betweene a song & Psalme, saying that it is called a song, when there is no instrument, but the voice: & the Psalme, the contrary. The song of the Psalme is when the instruments begin, and the voice followeth. The Psalme of the song, the contrary.

b Albeit God sheweth his wonders through all the world, yet he will be chiefly praised in his Church.

c Because the worde of saluation came thence to all them that should beleeue.

d Except God were the defence thereof, neither situation, nor munition could preuaile.

e They conspired and went against Gods people. f The enemies were afraide at the sight of the citie. g That is, of Cilicia, or of the Sea called Mediterraneum. h To wit, of our fathers, so haue we prooued: or, God hath performed his promise. i In all Places where thy Name shal be heard of, men shal prayse thee, when they heare of thy marueilous workes. k Let Ierusalem and the cities of Iudea reioyce for thy iust iudgements against thine enemies. l For in this outward defence and strength Gods blessings did also appeare: but the chiefe is to be referred to Gods fauour and secrete defence, who neuer leaueth his.

PSAL. XLIX.

1 The holy Ghost calleth all men to ỹ consideratiõ of mans life, 7 Shewing them not to be most blessed, that are most wealthie, & therfore not to be feared: but contrariwise he lifteth vp our minds to consider how all things are ruled by Gods prouidẽce: 14 Who as he iudgeth these worldly misers to euerlasting torments, 15 So doeth he preserue his, and will reward them in the day of the resurrection, 2. Thess. 1, 6.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

HEare a this, all ye people: giue care, all ye that dwell in the world,

2 As well low as hie, both rich and poore.

3 My mouth shall speake of wisdome, & the meditatiõ of my heart is of knowledge.

4 I will incline mine eare to a parable, and vtter my graue matter vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore should I b feare in the euil dayes, when iniquitie shall compasse me about, as at mine heeles?

6 They trust in their c goods, and boast themselues in ỹ multitude of their riches.

7 Yet a man can by no meanes redeeme his brother: hee cannot giue his ransome to God,

8 (So d precious is the redemption of their soules, e and the continuance for euer.)

9 That hee may liue still for euer, and not see the graue.

10 For hee seeth that wise men f die, and also that the ignorant & foolish perish, and leaue their riches for g others.

11 Yet they thinke, their houses, & their habitations shall continue for euer, euen from generation to generation, and ‖ call their landes by their names.

12 But man shall not continue in honour: he is like the h beastes that die.

13 This their way vttereth their foolishnesse: yet their posteritie i delight in their talke. Selah.

14 k Like sheepe they lie in graue: l death deuoureth them, and the righteous shall haue domination ouer them in the m morning: for their beautie shall consume, when they shall goe from their house to graue,

15 But God shall deliuer my soule from the power of the graue: ‖ for he will receiue me. Selah.

16 Bee not thou afraide when one is made rich, and when the glory of his house is increased.

17 * For hee shall take nothing away when he dieth, neither shall his pompe descend after him.

18 For while he liued, ‡ he reioyced himselfe: and n men will prayse thee, when thou makest much of thy selfe.

19 ‖ o He shall enter into the generation of his fathers, p & they shall not liue for euer.

20 Man is in honour, & q vnderstandeth not: he is like to beastes that perish.

a He wil intreate how God gouerneth the worlde by his prouidence which cannot be perceiued by the iudgement of the flesh.

b Though wickednesse reigne & enemies rage, seeing God will execute his iudgements against the wicked in time conuenient.

c To trust in riches is mere madnes, seeing they can neither restore life nor prolong it.

d That is for rare or not to bee found, as prophecie was precious in the dayes of Eli, 1. Sam. 3. 1.

e Meaning, it is impossible to liue for euer: also that life & death are onely in Gods hands.

f In that that death maketh no difference betweene the persons.

g That is, not to their children but to strangers. Yet the wicked profite not by these examples, but still dreame an immortalitie in earth.

‖ Or, labour that their name may be famous in earth.

h As touching the death of the body. i They speake and doe the same thing that their fathers did. k As sheepe are gathered into the folde, so shall they bee brought to the graue. l Because they haue no part of life euerlasting. m Christs comming is as the morning, when the elect shall reigne with Christ their head ouer the wicked. ‖ Or, because he hath receiued mee. Iob 27. 19. 1. Tim. 6. * Ebr. he blessed his soule. n The flatterers praise them that liue in delights and pleasures. ‖ Or, his soule. o And not passe the term appointed for life. p Both they and their fathers shall liue here but a while, and at length die for euer. q Hee condemneth mans ingratitude, who hauing receiued excellent gifts of God, abuseth them like a beast to his owne condemnation.

PSAL. L.

1 Because ỹ Church is alway full of hypocrites, 8 which doe imagine that God will bee worshipped with with outward ceremonies only, without the hearts: & especially the Iewes were of this opinion, because of their figures & ceremonies of the Lawe, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient, 21 Therefore the Prophet doeth reproue this grosse errour, and pronounceth the Name of God to bee blasphemed, where holinesse is set in ceremonies. 23 For he declareth the worship of God to be spirituall, whereof are two principall parts, inuocation, & thankesgiuing.

¶ A Psalme of [a] Asaph.

THe God of Gods, euen the Lorde hath spoken and called the [b] earth from the rising vp of the Sunne vnto the going downe thereof.

2 Out of Zion, which is the [c] perfection of beautie, hath God shined.

3 Our God shall come & shall not keepe silence: [d] a fire shall deuoure before him, and a mightie tempest shalbe mooued round about him.

4 He shal call the heauen aboue, and [e] the earth to iudge his people.

5 Gather my [f] Saints together vnto me, those that make a couenant with mee with [g] sacrifice.

6 And the heauens shal declare his righteousnesse: for God is iudge himselfe. Selah.

7 Heare, O my people, & I will speake: heare, O Israel, & I will testifie vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I wil not [h] reproue thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offerings, that haue not bene continually before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thine house, nor goates out of thy folds.

10 [i] For all the beastes of the forest are mine, and the beasts on a thousand mountaines.

11 I knowe all the fowles on the mountaines: and the wilde beastes of the fielde are mine.

12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the world is mine, and all that therein is.

13 [k] Will I eate the flesh of bulles? or drinke the blood of goates?

14 Offer vnto God praise, and [l] pay thy vowes vnto the most High,

15 And call vpon mee in the day of trouble: so will I deliuer thee, & thou shalt glorifie me.

16 But vnto the wicked saide God, [m] What hast thou to doe to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my couenant in thy mouth, 17 Seeing thou hatest [n] to be reformed, and hast cast my words behind thee?

18 For when thou seest a thiefe, [o] thou runnest with him, and thou art partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou giuest thy mouth to euill, and with thy tongue thou forgest deceit.

20 Thou [p] sittest, and speakest against thy brother, and slaunderest thy mothers sonne.

21 These things hast thou done, & I held my tongue: therefore thou thoughtest that I was like thee: but I will reproue thee, and [q] set them in order before thee.

22 O consider this, ye that forget God, lest I teare you in pieces, and there be none that can deliuer you.

23 He that offereth [r] praise, shall glorifie mee: and to him that [s] disposeth his way aright, will I [t] shew the saluation of God.

a Who was eyther the author, or a chiefe singer, to whom it was committed.
b To pleade against his dissembling people, before heauen and earth.
c Because God had chosen it to haue his Name there called vpon, and also his image shined there in the doctrine of the Lawe.
d As when God gaue his Law in mount Sinai, he appeared terrible with thunder and tempest, so will he appeare terrible to take account for the keeping thereof.
e As witnesses against the hypocrites.
f God in respect of his elect, calleth the whole body holy, saints, and his people.
g Which should know that sacrifices are seales of the couenant betweene God and his people, and not ser religion therein.
h For I passe not for sacrifices, except the true vse be there, which is to confirme your faith in my promises.
i Though he did delite in sacrifice, yet had hee no neede of mans helpe thereunto.
k Though mans life for the infirmitie thereof hath neede of foode, yet God whose life quickeneth all the worlde, hath no neede of such meanes.
l Shewe thy selfe mindefull of Gods benefites by thankesgiuing.
m Why doest thou faine to be of my people, and talkest of my couenant, seeing thou art but an hypocrite?
n And to liue according to my worde.
o He sheweth what are the fruits of them that contemne Gods worde.
p He noteth the crueltie of hypocrites, which spare not in their talke or iudgement their owne mothers sonne.
q I will write all thy wicked deeds in a rolle, and make thee to reade and acknowledge them whether thou wilt or no.
r Vnder the which is contained faith and inuocation.
s As God hath appoynted.
t That is, declare my selfe to bee his Sauiour.

1 When Dauid was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his natural corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memorial thereof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first he desireth God to forgiue his sinnes, 10 And to renue in him his holy spirit, 13 With promise that he wil not be vnmindful of those great graces. 18 Finally, fearing lest God would punish the whole Church for his fault, hee requireth that he would rather increase his graces towards the same.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, when the Prophet Nathan [a] came vnto him, after hee had gone in to Bathsheba.

HAue mercie vpon me, O God, [b] according to thy louing kindnesse: according to the multitude of thy compassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash mee [c] throughly from mine iniquities, and clense me from my sinne.

3 For I [d] knowe mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee only haue I sinned, and done euil in thy sight, that thou mayest bee iust when thou [e] speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.

5 Behold, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.

6 Beholde, thou [f] louest trueth in the inwarde affections: therefore hast thou taught mee wisedome in the secrete of mine heart.

7 Purge me with * hyssope, and I shall bee cleane: wash me, and I shall be whiter then snowe.

8 Make me to heare [g] ioy and gladnes, that the [h] bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce.

9 Hide thy face from my sinnes, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 [i] Create in me a cleane heart, O God, a To reproue him because he had committed so horrible sinnes, and lien in the same without repentance more then a whole yeere.

b As his sinnes were manifolde and great, so he requireth that God woulde giue him the feeling of his excellent and aboundant mercies.
c My sinnes sticke so fast in me, that I haue neede of some singular kinde of washing.
d My conscience accuseth me, so that I can haue no rest, till I be reconciled.
e When thou giuest sentence against sinners, they must needes confesse thee to be iust, and themselues sinners.
f He confesseth that God, who loueth pureneese of heart, may iustly destroy man, who of nature is a sinner, much more him whom he had instructed in his heauenly wisedome. Leuit. 14. 6.
g He meaneth Gods comfortable mercies toward repentant sinners.
h By the bones he vnderstandeth all strength of soule and body, which by cares and mourning are consumed.
i He confesseth that when Gods Spirite is cold in vs, to haue it againe reuiued is as a new creation.

and renue a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the ioy of thy saluation, and stablish me with thy k free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy l wayes vnto the wicked, and sinners shall be conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer mee from m blood, O God, which art the God of my saluation, and my tongue shall sing ioyfully of thy righteousnesse.

15 n Open thou my lippes, O Lord, and my mouth shall shew forth thy prayse.

16 For thou delitest no sacrifice, though I would giue it: thou delitest not in burnt offering.

17 The sacrifices of God are a o contrite spirite: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Bee fauourable vnto p Zion for thy good pleasure: build the walls of Ierusalem.

19 Then shalt thou accept the sacrifices of q righteousnesse, euen the burnt offering and oblation: then shall they offer calues vpon thine altar.

k Which may assure me that I am drawen out of the slauery of sinne.

l He promiseth to endeuour that others by his example may turne to God.

m From the murder of Vriah, & the others that were slaine with him, 2. Sam. 11. 17.

n By giuing me occasion to praise thee, when thou shalt forgiue my sinnes.

o Which is a wounding of the heart, procee-ding of faith, which seeketh vnto God for mercie.

p He prayeth for the whole Church, because through his sinne it was in danger of Gods iudgement.

q That is, iust and lawfull, applyed to their right end, which is the exercise of faith and repentance, PSAL. LII.

1 Dauid describeth the arrogant tyrannie of his aduersarie Doeg: who by false surmises caused Ahimelech with the rest of the Priests to bee slaine. 5 Dauid prophecieth his destruction, 6 And encourageth the faithfull to put their confidence in God, whose iudgements are most sharpe against his aduersaries. 9 And finally he rendreth thankes to God for his deliuerance. In this Psalme liuely set forth the kingdome of Antichrist.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction. When Doeg the Edomite came and shewed Saul, and said to him, Dauid is come to the house of Ahimelech.

WHy boastest thou thy selfe in thy wickednesse, O a man of power? the louing kindnesse of God endureth dayly.

2 Thy tongue imagineth b mischiefe, and is like a sharpe rasor, y cutteth deceitfully.

3 Thou doest loue euill more then good, and lyes, more then to speake the ‡ trueth. Selah.

4 Thou louest all wordes that may destroy, O deceitfull tongue!

5 So shall God c destroy thee for euer: he shall take thee and plucke thee out of thy tabernacle, and d roote thee out of the lande of the liuing. Selah.

6 The e righteous also shall see it, f and feare, and shall laugh at him, saying,

7 Beholde the man that tooke not God for his strength, but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, and put his strength ‖ in his malice.

a O Doeg which hast credite with the tyrant Saul, and hast power to murther the Saints of God.

b Thy malice mooueth thee by craftie flatteries and lies to accuse and de stroy the innocents.

c Though God forbeare for a time, yet at length he will recompense thy falshood.

8 But I shalbe like a s greene olive tree in the house of God: for I trusted in the mercie of God for euer and euer.

9 I will alway praise thee, for that thou hast done h this, & I will hope in thy Name, because it is good before thy Saints.

g He reioyceth to haue a place among the seruants of God, that he may growe in the knowledge of godlinesse.

h Execute this vengeance.

‖ Or, waite vpon thy grace and promise.

PSAL. LIII.

1 Hee describeth the crooked nature, 4 The cruelties, 5 And punishment of the wicked, when they looke not for it, 6 And desireth the deliuerance of the godly, that they may reioyce together.

¶ To him that excelleth on a Mahalath. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction.

THe foole hath said in his heart, There is b no God. they haue corrupted and done abominable wickednesse: there is none that doeth good.

2 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and e seeke God.

3 * Euery one is gone backe: they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

4 Do not the d workers of iniquitie know that they eate vp my people as they eate bread? they call not vpon God.

5 There they were afraid for feare, where no e feare was: for God hath scattered the f bones of him that besieged thee: thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath cast them off.

6 Oh giue saluation vnto Israel out of Zion: when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakob shall reioyce, and Israel shalbe glad.

a Which was an instrument or kinde of note.

b Whereas no regard is had of honestie, or dishonestie, of vertue nor of vice, there the Prophet pronounceth y the people haue no God.

c Whereby he condemneth all knowledge and vnderstanding, that tendeth not to seeke God. Rom. 3. 10.

d Dauid pronounceth Gods vengeance against cruell gouernours, who hauing charge to defend and preserue Gods people, doe most cruelly deuoure them.

e When they thought there was none occasion to feare, the sudden vengeance of God lighted vpon them.

f See the enemies power neuer so great, nor the danger so fearefull, yet God deliuereth his in due time.

PSAL. LIIII.

1 Dauid brought into great danger by the reason of the Ziphims, 5 Calleth vpon the Name of God to destroy his enemies, 6 Promising sacrifice and free offrings for so great deliuerance.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction. When the Ziphims came and sayde vnto Saul, * Is not Dauid hid among vs?

1. Sam. 23. 19.

SAue me, O God, a by thy Name, and by thy power iudge me.

2 O God, heare my prayer: hearken vnto the words of my mouth.

3 For b strangers are risen vp against me, and c tyrants seeke my soule: they haue not set God before them. Selah.

4 Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with d them that vphold my soule.

5 Hee shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: O cut them off in thy e trueth.

6 Then I will sacrifice freely vnto thee: I will praise thy Name, O Lorde, because it is good.

a He declareth that when all meanes doe faile, God will deliuer, euen as it were by miracle, them that call vnto him with an vpright conscience.

b To wit, the Ziphims.

c Saul and his armie, which were like cruell beastes, and could not be satisfied, but by his death.

d Be they neuer so fewe, as he was with Ionathan.

e According to thy faithfull promise for my defence.

f For hypocrites serue God for feare, or vpon conditions.

7 For hee hath deliuered mee out of all trouble, and mine eye hath seene my desire vpon mine enemies.

PSAL. LV.

1 Dauid being in great heauinesse and distresse complaineth of the crueltie of Saul, 13 And of the falsehood of his familiar acquaintance, 17 Vttering most ardent affections to mooue the Lord to pity him. 22 After being assured of deliuerance, hee setteth forth the grace of God as though he had already obteined his request.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction.

HEare a my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, and answere me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse,

3 For the b voyce of the enemie, and for the vexation of the wicked, because c they haue brought iniquitie vpon mee, and furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Feare and trembling are come vpon me, & an horrible feare hath d couered me.

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a doue: then would I e flee away and rest.

7 Behold, I would take my flight farre off, and lodge in the wildernesse. Selah.

8 Hee would make haste for my deliuerance f from the stormie wind and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lorde, and g diuide their tongues: for I haue seene cruelty and strife in the citie.

10 Day and night they goe about it vpon the walles thereof: both h iniquitie and mischiefe are in the middes of it.

11 Wickednes is in the mids thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streetes.

12 Surely mine i enemie did not defame me: for I could haue borne it: neither did mine aduersarie exalt himselfe against me: for I would haue hid me from him.

13 But it was thou, O man, euen my k companion, my guide and my familiar:

14 Which delited in consulting together, and went into the house of God as companions.

15 Let death seaze vpon them: let them l go downe quicke into the graue: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, euen in the mids of them.

16 But I will call vnto God, & the Lord will saue me.

17 Euening and morning, and at noone will I pray, m and make a noyse, and he wil heare my voyce.

18 He hath deliuered my soule in peace from the battell, that was against me: for a many were with me.

19 God shall heare & afflict them, euen he that reigneth of old, Selah, because they o haue no changes, therefore they feare not God.

20 He p laid his hand vpon such, as be at peace with him, and he brake his couenant.

21 The wordes of his mouth were softer then butter, yet warre was in his heart: his wordes were more gentle then oyle, yet they were swords.

22 Cast thy ‖ burden vpon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee: he will not suffer the righteous to fall for q euer.

23 And thou, O God, shalt bring them downe into the pit of corruption: the bloodie and deceitfull men shall not liue r halfe their dayes; but I will trust in thee.

a The earnestnes of his prayer declareth the vehemencie of his griefe, insomuch as he is compelled to burst out into cries.

h For the threatnings of Saul and his adherents.

c They haue defamed me as a wicked person: or, they haue imagined my destruction.

d There was no part of him that was not astonied with extreeme feare.

e Feare had driuen him to so great distresse, that he wished to be hidde in some wildernes and to be banished from that kingdome, which God had promised that he should enioy.

f From the cruel rage and tyranny of Saul.

g As in the confusion of Babylon, when the wicked conspired against God.

h All lawes and good orders are broken, and only vice and dissolution reigneth vnder Saul.

i If mine open enemie had sought mine hurt, I could the better haue auoyded him. k Which was not onely ioyned to me in friendship and counsel in worldly matters, but also in religion. l As Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. m Which signifieth a feruent minde & sure trust to obtaine his petition, which thing made him earnest at all times in prayer. n Euen the Angels of God fought on my side against mine enemies, 2. King. 6. 16. o But their prosperous estate still continueth, p I did not prouoke him, but was at peace with him, yet he made warre against me.

‖ Or, gift: a vowe, which thou wouldest that God should giue thee.

q Though for their bettering and triall he suffer them to slippe, yet their life is for a time. r Though they sometime liue longer, cursed of God, vnquiet and worse then any death.

1 Dauid being brought to Achish the King of Gath, 1. Sam. 21. 12. complayneth of his enemies, demaundeth succour, 3 Putteth his trust in God and in his promises, 12 And promiseth to performe his vowes, which he had taken vpon him, wherof this was the effect, to praise God in his Church.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid on Michtam, concerning the a dumbe doue in a farre countrey, when the Philistims tooke him in Gath.

BE mercifull vnto me, O God, for b man would swallow me vp: hee fighteth continually and vexeth me.

2 Mine enemies would dayly swallowe me vp: for many fight against mee, O thou most high.

3 When I was afraid, I trusted in thee.

4 I will reioyce in God, because of his c worde, I trust in God, and will not feare what flesh can doe vnto me.

5 Mine owne d words greeue mee dayly: all their thoughts are against me to doe mee hurt.

6 e They gather together, & keepe themselues close: they marke my steppes, because they waite to my soule.

7 f They thinke they shall escape by iniquitie: O God, cast these people downe in thine anger.

8 Thou hast counted my wandrings: put my g teares into thy bottell: are they not in thy register?

9 When I crie, then mine enemies shall turne backe: this I know, for God is w me.

10 I will reioyce in God, because of his word: in the Lord will I reioyce because of his worde.

11 In God doe I trust: I will not bee afraid what man can doe vnto me.

12 h Thy vowes are vpon me, O God: I will render prayses vnto thee.

13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death, and also my feete from falling, that I may i walke before God in the k light of the liuing.

a Being chased by the fury of his enemies into a strange countrey, hee was as a dumbe doue, not seeking reuengeance.

b He sheweth that it is eyther now time, or neuer, that God helpe him: for all the world is against him, and ready to deuoure him.

c He stayeth his conscience vpon Gods promise, though he see not present helpe.

d All my counsels haue euill successe, and turne to mine owne sorowe.

e As all the world against one man, and cannot be satiate, except they haue my life.

f They thinke not onely to escape punishment, but the more wicked they are, the more impudent they waxe. g If God keepe the teares of his Saintes in store, much more will hee remember their blood to auenge it: and though tyrants burne the bones, yet can they not blot the teares and blood out of Gods register. h Hauing receiued that which I required, I am bound to pay my vowes of thankesgiuing, as I promised. i As mindefull of his great mercies, and giuing him thankes for the same. k That is, in this life, and light of the sunne.

1 Dauid being in the desert of Ziph, where the inhabitants did betray him, & at length in the same caue with Saul, 2 Calleth most earnestly vnto God with full confidence that he will performe his promise, and take his cause in hand: 5 Also that he will shew his glory in the heauens and the earth against his cruell enemies. 9 Therefore doth he render laud and prayse.

¶ To him that excelleth. [a] Destroy not. A Psalme of Dauid on Michtam. * When he fled from Saul in the caue.

a This was either the beginning of a certeine song, or the words which Dauid vttered, when he stayed his affection. 1. Sam. 24.4. Or, Axel most safe ly.

HAue mercie vpon mee, O God, haue mercie vpon me: for my soule trusteth in thee, and in the shadowe of thy winges will I [b] trust, till these [b] afflictions ouerpasse.

b He compareth the afflictions, which God layeth vpon his children, to a storme that commeth and goeth.

2 I will call vnto the most high God, euen to the God, that [c] performeth his promise toward me.

c Who leaueth not his worke begun vnperfect.

3 He will sende from [d] heauen, and saue mee from the reproofe of him that woulde swallowe mee. Selah. God will sende his mercie, and his trueth.

d He would rather deliuer me by a miracle, then that I should be ouercome.

4 My soule is among lions: I lie among the children of men, [e] are set on fire: whose teeth are [e] speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword.

e He meaneth their calumnies and false reports.

5 [f] Exalt thy self, O God, aboue the heauen, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

f Suffer me not to be destroyed to the contempt of thy Name.

6 They haue layd a net for my steppes: [g] my soule is pressed downe: they haue digged a pit before mee, and are fallen into the middes of it. Selah.

g For very feare, seeing the great danger, on all sides.

7 Mine heart is [h] prepared, O God, mine heart is prepared: I will sing & giue praise.

8 Awake my [i] tongue, awake viole and harpe: I will awake early.

9 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercie is great vnto the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the [k] clouds.

11 Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth.

h That is, wholy bent to giue thee praise for my deliuerance. i Hee sheweth that both his heart shall prayse God, and his tongue shall confesse him, and also that he will vse other meanes to prouoke him selfe forward to the same. k Thy mercies doe not onely appertaine to the Iewes, but also to the Gentiles.

PSAL. LVIII.

1 He describeth the malice of his enemies, the flatterers of Saul, who both secretly & openly sought his destructio, frō whom he appeaseth to gods iudgemēt, 10 Shewing that the iust shall reioyce, whē they see the punishment of the wicked to the glory of God.

¶ To him that excelleth. Destroy not. A Psalme of Dauid on Michtam.

[a] Ye counsellers of Saul, who vnder pretence of consulting for the common wealth, conspire my death being an innocent.

IS it true? O [a] Congregation, speake yee iustly? O sonnes of men, iudge yee vprightly?

2 Yea, rather yee imagine mischiefe in your heart: [b] your handes execute cruelties vpon the earth.

3 The wicked [c] are strangers from the wombe: euen from the belly haue they erred, and spoken lyes.

b Ye are not ashamed to execute that cruelties publikely, which yee haue imagined in your hearts. c That is, enemies to the people of God, euen from their birth.

4 Their poyson is euen like the poyson of a serpent: like the deafe [d] adder that stoppeth his eare.

5 Which heareth not the voyce of the inchanter, though hee bee most expert in charming.

6 Breake their [e] teeth, O God, in their mouthes: breake the iawes of the yong lyons, O Lord.

e Take away all occasions and meanes whereby they hurt.

7 Let them [f] melt like the waters, let them passe away: whē hee shooteth his arrowes, let them be as broken.

f Considering Gods diuine power, he sheweth that God in a moment can destroy their force whereof they bragge.

8 Let them consume like a snayle that melteth, and like the vntimely fruite of a woman, that hath not seene the sunne.

9 [g] As raw flesh before your pots feele the fire of thornes: so let him carry them away as with a whirlewinde in his wrath.

g As flesh is taken rawe out of the pot before the water seethe: so he desireth God to destroy their enterprises, before they bring them to passe.

10 The righteous shall [h] reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: hee shall wash his feete in the [i] blood of the wicked.

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt haue them in derision, and thou shalt laugh at all the heathen.

9 g He is strong: but I will wait vpon thee: for God is my defence.

10 My mercifull God wil h preuent me: God will let mee see my desire vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay them i not, least my people forget it: but scatter them abroad by thy power, and put them downe, O Lord our shield,

12 For the sinne of their mouth, and the wordes of their lippes: and let them be k taken in their pride, euen for their periurie and lies, that they speake.

13 l Consume them in thy wrath: consume them that they be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Iaakob, euen vnto the ends of the world. Selah.

14 And in the euening they m shal goe to and fro, and barke like dogges, and goe about the citie.

15 They shall runne here and there for meate: and surely they shall not be satisfied, though they tarry all night.

16 But I will sing of thy n power, and will prayse thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast bene my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee, O my o Strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and my mercifull God.

PSAL. LX.

1 David being now King ouer Iuda, and hauing had many victories, sheweth by euident signes, that God elected him King, assuring the people that God will prosper them, if they approoue the same. 11 After he prayeth vnto God to finish that, that he hath begunne.

a These were certaine songs after the note whereof this Psalme was sung. 2.Sam.8.1. and 10.1. 1.chron.18.3. ‖Or, Syria, called Mesopotamia. b Called also Sophene which standeth by Euphrates. c For when Saul was not able to resist the enemie, the people fled hither and thither: for they could not be safe in their owne houses. d As cleft with an earthquake. e Thou hast handled thy people sharpely in taking from them sense and iudgement, in that they ayded Saul the wicked King, and pursued him, to whom God had giuen the iust title of the realme,

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Shushan Eduth, or Mitchtam. A Psalme of Dauid to teach. * When hee fought against Aram Naharaim, and against ‖Aram b Zobah, when Ioab returned and slew twelue thousand Edomites in the salt valley.

O God, thou hast cast vs out, thou hast c scattered vs, thou hast bene angrie, turne againe vnto vs.

2 Thou hast made the land to tremble, and hast made it to d gape: heale the breaches thereof, for it is shaken.

3 Thou hast e shewed thy people heauie things: Thou hast made vs to drinke the wine of giddinesse.

4 But nowe thou hast giuen a f banner to them that feare thee, that it may be displayed because of thy trueth. Selah.

5 That thy beloued may bee deliuered, helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his g holines: therefore I will reioyce: I shall deuide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead shalbe mine, & Manasseh shalbe mine: Ephraim also shalbe the h strength of mine head: i Iudah is my lawgiuer.

8 Moab shalbe my k washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: l Palestina shew thy selfe ioyfull for me.

9 Who will lead me into the m strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which haddest cast vs off, and didst not goe forth, O God, with our armes?

11 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God we shall doe valiantly: for he shall treade downe our enemies.

f In making me king, thou hast performed thy promes, which seemed to haue lost the force. g It is so certaine, as if it were spoken by an oracle, that I shall possesse these places, which Saul had left to his children. h For it was strong and well peopled. i Dauid meaneth, that in this tribe his Kingdome shalbe established, Gene.49.10. k In most vile subiection. l For thou wilt dissemble, and faine as though thou weretst glad. m He was assured that God would giue him the strong cities of his enemies, wherein they though themselues sure.

PSAL. LXI.

1 Whether that hee were in danger of the Ammonites, or being pursued of Absalom, here hee cryed to be heard, and deliuered, 7 And confirmed in his kingdome. 8 He promiseth perpetuall prayses.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my crye, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From a the endes of the earth will I crie vnto thee: when mine heart is oppreslt, bring mee vpon the rocke that is b higher then I.

3 For thou hast bene my hope, and a strong tower against the enemie.

4 I will dwell in thy Tabernacle for euer, and my trust shalbe vnder the couering of thy wings. Selah.

5 For thou, O God, c hast heard my desires: thou hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy Name.

6 Thou shalt giue the King a d long life: his yeeres shalbe as many ages.

7 Hee shall dwell before God for euer: prepare e mercie and faithfulnesse, that they may preserue him.

8 So will I alway sing prayse vnto thy Name in performing dayly my vowes.

a From the place, where I was banished, being driuen out of the citie and Temple by my sonne Absalom. b Vnto y which without thy helpe I cannot attaine. c There is nothing that doeth more strengthen our faith, then the remembrance of Gods succour in times past. d This chiefly is referred to Christ, who liueth eternally, not onely in himselfe, but also in his members. e For the stabilitie of my kingdome standeth in thy mercy and trueth.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalme partly containeth meditations, whereby Dauid incourageth himselfe to trust in God, against the assaultes of tentations. And because our mindes are easily drawen frō God by the allurements of the world, hee sharpely reprooueth this vanitie, to the intent he might cleaue fast to the Lord.

¶ To the excellent Musician * Jeduthun. A Psalme of Dauid.

YEt a my soule keepeth silence vnto God: of him commeth my saluation.

1.Chron.16.41. a Though Satan tempted him to murmure against God, yet he bridled his affections, and resting vpon Gods promise, beareth his crosse patiently.

b It appeareth by the oft repetition of this word, that the Prophet abode manifolde tentations, but by resting on God and by patience hee ouercame them all.

c He meaneth himselfe, being the man whom God had appointed to the kingdome.

d Though yee seeme to be in honour, yet God will suddenly destroy you.

e Dauid was greatly moued with these troubles: therefore hee stirreth vp himselfe to trust in God.

f These vehement & often repetitions were necessarie to strengthen his faith against the horrible assaults of Satan. g He admonisheth vs of our wicked nature, which rather hide our sorow, and bite on the bridle, then vtter our griefe to God to obtaine remedie. h Giue your selues wholy to God by putting away all things that are contrary to his Lawe. i He hath plainely borne witnesse of his power, so that none needeth to doubt thereof. k So that the wicked shall feele thy power, and the godly thy mercie.

2 b Yet he is my strength and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not much be mooued.

3 Howe long will ye imagine mischiefe against a c man? ye shalbe all slaine: ye shall be as a bowed wall, or as a d wall shaken.

4 Yet they consult to cast him downe from his dignitie: their delight is in lies, they blesse with their mouthes, but curse with their hearts. Selah.

5 e Yet my soule keepe thou silence vnto God: for mine hope is in him.

6 Yet is he my strength, and my saluation, and my defence: therefore I shall not be mooued.

7 In God is my saluation and my f glorie, the rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.

8 Trust in him alway, ye people: g powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Selah.

9 Yet the children of men are vanitie, the chiefe men are lyes: to lay them vpon a balance they are altogether lighter then vanitie.

10 Trust not in oppression nor in robberie: h be not vaine: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.

11 God spake i once or twise, I haue heard it, that power belongeth vnto God, 12 And to thee, O Lord, mercy: for thou k rewardest euery one according to his worke.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 Dauid after he had bene in great dāger by Saul in the desert of Ziph, made this Psalme, 3 Wherein he giueth thankes to God for his wonderfull deliuerance, in whose mercies hee trusted, euen in the midst of his miseries, 9 Prophecying the destruction of Gods enemies: 11 And contrariwise happinesse to all them that trust in the Lord.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid. When he was in the a wildernesse of Judah.

a To wit, of Ziph, 1. Sam. 23. 14.

O God, thou art my God, earely will I seeke thee: my soule b thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a barren and dry land without water.

b Though hee was both hungry and in great distresse, yet hee made God his sufficiencie, and aboue all meate and drinke.

2 Thus c I behold thee as in the Sanctuarie, when I behold thy power & thy glory.

c In this miserie I exercise my selfe in the contemplation of thy power and glorie, as if I were in thy Sanctuarie.

3 For thy louing kindnesse is better then life: therefore my lippes shall praise thee.

4 Thus will I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp my hands in thy Name.

5 My soule shalbe satisfied, as with d marow and fatnesse, and my mouth shall praise thee with ioyfull lippes, d The remembrance of thy fauour is more sweete vnto me then all the pleasures and dainties of the world.

6 When I remember thee on my bed, and when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.

7 Because thou hast bene my helper, therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wings will I reioyce.

8 My soule e cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeth me.

e He assureth himselfe by the Spirit of God to haue the gift of constancie.

9 Therefore they that seeke my soule to destroy it, they shal go into the lowest parts of the earth.

10 f They shal cast him downe with the edge of the sword, and they shalbe a portion for foxes.

f He propheciethof the destruction of Saul, and them that take his part, whose bodies shal not be buried, but be deuoured with wilde beasts.

11 But the King shall reioyce in God, and all that g sweare by him shall reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shalbe stopped.

g All that sweare by God aright, or professe him, shall reioyce in this worthy King.

PSAL. LXIIII.

1 Dauid prayeth against the furie & false reports of his enemies. 7 He declareth their punishment and destruction, 10 To the comfort of the iust, and the glory of God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my a voyce, O God, in my prayer: preserue my life from feare of the enemie.

a In that he calleth to God with his voyce, it is a signe that his prayer was vehement, and that his life was in danger.

2 Hide me from the b conspiracie of the wicked, and from the c rage of the workers of iniquitie.

b That is, from their secret malice.

c To wit, their outward violence.

3 Which haue whet their tongue like a sword, and shot for their arrowes d bitter wordes:

d False reports and slanders.

4 To shoote at the vpright in secret: they shoote at him suddenly, and e feare not.

e To be without feare of God, and reuerence of man, is a signe of reprobation.

5 They f encourage themselues in a wicked purpose: they commune together to lay snares priuily, and say, Who shall see them?

f The more the wicked see Gods children in miserie, the more bolde and impudent are they in oppressing them.

6 They haue sought out iniquities, and haue accomplished that which they sought out, euen euery one g his secret thoughts, and the depth of his heart.

g There is no way so secrete and subtile to doe hurt, which they inuented not for his destruction. h To set Gods heauie iudgements against them and how he hath caught them in their owne snares. i When they shall consider that he will be fauourable to them, as he was to his seruant Dauid.

7 But God wil shoote an arrow at them suddenly: their strokes shalbe at once.

8 They shall cause their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whosoeuer shall see them, shall h flee away.

9 And all men shal see it, and declare the worke of God, and they shall vnderstand, what he hath wrought.

10 But the righteous i shalbe glad in the Lord, and trust in him: and all that are vpright of heart, shall reioyce.

PSAL. LXV.

1 A prayse and thanksgiuing vnto God by the faithfull, who are signified by Zion, 4 For the chusing, preseruation and gouernance of them, 9 And for the plentifull blessings, powred forth vpon all the earth, but specially toward his Church.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme or song of Dauid.

O God, a prayse waiteth for thee in Zion, & vnto thee shal the vowe be performed.

a Thou giuest dayly newe occasion to thy Church to prayse thee.

2 Because thou hearest the prayer, vnto thee shall b all flesh come.

b Not onely the Iewes, but also the Gentiles in the kingdome of Christ.

c He imputeth it to his sinnes and to the sinnes of the people, that God, who was accustomed to assist them, withdraweth his succour from them.

3 Wicked deedes c haue preuailed against me: but thou wilt bee mercifull vnto our transgressions.

4 Blessed is hee, whome thou chusest, and causest to come to thee: he shall dwell in thy courts, and wee shall bee satisfied with the pleasures of thine House, euen of thine holy Temple.

5 D God of our saluation, thou wilt d answere vs with fearefull signes in thy righteousnesse, O thou the hope of all the endes of the earth, and of them that are farre off in the e sea.

d Thou wilt declare thy selfe to be the preseruer of thy Church in destroying thine enemies, as thou didst in the red sea.

e As of all barbarous nations and farre off.

6 He establisheth the mountaines by his power: and is girded about with strength.

7 He appeaseth the f noyse of the seas and the noise of the waues thereof, and the tumults of the people.

f He sheweth that there is no part nor creature in the world, which is not gouerned by Gods power and prouidence.

8 They also that dwell in the vttermost partes of the earth, shall bee afrayde of thy signes: thou shalt make ‡ the East and the West to reioyce.

‡ Ebr. the going forth of the morning and of the euening.

9 Thou g visitest the earth, and watherest it: thou makest it very rich: the h River of God is full of water: thou preparest them corne: for so thou appointest it.

g To wit, with raine.

h That is, Shiloah, or, the raine.

10 Thou k watherest abundantly the furrowes thereof: thou causest the raine to descend into the valleys thereof: thou makest it soft with showres, and blessest the budde thereof.

i Thou hast appointed the earth to bring foorth foode to mans vse.

11 Thou crownest the yeere with thy goodnesse, and thy steps drop fatnesse.

12 They drop vpon the pastures of the wildernesse: and the hilles shalbe compassed with gladnesse.

13 The pastures are clad with sheepe: the valleys also shall be couered with corne: therefore they shout for ioy, l and sing.

k By this description hee sheweth that all the order of nature is a testimonie of Gods loue toward vs, who causeth all creatures to serue our necessitie.

l That is, the dumbe creatures shall not onely reioyce for a time for Gods benefits, but shall continually sing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He prouoketh all men to praise the Lord, and to consider his works. 6 He setteth forth the power of God to affray the rebels, 10 And sheweth how God hath deliuered Israel from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promiseth to giue sacrifice, 16 And prouoketh all men to heare what God hath done for him, and to prayse his Name.

¶ To him that excelleth. A song or Psalme.

REioyce in God, a all ye inhabitants of the earth.

a He propheciseth that all nations shall come to the knowledge of God, who then was onely knowen in Iudea.

2 Sing foorth the glory of his Name: make his prayse glorious.

3 Say vnto God, How terrible art thou in thy workes! through the greatnesse of thy power shall thine enemies bee b in subiection vnto thee.

b As the faithfull shall obey God willingly: so the infidels for feare shall dissemble themselues to be subiect.

4 All the world shal worship thee, ‡ sing vnto thee, euen sing of thy Name. Selah.

5 c Come and beholde the workes of God: hee is terrible in his doing towarde d the sonnes of men.

c He toucheth the sloughfull dulnesse of man, who is colde in the consideration of Gods works.

d His prouidence is wonderfull in maintaining their estate.

6 He hath turned the Sea into dry land: they passed through the riuer on foote: there did we reioyce in him.

7 He ruleth the worlde with his power: his eyes behold the nations: the rebellious shall not e exalt themselues. Selah.

e Hee proueth that God will extend his grace also to the Gentiles, because he punisheth among them such as will not obey his calling.

8 Prayse our God, ye people, and make the voyce of his prayse to be heard.

9 Which f holdeth our soules in life, and suffereth not our feete to slip.

f He signifieth some speciall benefite, that God had shewed to his Church of the Iewes, in deliuering them from some great danger: whereof, or of the like hee promiseth that the Gentiles shall be partakers.

10 For thou, O God, hast proued vs, thou hast tried vs as siluer is tried.

11 Thou hast brought vs into the snare, and layde a straite chaine vpon our loynes.

12 Thou hast caused men to ride ouer our heads: we went into fire and into water, but thou broughtest vs out into a wealthy place.

13 I wil go into thine h house with burnt offerings, and will pay thee my vowes, g The condition of the Churches here described, which is to be led by Gods prouidence into troubles, to be subiect vnder tyrants, and to enter into manifolde dangers.

14 Which my lips haue promised, and my mouth hath spoken in mine affliction.

15 I will offer vnto thee the burnt offerings of fat rammes with incense: I will prepare bullocks and goats. Selah.

16 i Come and hearken, all ye that feare God, and I will tell you what he hath done to my soule.

h The duetie of the faithfull is here described, which are neuer vnmindfull to render God praise for his benefites.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 k If I regard wickednesse in mine heart, the Lord will not heare me.

i It is not inough to haue receiued Gods benefites and to be mindful thereof, but also we are bound to make others to profit thereby, and prayse God.

k If I delite in wickednesse, God will not heare me: but if I confesse it, he will receiue me.

19 But God hath heard me, and considered the voyce of my prayer.

20 Praysed be God, which hath not put backe my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A prayer of the Church to obtaine the fauour of God & to be lightned with his countenance, 2 To the end that his way & iudgements may be knowen throughout the earth. 7 And finally is declared the kingdome of God, which should be vniuersally erected at the comming of Christ.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme or song.

GOd be mercifull vnto vs, and blesse vs, and a cause his face to shine among vs, (Selah) a That is, moue our hearts with his holy Spirite, that wee may feele his fauour toward vs.

2 That b they may know thy way vpon earth, and thy sauing health among all nations.

b That both Iewes and Gentiles may know Gods couenant made with them.

3 Let the people prayse thee, O God: let all the people prayse thee.

4 c Let the people be glad and reioyce: for thou shalt iudge the people righteously, and gouerne the nations vpon the earth. Selah.

c By these oft repetitions he sheweth, that the people can neuer reioyce sufficiently, and giue thankes for the great benefits that they shall receiue vnder the kingdome of Christ.

5 Let the people prayse thee, O God: let all the people prayse thee.

6 Then shall d the earth bring foorth her d Hee sheweth that where God fauoureth, there shalbe abundance of all other things.

increase,

e When they feele his great benefits both spirituall and corporall towards them.

increase, and God, euen our God shall blesse vs.

7 God shall blesse vs, and all the endes of the earth e shall feare him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 In this Psalme Dauid setteth forth as in a glas the wonderfull mercies of God toward his people: 5 Who by all meanes and most strange sortes declared himselfe to them. 15 And therfore Gods Church by reason of his promises, graces and victories doeth excell without comparison all worldly things. 34 He exhorteth therefore all men to praise God for euer.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme or song of Dauid.

a The Prophet sheweth that albeit God suffreth the wicked tyrants to oppresse his Church for a time, yet at length he will be reuenged of them.

GOD a will arise, and his enemies shall bee scattered: they also that hate him, shall flee before him.

2 As the smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou driue them away: and as waxe melteth before the fire, so shall the wicked perish at the presence of God.

b He sheweth that when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commoditie and saluation of his Church, which praise him therefore.

3 b But the righteous shalbe glad, & reioice before God: yea, they shall leape for ioy.

4 Sing vnto God, and sing prayses vnto his name: exalt him, that rideth vpon the heauens, in his Name c Iah, and reioyce before him.

c Iah and Iehouah are the names of God, which doe signifie his essence and maiestie incomprehensible, so that hereby is declared, that al idoles are but vanitie, and that the God of Israel is the onely true God.

5 Hee is a Father of the fatherlesse, and a Iudge of the widowes, euen God in his holy habitation.

d He giueth children to the that be childelesse, and increaseth their families.

6 God d maketh the solitarie to dwell in families, and deliuereth them that were prisoners in stockes: but the rebellious shall dwell in a e drie land.

e Which is barren of Gods blessings, which before they had abused.

7 f O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people: when thou wentest thorowe the wilderneſſe, (Selah)

f He teacheth that Gods fauour

8 The earth shooke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of this God: euen Sinai was mooued at the presence of God, euen the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sendest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance, and thou didst refresh it when it was wearie.

10 Thy congregation dwelled therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy g goodnesse prepared it for the poore.

g Which is peculiarly belongeth to his Church, as appeareth by their wonderfull deliuerance out of Egypt.

11 The Lorde gaue matter to the h women to tell of the great armie.

h The facion then was, that women sang songs after the victorie, as Miriam, Deborah, Iudith, and others.

12 Kings of the armies did flee: they did flee and i she that remained in the house, deuided the spoyle.

i The praye was so greate, that not onely the souldiers, but women also had part therof.

13 Though yee haue lyen among k pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a Doue that is couered with siluer, and whose feathers are like yelowe golde.

k Though God suffer his Church for a time to lie in blacke darkneſſe, yet he wil restore it, and make it most shining and white.

14 Whe the Almighty scattered Kings l in it, it was white as the snowe in Zalmon.

l In the lande of Canaan, where his Church was.

15 m The mountaine of God is like the mountaine of Bashan: it is an high mountaine, as mount Bashan.

m Zion the Church of God doeth excell all worldly things, not in pompe and outward shew but by the inward grace of God, which there remaineth because of his dwelling there, 16 n Why leape ye, ye high mountaines? as for this Mountaine, God delighteth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord will dwell in it for euer.

n Why boast ye of your strength and beautie against this mountaine of God?

17 The Charets of God are twentie thousande thousand Angels, and the Lorde is among them, as in the Sanctuarie of Sinai.

o as God ouercame the enemies of his Church, tooke them prisoners, and made them tributaries: so Christ, which is God manifested in flesh, subdued Satan and sinne vnder vs, & gaue vnto his Church most liberall giftes of his spirit, Ephes. 4.8.

18 Thou art gone vp on high: thou hast o led captiuitie captiue, and receiued giftes for men: yea, euen the rebellious hast thou led, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Praysed be the Lord, euen the God of our saluation, which ladeth vs dayly with benefits. Selah.

20 This is our God, euen the God that saueth vs: and to the Lorde God belong the p issues of death.

p In most extreme dangers God hath infinite wayes to deliuer his.

21 Surely God will wound the heade of his enemies, and the hairie pate of him that walketh in his sinnes.

22 The Lord hath sayd, I will bring my people againe from q Bashan: I will bring them againe from the depthes of the Sea:

q As he deliuered his Church once from Og o Bashan, & other tyrants, and from the dangers of the red Sea, so will he still doe as oft as necessitie requireth.

23 That thy foote may bee dipped in blood, & the tongue of thy dogs in the blood of the enemies, euen in r it.

r That is, in the blood of that great slaughter, where dogs shall lap blood.

24 They haue seene, O God, thy r goings, the goings of my God, and my King, which are in the Sanctuarie.

s That is, howe thou, which art chiefe King, goest out with thy people to warre, and giuest them the victorie.

25 The s singers went before, the players of instruments after: in the midst were the maydes playing with timbrels.

26 Praise ye God in the assemblies, & the Lord, ye that are of the fountaine u of Israel.

t He describeth the order of the people, when they went to the Temple to giue thankes for the victorie.

u Which commeth of the Patriarke Iaakob.

27 There was x litle Beniamin with their y ruler, and the princes of Iudah with their assemblie, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

x Beniamin is called litle, because he was the yongest sonne of Iaakob. y Which was some chiefe ruler of the tribe.

28 Thy God hath appointed thy strength: stablish, O God, that, which thou hast wrought in vs, 29 z Out of thy Temple vpon Ierusalem: & Kings shal bring presents vnto thee.

z Declare out of thine holy place thy power for the defence of thy Church Ierusalem.

30 Destroy the company of the speare men, and multitude of the mightie bulles with the calues of the people, that a treade vnder feete pieces of siluer: scatter the people that delite in warre.

a Hee desireth that the pride of the mightie may be destroyed, which accustomed to garnish their shoes with siluer: and therefore for the glittering pompe thought themselues aboue all men.

31 Then shal the princes come out b of Egypt: Ethiopia shall haste to stretch her hands vnto God.

b Hee preuenteth that the Gentiles shall come to the true knowledge & worship of God.

32 Sing vnto God, O ye kingdomes of the earth: sing prayse vnto þ Lord, (Selah)

33 To him that rideth vpon the most high heauens, which were from the beginning: beholde, hee will send out by his c voyce a mightie sound.

c By his terrible thunders he will make himself to be knowen the God of all the world,

34 Ascribe the power to God: for his ma-testie is vpon Israel, and his strength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, thou art d terrible out of thine holy e places: the God of Israel is he that giueth strength and power vnto the people: praised be God.

d In shewing fearefull iudgements against thine enemies, for the saluation of thy people.

e He alludeth to the Tabernacle which was deuided into three parts.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 The complaints, prayers, feruent zeale & great anguish of Dauid is set forth as a figure of Christ and all his members: 21 The malicious crueltie of the enemies, 22 And their punishment also, 26 Where Iudas & such traitours are accursed. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction, & offreth praises vnto God, 32 Which are more acceptable then all sacrifices: whereof all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally hee doth prouoke all creatures to praises, prophecying of the kingdome of Christ, and the preseruation of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 And their seede shall dwell for euer.

To him that excelleth vpon a Shoshannim. A Psalme of Dauid.

SAue me, O God: for the b waters are entred euen to my soule.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe mire, where no c stay is: I am come into deepe waters, and the streames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drie: mine d eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate mee without a cause, are moe then the haires of my head: they that would destroy mee, and are mine enemies e falsly, are mightie, so that I restored that which I f tooke not.

5 O God, thou knowest my g foolishnesse, and my faults are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that trust in thee O Lord God of hostes, be ashamed for h me: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me, O God of Israel.

7 For thy sake haue I suffered reproofe: shame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers sonnes.

9 i For the zeale of thine house hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I k wept and my soule fasted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a sacke also: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that l sate in the gate, spake of me, and the drunkards sang of me.

13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee in an m acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the trueth of thy saluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the mire, that I sinke not: let mee bee deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the n deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne mee, neither let the deepe swallowe me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare mee, O Lord, for thy louing kindnesse is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And o hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: make haste and heare me.

18 Draw neere vnto my soule and redeeme it: deliuer me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast knowen my reproofe and my shame, and my dishonour: all mine p aduersaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauinesse, and q I looked for some to haue pitie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirst they gaue me vineger to drinke.

22 Let their r table be a snare before them, and their prosperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes bee blinded that they see not: and make their s loynes alway to tremble.

24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull displeasure take them.

25 * Let their t habitation be voyd, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they persecute him, whom thou hast smitten: and they adde vnto the sorow of them, whom thou hast wounded.

27 Lay u iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and let them not come into thy righteousnes.

28 Let them be put out of the x booke of life, neither let them bee written with the righteous.

29 When I am poore, and in heauinesse, thine helpe, O God, shall exalt me.

30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and magnifie him with thanksgiuing.

31 This also shall please the Lord better then a y yong bullocke, that hath hornes and hoofes.

32 The humble shall see this, and they that seeke God, shall be glad, and your heart shall liue.

33 For the Lord heareth the poore, and despiseth not his z prisoners.

34 Let heauen and earth praise him: the seas and all that moueth in them.

35 For God will saue Zion, and builde the cities of Iudah, that men may dwell there, and haue it in possession.

36 The a seede also of his seruants shall inherite it: and they that loue his Name, shall dwell therein.

a Of Shoshannim, reade Psalme 45.

b Dauid signifieth by the waters, in what great dangers he was, out of the which God did deliuer him.

c No firmitie or stablenesse to settle my feete.

d Though his senses failed him, yet his faith was constant and incouraged him still to pray.

e Condemning me guiltlesse.

f They iudged me poore innocent as a thiefe, and gaue my goods to others, as though I had stollen them.

g Though I be guiltie to theeward, yet am I innocent toward them.

h Let not mine euill intreatie of the enemies be an occasion, that the faithfull fall from thee.

i When I sawe thine enemies pretend thy Name onely in mouth, and in their life denie the same, thine holy spirite thrust mee forward, to reproue them, and defend thy glorie.

k My zeale mooued mee to lament, and pray for my saluation.

l The more he sought to winne them vnto God, the more they were against him both poore and rich.

m Knowing that albeit I suffer nowe trouble, yet thou hast a time, wherein thou hast appointed my deliuerance.

n He sheweth a liuely faith, in that that he assureth himselfe that God is fauourable to him, when he seemeth to be angrie: and at hand, when he seemeth to be farre off.

o Not that he feared that God would not heare him, but that care made him to thinke that God deferred long.

p Thou seest that I am beset as a sheepe among many wolues.

q He sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust in men in our great necessities, but that our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaseth our sorowes, then diminisheth them, Ioh. 19. 29.

r He desireth God to execute his iudgements against the reprobate, which cannot by any meanes be turned, Rom. 11. 9.

s Take both iudgement and power from them. Actes 1. 20.

t Punish not onely them, but their posteritie, which shall be like vnto them.

u By their continuance and increasing in their sinnes, let it be knowen that they be of the reprobate.

x They which seemed by their profession to haue beene written in thy booke, yet by their fruites proue the contrary, let them be knowen as reprobate.

y There is no sacrifice, esteemeth, then thankesgiuing for his benefites.

z For as he deliuered his seruant Dauid, so will hee doe all that are in distresse, and call vpon him.

a Vnder the temporall promise of the land of Canaan, he comprehendeth the promise of life euerlasting to the faithfull and their posteritie.

PSAL. LXX.

1 Hee prayeth to bee right speedily deliuered. 2 Hee desireth the shame of his enemies, 4 And the ioyfull comfort of all those that seeke the Lord.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid to put in [a] remembrance.

O* God, [b] haste thee to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.

2 Let them bee [c] confounded and put to shame, that seeke my soule: let them be turned backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

3 Let them be turned backe for a reward of their [d] shame, which said, Aha, aha.

4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee, and let all that loue thy saluation, say alwayes, God be praised.

5 Now I am [e] poore and needy: O God, make haste to me: thou art mine helper, and my deliuerer: O Lord, make no tarying.

a Which might put him in remembrance of his deliuerance. Psal 40.13.
b He teacheth vs to be earnest in prayer, though God seeme to stay: for at his time he will heare vs.
c He was assured that the more they raged, the neerer they were to destruction, and he the neerer to his deliuerance. d Hereby we are taught not to mocke at others in their miserie, lest the same fall on our owne neckes. e Because he had felt Gods helpe before, hee groundeth on experience, and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour.

PSAL. LXXI.

1 He prayeth in faith, established by the worde of the promise, 5 And confirmed by the worke of God from his youth. 10 He complaineth of the cruelties of his enemies, 17 And desireth God to continue his graces toward him, 22 Promising to be mindefull and thankefull for the same.

IN* [a] thee, O Lord, I trust: let me neuer be ashamed.

2 Rescue me and deliuer me in thy [b] righteousnesse: incline thine eare vnto mee and saue me.

3 Be thou my strong rocke, whereunto I may alway resort: thou [c] hast giuen commandement to saue mee: for thou art my rocke, and my fortresse.

4 Deliuer mee, O my God, out of the hand [d] of the wicked: out of the hand of the cruell and cruell man.

5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, euen my [e] trust from my youth.

6 Vpon thee haue I bene stayed from the wombe: thou art he that tooke me out of my mothers bowels: my praise shall bee alwayes of thee.

7 I am become as it were a [f] monster vnto many: but thou art my sure trust.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, and with thy glorie euery day.

9 Cast mee not off in the time of [g] age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.

10 For mine enemies speake of mee, and they that lay waite for my soule, take their counsell together, 11 Saying, [h] God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

12 Goe not farre from me, O God: [i] my God, haste thee to helpe me.

13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are against my soule: let them be couered with reproofe and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.

14 But I will wait continually, and will praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall dayly rehearse thy righteousnesse, and thy saluation: [k] for I know not the number.

16 I will [l] goe forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousnesse, euen of thine onely.

17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth euen vntill nowe: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes, 18 [m] Yea, euen vnto mine olde age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, vntill I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that shal come.

19 And thy [n] righteousnesse, O God, I will exalt on high: for thou hast done great thinges: [o] God, who is like vnto thee!

20 Which hast shewed mee great troubles and [p] aduersities, but thou wilt returne and reuiue mee, and wilt come againe, and take me vp from the deepth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, and returne and comfort me.

22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy [q] faithfulnesse, O God, vpon instrument and viole: vnto thee will I sing vpon the harpe, O holy one of Israel.

23 My lippes will reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my [r] soule, which thou hast deliuered.

24 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousnesse daily: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.

Psal. 31.1.
a He prayeth to God with full assurance of faith, that he will deliuer him from his aduersaries.

e He strengtheneth his faith by the experience of Gods benefites, who did not only preserue him in his mothers bellie, but tooke him thence, and euer since hath preserued him.
f All the world wondereth at me because of my miseries, as well they in authoritie, as the common people: yet being assured of thy fauour I remained stedfast. g Thou that diddest helpe mee in my youth, when I had more strength, helpe me now so much the more in mine olde age and weakenesse. h Thus the wicked both blaspheme God and triumph against his Saints, as though he had forsaken them; if he suffer them to fall into their hands. i In calling him his God, he putteth backe the false reports of the aduersaries that said, God had forsaken him.
k Because thy benefits toward me are innumerable, I cannot but continually meditate and rehearse them.

1 He praieth for the prosperous estate of the kingdome of Salomon, who was the figure of Christ. 4 Vnder whom shalbe righteousnes, peace and felicitie, 10 Vnto whom all kings and nations shall doe homage, 17 Whose name and power shall endure for euer, and in whom all nations shalbe blessed.

¶ A Psalme [a] of Salomon.

GIue thy [b] iudgements to the king, O God, and thy righteousnes to the Kings [c] sonne.

2 Then shall he iudge the people in righteousnesse, and thy poore with equitie.

3 The [d] mountaines and the hilles shall bring peace to the people by iustice.

4 He shall [e] iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needie, and shall subdue the oppressor.

5 They shall [f] feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.

a Composed by Dauid as touching the reigne of his sonne Salomon.
b Endue the King with the spirite of wisedome and iustice that he reigne not as do the worldly tyrants.
c To wit, to his posteritie.
d When iustice reigneth, euen the places most barren shalbe enriched with thy blessings. e He sheweth wherefore the sword is committed to king to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppresse the wicked. f The people shall imbrace thy true religion, when thou giuest a king, that ruleth according to thy word.

6 Hee shall come r downe like the raine vpon the mowen grasse, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous florish, and abundance of peace shall be so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall bee also from h sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the endes of the land.

9 They that dwel in the wildernesse, shal kneele before him, and his enemies shall licke the dust.

10 The Kings of i Tarshish and of the yles, shal bring presents: the kings k of Sheba and Seba shall bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shall worship him: all nations shall serue him.

12 For hee shall deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall be mercifull to the poore and needie, and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 Hee shall redeeme their soules from deceite and violence, and l deare shall their blood be in his sight.

15 Yea, he shall liue, and vnto him shall they giue of the m gold of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and dayly blesse him.

16 An handfull of corne shall be sowen in the earth, euen in the toppe of the Mountaines, and the n fruite thereof shall shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall florish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

17 His name shall be for euer: his name shall endure as long as the sunne: all nations shall blesse o him, and bee blessed in him.

18 Blessed bee the LORDE God, euen the God of Israell, which onely doeth p wonderous things.

19 And blessed bee his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE ENDE THE q prayers of Dauid, the sonne of Jshai.

r As this is true in all godly kings, so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heauenly dewe maketh his Church euer to florish.

h That is, from the red sea, to the sea called Syriacum, and from Euphrates forward: meaning, that Christes kingdome should be large and vniuersall.

i Of Cilicia and of all other countreys beyond the sea, which he meaneth by the yles.

k That is, of Arabia that rich countrey, whereof Sheba was a part bordering vpon Ethiopia.

l Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preserue his subiects from all kind of wrong.

m God wil both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

n Vnder such a King shall bee most great plentie, both of fruite, and also of the encrease of mankind.

o They shall pray to God for his continuance, and know that God doth prosper them for his sake.

p He confesseth that except God miraculously preserue his people, that neither the King nor the kingdome can continue.

q Concerning his sonne Salomon.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldly prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers prouidence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 Forasmuch as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life euerlasting, 28 In hope whereof hee resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

A Psalme committed to Asaph.

YEt a God is good to Jsraell: euen to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had welneere slipt.

a As it were betweene hope and despaire he brasteth foorth into this affection, being assured that God would continue his fauour towarde such as were godly in deede, and not hypocrites,

3 For I fretted at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are b no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are the plagued with other men.

6 c Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and crueltie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: ‡they haue more then heart can with.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

9 They d set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh through ỹ earth.

10 Therefore his e people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they f say, how doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most high?

12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and encrease in riches:

13 Certainly I haue cleansed my heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For dayly haue I bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, g I will iudge thus, behold the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me.

17 Vntill I went into the h Sanctuarie of God: then vnderstood I their ende.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slippery places, & castest the downe into desolation.

19 Howe suddenly are they destroyed, perished and i horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lord, when k thou raisest vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainly mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines:

22 So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was l a beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway m with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glory.

25 Whome haue I in n heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh faileth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and my o portion for euer.

27 For loe, they that withdraw themselues from thee, shal perish: thou destroiest all them that p goe a whoring from thee.

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawen to death like prisoners: that is, by sickenesse, which is deaths messenger.

c They glory in their pride as some doe in their chaines: and in crueltie, as some doe in apparell.

‡ Ebr. they passe the desires of the heart.

d They blaspheme God and feare not his power, and raile vpon men, because they esteeme themselues aboue al others.

e Not onely the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorowes, thinking that God considereth not aright the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh moueth euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate, and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy prouidence, seeing thou dispossest all things most wisely, and preseruest thy children in their greatest dangers,

h Vntill I entred into thy schoole and learned holy spirit, that thou ordereste all things most wisely and iustly.

i By thy feareful iudgement.

k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heauenly felicitie, we contemne al their vaine pompe.

l For the more that man goeth about by his owne reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doeth he declare himselfe a beast.

m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence did watch alwayes ouer mee to preserue me.

n Hee sought neither helpe nor comfort of any saue of God onely.

o Hee teacheth vs to denie our selues, to haue God our whole sufficiencie, and onely contentment.

p That is, forsake thee to seeke others.

q Though all the worlde shrinke from God, yet he promiseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

28 As for me, it is good for me to draw neere to God: therefore I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The faithfull complaine of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 Under the name of Zion, & the Temple destroyed: 11 And trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 20 By his couenant, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants, 23 And the confusion of his proude enemies.

¶ A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to Asaph.

a The Church of God being oppressed by the tyranny either of the Babilonians, or of Antiochus, prayeth to God, by whose hand this yoke was layde vpon them for their sinnes.

O God, [a] why hast thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled against the sheepe of thy pasture?

2 Thinke vpon thy Congregation, which thou hast possessed of olde, and on the [b] rod of thine inheritance which thou hast redeemed, and on this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

b Which inheritance thou hast measured out for thy selfe as with a line or rod.

‖Or, feete.

3 Lift vp thy ‖strokes, that thou mayest for euer destroy euery enemie that doeth euill to the Sanctuarie.

c They haue destroyed the true religion, & spred their banners in signe of defiance.

4 Thine aduersaries roare in the midst of the Congregation, and [c] set vp their banners for signes.

d Hee commendeth the Temple for the costly matter, the excellent workemanship, and beautie thereof, which notwithstanding the enemies did destroy.

5 He that [d] lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renowmed, as one, that brought a thing to perfection:

6 But now they breake downe the carued worke thereof with axes and hammers.

e They encouraged one another to cruelty, that not onely Gods people might bee destroyed, but also his religion vtterly in all places suppressed.

7 They haue cast the Sanctuarie into the fire, and raised it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.

8 They sayd in their [e] hearts, Let vs destroy them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.

f They lament that they haue no Prophet among them to shew them howe long their miseries

9 Wee see not our signes: there is not one Prophete more, nor any with vs that knoweth [f] how long.

10 O God, how long shall the aduersarie reproch thee? shall the enemie blaspheme thy name for euer?

11 Why withdrawest thou thine hand, euen thy right hand? drawe it out of thy bosome, and g consume them.

12 Euen God is my King of olde, working saluation [h] in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou diddest deuide the sea, by thy power: thou brakest the heads of the [i] dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the head of [k] Liuiathan in pieces, and gauest him to be [l] meate for the people in wildernesse.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and riuer: thou dryedst vp mightie riuers.

16 The [m] day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepard the light and the sunne.

shoulde indure. g They ioyne their deliuerance with Gods glory and power, knowing that the punishment of the enemie should be their deliuerance. h Meaning, in the sight of all the worlde. i To wit, Pharaohs armie. k Which was a great monster of the Sea, or whale, meaning Pharaoh. l His destruction did reioyce them as meate refresheth the body. m Seeing that God by his prouidence gouerneth and disposeth all things, hee gathereth that he will take care chiefly for his children.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemie hath reproched the Lord, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.

19 Giue not the soule of thy [n] turtle doue vnto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

20 Consider thy couenant: for [o] the darke places of the earth are full of the habitations of the cruell.

21 Oh let not the oppressed returne ashamed, but let the poore and needie prayse thy Name.

22 Arise, O God: maintaine thyne owne cause: remember thy dayly reproch by the foolish man.

23 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: for the tumult of them, that rise against thee ‖ascendeth continually.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The faithfull do prayse the Name of the Lorde, 2 Which shall come to iudge at the time appoynted, 8 When the wicked shall be put to confusion, and drinke of the cup of his wrath, 10 Their pride shall be abated, and the righteous shall be exalted to honour.

6 For to come to preferment is neither from the East, nor from the West, nor from the South,

7 But God is the iudge: he maketh low and he maketh hie.

8 For in the hand of the Lorde is a [f] cup, and the wine is red: it is full mixt, and he powreth out of the same: surely all the wicked of the earth shall wring out and drinke the dregs thereof.

c When I see my time (sayeth God) to helpe your miseries, I will come and set all things in good order.

d Though all things bee brought to ruine, yet I can restore & preserue them.

e The Prophet warneth the wicked that they would not set themselues against Gods people, seeing that God at his time destroyeth them that rule wickedly. f Gods wrath is compared to a cup of strong and delicate wine, wherewith the wicked are made so drunke, that by drinking til they come to the very dregges, they are vtterly destroied. g The godly shall better prosper by their innocent simplicitie, then the wicked shall by all their craft and subtiltie.

PSAL. LXXVII.

1 The Prophet in the name of the Church reheareth the greatnesse of his affliction, & his grieuous tentations, 6 Whereby hee was driuen to this ende to consider his former conuersation, 11 And the continuall course of Gods workes in the preseruation of his seruants, & so he confirmeth his faith against these tentations.

Psal. 39. & 62. 1. Chron. 16. 41.

¶ For the excellent musician * Ieduthun. A Psalme committed to Asaph.

MY a voyce came to God, when I cried: my voyce came to God, and hee hearde mee.

2 In the day of my trouble I sought the Lorde: [b] my sore ranne and ceased not in the night: my soule refused comfort.

3 I did thinke vpon God, & was b troubled: I prayed, and my spirite was full of anguish. Selah.

4 Thou keepest mine eyes c waking: I was astonied and could not speake.

5 Then I considered the dayes of olde, and the yeeres of ancient time.

a The Prophet teacheth vs by his example, to flee vnto God for helpe in our necessities.

[b] Or, mine hand was stretched out.

b He sheweth that we must patiently abide, although God deliuer vs not out of our troubles at the first erie.

c Meaning, that his sorowes were as watchmen that kept his eyes from sleeping.

c diligently.

7 Will the Lord absent himselfe for euer? and will he shew no more fauour?

8 Is his f mercie cleane gone for euer? doeth his promise faile for euermore?

9 Hath God forgotten to bee mercifull? hath hee shut vp his tender mercies in displeasure? Selah.

10 And I sayde, This is my g death: yet I remembred the yeeres of the right hand of the most High.

11 I remembred the workes of the Lord: certainely I remembred thy wonders of olde.

12 I did also meditate all thy worckes, and did deuise of thine actes, saying,

13 Thy way, O God, is h in the Sanctuarie: who is so great a i God as our God!

14 Thou art the God that doest woonders: thou hast declared thy power among the people.

15 Thou hast redeemed thy people with thine arme, euen the sonnes of Iaakob and Ioseph. Selah.

16 The k waters sawe thee, O God: the waters sawe thee, and were afraide: yea, the depths trembled.

17 The cloudes powred out water: the heauens gaue a l sound: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.

18 The voyce of thy thunder was round about: the lightnings lightned the worlde: the earth trembled and shooke.

19 Thy way is in the Sea, & thy pathes in the great waters, and thy footesteppes are not m knowen.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

1 Hee sheweth howe God of his mercie chose his Church of the posteritie of Abraham, 8 Reproching the stubburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not onely vnderstand, 11 That God of his free mercie made his couenant with their ancestours, 17 But also seeing them so malicious and peruerse, might be ashamed and so turne wholy to God. In this Psalme the holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were, the summe of all Gods benefites, to the intent the ignorant and grosse people might see in fewe words the effect of the whole histories of the Bible.

¶ A Psalme to giue a instruction, committed to Asaph.

HEare my b doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high sentences of olde.

3 Which wee haue heard and knowen, and our c fathers haue told vs.

4 We will not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come we will shewe the prayses of the Lorde, his power also, and his wonderfull workes that hee hath done:

a Reade Psa. 32.

b The Prophet vnder the name of a teacher calleth the people his, and the doctrine his, as Paul calleth ỹ Gospel his, whereof he was but ỹ preacher, as Rom. 2. 16. & 16. 25.

c Which were the people of God.

d By the testimonie and lawe he meaneth the lawe written, which they were commanded to teach their children, Deut. 6.7.

e He sheweth wherein the children should be like their fathers, that is, in maintaining Gods pure religion.

f He sheweth wherein the vse of this doctrine standeth: in faith, in the meditation of Gods benefites, and in obedience.

g Though these fathers were the seede of Abraham and the chosen people, yet he sheweth by their rebellion, prouocation, falshood and hypocrisie, that the children ought not to followe their examples.

h By Ephraim he meaneth also the rest of the tribes, because they were most in number: whose punishment declareth that they were vnfaithfull to God, and by their multitude and authoritie had corrupt all others.

i He proueth that not onely the posteritie, but also their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God. Exod. 14.21. Exod. 14.24. Exod. 17.6. numb. 20.11. psal. 105.41. 1. Cor. 10.4. wisd. 11.4.

5 Yowe hee established a [d] testimonie in Iaakob, and ordayned a Lawe in Israel, which hee commaunded our fathers, that they should teach their children:

6 That the [e] posteritie might know it, & the children which should bee borne, should stand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might [f] set their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandements:

8 And not to be as their [g] fathers, a disobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed and shooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refused to walke in his lawe, 11 And forgate his actes, and his wonderfull workes that he had shewed them.

12 He did marueilous things in the sight of their [i] fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.

13 *He deuided the sea, and ledde them through: hee made also the waters to stand as an heape.

14 *In the day time also hee ledde them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 *He claue the rocks in the wildernesse, & gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 *Hee brought floods also out of the stonie rocke, so that hee made the waters to descend like the riuers.

17 Yet they [k] sinned still against him, and prouoked the Highest in the wildernesse, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in [l] requiring meat for their lust.

19 *They spake against God also, saying, Can God [m] prepare a table in the wildernesse?

20 *Beholde, hee smote the rocke, that the water gushed out, and the streames ouerflowed: can he giue bread also? or prepare flesh for his people?

21 Therefore the [n] LORDE heard and was angrie, and the *fire was kindled in Iaakob, and also wrath came vpon Israel, 22 Because they beleeued not in God, and [o] trusted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the [p] cloudes aboue, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

25 *Man did eate the bread of Angels: he sent them meate ynough.

26 Hee caused the [q] Eastwinde to passe in the heauen, and through his power hee brought in the Southwinde.

27 He rained flesh also vpon them as dust, and feathered foule as the sand of the sea.

28 And he made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eate and were wel filled: for he gaue them their desire.

30 They were not turned frō their [r] lust, but the meate was yet in their mouthes, 31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and slew [s] the strongest of them, and smote downe the chosen men in Israel.

32 For all this, they [t] sinned still, and beleeued not his wonderous workes.

33 Therfore their dayes did he consume in vanitie, and their yeeres hastily.

34 And when hee [u] slewe them, they sought him, and they returned, and sought God earely.

35 And they remembred that God was their strength, and the most high God their redeemer.

36 But they flattered him with their mouth, and dissembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their [x] heart was not vpright with him: neither were they faithfull in his couenant.

38 Yet he being mercifull [y] forgaue their iniquitie, and destroyed them not, but oft times called backe his anger, and did not stirre vp all his wrath.

39 For hee remembred that they were flesh: yea, a winde that passeth and commeth not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wildernesse? and grieue him in the desart?

41 Yea, they [z] returned, and tempted God, and [a] limitted the holy one of Israel,

42 They [b] remembred not his hand, nor the day when hee deliuered them from the enemie,

43 Nor him that set his signes in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drinke.

45 Hee sent [c] a swarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, and frogges, which destroyed them.

46 He [d] gaue also their fruites vnto the caterpiller, and their labour vnto the grashopper.

47 He destroyed their vines with haile, and their wild figtrees with the hailestone.

48 He gaue their cattell also to the haile, and their flockes to the thunder bolts.

49 Hee cast vpon them the fiercenesse of his anger, indignation & wrath, and vexation by the sending out of [e] euill Angels.

50 He made a way to his anger: he spared

k Their wicked malice could be ouercome by no benefits, which were great and many. l Then to require more then is necessarie, and to separate Gods power from his will, is to tempt God. Numb. 11.1. m Thus when we giue place to sinne, we are mooued to doubt of Gods power, except he will alwayes be ready to serue our lust. Exo. 17.6. num. 20.11. psal. 105.41. 1. cor. 10.4. Numb. 11.1. n That is, in his Fatherly prouidence, whereby he careth for his, and prouideth sufficiently. o So that they had that, which was necessarie & sufficient: but their lust made them to couet that which they knewe God had denied them. Iohn 6.32. 1. cor. 10.3.

p God vsed the meanes of the winde to teach them, that all elements were at his commaundament, and that no distance of place could let his working.

q Such is the nature of concupiscence, that the more it hath, the more it lusteth.

r Though other were not spared, yet chiefly they suffered, which trusted in their strength against God.

s Thus sinne by continuance maketh men insensible, so that by no plagues they can be amended.

t Such was their hypocrisie, that they sought vnto God for feare of punishment, though in their heart they loued him not.

u Whatsoeuer commeth not from the pure fountaine of the heart, is hypocrisie.

x Because he would euer haue some remnant of a Church to praise his name in earth, he suffered not their sinnes to ouercome his mercy

y That is, they tempted him oft times.

z As they all do that measure the power of God by their capacitie, b This worde signifieth a confused mixture of flies and venemous wormes. Some take it for all sorres of Serpents: some for all wilde beastes.

c Here repeateth not here all the miracles that God did in Egypt, but certaine which might be sufficient to conuince the people of malice and ingratitude.

52 But hee made his people to goe out like sheepe, and led them in the wildernesse like a flocke.

53 Yea, he caryed them out safely, & they g feared not, and the Sea couered their enemies.

54 And he brought them vnto the borders of his h Sanctuarie: euen to this Mountaine, which his right hand purchased.

55 * Hee cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, & kept not his testimonies, 57 But turned backe & dealt i fallily like their fathers: they turned like a deceitfull bowe.

58 And they k prouoked him to anger with their hie places, and mooued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel.

60 So that hee l forsooke the habitation of Shilo, euen the Tabernacle where hee dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his m power into captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And hee gaue vp his people to the sword, and was angry with his inheritance.

63 The fire n deuoured their chosen men, and their maides were not o praised.

64 Their priestes fell by the sword, and their p widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe, and as a strong man that after his q wine cryeth out, 66 And smote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetuall shame.

67 Yet he refused the tabernacle of r Ioseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:

68 But chose the tribe of Iudah, and mount Zion which he loued.

69 And he s built his Sanctuary as an hie palace, like the earth, which he stablished for euer.

70 He chose Dauid also his seruant, and tooke him from the sheepefoldes.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes with yong brought he him to feede his people in Iaakob, and his inheritance in Israel.

72 So he fed them according to the simplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the discretion of his handes.

e The first borne are so called, as Gen. 49.3.

o They had no marriage songs: that is, they were not married.

p Either they were slaine before, or taken prisoners of their enemies, and so were forbidden.

q Because they were drunken in their sinnes, they iudged Gods patience to bee a slumbring, as though he were drunken: therefore he answering their beastly iudgement, sayeth, hee will awake and take sudden vengeance.

r Shewing that hee spared not altogether the Israelites, though hee punished their enemies.

s By building the Temple and establishing the kingdome, hee declareth that the signes of his fauour were among them.

t Hee sheweth wherein a Kings charge standeth: to wit, to prouide faithfully for his people, to guide them by counsell, and defend them by power.

PSAL. LXXIX.

1 The Israelites complaine to God for the great calamitie and oppression that they suffered by Gods enemies, 8 And confessing their sinnes, flee to Gods mercies with full hope of deliuerance, 10 Because their calamities were ioyned with the contempt of his Name, 13 For the which they promise to be thankefull.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asaph.

O God, a the Heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Ierusalem heapes of stones.

2 The b dead bodies of thy seruaunts haue they giuen to bee meate vnto foules of the heauen: and the flesh of thy Saints vnto the beasts of the earth.

3 Their blood haue they shed like waters round about Ierusalem, and there was none to c burie them.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry, for euer? shall thy iealousie e burne like fire?

6 * Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Iaakob and made his dwelling place desolate.

8 Remember not against vs the f former iniquities, but g make haste and let thy tender mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miserie.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our h saluation, for the glory of thy Name, & deliuer vs, and bee mercifull vnto our sinnes for thy Names sake.

10 Wherefore shoulde the heathen say, Where is their God? let him bee knowen among the heathen in our sight by the vengeance of the blood of thy seruants that is shedde.

11 Let the sighing of the i prisoners come before thee: according to thy mightie arme preserue k the children of death, 12 And render to our neighbours seuen fold into their bosome their reproch, wherewith they haue reproched thee, O Lord.

a This Pſalme ſeemeth to haue bene compoſed, as a forme of prayer againſt the dangers that the Church was in, in the dayes of Ioſhaphat.

KEepe a not thou ſilence, O God: be not ſtill, and ceaſe not, O God.

2 For loe, thine b enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.

b He calleth them Gods enemies, which are enemies to his Church.

3 They haue taken craftie counſell againſt thy people, & haue conſulted againſt thy c ſecret ones.

c The elect of God are his ſecret ones: for he hideth them in the ſecret of his tabernacle, and preſerueth them from all dangers.

4 They haue ſaid, Come, and let vs d cut them off from being a nation: and let the name of Iſrael be no more in remembrance.

d They were not content to take the Church as priſoner, but ſought vtterly to deſtroy it.

5 For they haue conſulted together e in heart, & haue made a league f againſt thee:

e By all ſecrete meanes.

6 The Tabernacles of Edom, and the Iſhmaelites, Moab and the Agarims.

7 Gebal and Ammon, and Amalech, the Philiſtims with the inhabitantes of Tyrus:

f They thought to haue ſubuerted thy counſell, wherein the perpetuitie of the Church was eſtabliſhed.

8 Aſſhur alſo is ioyned with them: they haue bene an arme to the children g of Lot. Selah.

9 Doe thou to them as vnto the h Midianites: as to Siſera and as to Iabin at the riuer of Kiſhon.

10 They periſhed at En-dor, and were i dung for the earth.

11 Make them, euen their princes like * Oreb and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes like Zebah and like Zalmuna.

12 Which haue ſaid, Let vs take for our poſſeſſion the k habitations of God.

13 O my God, make them like vnto a l wheele, and as the ſtubble before the winde.

14 As the fire burneth the foreſt, and as the flame ſetteth the mountaines on fire:

15 So perſecute them with thy tempeſt, and make them afraid with thy ſtorme:

16 Fill their faces with ſhame, that they may m ſeeke thy Name, O Lord.

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for euer: yea, let them bee put to ſhame and periſh, 18 That they may n knowe that thou, which art called Iehouah, art alone, euen the moſt high ouer all the earth.

g The wickedneſſe of the Ammonites and Moabites is deſcribed, in that they prouoked theſe other nations to fight againſt the Iſraelites their brethrē.

h By theſe examples, they were confirmed that God would not ſuffer his people to be vtterly deſtroyed, Iudg. 7.25. and 8.21.

i Troden vnder feete as mire. Iudg 7.25. and 8.21.

k That is, Iudea: for where his Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

l Becauſe the reprobate could by no meanes be amended, he prayeth that they may vtterly be deſtroyed, be vnſtable, and ledde with all windes.

m That is, be compelled by thy plagues to confeſſe thy power.

n Though they beleeue not, yet they may proue by experience, that it is in vaine to reſiſt againſt thy counſell in eſtabliſhing thy Church.

PSAL. LXXXIIII.

1 Dauid driuen forth of his countrey, 2 Deſireth moſt ardently to come againe to the Tabernacle of the Lord and the aſſembly of the Saintes to prayſe God, 4 Pronouncing them bleſſed that may ſo doe. 6 Then he prayſeth the courage of the people, that paſſe through the wilderneſſe to aſſemble themſelues in Zion. 10 Finally with praiſe of this matter and confidence of Gods goodneſſe he endeth the Pſalme.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon Gittith. A Pſalme committed to the ſonnes of Korah.

a Dauid complaineth that he cannot haue acceſſe to the Church of God to make profeſſion of his faith and to profite in religion.

O a Lord of hoſtes, how amiable are thy Tabernacles!

2 My ſoule longeth, yea, and fainteth for the b courts of the Lord: for mine heart and my fleſh reioyce in the liuing God.

b For none but the Prieſtes could enter into the Sanctuarie, and the reſt of the people into the courts.

3 Yea, the ſparrowe hath found her an houſe, and the ſwallow a neſt for her, where ſhe may lay her young: euen by thine c altars, O Lorde of hoſtes, my King and my God.

c So that the poore birdes haue more libertie then I.

4 Bleſſed are they that dwell in thine houſe: they will euer prayſe thee. Selah.

5 Bleſſed is the man, whoſe d ſtrength is in thee, and in whoſe heart are thy wayes.

d Who truſteth nothing in himſelfe, but in thee onely, and learneth of thee to rule his life.

6 They going through the vale of e Baca, make welles therein: the raine alſo couereth the pooles.

e That is, of mulberie trees, which was a barren place: ſo that they which paſſed through, muſt digge pittes for water: ſignifying that no lets can hinder them that are fully bent to come to Chriſtes Church, neyther yet that God will euer fayle them.

7 They goe from f ſtrength to ſtrength, till euery one appeare before God in Zion.

f They are neuer wearie, but increaſe in ſtrength and courage till they come to Gods houſe.

8 O Lord God of hoſts, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Iaakob. Selah.

9 Behold, O God, our ſhield, and looke vpon the face of thine g Anointed.

g That is, for Chriſtes ſake, whoſe figure I repreſent.

10 For h a day in thy courtes is better then a thouſande other where: I had rather bee a doore keeper in the houſe of my God, then to dwell in the Tabernacles of wickednеſſe.

h He would wiſh to liue but one day rather in Gods Church, then a thouſand among the worldlings.

11 For the Lorde God is the ſunne and ſhield vnto vs: the Lord will giue grace and glorie, and no i good thing will hee withhold from them that walke vprightly.

i But will from time to time increaſe his bleſſings towarde his more and more.

12 O Lorde of hoſtes, bleſſed is the man that truſteth in thee.

PSAL. LXXXV.

1 Becauſe God withdrewe not his rods from his Church after their returne from Babylon, firſt they put him in minde of their deliuerance, to the intent that he ſhould not leaue the worke of his grace vnperfite. 5 Next they complaine of their long afflictions:

fliction: 8 And thirdly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promised. 9 For their deliuerance was a figure of Christs kingdome, vnder the which should be perfect felicitie.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme committed to the sonnes of Korah.

LOrde, thou hast bene [a] fauourable vnto thy lande: thou hast brought againe the captiuitie of Iaakob.

2 Thou hast forgiuen the iniquitie of thy people, and [b] couered all their sinnes. Selah.

3 Thou hast withdrawen all thine anger, and hast turned backe from the [c] fiercenesse of thy wrath.

4 Turne vs, O God of our saluation, and releasse thine anger toward vs.

5 Wilt thou be angry with vs [d] for euer? and wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs, that thy people may reioyce in thee?

7 Shewe vs thy mercie, O Lorde, and graunt vs thy [e] saluation.

8 I will hearken what the Lorde God will say: for he will speake [f] peace vnto his people, and to his Saints, that they turne not againe to follie.

9 Surely his saluation is neere to them that feare him, that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and trueth shall meete: righteousnesse and peace shall kisse one another.

11 [g] Trueth shall bud out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall looke downe from heauen.

12 Yea, the Lord shall giue good things, and our land shall giue her increase.

13 [h] Righteousnesse shall goe before him, and shall set her steps in the way.

a They confesse that Gods free mercie was the cause of their deliuerance, because he loued the land which he had chosen.
b Thou hast buried them that they shall not come into iudgement.
c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiuing our sinnes, and in touching our hearts to confesse them.
d As in times past they had felt Gods mercies: so now being oppressed by the long continuance of euils, they pray vnto God, that according to his nature he would be mercifull vnto them. e He confesseth that our saluation commeth onely of Gods mercie.
f Hee will send all prosperitie to his Church, when hee hath sufficiently corrected them. Also by his punishments the faithfull shall learne to beware that they returne not to like offences.
g Though for a time God thus exercise them with his rods, yet vnder the kingdome of Christ they should haue peace and ioy.
h Iustice shall then flourish and haue free course and passage in euery place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

1 Dauid sore afflicted and forsaken of all, prayeth feruently for deliuerance: sometimes rehearsing his miseries, 5 Sometimes, the mercies receiued, 11 Desiring also to be instructed of the Lord, that hee may feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 Hee complayneth also of his aduersaries, and requireth to be deliuered from them.

¶ A prayer of Dauid.

INcline [a] thine eare, O Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and needie.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am [b] mercifull: my God, saue thou thy seruant, that trusteth in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I [c] cry vpon thee continually.

4 Reioyce the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee, O Lord, doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou, Lord, art good & [d] merciful, and of great kindenesse vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare, Lorde, vnto my prayer, and [e] hearken to the voyce of my supplication.

7 In the day of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, O Lord, and there [f] is none that can do like thy workes.

9 All nations, whome thou hast made, shall come, and [g] worshippe before thee, O Lord, and shall glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 [h] Teach me thy way, O Lorde, and I will walke in thy trueth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy Name.

12 I wil praise thee, O Lorde my God, with all mine heart: yea, I will glorifie thy Name for euer.

13 For great is thy mercie towarde mee, and thou hast deliuered my soule from [i] the lowest graue.

14 O God, the proude are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men haue [k] sought my soule, and haue not set thee before them.

15 But thou, O Lord, art a pitifull God and mercifull, slowe to anger, and great in kindenesse and trueth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercy vpon me: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and saue the [l] sonne of thy handmaid.

17 Shewe a token of thy goodnesse toward mee, that they which hate me, may see it, and bee ashamed, because thou, O Lorde, hast holpen me and comforted me.

a Dauid persecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leauing the same to the Church as a monument, howe to seeke redresse against their miseries.
b I am not enemie to them, but pitie them, though they bee cruell towarde mee.
c Which was a sure token that hee beleeued that God woulde deliuer him.
d Hee doeth confesse that God is good to all, but onely mercifull to poore sinners.
e By crying and calling continually, he sheweth how wee may not bee wearie, though God graunt not foorthwith our request, but that we must earnestly, and often call vpon him.
f He condemneth all idoles, forasmuch as they can doe no workes to declare that they are gods.
g This proueth that Dauid prayeth in the Name of Christ the Messias, of whose kingdome he doeth here prophecie.
h He confesseth himselfe ignorant till God hath taught him, and his heart variable and separate from God, till God ioyne it to him, and confirme it in his obedience.
i That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely the mightie hand of God, could deliuer him.
k He sheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proude tyrants reigne, and that the lacke of Gods feare is as a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie.
l He boasteth not of his owne vertues, but confesseth that God of his free goodnesse hath euer bene mercifull vnto him, and giuen him power against his enemies, as to one of his owne household.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

1 The holy Ghost promiseth that the condition of the Church, which was in miserie after the captiuitie of Babylon, should bee restored to great excellencie, 4 So that there should bee nothing more comfortable, then to bee numbred among the members thereof.

¶ A Psalme or song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

GOd layde his [a] foundations among the holy mountaines.

2 The Lord loueth the gates of Zion aboue all the habitations of Iaakob.

3 [b] Glorious things are spoken of thee, O citie of God, Selah.

4 I will make mention of [c] Rahab and Babel among them that knowe mee: behold Palestina and Tyrus with Ethiopia, [d] There is he borne, a God did chuse that place among the hilles to establish Ierusalem and his Temple.

b Though thy glorious estate doe not yet appeare, yet waite with patience, and God will accomplish his promise.
c That is, Egypt and these other countreys shall come to the knowledge of God.
d It shal be sayde of him, that is regenerate and come to the Church, that he is as one that was borne in the Church.

5 And of Zion it shall be sayde, c Many are borne in her: and hee, euen the most High shall stablish her.

6 The Lord shal count, when he f writeth the people, He was borne there. Selah.

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall prayse thee: all my springs are in thee.

c Out of all quarters they shall come into the Church, and be counted as citizens.

f When he calleth by his word them into the Church, whome he had elected and written in his booke. g The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

1 A grieuous complaint of the faithfull, sore afflicted by sickenesse, persecutions and aduersitie, 7 Being as it were left of God without any consolation: 13 Yet he calleth on God by faith and striueth against desperation, 18 Complaining himselfe to be forsaken of all earthly helpe.

1. King. 4. 31. psal. 50. 3.

¶ A song or Psalme of * Heman the Ezrahite to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah for him that excelleth vpon Malath a Leannoth.

a That is, to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalme was sung.

O Lord God of my saluation, I crie day and night b before thee.

b Though many crie in their sorowes, yet they crie not earnestly to God for remedie as he did: whom he confessed to be the authour of his saluation.

2 Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eare vnto my crie.

3 For my soule is filled with euils, and my life draweth neere to the graue.

c For he that is dead, is free from all cares and businesse of this life: and thus he saith, because he was vnprofitable for all matters concerning mans life, and as it were cut off from this world.

4 I am counted among them that goe downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

5 c Free among the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whome thou remembrest no more, and they are cut off from thine d hand.

d That is, from thy prouidence and care, which is meant according to the iudgement of the flesh.

6 Thou hast layde me in the lowest pit, in darkenesse, and in the deepe.

7 Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou hast vexed mee with all thy e waues. Selah.

e The stormes of thy wrath haue ouerwhelmed me.

8 Thou hast put away mine f acquaintance farre from me, and made me to be abhorred of them: g I am shut vp, and can not get forth.

f He attributeth the losse and displeasure of his friendes to Gods prouidence, whereby he partly punisheth & partly trieth his. g I see none ende of my sorowes. h Mine eyes and face declare my sorowes. i Hee sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tarie till they bee dead and then raise them vp againe. k That is, in the graue, where onely the body lyeth without all sense and remembrance. l I am euer in great dangers and sorowes, as though my life shoulde vtterly be cut off euery moment.

9 h Mine eye is sorowfull through mine affliction: Lord, I call daily vpon thee: I stretch out mine hands vnto thee.

10 Wilt thou shewe i a miracle to the dead? or shall the dead rise and prayse thee? Selah.

11 Shall thy louing kindnesse be declared in the graue? or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonderous workes bee knowen in the darke? and thy righteousnesse in the land k of oblivion?

13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lorde, and early shal my prayer come before thee.

14 Lord, why doest thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted, g at the point of death: l from my youth I suffer thy terrours, doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations goe ouer me, and thy feare hath cut me off.

17 They came round about mee dayly like water, and compassed me together.

18 My louers and friends hast thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance ‡ hid themselues.

‡ Ebr. Were in darkenesse.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 With many wordes doeth the Prophet prayse the goodnesse of God, 23 For his testament and couenant, that he had made betweene him & his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid: 38 Then doeth hee complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the outward appearance the promise was broken. 46 Finally hee prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnesse of mans life, & confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

¶ A Psalme to giue instruction, of Ethan the Ezrahite.

I Will a sing the mercies of the Lorde for euer: with my mouth will I declare thy trueth from generation to generation.

a Though the horrible confusion of things might cause them to despaire of Gods fauour: yet the manifolde examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to mans iudgement they saw none occasion.

2 For I b sayd, Mercie shalbe set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou c stablish in the very heauens.

b As hee that surely beleeued in heart.

3 d I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

c As thine inuisible heauen is not subiect to any alteration and change: so shall the trueth of thy promise bee vnchangeable.

5 O Lord, euen the c heauens shall prayse thy wonderous worke: yea, thy trueth in the f Congregation of the Saints.

d The Prophet sheweth what was the promise of God, whereon he grounded his faith.

6 For who is equall to the Lorde in the heauen? and who is like the Lorde among the g sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assemblie of the h Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.

8 O Lorde God of hosts, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lorde, and thy trueth is about thee.

e The Angels shall prayse thy power and faithfulnesse in deliuering thy Church.

9 i Thou rulest ỹ raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast layde the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 l Righteousnes and equitie are the stablishment

f That is, in the heauens. g Meaning, the Angels. h If the Angels tremble before Gods maiestie and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God? i For as hee deliuered the Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will hee eftsoones deliuer it, when the dangers bee great. k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, and Hermon Eastwarde: so the Prophet signifieth that all partes and places of the worlde shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church. l For hereby hee iudgeth the world and sheweth himselfe a merciful Father and faithfull protectour vnto his.

m Feeling in their conscience that God is their father.
n They shall bee preserued by thy fatherly prouidence.
o In that they are preserued and continue, they ought to giue the praise and glory onely to thee.
p In that that our king hath power to defend vs, it is the gift of God.
q To Samuel and to others, to assure that Dauid was thy chosen one.
r Whom I haue both chosen and giuen him strength to execute his office, as verse 21.
f Though there shall be euermore enemies against Gods kingdome, yet he promiseth to ouercome them, t I will mercifully performe my promises to him, notwithstanding his infirmities and offences.
u His power glory and estate.
x He shall enioy the land round about.
y His excellent dignitie shall appeare herein, that he shal be named ỹ sonne of God, & the first borne, wherein he is a figure of Christ.
z Though for the sinnes of the people the state of this kingdome decayed: yet God reserued still a roote, blishment of thy throne: mercy and trueth go before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people, that can [m] reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy [n] countenance, O Lord.

16 They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousnesse shall they exalt themselues.

17 For thou art [o] glory of their strength, and by thy fauour our hornes shalbe exalted.

18 For our [p] shield appertaineth to ỹ Lord, and our king to the holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision vnto [q] thine Holy one, and saydest, I haue layde helpe vpon one that is [r] mightie: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with mine holy oyle haue I anointed him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with [h] him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.

22 The enemie shall not oppresse him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I will [f] destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My trueth also and my [t] mercie shall be with him, and in my Name shall his [u] horne be exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the [x] floods.

26 He shall crie vnto me, Thou art my [y] Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.

27 Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the kings of the earth.

28 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore, and my couenant shall stand fast with him.

29 His seede also will I make to endure [z] for euer, and his throne as the dayes heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my Law, and walke not in my iudgements:

31 * If they breake my statutes, & keepe not my commandements:

32 Then will I visite their transgression [w] the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.

33 [a] Yet my louing kindnes will I not take from him, neither will I falsifie my trueth.

34 My couenant will I not breake, nor [b] alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I haue sworne once by mine holynesse, ‡ that I wil not faile Dauid, saying, 36 His seede shall endure for euer, and his throne shalbe as the sunne before me.

37 Hee shall bee established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull [c] witnesse in the heauen. Selah.

38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine Anointed.

39 Thou hast [d] broken the couenant of thy seruant, and prophaned his [e] crowne, casting it on the ground.

40 Thou hast broke downe all his wals: thou hast laid his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that goe by the way, spoyle him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set vp the right hande of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his swoorde, and hast not made him to stand in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the ground.

45 The dayes of his [f] youth hast thou shortened, and couered him with shame. Selah.

46 [g] Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer? shall thy wrath burne like fire?

47 Remember [h] of what time I am: wherefore shouldest thou create in vaine all the children of men?

48 What man liueth, and shall not see death? shall hee deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.

49 Lorde, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?

50 Remember, O Lorde, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my [i] bosome of all the mightie people.

51 For [k] thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lorde, because they haue reproched the [l] footesteps of thine Anointed.

52 Prayled bee the Lorde for euermore. So be it, euen so be it.

a Though the faithfull answere not in all pointes to their profession, yet God will not breake his couenant with them.
b For God in promising hath respect to his mercie and not to mans power in performing. ‡ Ebr. If I lye vnto Dauid: which is a maner of othe.
c As long as the sunne and moone endure, they shal be witnesses to me of this promes.
d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God, as though he saw not the performance of his promes. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt and impatiencie, e By this he meaneth the horrible dissipation and renting of the kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboam: or els by the spirit of prophecie Ethan speaketh of those great miseries, which came soone after ward to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon.
f He sheweth that the kingdome fell before it came to perfection, or was ripe.
g The Prophet in ioyning prayer with his complaint, sheweth that his faith neuer fayled.
h Seeing mans life is short, and thou hast created man to bestow thy benefites vpon him, excepe thou haste to helpe, death will preuent thee.
i He meaneth, that Gods enemies did not onely slander him behind his backe: but also mocked him to his face, and as it were cast their iniuries in his bosome.
k So hee calleth them that persecute the Church.
l They laugh at vs, which patiently waite for the comming of thy Christ.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses in his prayer setteth before vs the eternall fauour of God towarde his, 3 Who are neyther admouished by the breuitie of their life, 7 Nor by his plagues to bee thankefull, 12 Therefore Moses prayeth God to turne their heartes and continue his mercies towardes them, and their posteritie for euer.

A prayer of Moses, the [a] man of God.

LOrde, thou hast bene our [b] habitation from generation to generation.

2 Before the [c] mountaines were made, and before thou haddest formed the earth, and the worlde, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting thou art our God.

3 Thou [d] turnest man to destruction: & againe thou sayest, Returne, yee sonnes of Adam.

4 [e] For a thousand yeeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou hast [f] ouerflowed them: they are as a sleepe: in the morning he groweth like the grasse:

a Thus the Scripture vseth to call the Prophets.
b Thou hast bin as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles and trauels now this foure hundred yeeres.
c Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before the foundations of the worlde were layde.
d Moses by lamenting the frailtie and shortnesse of mans life, mooueth God to pitie.
e Though man thinke his life long, which is in deede most short, yea, though it were a thousand yeeres: yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, and as the watch that lasteth but three houres.
f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.

6 In the morning it flourisheth & groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For wee are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are past in thine anger: wee haue [h] spent our yeeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threescore yeres and ten, and if they be of strength, [i] fourescore yeeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorow: for it is cut off quickly, and wee flee away.

11 [k] Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine anger.

12 Teach vs so to number our dayes, that wee may apply our hearts vnto [l] wisedome.

13 Returne (O Lord, [m] how long?) and be [‖] pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Fill vs with thy mercy in the morning: so shall we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, and according to the yeeres that we haue seene euill.

16 [n] Let thy worke be seene toward thy seruants, & thy power vpon their [o] children.

17 And let the [p] beautie of the Lorde our God be vpon vs, & [q] direct thou the worke of our handes vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our handes.

g Thou callest vs by thy roddes to consider the shortnesse of our life, and for our sinnes, thou abridgest our dayes.

h Our dayes are not onely short, but miserable, for as much as our sinnes dayly prouoke thy wrath.

i Meaning, according to the common state of life.

k If mans life for the breuitie be miserable, much more if thy wrath lie vpon it, as they which feare thee, onely knowe.

l Which is, by considering the shortnesse of our life, and by meditating the heauenly ioyes.

m Meaning, wilt thou be angry?

‖ Or, take comfort in thy seruants.

n Euen thy mercy, which is thy chiefest worke.

o As Gods promises appertained aswell to their posteritie, as to them, so Moses prayed for the posteritie.

p Meaning, that it was obscured, when hee ceased to doe good to his Church.

q For except thou guide vs with thine holy Spirite, our enterprises can haue no good successe.

1 Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himselfe wholy to his protection in all tentations. 14 A promise of God to those that loue him, know him, and trust in him, to deliuer them, and giue them immortall glory.

WHo so dwelleth in the [a] secret of the most High, shall abide in the shadowe of the Almightie.

2 [b] I will say vnto the Lorde, O mine hope, and my fortresse: hee is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely hee will deliuer thee from the [c] snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

4 He will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his [d] trueth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

5 [e] Thou shalt not be afraide of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flieth by day:

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darkenesse: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine [f] eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast sayde, The Lorde is my hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shal none euil come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 [g] For he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lion and aspe: the [h] yong lion and the dragon shalt thou treade vnder feete.

14 [i] Because he hath loued me, therefore will I deliuer him: I will exalt him because he hath knowen my Name.

15 Hee shall call vpon mee, and I will heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 With [k] long life will I satisfie him, and shew him my saluation.

a He that maketh God his defence and trust, shall perceiue his protection to be a most sure safegarde.

b Being assured of this protection, he prayeth vnto the Lord.

c That is, Gods helpe is most ready for vs, whether Satan assaile vs secretly, which he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.

d That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to helpe thee in thy necessitie.

e The care that God hath ouer his is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers, whether it be secrete or open.

f The godly shall haue some experience of Gods iudgements against the wicked euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall be reueiled.

g God hath not appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his prouidence to keepe his and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without tempting God.

h Thou shalt not onely be preserued from all euill, but ouercome it i To assure the faithfull of Gods protection, he bringeth in God to confirme the same.

k For he is contented with that life, that God giueth: for by death the shortnesse of this life is recompensed with immortalitie.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This Psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre vp the people to acknowledge God, & to prayse him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most speedily perish. 12 In the ende is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to prayse the Lord.

A Psalme or song for the [a] Sabbath day. IT is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High,

2 To declare thy louing kindnesse in the [b] morning, and thy trueth in the night,

3 Vpon an [c] instrument of ten strings, and vpon the viole, with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lorde, hast made mee glad by thy [d] workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An [e] vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednes doe flourish) that they shalbe destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art [f] most High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shal perish: all the workers of iniquitie shalbe destroyed.

a Which teacheth that the vse of the Sabbath standeth in praysing God, and not onely in ceasing from worke.

b For Gods mercy and fidelitie in his promises toward his, binde them to praise him continually, both day and night.

c These instruments were then permitted, but at Christes comming abolished.

d He sheweth what is the vse of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes.

e That is, the wicked consider not God workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore most iustly perish.

f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

g Thou wilt ſtrengthen them with all power, and bleſſe them with all felicitie.
h Though the faithfull ſeeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they ſhall growe againe and flouriſh in the Church of God, as the Cedars doe in mount Lebanon.
i The chidren of God ſhall haue a foorth moſt freſh fruites.

10 g But thou ſhalt exalt mine horne, like the vnicornes, and I ſhalbe anoynted with freſh oyle.
11 Mine eye alſo ſhal ſee my deſire againſt mine enemies: and mine eares ſhall heare my wiſh againſt the wicked, that riſe vp againſt me.
12 The righteous ſhall h flouriſh like a palme tree, and ſhall growe like a cedar in Lebanon.
13 Such as be planted in the houſe of the LORD, ſhall flouriſh in the courts of our God.
14 They ſhall ſtill bring foorth fruite in their i age: they ſhall be fat and flouriſhing, 15 To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

a power aboue nature, and their age ſhall bring

PSAL. XCIII.

1 Hee prayſeth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateth downe all people which liſt them vp againſt his Maieſtie. 5 And prouoketh to conſider his promiſes.

THe LORD a reigneth, and is clothed with maieſtie: the LORD is clothed, and girded with power: the world alſo ſhall be eſtabliſhed, that it cannot be mooued.
2 Thy b throne is eſtabliſhed of old: thou art from euerlaſting.
3 c The floods haue lifted vp, O LORDE: the floods haue lifted vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.
4 The waues of the ſea are marueilous through the noyſe of many waters, yet the LORD on high is more mightie.
5 Thy d teſtimonies are very ſure: holineſſe becommeth thine houſe, O LORDE, for euer.

a As God by his power and wiſedome hath made and gouerneth the world: ſo muſt the ſame be our defence againſt all enemies and dangers.
b Wherein thou ſitteſt and gouerneſt the world.
c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.
d Beſides Gods power and wiſedome in creating, and gouerning, his great mercie alſo appeareth in that hee hath giuen his people his worde and couenant.

PSAL. XCIIII.

1 He prayeth vnto God againſt the violence and arrogancie of tyrants, 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good iſſue of their afflictions, as he felt in himſelfe, and did ſee in others, and by the ruine of the wicked, 23 Whom the Lord will deſtroy.

O LORD God a the auenger, O God the auenger, ſhew thy ſelfe b clearely.
2 Exalt thy ſelfe, O iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proud.
3 LORD, how long ſhall the wicked, howe long ſhall the wicked c triumph?
4 They prate and ſpeake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt themſelues.
5 They d ſmite downe thy people, O LORD, and trouble thine heritage.
6 They ſlay the widowe and the ſtranger, and murther the fatherleſſe.
7 e Yet they ſay, the LORD ſhall not ſee: neither will the God of Iaakob regard it.
8 Conſider ye vnwiſe among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wiſe?

a Whoſe office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.
b Shewe by effect that thou art Iudge of the world to puniſh the wicked.
c That is, brag of their cruelty and oppreſſion: or, eſteeme themſelues aboue all other.
d Seeing the Church was then ſo ſore oppreſſed, it ought not to ſeeme ſtrange to vs, if we ſee it ſo nowe, and therefore wee muſt call to God to take our cauſe in hand.
e Hee ſheweth that they are deſperate in malice, foraſmuch as they feared not God, but gaue themſelues wholy to doe wickedly.

9 He that f planted the eare, ſhall he not heare? or hee that formed the eye, ſhall hee not ſee?
10 Or hee that chaſtiſeth the g nations, ſhall he not correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, ſhall he not knowe?
11 The LORDE knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.
12 Bleſſed is the man, whom thou h chaſtiſeſt, O Lord, and teacheſt him in thy law, 13 That thou mayeſt giue him reſt from the dayes of euill, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.
14 Surely the LORDE will not faile his people, neither will hee forſake his inheritance.
15 For i iudgement ſhall returne to iuſtice, and all the vpright in heart ſhall follow after it.
16 Who will riſe vp with me againſt the wicked? or who will take my part againſt the workers of iniquitie?
17 If the Lord had not k holpen me, my ſoule had almoſt dwelt in ſilence.
18 When I ſayd, l My foote ſlideth, thy mercy, O Lord, ſtayed me.
19 In the multitude of my m thoughts in mine heart, thy comforts haue reioyced my ſoule.
20 Hath ŷ throne of iniquitie n felowſhip with thee, which forgeth wrong for a Law?
21 They gather them together againſt the ſoule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.
22 But the LORD is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of my hope.
23 And hee will recompenſe them their wickednes, & o deſtroy them in their owne malice: yea, the LORDE our God ſhall deſtroy them.

f Hee ſheweth that it is impoſſible but God ſhould heare, ſee and vnderſtand their wickednes.
g If God puniſh whole nations for their ſinnes, it is meere folly for any one man, or els a fewe to thinke that God wil ſpare them.
h God hath care ouer his, and chaſtiſeth them for their wealth, that they ſhould not periſh for euer with the wicked.
i God will reſtore the ſtate & gouernment of things to their right vſe, and then the godly ſhall follow him cheerefully.
k He complaineth of them, which would not helpe him to reſiſt the enemies: yet was aſſured that Gods helpe would not faile.
l Whē I thought there was no way but death. m In my trouble found thy preſent helpe. n Though the wicked iudges pretende iuſtice in oppreſſing the Church, yet they haue not God. o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, of the wicked is broken, but moſt, when they are owne malice.
and diſtreſſe I euer that authoritie o when the purpoſ deſtroyed in thei

1 An earneſt exhortation to prayſe God, 4 For the gouernement of the world, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wilderneſſe: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promiſe.

COme, let vs reioyce vnto the LORDE: let vs ſing a aloude vnto the rocke of our ſaluation.
2 Let vs come before his face w prayſe: let vs ſing loude vnto him with Pſalmes.
3 For the LORDE is a great God, and a great King aboue all b gods.
4 In whoſe hand are the deepe places of the earth, and the c heightes of the mountaines are his:
5 To whome the Sea belongeth: for hee made it, & his hands formed the dry land.
6 Come, let vs d worſhip & fall downe, a He ſheweth that Gods ſeruice ſtandeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the ſacrifice of prayſe and thanksgiuing.

b Euen the Angels (who in reſpect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his ſight: much leſſe the idoles, which mans braine inuenteth. c All things are gouerned by his prouidence. d By the three wordes he ſignifieth one thing: meaning, that they muſt who giue themſelues to ſeruice God.

and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his hand: to day, if ye will heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your heart, as ‖ in Meribah, and as in the day of ‖ Massah in the wildernesse.

9 Where your fathers [x] tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my worke.

10 Fortie yeeres haue I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that [g] erre in heart, for they haue not known my wayes.

11 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shal not enter into my [h] rest.

c That is, the flocke whom he gouerneth with his owne hand. He sheweth where in they are Gods flocke: that is, if they heare his voyce.

f By the contemning of Gods word.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes & Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdome of Christ.

SIng [a] vnto the Lord a newe song: sing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is [b] great and much to be praised: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are ‖ idols: but the Lord [c] made the heauens.

6 [d] Strength and glorie are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuarie.

7 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glorie and [e] power.

8 Giue vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name: bring [f] an offering, and enter into his courts.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the [g] nations, The Lord reigneth: surely the world shall bee stable, and not moue, and hee shall iudge the people [h] in righteousnes.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyful, and al that is in it: let all the [i] trees of the wood then reioyce

13 Before the Lord: for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he will iudge the world with righteousnesse, and the people in his trueth.

a The Prophet sheweth that the time shall come, that all nations shall haue occasion to praise the Lord for the reuealing of his Gospell.

b Seeing he will reuile himselfe to all nations contrary to their owne expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their owne imaginations, and onely as he hath appointed.

‖ Or, vanities.

c Then the idols, or whatsoeuer made not the heauens, are not God.

d God cannot be knowen, but by his strength and glory: the signes whereof appeare in his sanctuarie.

e As by experience yee see that it is onely due vnto him.

f By offering vp your selues wholy vnto God, declare that you worship him onely.

g He prophecieth that the Gentiles shall bee partakers with the Iewes of Gods promise.

h He shall regenerate them a new with his Spirite, and restore them to the image of God.

i If the insensible creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whom he hath taken malediction and sinne.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdome of Christ, 7 Dread all to the rebels and idolaters, 8 And ioyfull to the iust, & home hee exorteth to innocencie, 12 To reioycing and thankesgiuing.

THe [a] Lorde raigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the [b] multitude of the yles bee glad.

2 [c] Cloudes and darkenesse are rounde about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gaue light vnto the world: the earth sawe it, and was [d] afraide.

5 The mountaines melted like ware at the presence of the Lorde, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteousnesse, and all the people see his glory.

7 [e] Confounded bee all they that serue grauen images, and that glory in idoles: worship him [f] all ye gods.

8 Sion heard of it, and was glad: and the [g] daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou ‖ Lorde, art most high aboue all the earth: thou art much exalted aboue all gods.

10 Ye that [h] loue the Lord, hate euill: he preserueth the soules of his Saints: he will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

11 [i] Light is sowen for the righteous, and ioy for the vpright in heart.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thankes for his holy [k] remembrance.

a He sheweth y where God raigneth, there is all felicitie and spiritual ioy.

b For the Gospell shal not be onely preached in Iudea, but through all yles and countreys.

c He is thus described to keepe his enemies in feare, which cõmonly contemne Gods power.

d This feare bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to run away frõ God.

e He signifieth that Gods iudgements are in a readinesse to destroy the idolaters.

f Let all that which is esteemed in the world, fall downe before him.

g The Iewes shall haue occasion to reioyce that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour.

h He requireth two things of his children: the one that they dereст vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance.

i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowen and layd vp in store for them.

k Be mindfull of his benefits, and onely trust in his defence.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to prayse the Lorde for his power, mercie, and fidelitie in bis promise by Christ, 10 By whome hee hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

A Psalme.

SIng [a] vnto the Lord a new song: for hee hath done marueilous things: [*] his right hand, and his holy [b] arme haue gotten him the victorie.

2 The Lord declared his [c] saluation: his righteousnesse hath hee reuealed in the sight of the nations.

3 He hath [d] remembred his mercie and his trueth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing yee loude vnto the Lord: cry out and reioyce, and sing prayses.

5 Sing praise to ỹ Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voyce.

6 With [e] shalmes and sound of trumpets sing loude before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is, the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountaines reioyce together.

9 Before the Lorde: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteousnesse shall he iudge the world, & the people with equitie.

a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderful deliuerãce by Christ. Isa. 59.16.

b He preserueth his Church miraculously.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.

d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but becaule he would performe his promise.

e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue prayses with instruments, and also of the dumme creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to prayse God sufficiently, for their deliuerance.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie & excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ ouer the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 And prouoketh thē to magnifie the same and to serue the Lord, 6 Following the example of the ancient fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their praiers.

THe Lord reigneth, let the [a] people tremble: he sitteth betweene the *Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is hie aboue all the people.

3 They shall [b] praise thy great and fearfull Name (for it is holy)

4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement; for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgement and iustice in Iaakob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his [c] footestoole: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priests, [d] and Samuel among such as call vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 He spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Law that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou diddest take vengeance for [e] their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holy Mountaine: for the Lorde our God is holy.

a When God deliuereth his Church, all the enemies shall haue cause to tremble. Exod. 25.22.

b Though the wicked rage against God, yet the godly shall praise his Name and mightie power.

c That is, before his Temple or arke, where he promised to heare, when they worshipped him, as nowe he promiseth his spirituall presence, wheresoeuer his Church is assembled.

d Vnder these three hee comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whome God made his promise. e For the more liberally that God dealeth with his people, the more doth he punish them that abuse his benefites.

PSAL. C.

1 Hee exhorteth all to serue the Lord, 3 Who hath chosen vs and preserued vs, 4 And to enter into his assemblies to praise his name.

¶ A Psalme of praise.

SIng [a] ye loud vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Serue the Lord with gladnesse: come before him with ioyfulnesse.

3 Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: he hath [b] made vs, and not wee ouer selues: we are his people, & the sheepe of his pasture.

4 [c] Enter into his gates with praise, and into his courts with reioycing: praise him, and blesse his Name.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercy is [d] euerlasting, and his trueth is from generation to generation.

a He propheseieth that Gods benefit in calling the Gentiles, shalbe so great, that they shall haue wonderful occasiō to prayse his mercie and reioyce.

b He chiefly meaneth, touching the spirituall regeneration, whereby wee are his sheepe and people. c He sheweth that God will not be worshipped, but by that meanes, which he hath appoynted. d Hee declareth that wee ought neuer to bee wearie in prayfing him, seeing his mercies towards vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 Dauid describeth what gouernment hee will obserue in his house and kingdome. 5 He will punish and correct, by rooting foorth the wicked, 6 And cherishing the godly persons.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will [a] sing mercy and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will doe wisely in the perfect way a Dauid considereth what maner of King he would be, when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull and iust.

[b] till thou commest to me: I will walke in the vprightnesse of mine heart in the midst of mine house.

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate [c] the worke of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.

4 A frowarde heart shall depart from me: I will knowe none euill.

5 Him [d] priuily slandereth his neighbour, will I destroy: him y hath a proude looke and hie heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eyes shall be vnto the [e] faithful of the land, that they may dwel with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serue me.

7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: he that telleth lyes, shall not remaine in my sight.

8 [f] Betimes will I destroy all y wicked of the lande, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the citie of the Lord.

b Though as yet thou deferrest to place me in the kingly dignitie, yet will I giue my selfe to wisedome and vprightnesse, being a priuate man.

c He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duelies, except they be enemies to all vice.

d In promising to punish these vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about kings, hee declareth that he will punish all. e He sheweth what is the true vse of the sworde: to punish the wicked, and to maintaine the good. f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, least it grow to further inconuenience: and if heathen Magistrates are bound to doe this, howe much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

1 It seemeth that this prayer was appointed to the faithfull to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posteritie. 22 The conuersion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stabilitie of the Church.

¶ A prayer [a] of the afflicted, when hee shall be in distresse, and powre foorth his meditation before the Lord.

O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my [b] cry come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto mee: when I call, make haste to heare me.

3 For my dayes are [c] consumed like smoke, & my bones are burnt like an herth.

4 Mine heart is smitten and withereth like grasse, because I forgate [d] to eate my bread.

5 For y voyce of my groning my bones doe cleaue to my skinne.

6 I am like a [e] pelicane of the wildernesse: I am like an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparowe alone vpon the house toppe.

8 Mine enemies reuile mee dayly, and they that rage against mee, haue [f] sworne against me.

9 Surely I haue [g] eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 Because of thine [h] indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast heaued me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou, O Lord, doest [i] remaine for euer, a Whereby is signified, that albeit we be in neuer so great miseries, yet there is euer place left for prayer.

b He declareth that in our prayer we must liuely feele that which we desire, and stedfastly beleeue to obtaine.

c These excessiue kindes of speech shewe how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the hearts of the godly.

d My sorowes were so great, that I passed not for my ordinarie foode.

e Euer mourning and solitarie, casting out fearefull cryes. f Haue conspired my death

14 For thy seruants delite in the l stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.

m That is, when he shall haue drawen his Church out of the darkenesse of death.

17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people, which shall be n created, shall praise the Lord.

n The deliuerance of the Church is a most excellent benefite, and therefore he compareth it to a newe creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to haue bene dead, which by deliuerance was as it were created anewe.

19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth,

20 That hee might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the o children of death:

o Who now in their banishment could looke for nothing but death.

21 That they may declare p name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 22 When the people shalbe gathered q together, and the kingdoms to serue the Lord.

p He sheweth that Gods name is neuer more prayed then when religion florisheth, and the Church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdome of Christ.

23 Hee r abated my strength in the way, and shortened my dayes.

24 And I sayde, O my God, take me not away in the mids of my dayes: thy peeres endure from generation to generation.

q The Church lament that they see not the time of Christ, which was promised, but haue but few yeeres and short dayes.

25 Thou hast aforetime layde the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine handes.

26 s They shal perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shalbe changed.

r If heauen and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promise endureth for euer.

27 But thou art the same, and thy peres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue, and their seede shall stand t fast in thy sight.

s Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of ỹ world, and ioyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art euerlasting.

PSAL. CIII.

1 He prouoketh all to praise the Lord, which hath pardoned his sinnes, deliuered him from destruction, and giuen him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he sheweth like a most tender father towardes his children. 14 The frailetie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

MY soule a praise thou the Lorde, and all that is within mee, prayse his holy name.

a He wakeneth his dulnesse to praise God, shewing that both vnderstanding and affections, minde and heart are too little to set forth his praise.

2 My soule, prayse thou the Lorde, and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which b forgiueth all thine iniquitie, and healeth all thine infirmities.

b This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefites: remission of sinne.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the c graue, and crowneth thee with mercy and compassions.

c For before that we haue remission of our sinnes, we are as dead men in the graue.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy d youth is renued like the eagles.

d As the eagle, when her beake ouergroweth, sucketh blood, and so is renued in strength, euen so God miraculously giueth strength to his Church aboue all mans expectation.

6 The Lord executeth righteousnesse and iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 Hee made his wayes knowen vnto e Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

e As to his chiefe minister, and next to his people.

8 The Lord is ful of compassion & mercie, slowe to anger, and of great kindnesse.

9 He wil not alway f chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

f He sheweth first his seuere iudgement, but so soone as the sinner is hubled, hee receiueth him to mercie.

10 He hath not g dealt with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

g We haue proued by continuall experience, that his mercie hath euer preuailed against our offences.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, so great is his mercy towarde them that feare him.

h As great as the world is, so full is it of signes of Gods mercies toward his faithfull, when hee hath remoued their sinnes.

12 As farre as h the East is from the West: so farre hath he remoued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lorde compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth wherof we be made: he remembreth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of i man are as grasse: as a flower of the field, so flourisheth he.

i He declareth that man hath nothing in himselfe to moue God to mercie, but onely the confession of his infirmitie and misery.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindnesse of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his k righteousnesse vpon children's children, k His iust and faithful keeping of his promise.

18 Vnto them that keepe his l couenant, and thinke vpon his commaundements to do them.

l To whom he giueth grace to feare him, and to obey his word.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Praise the Lord, ye m his Angels, that excell in strength, that do his commaundement in obeying the voyce of his worde.

m In that that we, which naturally are slowe to praise God, exhorte the Angelles which willingly doe it, we stirre vp our selues to consider our duetie and awake out of our sluggishnesse.

21 Praise the Lorde, all ye his hostes, yee his seruants that do his pleasure.

22 Praise the Lorde, all yee his workes, in all places of his dominion: my soule, praise thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIIII.

1 An excellent Psalme to praise God for the creation of the worlde, and the gouernance of the same by his marueilous prouidence, 35 Wherein the Prophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminished his blessings.

MY soule, praise thou the Lorde: O Lorde my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art a clothed with glory and honour.

a The Prophet sheweth that wee neede not to enter into the heauens to seeke God, forasmuch as al the order of nature, with the proprietie and placing of the elements, are most liuely mirrours to see his maiestie in.

2 Which couereth himselfe with light as with a garment, and spreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which [b] maketh the spirites his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer mooue.

6 Thou coueredst it with the [c] deepe, as with a garment: the [d] waters would stand aboue the mountaines,

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascende, and the valleis descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bound, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the valleis, which run betweene the mountaines.

11 They shal giue drinke to all the beasts of the field, and the wilde asses shall quench their thirst.

12 By these [f] springs shall the foules of the heauen dwel, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his [g] chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruite of thy workes.

14 Hee causeth grasse to growe for the cattell, and herbe for the vse of [h] man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That the birds may make their nests there: the storke dwelleth in the firre trees.

18 The high mountaines are for the ‖goates: the rocks are a refuge for [i] conies.

19 He appointed the [j] moone for certaine seasons: [k] the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forest creepe forth.

21 The lions roare after their pray, and seeke their meate [l] at God.

22 When the sunne riseth, they retire, and couch in their dennes.

23 [m] Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntil the euening.

24 O Lorde, howe [n] manifolde are thy works! in wisedome hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wide: for there in are things creeping innumerable, both small beasts and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea, that ‖ Liuiathan, whom thou hast made to play therin.

27 [o] All these waite vpon thee, that thou

b As the Prophet here shewech that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Hebr. 1.7. beholdeth in this glasse, how the very Angels also are obedient to his commandement.

c Thou makest the sea to be an ornament vnto the earth.

d If by thy power thou diddest not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible, but the whole world should be destroyed.

e If God prouide for the very beastes, much more will he extend his prouident care to man.

f There is no part of the world so barren, where most euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

g From the cloudes.

h Hee describeth Gods prouident care ouer man, who doeth not onely prouide necessary things for him, as he bes and other meate: but also things to reioyce and comfort him, as wine and oyle, or ointments.

‖ Or, does, foes, & such like.

i As to separate the night from the day, and to note dayes, moneths and yeeres.

k That is, by his course either farre or neere, it noteth summer, winter and other seasons.

l That is, they only finde meate according to Gods prouidéce, who careth euen for the bruite beastes.

m To wit, when the day springeth: for the light is as it were a shielde to defend man against the tyrannie & fiercenes of beasts.

n He confesseth that no tongue is able to expresse Gods woorkes, nor minde to comprehende them.

‖ Or, whale.

o God is a most nourishing Father, who prouideth for all creatures their daily foode.

maiest giue them foode in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hande, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou [p] hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they die and returne to their dust.

30 Againe, if thou [q] send forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renuest the face of the earth.

31 Glorie be to the Lorde for euer: let the Lorde reioyce in his workes.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth: hee toucheth the mountaines, and they [r] smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lorde all my life: I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my woordes bee acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners be [s] consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there bee no more: O my soule, praise thou the Lorde. Praise ye the Lord.

p As by thy presence all things haue life: so, if thou withdraw thy blessings, they all perish.

q As the death of creatures sheweth that wee are nothing of our selues: so their generation declareth that we receiue all things of our Creator.

r Gods mercifull face giueth strength to the earth, but his seuere countenance burneth the mountaines.

s Who infect the worlde, and so cause God that he cannot reioyce in his workes.

1 Hee praiseth the singular grace of God, who hath of all the people in the worlde chosen a peculiar people to himselfe, and hauing chosen them, neuer ceaseth to do them good, euen for his promise sake.

PSAL. CVI.

1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus do magnifie the goodnes of God among the iust and repentant: 4 Desiring to bee brought againe into the land by Gods merciful visitation. 8 And after the manifold maruailes of God wrought in their deliuerance forth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed, 47 They do pray and desire to bee gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may prayse the Name of the God of Israel.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRayse [a] ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shew foorth all his prayse?
3 Blessed are they that [b] keepe iudgement, and doe righteousnesse at all times.
4 Remember me, O Lord, with the [c] fauour of thy people: visite me with thy saluation,
5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioy of thy people, and glory with thine inheritance.
6 We haue [d] sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.
7 Our fathers vnderstood not thy wonders in Egypt, neyther remembred they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.
8 Neuerthelesse he [e] saued them for his Names sake, that hee might make his power to be knowen.
9 And he rebuked the red Sea, & it was dryed vp, and hee led them in the deepe, as in the wildernesse.
10 And he saued them from the aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.
11 * And the waters couered their oppressours: not one of them was left.
12 Then [f] beleeued they his wordes, and sang prayse vnto him.
13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they wayted not for his [g] counsel, 14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wildernes, and tempted God in the desart.
15 Then hee gaue them their desire: but he sent [h] leanenesse into their soule.
16 They enuied Moses also in the tents, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.
17 Therefore the earth opened & [i] swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to prayse God for his benefites past, that thereby their mindes may be strengthened against all present troubles and despaire.
b He sheweth that it is not ynough to prayse God with mouth, except the whole heart agree thereunto, and all our life be thereunto framed.
c Let the good will that thou beareſt to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be receiued into the number of thine.
d By earnest confession aswell of their owne, as of their fathers sinnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promise would pitie them.
e The inestimable goodnesse of God appeareth in this, that hee would change the order of nature rather then his people should not bee deliuered, although they were wicked. Exod.14.27. f The wonderfull workes of God caused them to beleeue for a time, and to prayse him. g They would preuent his wisedome and prouidence.. h The abundance that God gaue them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God cursed it. i By the greatnesse of his punishment the haynous offence may bee considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assemblie: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, & worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their k glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauiour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the lande of Ham, and fearefull things by the red sea.

23 Therfore he minded to destroy them, had l not Moses his chosen stande in the breach before him to turne away his wrath lest he should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that m pleasant land, and beleeued not his worde, 25 But murmured in their tentes, and hearkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore n hee lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wildernesse, 27 And to destroy their seede among the nations, and to scatter them throughout the countreis.

28 They ioyned themselues also vnto o Baal-peor, and did eate the offerings of the p dead.

29 Thus they q prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But r Phinehas stoode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was staied.

31 *And it was ſ imputed vnto him for righteousnesse from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angred him also at the waters of *Meribah, so that t Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lippes.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their u sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And shed innocent blood, euen ẋ blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the land was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stained with their owne workes, and went a x whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therfore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hee abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were Lords ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many y a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquitie.

44 Yet he sawe when they were in affliction, and he heard their cry.

45 And he remembred his couenant toward them, and z repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lord our God, and a gather vs from among the heathen, that wee may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy praise.

48 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

a Gather thy Church, which is dispersed, and giue vs constancie vnder the crosse, that with one consent wee may all prayse thee.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lord, and gathered vnto him, to giue thanks, 9 For this mercifull prouidence of God, gouerning all things at his good pleasure, 20 Sending good & euil, prosperitie and aduersitie to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shal the wicked haue their mouthes stopped.

PRaise a the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let them, b which haue bene redeemed of the Lorde, shewe how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

3 And gathered them out of the landes, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the ‖ South.

4 When they wandred in the desart and wildernesse out of the way, and found no citie to dwell in,

5 c Both hungry and thirstie, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lorde his louing kindnesse, & his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

9 For hee satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungry soule with goodnesse.

10 They, that dwell in darknesse and in the shadowe of death, being bound in misery and yron,

11 Because they d rebelled against the wordes of the Lord, and despised the counsell of the most High,

12 When hee humbled their heart with heauinesse, then they fell downe and there was no helper.

13 Then they e cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble, and hee deliuered them from their distresse.

t If so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment, though others prouoked him to sinne, how much more shall they bee subiect to Gods iudgement, which cause Gods children to sinne?

u Hee sheweth how monstrous a thing idolatrie is, which can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods worde can not obtaine most small things.

x Then true chastitie is to cleaue wholy and onely vnto God.

y The Prophet sheweth that neither by menaces nor promises we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercie ouercouer and hide our malice.

z Not that God is changeable in himselfe, but that then he seemeth to vs to repent, when he altereth his punishment, and forgiueth vs.

a This notable sentence was in the beginning vsed, as the foote or tenor of the song, which was oftentimes repeated.

b As this was true in the Iewes, so is there none of Gods elect, that feele not his helpe in their necessitie.

‖ Or, from the seas meaning the red sea, which is on the South part of the land.

c He sheweth that there is none affliction so grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhorteth them, that are deliuered, to be mindfull of so great a benefite.

d Then the true way to obey God, is to follow his expresse commandement: also hereby all are exhorted to descende into themselues, for as much as none are punished, but for their sinnes.

e Hee sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because wee can bee brought vnto him by none other meanes.

f When there seemeth to mans iudgement no recouery, but all things are brought to despaire, then God chiefly sheweth his mightie power.

14 Hee brought them out of darkenesse, and out of the shadowe of death, and brake their bands asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lorde his louing kindenesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For hee hath broken the f gates of brasse, and brast the barres of yron asunder.

17 g Fooles by reason of their transgression, and because of their iniquities are afflicted.

18 Their soule abhorreth all meate, and they are brought to deaths doore.

19 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee deliuereth them from their distresse.

h By healing them he declareth his good wil toward them.

20 h Hee sendeth his worde and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their i graues.

i Meaning, their diseases, which had almost brought them to the graue and corruption.

21 Let them therefore confesse before the Lorde his louing kindenesse, and his wonderfull works before the sonnes of men, 22 And let the offer sacrifices of k praise, and declare his works with reioycing.

k Praise & confession of Gods benefits are the true sacrifices of the godly.

23 They that goe downe to the l sea in ships, and occupie by the great waters, l He sheweth by the sea, what care God hath ouer man: for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were, from a thousand deaths.

24 They see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deepe.

25 For he commandeth and raiseth the stormie winde, and it lifteth vp the waues thereof.

m Their feare and danger is so great.

26 They mount vp to the heauen, and descende to the deepe, so that their soule m melteth for trouble.

27 They are tossed to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and all their n cunning is gone.

n When their arte and meanes faile them, they are compelled to confesse that only Gods prouidence doeth preserue them.

28 Then they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble, and hee bringeth them out of their distresse.

29 Hee turneth the storme to calme, so that the waues thereof are still.

o Though before euery drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandement they are as still, as though they were frosen.

30 When they are o quieted, they are glad, and hee bringeth them vnto the hauen, where they would be.

31 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindenesse, and his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the p Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assemblie of the Elders.

p This great benefite ought not onely to be considered particularly but magnified in all places and assemblies. ‖Or, salt-nesse.

33 He turneth the floodes into a wildernes, and the springs of waters into drinesse, 34 And a fruitfull land into ‖barrennesse for the wickednesse of them q dwell therein.

q For the loue that he beareth to his Church, hee changeth the order of nature for their commoditie.

35 Againe he r turneth the wildernes into pooles of water, and the drie lande into water springs.

r Continuall increase and yerely.

36 And there hee placeth the hungrie, and they build a citie to dwell in,

37 And sow the fieldes & plant vineyards, which bring forth fruitfull s increase.

s As God by his prouidence doth exalt men, so doth he also humble them by afflictions to know themselues.

38 For he blesseth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and hee diminisheth not their cattell.

39 t Againe men are diminished, and brought low by oppression, euill, and sorow.

t For their wickednesse and tyrannie he causeth the people and subiects to contemne them.

40 Hee powreth u contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

u They, whose faith is lightned by Gods spirite, shal reioyce to see Gods iudgements against the wicked and vngodly.

41 Yet hee raiseth vp the poore out of miserie, and maketh him families like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The x righteous shall see it, & reioyce, and all iniquitie shal stop her mouth.

x a This earnest affection declareth that he is free from hypocrisie, and that sluggishnes stayeth him not. ‖Or, my glory, because it chiefly setteth forth the glory of God.

43 Who is wise, that hee may obserue these things? for they shall vnderstand the louing kindnesse of the Lord.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is compesed of two other Psalmes before, the seuen & fiftieth & the sixtieth. The matter here conteined, is, 1 That Dauid giueth himselfe with heart and voyce to praise the Lorde, 7 And assureth himselfe of the promise of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone wil in the end cast down our enemies.

A song or Psalme of Dauid.

O God, mine heart is a prepared, so is ‖my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

a This is declareth that he is ready to praise God.

2 Awake viole and harpe: I wil awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord among the b people, and I wil sing vnto thee, among the nations.

b He propheciedth of the calling of the Gentiles: for except they were called, they could not heare the goodnesse of God.

4 For thy mercy is great aboue the heauens, and thy truth vnto the cloudes.

5 c Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth, c Let all the world see thy iudgements, in that thou art God ouer all, and so confesse that thou art glorious.

6 That thy beloued may bee deliuered: d helpe with thy right hand and heare mee.

d When God by his benefites maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in prayer.

7 God hath spoken in his e holinesse: therefore I will reioyce, I shal deuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

e As hee hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shew him selfe constant and holy in his promise, so that these nations following me. Psal. 60. 8.

8 Gilead shalbe mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iuda is my law giuer.

9 *Moab shal be my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina will I triumph.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 f Wilt not thou, O God, which hadest forsaken vs, and didst not go forth, O God, with our armies?

f From the sixt verse of this Psalme vnto the last, reade the exposition of the 60. Psalme, and fift verse.

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shal doe valiantly: for he shall treade downe our enemies.

PSAL. CIX.

1 Dauid being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth hee promise to giue praises vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

HOlde not thy tongue, O God of my [a] praiſe.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceit are opened vpon mee: they haue ſpoken to mee with a lying tongue.

3 They compaſſed mee about alſo with wordes of hatred, and fought againſt mee without a cauſe.

4 For my friendſhip they were mine aduerſaries, [b] but I gaue my ſelfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded mee euill for good, and hatred for my friendſhip.

6 [c] Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduerſarie ſtand at his right hand.

7 When hee ſhall bee iudged, let him be condemned, and let his [d] prayer bee turned into ſinne.

8 Let his dayes be fewe, and let another take his [e] charge.

9 Let his children be fatherleſſe, and his wife a widow.

10 Let his children bee vagabonds and begge and ſeeke bread, comming out of their places deſtroyed.

11 Let [f] the extortioner catch all that hee hath, and let the ſtrangers ſpoyle his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercy vnto him: neyther let there bee any to ſhewe mercie vpon his fatherleſſe children.

13 Let his poſteritie be deſtroyed, and in the generation following let their name be put out.

14 [g] Let the iniquitie of his fathers bee had in remembrance with the Lorde: and let not the ſinne of his mother bee done away.

15 But let them allway be before the Lord, that hee may cut off their memoriall from the earth.

16 Becauſe [h] he remembred not to ſhew mercie, but perſecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the ſorowfull hearted to ſlay him.

17 As he loued curſing, [i] ſo ſhall it come vnto him, and as hee loued not bleſſing, ſo ſhall it be farre from him.

18 As hee clothed himſelfe with curſing like a raiment, ſo ſhall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it bee vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he ſhall be allway girded.

20 Let this bee the reward of mine aduerſarie [k] from the Lorde, and of them, that ſpeake euill againſt my ſoule.

21 But thou, O Lorde my God, deale with me according vnto thy [l] Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Becauſe I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the ſhadowe that declineth, & am ſhaken off as the [m] graſſhopper.

24 My knees are weake through faſting, and my fleſh [n] hath loſt all fatneſſe.

25 I became alſo a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon mee, ſhaked their heads.

26 Helpe mee, O Lorde my God: [o] ſaue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they ſhall knowe, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, haſt done it.

28 Though they [p] curſe, yet thou wilt bleſſe: they ſhall ariſe and bee confounded, but thy ſeruant ſhall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduerſaries be clothed with ſhame, and let them couer themſelues with their confuſion, as with a cloke.

30 I will giue thankes vnto the Lorde greatly with my [q] mouth, and praiſe him among the multitude.

31 For he will ſtand at the right hande of the poore, to ſaue him from them that [r] condemne his ſoule.

a Though all the world condemne me, yet thou wilt approue mine innocencie, and that is a ſufficient praiſe to me.

b To declare that I had none other refuge, but thee, in whome my conſcience was at reſt.

c Whether it were Doeg or Saul, or ſome familiar friend, that had betrayed him, he prayeth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods ſpirite, that God would take vengeance vpon him.

d As to the elect, all things turne to their profite: ſo to the reprobate, euen thoſe things that are good, turne to their damnation.

e This was chiefly accompliſhed in Iudas, Actes 1. 20.

f He declareth that the curſe of God lieth vpon the extortioners: who thinking to enrich their children by their vnlawfull gotten goods, are by Gods iuſt iudgement depriued of all.

g Thus puniſheth the Lord to the third and fourth generation the wickedneſſe of the parents in their wicked children.

h He ſheweth that God accuſtometh to plague them after a ſtrange ſort, that ſhewe themſelues cruell toward other.

i Thus giueth the Lorde to euery man the thing, wherein hee delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuſe God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their luſtes and reprobate mindes.

k For being deſtitute of mans helpe, he fully truſted in the Lorde, that hee woulde deliuer him.

l As thou art named merciful, gracious & long ſuffring, ſo ſhew thy ſelfe in effect.

m Meaning, that he hath no ſtay nor aſſurance in this world.

n For hunger, that came of ſorowe, hee was leane, and his naturall moiſture failed him.

o The more grieuous that Satan aſſailed him, the more earneſt and inſtant was he in prayer.

p They ſhall gaine nothing by curſing me.

q Not onely in confeſſing it ſecretly in my ſelf, but alſo in declaring it before all the Congregation.

r Hereby he ſheweth that he had not to doe with them, that were of litle power, but with the iudges and princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

1 Dauid propheceith of the power and euerlaſting kingdome giuen to Chriſt, 4 And of his Prieſthoode, which ſhould put an end to the Prieſthoods of Leui.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

THe [a] Lord ſaid vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footeſtoole.

2 The Lorde ſhall ſend the rodde of thy power out of [b] Zion: bee thou ruler in the middes of thine enemies.

3 Thy people ſhall come willingly at the time of aſſembling [c] of thine armie in holy beautie: the youth of thy wombe ſhall be as the morning dew.

4 The Lord ſware, and will not repent, Thou art a Prieſt for euer after the order of [d] Melchi-zedek.

5 The Lorde that is at thy right hand, ſhall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He ſhall be iudge among the heathen: he ſhall fill all with dead bodies, and ſmite the [e] head ouer great countries.

7 He ſhall [f] drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore ſhall he lift vp his head.

a Iesus Chriſt in the two and twentie of Mat. verſe 44. giueth the interpretation hereof, and ſheweth that this can not properly be applied vnto Dauid, but to himſelfe.

b And thence it ſhall ſtretch through all the world: and this power chiefly ſtandeth in the preaching of his word.

c By thy worde thy people ſhall bee aſſembled into thy Church, whoſe increaſe ſhall bee ſo abundant and wonderfull, as the droppes of the dewe.

d As Melchi-zedek the figure of Chriſt was both King and Prieſt: ſo the effect cannot be accompliſhed in any King, ſaue onely in Chriſt, Heb. 7.26.

e No power ſhall be able to reſiſt him.

f Vnder this ſimilitude of a captaine, that is ſo greedy to deſtroy his enemies, that he will not ſcarſe drinke by the way, hee ſheweth how God will deſtroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thankes to the Lorde for his merciſull workes toward his Church, 10 And declareth wherein true wiſedome and right knowledge conſiſteth.

¶ Praiſe

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

I Will a praise the Lorde with my whole heart in the assembly and Congregation of the iust.

2 The workes of the Lord are b great, & ought to be sought out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautifull and glorious, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderfull works to be had in remembrance: the Lord is mercifull and ful of compassion.

5 He hath giuen c a portion vnto them that feare him: he will euer be mindefull of his couenant.

6 Hee hath shewed to his people the power of his workes in giuing vnto them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The d workes of his hands are trueth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his couenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 e The beginning of wisedome is the feare of the Lorde: all they that obserue f them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

a The Prophet declareth that he will praise God both priuately and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himselfe wholy and onely vnto God.

b He sheweth that Gods works are a sufficient cause wherefore we should praise him, but chiefly his benefites toward his Church.

c God hath giue to his people all that was necessarie for them, and will doe still euen for his couenants sake: and in this sense the Hebrew worde is taken, Prou. 30.8. and 31.15. ‖ Or, pray, and foode.

d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doeth hee declare himselfe iust and true in the gouernement of the same.

e They onely are wise, that feare God, and none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his worde.

f To wit, his commandements, as vers. 7.

PSAL. CXII.

1 Hee praiseth the felicitie of them that feare God, 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

BLessed is the man, that a feareth the Lord, and delighteth greatly in his commaundements.

2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the righteous shal be blessed.

3 b Riches & treasures shalbe in his house, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the c righteous ariseth light in darknesse: he is mercifull and full of compassion and righteous.

5 A good man is merciful and d lendeth, and will measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely he shall neuer be moued: but the righteous shal be had in euerlasting remembrance.

7 He wil not be afraide of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and beleeueth in the Lorde.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, vntil he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath e distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousnesse remaineth for euer: his f horne shall be exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shall see it & be angry: he shall gnash with his teeth, and s consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare, which is in the children of God, which causeth them to delite onely in the worde of God.

b The godly shal haue abundance & contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely.

c The faithfull in all their aduersities knowe that all shall goe well with them: for God will be mercifull and iust.

d He sheweth what is the fruite of mercy: to lend freely & not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to helpe where neede requireth, and not to bestow all on himselfe.

e The godly pinch not nigardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of the poore requireth, and as his power is able.

f His power and prosperous estate.

g The blessings of God vpon his children shall cause the wicked to die for enuie.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to prayse the Lorde for his prouidence, 7 In that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRaise, O ye seruants of the Lord, a praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lord, from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lordes Name is praysed from the rising of the sunne vnto y going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all b nations, and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling on high,

6 Who abaseth himselfe to beholde things in the heauen and in the earth?

7 He rayseth the needy out of the dust, and lifteth vp the c poore out of the dung,

8 That he may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.

9 Hee maketh the barren woman to dwell with a familie, and a ioyfull mother of children. Prayse ye the Lord.

a By this often repetition he stirreth vp our colde dulnesse to praise God, seeing his workes are so wonderfull, and that we are created for the same cause.

b If Gods glory shine through all the world, and therefore of all ought to be praised, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whom chiefly it shineth, if they should not earnestly extoll his name?

c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barren children, hee sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinary meanes, but also by miracles.

PSAL. CXIIII.

1 How the Israelites were deliuered forth of Egypt, & of the woderful miracles that God wrought at that time, Which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who, whē the course of nature faileth, preserueth his miraculously.

WHen * Israel went out of Egypt, and the house of Iaakob from the a barbarous people,

2 Iudah was b his sanctification, & Israel his dominion.

3 The Sea saw it and fled: Iorden was turned backe.

4 The c mountaines leaped like rams, and the hilles as lambes.

5 What ayled thee, O Sea, that thou fleddest? O Iorden, why wast thou turned backe?

6 Yee mountaines, why leaped yee like rams, and ye hilles as lambes?

7 The d earth trembled at the presence of the Lorde, at the presence of the God of Iaakob, 8 Which e turneth the rocke into waterpooles, and y flint into a fountaine of water.

Exod. 13.3.

a That is, from them that were of a strange language.

b The whole people were witnesses of his holy maiestie, in adopting them, and of his mightie power in deliuering them.

c Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, and after a sort sawe it, much more his people ought to consider it and glorifie him for the same.

d Ought then his people to be insensible, when they see his power and maiestie?

e That is, caused miraculously water to come out of the rocke in most abundance, Exod. 17.6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A prayer of y faithful oppressed by idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succour them, 9 Trusting most constantly that God will preserue them in this their neede, seeing that he hath adopted & receiued them to his fauour, 18 Promising finally that they will not bee vnmindfull of so- great a benefit, if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

NOt [a] vnto vs, O Lorde, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercy and for thy truethes sake.

2 Wherefore shall the Heathen say, [b] Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heauen: hee doeth whatsoeuer he [c] will.

4 Their idoles are [d] siluer and gold, euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noses and smell not.

7 They haue [e] handes and touch not: they haue feete and walke not: neither make they a sound with their throat.

8 They that make them are [f] like vnto them: so are all that put trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lorde: for he is their helpe and their shield.

10 O house of Aaron, trust yee in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Yee that feare the Lord, trust in the Lord: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath beene mindfull of vs: hee will blesse, hee [b] will blesse the house of Israel, he will blesse the house of Aaron.

13 Hee will blesse them that feare the Lord, both small and great.

14 The Lorde will encrease his graces towarde you, euen towarde you and towarde your children.

15 Yee are blessed of the Lorde, which [i] made the heauen and the earth.

16 The [k] heauens, euen the heauens are the Lordes: but hee hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

17 The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that [l] goe downe into the place of silence.

18 But wee will praise the Lorde from henceforth and for euer. Praise yee the Lord.

a Because God promised to deliuer them, not for their sakes, but for his name, Isa. 48.11. therefore they ground their praier vpon this promise.

b When the wicked see that God accomplisheth not his promise, as they imagine, they thinke there is no God.

c No impediments can let his worke, but he vseth euen the impediments to serue his will.

d Seeing that neither the matter nor the forme can commend the idoles, it followeth that there is nothing, why they should be esteemed.

e He sheweth what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason.

f As much without sense, as blockes & stones.

g For they were appointed by God as instructers and teachers of faith and religion for others to followe.

h That is, he will continue his graces towarde his people.

i And therefore doeth still gouerne and continue all things therein.

k And they declare enough his sufficiencie, so that the world serueth him nothing, but to shew his fatherly care toward men.

l Though the dead set forth Gods glory, yet he meaneth here, that they praise him not in his Church and Congregation.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 Dauid being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maon, perceiuing the great & inestimable loue of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies, 13 And protesteth that he will be thankefull for the same.

I [a] Loue the Lorde, because hee hath heard my voice and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him [b] in my dayes.

3 When the snares of death compassed me, and the griefes of the graue caught me: when I found trouble and sorowe,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

5 The Lord is [c] mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

6 The Lord preserueth [d] the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

7 Returne vnto thy rest, O [e] my soule: for the Lord hath done benefitfully vnto thee.

8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.

9 I shall [f] walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.

10 [g] I beleeued, therefore did I speake: for I was sore troubled.

11 I said in my [g] feare, All men are lyars.

12 What shal I render vnto the Lord for all his benefites toward me?

13 I will [h] take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lorde is the [i] death of his Saintes.

16 Behold, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, & the sonne of thine handmaide: thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I wil offer to thee a sacrifice of praise, and will call vpon the name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my [k] vowes vnto the Lorde, euen now in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courtes of the Lordes house, euen in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

a He graunteth that no pleasure is so great, as to feele Gods helpe in our necessitie, neither that any thing more stirreth vp our loue toward him.

b That is, in conuenient time to seeke helpe, which was when hee was in distresse.

c He sheweth forth the fruite of his loue in calling vpon him, confessing him to be iust and mercifull, & to helpe them that are destitute of aide and counsell.

d Which was vnquieted before, now rest vpon the Lord: for he hath bene beneficiall towardes thee.

e The Lord will preserue me, and saue my life.

f I felt all these things, & therefore was moued by faith to confesse thē, 2. Cor. 4.13.

g In my great distresse I thought God would not regard man, which is but lies and vanitie, yet I ouercame this tentation, and felt the contrary.

h In the Law they vsed to make a banket, where they gaue solemne thankes to God, and to take the cup and drinke in signe of thankesgiuing.

i I perceiue that God hath a care oue his, so that hee both disposeth their death, and taketh an account & I will thanke him for his benefites: for that is a iust payment, to confesse that we owe all to God.

PSAL. CXVII.

1 Hee exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because hee hath accomplished as well to them as to the Iewes, the promes of life euerlasting by Iesus Christ.

ALl [*] nations, praise ye the Lord: all yee people, praise him.

2 For his louing kindnesse is great toward vs, and the [a] trueth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 Dauid reiected of Saul and of the people, at the time appointed obtained the kingdome. 4 For the which he biddeth all them that feare the Lorde, to be thankefull. And vnder his person, in all this was Christ liuely set forth, who should be of his people reiected.

PRayse [a] ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercy endureth for euer.

2 Let Israel now say, that his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Let them, that feare the Lorde, now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in [b] trouble, and c Being exalted to this estate, he assured himselfe to haue man euer to be his enemie: yet he doubted not, but God would maintaine him, because he had placed him.

d He sheweth that he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to the kingdome, and therefore he put his trust in God and obtained.
e Hee noteth Saul his chiefe enemie.
f In that he was deliuered, it came not of him selfe, nor of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour: therefore hee will praise him.

h So that al, that are both farre and neere, may see his mightie power.
i He willeth the doores of the Tabernacle to be opened, that hee may declare his thankfull mind. Isa.28.16 matth.21.42.act.4.11. rom.9.33. 1.pet.2.6,7.
k Though Saul and the chiefe powers refused me to be king, yet God hath preferred me aboue them all. l Wherein God hath shewed chiefly his mercie in appoynting mee King, and deliuering his Church. m The people pray for the prosperitie of Dauids kingdome, who was the figure of Christ. n Which are the Priests and haue the charge thereof, as Numb.6.23. o Because hee hath restored vs from darkenesse to light, we will offer sacrifices and prayses vnto him.

the Lord heard me, and see me at large.

6 The Lord is with me: therefore I will not feare what c man can doe vnto me.

7 The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lorde, then to haue confidence d in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lorde shall I destroy them.

11 They haue compassed mee, yea, they haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

12 They came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 e Thou hast thrust sore at mee, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lord is my strength and f song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.

15 The g voyce of ioy and deliuerance shalbe in the Tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of ỹ Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lorde is exalted: h the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but he hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto mee the i gates of righteousnesse, that I may goe into them, and prayse the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lorde: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I wil prayse thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliuerance.

22 *The stone, which the builders k refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

24 This is the l day, which the Lord hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.

25 m O Lorde, I pray thee, saue now: O Lord, I pray thee, now giue prosperitie.

26 Blessed bee hee that commeth in the Name of the Lorde: n we haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 The Lord is mightie, and hath giuen vs o light: binde the sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I wil prayse thee, euen my God: therefore I will exalt thee.

29 Prayse yee the Lorde, because hee is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their liues according to his holy worde. 123 Also hee sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, when wee serue him according to his word, and not after our owne fantasies.

ALEPH.

BLessed are a those that are vpright in their way, and walke in the law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies, and seeke him with their whole heart.

3 Surely they worke b none iniquitie, but walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commaunded to keepe thy precepts diligently.

5 c Oh that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes.

6 Then should I not bee confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commandements.

7 I will prayse thee with an vpright d heart, when I shall learne the e iudgements of thy righteousnesse.

8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake mee not f ouerlong.

a Here they are not called blessed which thinke themselues wise in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to themselues a certaine holines, but they whose conuersation is without hypocrisie.
b For they are ruled by Gods spirit, and imbrace no doctrine but his.
c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it, that his life may be conformable to Gods word. d For true religion standeth in seruing God without hypocrisie. e That is, thy precepts, which containe perfect righteousnesse. f He refused not to be tryed by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmitie in time.

BETH.

9 Wherewith shall a a yong man redresse his way? in taking heede thereto according to thy word.

10 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

11 I haue b hid thy promise in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O Lord: teach mee thy statutes.

13 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

14 I haue had as great c delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy wayes.

16 I will delight in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy word.

a Because youth is most giuen to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues betimes to Gods worde.
b If Gods word be grauen in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him dayly more and more therein. c The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth foorth an example for others to follow Gods word and leaue worldly vanities.

GIMEL.

17 Bee beneficiall vnto thy seruant, that I may a liue and keepe thy word.

18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Lawe.

19 I am a b stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.

21 Thou c hast destroyed the proud: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandements.

a He sheweth that we ought not to desire to liue, but to serue God, and that we cannot serue him aright, except he open our eyes and mindes.
b Seeing mans life in this world, is but a passage, what should become of him, if thy word were not his guide? c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy trueth.

22 Remoone from mee shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

23 [d] Princes also did sit, and speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.

24 Also thy testimonies are my delight, and my counsellers.

d When the powers of the world gaue false sentence against me, thy worde was a guide and counseller to teach me what to doe, and to comfort me.

DALETH.

25 My soule cleaueth to the [a] dust: quicken me according to thy word.

26 I haue [b] declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.

27 Make mee to vnderstand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate in thy wonderous workes.

28 My soule melteth for heauinesse: raise me vp according vnto thy [c] word.

29 Take from mee the [d] way of lying, and graunt me graciously thy Lawe.

30 I haue chosen the way of trueth, and thy iudgements haue I laid before me.

31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.

32 I will runne the way of thy commandements, when thou [e] shalt inlarge mine heart.

a That is, it is almost brought to the graue, and without thy worde I cannot liue.
b I haue confessed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee.
c If God did not maintaine vs by his worde, our life would droppe away like water.
d Instruct me in thy word, whereby my minde may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will. e By this he sheweth that wee can neither chuse good, cleaue to Gods worde, nor runne forward in his way, except he make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

HE.

33 Teach [a] mee, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the ende.

34 Giue me vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Lawe: yea, I will keepe it with my whole [b] heart.

35 Direct mee in the path of thy commandements: for therein is my delight.

36 Incline my heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to [c] couetousnesse.

37 Turne away mine [d] eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.

38 Stablish thy promise to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.

39 Take away [e] my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

40 Beholde, I desire thy commaundements: [f] quicken mee in thy righteousnesse.

a He sheweth that he cannot follow on to the ende, except God teach him oft times, and leade him forward.
b Not onely in outward conuersation, but also with inward affection.
c Hereby meaning all other vices, because that couetousnesse is the roote of all euill.
d Meaning, all his senses. e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let my heart still delight in thy gracious worde. f Giue me strength to continue in thy word euen to the ende.

VAV.

41 And let thy [a] louing kindnesse come vnto mee, O Lord, and thy saluation according to thy promise.

42 So shall I [b] make answere vnto my blaspheмers: for I trust in thy word.

43 And take not the worde of trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for I waite for thy iudgements.

44 So shall I alway keepe thy law for euer and euer.

45 And I will [c] walke at libertie: for I seeke thy precepts.

46 I will speake also of thy testimonies before [d] Kings, and will not be ashamed.

47 And my delight shall bee in thy commandements, which I haue loued.

48 Mine handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued, and I will meditate in thy statutes.

a He sheweth that Gods mercie and loue is the first cause of our saluation.
b By trusting in Gods worde, he assureth himselfe to be able to confute the slanders of his aduersaries.
c They that simply walke after Gods word, haue no lets to intangle them, whereas they, that doe contrary, are euer in nets and snares.
d He sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their fathers glorie to be obscured by the vaine pompe of Princes.

ZAIN.

49 Remember [a] the promise made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused mee to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promise hath quickned me.

51 The [b] proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Lawe.

52 I remembred thy [c] iudgements of olde, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

53 [d] Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forsake thy Lawe.

54 Thy statutes haue bene my songs in the house of my [e] pilgrimage.

55 I haue remembred thy Name, O Lord, in the [f] night, and haue kept thy Law.

56 [g] This I had because I kept thy precepts.

a Though hee feele Gods hand still to lie vpon him, yet he resteth on his promise and comforteth himselfe therein.
b Meaning the wicked, which contemne Gods word, and tread his religion vnder foote.
c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to bee iudge of the world. d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glory, and indignation against the wicked. e In the course of this life and sorowfull exile. f Euen when other sleepe. g That is, all these benefites.

CHETH.

57 O Lord, that are my [a] portion, I haue determined to keepe thy words.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto me according to thy promise.

59 I haue considered my [b] wayes, and turned my feete into thy testimonies.

60 I made haste, and delayed not to keepe thy commandements.

61 The bands of the wicked haue [c] robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight will I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am [d] companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lorde, is full of thy mercie: [e] teach me thy statutes.

a I am perswaded that to keepe thy Lawe is an heritage and great gaine for me.
b He sheweth that none can embrace the worde of God, except he consider his owne imperfections and wayes.
c They haue gone about to drawe me into their company.
d Not onely in mutuall consent, but also with ayde and succour. e For the knowledge of Gods word is a singular token of his fauour.

TETH.

65 O Lorde, thou hast dealt [a] graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy word.

66 Teach mee good iudgement and knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commandements.

67 Before I was [b] afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy worde.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teache me thy statutes.

69 The proude haue imagined a lie against mee: but I will keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

a Hauing proued by experience that God was true in his promise, he desireth that he would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.
b So Ieremie saith that before the Lorde touched him, hee was like a calfe vntamed: so that the vse of Gods roddes is to call vs home to God.

c Their heart is indurate and hardened, puffed vp with prosperitie and vaine estimation of themselues.

70 cTheir heart is fat as grease: but my delight is in thy law.

71 It is dgood for mee that I haue bene afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and siluer.

d Hee confesseth that before that he was chastened, hee was rebellious, as man by nature is.

IOD.

a Because God leaueth not his worke, that he hath begun, he desireth a new grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.

73 Thine handes haue amade mee and fashioned me: giue me vnderstanding therfore, that I may learne thy commaundements.

74 So they that bfeare thee, seeing me, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy word.

b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he testifieth to others that hee faileth not them that trust in him.

75 I know, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted mee ‡iustly.

‡ Ebr. in trueth.

76 I pray thee that thy mercy may comfort mee according to thy promise vnto thy seruant.

c He declareth that when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I may clive: for thy Lawe is my delight.

78 Let the proude bee ashamed: for they haue dealt wickedly, and falsely with mee: but I meditate in thy precepts.

d That is, be comforted by mine example.

79 Let such as feare thee dturne vnto me, and they that eknow thy testimonies.

e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

80 Let mine heart be vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

CAPH.

a Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groneth and sigheth, resting still in thy word.

81 My soule afainteth for thy saluation: yet I watt for thy word.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?

b Like a skinne bottle or bladder that is parched in the smoke.

83 For I am like a bbottle in ỹ smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

c How long wilt thou afflict thy seruant?

84 How many are the cdayes of thy seruant? When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute me?

d They haue not onely oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.

85 The proud haue ddigged pits for me, which is not after thy Lawe.

86 All thy commandements are true: they persecute me falsly: chelpe me.

e Finding no helpe in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

87 They had almost consumed fme vpõ the earth: but I forsooke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindnes: so shall I keepe the testimonies of thy mouth.

LAMED.

a Because none should esteeme Gods worde, according to the changes of things in this world, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutable.

89 O Lorde, thy word endureth for euer in aheauen.

90 Thy trueth is from generation to generation: thou hast laide the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate, wherein thou hast created them, much more thy trueth remaineth constant and vnchangeable.

91 They bcontinue euen to this day by thine ordinances: for all are thy seruants.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delite, I should now haue perished in mine affliction.

93 I will neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am cthine, saue mee: for I haue sought thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for mee to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I dhaue seene an end of all perfectiõ: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

d There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an ende: onely Gods worde lasteth for euer.

MEM.

97 Oh how loue I thy Law! ait is my meditation continually.

a He sheweth that we can not loue Gods word, except we exercise our selues therein and practise it.

98 By thy commaundements thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue had more bvnderstanding thẽ all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.

b Whosoeuer doeth submit himselfe onely to Gods word, shall not onely be safe against the practises of his enemies, but also learne more wisedome, then they that professe it, and are men of experience.

100 I vnderstood more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my feete from euery euill way, that I might keepe thy word.

102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for cthou diddest teach me.

c So then of our selues wee can doe nothing, but when God doeth inwardly instruct vs with his Spirit, we feele his graces sweeter then honie.

103 How sweete are thy promises vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falshoode.

NVN.

105 Thy worde is a alanterne vnto my feete, and a light vnto my path.

a Of our selues we are but darkenesse, and can not see, except we be lightened with Gods word.

106 I haue bsworne and will performe it, that I will keepe thy righteous iudgements.

b So all the faithfull ought to binde themselues to God by a solemne othe and promise to stirre vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word.

107 I am very sore afflicted: O Lorde, quicken me according to thy worde.

108 O Lorde, I beseech thee accept the cfree offrings of my mouth, and teach mee thy iudgements.

c That is, my prayers and thankesgiuing, which sacrifice Hosea calleth the calues of the lips: Chap. 14. verse 3.

109 My dsoule is continually in mine hand: yet doe I not forget thy Lawe.

d That is, I am in continuall danger of my life.

110 The wicked haue layde a snare for me: but I swarued not from thy precepts.

111 Thy testimonies haue I taken as an eheritage for euer: for they are the toy of mine heart.

e I esteemed no worldly things, but made thy worde mine inheritance.

112 I haue applied my heart to fulfill thy statutes alway, euen vnto the end.

SAMECH.

113 I hate avaine inuentions: but thy lawe doe I loue.

a Whosoeuer wil imbrace Gods worde aright, must abhorre all fantasies and imaginations both of himselfe and of other.

114 Thou art my refuge and shield, and I trust in thy word.

115 bAway from me, yee wicked: for I will keepe the commaundements of my God.

b And hinder me not to keepe the Law of the Lord.

c He desireth Gods continual assistance least he should faint in this race, which he had begunne.

116 Stablish mee according to thy promise, that I may liue, and disappoint mee not of mine hope.

117 c Stay thou me, and I shall be safe, & I will delight continually in thy statutes.

d The craftie practises of them that contemne thy law, shalbe brought to nought.

118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for their d deceit is vaine.

e Which infected thy people, as drosse doth the mettall. f Thy iudgements doe not onely teach me obedience, but cause mee to feare, considering mine owne weakenesse, which feare causeth repentance.

119 Thou hast taken away all the wicked of the earth like e drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

120 My flesh f trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

AIN.

a Put thy selfe betweene mine enemies and me, as if thou were my pledge.

b He boasteth not that he is Gods seruant, but hereby putteth God in mind that as he made him his by his grace, so he would continue his fauour toward him.

121 I haue executed iudgement and iustice: leane me not to mine oppressours.

122 a Answere for thy seruant in that, which is good, and let not the proude oppresse me.

123 Mine eyes haue failed in waiting for thy saluation, and for thy iust promise.

124 Deale with thy b seruant according to thy mercie, and teach me thy statutes.

125 I am thy seruant: grant me therefore vnderstanding, that I may knowe thy testimonies.

c The Prophet sheweth that when the wicked haue brought all things to confusion, and Gods word to vtter contempt, then it is Gods time to helpe and remedie.

126 It is c time for thee Lord to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Law.

127 Therefore loue I thy commandements aboue golde, yea, aboue most fine gold.

d That is, whatsoeuer dissenteth from the puritie of thy word.

128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts most iust, and hate all false d wayes.

PE.

a Conteyning high and secret mysteries, so that I am moued with admiration and reuerence.

b The simple idiots ỹ submit thẽselues to God, haue their eyes opened, and their mindes illuminated so soone as they begin to read Gods word.

c My zeale toward thy word was so great.

d He sheweth what ought to be the zeale of Gods children, when they see his word contemned.

129 Thy testimonies are a wonderfull: therefore doth my soule keepe them.

130 The entrance into thy b wordes, sheweth light, and giueth vnderstanding to the simple.

131 I opened my mouth and c panted, because I loued thy commandements.

132 Looke vpon me and be mercifull vnto me, as thou vsest to doe vnto those that loue thy Name.

133 Direct my steps in thy word, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me.

134 Deliuer mee from the oppression of men, and I will keepe the precepts.

135 Shew ỹ light o thy countenance vpon thy seruant, and teach me thy statutes.

136 Mine eyes gush d out with riuers of water, because they keepe not thy Law.

TSADDI.

a We can not confesse God to be righteous, except wee liue vprightly and truely as he hath commanded. Psalme 69.9. Iohn 2.17.

b Golde hath neede to be fined, but thy word is perfection it selfe.

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, & iust are thy iudgements.

138 Thou hast cõmanded a iustice by thy testimonies and trueth especially.

139 * My zeale hath euen consumed me, because mine enemies haue forgotten thy wordes.

140 Thy worde is proued b most pure, and thy seruant loueth it.

141 I am c small and despised: yet doe I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousnes is an euerlasting righteousnesse, and thy Law is trueth.

143 Trouble and anguish are come vpon me: yet are thy commaundements my delight.

144 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: graunt me vnderstanding, and I shall d liue.

KOPH.

a He sheweth that all his affections and whole heart were bent to Godward for to haue helpe in his dangers.

b He was more earnest in the studie of Gods word then they that kept the watch, were in their charge. ‖Or, custome.

c He sheweth the nature of the wicked to be to persecute against their conscience.

d His faith is grounded vpon Gods word, that he would euer be at hand when his children be oppressed.

145 I haue a cryed with my whole heart: heare mee, O Lorde, and I will keepe thy statutes.

146 I called vpon thee: saue me, & I will keepe thy testimonies.

147 I preuented the morning light and cryed: for I waited on thy worde.

148 Mine eyes b preuent the night watches to meditate in thy worde.

149 Heare my voyce according to thy louing kindnesse: O Lord, quicken mee according to thy ‖iudgement.

150 They draw neere, that followe after c malice, and are farre from thy Lawe.

151 Thou art neere, O Lord: for all thy commandements are true.

152 I haue knowen long since d by thy testimonies, that thou hast eltablished them for euer.

c This is the true triall, to praise God in aduersity.

d So that the life of man without the knowledge of God is death.

RESH.

153 Beholde mine affliction, and deliuer me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.

154 Pleade my cause, and deliuer mee: quicken me according vnto thy a word.

155 Saluation is farre from the wicked, because they keepe not thy statutes.

156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken mee according to thy b iudgements.

157 My persecutours and mine oppressours are many: yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.

158 I sawe the transgressours and was c grieued, because they kept not thy word.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I d loue thy precepts: quicken mee according to thy louing kindnesse.

160 The e beginning of thy worde is trueth, and all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euer.

a For without Gods promise there is no hope of deliuerance.

b According to thy promise made in the law, which because the wicked lacke, they can haue no hope of saluation.

c My zeale consumed me when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glory.

d It is a sure signe of our adoption, when we loue the law of God.

e Since thou first promisedst, euen to the ende all thy sayings are true.

SCHIN.

a The threatning and persecutions of princes could not cause me to shrinke to confesse thee, whom I more feare then men.

b That is, often and sundry time

161 Princes haue a persecuted mee without cause, but mine heart stood in awe of thy wordes.

162 I reioyce at thy worde, as one that findeth a great spoyle.

163 I hate falshoode and abhorre it, but thy Law doe I loue.

164 d Seuen times a day doe I praise thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

165 They,

c For their conscience assureth them, that they please thee, where as they that loue not thee, haue the contray.

165 Thep, c that loue thy Lawe, shall haue great prosperitie, and thep shall haue none hurt.

166 Lord, I haue d trusted in thy saluation, and haue done thy commaundements.

167 Pp soule hath kept thy testimonies: for I loue them exceedingly.

d He sheweth that we must first haue faith, before we can worke and please God.

168 I haue kept thy precepts & thy testimonies: e for al my wayes are before thee.

e I had no respect of men, but set thee alwayes before mine eyes, as the iudge of my doings.

T A V.

a As thou hast promised to be the scholemaster vnto all them that depend vpon thee.

169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, and giue me vnderstanding, a according vnto thy word.

170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliuer mee according to thy promise.

171 Pp lips shall b speake prayse, when thou hast c taught me thy statutes.

b The word signifieth to powre forth continually.

172 Pp tongue shall intreate of thy worde: for all thy commaundements are righteous.

c All his prayer and desire is, to profite in the word of God.

173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy precepts.

174 I haue longed for thy saluation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delite.

d That is, thy prouident care ouer me, and wherewith thou wilt iudge mine enemies.

175 Let my soule liue, and it shall prayse thee, and thy d iudgementes shall helpe mee.

e Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and hauing no place to rest in.

176 I haue e gone astray like a lost sheepe: seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commaundements.

PSAL. CXX.

1 The prayer of Dauid being vexed by the false reports of Sauls flatterers. 5 And therfore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels, 7 Who were giuen to all kinde of wickednesse and contention.

¶ A song of a degrees.

a That is, of lifting vp the tune and rising in singing.

I Called vnto the Lord in my b trouble, and he heard me.

b Albeit the children of God ought to reioyce when they suffer for righteousnesse sake, yet it is a great griefe to the flesh to heare euill for well doing.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lorde, from lying lippes, and from a deceitfull tongue.

3 What doth thy c deceitful tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it auaile thee?

c He assured him selfe that God would turne their craft to their owne destruction.

4 It is as the d sharpe arrowes of a mighty man, and as the coles of iuniper.

d Hee sheweth that there is nothing so sharpe to pearce, nor so hot to set on fire as a slanderous tongue.

5 Woe is to me that I remaine in e Meshech, and dwell in the tents of f Kedar.

e These were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphet, Gen. 10. 2.

6 Pp soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

f That is, of the Ishmaelites.

7 I seeke g peace, and when I speake thereof, they are bent to warre.

g Hee declareth what he meaneth by Meshech and Kedar: to wit, the Israelites which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithfull.

PSAL. CXXI.

1 This Psalme teacheth that the faithfull ought onely to looke for helpe at God, 7 Who onely doth maintaine, preserue and prosper his Church.

¶ A song of degrees.

I Will lift vp mine eyes ‖ vnto the mountaines, from whence mine helpe shall come.

‖ Or, aboue the mountaines: meaning, that there is nothing so high in the worlde, wherein he can trust, but onely in God.

2 Mine helpe commeth from the Lorde, which hath made the a heauen & the earth.

a He accuseth mans ingratitude, which cannot depend on Gods power.

3 He will not suffer thy foote to slip: for he that keepeth thee, will not b slumber.

b He sheweth that Gods prouidence not onely watcheth ouer his Church in generall, but also 4 Beholde, he that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lorde is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadowe at thy right hand.

6 The sunne shall not c smite thee by day, nor the moone by night.

c Neither heate nor colde, nor any incommoditie shall bee able to destroy Gods Church: albeit for a time they may molest it.

7 The Lorde shall preserue thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lorde shall preserue thy d going out, and thy comming in from henceforth and for euer.

ouer euery member thereof.

d Whatsoeuer thou doest enterprise shall haue good successe.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 Dauid reioyceth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promise, & placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thankes, 8 And prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

I * a Reioyced, when they said to me, Wee will goe into the house of the Lord.

1. Chron. 29. 9.

a He reioyceth that God had appointed a place, where the Arke should still remaine.

2 Our b feete shall stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.

b Which were wont to wander to and fro as the Arke remooued.

3 Ierusalem is builded as a citie, that is c compact together in it selfe:

c By the artificiall ioyning and beautie of the houses, he meaneth the concorde and loue that was betweene the citizens.

4 Whereunto d the Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lord goe vp, according to the testimonie to Israel, to praise the Name of the Lord.

d All the tribes according to Gods couenant shall come and pray there,

5 For there are thrones set for iudgement, euen p thrones of p house of e Dauid.

e In whose house God placed the throne of Iustice, and made it a figure of Christes kingdome.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy f walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

f The fauour of God prosper thee both within and without.

8 For my g brethren and neighbours sakes I will wish thee now prosperitie.

g Not onely for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

9 Because of the house of the Lorde our God, I will procure thy wealth.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon, or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

¶ A song of degrees.

I Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto the hand of her mistresse: so our eyes waite vpon the Lorde our God, vntill he haue mercy vpon vs.

a He compareth the condition of the godly to seruants that are destitute of all helpe, assuring that when al other helpes faile, God is euer at hand and like himselfe.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, haue mercy vpon vs: for we haue [b] suffered too much contempt.

b He declareth that when the faithfull are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions and iscornings of the wicked, there is alway helpe aboue, if with hungrie desires they call for it.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthie, and of the despitefulnesse of the proude.

PSAL. CXXIIII.

1 The people of God, escaping a great perill, doe acknowledge themselues to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatnesse of the perill, 6 And praise the Name of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

IF the Lorde had not [a] bene on our side, (may Israel now say) a He sheweth that God was ready to helpe at neede, and that there was none other way to be saued, but by his onely meanes.

2 If the Lord had not bene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swallowed vs vp [b] quick, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

b So vnable were we to resist.

4 Then the [c] waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule:

c He vseth most proper similitudes to expresse the great danger that the Church was in, and out of the which God miraculously deliuered them.

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Praysed be the Lord, which hath not giuen vs as a pray vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a birde out of the [d] snare of the foulers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against the faithfull, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

8 Our helpe is in the name of the Lorde, which hath made heauen and earth.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey that trust in the Lorde, shall bee as mount Zion, which cannot be [a] remoued, but remaineth for euer.

a Though the world be subiect to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure, and be defended by Gods prouidence.

2 As the mountaines are about Ierusalem: so is the Lorde about his people from henceforth, and for euer.

3 For the [b] rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednes.

b Though God suffer his to be vnder the crosse, least they should imbrace wickednesse, yet this crosse shall not 4 Doe well, O Lorde, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 [c] But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shal the Lord lead with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shall bee vpon Israel.

so rest vpon them, that it should driue them from hope. c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites and such as haue no zeale of the truth.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderfull after the seuentie yeeres of captiuitie foresposken by Ieremie, Chap. 25. 12. and 29. 10.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

WHen the Lorde brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, wee were like them that [a] dreame.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, and therefore tooke away all excuse of ingratitude.

2 Then was our mouth [b] filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then said they among the [c] heathen, The Lorde hath done great things for them.

b He sheweth how the godly ought to reioyce, when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it.

3 The Lord hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderfull worke, the faithfull can neuer shewe themselues sufficiently thankeful.

4 O Lorde, bring againe our captiuitie, as the [d] riuers in the South.

d It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the wildernesse and barren places.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping and caried [e] precious seede: but they shall returne with ioy and bring their sheaues.

e That is, seede which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promise to returne, had their desire.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domesticall and politicall standeth by Gods meere prouidence and blessing, 3 And that to haue children well nurtured, is an especial grace and gift of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

EXcept the Lorde [a] builde the house, they labour in vaine that builde it: except the Lord keepe the [b] citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

a That is, gouerne, and dispose all things perteining to the familie.

b The publike estate of the common wealth.

2 It is in vaine for [c] you to rise early, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread [d] of sorowe: but he will surely giue [e] rest to his beloued.

c Which watch and warde, and are also Magistrates, and rulers of the citie.

d Either that which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with 3 Behold, children are the inheritance of the Lorde, and the fruite of the wombe his reward.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the strong man: so are the [f] children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quiuer full of them: for they [g] shall not bee ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

griefe of minde. e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. g Such children shalbe able to stop their aduersaries mouthes, when their godly life is maliciously accused before iudges.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He sheweth that blessednesse appertaineth not to all vniuersally, but to them onely that feare the the Lord, and walke in his wayes.

¶ A song of degrees.

BLessed is euery one that feareth the Lord, and walketh in his [a] wayes.

a God approueth not our life except it be reformed, according to his word.

2 When thou eatest the labours of thine [b] handes, thou shalt be blessed, and it shalbe well with thee.

b The worlde esteemeth them happie, which liue in wealth and idlenesse: but the holy Ghost

3 Thy wife shalbe as the fruitfull vine on the sides of thine house, and thy [c] children like the olive plants round about thy table.

4 Loe, surely thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shal [d] blesse thee, approueth them best, that liue of the meane profite of their labours. c Because Gods fauour appeareth in none outward thing more then in increase of children, he promiseth to inrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spirituall blessing which God hath made to his Church, these temporall things shall be granted.

and

and thou shalt see the wealth of Ierusalem all thy dayes.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered, 6 And the enemies for all their glorious shew, shall suddenly be destroyed.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey haue oftentimes afflicted me from my youth (may a Israel now say)

2 They haue oftentimes afflicted mee from my youth: but they could not preuaile against me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the b righteous Lorde hath cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shall be all ashamed and turned backward.

6 c They shall be as the grasse on the house tops, which withereth afore it commeth foorth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the gleaner his lap:

8 d Neither they, which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lorde bee vpon you, or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lord.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath euer bene such from the beginning: to be molested most grieuously by the wicked: yet in time it hath euer bene deliuered.

b Because God is righteous, he cannot but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his, as oxen out of the plow.

c The enemies that lift themselues most high, and as it were, approch nere to the sunne, are consumed with the heat of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. d That is, the wicked shall perish and none shall passe for them.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomlesse miseries doe crie vnto God, and are heard. 3 They confesse their sinnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

¶ A song of degrees.

OVt of the a deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voyce of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lorde, straitly markest iniquities, O Lord, b who shall stand?

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou c mayest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lorde: my soule hath waited, & I haue trusted in his word.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lord more the the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel waite on the Lord: for with the Lorde is d mercy, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shall redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 Dauid charged with ambition & greedy desire to reigne, protesteth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men, what they shall doe.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

LOrde, a mine heart is not hautie, neither are mine eies loftie, neither haue I walked in great b matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaued my selfe like one waned from his mother, & kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is c wayned.

a Being in great distresse and sorrow.

b He declareth that we cannot be iust before God, but by forgiuenesse of sinnes.

c Because of nature thou art mercifull: therefore the faithfull reuerence thee.

d He sheweth to whom the mercy of God doeth appertaine: to Israel, that is, to the Church, and not to the reprobate.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouernours.

b Which passe y measure & limits of his vocation.

c He was voyde of ambition and wicked desires.

3 Let Israel waite on the Lorde from henceforth and for euer.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithfull, grounding on Gods promise made vnto Dauid, desire that he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie & the building of the Temple, so pray there as was foresp oke, Deut. 12. 5.

¶ A song of degrees.

LOrd, remember Dauid with all his a afflictions.

2 Who sware vnto the Lord, & vowed vnto the mightie God of Iaakob, saying,

3 I b will not enter into the tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber,

5 Until I find out a place for the c Lord, an habitation for the mightie God of Iaakob.

6 Loe, we heard of it in d Ephrathah, and found it in the fieldes of the forest.

7 We will enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footestoole.

8 Arise, O Lorde, to come into thy e rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousnesse, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy s seruant Dauids sake, refuse not the face of thine Anoynted.

11 The Lorde hath sworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he will not shunke from it, saying, Of the fruite of thy body will I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for h euer.

13 For the Lorde hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a i delite therein.

15 I will surely blesse her vitailes, and will satisfie her poore with bread, 16 And will cloth her Priests with k saluation and her Saints shall shout for ioy.

17 There will I make the l horne of Dauid to budde: for I haue ordeyned a light for mine Anoynted.

18 His enemies will I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall flourish.

a That is, with how great difficultie he came to the kingdome, and with howe great zeale and care hee went about to buylde thy temple.

b Because the chiefe charge of the king was to set forth Gods glory, he sheweth, that he could take no rest, neither would goe about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessarie, before he had executed his office.

c That is, the Arke, which was a signe of Gods presence.

d The common bruite was that the Arke shoulde remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentifull place: but after, we perceiued that thou wouldest place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a foreste, and compassed about onely with hilles.

e That is, Ierusalem, because that afterward his Arke should remoove to none other place. f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priestes and in the people.

g As thou first madest promise to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that whatsoeuer they shall aske for their people, it may be granted. h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promise was spirituall. i Meaning, for his own sake, and not for the plentifulnesse of the place: for he promiseth to blesse it, declaring before, that it was barren. k That is, with my protection, whereby they shall be safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, ye he promiseth to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalme conteyneth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

BEhoulde, howe good and howe comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euen a toge-

a Because the greatest part were against David, though some fauoured him, yet when he was established King, at length they ioyned all together like brethren: and therefore hee sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue. b The ointment was a figure of the graces, which come from Christ the head vnto his Church. c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentifull countrey about Ierusalem. d Where there is such concord.

a together.

2 It is like the precious b ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which wet downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dewe of c Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: for d there the Lord appointed the blessing and life for euer.

PSAL. CXXXIIII.

1 Hee exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

¶ A song of degrees.

a Ye that are Leuites, and chiefly appointed to this office. b For their charge was not onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there and to giue God thankes. c And therefore hath all power, bless thee with his fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and bless the people.

BEholde, praise ye the Lord, all yee a seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

2 Lift vp your b hands to the Sanctuarie, and praise the Lord.

3 The Lord, that hath c made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate soeuer they be, to praise God for his marueilous works, 12 And specially for his graces towards his people, wherein hee hath declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters, and their idoles.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

a Ye Leuites that are in his Sanctuarie. b Meaning the people: for the people and Leuites had their courtes, which were places of the Temple separate. c That is, hath freely loued the posteritie of Abraham. d He ioyneth Gods power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby he willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples. Iere. 10. 13. Exod. 12. 29. Numb. 21. 24, 34.

PRaise ye the Name of the Lord: yee seruants of the Lord, praise him.

2 Yee that stand in the a house of the Lord, and in the b courts of the house of our God,

3 Praise ye the Lorde: for the Lorde is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

4 For the Lord hath c chosen Iaakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I knowe that the Lorde is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatsoeuer pleased the Lorde, that d did hee in the heauen and in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the endes of the earth, and maketh the * lightnings with the raine: he draweth forth the winde out of his treasures.

8 * Hee smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, and vpon all his seruants.

10 * He smote many nations, and slewe mightie Kings:

11 As Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And e gaue their land for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy name, O Lorde, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will f iudge his people, and be pacified towardes his seruants.

15 The g idoles of the heathen are siluer and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

16 They haue a mouth, & speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, yee house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

21 Praised be þ Lord out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

e He sheweth what fruite the godly conceiue of Gods power, whereby they see how hee destroyeth his enemies, and deliuereth his people. f That is, gouerne and defend his people. g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offence, seeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by the mightie power of God, reade Psal. 115. vers. 4.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to giue thankes vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his meere liberalitie.

PRaise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his a mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praise yee the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Praise yee the Lord of lordes: for his mercy endureth for euer:

4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer:

5 Which by his wisedome made the heauens: for his mercy endureth for euer:

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his b mercie endureth for euer:

7 Which made great lightes: for his mercy endureth for euer:

8 As the sunne to rule the day: for his mercy endureth for euer:

9 The moone and the starres to gouerne the night: b for his mercie endureth for euer:

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne (for his mercy endureth for euer)

11 And c brought out Israel from among them (for his mercy endureth for euer)

12 With a mightie hand and d stretched out arme: for his mercy endureth for euer:

13 Which deuided the red Sea in two parts: for his mercy endureth for euer:

13 And made Israel to passe through the middes of it: for his mercy endureth for euer:

15 And ouerthrewe Pharaoh and his host in the red Sea: for his mercie endureth for euer:

16 Which led his people through the e wildernes: for his mercy endureth for euer:

17 Which smote great Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

18 And slewe f mightie Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

a By this repetition he sheweth that the least of Gods benefites binde vs to thankesgiuing: but chiefly his mercie, which is principally declared towards his Church. b This was a common kinde of thankesgiuing which the whole people vsed, when they had receiued any benefite of God, as 2. Chron. 7. 6. and 20. 21. meaning, that God was not onely mercifull to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posteritie. c Gods mercifull prouidence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he deliuered his Church from the thraldome of their enemies. d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could do. e Where for the space of fourtie yeeres he shewed infinite and most strange wonders. f Declaring thereby that no power, nor authoritie was so deare vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

g In our greatest affliction and slauerie, when we looked for nothing lesse then to haue had any succour.
h Seeing that God prouideth, euen for the beastes: much more hath he care ouer his.
i Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefites.

19 As Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer:
20 And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercie endureth for euer:
21 And gaue their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer:
22 Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercie endureth for euer:
23 Which remembred vs in our [g] base estate: for his mercie endureth for euer:
24 And hath rescued vs from our oppressours: for his mercie endureth for euer:
25 Which giueth foode to all [h] flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.
26 [i] Praise yee the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXXXVII.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, liued in great anguish and sorow of heart: the which griefe the Chaldeans did so litle pitie, 3 That they rather increased the same daily with taunts, reproches & blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God, first to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them, 8 And mooued by the Spirit of God, prophecie the destruction of Babylon, where they were handled so tyrannously.

BY the riuers of Babel we [a] sate, and there we wept, when we remembred Zion.
2 We hanged our harpes vpon the willowes in the middes [b] thereof.
3 Then they that led vs captiues, [c] required of vs songs and mirth, when we had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of the songs of Zion.
4 Howe shall wee sing, sayd we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?
5 [d] If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget to play.
6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Jerusalem to my [e] chiefe ioy.
7 Remember the children of [f] Edom, O Lord, in the [g] day of Jerusalem, which sayde, Raze it, raze it to the foundation thereof.
8 O daughter of Babel, worthie to be destroyed, blessed shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.
9 [h] Blessed shall hee bee that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

a That is, we abode a long time: and albeit that the countrey was pleasant, yet could it not stay our teares, nor turne vs from the true seruice of our God.
b To wit, of that countrey.
c The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God.
d Albeit the faithfull are touched with their particular griefes, yet the common sorowe of the Church is most grieuous vnto them, and is such as they cannot but remember & lament. e The decay of Gods religion in their countrey was so grieuous, that no ioy could make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezechiel 25.13. and Ier.49.7. verse prophecied: and Obadiah verse 10. sheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren and kinsfolke. g When thou diddest visite Jerusalem. h He alludeth to Esaies prophecie, chap.13. and 16. verse, promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whom ambition mooued to fight against Babylon: but God vsed them as his roddes to punish his enemies.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 Dauid with great courage praiseth the goodnesse of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 That it is known to forraine princes, who shall praise the Lorde together with him. 6 And hee is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will praise thee with my whole heart: euen before the [a] gods will I praise thee.
2 I will worship towarde thine holy [b] Temple, and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindenesse and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy Name aboue all things by thy word.
3 When I called, then thou heardest me, and hast [c] encreased strength in my soule.
4 All the [d] Kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.
5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.
6 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proude hee knoweth [e] a farre off.
7 Though I walke in the mids of trouble, yet wilt thou reuiue me: thou wilt stretch foorth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.
8 The Lord will [f] performe his worke toward mee: O Lord, thy mercie endureth for euer: forsake not the works of thine hands.

a Euen in the presence of Angels, and of them that haue authoritie among men.
b Both the Temple and ceremoniall seruice at Christs comming were abolished: so that now God will be worshipped only in spirit and trueth, Iohn 4.23.
c Thou hast strengthened me against mine outward and inward enemies.
d All the world shal confesse that thou hast wonderfully preserued me, and performed thy promise. e Distance of the place cannot hinder God to shewe mercie to his, and to iudge the wicked, though they thinke that he is farre off. f Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord which hath begunne his worke in me, will continue his grace to the end.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 Dauid to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hidde, which God seeth not. 12 Which he confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemie to all them that contemne God.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, thou hast tried me & knowen me.
2 Thou knowest my [a] sitting and my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought a farre off.
3 Thou [b] compassest my paths, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.
4 For there is not a word in my [c] tongue, but loe thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.
5 Thou holdest mee straite behinde and before, and layest thine [d] hand vpon me.
6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for mee: it is so high that I cannot attaine vnto it.
7 Whither shall I go from thy [e] Spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?
8 If I ascend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hell, thou art there.
9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vttermost partes of the sea:
10 Yet thither shall thine [f] hand lead me, and thy right hand hold me.
11 If I say, Yet the darkenesse shall hide me, euen the night shalbe [g] light about me.
12 Yea, the darkenesse hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darkenesse and light are both alike.

a He confesseth that neither our actions, thoughts or any part of our life can be hid from God, though he seeme to be farre off.
b So that they are euidently knowen to thee.
c Thou knowest my meaning before I speake.
d Thou so guidest me with thine hand, that I can turne no way, but where thou appointest me.
e From thy power and knowledge?
f Thy power doeth so fast holde mee, that I can escape by no meanes from thee. g Though darkenesse be an hinderance to mans sight, yet it serueth thine eyes as well as the light.

13 For thou hast [h] possessed my reines: thou hast couered mee in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am [i] fearefully and wonderfully made: marueilous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.

15 My bones are not hidde from thee, though I was made in a secret place, and facioned [k] beneath in the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see mee, when I was without forme: [l] for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.

17 Howe [m] deare therefore are thy thoughts vnto me, O God! howe great is the summe of them!

18 If I should count them, they are moe then the sand: when I awake [m] I am still with thee.

19 Oh that thou wouldest slay, O God, the wicked and bloodie men, to whome I say, Depart ye from me:

20 Which speake wickedly of thee, and being thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

21 Doe not I [o] hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and doe not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?

22 I hate them with an vnfeined hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.

23 Trie mee, O God, and knowe mine heart: proone me and know my thoughts, 24 And consider if there bee any [p] way of wickednesse in me, and leade mee in the [q] way for euer.

h Thou hast made me in all partes, and therefore must needes knowe me.

i Considering thy wonderfull worke in forming me, I can not but praise thee, and feare thy mightie power.

k That is, in my mothers wombe: which he compareth to the inward partes of the earth.

l Seeing that thou diddest know me before I was composed of eyther flesh or bone, much more nowe must thou knowe me when thou hast facioned me.

m Howe ought we to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisedome in the creation of man!

n I continually see newe occasions to meditate in thy wisedome and to praise thee. o He teacheth vs boldely to contemne all the hatred of the wicked, and friendship of the world, when they would let vs to serue God sincerely. p Or any heynous way or rebellious: meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne, yet was he not giuen to wickednesse, and to prouoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards mee to the ende.

PSAL. CXL.

1 Dauid complaineth of the crueltie, falshood and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he prayeth vnto the Lord, and assureth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, and to assure themselues of his tuition.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

DEliuer me, O Lord, from the euill man: preserue me from the [a] cruell man:

2 Which imagine euill things in their [b] heart, and make warre continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: [c] adders poyson is vnder their lippes. Selah.

4 Keepe [d] me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preserue me from the cruell man, which purposeth to cause my steps to slide.

5 The proude haue laide a snare for mee, and spred a nette with cordes in my pathway, and set grennes for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I sayd vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of my prayers.

7 O Lord God the strength of my saluation, thou [e] hast couered mine head in the day of battell.

8 Let not the wicked haue his desire, O Lord: [f] performe not his wicked thought, lest they be proud. Selah.

9 As for [g] the chiefe of them, that compasse mee about, let the mischiefe of their owne lippes come vpon them.

10 Let coales fall vpon them: let [h] him cast them into the fire, and into the deepe pittes, that they rise not.

11 For the backebiter shall not be established vpon the earth: euill shall [i] hunt the cruell man to destruction.

12 I knowe that the Lord will auenge the afflicted, and iudge the poore.

13 Surely the righteous shall praise thy Name, & the iust shall [k] dwel in thy presence.

a Which persecuteth mee of malice and without cause.

b That is, by their false cauillations and lyes they kindle the hatred of the wicked against me.

c He sheweth what weapons the wicked vse, when power and force faile them.

d Hee declareth what is the remedie of the Godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

e He calleth to God, with liuely faith, being assured of his mercies, because he had before time proued, that God helped him euer in his dangers.

f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrow the counsels and enterprises of the wicked.

g It seemeth that he alludeth to Saul.

h To wit, Gods: for Dauid sawe that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them. i Gods plagues shall light vpon him in such sort, that he shall not escape. k That is, shall be defended and preserued by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

PSAL. CXLI.

1 Dauid being grieuously persecuted vnder Saul, onely fleeth vnto God to haue succour, 3 Desiring him to bridle his affections, that hee may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, I [a] call vpon thee: haste thee vnto mee: heare my voyce, when I crie vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy sight as incense, and the [b] lifting vp of mine hands as an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and keepe the [c] doore of my lippes.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, that I should commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eate of their [d] delicates.

5 Let the righteous smite mee: for that is a benefite: and let him reproue mee: and it shalbe a precious oyle, that shall not breake mine head: for within a while I shall euen [f] pray in their miseries.

6 When their iudges shalbe cast downe in stonie places, they shall heare my words, for they are sweete.

7 Our bones lie scattered at the [g] graues mouth, as hee that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust: leaue not my soule destitute.

9 Keepe mee from the snare, which they haue laid for mee, and from the grennes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into his [i] nettes [k] together, whiles I escape.

a He sheweth that there is none other refuge in our necessities, but onely to flee vnto God for comfort of soule.

b He meaneth his earnest zeale and gesture, which he vsed in prayer: alluding to the sacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offered in the olde lawe.

c He desireth God to keepe his thoughts and wayes either from thinking or executing vengeance.

d Let not their prosperitie allure me to be wicked as they are.

e He could abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart.

f By patience I shall see the wicked so sharpely handled, that I shall for pitie pray for them. g The people, which followed their wicked rulers in persecuting the Prophet, shall repent, and turne to God when they see their wicked rulers punished. h Here appeareth that Dauid was miraculously deliuered out of many deaths, as 2. Cor. 1. 9, 10. i Into Gods nets, whereby he catcheth the wicked in their owne malice. k So that none of them escape.

PSAL. CXLII.

1 The Prophet neither astonied with feare, nor caried away with anger, nor forced by desperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet minde directed his earnest prayer to God, who did preserue him.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, to giue instruction, & a prayer when he was in the caue.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I [a] prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his presence.

3 Though my spirit ‡ was in perplexitie in mee, yet thou knewest my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily layde a snare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheld, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge failed mee, and none ‖ cared for my soule.

5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lorde, and said, Thou art mine [b] hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Herken vnto my cry, for I am brought very lowe: deliuer me from my persecuters, for they are too strong for me.

7 Bring my soule out of [c] prison, that I may prayse thy Name: then shall the righteous [d] come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

a Dauids patience and instant prayer to God condemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles eyther dispayre and murmure against God, or els seeke to others, then to God to haue redresse in their miseries.

‡ Ebr. was folden or wrapped in me: meaning, as a thing that could haue none issue.

‖ Or, sought for my soule.

b Though all meanes fayled him, yet hee knewe that God woulde neuer forsake him. c For he was on all sides beset with his enemies, as though hee had bene in a moste straite prison. d Eyther to reioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to set a crowne vpon mine head.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 An earnest prayer for remission of sinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly persecute him by Gods iust iudgement. 8 Hee desireth to be restored to grace. 10 To bee gouerned by his holy Spirit, that hee may spend the remnant of his life in the true feare and seruice of God.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my prayer, O Lord, and hearken vnto my supplication: answere mee in thy [a] trueth and in thy [b] righteousnesse.

2 (And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy [c] sight shall none that liueth, be iustified.)

3 For the enemie hath persecuted my soule: he hath smitten my life downe to the earth: he hath laid mee in the darkenesse, as they that haue bene dead [d] long agoe:

4 And my spirit was in the perplexitie in me, & mine [e] heart within me was amased.

5 Yet doe I remember the time [f] past: I meditate in all thy workes: yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I stretch forth mine hands vnto thee: my soule desireth after thee, as the thirstie land. Selah.

7 Heare me speedily, O Lord, for my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, els I shall be like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Let me heare thy louing kindnesse in the [g] morning, for in thee is my trust: [h] shewe mee the way, that I shoulde walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer mee, O Lord, from mine enemies: for [i] I hid me with thee.

10 [k] Teach me to [l] doe thy will: for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteousnes.

11 Quicken me O Lord, for thy Names sake, and for thy righteousnesse bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercie [m] slay mine enemies, and destroy all them that oppresse my soule: for I am thy [n] seruant.

a That is, as thou hast promised to bee faithfull in thy promise to all that trust in thee.

b That is, according to thy free goodnesse, whereby thou defendest thine.

c Hee knewe that his afflictions were Gods messengers to call him to repentance for his sinnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods sight all men are sinners. d He acknowledgeth that God is the onely, and true physician to heale him: and that he is able to rayse him to life, though he were dead long a go and turned to ashes. e So that onely by faith, and by the grace of Gods spirit he was vpholden. f To wit, thy great benefites of olde, and thy manifolde examples of thy fauour toward thine.

g That is, speedily and in due season.

h Let thine holy spirit counsell me how to come foorth of these great cares and troubles.

i I hid my selfe vnder the shadowe of thy wings, that I might bee defended by thy power. k Hee confesseth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods will commeth by the spirite of God, who teacheth vs by his worde, giueth vnderstanding by his spirite, and frameth our heartes by his grace to obey him. l That is, iustly and aright: for so soone as we decline from Gods will, wee fall into errour. m Which shalbe a signe of thy fatherly kindnesse towarde mee. n Resigning my selfe wholy vnto thee, and trusting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

1 He prayseth the Lord with great affection and humilitie for his kingdom restored, & for his victories obtained, 5 Demaunding helpe and the destruction of the wicked, 9 Promising to acknowledge the same with songs of prayses, 15 And declareth wherein the felicitie of any people consisteth.

A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed be the Lorde my strength, which [a] teacheth my handes to fight, and my fingers to battell.

2 Hee is my goodnesse and my fortresse, my towre and ‡ my deliuerer, my shielde, and in him I trust, which subdueth my [b] people vnder me.

3 Lorde, what is man that thou [c] regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him!

4 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadowe that vanisheth.

5 [d] Bow thine heauens, O Lord, & come downe: touch the mountaines, and they shall smoke.

6 [e] Cast foorth the lightning and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take mee out of the great [f] waters, and from the hand of strangers,

8 Whose mouth talketh vanitie: & their right hand is a right hand [g] of falshoode.

9 I will sing a [h] new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is hee that giueth deliuerance vnto a Who of a poore shepheard hath made mee a valiant warriour and mightie conqueror.

‡ Ebr. my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet cannot satisfie himselfe with many words.

b Hee confesseth that neither by his owne authoritie, power nor policie, his kingdome was quiet, but by the secret, grace of God.

c To giue vnto God iust prayse, is to confesse our selues to be vnworthie of so excellent benefits, and that he bestoweth them vpon vs of his free mercie. d Hee desireth God to continue his graces, and to sende helpe for the present necessitie. e By these manner of speeches hee sheweth that all the lets in the worlde can not hinder Gods power, which hee apprehendeth by faith. f That is, deliuer me from the tumults of them that should bee my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers. g For though they shake hands, yet they keepe not promise. h That is, a rare and excellent song, as they great benefits deserue.

Kings, and rescueth Dauid his i seruaunt from the hurtfull swoord.

11 Rescue mee, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falshoode:

12 That our k sonnes may bee as the plants growing vp in their youth, and our daughters as the coyner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our l coyners may be full, and abounding with diuers sorts, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousandes and ten thousand in our streetes.

14 That our m oxen may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out nor no crying in our streetes:

15 Blessed are the people, that be n so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isai. 45. 1. forasmuch as he vseth them to execute his iudgements: yet Dauid because of Gods promise, and they, that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections, but set foorth Gods glory.

k He desireth God to continue his benefits towarde his people, counting the procreation of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefits.

l That the very corners of our houses may be full of store for the great aboundance of thy blessings.

m Hee attributeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour.

n And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed, when the kingdome of Dauid florished. 1 Wherein hee describeth the wonderfull prouidence of God, as well in gouerning man, as in preserving all the rest of his creatures. 17 He prayseth God for his iustice & mercy, 18 But specially for his louing kindenesse toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promiseth to prayse him for euer.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid of prayse.

O My God, and King, a I wil ertol thee, and will blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee dayly, and prayse thy Name for euer and euer.

3 b Great is the Lorde, and most worthie to bee praysed, and his greatnesse is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shall prayse thy workes vnto c generation, and declare thy power.

5 I wil meditate of the beauty of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderfull works,

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy d fearefull Actes, and I will declare thy greatnesse.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnes, and shall sing aloude of thy righteousnesse.

8 * The Lorde is gracious and e mercifull, slow to anger, and of great mercie.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes prayse thee, O Lord, and thy Saints blesse thee.

a He sheweth what sacrifices are pleasant and acceptable vnto God: euen praise and thankesgiuing, and seeing that God still continueth his benefits towards vs, wee ought neuer to bee wearie in prayssing him for the same.

b Hereby hee declareth that all power is subiect vnto God, and that no worldly promotion ought to obscure Gods glory.

c Forasmuch as the ende of mans creation, and of his preseruation in this life, is to prayse God, therefore he requireth that not onely we our selues doe this, but cause all other to doe the same.

d Of thy terrible iudgementes against the wicked. Exod. 34. 6.

e Hee describeth after what sort God sheweth himselfe to all his creatures, though our sinnes haue prouoked his vengeance against all: to wit, mercifull, not onely in pardoning the sinnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the sweete comfort of the same.

11 f They shewe the glorie of thy kingdome, and speake of thy power, 12 To cause his g power to bee knowen to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renomme of his kingdome.

13 Thy * kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth al h that fal, and lifteth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of i all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, & fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lorde is k righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lord is neere vnto all ỹ call vpon him: yea, to all that cal vpon him in l truth.

19 He will fulfil the m desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will saue them.

20 The Lorde preserueth all them that loue him: but he will destroy al the wicked.

21 My mouth shall speake the prayse of the Lorde, and all n flesh shall blesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

f The prayse of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithfull are euer mindfull of the same.

g He sheweth that all things are out of order, but onely where God reigneth. Dan. 7. 14. Luke. 1. 33.

h Who being in miserie and affliction, woulde faint and fall away, if God did not vpholde them, and therefore they ought to reuerence him, that reigneth in heauen, & suffer themselues to be gouerned by him.

i To wit, aswell of man as of beast.

k Hee prayseth God, not onely for that he is beneficiall to all his creatures, but also in that that he iustly punisheth the wicked, and mercifully examineth his by ỹ crosse, giuing them strength and deliuering them.

l Which onely appertaineth to the faithful: and this vertue is contrary to infidelitie, doubting, impaciencie, and murmuring.

m For they wil aske or wish for nothing, but according to his will, 1. Iohn. 5. 14.

n That is, all men shall bee bound to prayse him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great zeale that he hath to praise God, 3 And teacheth not to trust in man, but only in God almighty, 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherlesse & the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRaise thou the Lord, O my a soule.

2 I will prayse the Lord during my life: as long as I haue any being, I will sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in b princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and he returneth to his earth: then his c thoughts perish.

5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iaakob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made d heauen and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelitie for euer:

7 Which executeth iustice e for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lord looseth the prisoners.

8 The Lord giueth sight to the blinde: the Lorde rayseth vp the crooked: the Lorde a Hee stirreth vp himselfe, and all his affections to prayse God.

b That God may haue the whole prayse: wherein he forbiddeth all vaine confidence, shewing that of nature we are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the creator.

c As their vaine opinions, whereby they flattered themselues, and so imagined wicked enterprises.

d Hee encourageth the godly to trust onely in the Lorde, both for that his power is able to deliuer them from all danger, and for his promise sake his will is most ready to doe it.

e Whose faith and patience for a while hee tryeth, but at length hee punisheth the aduersaries, that he may bee knowen to be Iudge of the worlde.

f Though he visite them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment and such like, yet his fatherly loue and pitie neuer faileth them, yea, meaning, all them, h He assureth the Church that God reigneth for euer for the preseruation of the same.

louеth the righteous.
9 The Lord keepeth the g strangers: he relieueth the fatherlesse and widow: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.
10 The Lord shall h reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Praise ye the Lord.

rather to his these are signes of his loue. g Meanthat are destitute of worldly meanes and succour.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiseth the bountie, wisedome, power, iustice, and prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their dispersion, 19 Declaring his word and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

a He sheweth wherin we ought to exercise our selues cõtinually, and to take our pastime: to wit, in praising God. b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it can not be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, & seeme as it were for a time to be cut off. c With affliction, or sorowe for sinne.

PRaise yee the Lord, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.
2 The Lord doth build vp b Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.
3 Hee healeth those that are c broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.
4 Hee d counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.
5 Great is our Lorde, and great is his power: his wisedome is infinite.
6 The Lord releeueth the meeke, and abaseth the wicked to the e ground.
7 Sing vnto the Lorde with praise: sing vpon the harpe vnto our God,
8 Which f couereth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines:
9 Which giueth to beastes their foode, and to the yong rauens that g crie.
10 He hath not pleasure in the h strength of an horse, neither deliteth he in the legges of man.
11 But the Lord deliteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.
12 Praise the Lord, O Ierusalem: praise thy God, O Zion.
13 For hee hath made the barres of thy gates i strong, and hath blessed thy children within thee.
14 He setteth peace in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the k floure of wheate.
15 He sendeth forth his l commandement vpon earth, and his word runneth very swiftly.
16 He giueth snowe like wooll, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.
17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who can abide the colde thereof?
18 Hee sendeth his word and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flowe.
19 Hee sheweth his m word vnto Iaakob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.
20 He hath not dealt so with euery nation, neither haue they n knowen his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

d Before the creation of the world, God knew the number of his elect, which he calleth his starres, because they shall shine in heauen for euer. e Meaning, the earth. f Which couereth the heauen with cloudes, that is, which maketh the cloudes to couer the heauen. g Meaning, the young rauens which are forsaken of their dammes, and therefore crie for foode. h Meaning, that God delighteth not in the strength of horse or man, but in them that feare him. i Meaning, the gates of the Citie. k Meaning, the best wheate. l Meaning, that God commandeth, and all things are done. m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his word: so he meaneth here, by his word, the doctrine of life euerlasting, which he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure. n The cause of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his Sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appoynted the reprobate to eternall damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praise the Lord in heauen and earth and all places, 14 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath giuen to the same after that he had chosen them & ioyned them vnto him.

a Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teach vs to doe our duetie. b In that Gods glorie shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beautie is as a continuall praysing of God. c Not that there are diuers heauens: but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed starres and planets, he comprehendeth by this word the whole heauen. d That is, the raine which is in the middle region of the ayre, which hee here comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauens. e Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales and such like. f Which come not by chaunce or fortune, but by Gods appoynted ordinance. g For the greater giftes that any hath receiued, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither hie nor low condition or degree can bee exempted from this duetie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his couenant made with Abraham.

PRaise ye the Lord.
Praise yee the Lorde from the heauen: prayse ye him in the high places.
2 Prayse yee him, all ye a his Angels: praise him, all his armie.
3 Prayse yee him, b sunne and moone: prayse ye him all bright starres.
4 Prayse yee him, c heauens of heauens, and d waters, that be aboue the heauens.
5 Let them prayse the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.
6 And he hath established them for euer and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.
7 Praise ye the Lord from the earth, yee e dragons and all depths:
8 f Fire and haile, snowe and vapours, stormie winde, which execute his word:
9 Mountaines and all hilles, fruitefull trees and all cedars:
10 Beasts and all cattel, creeping things and feathered foules:
11 g Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:
12 Yong men and maidens, aged men and children:
13 Let them praise the name of the Lord: for his name onely is to be exalted, and his prayse aboue the earth and the heauens.
14 For he hath exalted the h horne of his people, which is a praise for all his Saints, euen for i the children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to prayse the Lord for his victorie and conquest, that hee giueth his Saints against all mans power.

a For his rare and manifold benefits bestowed on his Church.

PRaise ye the Lord.
Sing ye vnto the Lord a newe song: let his prayse be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that [b] made him, and let the children of Zion reioyce in their [c] King.

3 Let them prayse his name with the flute: let them sing praises vnto him with the timbrell and harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: hee will make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saints be ioyfull with glorie: let them sing loude vpon their [d] beddes.

6 Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged swoorde in their handes.

7 [e] To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, and corrections among the people:

8 To binde [f] their kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron,

9 That they may execute vpon them the iudgement that is [g] written: this honour shalbe to all his Saints. Prayse ye the Lord.

b In that that they were preferred before all others nations, it was as a new creation, and therefore Psal. 95.7. they were called the sheepe of Gods handes.
c For God as hee is the Creator of the soule and body, so will he that both two serue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him as to their most lawfull King.
d He alludeth to that continuall rest and quietnesse, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them.
e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate iniuries.
f Not onely the people, but the Kings that were their enemies, shoulde be destroyed.
g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his to enterprise no further then he appoynteth.

PSAL. CL.

1 An exhortation to praise the Lord without cease by all maner of wayes, for all his mightie and wonderfull workes.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRaise ye God in his [a] Sanctuarie: praise ye him in the [b] firmament of his power.

2 Praise yee him in his mightie Actes: prayse yee him according to his excellent greatnesse.

3 Prayse yee him in the sounde of the [c] trumpet: prayse yee him vpon the viole and the harpe.

4 Praise ye him with timbrel and flute: prayse yee him with virginalles and organs.

5 Prayse yee him with sounding cymbals: prayse yee him with high sounding cymbals.

6 Let euery thing that hath [d] breath prayse the Lord. Prayse ye the Lord.

a That is, in the heauen.
b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament which in Ebrew is called a stretching out, or spreading abroad, wherein the mightie worke of God shineth.
c Exhorting the people onely to reioyce in prayssing God, hee maketh mention of those instruments, which by Gods commandement were appoynted in the olde Lawe, but vnder Christ the vse thereof is abolished in the Church.
d Hee sheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this duetie, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to cease to prayse him, till they bee gathered into that kingdome, which hee hath prepared for his, where they shall sing euerlasting prayse.

The * Prouerbes of Salomon.

* This word Prouerbe, or parable, signifieth a graue and notable sentence, worthie to be kept in memorie: and is sometime taken in the euil part for a mocke, or scoffe.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe wonderfull loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: forasmuch as the summe and effect of the whole Scriptures is heere set foorth in these briefe sentences, which partly conteyne doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first Chapters are as a preface full of graue sentences, and deepe mysteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that followe: which are left as a most precious iewell to the Church of those three thousand parables mentioned, 1. King. 4. 32. and were gathered and committed to writing by Salomons seruants, and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vse of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 We may not consent to the intisings of sinners. 20 Wisedome complaineth that shee is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

THe Parables of Salomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel,

2 To know wisedome, [a] and instruction, to vnderstand the words [b] of knowlegde,

3 To receiue [c] instruction to doe wisely, by [d] iustice and iudgement and equitie,

4 To giue vnto the [e] simple sharpenesse of witte, and to the childe knowledge and discretion.

5 A wise man shall heare and increase in learning, and a man of [f] vnderstanding shall attaine vnto wise counsels,

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wise, and their darke sayings.

7 ¶ * The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisedome and instruction. Psal. 111. 10. ecclus. 1. 16.

8 My sonne, heare thy [g] fathers instruction, and forsake not thy [h] mothers teaching.

9 For they shall be ‡ a comely ornament vnto thine head, & as chaines for thy necke.

10 ¶ My sonne, if [i] sinners doe intise thee, consent thou not.

11 If they say, Come with vs, we will lay waite for [k] blood, and lie priuily for the innocent without a cause:

12 We will swallow them vp aliue like a [l] graue euen whole, as those that go downe into the pit:

13 We shal finde all precious riches, and fill our houses with spoyle:

a That is, what we ought to know and folow, and what wee ought to refuse.
b Meaning, the word of God, wherein is the onely true knowledge.
c To learne to submit our selues to the correction of those that are wise.
d By liuing iustly, and rendring to euery man that which appertayneth vnto him.
e To such as haue not discretion to rule themselues.
f As he sheweth that these parables, conteining the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine, do apperteyne to the simple people: so doth he declare, that the same is also necessarie for them that are wise and learned.
g He speaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuersall Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the pastour of the Church, who is as a father.
h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithfull are begotten by the incorruptible seed of Gods word.
‡ Ebr. Increase of grace.
i To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God, k He speaketh not onely of the shedding of blood with hand, but of al craftie practises which tend to the detriment of our neighbour.
l As the graue is neuer satiate, so the auarice of the wicked and their cruelty hath none ende.

14 Cast in thy lot among vs: wee will all haue one m purse:

15 My sonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraine thy foote from their a path.

16 For their feete runne to euill, & make haste to shead blood.

17 Certainely as without cause the net is spred before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay waite for blood & lie priuily for o their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedy of gaine: he would take away the p life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ q Wisedome cryeth without: shee vttereth her voyce in the r streetes.

21 Shee calleth in the hie streete, among the prease in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her wordes in the citie, saying,

22 O ye s foolish, how long will yee loue foolishnesse? and the scornefull take their pleasure in scorning? and the fooles hate knowledge?

23 (Turne you at my correction: loe, I will powre out my minde vnto you, and make you vnderstand my wordes)

24 Because I haue called, & ye refused: I haue stretched out mine hand, and none would regard.

25 But ye haue despised all my counsell, and would none of my correction.

26 I will also t laugh at your destruction, and mocke when your feare commeth.

27 When u your feare commeth like sudden desolation, and your destruction shall come, like a whirlewinde: when affliction and anguish shall come vpon you,

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answere: they shall seeke me earely, but they shall not a finde me, 29 Because they hated knowledge, and did not chuse the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsell, but y despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shal they eate of the z fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuises.

32 For a ease slayeth the foolish, and the prosperitie of fooles destroyeth them.

33 But he that obeyeth me, shall dwell safely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

m He sheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, because they haue euery one part of the spoyle of the innocent.

n That is, haue nothing at all to doe with them.

o He sheweth that there is no cause to moue these wicked to spoyle the innocent, but their auarice & cruelty.

p Whereby he concludeth that the couetous man is a murtherer.

q This wisdome is the eternall worde of God.

r So that none can pretende ignorance.

s Wisedome reproueth three kindes of men: the foolish or simple, which erre of ignorance, and the mockers, that can not suffer to be taught, & the fooles which are drowned in worldly lustes and hate the knowledge of godlinesse.

t This is spoken according to our capacitie, signifying that the wicked, which mocke and iest at Gods worde, shall haue the iust reward of their mocking.

u That is, your destruction, which thing you feared.

x Because they sought not with an affection to God, but for ease of their owne griefe.

y Shewing that without faith and obedience we can not call vpon God aright.

z They shall feele what commoditie their wicked life shall giue them.

a That is, the prosperitie and sensualitie wherein they delight.

CHAP. II.

1 Wisedome exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preserueth from wickednesse.

MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and a hide my commaundements within thee,

2 And cause thine eares to hearken vnto wisedome, and encline b thine heart to vnderstanding.

3 (For if thou callest after knowledge, c and cryest for vnderstanding:

4 If thou seekest her as siluer, & searchest for her as for d treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand þ feare of the Lord, & finde the e knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisedome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding,

7 He f preserueth the state of þ righteous: he is a shielde to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may keepe the wayes of iudgement: and hee preserueth the way of his Saintes)

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, and euery good path.

10 ¶ When wisedome entreth into thine heart, and knowledge deliteth thy soule,

11 Then shall f counsell preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, & from þ man that speaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leaue the g wayes of righteousnesse to walke in the wayes of darknesse:

14 Which reioyce in doing euill, and delite h in the frowardnesse of the wicked,

15 Whose wayes are crooked and they are lewde in their paths,

16 And it shall deliuer thee from the strange i woman, euen from the stranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forsaketh the k guide of her youth, and forgetteth the l couenant of her God.

18 Surely her m house tendeth to death, and her paths vnto n the dead.

19 All they that goe vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they hold of the wayes of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in þ way of good men, and keepe the wayes of the righteous.

21 For the iust shall dwell in the o land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.

22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressers shall be rooted out of it.

b That is, keepe them in thine heart.

b If thou giue thy selfe to the true knowledge of God without hypocrisie, c Meaning, that we must seeke the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

d Shewing that no labour must be spared.

e This (saith he) is the true wisedome, to knowe and feare God.

‖ Or, biddeth the saluation.

f The worde of God shall teach thee and counsell thee how to gouerne thy selfe.

g That is, the word of God, which is the only light, to followe their owne fantasies which are darkenesse.

h When they see any giuen to euill as they are.

i Meaning, that wisedome, which is the worde of God, shall preserue vs from all vices: naming this vice of whoredome whereunto man is most prone.

k That is, her husband, which is her head and guide to gouerne her, from whome shee ought not to depart, but remaine in subiection.

l Which is the promise made in mariage.

m Her acquaintance with her familiars, and them that haunt her.

n To them that are dead in body and soule.

o They shall enioy the temporall and spirituall promises of God, as the wicked shall be voyde of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The word of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that follow the worde of God, all things shall succeede well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but let thine heart * keepe my commaundements.

2 For they shall increase the length of thy a dayes and the yeeres of life, and thy prosperitie.

3 Let not b mercie and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy c necke, and write them vpon the table of thine d heart.

Deut.8.1. and 30.16.

a Long life is the blessing of God, which he giueth to his so farre foorth as it is expedient for them.

b By mercie and trueth, he meaneth the commaundements of the first and seconde Table: or else the mercy and faithfulnesse that wee ought to vse towarde our neighbours.

c Keepe them as a most precious iewell.

d Haue them euer in remembrance.

4 So shalt thou finde fauour & good vnderstanding in the sight of God and man.

5 ¶ Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisedome.

6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy wayes.

7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.

8 So health shall be vnto thy e nauell, and marowe vnto thy bones.

9 f Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the first fruites of all thine increase.

10 So shall thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall g burst with newe wine.

11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieued with his correction.

12 * For the Lord correcteth him, whom he loueth, euen as the father doeth the childe in whome he delighteth.

13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisedome, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.

14 For the marchandise thereof is better then the marchandise of siluer, & the gaine thereof is better then golde.

15 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.

16 Length of dayes is in h her right hand, i and in her left hand riches and glory.

17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and all her paths prosperitie.

18 She is a tree k of life to them that lay holde on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wisedome hath laid the l foundation of the earth, & hath stablished the heauens through vnderstanding.

20 By his knowledge m depths are broken vp, & the cloudes drop downe the dew.

21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisedome, and counsell.

22 So they shall be life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy || necke.

23 Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shall not stumble.

24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraide, and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shall be sweete.

25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the n destruction of the wicked, when it commeth.

26 For o the Lord shalbe for thine assurance, and shall preserue thy foote from taking.

27 ¶ Withhold not the good from p the owners thereof, though there be power in thine hand to doe it.

28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Goe and come againe, and to morowe will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

29 ¶ Intende none hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he dooth dwell q without feare by thee.

30 ¶ Striue not with a man causeles, e By this part he comprehendeth the whole body, as by health he meaneth all the benefites promised in the Lawe both corporall and spirituall.

f As was commanded in the Law, Exod. 23. 19. Deut. 26. 2. and by this they acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, and that they were ready to bestow all at his commandement.

g For to the faithfull distributer God giueth in great abundance. Hebr. 12. 5. reuel. 3. 19.

h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisedome: that is, suffereth himselfe to be gouerned by the worde of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spirituall.

i Which bringeth forth such fruite that they that eate thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in Paradise.

k Hereby hee sheweth that this wisedome, wherof he speaketh, is euerlasting, because it was before all creatures, and that all things, euen the whole world were made by it. ||Or, throte, reade Chap. 1. 9.

l For whē God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodome.

when he hath done thee no harme.

31 ¶ Bee not o enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.

32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lorde: but his p secret is with the righteous,

33 The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous, 34 Surely he scorneth q the scorners, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

35 The wise shall inherite glory: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Wisdome and her fruites ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the worde of God the heart, eyes and course of life must be guided.

HEare, O yee children, the instruction of a a father, and giue eare to learne vnderstanding.

2 For I doe giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my lawe.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and b deare in the sight of my mother.

4 When c he taught me, & said vnto me, Let thine heart holde fast my words: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdome: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, & she shal keepe thee: loue her, and she shall preserue thee.

7 d Wisedome is the beginning: get wisdome therefore: and aboue all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, & she shal exalt thee: she shal bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 She shal giue a comely ornament vnto thine head, yea, she shall giue thee a crowne of glory.

10 ¶ Heare, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, & the yeres of thy life shal be many.

11 I haue e taught thee in the way of wisedome, and led thee in the paths of righteousnesse.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not be f straite, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take holde of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euill men.

15 Auoide it, & go not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

16 For they cannot g sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth, except they cause some to fall.

17 For they eate the bread of h wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that i shineth more and more vnto the perfit day.

o Desire not to be like vnto him.

p That is, his couenant & fatherly affectiō which is hid and secret from the world.

q He will shew by his plagues that their scornes shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap. 1. 26.

a He speaketh this in the person of a preacher and minister, which is as a father vnto the people, reade Chap. 1. 8.

b In Ebrewe, it is Onely: for though she had three others, as 1. Chro. 3. 5. yet, so tenderly shee loued Salomon that he was vnto her, as her onely sonne.

c Meaning, David his father.

d He sheweth that wee must first beginne at Gods worde, if so be we will that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgement of the worlde, which make it their last studie, or els, care not for it at all.

e Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids protestation.

f Thou shalt walke at libertie without offence. g Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper and naturall to the wicked, then to sleepe, eate or drinke. h Gotten by wicked meanes and cruel oppression. i Signifying, that the godly increase dayly in knowledge and perfection, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shall be ioyned to their head in the heauens.

m Not onely from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from them, which haue needē of the vse thereof, n That is, putteth his trust in thee.

o That is, his couenant & fatherly affectiō which is hid and secret from the world.

q He will shew by his plagues that their scornes shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap. 1. 26.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darkneſſe: they knowe not wherein they ſhall fall.

20 ¶ My ſonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my ſayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the midſt of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto thoſe that find them, and health vnto all their [k] fleſh.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout commeth [l] life.

24 Put away from thee a frowarde mouth, & put wicked lips farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye lids direct thy way before thee.

26 [m] Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy foote from euill.

k That is, they ſhall haue health of body: vnder the which all other bleſſings promiſed in the lawe are contained.

l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, ſo is the whole courſe of mans life.

m Keepe a meaſure in all thy doings.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 And prodigalitie. 15 He willeth a man to liue on his labours and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickedneſſe.

MY ſonne, hearken vnto my wiſedome, and incline thine eare vnto my ‖ knowledge,

‖ Or, vnderſtanding.

2 That thou mayeſt regard counſel, and thy lips obſerue knowledge.

3 For the lippes [a] of a ſtrange woman drop as an hony combe, and her mouth is more ſoft then [b] oyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormewood, and ſharpe as a two edged ſword.

5 Her [c] feete go downe to death, and her ſteps take holde on hell.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are [d] moueable: thou canſt not know them.

7 Heare yee mee now therefore, O children, and depart not from the wordes of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her houſe,

9 Leſt thou giue thine [e] honour vnto others, and thy yeeres to the cruell:

10 Leſt the ſtranger ſhould be filled with thy ſtrength, and thy [f] labours bee in the houſe of a ſtranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (when thou haſt conſumed thy fleſh and thy body)

12 And ſay, How haue I hated inſtruction, and mine heart deſpiſed correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that inſtructed me!

14 I was almoſt brought into all euil in the midſt of the Congregation & aſſembly.

15 ¶ Drinke the water of [h] thy ciſterne, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flowe foorth, and the riuers of waters in the ſtreetes.

17 But let them bee thine, euen [i] thine onely, and not the ſtrangers with thee.

18 Let thy [k] fountaine be bleſſed, and reioyce with the wife of thy [l] youth.

19 Let her bee as the louing hinde & pleaſant roe: let her breaſtes ſatisfie thee at all times, and delight in her loue continually.

20 For why ſhouldeſt thou ‖ delite, my ſonne, in a ſtrange woman, or embrace the boſome of a ſtranger?

21 For the wayes of man are before the [m] eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

22 His owne iniquities ſhall take the wicked himſelfe, and he ſhalbe holden with the cordes of his owne ſinne.

23 He ſhall [n] die for fault of inſtruction, and ſhall goe aſtray through his great folly.

a That is, an harlot which giueth her ſelfe to another then to her husband.

b By oyle and honie he meaneth flattering and craftie inticements.

c All her doings leade to deſtruction.

d She hath euer new meanes to allure to wickedneſſe.

e That is, thy ſtrength and goods to her that will haue no pitie vpon thee: as is read of Samſon, and the prodigall ſonne.

f The goods gotten by thy trauell.

g Although I was faithfully inſtructed in the trueth, yet had I almoſt fallen to vtter ſhame and deſtruction, notwithſtanding my good bringing vp in the aſſembly of the godly. h Hee teacheth vs ſobrietie, exhorting vs to liue of our owne labours, and to bee beneficiall to the godly that want. i Diſtribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reſerue them for thy ſelfe, thy familie, and them that are of the houſhold of faith.

k Thy children which ſhall come of thee in great abundance, ſhewing that God bleſſeth mariage and curſeth whoredome.

l Which thou diddeſt marry in thy youth.

‖ Or, goe aſtray with a ſtranger?

m He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuerſation, that he ſhall not eſcape the iudgements of God. n Becauſe he will not giue eare to Gods word and be admoniſhed.

CHAP. VI.

1 Inſtruction for ſuretes. 6 The ſlothfull & ſluggiſh is ſtirred to worke. 12 Hee deſcribeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obſerue the word of God. 24 To flee adultery.

MY ſonne, if thou be ſurete for thy neighbour, and haſt ſtriken hands with the ſtranger,

2 Thou art [a] ſnared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this now my ſonne, and deliuer thy ſelfe: ſeeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, goe and humble thy ſelfe, and ſolicite thy friends.

4 Giue no ſleepe to thine eyes, nor ſlumber to thine eye liddes.

5 Deliuer thy ſelfe as a Doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fouler.

6 ¶ Goe to [b] the piſmire, O ſluggard: behold her wayes, and be wiſe.

7 For ſhee hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meate in the ſummer, and gathereth her foode in harueſt.

9 How long wilt thou ſleepe, O ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of thy ſleepe?

10 [*] Yet a little ſleepe, a little ſlumber, [c] a little folding of the hands to ſleepe.

11 Therefore thy pouertie commeth as one that [d] trauaileth by the way, and thy neceſſitie like [e] an armed man.

12 The vnthriftie man [f] and the wicked man walketh with a frowarde mouth.

13 Hee maketh a ſigne with his eyes: hee ‡ ſignifieth with his feete: hee inſtructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewde things are in his heart: hee imagineth euill at all times, and rayſeth vp contentions.

15 Therefore ſhall his deſtruction come ſpeedily: hee ſhall bee deſtroyed ſuddenly without recouerie.

16 ¶ Theſe ſixe things doeth the Lorde hate: yea, his ſoule abhorreth ſeuen:

17 The hautie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that ſhed innocent blood, a He forbiddeth vs not to become ſurete for another, according to the rule of charitie, but that we conſider for whom and after what ſort, ſo that the creditour may not be defrauded.

b If the word of God cannot inſtruct thee, yet learne at the litle piſmire to labour for thy ſelfe, and not to burden others. Chap.24.33.

c He expreſſeth lively the nature of the ſluggards, which though they ſleepe neuer ſo long, yet haue neuer ynough, but euer ſeeke occaſions therunto.

d That is, ſuddenly, and when thou looked not for it.

e It ſhall come in ſuch ſort as thou art not able to reſiſt it.

f He ſheweth to what inconuenience the idle perſons and ſluggards come, by calling them vnthriftie, or the men of Belial, and ſlanderous. ‡ Ebr. ſpeaketh. g Thus all his geſture tendeth to wickedneſſe.

h Meaning, the raging affections, which carry a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doth.

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, h feete that be swift in running to mischiefe, 19 A false witnesse that speaketh lyes, and hym that sayleth vp contentiõs among ‖ brethren.

20 ¶ My sonne, keepe thy fathers commaundement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Bind them alway vpon thine i heart, and tie them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee, when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23 For the k commaundement is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and l corrections for instruction are the way of life, 24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, and from the flatterie of the tongue of a strange woman.

25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her m eye lids.

26 For because of the whoorish woman, a man is brought to a morsell of bread, ¶ a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man goe vpon coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29 So hee that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not bee innocent, whosoeuer toucheth her.

30 Men doe not o despise a theefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his p soule, because hee is hungry.

31 But if he be found, hee shall restore seuen folde, or he shall giue all the substance of his house.

32 But he that cõmitteth adulterie with a woman, he is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall finde q a wound & dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For iealousie is the rage of a man: therefore hee will not r spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He cannot beare the sight of any ransome: neyther will he consent, though thou augment the gifts.

i By this diuersitie of words he meaneth, that nothing ought to be so deare vnto vs, as the word of God, nor that we looke on any thing more, nor minde any thing so much.

k By the commaundement he meaneth the worde of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reprehensions when the worde is preached bring vs to life.

m With her wanton lookes and gesture.

n Meaning, that she will neuer ceale till shee haue brought thee to beggerie, and then seeke thy destruction.

o He approoueth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abominable as whoredome, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adulterie was a perpetuall infamie, and death by the Lawe of God.

p Meaning, for very necessitie. Ebr. faileth in heart.

q That is, death appointed by the Law.

r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death that hath abused his wife, and so concludeth, that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any ransome for the adulterie.

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wisedome and to the word of God, 5 Which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 Whose maners are described.

MY sonne, keepe my wordes, and hide my commaundements with thee.

2 Keepe my commaundements, and thou shalt liue, and mine instruction as the a apple of thine eyes,

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisedome, Thou art my sister: & call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her words.

6 ¶ b As I was in the windowe of mine house, I looked through my windowe,

7 And I saw among the fooles, and considered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be c blacke and darke.

10 And beholde, there mette him a woman with an harlots ‖ behauiour, and ‖ subtill in heart.

11 (Shee d is babling and loude: whose feete cannot abide in her house.

12 Nowe shee is without, now in the streetes, and lieth in waite at euery corner)

13 So she caught him and kissed him, and ‡ with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue e peace offrings: this f day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue deckt my bedde with ornaments, ‖ carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bedde with myrrhe, aloes, and cinamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in daliance.

19 For mine husband is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off.

20 He hath taken ‡ w him a bagge of siluer, & will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft shee caused him to yeelde, and with her flattering lips she entised him.

22 And he followed her straightwayes, as an g oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and h as a foole to the stockes for correction, 23 Till a dart strike through his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that ‡ he is in danger.

24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her paths.

26 For shee hath caused many to fall downe wounded, and the i strong men are all slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way * vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

b Salomon vseth this parable to declare their folly, that suffer themselues to be abused by harlots.

c He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraid to be seene, and also their owne consciences did accuse them, which caused them to seeke the night to couer their filthinesse.

‖ Or, garment.

‖ Or, hid.

d He describeth certaine conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

‡ Ebr. she strengthened her face.

e Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that shee hath meate at home to make good cheere with: or else she would vse some cloke of holinesse, till shee had gotten him in her snares.

f Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may the better deceiue others, and also thinking by obseruing of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sinnes.

‖ Or, carued worke. ‡ Ebr. in his hand.

g Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his owne destruction.

h Which goeth cheerefully, not knowing that he shalbe chastised.

‡ Ebr. it is for his life.

i Neither wit nor strength can deliuer them that fall into the hands of the harlot. Chap. 2. 18.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Wisedome declareth her excellencie, 11 Riches, 15 Power, 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

DOeth * not a wisedome cry? and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?

2 She standeth in the toppe of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.

Chap. 1. 20.

a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, & that hee can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God calleth all men by his word, and by his works, to follow vertue and to flee from vice.

3 Shee cryeth beſides [b] the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores,

4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voyce to the children of men.

5 Ye foolish men, vnderſtand wiſdom, and ye, O fooles, be wiſe in heart.

6 Giue eare, for I will ſpeake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes ſhall teach things that be right.

7 For my mouth ſhall ſpeake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednesse.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdneſſe, nor frowardneſſe in them.

9 They are all [c] plaine to him that will vnderſtand, & ſtreight to them that would finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine inſtruction, and not ſilver, and knowledge rather then fine golde.

11 For wiſedome is better then precious ſtones: and all pleaſures are not to be compared vnto her.

12 I wiſedome dwell with [d] prudence, and I finde forth knowledge and counſels.

13 The feare of the LORD is to hate [e] euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that ſpeaketh lewde things, I doe hate.

14 I haue counſell and wiſedome: I am vnderſtanding, and I haue ſtrength.

15 By mee Kings [f] reigne, and princes decree iuſtice.

16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue mee: and they that ſeeke me [g] earely, ſhall find me.

18 Riches & honour are with mee: [h] euen durable riches and righteouſneſſe.

19 My fruite is better then golde, euen then fine gold, and my reuenues better then fine ſilver.

20 I cauſe to walke in the way of righteouſneſſe, and in the middes of the pathes of [i] iudgement, 21 That I may cauſe them that loue mee, to inherite ſubſtance, and I will fill their treaſures.

22 The LORD hath poſſeſſed mee in the beginning of his way: I was [k] before his workes of olde.

23 I was ſet vp from euerlasting, from the beginning, and before the earth.

24 When there was no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were ſetled: and before the hilles, was I begotten.

26 Hee had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the duſt in the world.

27 When hee prepared the heauens, I was [l] there, when he ſet the compaſſe vpon the deepe.

28 When hee eſtabliſhed the cloudes aboue, when hee confirmed the fountaines of the deepe.

29 When hee gaue his decree to the ſea, that the waters ſhould not paſſe his commandement: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then was I with him as [m] a nourisher, and I was dayly his delight reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my [n] ſolace in the compaſſe of [o] his earth: and my delight is with the children of men.

32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto mee: for bleſſed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare inſtruction, and be ye wiſe, and refuſe it not: bleſſed is the man that heareth me, watching dayly at my gates, & giuing attendance at the poſtes of my doores.

34 For hee that findeth me, findeth life, and ſhall obteine fauour of the LORD.

35 But he that ſinneth againſt me, hurteth his owne ſoule: and all that hate mee, loue death.

b Where the people did moſt reſort, and which was the place of iuſtice.

c Meaning, that the word of God is easie vnto all that haue deſire vnto it, & which are not blinded by the prince of this world.

d That is, except a man haue wiſedome, which is the true knowledge of God, he can neither be prudent, nor good counſeller.

e So that he that doeth not hate euil feareth not God.

f Whereby he declareth that honours, dignitie or riches come not of mans wiſedome or induſtrie, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, ſtudie the word of God diligently, and with a deſire to profite.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the ſpirituall treaſures & heauenly riches.

i For there can be no true iuſtice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wiſedome.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wiſedome, which he magnifieth and praiſeth through this booke: meaning thereby the eternall Sonne of God Ieſus Chriſt our Sauior, whom Saint Iohn calleth the worde that was in the beginning, Iohn 1.1.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is meant by this worde Wiſedome, who was before all time, and euer preſent, with the Father.

m Some reade a chiefe worker, ſignifying that this wiſedome, euen Chriſt Ieſus, was equall with God his Father, and created, preſerueth, and ſtil worketh with him, as Iohn 5.17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a ſolace vnto the wiſdome of God.

o By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke of God in whome Wiſedome tooke pleaſure: in ſo much as for mans ſake the Diuine Wiſedome tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnſpeakeable treaſures: and this is that ſolace and paſtime whereof is here ſpoken.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wiſedome calleth all to her feaſt. 7 The ſcorner will not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of the harlot.

WIſedome hath built her [a] houſe, and hewen out her [b] ſeuen pillars.

2 Shee hath killed her victailes, drawen her wine, and [c] prepared her table.

3 Shee hath ſent forth her [d] maydens, and crieth vpon the higheſt places of the citie, ſaying,

4 Who ſo is [e] ſimple, let him come hither, and to him that is deſtitute of wiſedome, ſhe ſaith,

5 Come, and eate of my [f] meate, & drinke of the wine that I haue drawen.

6 Forſake your way, ye foolish, & ye ſhall liue: & walke in the way of vnderſtanding.

7 He that reproueth a ſcorner purchaſeth to himſelfe ſhame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himſelfe a blot.

8 Rebuke not a [h] ſcorner, leſt hee hate thee: but rebuke a wiſe man, and hee will loue thee.

9 Giue admonition to the wiſe, and hee will bee the wiſer: teach a righteous man, and he will increaſe in learning.

10 The beginning of wiſedome is the feare of the LORD, and the knowledge of holy things, is [i] vnderſtanding.

11 For thy dayes ſhall be multiplyed by me, and the yeeres of thy life ſhall bee augmented.

12 If thou bee wiſe, thou ſhalt bee wiſe for [k] thy ſelfe, and if thou bee a ſcorner, thou a Chriſt hath prepared him a Church.

b That is, many chiefe ſtayes and principall partes of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apoſtles, Paſtors and Doctors.

c He compareth wiſedome with great princes that keepe open houſe for all that come.

d Meaning, true preachers, which are not infected with mans wiſedome.

e Hee that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is voyde of malice.

f By the meate and drinke, is meant the word of God and the miniſtration of the Sacramentes, whereby God nouriſheth his ſeruants in his houſe, which is the Church. g For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him. h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Chriſt calleth dogges and ſwine: or hee ſpeaketh this in compariſon, not that the wicked ſhoulde not bee rebuked, but hee ſheweth their malice, and the ſmall hope of profite. i Hee ſheweth what true vnderſtanding is, to knowe the will of God in his worde, which is meant by holy things. k Thou ſhalt haue the chiefe profite and commoditie thereof.

alone

alone shalt suffer.

13 ¶ A foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

14 But she sitteth at ỹ dooze of her house, on a seate in the hie places of the citie,

15 To call them that passe by the way, that goe right on the way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisedome, she saith also,

17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But hee knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her ghests are in the depth of hell.

1 By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfaite the word of God, as appeareth verse 16. which were the wordes of the true preachers, as verse 4. but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the word of God: and therefore they themselues boast thereof.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter & al that folow vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which he calleth parables, to folow vertue, & to flee vice: & sheweth also what profite commeth of wisdome, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnesse.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

A Wise sonne maketh a glad father: but a foolish sonne is an heauinesse to his mother.

2 The treasures of a wickednesse profite nothing: but righteousnes deliuereth from death.

3 The Lord will b not famish the soule of the righteous: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.

4 A ‖ slouthfull hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.

5 Hee that gathereth in sommer, is the sonne of wisedome: but hee that sleepeth in harnest, is the sonne of confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie shall couer the mouth of c the wicked.

7 The memorial of the iust shalbe blessed: but the name of the wicked shall d rotte.

8 The wise in heart will receiue commandements: but the foolish in ‡ talke shall be beaten.

9 Hee that walketh vprightly, walketh ‖ boldly: but he that peruerteth his wayes, shall be knowen.

10 He that e winketh with the eye, worketh sorow, and he that is f foolish in talke, shalbe beaten.

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a wellspring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hatred stirreth vp contentions: * but loue couereth all trespasses.

13 In the lips of him that hath vnderstanding, wisedome is found, and g a rod shalbe for the backe of him that is destitute of wisedome.

14 Wise men lay vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a present destruction.

15 The rich mans goods are his h strong citie: but the feare of the needie is their ouerthrow.

16 The labour of ỹ righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to sinne.

17 He that regardeth instruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuseth correction, goeth out of the way.

18 He that dissembleth hatred with lying lips, & he that vttereth slander, is a foole.

19 In many wordes there cannot want iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lips, is wise.

20 The tongue of the iust man is as fined siluer: but the heart of the wicked is little worth.

21 The lips of the righteous doe i feede many: but fooles shall die for want of wisedome.

22 The blessing of ỹ Lord, it maketh rich, and he doeth adde k no sorowes with it.

23 It is as a pastime to a foole to doe wickedly: but wisedome is vnderstanding to a man.

24 That which the wicked feareth, shal come vpon him: but God will graunt the desire of the righteous.

25 As the whirlewinde passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlasting foundation.

26 As vineger is to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the slouthfull to them that l send him.

27 The feare of the Lord increaseth the dayes: but the yeeres of the wicked m shall be diminished.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shalbe gladnesse: but the hope of the wicked shall perish.

29 The way of the Lorde is strength to the vpright man: but feare shall be for the workers of iniquitie.

30 The righteous shall n neuer bee remooued: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land.

31 The mouth of the iust shalbe fruitfull in wisedome: but the tongue of the froward shalbe cut out.

32 The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh froward things.

CHAP. XI.

FAlse a balances are an abomination vnto the Lord: but a perfite ‡ weight pleaseth him.

2 When pride commeth then commeth b shame: but with the lowly is wisedome.

3 The vprightnesse of the iust shall guide them: but the frowardnesse of the transgressers shall destroy them.

4 Riches auaile not in the day of wrath: but righteousnesse deliuereth from death.

5 The righteousnesse of the vpright shal direct his way: but the wicked shall fall in his owne wickednesse.

6 The righteousnesse of the iust shall deliuer them: but the transgressers shalbe taken in their owne wickednesse.

7 * When a wicked man dieth, his hope perisheth, and the hope of the vniust shall perish.

8 The righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his c steade.

9 An d hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous shall be deliuered by knowledge.

10 In the prosperitie of the righteous the citie

i For they speake trueth and edifie many by exhortations, admonition & counsell.

k Meaning, that all worldly things bring care, and sorowe, whereas they that feele the blessings of God, haue none.

l Hee is but a trouble & griefe to him that setteth him about any businesse.

m The time of their prosperitie shalbe short because of their great fall though they seeme to liue long.

n They enioy in this life by faith and hope, their euerlasting life.

a Vnder this worde he condemneth all false weights, measures and deceit. ‡ Ebr. stone.

b When man forgetteth himselfe, and thinketh to be exalted aboue his vocation, then God bringeth him to confusion. Ezek. 7. 19. ecclus 5. 1. Wisd. 5. 15.

c That is, shall enter into trouble.

d A dissembler that pretendeth friendship, but is a priuie enemie.

Chap. 15. 20.

a That is, wickedly gotten.

b Though he suffer the iust to want for a time, yet he will send him comfort in due season. ‖ Or, decently full.

c When their wickednesse shall be discouered, they shall be as dumbe, and not knowe what to say.

d Shall be vile and abhored both of God and man, contrary to their owne expectation, which thinke to make their name immortall. ‡ Ebr. lippes. ‖ Or, surely.

e He that beareth a faire countenance, and imagineth mischiefe in his heart, as Chap. 6. 13.

f For the corruption of his heart is knowen by his talke. 1. Cor. 13. 4. 1. pet. 4. 8.

g That is, God wil finde him out to punish him.

h And so maketh him bolde to doe euill, whereas pouertie brideleth the poore from many euill things.

c The countrey is blessed, where there are godly men, and they ought to reioyce when the wicked are taken away.
‖Or, prosperitie.
f Wil not make light report of others.
g Where God giueth store of men of wisdome, and counsell.
h Whose conuersation hee knoweth not.
i He that doeth not without iudgement and consideration of the circumstances put himselfe in danger, as Chap.6.1.
‖Or, modest.
k Is both good to himselfe, and to others.
‖Or, neighbour.
l Though they make neuer so many friends, or thinke themselues neuer so sure, yet they shall not escape.
‖Or, of vncomely behauiour.
m They can looke for nothing but Gods vengeance.
n Meaning them that giue liberally, whome God blesseth.
o That is, the niggard.
‡ Ebr. the soule of blessing shalbe made fat.
p That prouideth for the vse of them that are in necessitie.
q The couetous men that spare their riches to the hinderance of their families, shalbe depriued thereof miserably.
r For though the wicked be rich, yet are they but slaues to the godly, which are the true possessors of the gifts of God.
s That is, bringeth them to the knowledge of God.
t Shall be punished as he deserueth, 1.Pet.4.18.

citie c reioyceth, and when the wicked perish, there is ioy.

11 By the ‖blessing of the righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is subuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

12 Hee that despiseth his neighbour, is destitute of wisedome: but a man of vnderstanding will f keepe silence.

13 Hee that goeth about as a slaunderer, discouereth a secret: but he that is of a faithfull heart, concealeth a matter.

14 Where no counsell is, the people fall: but where many g counsellers are, there is health.

15 Hee shall be sore vexed, that is suretie for a h stranger, and hee i that hateth suretiship, is sure.

16 A ‖ gracious woman attaineth honour, and the strong men attaine riches.

17 He that is mercifull, k rewardeth his owne soule: but hee that troubleth his owne ‖ flesh, is cruell.

18 The wicked worketh a deceitfull worke: but he that soweth righteousnesse, shall receiue a sure reward.

19 As righteousnesse leadeth to life: so he that followeth euil, seeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delite.

21 l Though hand ioyne in hand, the wicked shall not be vnpunished: but the seede of the righteous shall escape.

22 As a iewel of gold in a swines mouth: so is a faire woman, which ‖lacketh discretion.

23 The desire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked m is indignation.

24 There is that scattereth, n and is more increased: but he that spareth more o then is right, surely commeth to pouertie.

25 The ‡liberall person shal haue plenty: and he that watereth, shall also haue raine.

26 Hee that withdraweth the corne, the people will curse him: but blessing shall be vpon the head of him that p selleth corne.

27 He that seeketh good things, getteth fauour: but hee that seeketh euill, it shall come to him.

28 He that trusteth in his riches, shal fal: but the righteous shall flourish as a leafe.

29 Hee that troubleth his owne q house, shall inherite the winde, and the foole shall be r seruant to the wise in heart.

30 The fruite of the righteous is as a tree of life, and he that s winneth soules, is wise.

31 Beholde, the righteous shall be t recompensed in the earth: howe much more the wicked and the sinner?

CHAP. XII.

HE that loueth instruction, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauour of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginations wil he condemne.

3 A man cannot be established by wickednes: but the a roote of the righteous shall not be mooued.

4 A ‡ vertuous woman is the crowne of her husband: but she that maketh him ashamed, is as corruption in his bones.

5 The thoughts of the iust are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceitfull.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in waite for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will b deliuer them.

7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.

8 A man shalbe commended for his wisdome: but the froward of heart shall be despised.

9 Hee that is despised, c and is his owne seruant, is better then he that boasteth himselfe and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man d regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruell.

11 * He that tilleth his land, shalbe satisfied with bread: but hee that followeth the idle, is destitute of ‖ vnderstanding.

12 The wicked desireth the e nette of euils: but the f roote of the righteous giueth fruite.

13 The euill man is snared by the wickednesse of his lips, but the iust shall come out of aduersitie.

14 A man shall bee satiate with good things by the fruite of his mouth, and the recompense of a mans handes shall God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is g right in his owne eyes: but hee that heareth counsell, is wise.

16 A foole in a day shall be knowen by his anger: but he h that coureth shame, is wise.

17 Hee that speaketh trueth, will shewe righteousnesse: but a false witnesse vseth deceite.

CHAP. XIII.

A Wise sonne will obey the instruction of his father: but a scorner will heare no rebuke.

2 A man shall eate good things by the fruite [a] of his mouth: but the soule of the trespassers shall suffer violence.

3 Her that keepeth his mouth, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippes, destruction shalbe to him.

4 The sluggard [b] lusteth, but his soule hath nought: but the soule of the diligent shall haue plentie.

5 A righteous man hateth lying words: but the wicked causeth slander and shame.

6 Righteousnesse preserueth the vpright of ‡ life: but wickednesse ouerthroweth the sinner.

7 There is that maketh himselfe rich, and hath nothing, and that maketh himselfe poore, hauing great riches.

8 A man will giue his riches for the ransome of his life: but the poore [c] cannot heare the reproche.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked shalbe put out.

10 Onely by pride [d] doeth man make contention: but with the well aduised is wisedome.

11 The [e] riches of vanitie shal diminish: but he that gathereth with the [f] hand, shall increase them.

12 The hope that is deferred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the desire commeth, it is as a tree of life.

13 Ye that despiseth [g] the worde, he shall be destroyed: but hee that feareth the commandement, he shalbe rewarded.

14 The instruction of a wise man is as the wellspring of life, to turne away from the snares of death.

15 Good vnderstanding maketh acceptable: but the way of ỹ disobedient is hated.

16 Euery wise man will worke by knowledge: but a foole will spread abroad folly.

18 Pouertie and shame is to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth correction, shalbe honoured.

19 A desire accomplished delighteth the soule: but it is an abomination to fooles to depart from euill.

20 He that walketh with the wise, shall be wise: but a companion of fooles shall be [i] afflicted.

21 Affliction followeth sinners: but vnto the righteous God will recompense good.

22 The good man shall giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the [k] riches of the sinner is layd vp for the iust.

23 Much foode is in the fielde of the [l] poore: but the fielde is destroyed without discretion.

24 *He that spareth his rodde, hateth his sonne: but he that loueth him, chasteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentation of his minde: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

A Wise woman [a] buildeth her house: but the foolish destroyeth it with her owne hands.

2 *Hee that walketh in his [b] righteousnes, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his wayes, despiseth him.

3 In the mouth of the foolish is the [c] rod of pride: but the lippes of the wise preserue them.

4 Where none [d] oxen are, there the crib is emptie: but much increase commeth by the strength of the ox.

5 A faithfull witnesse will not lye: but a false record will speake lyes.

6 A scorner [e] seeketh wisedome, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easie to him that will vnderstand.

7 Depart from the foolish man, when thou perceiuest not in him the lips of knowledge.

8 The wisedome of the prudent is to vnderstand his way: but the foolishnes of the fooles is deceit.

9 The foole maketh a mocke [f] of sinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

10 The heart knoweth the [g] bitternesse of his soule, ‡ the stranger shall not meddle with his ioy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous shall flourish.

12 *There is a way that seemeth right to a man: but the issues thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is sorowfull, [h] and the ende of that mirth is heauinesse.

14 The heart that declineth, [i] shalbe satiate with his owne wayes: but a good man shall depart from him.

15 The foolish will beleeue euery thing: but the prudent will consider his steps.

16 A wise man feareth, ‡ departeth from euill: but a foole rageth, and is carelesse.

17 Hee that is hastie to anger, committeth folly, and a ‡ wise body is hated.

18 The foolish doe inherite folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

29 He that is slowe to wrath, is of great wisdome: but he that is of an hastie minde, exalteth follie.

30 A sound heart is the life of the ‖ flesh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

31 * He that oppresseth the poore, reproueth him that made him: but hee honoureth him, that hath mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked shalbe cast away for his malice: but the righteous hath hope in his death.

33 Wisedome resteth in the heart of him that hath vnderstanding, and is knowen [m] in the middes of fooles.

34 Iustice exalteth a nation, ‖ but sinne is a shame to the people.

35 The pleasure of a King is in a wise seruant: but his wrath shalbe toward him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

A * Soft answere putteth away wrath: but grieuous words stirre vp anger.

2 The tongue of the wise vseth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fooles * babbleth out foolishnesse.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euery place behold the euill and the good.

4 A wholesome tongue is as a tree of life: but the frowardnesse thereof is the breaking of the minde.

5 A foole despiseth his fathers instruction: but he that regarded correction, is prudent.

6 The houle of the righteous hath much treasure: but in the reuennes of the wicked is [a] trouble.

7 The lippes of the wise doe spreade abroad knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.

8 The [b] sacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the righteous is acceptable vnto him.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lorde: but hee loueth him that followeth righteousnesse.

10 Instruction is euill to him that [c] forsaketh the way, and hee that hateth correction, shall die.

11 [d] Hell and destruction are before the Lorde: howe much more the hearts of the sonnes of men?

12 A scorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, neither will he goe vnto the wise.

13 * A ioyfull heart maketh a cheerefull countenance: but by the sorowe of the heart the minde is pearst.

14 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with foolishnes.

15 All the dayes of the afflicted are euill: but a ‡ good conscience is a continuall feast.

16 * Better is a litle with the feare of the Lord, then great treasure and trouble therewith.

17 Better is a dinner of greene hearbes where loue is, then a stalled oxe and hatred therewith.

24 The way of life is on high to the prudent, to auoyde from hell beneath.

25 The Lord wil destroy the houle of the proud men: but he will stablish the borders of the widowe.

26 The thoughts of the wicked are abomination to the Lorde: but the pure haue [h] pleasant wordes.

27 He that is greedy of gaine, troubleth his owne houle: but hee that hateth gifts, shall liue.

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answere: but the wicked mans mouth babbleth euill things.

29 The Lord is farre off from [i] wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30 The light of the eyes reioyceth the heart, [k] a good name maketh the bones fat.

31 The eare that heareth to the [i] correction of life, shall lodge among the wise.

18 The lot l causeth contentions to cease, and m maketh a partition among the mighties.

l If a controuersie cannot otherwise be decided, it is best to cast lottes to knowe whose the thing shall bee.

19 A brother offended is harder to winne then a strong citie, and their contentions are like the n barre of a palace.

m Appeaseth their controuersie, which are so stoute that cannot otherwise be pacified.

20 With the fruite of a mans mouth shall his belly be satisfied, and with the increase of his lippes shall he be filled.

n Which for the strength thereof will not bowe nor yeelde.

21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that o loue it, shall eate the fruite thereof.

o By the vsing of the tongue well or euill, commeth the fruite thereof either good or bad.

22 He that findeth a p wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

p He that is ioyned with a vertuous woman in marriage, is blessed of the Lord, as Chap. 19.14.

23 The poore speaketh with prayers: but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends, ought to shew himselfe friendly: for a friende is neerer q then a brother.

q That is, oftetimes such are found which are more readie to doe pleasure then he that is more bound by duetie.

CHAP. XIX.

BEtter * is the poore that walketh in his vprightnesse, then hee that abuseth his lips, and is a foole. Chap. 28.6.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that hasteth with his feete, sinneth.

3 The foolishnesse of a man perverteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 Riches gather many friends: but the poore is separated from his neighbour.

5 * A false witnesse shall not be vnpunished: and hee that speaketh lies, shall not escape. Deut. 19.19. dan. 13.62.

6 Many reuerence the face of the prince, and euery man is friend to him that giueth giftes.

7 All the brethren of the poore doe hate him: howe much more will his friends depart farre from him? though he be instant a with wordes, yet they will not.

a To haue comfort of them.

8 He that possesseth vnderstanding, b loueth his owne soule, and keepeth wisedome, to finde goodnesse.

b He that is vpright in iudgement, findeth fauour of God.

9 A false witnesse shall not bee vnpunished: and he that speaketh lies, shall perish.

10 c Pleasure is not comely for a foole, much lesse for a seruant to haue rule ouer princes.

c The free vse of things is not to be permitted to him that cannot vse them aright.

11 The discretion of a man deferreth his anger: and his glorie is d to passe by an offence.

d That is, to couer it by charitie, and to do therein as may most serue to Gods glorie.

12 * The kings wrath is like the roaring of a lion: but his fauour is like the dew vpon the grasse. Chap. 20.2.

13 * A foolish sonne is the calamitie of his father, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continuall e dropping. Chap. 17.21. Chap. 21.9.

e As raine that droppeth and rotteth the house. Chap. 18.22.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but * a prudent wife commeth of the Lord.

15 Slouthfulnesse causeth to fall asleepe, and a deceitfull person shall be athamished.

16 He that keepeth the commandement, keepeth his owne soule: but hee that despiseth his wayes, shall die.

17 Hee that hath mercie vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord will recompence him that which hee hath giuen.

f Though for a time he giue place to counsell, yet soone after will he giue place to his raging affections.

18 Chasten thy sonne while there is hope, and let not thy soule spare for his murmuring.

19 A man of much anger shall suffer punishment: and though thou f deliuer him, yet will his anger come againe.

g Mans deuice shall not haue successe, except God gouerne it, whose purpose is vnchangeable.

20 Heare counsel, and receiue instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter ende.

21 Many deuises are in a g mans heart: but the counsell of the Lord shall stand.

22 That that is to be desired of a man, is his [b] goodnesse, and a poore man is better then a liar.

23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, shall continue, and shall not be visited with euill.

24 * The slouthfull hideth his hand in his bosome, and will not put it to his mouth againe.

25 * Smite a scorner, and [i] the foolish will beware: and reproue the prudent, and he will vnderstand knowledge.

26 Hee that destroyeth his father, or chaseth away his mother, is a lewd and shameful childe.

27 My sonne, heare no more the instruction, that causeth to erre from the wordes of knowledge.

28 A wicked witnesse mocketh at iudgement, and the mouth of the wicked [k] swalloweth vp iniquitie.

29 But iudgements are prepared for the scorners, and stripes for the backe of the fooles.

h That is, that he be honest: for the poore man that is honest, is to be esteemed aboue the rich which is not vertuous. Chap.26.15. Chap.21.11.

i That is, the simple and ignorant men learne, when they see the wicked punished.

k Taketh a pleasure and delight therein, as gluttons and drunkards in delicate meates & drinks.

CHAP. XX.

WIne [a] is a mocker, and strong drinke is raging: and whosoeuer is deceiued thereby, is not wise.

2 * The feare of the King is like the roaring of a lion: hee that prouoketh him vnto anger, [b] sinneth against his owne soule.

3 It is a mans honour to cease from strife: but euery foole will be medling.

4 The slouthfull will not plowe, because of winter: therefore shall he begge in sommer, but haue nothing.

5 The counsell in the heart of [c] man is like deepe waters: but a man that hath vnderstanding will drawe it out.

6 Many men will boast, euery one of his owne goodnesse: but who can finde a faithfull man?

7 Hee that walketh in his integritie, is iust: and blessed shall his children bee after him.

8 A King that sitteth in the throne of iudgement, [d] chaseth away all euill with his eyes.

9 * Who can say, I haue made mine heart cleane, I am cleane from my sinne?

10 Diuers ‡ weights, and diuers measures, both [e] these are euen abomination vnto the Lord.

11 A childe also is knowen by his doings, whether his worke bee pure and right.

12 The Lord hath made both these, euen the eare to heare, and the eye to see.

13 Loue not sleepe, lest thou come vnto pouertie: open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, it is naught, saieth the buyer: but when hee is gone apart, hee boasteth.

15 There is gold, and a multitude of precious stones: but the lips of knowledge are a precious iewel.

16 * Take his [f] garment, that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

17 The bread of deceit is sweete to a man: but afterward his mouth shalbe filled with grauell.

18 Establish the thoughts by counsell: and by counsell make warre.

19 Hee that goeth about as a slaunderer, discouereth *secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.

20 * Hee that curseth his father or his mother, his light shall be put out in obscure darkenesse.

21 An heritage is hastily gotten at the beginning, but the ende thereof shall not bee blessed.

22 Say not thou, * I will recompense euill: but waite vpon the Lord, and he shall saue thee.

23 * Diuers weights are an abomination vnto the Lord, and deceitfull balances are not good.

24 * The steps of man are ruled by the Lord: howe can a man then vnderstand his owne way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to [g] deuoure that which is sanctified, and after the vowes to inquire.

26 A wise king scattereth the wicked, and causeth the [h] wheele to turne ouer them.

27 The [i] light of the Lord is the breath of man, and searcheth all the bowels of the belly.

28 * Mercie and trueth preserue the King: for his throne shalbe established with mercie.

29 The beautie of yong men is their strength, and the glorie of the aged is the gray head.

30 [k] The blewnesse of the wound serueth to purge the euill, and the stripes within the bowels of the belly.

CHAP. XXI.

THe [a] Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: hee turneth it whither soeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Euery * way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lorde pondereth the hearts.

3 * To doe iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A hautie looke, and a proude heart, which is the ‖ [b] light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoughts of the diligent doe surely bring abundance: but [c] whosoeuer is hastie commeth surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a deceitfull tongue is vanitie tossed to and fro of them that seeke death.

7 The [d] robberie of the wicked shall destroy them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

8 The way of some is peruerted and strange: but of the pure man, his worke is right.

a Though kings seeme to haue all things at commandement, yet are they not able to bring their owne purposes to passe any otherwise then God hath appointed: much lesse are the inferiours able. Chap.16.2. Micah.6.8.

10 The soule of the wicked wisheth euil: and his neighbour hath no fauour in his eyes:

e Reade Chap. 19. 25.

11 e When the scorner is punished, the foolish is wise: and when one instructeth the wise, he will receiue knowledge.

f Though the godly admonish them both by wordes and example of life, yet the wicked will not amend, till God destroy them.

12 The righteous f wayeth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euil.

13 He that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shall also cry and not bee heard.

g To doe a pleasure to the angry man, pacifieth him.

14 g A gift in secrete pacifieth anger, and a gift in the bosome great wrath.

15 It is ioy to the iust to doe iudgement: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquitie.

16 A man that wandreth out of the way of wisedome, shall remaine in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loueth pastime, shalbe a poore man: and he that loueth wine and oyle, shall not be rich.

h God shall cause that to fall on their owne heads, which they intended against the iust, by deliuering the iust and putting the wicked in their places.

18 The h wicked shalbe a ransome for the iust, and the transgresser of the righteous.

Eccles. 25. 18, 22.

19 * It is better to dwell in the wildernesse, then with a contentious and angry woman.

20 In the house of the wise is a pleasant treasure and i oyle: but a foolish man deuoureth it.

i Meaning, abundance of all things.

21 Hee that followeth after righteousnesse and mercy, shall finde life, righteousnesse and glory.

22 A k wise man goeth vp into the citie of the mightie, and casteth downe the strength of the confidence thereof.

k Wisedome ouercommeth strength & confidence in worldly things.

23 Hee that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soule from afflictions.

24 Proud, hautie & scorneful is his name that worketh in his arrogancie wrath.

l He thinketh to liue by wishing and desiring all things, but will take no paine to get ought.

25 The desire of the slouthfull l slayeth him: for his hands refuse to worke.

26 Hee coueteth euermore greedily, but the righteous giueth, and spareth not.

28 * A false witnesse shall perish: but hee that heareth, m speaketh continually.

m He may boldly testifie the trueth that he hath heard.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the iust, he will direct his way.

30 There is no wisedome, neither vnderstanding, nor counsell against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battell: but saluation is of the Lord.

b Liue together, and haue neede the one of the other.

3 * A prudent man seeth the c plague, and hideth himselfe: but the foolish goe on still, and are punished.

Chap. 27. 12.

c That is, the punishment which is prepared for the wicked, and fleeth to God for succour.

4 The reward of humilitie, and the feare of God is riches, and glory, and life.

5 Thornes and snares are in the way of the frowarde: but hee that regardeth his soule, will depart farre from them.

6 Teache a childe d in the trade of his way, and when he is olde, hee shall not depart from it.

d Bring him vp vertuously, & hee shall so continue.

7 The rich ruleth the poore, and the borrower is seruant to the man that lendeth.

8 Hee that soweth iniquitie, shall reape affliction, and the e rod of his anger shall faile.

e His authoritie whereby he did oppresse others, shall be taken from him.

Eccles. 31. 23.

9 * He that hath a good f eye, he shall be blessed: for he giueth of his bread vnto the poore.

f He that is mercifull and liberal.

10 Cast out the scorner, and strife shall goe out: so contention and reproche shall cease.

11 Hee that loueth pureneſſe of heart for the grace of his lippes, the g king shal be his friend.

g He sheweth § princes should vse their familiaritie, whose conscience is good, and their talke wise and godly.

12 The eyes of the Lord h preserue knowledge: but he ouerthroweth the wordes of the transgressour.

h Fauour them that loue knowledge.

13 The slouthfull man sayth, i A lyon is without, I shall be slaine in the streete.

i He derideth them that inuent vaine excuses, because they would not doe their duetie.

14 The mouth of strange women is as a deepe pit: he with whome the Lorde is angrie, k shall fall therein.

k So God punisheth one sinne by another, when he suffereth the wicked to fall into the acquaintance of an harlot.

15 Foolishnesse is bound l in the heart of a child: but the rod of correction shall driue it away from him.

l He is naturally giuen vnto it.

16 Hee that oppresseth the poore to increase himselfe, and giueth vnto the rich, shall surely come to pouertie.

17 ¶ Incline thine eare, and heare the wordes of the wise, and apply thine heart vnto my knowledge.

18 For it shall bee pleasant, if thou keepe them in thy belly, and if they bee directed together in thy lips.

19 That thy confidence may be in m the Lorde, I haue shewed thee this day: thou therefore take heede.

m He sheweth what the ende of wisedome is: to wit, to direct vs to the Lorde.

20 Haue not I written vnto thee n three times in counsels and knowledge, n That is, sundry times.

21 That I might shewe thee the assurance of the wordes of trueth to answere the wordes of trueth to them that send to thee?

22 Robbe not the poore, because hee is poore, neither oppresse the afflicted ‡ in iudgement.

‡ Ebr. in the gate.

23 For the Lord * will defend their cause, and spoyle the soule of those that spoyle them.

o Haue not to doe with him that is not able to rule his affections: for he would hurt thee by his euill conuersation.

25 Lest thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

26 Bee not thou of them that p touch the hand, nor among them that are surette for debts.

p Which rashly put themselues in danger for others, as Chap. 6. 1.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHen thou sittest to eate with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee,

2 [b] And put the knife to thy throate, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his daintie meats: [c] for it is a deceiuable meate.

4 Trauaile not too much to be rich: but cease from thy [d] wisedome.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eies vpon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh her to her wings, as an eagle, & flieth into the heauen.

6 Eate thou not the bread of him that hath an [e] euill eye, neither desire his daintie meates.

7 For as though hee thought it in his heart, so will he say vnto thee, Eate and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomit thy [f] morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweete wordes.

9 Speake not in the eares of a foole: for he will despise the wisedome of thy wordes.

10 * Remoue not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the fieldes of the fatherlesse.

11 For hee that redeemeth them, is mightie: he wil* defend their cause against thee.

12 Apply thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the wordes of knowledge.

13 * Withholde not correction from the childe: if thou smite him with the rod, hee shall not die.

14 Thou shalt smite him with the rod, and shalt deliuer his soule from [g] hell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart bee wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also,

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lippes speake righteous things.

17 * Let not thine heart bee enuious against sinners: but let it bee in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an ende, [h] and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 Heare thou my sonne, heare and be wise, and guide thine heart in the [i] way.

20 Keepe not company with ‡ drunkards, nor with ‡ gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shal be poore, and the sleeper shalbe clothed with ragges.

22 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when shee is olde.

23 Buy [k] the trueth, but sell it not: likewise wisedome, and instruction, and vnderstanding.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wise childe, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad, and she that bare thee, shall reioyce.

26 My sonne, giue me [l] thine heart, and let thyne eyes delight in my wayes.

27 * For a whore is as a deepe ditch, and a strange woman is as a narrow pit.

28 * Also she lyeth in waite as for a pray, [m] and shee encreaseth the transgressers among men.

29 To whome is woe? to whome is sorow? to whome is strife? to whome is murmuring? to whome are woundes without cause? and to whome is the redenesse of the eyes?

30 Euen to them that tary long at the wine, to them that goe, [n] and seeke out wine.

31 Looke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, and when it sheweth his colour in the cup, or goeth downe pleasantly.

32 In the ende thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrise.

33 Thine [o] eyes shall looke vpō strange women, and thine heart shall speake lewde things.

34 And thou shalt bee as one that sleepeth in the middes of the [p] sea, and as hee that sleepeth in the top of the mast.

35 They haue stricken me, shalt thou say, but I was not sicke: they haue beaten mee, but I knew not, when I awoke: therefore will I seeke it yet still.

CHAP. XXIIII.

BE * not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lips speake mischiefe.

3 Through wisedome is an house builded, and with vnderstanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers bee filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 * For with counsell thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell, is health.

7 Wisedome is hie to a foole: therefore he cannot open his mouth in the [a] gate.

8 Hee that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an authour of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorner is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou bee [b] faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuer them that are drawen [c] to death: and wilt thou not preserue them that are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Behold, we knew not of it: he that pondereth the hearts, doeth not he vnderstand it? and hee that keepeth thy soule, knoweth it it not? will not he also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 My sonne, eate [d] honie, for it is good, and the honie combe, for it is sweete vnto thy mouth:

14 So shall the knowledge of wisedome be vnto thy soule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an ‖ ende, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no waite, O wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a iust man [e] falleth seuen times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischiefe.

19 Confidence in an vnfaithfull man in time of trouble, is like a broken tooth and a sliding foote.

20 He that taketh away the garment in the colde season,is like vineger powred vpon * ‖ nitre,or like him that singeth songs to an heauie heart.

21 *If he that hateth thee bee hungrie, giue him bread to eate,and if he bee thirstie, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou shalt lay p coales vpon his head,and the Lord shall recompense thee.

23 As the Northwinde driueth away the raine, so doeth an angrie countenance the slandering tongue.

24 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the house toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

b The state of the common weale is often-times changed.

THe wicked a flee when none pursueth: but the righteous are bolde as a lyon.

2 For the transgression of the land b there are many princes thereof: but by a man of vnderstanding & knowledge a realme likewise endureth long.

3 A poore man, if he oppresse the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no foode.

4 They that forsake the Law, prayse the wicked: but they that keepe the Law, set themselues against them.

5 Wicked men vnderstande not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lord, vnderstand all things.

Chap.19.1. 6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that peruerteth his wayes, though he be rich.

7 He that keepeth the Law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that feedeth the gluttons, shameth his father.

c For God will take away the wicked vsurer, & giue his goods to him that shall bestowe them well.

8 He that increaseth his riches by vsurie and interest, gathereth c them for him that will be mercifull vnto the poore.

9 He that turneth away his care from hearing the Lawe, euen his prayer shall be abominable.

10 He that causeth the righteous to goe astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit, & the vpright shall inherite good things.

d Because it is not of faith, which is grounded of Gods worde, or Law, which the wicked contemneth.

11 The rich man is wise in his owne conceite: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, can try him.

e And iudge that he is not wise.

Chap.29.2.

12 *When righteous men reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man f is tryed.

f He is knowen by his doings to be wicked.

13 Hee that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth, & forsaketh them, shall haue mercie.

22 A man with a wicked l eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not, that pouertie shall come vpon him.

l Meaning him that is couetous.

23 Hee that rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, & sayeth, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 He that is of a proud heart, stirreth vp strife: but he that trusteth in the Lorde, shall be m fat.

m Shall haue all things in abundance.

26 He that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but hee that walketh in wisedome, shall be deliuered.

27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curses.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, a spreadeth a net for his steps.

a He that giueth eare to the flatterer, is in danger as the bird is before the fouler.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his b snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.

b He is euer ready to fall into the snare that he layeth for others.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.

9 If a wise man contend with a c foolish man, whether hee be angry or laugh, there is no rest.

c He can beare no admonition, in what sort soeuer it is spoken.

10 Bloody men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

24 He that is partner with a theefe, hateth his owne soule: hee heareth cursing, and declareth it not.

25 The feare of man bringeth a f snare: but he that trusteth in the Lorde, shall bee exalted.

f He that feareth man more then God, falleth into a snare and is destroyed.

26 Many doe seeke the face of the ruler: but euery mans g iudgement commeth from the Lord.

g He needeth not to flatter the ruler: for what God hath appointed, that shal come to him.

27 A wicked man is abomination to the iust, and he that is vpright in his way, is abomination to the wicked.

THE WORDES OF a AGVR THE SONNE OF IAKEH.

a Who was an excellent man in vertue & knowledge in the time of Salomon, b Which were Agurs schollers or friendes.

THe prophecie which the man spake vnto Ithiel, euen to b Ithiel, and Ucal.

2 Surely I am more c foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

c Herein he declareth his great humilitie, who would not attribute any wisedome to himselfe, but all vnto God.

3 For I haue not learned wisedome, nor attemed to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended vp to d heauen, and descended? Who hath gathered the winde in his fist? who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the endes of the worlde? What is his name, and what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell?

d Meaning, to know the secrets of God, as though he would say, None. Psal. 139. 8. Deut. 4. 2. and 12. 32.

5 * Euery word of God is pure: he is a shield to those, that trust in him.

6 * Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest he reproue thee, and thou be found a lyar.

7 Two e things haue I required of thee: deny me them not before I die.

e He maketh this request to God.

8 Remoue farre from me vanitie and lies: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: feede me with foode conuenient for me,

9 Lest I be full, and denie thee, and say, f Who is the Lorde? or lest I be poore, and steale, and take the name of my God in vaine.

f Meaning, that they that put their trust in their riches, forget God, and that by too much wealth men haue an occasion to the same.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, g when thou hast offended.

g In accusing him without cause.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation, whose eyes are hautie, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, & the poore from among men.

15 The horseleach hath two h daughters which cry, Giue, giue. There be three things that will not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is inough.

h The leache hath two forkes in her tongue, which here he calleth her two daughters, whereby she sucketh blood, and is neuer satiate: euen so are the couetous extortioners infatiable.

16 The graue, & the barren wombe, the earth that cannot bee satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is inough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father, and despiseth the instruction of his mother, let the rauens i of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eate it.

i Which haunt in the valley for carions.

18 There bee three things hid from me: yea, foure that I knowe not.

19 The way of an eagle in the ayre, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in the middes of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: she eateth and k wipeth her mouth, and sayeth, I haue not committed iniquitie.

k She hath her desires, and after counterfaiteth as though she were an honest woman.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot sustaine it selfe:

22 For l a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meate, l These commonly abuse the state whereunto they are called.

23 For the hatefull woman, when she is married, and for a handmaide y is m heire to her mistres.

m Which is married to her master after the death of her mistres.

24 These bee foure small things in the earth, yet they are n wise and full of wisedome:

n They conteine great doctrine and wisedome.

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in sommer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houles in the rocke:

27 The grashopper hath no king, yet go they forth all by bands:

28 The spider taketh holde o with her hands, and is in kings palaces.

o If man be not able to compasse these common things by his wisdome, we cannot attribute wisedome to man, but follie.

29 There be three things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comely in going,

30 A lion which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A iustie gray hound, and a goate, and a king against whome there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand p vpon thy mouth.

p Make a stay & continue not in doing euill.

33 Whe one churneth milke, he bringeth forth butter: and hee that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so hee that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

27 She ouerseeth ỹ wayes of her household, and eateth not the bread of idlenesse.

28 Her children rise vp, and o call her blessed: her husband also shall praise her, saying,

29 Many daughters haue done vertuously: but thou surmountest them all.

30 Fauour is deceitfull, and beautie is vanity: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shalbe praysed.

THE ARGVMENT.

SAlomon, as a Preacher and one that desireth to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceiueable vanities of this world, that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenly life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God, and shall enioy his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heauenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be found in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisedome is but follie and griefe.

THe wordes of the a Preacher, the sonne of Dauid king in Ierusalem.

2 b Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his c trauell, which he sustaineth vnder ỹ sunne?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remaineth for d euer.

5 The sunne riseth, and the sunne goeth downe, and draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The e wind goeth toward the South, and compasseth towarde the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuites.

7 * All the riuers goe into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers goe vnto the place, f whence they returne, and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 g What is it that hath bene? that that shalbe: and what is it that hath bene done? that which shall bee done: and there is no new thing vnder the sunne.

10 Is there any thing, wherof one may a Salomon is heere called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, and how men ought to passe their life in this transitory world.

b He condemneth the opinions of all men that set felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this world all things are as vanitie and nothing.

c Salomon doeth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitorie.

d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption.

e By the sunne, winde and riuers, he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an ende, and therefore there can be no felicitie in this world. Eccles. 40.11.

f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, the which powre out springs and riuers into the sea againe.

g He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

say,

h He proueth that it any could haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obtained it, because he had giftes and aydes of God thereunto aboue all er.

i Man of nature hath a desire to know, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sin, to humble man, and to teach him to depend onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to goe otherwise then they doe: neither can he number the say, Beholde this, it is newe? it hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there be a remembrance of the latter that shall bee, with them that shall come after.

12 ¶ h I the Preacher haue bene king ouer Israel in Jerusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and finde out wisedome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this loe trauaile hath God giuen to the sonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and veration of the spirit.

15 That which is k crooked, can none make straight: and that which faileth, can not be numbred.

16 I thought in mine heart, and sayde, Beholde, I am become great, and excell in wisedome all them that haue bene before me in Jerusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisedome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wisedome and knowledge, l madnesse and foolishnesse: I knew also that this is a veration of the spirit.

18 For m in the multitude of wisedome is much m griefe: and hee that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorowe.

faults that are committed, much lesse remedie them. l That is, vaine things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisedome and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and mind: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 15 The wise and the foole haue both one ende, touching the bodily death.

I Saide in mine heart, Goe to now, I will proue a thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant things: and beholde, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, thou art mad: and of ioy, what is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart ‡ to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in b wisedome, and to take holde of follie, till I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they ‡ enioy vnder the sunne, the whole number of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted mee vineyardes.

5 I haue made me gardens ‡ ‡ or orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruites.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maydes, and had children borne in the c house: also I had great possession of beeues and sheepe aboue all that were before mee in Jerusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also siluer and golde, and the chiefe treasures of Kings and prouinces: I haue prouided mee men singers and women singers, and the d delites of the sonnes of men, as a woman e taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and increased aboue all that were before mee in Jerusalem: also my wisedome f remained with me.

10 And whatsoeuer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my g portion of all my trauaile.

11 Then I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauaile that I had laboured to doe: and beholde, all is vanitie and veration of the spirite: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold h wisedome, and madnes and folly: (for who is the man that ‖ will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisedome, more then in follie: as the light is more excellent then darkenesse.

14 * For the wise mans i eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenesse: yet I knowe also that the same k condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole: Why therefore do I then labour to be more wise? And I said vnmine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shalbe no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole l for euer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all bee forgotten. And m how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and veration of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall bee after mee.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall bee wise or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart n abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauaile is in wisedome, and in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a man that hath not trauailed therein, shall he o giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 : For what hath man of all his trauaile and griefe of his heart, wherein hee hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and taken no paine therefore, and whome hee knewe not whether he were a wise man or a foole.

a Salomon maketh this discourse with himselfe, as though he would trie whether there were contentation in ease and pleasures.

‡ Hindrawe my flesh to wine.

b Albeit I gaue my selfe to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe wisedome and the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne my affaires by the same.

c Meaning, of the seruants or slaues, which he had bought: so the children borne in their seruitude, were the masters.

d That is, whatsoeuer men take pleasure in.

e Which were the most beautifull of them that were taken in warre, as Iudg. 5.30. Some vnderstand by these words, no women but instruments of musicke.

f For all this God did not take his gift of wisedome from me.

g This was the fruite of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.

h I bethought with my selfe whether it were better to follow wisedome, or mine owne affections and pleasures which he calleth madnesse.

‖ Or, compare with the king. Prou. 17.24.

i He foreseeth things, which the foole cannot for lacke of wisedome.

k For both die and are forgotten, as verse 16. or they both alike haue prosperitie or aduersitie.

l Meaning, in this worlde.

m He wondereth that men forget a wise man being dead, as soone as they doe a foole.

n That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.

o Among other griefes this was not the least, to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauaile, to one that had his his trauaile griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profite to man, but that he eate and drinke, and p delight his soule with the profite of his labour: I sawe also this, that it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eate, and who coulde haste to q outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdome, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner he giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

p When man hath all laboured, he can get no more then foode and refreshing, yet he confesseth also that this commeth of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3 13.

q Meaning, to pleasures.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfite, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust and vniust.

TO all things there is an a appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

a He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in the worlde perpetuall: next to teach vs not to be grieued if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enioy them so long as we woul wish.

2 A time to be borne, and a time to die: a time to plant, & a time to plucke vp that which is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to builde.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to imbrace, and a time to be farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sewe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hath hee that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauaile that God hath giuen to the sonnes of men b to humble them thereby.

11 He hath made euery thing beautifull in his time: also he hath set the c worlde in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hath wrought from the beginning euen to the ende.

12 I knowe that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the d gift of God.

14 I knowe that whatsoeuer God shall doe, it shall bee for e euer: to it can no man adde, and from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene? that is now; and that that shall be, hath nowe bene: for God f requireth that which is past.

16 And moreouer I haue seene vnder the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God will iudge the iust and the wicked: for time is s there for euery purpose and for euery worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had h purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselues as beastes.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beastes are euen as one i condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beast: for all is vanitie.

20 All goe to one place, and all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who k knoweth whether the spirite of man ascende vpwarde, and the spirite of the beaste descende downewarde to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should l reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

b Reade Chap. 1. 13.

c God hath giuen man a desire and affection to seeke out the things of this worlde, and to labour therein.

d Reade Chap. 2. 24. and these places declare that we should do all things with sobrietie, and in the feare of God, forasmuch as he giueth not his gifts to the intent that they should be abused.

e That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe.

f God onely causeth that, which is past to returne.

g Meaning, with God, howsoeuer man neglect his duetie.

h And made the pure in their first creation.

i Man is not able by his reason and iudgement to put difference betwene man and beast, as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: for the eye cannot iudge any otherwise of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead, yet by the word of God and faith wee easily knowe the diuersitie, as verse 21.

k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein. l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2. 24. and 3. 12, 22. and 5. 17. and 8. 15. hee declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vse the gifts of God soberly and comfortably: for to know further is a speciall gift of God reueiled by his Spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore, and wise, is to be preferred to an olde King, that is a foole.

SO a I turned, and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold, the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: and loe, the strength is of the hand of them that oppresse them, and none comforteth them.

a He maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning the tyranny of them that oppresse the poore.

2 Wherefore I praysed the b dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet aliue.

b Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.

3 And I count him c better then them both, which hath not yet bene: for he hath not seene the euil works which are wrought vnder the sunne.

c He speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which can not abide to feele, or see troubles.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, and al d perfection of workes, that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanitie and vexation of spirite.

d The more perfite that the work is, the more is it enuied of the wicked.

5 The foole folded his hands, and e eateth vp his owne flesh.

e For idlenesse he is compelled to destroy himselfe.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnes, then two handfuls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, and there is not a seconde, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet there is none ende of all his trauaile, neither can his eye bee satisfied with riches; neither doeth hee thinke, For whome doe I trauaile and defraude my soule ſule of pleaſure? this alſo is vanitie, and this is an euill trauaile.

f For aſmuch as when man is alone, he can neither helpe himſelfe nor others, he ſheweth that men ought to liue in mutuall ſocietie, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may encreaſe.

9 f Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fall, the one wil lift vp his fellowe: but woe vnto him that is alone: for hee falleth, and there is not a ſecond to lift him vp.

11 Alſo if two ſleepe together, then ſhall they haue heate: but to one howe ſhoulde there be heate?

12 And if one ouercome him, two ſhall ſtand againſt him: and a threefolde g coard is not eaſily broken.

g by this prouerbe he declareth how neceſſarie it is, that men ſhould liue in societie.

13 Better is a poore and wiſe child, then an olde and fooliſh King, which will no more be admoniſhed.

14 For out of the h priſon he commeth forth to reigne: when as hee that is i borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

h That is, from a poore and baſe eſtate, or out of trouble, and priſon, as Ioſeph did, Gen 41.14.

i Meaning, that is borne a king.

15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the ſunne, k with the ſeconde childe, which ſhall ſtand vp in his place.

k Which follow, and flatter the kings ſonne, or him that ſhall ſucceed: to enter into credite with them in hope of gaine. l They neuer ceaſe by all meanes to creepe into fauour: but when they obteine not their greedie deſires, they thinke themſelues abuſed, as other haue bene in time paſt, and ſo care no more for him. m That is, with what affection thou commeſt to heare the word of God. n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to pleaſe God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

16 There is none l ende of all the people, nor of all that were before them, f they that come after, ſhall not reioyce in him: ſurely this is alſo vanitie and vexation of ſpirite.

17 Take heede to thy m foote when thou entreſt into the houſe of God, and bee more neere to heare then to giue the ſacrifice of n fooles: for they knowe not that they doe euill.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to ſpeake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The labourers ſleepe is ſweete. 14 Man when hee dieth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a contented minde is the gift of God.

BE not a raſh with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be haſtie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on y earth: therefore let thy words be b fewe.

a Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, y we ſhould vſe all reuerence to Godward.

b He heareth thee not for thy many wordes ſake or often repetitions, but conſidereth thy faith & feruent minde.

2 For as a dreame commeth by the multitude of buſineſſe: ſo the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

3 *When thou haſt vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he delighteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou haſt c vowed.

*Deut. 23.21.

4 It is better that thou ſhouldeſt not vowe, then that thou ſhouldeſt vowe and not pay it.

c He ſpeaketh of vowes, which are approoued by Gods worde, and ſerue to his glory.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy d fleſh to ſinne: neither ſay before the c Angel that this is ignorance: wherefore ſhall God bee angrey by thy voyce, and deſtroy d Cauſe not thy ſelfe to ſinne by vowing raſhly: as they doe which make a vowe to liue vnmaried, and ſuch like. e That is, before Gods meſſenger, when he ſhall examine thy doing: as though thy ignorance ſhould be a iuſt excuſe.

the worke of thine hands?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities, are alſo many wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou ſeeſt the oppreſſion of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iuſtice, bee not aſtonied at the matter: for he that is g higher then the higheſt, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

g Meaning, that God will redreſſe theſe things, and therefore wee muſt depend vpon him.

8 And the h abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King h alſo conſiſteth by the field that is tilled.

g The reuenues of the earth are to be preferred aboue all things, which appertaine to this life.

h Kings & Princes cannot maintaine their eſtate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.

9 He that loueth, ſiluer ſhall not be ſatiſfied with ſiluer, and hee that loueth riches, ſhalbe without the fruite thereof: this alſo is vanitie.

10 When goods increaſe, they are increated that eate them: i what good commeth to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

i That is, his great abundance of riches, or the ſurfeting, which commeth by his great feeding.

11 The ſleepe of him that trauaileth, is ſweete, whether he eate little or much: but the k ſatietie of the rich will not ſuffer him to ſleepe.

k When couetous men heape vp riches, which turne to their deſtruction.

12 There is an euil ſickneſſe that I haue ſeene vnder the ſunne: to wit, riches l reſerued to the owners thereof to their euill.

l He doeth not enioy his fathers riches. Iob 1.21. wiſdome 7.6. 1. tim. 6.7.

13 And theſe riches periſh by euill trauaile, and hee begetteth a ſonne, and in his l hand is nothing.

14 *As hee came foorth of his mothers belly, hee ſhall returne naked to goe as hee came, and ſhall beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath cauſed to paſſe by his hand.

15 And this alſo is an euill ſickneſſe, that in all poynts as he came, ſo ſhal he goe, and what profite hath hee that he hath trauailed for the m winde?

m Meaning, in vaine, and without profite.

16 Alſo all his dayes he eateth in n darkneſſe, with much griefe, and in his ſorowe and anger.

n In affliction and griefe of minde.

17 Behold then what I haue ſeene good, that it is comely o to eate, and to drinke, and to take pleaſure in all his labour, wherein hee trauaileth vnder the ſunne, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

o Reade Chap. 3.22.

18 Alſo to euery man to whome God hath giuen riches and treaſures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enioy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his p life, becauſe God anſwereth to the ioy of his heart.

p He wil take no great thought for the paines that he hath endured in time paſt.

CHAP. VI.

The miſerable eſtate of him to whome God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vſe them.

THere is an euill, which I ſawe vnder the ſunne, and it is much among men:
2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treaſures and honour, and hee wanteth nothing for his ſoule of all that it deſireth: but *GOD giueth him not power to eate thereof, but a ſtrange man ſhall eate it vp: this is vanitie, and this a He ſheweth that it is the plague of God when the rich man hath not a liberall heart to vſe his riches.

this is an euill sickneſſe.

3 If a man beget an hundreth children, and liue many yeeres, and the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, and his ſoule be not [b] ſatisfied with good things, and hee be not [c] buried, I ſay that an vntimely fruite is better then he.

4 For [d] hee commeth into vanitie, and goeth into darkeneſſe: and his name ſhall be couered with darkneſſe.

5 Alſo hee hath not ſeene the ſunne, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more reſt then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thouſand yeeres twiſe tolde, and had ſeene no good, ſhall not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the [e] ſoule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wiſe man more then the foole? what hath the poore that [f] knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

9 The [g] ſight of the eye is better then to walke in the luſtes: this alſo is vanitie, and vexation of ſpirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is nowe named: and it is knowen that it is man: and hee cannot ſtriue with him that is [h] ſtronger then he.

b If he can neuer haue ynough.
c As we ſee oftentimes, that the couetous man either falleth into crimes that deſerue death, or is murthered, or drowned, or hangeth himſelfe, or ſuch like, and ſo lacketh the honour of buriall, which is the laſt office of humanitie.
d Meaning the vntimely fruite whoſe life did neither profite nor hurt any.
e His deſire and affection.
f That knoweth to vſe his goods well in the iudgement of men. g To bee content with that which God hath giuen, is better then to follow the deſires that neuer can be ſatiſfied. h Meaning, God who will make him to feele that he is mortall.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoyde the contrary.

a There is no ſtate, wherein man can liue to haue perfect quietneſſe in this life. Iob 14.2. Pſal. 144.4. Prou. 22.1.
b He ſpeaketh thus after the iudgement of the fleſh, which thinketh death to be the ende of all euils: or elſe, becauſe that this corporall death is the entring into life euerlaſting.
c Where wee may ſee the hand of God & learne to examine our liues.
d Which crackle for a while and profite nothing.
e A man that is eſteemed wiſe, when he falleth to oppreſſion, becommeth like a beaſt. f He noteth their lightnes which enterpriſe a thing, and ſuddenly leaue it off againe.

1 [a] SVrely there be many things that increaſe vanitie: and what auaileth it man?

2 For who knoweth what is [a] good for man in the life and in the number of [b] dayes of the life of his vanitie, ſeeing hee maketh them as a * ſhadowe? For who can ſhewe vnto man what ſhall be after him vnder the ſunne?

3 *A good name is better then a good ointment, and the day of [b] death, then the day that one is borne.

4 It is better to goe to the houſe of [c] mourning, then to goe to the houſe of feaſting, becauſe this is the ende of all men: and the liuing ſhall lay it to his heart.

5 Anger is better then laughter: for by a ſad looke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wiſe is in the houſe of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the houſe of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wiſe man, then that a man ſhould heare the ſong of fooles.

8 For like the noyſe of the [d] thornes vnder the pot, ſo is the laughter of the foole: this alſo is vanitie.

9 Surely oppreſſion maketh a wiſe man [e] madde: and the rewarde deſtroyeth the heart.

10 The [f] end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in ſpirite is better then the proude in ſpirit.

11 Be not thou of an haſtie ſpirite to be angrie: for anger reſteth in the boſome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then theſe? for thou doeſt not enquire wiſely of this thing.

13 Wiſedome is good with an [h] inheritance, and excellent to them that ſee the ſunne.

14 For man ſhall reſt in the ſhadowe of wiſedome, and in the ſhadowe of ſiluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wiſedome giueth life to the poſſeſſours thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make * ſtraight that which hee hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, and in the day of affliction [i] conſider: God alſo hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man ſhould find [k] nothing after him.

17 I haue ſeene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iuſt man that periſheth in his [l] iuſtice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not [m] thou iuſt ouermuch, neither make thy ſelfe ouerwiſe: wherefore ſhouldeſt thou be deſolate?

19 Be not thou wicked [n] ouermuch, neither be thou foo'liſh: wherefore ſhouldeſt thou periſh not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay holde on [o] this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from [p] that: for he that feareth God, ſhall come foorth of them all.

21 Wiſedome ſhall ſtrengthen the wiſe man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 *Surely there is no man iuſt in the earth, that doeth good and ſinneth not.

23 Giue not thine [q] heart alſo to all the wordes that men ſpeake, leſt thou doe heare thy ſeruant curſing thee.

24 For oftentimes alſo thine heart knoweth that thou likewiſe haſt ‖ curſed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wiſedome: I thought, I will be wiſe, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre off, what may it be? and it is a profound deepeneſſe, who can finde it?

27 I haue compaſſed about, both I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to ſearch wiſedome, and reaſon, and to knowe the wickedneſſe of folly, and the fooliſhneſſe of madneſſe,

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whoſe heart is as nettes and ſnares, and her hands, as bands: hee that is good before God, ſhall be deliuered from her, but the ſinner ſhalbe taken by her.

29 Beholde, ſayeth the Preacher, this haue I found, ſeeking one by one to [r] finde the count:

30 And yet my ſoule ſeeketh, but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thouſand: but a woman among them all haue I not found.

g Murmure not againſt God when he ſendeth aduerſities for mans ſinnes.
h He anſwereth to them that eſteeme not wiſedome, except riches be ioyned therewith, ſhewing that both are the gifts of God, but that wiſedome is farre more excellent, and may be without riches. Chap. 1.15.

ſ That is, to come to a concluſion.

c And so are cause of their own destruction.

31 Onely loe, this haue I found, that God hath made man righteous: but they haue sought many [c] inventions.

CHAP. VIII.

2 To obey Princes and Magistrates. 17 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

WHo is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisedome of a man doeth make his [a] face to shine: and the [b] strength of his face shall be changed.

2 I aduertise thee to take heede to the [c] mouth of the King, and to the worde of the othe of God.

3 [d] Haste not to goe footh of his sight: stand not in an euill thing: for hee will doe whatsoeuer pleaseth him.

4 Where the worde of the King is, there is power, and who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandement, shal know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shall knowe the [e] time and iudgement.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the [f] miserie of man is great vpon him.

7 For hee knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?

8 Man is not lorde ouer the spirite to reteine the spirite: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shall wickednesse deliuer the possessers thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery woorke which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I sawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne [h] hurt.

10 And likewise I sawe the wicked buried, and [i] they returned, & they that came from the holy [k] place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill woorke is not [l] executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundreth times, and God prolongeth his daies, yet I know that it shall be well with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shall he prolong his dayes: hee shall be like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there be righteous men to whome it commeth according to the [m] woorke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whom it commeth according to the woorke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I praysed ioy: for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the sunne, saue [n] to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisedome, and to beholde the businesse that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole woorke of God, that man cannot finde out the woorke that is wrought vnder the sunne: for the which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whome God loueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his ende. 16 Wisedome excelleth strength.

I Haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their woorkes are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or [a] hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, hee that sweareth, as hee that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one [b] condition to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnesse is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoeuer is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a [c] liuing dog, then to a dead lion.

5 For the liuing know that they shal die, but the dead knowe nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie is nowe perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Go, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God nowe [d] accepteth thy woorkes.

8 At all times let thy garments bee [e] white, and let not oyle bee lacking vpon thine head.

9 ‡ Reioyce with the wife whome thou hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, and in thy trauell wherein thou labourest vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hand shal finde to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither woorke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisedome in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, & I sawe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and [f] chance commeth to them all.

a That is, doeth get him fauour and prosperitie.
b Whereas before hee was proude and arrogant, he shall become humble and meeke.
c That is, that thou obey the King, and keepe the othe that thou hast made for the same cause. d Withdraw not thy selfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.
e That is, when time is to obey, and how farre he should obey.
f Man of himselfe is miserable, and therefore ought to doe nothing to increase the same, but to worke all things by wisedome and counsaile.
g Man hath no power to saue his owne life, and therefore must not rashly cast himselfe into danger.
h As commeth oft times to tyrants, and wicked rulers.
i That is, others as wicked as they.
k They that feared God, and worshipped him according as he had appointed.
l Where iustice is delayed, there sinne reigneth.
m Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 17.
n Reade Chap. 3. 22.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or refuse: or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is by prosperitie or aduersitie, whome God doeth fauour or hate: for hee sendeth them as well to the wicked as to the godly.
b In outward things, as riches, and pouertie, sickenesse and health, there is no difference betweene the godly and the wicked: but the difference is, that the godly are assured by faith of Gods fauor & assistance.
c He noteth the Epicures and carnall men, which made their belly their God, and had no pleasure but in this life, wishing rather to be an abiect, and vile person in this life, then a man of authoritie, and so to die, which is meant by the dog and lyon.
d They flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance.
e Reioyce, be merry, and spare for no cost, thus speake the wicked belly gods. ‡ Ebr. regard the life. Chap. 5. 18. f Thus the worldling say to proue that all things are lawfull for them, and attribute that to chance and fortune, which is done by the prouidence of God.

12 For neither doeth man knowe his s time, but as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the children of men snared in the euill time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisedome vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A little citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compassed it about, and builded forts against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and hee deliuered the citie by his wisedome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then sayde I, Better is wisedome then strength: yet the wisedome of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnesse, then the crie of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisedome then weapons of warre: but one sinner destroieth much good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisedome. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot bee charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

DEad flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the ointment of the apothecarie: so doth a little follie him that is in estimation for wisedome, and for glory.

2 The heart of a [a] wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart taileth, and he [b] telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the [c] spirit of him that ruleth rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenesse pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euill that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an [d] errour that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the [e] rich set in the low place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the grounde.

8 * He that diggeth a pit, shal fal into it, and hee that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 He that remooueth stones, shall hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall be in danger thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, hee must then put to more [f] strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisedome.

11 If the serpent bite, when hee is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuoure himselfe.

13 The beginning of the wordes of his mouth is foolishnesse; and the latter ende of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth words, saying, Man knoweth not what shall bee: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the [g] city.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a [h] childe, and thy Princes [i] eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O lande, when thy king is the sonne [k] of Nobles, and thy Princes eate in time, for strength and not for drunkennesse.

18 By slouthfulnesse the roofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idlenesse of the handes the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the [l] foule of the heauen shall carie the voice, and that which hath wings, shall declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vainitie. 9 God will iudge all.

CAst thy bread vpon the [a] waters: for after many dayes thou shalt finde it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, and also to eight: for thou knowest not what euill shall be vpon the earth.

3 If the [b] clouds be full, they will powre forth raine vpon the earth: and if the [c] tree doe fall toward the South, or towarde the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shall be.

4 He that obserueth the [d] winde, shal not sowe, and hee that regardeth the cloudes, shall not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is the way of the spirite, nor howe the bones doe growe in the wombe of her that is with childe: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the euening let not thine hand [e] rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this, or [f] that, or whether both shall be alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet hee shall remember the dayes of [g] darknesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

9 [h] Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all these things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away [i] griefe out of thine heart, and cause euill [k] to depart from thy flesh: for childhoode and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in feeling him and keeping his commandements.

a That is, be liberall to the poore, & though it seeme to be as a thing ventured on the sea, yet it shall bring thee profite.

b As the clouds that are full, powre out raine, so the rich that haue abundance must distribute it liberally.

c He exhorteth to be liberall, while wee liue: for after, there is no power.

3 When the [b] keepers of the house shall tremble, and the [c] strong men shall bowe themselues, and the [d] grinders shall ceasse, because they are fewe, and they ware darke that [e] looke out by the windowes:

4 And the [f] doores shalbe shut without by the base sound of the [g] grinding, and hee shall rise vp at the voyce of the [h] bird: and all the [i] daughters of singing shalbe abased.

5 Also they shall be afraide of the [k] high thing, and feare shall be in [l] the way, and the almond tree shall [m] flourish, and the [n] grasse-hopper shall bee a burden, and concupiscence shalbe driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streete.

6 Whiles the [o] siluer coarde is not lengthened, nor the golden [p] ewer broken, nor the [q] pitcher broken at the [r] well, nor the [s] wheele broken at the [t] cisterne:

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the [u] spirite returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, sayth the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more hee taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, and searched forth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to finde out pleasant wordes, and an vpright writing, euen the words of trueth.

11 The words of the wise are like goads, and like nayles [x] fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one [y] pastour.

12 And of other things besides these, my sonne, take thou heede: for there is none ende in making many [z] bookes, and much reading is a wearinesse of the flesh.

13 Let vs heare the end of al: Feare God and keepe his commaundements: for this is the whole duetie of man.

14 For God will bring euery worke vnto iudgement, with euery secret thing, whether he it good or euil.

a Before thou come to continuall miserie: for when the clouds remaine after the raine, mans griefe is increased.
b The hands, which keepe the body.
c The legges.
d The teeth.
e The eyes.
f The lippes, or mouth.
g When the chawes shall scarce open and not be able to chewe any more.
h He shall not be able to sleepe.
i That is, the winde pipes, or the eares shall be deafe, and not able to heare singing.
k To climbe high because of their weakenesse, or they stoupe downe, as though they were afraid lest any thing should hit them.
l They shall tremble as they goe, as though they were afraid.
m Their head shall be as white as the blossoms of an almond tree.
n They shall be able to beare nothing.

u The soule incontinently goeth either to ioy or torment, and sleepeth not as the wicked imagine.
x Which are well applied by the ministers, whome he calleth masters.
y That is, by God.
z These things cannot be comprehended in bookes, or learned by studie, but God must instruct thy heart that thou mayest onely know that wisedome is the true felicitie, and the way thereunto is to feare God.

‡ Ebr. a song of songs: so called, because it is the cheifest of those 1005. which Salomon made, as is mentioned, 1. King. 4. 32.

An ‡ excellent song which was Salomons.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this Song Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfect loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon & king of peace, and the faithful soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appoynted to be his spouse, holy, chaste, and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridgrome towarde the bride, and his great and excellent benefits wherewith he doth enrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her deserunings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spirituall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domesticall enemies that persecute the Church.

a This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithfull soule inflamed with desire of Christ, whom she loueth.
b The feeling of thy great benefites.
c They that are pure in heart and conuersation.
d The faithfull confesse that they cannot come to Christ, except they be drawen.
e Meaning the secret ioy that is not knowen to the world.

LEt [a] him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the [b] sauour of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the [c] virgins loue thee.

3 [d] Draw me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought mee into his [e] chambers: we will reioyce and be glad in thee: wee will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous doe loue thee.

4 I am [f] blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tents of [g] Kedar, and as the [h] curtaines of Salomon.

5 Regard ye me not because I am [i] black: for the [k] sunne hath looked vpon mee. The [l] sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I [m] kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shewe me, [n] O thou, whome my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I be as thee that turneth aside to the flocks of [o] thy companions?

f The Church confesseth her spots and sinne, but hath confidence in the fauour of Christ.
g Kedar was Ishmaels sonne, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.
h Which within were all set with precious stones and iewels.
i Consider not the Church by the outward appearance.
k The corruption of nature through sinne, and afflictions.
l Mine owne brethren, which should haue most fauoured me.
m She confesseth her owne negligence.
n The spouse feeling her fault, fleeth to her husband onely for succour.
o Whom thou hast called to the dignitie of pastours, and they set foorth their owne dreames in stead of thy doctrine.

p Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to goe to the pastours to learne.
q For thy spirituall beautie and excellencie, there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee.
r The Church reioyceth that she is admitted to the companie of Christ.
f He shalbe most deare vnto me.
t Christ accepteth his Church, and commendeth her beautie.
u That is, the heart of the faithfull wherein Christ dwelleth by his spirite.

7 p If thou know not, O thou the fairest among women, get thee forth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kiddes by the tents of the shepheards.
8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the q charets of Pharaoh.
9 Thy cheekes are comely with rowes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.
10 We will make thee borders of golde with studdes of siluer.
11 r Whiles the King was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.
12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my f breastes.
13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of Camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.
14 My loue, beholde, thou art t faire: beholde, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doues.
15 My welbeloued, behold, thou art faire and pleasant: also our u bed is greene:
16 The beames of our house are cedars, our rafters are of firre.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the doue, 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the rose of the field, and the lilie of the valleis.
2 Like a lilie among the thornes, so is my a loue among the daughters.
3 b Like the apple tree among the trees of the forrest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I desire, and sate downe: and his fruit was sweet vnto my mouth.
4 Hee brought mee into the wine seller, and loue was his banner ouer me.
5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.
6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doth embrace me.
7 c I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the fielde, that yee stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntill she please.
8 d It is the voyce of my welbeloued: beholde, hee commeth leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hilles.
9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: loe, hee e standeth behinde our wall, looking forth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the f grates.
10 My welbeloued spake and sayde vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.
11 For behold, g winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.
12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.
13 The figge tree hath brought forth her yong figges: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a sauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.
14 My doue, that art in the h holes of the rocke, in the secret places of the staires, shew me thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.
15 Take vs the foxes, the i little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.
16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies, 17 Vntill the day breake, and the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, and be like a k roe, or a young hart vpon the mountaines of Bether.

a Thus Christ preferreth his Church aboue all other things.
b The spouse testifieth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faileth her, and therefore she desireth to be comforted, and felt it.
c Christ chargeth them which haue to do in the Church, as it were by a solemne othe, that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.
d This is spoken of Christ, who tooke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.
e Forasmuch as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh.
f So that we can not haue full knowledge of him in this life.
g That is, sinne and errour is driuen backe by the comming of Christ, which is heere described by the spring time, when all things flourish.
h Thou that are ashamed of thy sinnes, come and shewe thy selfe vnto me.
i Suppresse the heretikes whiles they are young, that is, when they beginne to shewe their malice, and destroy the vine of the Lord.
k The Church desireth Christ to bee most readie to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church desireth to be ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernesse.

IN my bed by a night I sought him that my soule loued: I sought him, but I found him not.
2 I will rise therefore now, and goe about in the citie, by the streetes and by the open places, and will b seeke him that my soule loueth: I sought him, but I found him not.
3 The c watchmen that went about the citie, found me: to whome I sayde, Haue you seene him whom my soule loueth?
4 When I had past a litle from them, then I found him whom my soule loued: I tooke holde on him and left him not, till I had brought him vnto my mothers house vnto the chamber of her that conceiued me.
5 d I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the fielde, that yee stirre not vp, nor waken my loue vntill she please.
6 Who is shee that commeth vp out of the e wildernesse like pillars of smoke perfumed with myrrhe and incense, and with all the ‡ spices of the merchant?
7 Behold his f bed, which is Salomons: threescore strong men are round about it, of the valiant men of Israel.
8 They all handle the sword, and are expert in warre, euery one hath his sworde vpon his thigh for the feare g by night.
9 King Salomon made himselfe a ‖ palace of the trees of Lebanon.
10 He made the pillars thereof of siluer, and the pauement thereof of golde, the hangings thereof of purple, whose middes was paued with the loue of the daughters of Ierusalem.
11 Come forth, ye h daughters of Zion, and beholde the King Salomon with the i crowne, wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

a The Church by night, that is, in troubles, seeketh to Christ, but is not incontinently heard.
b Shewing, that although we be not heard at the first, yet we must still continue in prayer till wee feele comfort.
c Which declareth, that wee must seeke vnto all, of whome we hope to haue any succour.
d Reade Chap. 2.7.
e This is referred to the Church of Israel, which was led by the wildernesse fortie yeeres.
‡ Ebr. powder.
f By the bed is meant the Temple, which Salomon made.
g He alludeth to the watch, which kept the Temple.
‖ Or, charet.
h All ye that are of the number of the faithfull.
i Christ become man, was crowned by the loue of God with the glorious crowne of his diuinitie.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The praises of the Church. 7 She is without blemish in his sight. 9 The loue of Christ towards her.

BEhold, thou art a faire, my loue: behold, thou art faire: thine eyes are like the doues: among thy locks * thine haire is a Because Christ delighteth in his Church, he commendeth all that is in her.

like the [b] flocke of goats, which looke downe from the mountaines of Gilead.

2 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe in good order, which go vp from the washing: which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

3 Thy lips are like a threed of scarlet, and thy talke is comely: thy temples are within thy lockes, as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the towre of Dauid built for defence: a thousande shieldes hang therein, and all the targets of the strong men.

5 Thy two [c] breastes are as two young roes that are twinnes, feeding among the lilies.

6 Until the day breake, & the shadowes flee away, I will goe into the mountaine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incense.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no spot in thee.

8 [d] Come with mee from Lebanon, my spouse, euen with mee from Lebanon, and looke from the toppe of Amanah, from the toppe of Shenir and Hermon, from the dennes of the lyons and from the mountaines of the leopards.

9 [e] Sister, my spouse, thou hast wounded mine heart: thou hast wounded mine heart with one of thine [f] eyes, and with a chaine of thy necke.

10 How sister, my spouse, how faire is thy loue? howe much better is thy loue then wine? and the sauour of thine ointments then all spices?

11 Thy [g] lippes, my spouse, drop as honie combes: honie and milke are vnder thy tongue, and the sauour of thy garments is as the sauour of Lebanon.

12 My sister my spouse is as a garden inclosed, as a spring shut vp, and a fountaine sealed vp.

13 Thy plants are as an orchard of pomegranates with sweete fruites, as camphire, spikenard, 14 Euen spikenard, and saffron, calamus, and cinamom, with all the trees of incense, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chiefe spices.

15 [h] O fountaine of the gardens, O well of liuing waters, and the springs of Lebanon.

16 Arise, O [i] North, and come O South, and blow on my garden that the spices thereof may flow out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eate his pleasant fruite.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ calleth hu Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 3 She confesseth her nakednesse. 10 She praiseth Christ her husband.

I Am come into my [a] garden, my sister, my spouse: I gathered my myrrhe with my spice: I ate mine honie combe with mine honie: I dranke my wine with my milke: eate, O friends, drinke, and make you merie, O welbeloued.

2 [b] I sleepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, saying, Open vnto mee, my sister, my loue, my doue, my vndefiled: for mine head is full of dewe, and my lockes with the drops of the [c] night.

3 I haue put off my [d] coate, howe shall I put it on? I haue washed my feete, howe shall I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the doore, and ‡ mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I rose vp to open to my welbeloued, and mine hands did droppe downe myrrhe, and my [e] fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handles of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone and past: mine heart was gone when hee did speake: I sought him, but I could not find him: I called him, but he answered me not.

7 The [f] watchmen that went about the citie, found me: they smote me and wounded mee: the watchmen of the walles tooke away my vaile from me.

8 I charge you, [g] O daughters of Ierusalem, if yee finde my welbeloued, that you tell him that I am sicke of loue.

9 [h] O the fairest among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another louer, that thou doest so charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddie, the chiefest of ten thousand.

11 His [i] head is as fine gold, his locks curled, and blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like doues vpon the riuers of waters, which are washed with milke, and remaine by the full vessels.

13 His cheekes are as a bed of spices, and as sweete flowres, and his lippes like lilies dropping downe pure myrrhe.

14 His hands as rings of golde set with the ‡ chrysolite, his belly like white yuorie couered with Saphires.

15 His legges are as pillars of marble set vpon sockets of fine golde: his countenance as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16 His mouth is as sweete things, and hee is wholly delectable: this is my welbeloued, and this is my louer, O daughters of Ierusalem.

17 [k] O the fairest among women, whither is thy welbeloued gone? whither is thy welbeloued turned aside, that wee may seeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

2 The Church assureth her selfe of the loue of Christ. 3 The praises of the Church. 8 She is but one and vndefiled.

MY welbeloued is gone downe into his [a] garden to the beds of spices, to feede in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

2 I am my welbeloueds, and my welbeloued is mine, who feedeth among the lilies.

3 Thou art beautifull, my loue, as [b] Tirzah, comely as Ierusalem, terrible as an armie with banners.

4 [c] Turne away thine eyes from mee: for they ouercome me: * thine haire is like a flocke of goates, which looke downe from Gilead.

5 Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe, which goe vp from the washing, which euery one bring out twinnes, and none is barren among them.

b He hath respect to the multitude of the faithfull, which are many in number.

c Wherein are knowledge, and zeale, two precious iewels.

d Christ promiseth his Church to call his faithfull from all the corners of the world.

e Christ calleth his Church sister in respect that he had taken the flesh of man.

f In that he made his Church beautifull and rich, he loued his giftes in her.

g Because of thy confession and thanksgiuing.

h The Church confesseth that all her glory, and beautie commeth of Christ, who is the fountaine of all grace.

i She desireth Christ to comfort her, and to powre the graces of his Spirit vpon her, which Spirit is meant by the North and South winde.

a The garden signifieth the kingdome of Christ, where he prepareth the banket for his elect.

b The spouse saith that she is troubled with the cares of worldly things, which is meant by sleeping.

c Declaring the long patience of the Lord toward sinners.

d The spouse confesseth her nakednesse, and that of her selfe she hath nothing: or seeing that she is once made cleane, she promiseth not to defile her selfe againe.

‡ Ebr. my bowels were mooued towards him.

e The spouse which should be annoynted of Christ, shall not finde him if she thinke to anoynt him with her good workes.

f These are the false teachers, which wound the conscience with their traditions.

g She asketh of them which are godly (forasmuch as the Iewe and saluation should come out of Zion & Ierusalem) that they should direct hir to Christ.

h Thus say they of Ierusalem.

i She describeth Christ, to be of perfite beautie and comelinesse.

‡ Ebr. Tarshish.

k Hearing of the excellencie of Christ the faithfull desire to know how to finde him.

b Which was a faire and strong citie, 1. King. 14. 17.

c This declareth the exceeding loue of Christ toward his Church. Chap. 4. 1.

6 Thy temples are within thy locks as a piece of a pomegranate.

7 There are [d] threescore Queenes and fourescore concubines, and of the damsels without number.

8 But my doue is alone, and my vndefiled, shee is the onely daughter of her mother, and shee is deare to her that bare her: the daughters haue seene her and counted her blessed: euen the Queenes and the concubines, and they haue praised her.

9 [e] Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as the sunne, terrible as an armie with banners?

10 I went downe to the [f] garden of nuts, to see the fruits of the valley, to see if [g] the vine budded, and if the pomegranates flourished.

11 [g] I knewe nothing, my soule set mee [h] as the charets of my noble people.

12 Returne, returne, O Shulamite, returne: returne that wee may beholde thee. What shall you see in the Shulamite, but as the company of an armie?

d Meaning, that the giftes are infinite which Christ giueth to his Church: or that his faithful are many in number.

e He sheweth that the beginning of ỹ Church was small, but that it grewe vp to a great multitude.

f He went down into the ly nagogue to see what fruits came of the Lawe and the prophets.

g I foũd nothing but rebellion.

h I ran as swift as the nobles of my people in their charets.

i O ye people of Ierusalem: for Ierusalem was called Shalem, which signifieth peace.

CHAP. VII.

1 The beautie of the Church in al her members. 10 She is assured of Christs loue toward her.

HOwe beautifull are thy [a] goings with shoes, O princes daughter! the ioyntes of thy thighes are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workeman.

2 Thy nauel is as a round cup that wanteth not licour: thy belley is as an heape of wheate compassed about with lilies.

3 [b] Thy two breastes are as two yong roes that are twinnes.

4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorye: thine eyes are like the fish pooles in Heshbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the towre of Lebanon, that looketh toward Damascus.

5 Thine heade vpon thee is as skarlet, and the busy of thine head like purple: the king is tyed ‖in the‖ rafters.

6 How faire art thou, and howe pleasant art thou, O my loue, in pleasures!

7 This thy stature is like a palme tree, and thy breasts like clusters.

8 I said, I wil go vp into the palme tree, I will take hold of her boughs: thy breasts shall nowe bee like the clusters of the vine: and the sauour of thy nose like apples,

9 And the roofe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth straight to my welbeloued, and causeth the lips of the ancient to speake.

10 [d] I am my welbeloueds, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forth into the field: let vs remaine in the villages.

12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs see if the [e] vine flourish, whether it hath budded the small grape, or whether the pomegranates flourish: there will I giue thee my loue.

13 The mandrakes haue giuen a smell, and in our gates are all sweete things, new and olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

2 The Church will be taught by Christ. 3 She is upholden by him. 6 The vehement loue wherewith Christ loueth her. 11 Shee is the vine that bringeth foorth fruite to the spirituall Salomon, which is Iesus Christ.

OH [a] that thou werest as my brother that sucked the breastes of my mother: I would finde thee without, I would kisse thee, then they should not dispise ‖thee.

2 I will lead thee and bring thee into my mothers house: there thou shalt teach mee: and I will cause thee to drinke spiced wine, and new wine of the pomegranate.

3 [b] His left hande shall bee vnder mine head, and his right hand shall imbrace mee.

4 [c] I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, that you stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntil she please.

5 (Who is this that commeth vp out of the wildernesse, leaning vpon her welbeloued?) I rayled thee vp vnder an apple tree: there thy mother conceiued thee: there she conceiued that bare thee.

6 [d] Set me as a seale on thine heart, & as a signet vpõ thine arme: for loue is strong as death: iealousie is cruel as ỹ graue: the coles thereof are fierie coles, & a vehement flame.

7 Much water cannot quench loue, neither can the floodes drowne it: If a man should giue all the substance of his house for loue, they would greatly contemne it.

8 [e] We haue a little sister, and she hath no breastes: what shall wee doe for our sister when she shall be spoken for?

9 [f] If she be a wall, we will build vpon her a siluer palace: and if she be a doore, we will keepe her in with boardes of cedar.

10 [g] I am a wall, and my breastes are as towers: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.

11 [h] Salomon had a vine in Baal-hamon: hee gaue the vineyard vnto keepers: euery one bringeth for the fruite thereof a thousand pieces of siluer.

12 But my vineyarde which is mine, is before mee: to thee, O Salomon, appertaineth a thousand pieces of siluer, and two hundreth to them that keepe the fruite thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the [i] gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: cause me to heare it.

14 O my welbeloued, [k] flee away, and be like vnto the roe, or to the yong heart vpon the mountaines of spices.

Isaiah.

THE ARGVMENT.

GOd according to his promise, Deut. 18.15. that hee would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not only to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a speciall reuelation, but also to interprete & declare the Lawe, and to apply particularly the doctrine contained briefly therein, to the vtilitie and profite of thoſe, to whome they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and ſtate of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had reſpect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: Firſt to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: ſecondly, to the promiſes and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the couenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauiour Ieſus Chriſt, who is the ende of the Lawe. Whereunto they neither added nor diminiſhed, but faithfully expounded the ſenſe and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderſtanding of things, they applyed the promiſes particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and alſo denounced the menaces againſt the enemies of the ſame: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to aſſure the Church of their ſafegarde by the deſtruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearely intreated it then Moſes, and ſet foorth more liuely Ieſus Chriſt, in whome this couenant of reconciliation was made. In all theſe things Iſaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was moſt diligent to ſet out the ſame, with moſt vehement admonitions, reprehenſions, and conſolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he ſaw that the diſeaſe of the people required. He declareth alſo many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promiſe of the Meſſiah, his office, and his kingdome. Alſo of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, & their vnion with the Iewes. Which are as moſt principal poynts contained in this booke, & a gathering of his Sermons that he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had ſtand vpon the Temple doore (for the manner of the Prophets was to ſet vp the ſumme of their doctrine for certaine dayes, that the people might the better marke it, as Iſai. 8.1. and Habak. 2.2.) the Prieſts tooke it down and reſerued it among their regiſters: and ſo by Gods prouidence theſe bookes were preſerued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his perſon and time, he was of the Kings ſtocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the beſt writers agree) and prophecied more then 64. yeres, from the time of Vzziah vnto the raigne of Manaſſeh, whoſe father in lawe hee was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whome hee was put to death. And in reading of the prophets this one thing among ỹ other is to be obſerued, that they ſpeake of things to come, as though they were now paſt, becauſe of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to paſſe, becauſe God had ordeined them in his ſecret counſell, and ſo reuealed them to his Prophets.

CHAP. 1.

2 Iſaiah reproueth the Iewes of their ingratitude & ſtubburnnes, that neither for benefits nor puniſhment would amend. 11 He ſheweth why their ſacrifices are reiected, and wherein Gods true ſeruice ſtandeth. 24 He prophecieth of the deſtruction of Ieruſalem, 25 And of the reſtitution thereof.

a That is, a reuelation, or prophecie, which was one of the two meanes, whereby God declared himſelfe to his ſeruants in old time, as Numb 12.6. and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1. Sam. 9.9.

3 The [f] Oxe knoweth his owner, and the Aſſe his maſters crib, but Iſrael hath not knowen: my people hath not vnderſtood.

4 Ah, ſinful nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a ſeede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forſaken the Lord: they haue prouoked the [h] holy one of Iſrael to anger: they are gone backeward.

5 Wherefore ſhould ye bee [i] ſmitten any more? for ye fall away more and more: the whole [k] head is ſicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

Micah 4.1.

a The decree & ordinance of God, touching the reſtauration of the Church, which is chiefly meant of the time of Chriſt.

b In an euident place to be ſeene and diſcerned.

c When ✝ kingdome of Chriſt ſhall be enlarged by the preaching of the doctrine. Here alſo is declared the zeale of the children of God, when they are called,

d Alluding to mount Zion, where the viſible church then was. Micah.4.2.

e Meaning, the whole doctrine of Saluation.

f This was accompliſhed, when the Goſpell was firſt preached in Ieruſalem, and from thence went through all the worlde.

g The Lorde, which is Chriſt, ſhall haue all power giuen him.

h That they may acknowledge their ſinnes and turne to him.

i Hee ſheweth the fruite of the peace, which the Goſpell ſhould bring: to wit, that men ſhoulde doe good one to another, whereas before they were enemies.

k Hee ſpeaketh not againſt the vſe of weapons and lawfull warre, but ſheweth howe the hearts of the godly ſhalbe affected one toward another: which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe in this life, but ſhall be perfited, when wee are ioyned with our head Chriſt Ieſus.

l Seeing the Gentiles will bee ſo readie, make you haſte and ſhewe them the way to worſhippe God.

m The Prophet ſeeing the ſmall hope, that the Iewes would conuert, complayneth to God, as though hee had vtterly forſaken them for their ſinnes.

n Full of the corruptions that reigned chiefelie in the Eaſt partes, o They altogether giue themſelues to the faſhions of other nations.

p The Prophet firſt condemned their ſuperſtition and idolatrie: next their couetouſneſſe, and thirdly, their vaine truſt in worldly meanes.

t Your ſacrifices offred in the new moones and feaſtes: he condemneth hereby hypocrites, which thinke to pleaſe God with ceremonies, and they themſelues are voyde of faith & mercie.

x He ſheweth that where men be giuen to auarice, deceite, crueltie and extortion, which is meant by blood, there God will ſhew his anger, and not accept them, though they ſeeme neuer ſo holy, as Chap. 59.3.

y By this outward waſhing, he meaneth the ſpirituall: exhorting the Iewes to repent and amend their liues.

z This kinde of reaſoning, by the ſecond table, the Scriptures vſe in many places againſt the hypocrites, who pretend moſt holines and religion in worde, but when their charitie & loue toward their brethren ſhould appeare, they declare that they haue neither faith nor religion.

a To know if I do accuſe you without cauſe.

b Leſt ſinners ſhouldepretend any rigour on Gods part, hee onely willeth them to be pure in heart, and he will forgiue all their ſinnes, were they neuer ſo manie or great.

c He ſheweth that whatſoeuer aduerſitie man endureth, it ought to be attributed to his owne incredulitie and diſobedience.

d That is, Ieruſalem, which had promiſed fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her husband.

e Giuen to couetouſneſſe and extortion, which he ſignified before by blood, verſ. 15.

f Whatſoeuer was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou haue an outward ſhew.

g That is, they maintaine the wicked and the extortioners, and not onely doe not puniſh them, but are themſelues ſuch.

h When God wil ſhewe himſelfe mercifull to his Church, he calleth himſelfe, The holy one of Iſrael: but when he hath to doe with his enemies, he is called Mightie, as againſt whome no power is able to reſiſt.

i I will take vengeance of mine aduerſaries the Iewes, and ſo ſatisfie my deſire by puniſhing them. Which thing yet hee doeth with a griefe, becauſe of his couenant.

k Leſt the faithfull among them ſhould bee ouercome with this threatning, hee addeth this conſolation.

l It is onely the worke of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing hee doeth becauſe of his promiſe, made concerning the ſaluation of his Church.

m By iuſtice is meant Gods faithful promiſe, which is the cauſe of the deliuerance of his Church.

which their owne fingers haue made.

9 And a man bowed himselfe, & a man humbled himselfe: therefore r spare them not.

10 Enter into the rocke, and hide thee in the dust from before the feare of the Lorde, and from the glory of his maiestie.

11 The hie looke of man shalbe humbled, and the loftinesse of men shalbe abased, and the Lord onely shalbe exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the Lorde of hostes is vpon all the proude & hautie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it shall bee made lowe.

13 Euen vpon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the okes of Bashan,

14 And vpon all the high t mountaines, and vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp,

15 And vpon euery high tower, and vpon euery strong wall,

16 And vpon u all the ships of Tarshish, and vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the hautinesse of men shall bee brought lowe, and the loftinesse of men shal be abased, and the Lorde shall onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles wil he vtterly destroy.

19 Then they shall goe *into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie, when he shal arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his siluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made themselues to worshippe them) x to the mowles, and to the backes,

21 To goe into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes, from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie, when hee shall rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you frō the man whose y breath is in his nostrels: for wherein is hee to bee esteemed?

q He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superstitions.

r Thus the Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glory, and that he might feare them with Gods iudgement.

s Meaning, as soone as God shall beginne to execute his iudgements.

t By high trees and mountaines are meant them that are proude, and loftie, and thinke themselues most strong in this world.

u He condemneth their vaine cōfidence, which they had in strong holdes, & in their rich marchandise, which brought in vaine pleasures, wherewith mens mindes became effeminate. Hose. 10.8. luke 23.30. reuel. 6.16. and 9.6.

x They shal cast them into most vile and filthie places, when they perceiue that they are not able to helpe them.

y Cast off your vaine confidence of man, whose life is so fraile, that if his nose be stopped, he is dead, and consider that ye haue to doe with God.

CHAP. III.

1 For the sinne of the people God will take away the wise men, and giue them foolish princes. 14 The couetousnesse of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

a Because they trusted in their abundance and prosperitie, he sheweth that they should be taken from them.

FOr loe, the Lord God of hostes will take awap from Jerusalem & from Judah the stap a and the strength: euen all the stap of bread, and all the stap of water,

2 The strong man, & the man of warre, b the iudge & the Prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counseller, and the cunning artificer, and c the eloquent man.

b The temporal gouernour and the minister.

4 And I wil appoint d children to be their princes, and babes shal rule ouer them.

5 The people shall be e oppressed one of another, and euery one by his neighbour: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

c By these hee meaneth that God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselues.

d Not onely in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge and strength.

e For lacke of good regiment and order.

6 When euery one shal f take hold of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt bee our prince, & let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In that day he shall g sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Doubtlesse Jerusalem is fallen, & Judah is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes are against the Lorde, to prouoke the eies of his glory.

9 The h triall of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hide them not. Woe be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselues.

10 i Say ye, Surely it shall be wel with the iust: for they shall eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it shall be euill with him: for the rewarde of his hands shal be giuen him.

12 k Children are extortioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: O my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, and destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the l Ancients of his people and the princes thereof: for yee haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoile of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue yee to doe, that yee beate my people to pieces, m and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lorde also saieth, n Because the daughters of Zion are hautie, and walke with o stretched out neckes, and with p wandering eyes, walking and q mincing as they goe, and making a r tinkeling with their feete, 17 Therfore shal s Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lord shall discouer their secret partes.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the calles, and the round tires,

19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the slops, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparell and the vailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,

23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen,

f He sheweth that this plague shalbe so horrible, that contrarie to the common maner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shall be found able or willing to be their gouernour.

g Feare shal rather cause him to forsweare himselfe, then to take such a dangerous charge vpon him.

h When God shall examine their deedes, whereupon they now set an impudent face, hee shall finde the marke of their impietie in their forehead.

i Be ye that are godly assured that God wil defend you in the middes of these troubles.

k Because the wicked people were more addict to their princes, then to the commandements of God, he sheweth that he would giue them such princes, by whome they should haue no helpe, but that should be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fooles and effeminate.

l Meaning, that the rulers and gouernours had destroyed his Church, and not preserued it, according to their duetie.

m That is, yee shewe all cruelitie against them.

n Hee menaceth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue themselues to all wantonnesse and dissolution.

o Which declared their pride.

p As a signe, that they were not chaste.

q Which shewed their wantonnesse.

r They delited then in slippers that did creake, or had little plates sowed vpon them, which tinkeled as they went.

and

and the hoods, and the [f] lames.

24 And in stead of sweete sauour there shalbe stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, and in stead of diessing of the haire, baldnesse, & in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sackecloth, and burning in stead of beautie.

25 Thy men [t] shal fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shal her gates mourne and lament, and she being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

f In rehearsing all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnes and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.

t Meaning, that God will not only punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffered this dissolutenesse, and also the common weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The small remnant of men after the destruction of Jerusalem. 2 The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

[a] When God shall execute this vengeance, there shall not be one man found to be the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly shamefastnesse, shall seeke vnto men, and offer themselues to any condition.

[b] Be thou our husband, and let vs be called thy wiues.

[c] For so they thought it, to be without an head and husband.

[d] He comforteth the Church in this desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces should bee as plentifull towarde the faithfull, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45. 8. Some by the budde of the Lord meane Christ.

[e] He alludeth to the booke of life, whereof reade Exod. 32. 32: meaning Gods secrete counsell, wherein his elect are predestinate to life everlasting.

[f] That is, the crueltie, extortion, auarice, and all wickednesse.

[g] When things shall be redressed, that were amisse.

[h] He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13. 21: meaning, that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in euery place.

[i] The faithfull are called the glorie of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them.

[k] God promiseth to be the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

[a] The Prophet by this song doeth set before the peoples eyes their ingratitude, & Gods mercy.

[b] That is, to God. Jerem. 2. 21. matth. 21. 33.

[c] Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentifull and abundant.

[d] He spared no diligence nor cost.

[e] In the seuenth verse he declareth what they were

[f] He maketh them iudges in their owne cause, forasmuch as it was euident that they were the cause of their owne ruine.

[g] I will take no more care for it: meaning that he would take from them his worde and ministers, and all other comforts, and send them contrary plagues.

[h] Iudgement & righteousnesse are true fruits of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruell oppressers there is no religion.

[i] Of them that are oppressed.

[k] To wit, for the poore to dwell in.

[l] I haue heard the complaint, and cry of the poore.

[m] Which containeth about ten pottels: so that euery acre should but yeeld one pottell.

[n] Which containeth an hundreth pottels.

[o] An Ephah conteineth ten pottels, and is in drie things as much as Bath is in liquors.

[p] That spare no paine nor diligence to followe their lustes.

[q] Which are neuer wearie of their rioting and excessiue pleasures: but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same.

[r] They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what ende he hath created them.

[s] That is, shall certainely goe: for so the Prophets vse to speake, as though the things which shall come to passe, were done already.

[t] Because they would not obey the word of God.

[u] Meaning, the graue shall swallowe vp them that shall die for hunger and thirst, and yet for all this great destruction it shall neuer be satiate.

x God comforteth the poore lambes of his Church, which had bene strangers in other countreyes, promising that they should dwell in those places again, whereof they had bene depriued by the fat and cruell tyrants.

17 Then shall x the lambes feede after their maner, and the strangers shall eate the desolate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Woe vnto them, that draw iniquitie with y cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, z Let him make speede: let him haiten his worke, that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holy one of Israel drawe neere and come, that wee may knowe it.

20 Woe vnto them that speake good of euill, a and euill of good, which put darkenesse for light, and light for darkenesse, that put bitter for sweete, and sweete for sowre.

21 Wo vnto them that are b wise in their owne eyes, & prudent in their owne sight.

22 Woe vnto them that are c mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousnes of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stubble, and as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their d roote shal be as rottennesse, and their bud shall rise vp like dust, because they haue cast off the Law of the Lord of hostes, & contemned the worde of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lorde kindled against his people, & he hath stretched out his e hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that the mountaines did tremble: and their carkeises were torne in the middes of the streetes, and for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And he will lift vp a signe f vnto the nations afarre, and will hisse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speede.

27 None shall s faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor h the latchet of his shoes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shall be sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hoofes shall be thought like flint, and his wheeles like a whirlewinde.

29 His roaring shalbe like a lyon, and he shall roare like lyons whelpes: they shall i roare, and lap holde of the pray: they shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shal roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if k they looke vnto the earth, beholde darkenesse, and sorowe, and the light shall be darkened in their l skie.

must continue, till they begin to feele them. f He will make the Babylonians to come against them at his becke, and to sight vnder his standerd. g They shall be prompt, and lustie to execute Gods vengeance. h The enemie shall haue none impediment. i Whereby is declared the cruelties of the enemie. k The Iewes shall finde no succour. l In the land of Iudah.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiestie. 9 Hee sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserued.

1 In the yeere of the death of king Vzziah, a I sawe also the Lorde sitting vpon an b high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower c partes thereof filled the Temple.

2 The d Seraphims stood vpon it: euery one had sixe wings: with twaine he couered his e face, and with twaine he couered his f feete, and with twaine he did e flie.

3 And one cried to another, & said, h Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts: the whole i world is full of his glory.

4 And the lintels of the doore cheekes k moued at the voyce of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I said, l Woe is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes haue seene the King and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flew one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote coale in his hand, which hee had taken from the m altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and said, Loe, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquitie shalbe taken away, & thy n sinne shalbe purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lorde, saying, Whom shall I send? and who shal goe for vs? Then I said, Here am I, send mee.

9 And hee saide, Goe, and say vnto this people, o Ye shal heare in deede, but ye shal not vnderstand: yee shall plainely see, and not perceiue.

10 Make p heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their hearts, and conuert, and be heale them.

11 Then said I, Lord, p how long? And hee answered, Vntill the cities bee wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be vtterly desolate, 12 And the Lorde haue removed men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the middes of the land.

a God sheweth not himselfe to man in his maiestie, but according as mans capacitie is able to comprehend him: that is, by visible signes, as Iohn Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the fourme of a doue.

b As a iudge ready to giue sentence.

c Of his garment, or of his throne.

d They were Angels, so called, because they were of a fierie colour, to signifie that they burnt in the loue of God, or were light as fire to execute his will.

e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightnesse of Gods glorie.

f Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightnesse of God in them.

g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods commaundement. h This oft repetition signifieth, that the holy Angels can not satisfie themselues in praysing God, to teache vs that in all our liues we should giue our selues to the continuall prayse of God. i His glory doeth not onely appeare in the heauens, but through all the worlde, and therefore all creatures are bound to prayse him. k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindenesse that should come vpon the Iewes. l Hee speaketh this for two causes: the one, because hee that was a mortall creature, and therefore had more neede to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not: and the other, because the more neere that man approcheth to God, the more doeth he knowe his owne sinne and corruption. m Of the burnt offerings, where the fire neuer went out. n This declareth that man can not render true obedience to God, till hee haue purged vs. o Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God will not immediatly take away his worde, but hee will cause it to bee preached to their condemnation, when as they will not learne thereby to obey his will, and be saued: hereby he exhorteth the ministers to doe their duetie, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened, Matth. 13.14. Actes 28 26. Roman. 11.8. p As hee was mooued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was hee touched with a charitable affection towarde the people.

q Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was reueiled to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophecie, that tenne Kings should come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah. r For the fewenesse they shall seeme to be eaten vp: yet they will alter flourish as a tree, which in winter looseth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in sommer is fresh and greene.

13 But yet in it shalbe q a tenth, and shal returne, and shalbe eaten vp as an elme 'or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast their leaues: so the holy seede shalbe the substance thereof.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 Isaiah comforteth the King. 14 Christ is promised.

2. King. 16. 5. ‖Or, Syria.

AND in the dayes of *Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, the sonne of Vzziah King of Iudah, Rezin the King of ‖ Aram a came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah king of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he could not ouercome it.

a To wit, the second time: for in the first battell Ahaz was ouercome.

2 And it was told the house of b Dauid, saying, Aram is ioyned with c Ephraim: therefore his heart was d mooued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are mooued by the winde.

b Meaning, the Kings house. c That is, Israel, because that tribe was the greatest, Gene. 48. 19. d For feare.

3 ¶ Then sayde the Lorde vnto Isaiah, Goe forth now to meete Ahaz (thou and e Shear-iashub thy sonne) at the end of the conduite of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers fielde, e That is to say, the rest shall returne: which name Isaiah gaue his sonne, to signifie, that the rest of the people should returne out of their captiuitie.

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, and be still: feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two tailes of these smoking f firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne:

f Which haue but a litle smoke, and shall quickely be quenched.

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsel against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe vp against Iudah, and let vs waken them vp, and make a breach therein for vs, and set a King in the middes thereof, euen the sonne of g Tabeal.

g Which was an Israelite, and as seemeth, enemie to the house of Dauid.

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shal not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within fiue and h threescore yeere, Ephraim shalbe destroyed from being a people.

h Counting from the fiue and twentieth yeere of the reigne of Vzziah, at what time Amos prophecied this thing, and nowe Isaiah confirmeth that the Israelites should be led into perpetuall captiuitie, which thing came to passe within twentie yeere after that Isaiah did this message.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lorde spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske i a signe for thee of the Lord thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz sayde, I will not aske, neither will I k tempt the Lord.

13 Then he sayde, Heare you nowe, O house of Dauid, Is it a small thing for you to grieue l men, that yee will also grieue my God?

i For the confirmation of this thing, that thine enemies shall bee destroyed and thou preserued. k Not to beleeue Gods word without a signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde and helpe of our infirmitie, is to rebell against him. l You thinke you haue to doe with men, when yee contemne Gods messengers: but it is God, against whom you bend your selues.

14 Therefore the Lorde m himselfe will giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgine shall conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shall call his name ‖ Immanu-el.

m Forasmuch as thou art vnworthie, the Lord for his owne promise sake will giue a signe, which shalbe, that Christ the Sauiour of his Church and the effect of all signes and miracles, shalbe reueiled. ‖Or, God with vs, which name can agree to none, but to him, that is both God and man.

15 n Butter and honie shal he eate, till he haue knowledge to refuse the euill, and to chuse the good.

n Meaning, that Christ is not onely God but man also, because he shall be nourished as other men, vntill the age of discretion.

16 For afore the o child shal haue knowledge to eschewe the euill, and to chuse the good, the lande, that thou abhorrest, shalbe forsaken of both her Kings.

o Not meaning Christ, but any childe: for before a child can come to the yeeres of discretion, the Kings of Samaria and Syria shalbe destroyed.

17 The Lorde shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, & vpon thy fathers house (the dayes that haue not come from the day that p Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the King of q Asshur.

p Since the time that the twelue Tribes rebelled vnder Roboam.

18 And in that day shall the Lorde hisse for the r flie that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, & for the Bee which is in the land of Asshur, q In whome thou hast put thy trust.

19 And they shall come and shal light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thorny places, and vpon all bushie s places.

r Meaning, the Egyptians: for by reason the countrey is hote and moyst, it is full of flies, as Assyria is full of Bees. s Signifying, that no place shall be free from them.

20 In that day shal the Lord shaue with a rasor that is hired, euen by them beyonde the riuer, by the King of Asshur, the head and the haire of the t feete, and it shall consume the beard.

t That is, that which is from the belly downeward: meaning, that he would destroy both great and small.

21 And in ꝑ same day shal a man u nourish a pong kowe, and two sheepe.

u He that before had a great number of cattell, shall bee content with one kowe and two sheepe.

22 And for the x abundance of milke that they shall giue, he shall eate butter: for butter and hony shall euery one eate, which is left within the land.

x The number of men shall be so small, that a fewe beastes shall bee able to nourish all abundantly.

23 And at the same day euery place, wherein shalbe a thousande vines, shalbe at a thousand pieces of siluer: so it shalbe for briers and for thornes.

24 With arrowes and with y bow shal one come thither: because al the land shalbe briers and thornes.

y As they that goe to seeke wilde beasts among the bushes.

25 But on z all the mountaines, which shalbe digged with the mattocke, there shal not come thither the feare of byers and thornes: but they shalbe for the sending out of bullocks, and for the treading of sheepe.

z The mountaines contrary to their wont, shalbe tilled by such as shall flee to them for succour.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Israel & Iudah by the Assyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The destruction of the Assyrians. 14 Christ the stone of stumbling to the wicked. 19 The word of God must be inquired at.

MOreouer, the Lord saide vnto me, Take thee a a great role, and write in it b with a mans penne, Make speede to the spoile: haste to the prey.

a That thou mayest write in great letters, to the intent it may be more easily read. b Meaning, after the common fashion, because all men might reade it.

c Because the thing was of great importance, he tooke these two witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Jeberechiah.

2 Then I tooke vnto me c faithfull witnesses to record, Uriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Jeberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the d Prophetesse, which conceiued, and bare a sonne. Then said the Lord to me, Call his name, ‖ Maher-shalalhash-baz.

4 For before e the child shal haue knowledge to crie, My father and my mother, f thee shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria, before the King of Assyria.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of g Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Now therefore behold, the Lord bringeth vp vpon them the waters of h the River mightie and great, euen the King of Assyria with all his glorie, and hee shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their banks,

8 And shall breake into Judah, and shall ouerflowe and passe through, and shal come vp to the i necke, and the stretching out of his wings shal fill the breadth of thy land, O k Immanu-el.

9 Gather together on heapes, O yee l people, and yee shall be broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shall bee broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shalbe brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lord spake thus to me in taking m of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say yee not, All n confederacie to all them, to whom this people saith a confederacie, neither feare you o their feare, nor be afraid of them.

13 pSanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, & let him be your dread,

14 And he shalbe as a qSanctuarie: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare, and as a net to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shall fall and shall be broken and shalbe snared and shalbe taken.

16 r Binde vp the testimonie: seale vp the Lawe among my disciples.

17 Therefore I wil waite vpon the Lord that hath hidde his face from the house of Jaakob, and I will looke for him.

18 Behold, I and the s children whom the Lorde hath giuen mee, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, t by the Lorde of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, & at the soothsayers, which whisper and murmure, u Shoulde not a people enquire at their God? from the x liuing to the dead?

20 To the y Lawe, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this worde: it is because there is no z light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted & famished, shall go to and fro in a it: and when he shall be hungry, he shall euerfreat himselfe, b and curse his king and his gods, and shall looke vpward.

22 And when he shal looke to the earth, behoulde trouble, and c darkenesse, heration and anguish, and he is driuen to darknesse.

f Meaning, them that were willing to heare & obey the word of God, whom the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to liue.

t This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, but by the wil of the Lord.

u Answere the wicked thus, Should not Gods people seeke succour only at him?

x That is, Will they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan? y Seeke remedy in the word of God where his will is declared. z They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blind. a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grieuously offended God. b In whome afore they put their trust. c They shall thinke that heauen and earth and all creatures are bent against them to trouble them.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles, 6 A prophecie of Christ, 14 The destruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

YEt a the darkenesse shall not bee accoyding to the affliction, b that it had when at the first hee touched lightly the lande of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, and afterwarde when he was more grieuous by the way of the sea beyond Jorden in Galile of c the Gentiles.

a He comforteth the Church, againe after these great threatnings, promising to restore them to great glory in Messiah.

b Wherewith Israel was punished first by Tiglath-pilesar, which was a light scourge in respect of that which they suffered afterward by Shalma-neser who caried the Israelites away captiues.

2 The people that d walked in darknes, haue seene a great e light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadow of death, vpon them hath the f light shined.

3 Thou hast g multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioy: they haue reioyced before thee according to h ioy in haruest, & as men reioyce when they deuide a spoyle.

4 For h the yoke of their burden, and the staffe of their shoulder, and the rod of their oppressour hast thou broken as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely euery battel of the warriour is c Whereas the Iewes and Gentiles dwelt together by reason of those twentie cities, which Salomon gaue to Hiram. d Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing, which should come to passe threescore yeeres after, as though it were nowe done. e Meaning, the comfort of their deliuerance. f This captiuitie and deliuerance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospell, Matth. 4.15,16. g Their number was greater when they went into captiuitie, then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their returne, Hag. 2.10. h Thou gauest them perfite ioy, by deliuering them and by destroying the tyrantes that had kept them in cruell bondage, as thou didst deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iudg. 7.22.

be destroyed vtterly. l To wit, yee that are enemies to the Church, as the Assyrians, Egyptians, Syrians, &c. m To encourage me that I shoulde not shrinke for the infidelitie of this people, and so neglect mine office. n Consent not yee that are godly, to the league and friendshippe that this people seeke with strangers and idolaters. o Meaning, that they shoulde not feare the thing that they feared, which haue no hope in God. p In putting your trust onely in him, in calling vpon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and fearing to doe any thing contrary to his will. q He will defende you which are his elect, and reiect all the rest, which is meant of Christ, against whom the Iewes should stumble and fall, Luke 2.34. Rom. 9.33. 1.pet. 2.7,8. r Though all forsake mee, yet ye that are mine, keepe my word sure sealed in your hearts.

i He speaketh of the deliuerance of his Church, which he hath deliuered miraculously from his enemies, but specially by the comming of Christ of whom he prophesieth in the next verse.

k The author of eternitie, and by whome the Church and euery member thereof shalbe preserued for euer, and haue immortall life.

! His singular loue and care for his elect.

m This is another prophesie against them of Samaria, which were mockers & contemners of Gods promises and menaces.

n We were but weake, when the enemie ouercame vs, but we will make our selues so strong, that we will neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings.

o Rezin king of Syria, who was in league with Israel, was slaine by the Assyrians, after whose death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were against Israel, which on the other side were assailed by the Philistims.

p Wickednes, as a bellowes, kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which consumeth all his obstinate enemies.

q Though there were no forreine enemie, yet they shall destroy one another.

r Their griedinesse shalbe insatiable, so that one brother shall eate vp another, as though he should eate his owne flesh.

with noyse, & with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shall bee i with burning and deuouring of fire.

6 For vnto vs a childe is borne, and vnto vs a Sonne is giuen: and the gouernement is vpon his shoulder, and he shall call his Name Woonderfull, Counseller, The mightie God, The euerlasting k Father, The prince of peace.

7 The increase of his gouernement and peace shall haue none end: he shall sit vpon the throne of Dauid, & vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to stablish it with iudgement and with iustice, from henceforth, euen for euer: the zeale of the Lorde of hostes will perfourme this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath sent a word into Iaakob, and it hath lighted vpon m Israel.

9 And all the people shall know, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and presumption of the heart,

10 The a bricks are fallen, but we will build it with hewen stones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheless, the Lorde will raise vp the aduersaries of o Rezin against him, and ioyne his enemies together, 12 Aram before and the Philistims behinde, and they shall deuoure Israel with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that smiteth them, neither doe they seeke the Lord of hostes.

14 Therfore will the Lord cut off frō Israel head & taile, branch & rush in one day.

15 The ancient and the honourable man, hee is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cause them to erre: and they that are led by them, are deuoured.

17 Therefore shal the Lord haue no pleasure in their young men, neither will he haue compassion of their fatherlesse and of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth speaketh follie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

18 For wickednesse p burneth as a fire: it deuoureth the briers and the thornes, and will kindle in the thicke places of the forest: and they shall mount vp like the lifting vp of smoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lorde of hostes shall the lande be darkened, and the people shalbe as the meate of the fire: no man shal q spare his brother.

20 And he shal snatch at the right hand, and be hungry: and he shall eate on the left hand, and shall not be satisfied: euery one shall eate the r flesh of his owne arme.

21 Manasseh, Ephraim: and Ephraim Manasseh, & they both shalbe against Iudah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAP. X.

1 Of the wicked lawmakers. 5 God will punish his people by the Assyrians and after destroy them. 21 The remnant of Israel shalbe saued.

WO vnto the that decree wicked decrees, and a write grieuous things,

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may bee their prey, and that they may spoyle the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye do now in the day of visitation, & of destruction, which shall come from b farre? to whom will ye flee for helpe? and where will ye leaue your c glory?

4 d Without mee euery one shall fall among them that are bound, and they shall fall downe among the slaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

5 ¶ O e Asshur, the rod of my wrath: & the staffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will send f him to a dissembling nation, and I will giue him a charge against the people of my wrath to take the spoyle and to take the pray, and to treade them vnder feete like the mire in the streete.

7 But he thinketh not so, neither doth his heart esteeme it so: but he imagineth to destroy and to cut off not a fewe nations.

8 For hee saith, Are not my princes altogether Kings?

9 Is not Calno as g Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 Like as mine hand hath found the kingdomes of the idoles, seeing their idoles were aboue Ierusalem, and aboue Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, so doe to Ierusalem, and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lorde hath accomplished h all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ierusalem, I will visite the fruit of the proude heart i of the King of Asshur, and his glorious and proud lookes, 13 Because hee sayde, by the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wisedome, because I am wise: therefore I haue removed the borders of the people, and haue spoyled their treasures, and haue pulled downe the inhabitantes like a valiant man.

14 And mine hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, so haue I gathered all the earth: & there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whisper.

15 Shall the k axe boast it selfe against him a Which write and pronounce a wicked sentence to oppresse the poore: meaning that the wicked magistrates, which were the chiefe cause of mischiefe, should be first punished.

b To wit, from Assyria.

c Your riches and authoritie, that they may be safe, and that ye may receiue them againe.

d Because they haue forsaken me, some shal go into captiuitie, and the rest shalbe slaine.

e God calleth for the Assyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

f That is, the Assyrians against the Iewes, which are but hypocrites: and in this sixt and seuenth verse is declared the difference of the worke of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and act: for Gods intention is to chastise them for their amendment, and the Assyrians purpose is to destroy them to enrich themselues: thus in respect of Gods iustice, it is Gods worke, but in respect of their owne malice, it is the worke of the deuill.

g Seeing that I haue ouercome, as well one citie as another, so that none could resist, shal Ierusalem be able to escape mine hands?

h When he hath sufficiently chastised his people (for he beginneth at his owne house) then will he burne the rods.

i Meaning of Sancherib.

k Here wee see that no creature is able to doe any thing but as God appoynteth him, and that they are al but his instruments to do his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as verse 6.

him

him that heweth therewith? or shall the sawe exalt it selfe against him that moueth it? as if the rod should lift vp it selfe against him that taketh it vp, or the staffe should exalt it selfe, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore shal the Lord God of hosts send among his fat men, leanenesse, and vnder his glorie he shall kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall bee as a [l] fire, and the holy one thereof as a flame, and it shal burne and deuoure [m] his thornes and his briers in one day:

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitfull fields both soule [n] and flesh: and he shall be as the [o] fainting of a standerd bearer.

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shalbe few, that a childe may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day shall the remnant of Israel, & such as are escaped of the house of Iaakob, stay no more vpon him that smote them, but shall [p] stay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Israel in truetly.

21 The remnant shall returne, euen the remnant of Iaakob vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sande of the Sea, yet shall the remnant of them returne. The consumption [q] decreed shal ouerflow with righteousnes.

23 For the Lord God of hosts shal make the consumption, euen [r] determined, in the mids of all the land.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God of hosts, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraide of Asshur: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift vp his staffe against thee after the maner of [t] Egypt:

25 But yet a very litle time, & the wrath shall be consumed, and mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lord of hostes shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of [t] Midian in the rocke of Oreb: and as his staffe was vpon the [u] Sea, so he will lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy necke: and the yoke shall be destroyed because of [x] the anoynting.

28 He is come [y] to Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall he lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the foorde: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraide: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is removed: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselues together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Nob: he shall lift vp his hand towarde the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hostes shall cut off the [z] bough with feare, and they of hie stature shal be cut off, and the hie shal be humbled.

34 And he shal cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, & Lebanon shall haue a mightie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Ishai. 2 His vertues and kingdome. 6 The fruites of the Gospell. 10 The calling of the Gentiles.

BVt there shall come a [a] rod foorth of the stocke of Ishai, and a graffe shall growe out of his rootes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lorde shall rest vpon him: the Spirit of wisedome & vnderstanding, the Spirite of counsell and strength, the Spirite of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shal not iudge after the sight of his eyes, neither reproue by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousnes shal he iudge the poore, and with equitie shall he reproue for the meeke of the earth: and hee shall [b] smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shal he slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shall be the girdle of his loynes, and faythfulnesse the girdle of his reines.

6 The [c] wolfe also shall dwell with the lambe, and the leopard shall lie with the kidde, and the calfe, and the lion, and the fatte beast together, and a little childe shall leade them.

7 And the cow and the beare shal feede: their yong ones shal lie together: and the lion shall eate strawe like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking childe shall play vpon the hole of the aspe, and the weaned childe shal put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

9 Then shal none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holinesse: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as [d] the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day the roote of Ishai, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the [e] people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his [f] rest shall be glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lorde stretch out his hande [g] againe the seconde time to possesse the remnant of his people (which shall be left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, and of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

12 And he shall set vp a signe to the nations, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the foure corners of the world.

1 Meaning that God is a light to comfort his people, and a fire to burne his enemies.
m That is, the Assyrians.
n To wit, body & soule vtterly.
o When the banerell is lost, & the standerd taken.
p This is the end of Gods plagues towards his, to bring them to him and to forsake all trust in others.
q This small nũber, which seemed to be consumed, and yet according to Gods decree is saued, shall be sufficient to fill all ỹ world with righteousnesse.
r God will destroy this land as he hath determined, and after saue a small portion.
s As the Egyptians did punish thee.
t Reade Chap. 9.4.
u When the Israelites passed through by the lifting vp of Moses rod, and the enemies were drowned, Exod. 14.28.
x Because of the promes made to that kingdome, whereby Christs kingdome was prefigured.
y He describeth by what way the Assyrians should come against Ierusalem, to confirme the faithfull, when it should come to passe, that as their plague was come, so should they be deliuered. z Feare and destruction shall come vpon Iudah: for the princes and the people shall all be led away captiues.

a Beeause the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of the spirituall captiuitie vnder sinne, he sheweth that our true deliuerance must come by Christ: for as Dauid came out of Ishai a man without dignitie: so Christ should come of a poore carpenters house, as out of a dead stocke, Chap. 53.2.
b All these properties can agree to none but onely vnto Christ: for it is he that toucheth the hearts of the faithful and mortifieth their concupiscences: and to the wicked he is the sauour of death and to them that shall perish: so that all the world shall be smitten with this rod, which is his word.
c Men because of their wicked affections are named by the names of beastes, wherein the like affections reigne: but Christ by his Spirite shall reforme them, and worke in them such mutuall charitie, that they shalbe like lambes, fauouring and louing one another, and cast off all their cruell affections. Chap. 65.25.
d It shalbe in as great abundance as the waters in the Sea.
e Hee prophecieth of the calling of the Gentiles.
f That is, his Church, which hee also calleth his rest, Psalm. 132.14.
g For God first deliuered his people out of Egypt, and nowe promiseth to deliuer them out of their enemies hands, as from the Parthians, Persians, Caldeans, and them of Antiochia, among whom they are dispersed: and this is chiefly meant of Christ, who calleth his people being dispersed through all the world.

h Here he describeth the consent that shalbe in his Church, and their victorie against their enemies.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, and the aduersaries of Iudah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not enuie [h] Iudah, neither shall Iudah vexe Ephraim:

14 But they shall flee vpon the shoulders of the Philistims toward the West: they shall spoyle them of the East together: Edom and Moab shalbe the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lord also shal vtterly destroy the [i] tongue of the Egyptians sea, and with his mightie winde shall lift vp his hand [k] ouer the riuer, and shall smite him in his seuen streames, and cause men to walke therein with shoes.

16 And there shalbe a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Ashur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypt.

i Meaning, a corner of the sea that entreth into the land, and hath the forme of a tongue.

k To wit, Nilus, the great riuer of Egypt, which entreth into the sea with seuen streames.

CHAP. XII.

A thankesgiuing of the faithfull for the mercies of God.

a He sheweth how the Church shall prayse God, and when they are deliuered from their captiuitie.

b Our saluation standeth onely in God, who giueth vs an assured confidence, constancie, and occasion to prayse him for the same. *Exod.*15.2. *psal.*118.14.

c The graces of God shall be so abundant, that ye may receiue them in as great plentie, as waters out of a fountaine that is full. 1.*Chron.*16.8.

AND thou [a] shalt say in that day, O Lord, I will prayse thee: though thou wast angry with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.

2 Behold, God is my [b] saluation: I will trust, and will not feare: for the Lord God is * my strength and song: he also is become my saluation.

3 Therefore with ioy shall yee [c] draw waters out of the welles of saluation.

4 And ye shall say in that day, * Prayse the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.

5 Sing vnto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things: this is knowen in all the world.

6 Crie out, and shoute, [d] O inhabitant of Zion: for great is the holy One of Israel in the middes of thee.

d Ye that are of the Church.

CHAP. XIII.

The Medes and Persians shall destroy Babylon.

a That is, the great calamitie, which was prophecied to come on Babel, as a most grieuous burden, which they were not able to beare. In these twelue chapters following, he speaketh of the plagues, wherewith God would smite these strange nations (whome they knewe), to declare that God chastised the Israelites as his children, and these other as his enemies: and also that if God spare not these that are ignorant, that they must not thinke strange, if hee punished them, which haue knowledge of his Law and keepe it not.

THE [a] burden of Babel, which Isaiah the sonne of Amoz did see.

2 Lift vp a standarde vpon the high mountaine: lift vp the voyce vnto them: wagge the [b] hand, that they may goe into the gates of the nobles.

3 I haue commanded them, that I haue [c] sanctified: and I haue called the mightie to my wrath, and them that reioyce in my [d] glory.

4 The noyse of a multitude is in the mountaines like a great people: a tumultuous voyce of the kingdomes of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hostes numbreth the hoste of the battell.

b To wit, to the Medes and the Persians.

c That is, prepared and appointed to execute my iudgements.

d Which willingly goe about the worke whereunto I appoint them, but how the wicked doe this, reade chap.10.6.

5 They come from a farre countrey, from the ende of the heauen: euen the Lord with the [e] weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle [f] you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almightie.

7 Therefore shall all handes be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt,

8 And they shalbe afraide: anguish and sorowe shall take them, and they shall haue paine, as a woman that trauaileth: euery one shall be amazed at his neighbour, and their faces shall be like [g] flames of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lord commeth, cruell, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the [h] starres of heauen and the planets thereof shall not giue their light: the sunne shall be darkened in his going foorth, and the moone shall not cause her light to shine.

11 And I wil visite the wickednesse vpon the [i] world, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the [k] proude to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I will make a [l] man more precious then fine gold, euen a man aboue the wedge of golde of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shall remoue out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And [m] it shalbe as a chased Doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp: euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee eche one to his owne land.

15 Euery one that is found, shalbe striken through: and whosoeuer ioyneth himselfe, shall fall by the sword.

16 * Their [n] children also shalbe broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be spoyled, and their wiues rauished.

17 Beholde, I will stirre vp the Medes against them, which shall not regard siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes also shall they destroy the children, and shall haue no compassion vpon the fruite of the wombe, and their eyes shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glory of kingdomes, the beautie & pride of the Chaldeans, shall be as the destruction of God * in Sodom and Gomorah.

20 It shal not be inhabited for euer, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the [o] Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the shepheards make their folds there.

21 But [p] Zim shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe full of Ohim: Ostriches shall dwell there, and the Satyres shall daunce there.

e The armie of the Medes and the Persians against Babylon.

f Ye Babylonians.

g The Babylonians anger and griefe shall be so much, that their faces shall burne as fire.

h They that are ouercome shall thinke that all the powers of heauen and earth are against them, Ezekiel 32.7. ioel 3.15. matt. 24.29.

i He compareth Babylon to the whole worlde, because they so esteemed themselues, by reason of their great empire.

k Hee noteth the principall vice, whereunto they were most giuen, as are all that abound in wealth.

l He noteth the great slaughter that shalbe, seeing the enemie shall neither for golde, or siluer spare a mans life, as verse 17.

m Meaning, the power of Babylon with their hired souldiers. *Psal.*137.9.

n This was not accomplished when Cyrus tooke Babylon, but after the death of Alexander the great. *Gene.*19.24. *Iere.*50.40.

o Who vseth to goe from countrey to countrey, to finde pasture for their beasts, but there shall they finde none.

p Which were either wilde beasts, of foules, or wicked spirits, whereby Satan deluded man, as by the fairies, goblins, and such like fantasies.

22 And I will rise against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne, and the nephewe, saith the LORD.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The derision of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistims.

FOr [a] the LORDE will haue compassion of Iaakob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger [b] shal ioine himselfe vnto them, and they shal cleaue to the house of Iaakob.

2 And the people shall receiue them, and bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the LORD, for [c] seruants and handmayds: and they shall take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule ouer their oppressours.

3 ¶ And in that day when the LORD shal giue thee rest from thy sorow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, Howe hath the oppressour ceased? and the golde tribute Babel rested?

5 The LORD hath broken the rod of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continuall plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, hee did [d] not let.

7 The whole world is at [e] rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

8 Also the firre trees reioyced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art layde downe, no hewer came vp against vs.

9 Hell beneath is mooued for thee to [f] meete thee at thy comming, raising vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shall crie, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is brought downe to the graue, and the sounde of thy viols: the wormes is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O [h] Lucifer, sonne of the morning? and cut downe to the ground, which didst cast lots vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue the [g] starres of God: I will sit also vpon the mount of the Congregation in the [i] sides of the North.

14 I will ascend aboue the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most High.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shall [k] looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the world as a wildernesse, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not [l] the house of his prisoners.

18 All the Kings of the nations, euen they all sleepe in glory, euery one in his owne house.

19 But thou art [m] cast out of thy graue like an abominable branch: like the rayment of those that are slaine, and thrust through with a sword, which go downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder feete.

20 Thou shalt not be ioyned with them in the graue, because thou hast destroyed thine owne land, and slaine thy people: the seed of the wicked shall not be renowned for euer.

21 [n] Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fill the face of the world with enemies.

22 ¶ For I will rise vp against them (saith the LORD of hostes) & will cut off from Babel the name and the remnant, and the sonne, and the nephewe, saith the LORD:

23 And I will make it a possession to the ‖hedgehogge, and pooles of water, and I will sweepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the LORD of hostes.

24 The LORD of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shall stand:

25 [o] That I will breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I treade him vnder foote: so that his yoke shall depart from [p] them, and his burden shalbe taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole world, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations, 27 Because the LORDE of hostes hath determined it, and who shall disanull it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turne it away?

28 ¶ In the yeere that King Ahaz died, was this [q] burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole [r] Palestina) because the rod of him that did beate thee, is broken: for out of the serpents roote shall come forth a cockatrice, & the fruite thereof shalbe a fierie flying serpent.

30 For the [s] first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the needie shal lie downe in safetie: and I will kill thy roote with famine, and [t] it shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, O gate, cry, O citie: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolued, for there shall come from the [u] North a smoke, and none shalbe [x] alone, at his time appointed.

32 What a He sheweth why God will haste to destroy his enemies: to wit, because hee will deliuer his Church.

b Meaning, that the Gentiles shall be ioyned with the Church and worship God.

c Signifying, that the Iewes should be superiours to the Gentiles, and that they should be brought vnder the seruice of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are brought to the subiection of Christ, 2. Cor. 10.5.

d That is, hee suffered all violence and iniuries to be done.

e Meaning, that when tyrants reigne, there can be no rest nor quietnesse, and also howe detestable a thing tyrannie is, seeing the insensible creatures haue occasion to reioyce at their destruction.

f As though they feared, least thou shouldest trouble the dead, as thou diddest the liuing: and here he derideth the proude tyrannie of the wicked, which knowe not that all creatures wish their destruction that they may reioyce.

g In steade of thy costly carpets and couerings.

h Thou that thoughtest thy selfe most glorious, and as it were placed in the heauen: for the morning starre, that goeth before the sunne is called Lucifer, to whom Nebuchad-nezzar is compared.

i Meaning, Ierusalem, whereof the Temple was on the Northside, as Psal. 48.2. whereby he meaneth that tyrants fight against God, when they persecute his Church, and would set themselues in his place.

k In marueiling at thee.

l To set them at libertie: notwithstanding his crueltie.

m Thou wast not buried in the sepulchre of thy fathers, thy tyrannie was so abhorred.

n He calleth to the Medes and Persians and all those that should execute Gods vengeance.

‖Or, torreis.

o As I haue begun to destroy the Assyrians in Sancherib, so will I continue, and destroy them wholy, when I shall deliuer you from Babylon.

p From the Iewes.

q Reade Chap. 13.1.

r He willeth the Philistims not to reioyce because the Iewes are diminished in their power: for their strength shall be greater then euer it was.

s The Israelites which were brought to most extreme miserie.

t To wit, my people.

u That is, from the Iewes or Assyrians: for they were both North x But they shall be all ready, and ioyne together. from Palestina 32 What shall then one answere [y] the messengers of the Gentiles? That the Lord hath stablished [z] Zion, and the poore of his people shall trust in it.

y Which shall come to enquire of the state of the Church.

z They shall answere, that the Lord doeth defend his Church, and them that ioyne themselues thereunto.

CHAP. XV.

A prophesie against Moab.

THE [a] burden of Moab. Surely [b] Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

a Reade Chap. 13.1.

b The chiefe citie, whereby the whole countrey was meant.

2 [c] He shall goe vp to the temple, and to Dibon to the hie places to weepe: for [d] Nebo and for Medeba shall Moab howle: vpon all [e] their heads shall be baldnesse, and euery beard shauen.

c The Moabites shall flee to their idoles for succour, but it shall be too late.

d Which were cities of Moab.

e For as in the West parts the people vsed to tear their haire now long, when they mourned, so in the East parts they cut off.

3 In their streetes shall they bee girded with sackecloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streetes euery one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shall crie, and Elealeh: their voyce shalbe heard vnto Jahaz: therefore the warriers of Moab shall shout: the soule of euery one shall lament in himselfe.

The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God, that would come vpon them.

5 Mine [f] heart shall crie for Moab: his fugitiues shall flee vnto Zoar, [g] an heifer of three yeere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonaim they [h] shall raise vp a crie of destruction.

f Meaning, that was a citie that her liued in ease, and neuer felt sorow.

g He describeth the miserable dissipation and flight of the Moabites.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall bee dried vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbes consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euery man hath left, and their substance shall they beare to the [i] brooke of the willowes.

h To hide themselues, and their goods there.

8 For the crie went rounde about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the skriking thereof vnto Beer Elim.

i So that by no meanes they should escape the hand of God: thus will God punish the enemies of his Church.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shalbe full [k] of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, euen lions [l] vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

k Of them that are slaine.

l That is, offer a sacrifice: wherby he derydeth their long delay, which would not repent when the Lorde called thē, shewing them that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

SEnde [a] yee a lambe to the ruler of the worlde from the rocke of the wildernes, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

a There is no remedie, but you must flee.

2 For it shall bee as a birde that [b] flieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shalbe at the foordes of Arnon.

b He sheweth what Moab shoulde haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whome because they would be no shadow nor comfort they are now left comfortlesse.

3 Gather a counsell, execute iudgement: [c] make the shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

c The Tyrians shall oppresse the Israelites, but for a while.

4 Let my banished dwel with thee: Moab be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner [d] shall ende: the destroyer shalbe consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.

d Meaning Christ.

5 And in mercie shall the throne bee prepared, and he shal sit vpon it in stedfastnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hasting iustice.

e Their vaine confidence and proud bragges shall deceiue them, as Iere. 48.2.

6 [e] We haue heard of the pride of Moab, (hee is very proude) euen his pride and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his [f] lies shal not be so.

f For all your mourning, yee the citie shall bee destroyed, euen vnto the foundations.

7 Therefore shal Moab howle vnto Moab: euery one shall howle: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall yee mourne, yet they shall be [g] striken.

g That is, the Assyrians, and other enemies.

8 For the vineyards of Heshbon are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmah: [h] the Lords of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto [i] Jaazer: they wandred in the wildernesse: her goodly branches stretched out themselues, and went ouer the sea.

h That is, the Assyrians, and other enemies.

i Meaning, that the countrey of Moab was now destroyed and all the precious things thereof were caried into the borders, yea into other countreys, and ouer the sea.

9 Therefore wil [k] I weepe with the weeping of Jaazer, and of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon and Elealeth, I wil make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy sommer fruites, and vpon thy harueſt [l] a shouting is fallen.

k He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it woulde haue mooued any man to lament with them, as Psal. 141.5.

10 And gladnesse is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull fielde: and in the vineyards shall be no singing nor shouting for ioy: the treader shall not treade wine in the wineprestes: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

l The enemies are come vpon thee, and shoute for ioy, when they cary thy commodities from thee, as Iere. 48.33.

11 Wherefore, my [m] bowels shall sound like an harpe for Moab, and mine inwarde partes for Kir-hareseh.

m For very sorow and compassion.

12 And when it shall appeare that Moab shalbe wearie of his hie places, then shall he come to his [n] temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

n They shall vse all meanes to seeke helpe of their idoles and all in vaine: for Chemoz their god shall not be able to helpe them.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And nowe the Lord hath spoken, saying, [o] In three yeeres, as the yeeres of an [p] hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be contemned in all the great multitude, and the remnant shalbe very small and feeble.

o He appointed a certaine time to punish the enemies in.

p Who wil obserue iustly the time, for the which he is hired, and serue no longer, but will euer long for it.

CHAP. XVII.

A prophecie of the destruction of Damascus, and Ephraim. 7 Calamitie moueth to repentance.

THE [a] burthen of [b] Damascus. Beholde, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shalbe a ruinous heape.

a Reade Chap. 13.1.

b The chiefe citie of Syria.

2 The cities of [c] Aroer shall be forsaken: they shall be for the flockes: for they shall lie there, and none shall make them afraide.

c It was a countrey of Syria by the riuer Arnon.

3 The munition also shall cease from [d] Ephraim, and the Kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shall bee as the [e] glory of the children of Israel, d It seemeth that the Prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these two Kings of Syria, & Israel, when as they had conspired the ouerthrow of Iudah.

e The ten tribes gloried in their multitude, and alliance with other nations: therefore he sayth that they shalbe brought downe and the Syrians also, saith sayth the Lord of hostes.

4 And in that day the glory of f Iaakob shalbe impouerished, and the fatnesse of his flesh shalbe made leane.

5 And it shalbe as when the haruest man gathereth the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and hee shall bee as hee that gathereth the eares in the valley of h Rephaim.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall i be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries are in the toppe of the vpmost boughes, and foure or fiue in the high branches of the fruit thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 At that day shall a man looke to his k maker, and his eyes shall looke to the holy one of Israel.

8 And he shall not looke to the altars, the works of his owne hands, neither shall hee looke to those things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughs and branches, which l they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shall be desolation.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange m vine branches:

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to flourish: but the haruest shall be gone in the day n of possession, and there shall be desperate sorowe.

12 o Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sounde like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a sounde like the noyse of mightie waters.

13 The people shall make a sound like the noise of many waters: but God shall p rebuke them, and they shall flee farre off, and shall bee chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rouing thing before the whirlewinde.

14 And lo, in the euening there is q trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the portion of them that spoyle vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

f Meaning, of the ten tribes, which boasted themselues of their nobilitie, prosperitie, strength and multitude.
g As the abundance of corne doth not feare the haruest men that should cut it downe: no more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, whom God shall appoynt to destroy them.
h Which valley was plentifull and fertile.
i Because God would haue his couenant stable, he promiseth to reserue some of this people and to bring them to repentance.
k He sheweth that Gods corrections euer bring forth some fruite, and cause his to turne from their sinnes, and to humble themselues to him.
l As the Canaanites left their cities, when God did place the Israelites there, so the cities of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then bushes, when God shall send the enemie to plague them.
m Which are excellent, and brought out of other countries.
n As the Lord threatneth the wicked in his law, Leuit. 26. 16.
o The prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared against Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number and gathered of many nations.
p Hee addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which were in Israel.
q He compareth the enemies of the Assyrians, to a tempest which riseth ouer night, and in the morning is gone.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Of the enemies of the Church, 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

a He meaneth that part of Ethiopia, which lieth toward the Sea, which was so full of shippes, that the sayles (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadowe the sea.

O, the a land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the ruers of Ethiopia,

2 Sending ambassadours by the sea, euen in vessels of b reedes vpon the waters, saying, c Goe, ye swift messengers, to a nation, that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, vnto a terrible d people from their beginning euen hitherto: a nation by little and little, euen troden vnder foote, whose land ye floods haue spoyled.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, shall see when he setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, and when he bloweth the trumpe, ye shall heare.

4 For so the Lorde sayd vnto me, I will e rest and behold in my tabernacle, as f the heate drying vp the raine, and as a cloude of dewe in the heate of haruest.

5 For afore the haruest when the floure is finished, and the fruite is riping in the floure, then he shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shall take away, and cut off the boughes.

6 They shall bee left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, and to the beasts of the earth: for the foule shall summer vpon it, and euery beast of the earth shal winter vpon it.

7 At that time shal a k present be brought vnto the Lorde of hostes, (a people that is scattered abroad, and spoyled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation by little and little euen troden vnder foote, whose land the ruers haue spoyled) to the place of the Name of the Lorde of hostes, euen the mount Zion.

b Which in those countries were great: in so much as they made ships of the for swiftnesse.
c This may be taken that they sent other to comfort the Iewes, and to promise them help against their enemies, and so the Lorde did threaten to take away their strength, that the Iewes should not trust therein: or that they did solicite the Egyptians, & promised them hyde to goe against Iudah.
d To wit, the Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made all other nations afraide of the like, as God threatned, Deut. 28. 37.
e Meaning, the Assyrians, Chap. 8. 7.
f When the Lorde prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians.
g I wil stay a while from punishing the wicked.
h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites: whereby hee meaneth, that he will seeme to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off.
i Not onely men shall contemne them, but the brute beastes.
k Meaning, that God wil pitie his Church, and receiue that litle remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conuersion to the Lord.

a Reade Chap. 13. 1.

THe a burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord b rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shalbe mooued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of her.

b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defence of their countrey, in the multitude of their idoles, and in the valiantnesse of their men, the Lorde sheweth that he will come ouer all their munitions in a swift cloude, and that their idoles shall tremble at his comming, and

2 And I wil set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so euery one shall c fight against his brother, and euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.

3 And the d spirit of Egypt shall faile in the middes of her, and I will destroy their counsell, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the sorcerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the southsayers.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruell Lords, and a mightie King shall rule ouer them, saith the Lorde God of hostes.

that mens hearts shall faint.
c As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kil one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chro. 20. 22. and Chap. 49. 26.
d Meaning their policie, and wisedome.

5 Then

e He sheweth that the sea and Nilus their great riuer, whereby they thought themselues most sure, should not be able to defend them from his anger, but that he would send the Assyrians among them, that should keepe them vnder as slaues.

f For Nilus ran into the sea by seuen streames, as though they were so many riuers.

g The Ebrew word is mouth, whereby they meane the spring, out of the which the water gusheth as out of a mouth.

h The Scriptures vse to describe the destruction of a countrey by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fish, and such other things, whereby countreyes are enriched.

i Called also Tanes, a famous citie vpon Nilus.

k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh: who perswaded the King that hee was wise, and noble, and that his house was most ancient, and so hee flattered himselfe, saying, I am wise. l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and nowe called the great Caira. m The principall vpholders thereof, are the chiefest cause of their destruction. n For the spirit of wisedome hee hath made them drunke and giddie with the spirit of errour. o Neither the great nor the small, the strong nor the weake. p Considering that through their occasion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their trust in them, and were therefore nowe punished, they shall feare lest the like light vpon them. q Shall make one confession of faith with the people of God: by the speech of Canaan, meaning, the language, wherein God was then serued. r Shall renounce their superstitions, and protest to serue God aright. s Meaning, of sixe cities, fiue should serue God, and the sixt remaine in their wickednesse: and so of the sixt part, there should be but one left.

5 Then the waters of the sea shall e faile, and the riuer shalbe dried vp, and wasted.

6 And the f riuers shal goe farre away: the riuers of defence shall bee emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flagges shalbe cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuer, and at the head of the riuers, and all that groweth vp the riuer, shall wither, and be driuen away, and be no more.

8 The fishers also shall h mourne, and al they that cast angle into the riuer, shall lament, and they that spread their net vpon the waters, shalbe weakened.

9 Moreouer, they that woorke in flare of diuers sorts, shalbe confounded, and they that weaue nets.

10 For their nets shall bee broken, and all they that make ponds, shall bee heauie in heart.

11 Surely the princes of i Zoan are fooles: the counsel of the wise counsellers of Pharaoh is become foolish: how say yee vnto Pharaoh, I k am the sonne of the wise? I am the sonne of the ancient kings?

12 Where are nowe the wise men, that they may tell thee, or may know what the Lorde of hostes hath determined against Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of l Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the m corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the spirit n of errours: and they haue caused Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may o doe, nor the taile, the branch nor the rush.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like vnto women: for it shalbe afraide and feare because of the mouing of the hande of the Lord of hostes, which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah shalbe a feare p vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, shalbe afraide thereat, because of the counsell of the Lord of hostes, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day shall fiue cities in the land of Egypt q speake the language of Canaan, and shall r sweare by the Lorde of hostes: one shalbe called the citie of s destruction.

19 In that day shal the altar of the Lord bee in the middes of the land of Egypt, and t a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

20 And it shall bee for a signe and for a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall crie vnto the Lord, because of the oppressors, and he shall send them u a Sauiour and a great man, and shall deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shall be knowen of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shal know the Lord in that day, and doe x sacrifice and oblation, and shall vowe vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord shall smite Egypt, hee shall smite and heale it: for he shall returne vnto the Lord, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heale them.

23 In that day shal there be a path from y Egypt to Asshur, and Asshur shall come into Egypt, and Egypt into Asshur: so the Egyptians shall worship with Asshur.

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and Asshur, euen a blessing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lord of hostes shall blesse it, saying, Blessed bee my people Egypt and Asshur, the worke of mine hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

t There shall be euident signes and tokens, that Gods religion is there: which maner of speech is taken of the Patriarkes and ancient times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and full maner howe he would be worshipped.

u This declareth that this prophesie should be accomplished in the time of Christ.

x By these ceremonies, he comprehendeth the spirituall service vnder Christ.

y By these two nations, which were then chiefe enemies of the Church, he sheweth that the Gentiles and the Iewes should be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and should be all one folde vnder Christ their shepheard.

2 The three yeres captiuitie of Egypt & Ethiopia described by the three yeeres going naked of Isaiah.

IN the yeere that a Tartan came to b Ashdod, (when c Sargon king of Asshur sent him) and had fought against Ashdod, and taken it,

2 At the same time spake the Lorde by the hand of Isaiah the sonne of Amoz, saying, Goe, and loose the d sackcloth from thy loynes, & put off thy shooe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked, & barefoote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiah hath walked naked, and barefoote three yeeres, as a signe and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So shall the King of Asshur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both young men and old men, naked and barefoote, with their buttocks vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shall feare, and be ashamed of e Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their f glorie.

6 Then shall the inhabitant of this ple say in that day, Beholde, such is our expectation, whither we fledde for helpe to be delinered from the King of Asshur, & how shall we be delinered?

1 He prophecieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 15 A threatning against Shebna. 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

THe burden of the a valley of vision. What b aileth thee now that thou art wholly gone vp vnto the house tops?

3 All thy princes shall flee together from the bowe: they shalbe e bound: all that shal be found in thee, shall be bound together, which haue fled from f farre.

4 Therefore sayd I, Turne away from me: I will weepe g bitterly: labour not to comfort mee for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lorde God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a h crying vnto the mountaines.

6 ¶ And Elam i bare the quiuer in a mans charet with horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.

7 And thy chiefe valleys were full of charets, and the horsemen set themselues in arap against the gate.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sins of the people. 13 A remnãt reserued, shall praise the Lord.

a This prophesie is as a coucluſion of ỳ, which hath bene threatned to the Iewes and other nations, from the 13. Chapter, and therefore by the earth he meaneth thoſe landes, which were before named.

BEholde, the Lord maketh ỳ a earth emptie, and he maketh it waste: hee turneth it vpside downe, and scattereth abroade the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shall bee like people, like b priest, and like seruant, like master, like maide, like mistresse, like buyer, like seller, like lender, like borower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie.

3 The earth shall be cleane emptied, and vtterly spoyled: for the Lorde hath spoken this worde.

4 The earth lamenteth & fadeth away: the world is feebled and decayed: the proud people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth also c deceiueth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlasting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the d curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the lande are e burned vp, and fewe men are left.

7 The wine faileth, ỳ vine hath no might: all that were of merie heart, doe mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: ỳ noyse of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine wt mirth: strong drinke shall bee bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The city of f vanitie is broken down: euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streetes: all ioy is darkened: the g mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the cities is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ Surely thus shall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, h as the shaking of an olme tree, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voyce: they shall shoute for the magnificence of ỳ Lord: they shall reioyce from i the sea.

15 Wherefore praise yee the Lord in the valleyes, euen the Name of the Lorde God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth wee haue heard praises, euen glory to the k Iust, & I said, l My leanenesse, my leanenesse, woe is me: the transgressours haue offended: yea, the transgressours haue grieuously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.

18 And hee that fleeth from the noyse of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and he that commeth vp out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for the m windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth doe shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

20 The earth shall reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be remooued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shall be heauie vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 ¶ And in that day shall the Lord n visite the hoste aboue that is on high, euen the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shall be gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shalbe shut vp in the prison, & after many dayes shall they be o visited.

23 p Then the moone shall bee abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lorde of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Ierusalem: and glory shalbe before his ancient men.

i From the vtmost coastes of the worlde, where the Gospell shall bee preached, as verse 16.

k Meaning, to God, who will publish his Gospell through all the worlde.

l I am consumed with care, considering the affliction of the Church, both by forrein enemies, and domesticall. Some reade, my secret, my secret: that is, it was reuealed to the Prophet, that the good should be preserued and the wicked destroyed.

m Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance should be ouer and vnder them: so that they should not escape no more then they did at Noahs flood.

n There is no power so high or mightie, but God will visite him with his roddes.

o Not with his roddes, as verse 21. but shall bee comforted.

p When God shall restore his Church, the glory thereof shall so shine, and his ministers (which are called his ancient men) that the sunne and the moone shall be darke in comparison thereof.

b Because this was a name of dignitie, it was also applied to them, which were not of Aarons familie, and so signifieth also a man of dignitie, as 2. Sam. 8. 18. and 20. 25. 1. chr. 18. 17. and by these wordes, the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shall be neither religion, order, nor policie, Hose. 4. 9.

c That is, rendereth not her fruite for the sinne of the people, whome the earth deceiued of their nouriture, because they deceiued God of his honour.

d Written in the Law, as Leui 26. 14. deut. 28. 16. thus the Prophets vsed to apply particularly the menaces and promises, which are generall in the Lawe.

e With heate and drought, or els, that they were consumed with the fire of Gods wrath.

f Which as it was without order, so now should it be brought to desolation and confusion: and this was not onely meant of Ierusalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

g Because they did not vse Gods benefites aright, their pleasures should faile, and they fall to mourning.

h Hee comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in this great desolation the Lord will assemble his Church, which shal praise his Name, as Chap. 10. 22.

CHAP. XXV.

A thankesgiuing to God in that he sheweth him selfe iudge of the worlde, by punishing the wicked, and maintaining the godly.

O Lorde, thou a art my God: I will exalt thee, I will praise thy Name: for thou hast done wonderfull things, according to the counsels of olde, with a stable trueth.

a Thus the Prophet giueth thankes to God, because he will bring vnder subiection these nations by his corrections, and make them of his Church which before were his enemies.

2 For thou hast made of a b Citie an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: euen the palace c of strangers of a citie, it shall neuer be built.

b Not onely of Ierusalem, but also of these other cities, which 3 Therefore shall the d mightie people giue glory vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, euen a strength to the needie in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadowe against the heate: for the blast haue bene thine enemies.

c That is, a place whereas all vagabonds may liue without danger, and as it were, at ease, as in a palace.

d The arrogant and proude, which before would not knowe thee, shall by thy corrections feare and glorifie thee.

c The rage of the wicked is furious, till God breake the force thereof.

e of the mightie is like a stoorme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, f as the heate in a drie place: he will bring downe the song of the mightie, as g the heate in the shadowe of a cloude.

f Meaning, that as the heate is abated by the raine, so shall God bring downe the rage of the wicked.

6 And in this h mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fatte things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marrowe, of wines fined and purified.

g As a cloude shadoweth from the heate of the sunne, so shall God asswage the reioycing of the wicked against the godly.

7 And hee will destroy in this mountaine i the couering that coureth all people, and the vaile that is spred vpon all nations.

h To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his Church, which should vnder Christ be assembled of the Iewes, and the Gentiles, and is here described vnder the figure of a costly banket, as Matt. 22.2.

8 He will destroy death for euer: and the Lorde God will k wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people will hee take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

i Meaning that ignorance and blindnes, whereby we are kept backe from Christ.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he will saue vs. This is the Lord, wee haue waited for him: wee will reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord rest, and l Moab shall bee threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is threshed in m Madmenah.

11 And hee shall stretch out his hand in the middes of them (as he that swimmeth, stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his handes shall hee bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall he bring downe, and lay lowe, and cast them to the ground, euen vnto the dust.

k He will take away all occasions of sorow, and fill his with perfite ioy, Reuel. 7.17. and 21.4. l By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church. m There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 1. Chron. 2.49. and another in the land of Moab, Iere. 48.2. which seemeth to haue bene a plentifull place of corne, Chap. 10.31.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and whereon they ought to trust.

a This song was made to comfort the faithfull, when their captiuitie should come, assuring them also of their deliuerance, for the which they should sing this song.

IN that day shall a this song be sung in the land of Iudah, Wee haue a strong citie: b saluation shall God set for walles and bulwarkes.

b Gods protection and defence shall be sufficient for vs.

2 c Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation, which keepeth the trueth, may enter in.

c Hee assureth the godly to returne after the captiuitie to Ierusalem.

3 By an assured d purpose wilt thou preserue perfite peace, because they trusted in thee.

d Thou hast decreed so, and thy purpose cannot bee changed.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For hee will bring downe them that dwell on hie: e the hie citie he will abase: euen vnto the ground will he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

e There is no power so hie, that can let God, when he will deliuer his.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, euen the feete of the f poore, and the steppes of the needie.

f God will set the poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.

7 The way of the iust is righteousnesse: thou wilt make equall the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy g iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.

g We haue constantly abid in the aduersities wherewith thou hast afflicted vs.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirite within mee will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shall learne h righteousnesse.

h Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.

10 Let mercy i be shewed to the wicked, yet he will not learne righteousnesse: in the land of vprightnesse wil he do wickedly, and will not behold the maiestie of the Lord.

i The wicked, though God shewe them euident signes of his grace, shalbe neuer the better.

11 O Lord, they will not behold thine hie hand: but they shall see it, and be confounded with k the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine l enemies shall deuoure them.

k Through enuie and indignation against the people.

l The fire and vengeance, wherewith thou doest destroy thine enemies.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordaine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other m lordes beside thee haue ruled vs, but we will remember thee onely, and thy name.

m The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy word.

14 The n dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memorie.

n Meaning, that the reprobate, euen in this life shall haue the beginning of euerlasting death.

15 Thou hast increased the o nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coastes of the earth.

o To wit, the companie of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they p visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

p That is, the faithfull by thy rods were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

17 Like as a woman with childe, that draweth neere to the trauaile, is in sorowe, and cryeth in her paynes, so haue wee bene in thy q sight, O Lord.

q To wit, in extreme sorowe.

18 We haue conceiued, we haue borne in paine, as though wee should haue brought foorth r winde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of f the world fall.

r Our sorowes had none ende, neither did we enioy the comfort, that we looked for.

f The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

19 s Thy dead men shall liue: euen with my body shall they rise. Awake, and sing, yee that dwell in dust: for thy t dewe is as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

s He comforteth the faithfull in their afflictions, shewing them that euen in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainely rise to glorie. the contrary should come to the wicked, as verse 14.

t That is, the faithfull by thy 20 Come, my people: u enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very little while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

u As herbes, dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp to ioy when they feele the dewe of Gods grace.

21 For loe, The Lorde commeth out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: and the x He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke.

y The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may crye for vengeance against the wicked.

earth shall disclose her y blood, and shall no more hide her slaine.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophesie against the kingdome of Satan, 2 And of the ioy of the Church for their deliuerance.

a At the time appoynted.
b That is, by his mightie power and by his word. He prophecieth here of the destruction of Satan and his kingdome vnder the name of Liuiathan, Asshur and Egypt.
c Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyard, that is, the Church should bring foorth as most agreeable to the Lord.
d Therefore he will destroy the kingdome of Satan, because he loueth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and cannot be angrie with it, but witheth that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by bryers and thornes.
e He marueileth that Israel will not come by gentlenesse, except God make them to feele his rods, and so bring them vnto him.
f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the roote

IN that a day the Lord with his sore and great and mightie b sword shall visite Liuiathan, that pearcing serpent, euen Liuiathan, that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyard c of red wine.

3 I the Lord doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: lest any assaile it, I will keepe it night and day.

4 Anger d is not in me: who would set the bryers and the thornes against mee in battell? I would go through them, I would burne them together.

5 Or will hee e feele my strength, that he may make peace with mee, and hee at one with me?

6 f Hereafter, Iaakob shall take roote: Israel shall florish and grow, and the world shalbe filled with fruit.

7 Hath hee smitten g him as hee smote those that smote him? or is hee slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In h measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contend with it, when hee bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the Eastwinde.

9 By this therefore shall the iniquitie of Iaakob bee purged, and this is all the i fruite, the taking away of his sinne: when hee shall make all the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the k defenced citie shall be desolate, and the habitation shalbe forsaken, and left like a wilderneſse. There shall the calfe feede, and there shall hee lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are drie, they shall be broken: the l women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore he that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the chanell of the m River, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and yee shall bee gathered one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpe be n blowen, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worshippe the Lord in the holy mount at Ierusalem.

spring againe and bring foorth in great abundance. g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice. h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the sharpe winde of affliction. i He sheweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from all idolatrie, and the monuments thereof destroyed. k Notwithstanding his fauour that hee will shewe them after: yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and grasse for cattell shall growe in it. l God shall not haue neede of mightie enemies: for the very women shall doe it, to their great shame. m Hee shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.

n In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkennesse of Israel. 9 The vntowardnesse of them that should learne the word of God. 24 God doth all things in time and place.

a Meaning, the proude kingdome of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperitie.
b Because the Israelites for the most part dwelt in plentifull valleies, he meaneth hereby the valley of them that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were, as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.
c He seemeth to meane the Assyrians, by whom the ten tribes were caried away.
d Which is not of long continuance, but is soone ripe, and first eaten.
e Signifying, that the faithfull, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperitie, but made God their glorie, shall be preserued.
f He will giue counsell to the gouernour, and strength to the captaine, to driue the enemies in at their owne gates.

WO to the a crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shalbe a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the b valley of them that be fat, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lord hath a mightie and c strong host, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlewinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that ouerflowe, which throwe to the ground mightily.

3 They shall bee troden vnder foote, euen the crowne and the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie shall bee a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fat, and as d the hastie fruite afore summer, which when hee that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the e residue of his people:

6 And for a spirite of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, and for f strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate.

7 But g they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are l swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are full of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 h Whome shall hee teach knowledge? and whome shall hee make to vnderstand the things that hee heareth? them that are weyned from the milke and drawen from the breastes.

10 For i precept must bee vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a little, and there a little.

11 For with a stammering k tongue and with a strange language shall he speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whom l he sayde, m This is the g Meaning, the hypocrites, which were among them, and were altogether corrupt in life and doctrine, which is here meant by drunkennesse and vomiting. h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, and as vnmeete as yong babes. i They must haue one thing oft times tolde. k Let one teach what hee can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if hee spake in a strange language. l That is, the Prophet whom God shoulde send. m This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to stay and rest.

rest:

n Shew to them that are wearie and haue neede of rest, what is the true rest.
o Because they will not receiue the word of God when it is offered, it commeth of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before, Chap. 6. 9.
p They thought they had shifts to auoyde Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though all other perished.
q Though the prophets condemned their idoles, and vaine trust of falsehode, and vanitie, yet the wicked thought in themselues that they woulde trust in these things.
r That is, Christ, by whome all the building must be tryed, and vpolden, Psal. 118. 22. mat. 21. 42. actes 4. 11. rom. 9. 33. 1. per. 2. 6.
s He shall be quier, and seeke none other remidies, but be content with Christ.
t In the restitution of his Church, iudgement and iustice shall reigne.
u Gods corrections & affliction.
x Affliction shall discouer their vaine confidence, which they kept secret to themselues.
y Terrour and destruction shall make you to learne that which exhortations and gentilnesse could not bring you vnto.
z Your affliction shall bee so sore that you are not able to endure it.
a When Dauid ouercame the Philstims, 2. Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chron. 14. 11.
b Where Ioshua discomfited fiue kings of the Amorites, Iosh. 10. 12.
c As the ploweman hath his appoynted time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lorde for his vengeance: for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen seede is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as are the wicked, rest: [n] giue rest to him that is wearie: and this is the refreshing, but they woulde not heare.

13 Therefore shal the word of the [o] Lord bee vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle and there a litle, that they may goe and fall backeward, and be broken and be snared and be taken.

14 Wherfore heare the word of the Lord, yee scornfull men that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

15 Because ye haue sayd, We haue made a [p] couenant with death, and with hell are wee at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shall not come at vs: for wee haue made [q] falsehoode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a stone, a [r] tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. He that beleeueth, [s] shall not make haste.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule and [t] righteousnesse to the ballance, and the [u] haile shall sweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shall ouerflowe [x] the secret place.

18 And your couenant with death shall be disanulled, and your agreement with hel shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall yee bee trode downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shal take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall bee [y] onely feare to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the bed is [z] strait that it can not suffice, and the couering narrowe that one cannot wrap himselfe.

21 For the Lord shall stand as in mount [a] Perazim: he shall be wroth as in the valley [b] of Gibeon, that he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore bee no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken yee, and heare my voyce: hearken ye, and heare my speach.

24 Doeth the ploweman plowe all the day, to sowe? doeth he open, and breake the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it [c] plaine, will he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corne when it is threshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his carte still make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teethe thereof.

29 This also commeth from the Lorde of hostes, which is wonderful in counsaile, and excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophecie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that followe the traditions of men.

HO [a] altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yeere vnto yeere: [b] let them kill lambes.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse, and there shall be heauinesse and sorow, and it shall be vnto me like [c] an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, and will cast vp ramparts against thee.

4 So shalt thou bee humbled, and shalt speake out of the [d] ground, and thy speech shall bee as out of the dust: thy voyce also shall be out of the ground like him that hath a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreouer, the multitude of thy [e] strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that passeth away, and it shall bee in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt bee visited of the Lorde of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirle wind, and a tempest, and a flame of deuouring fire.

7 And the [f] multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shall bee as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall bee like as an hungry man dreameth, and beholde, hee eateth: and when hee awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, beholde, hee is faint, and his soule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations bee that fight against mount Zion.

9 [h] Stay your selues and wonder: they are blinde, and make you blinde: they are drunken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a vaine trust, shall come at vnawares, euen as a dreame in the night. Some reade, as if there were a comfort to the Church for the destruction of their enemies.
g That is, hee thinketh that hee eateth.
h Muse hereon as long as you list, ye shall finde nothing but occasion to be astonied: for your Prophets are blinde, and therefore can not direct you.

a The Ebrewe word Ariel signifieth the Lyon of God, and signifieth the Altar, because ỹ Altar seemed to deuoure the sacrifice that was offered to God, as Ezek. 43. 16.
b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shal not last long.
c Your citie shall be full of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.
d Thy speache shall be no more so loftie, but abased, and lowe, as the very charmers, which are in lowe places, and whisper, so that their voyce can scarce bee heard.
e Thine hired souldiers, in whome thou trustest, shall be destroyed as dust or chaffe in a whirlewinde.
f The enemies that I will bring to destroy thee, and that, which thou makest thy spirite of slumber, and hath shut vp your eyes: the Prophets, and your chiefe Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall hee say, I can i not: for it is sealed.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that cannot reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I can not reade.

13 Therefore the Lord said, Because this people k come neere vnto mee with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes, but haue remooued their heart farre from me, & their l feare towarde mee was taught by the precept of men, 14 Therefore behold, I will againe doe a marueilous worke in this people, euen a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisedome of their wise men shall m perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shall be hid.

15 Woe vnto them that n seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lorde: for their workes are in darkenesse, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuices shall it not be esteemed o as the potters clay? for shall the worke say of him that made it, Hee made me not? or the thing formed, say of him that facioned it, Hee hath none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shall bee p turned into Carmel? and Carmel shall be counted as a forrest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lorde shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruell man shall cease, & the scornefull shall bee consumed: and all that hasted to iniquitie shall be cut off:

21 Which made a man to sinne in the q word, and tooke him in a snare: which reproued them in the gate, and made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lorde vnto the house of Iaakob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iaakob shall not nowe be confounded, neither now shall his face bee pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine handes, in the mids of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holy one of Iaacob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirit, r shal haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, eyther to read, or not to reade, except God open the hart to vnderstand.

k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Mat. 15.8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine, and not by my word.

m Meaning, that whereas God is not worshipped according to his word, both magistrates and ministers are but fooles, and without vnderstanding.

n This is spoken of them, which in heart despised Gods word, and mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face.

o For all your craft, sayth the Lorde, you can not be able to escape mine hands, no more then the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

p Shal there not be a change of all things? and Carmel, that is a plentifull place in respect of that it shall be then, may be taken as a forest, as Chap. 32.15, and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithfull.

q They that went about to finde fault with the Prophets wordes, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger.

r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding, and knowledge, man can not but stil erre and murmure against him.

CHAP. XXX.

1 He reproueth the Iewes which in their aduersitie vsed their owne counsels, 2 And sought helpe of the Egyptians, 10 Despising the Prophets. 16 Therefore hee sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, 18 But offereth mercy to the repentant.

WOe to the a rebellious children, sayth the Lorde, that take counsel, but not of me, and b couer with a couering, but not by my Spirite, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke forth to goe downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselues with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the trust in the shadowe of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his c princes were at Zoan, and his Ambassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They shall be all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor doe them good, but shall be a shame and also a reproch.

6 ¶ The d burden of the beastes of the South, in a lande of trouble and anguish, from whence shall come the yong and olde lyon, the viper, & fiery flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the shoulders of the colres, and their treasures vpon the bunches of the Camels, to a people that can not profite.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they shall helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto e her, Their strength f is to sit still.

8 Now goe, and write it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the g last day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children and children that would not h heare the Law of the Lord.

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophetes, Prophesie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophesie k errours.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aside out of the path: cause the holy one of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus sayth the holy one of Israel, Because ye haue cast off this word, and trust in l violence and wickednesse, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shall be vnto you as a breach that falleth, or a swelling in an hie wall, whose breaking commeth suddenly in a moment,

14 And the breaking thereof, is like the breaking of a potters potte, which is broken without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde m a sheard to take fire out of the hearth, or to take water a Who contrary to their promes, take not me for their protector, and contrary to my commandement seeke helpe at strangers.

b They seeke shifts to cloke their doings, and not godly meanes.

c The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in ambassie to seeke helpe, and abroade at these cities.

d That is, a heauie sentence or prophesie against the beastes that carried their treasures into Egypt, by the wildernesse, which was South from Iudah: signifying that if the beastes should not be spared, the men shoulde be punished much more grieuously.

e To wit, to Ierusalem.

f And not to come to and fro to seeke helpe.

g That is, this prophecie.

h That it may be a witnesse against them for all posteritie.

i He sheweth what was the cause of their destruction, and bringeth also all miserie to man: to wit, because they would not heare the worde of God, but delited to bee flattered, and led in errour.

k Threaten vs not by the word of God, neither be so rigorous, nor talke vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, as Iere. 11.21.

l Meaning, in their stubburnnesse against God, and the admonitions of his Prophets.

m Signifying, that the destruction of the wicked shalbe without recouerie.

ter out of the pit.

15 For thus saith the [a] Lord God, the holy one of Israel, in rest and quietnesse shall ye be saued: in quietnesse and in confidence shall be your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but we will flee away vpon [o] horses. Therefore shal ye flee. We will ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shall your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand as one shall flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of fiue shall yee flee, till ye be left as a shippe mast vpon the [p] top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon an hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lorde waite, that hee may haue [q] mercy vpon you, and therefore will hee be exalted, that hee may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lorde is the God of [r] iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: hee will certainely haue mercy vpon thee at the voyce of thy crie: when hee heareth thee, he will answere thee.

20 And when the Lorde hath giuen [s] the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall be no more kept backe, but thine eyes shall see thy [t] rame.

21 And thine eares shall heare a worde behinde thee, saying, This is the way, [u] walke yee in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, and when thou turnest to the left.

22 And ye shall [x] pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the rich ornament of thine images of golde, & cast them away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, [a] Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy seede, when thou shalt sowe the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fatte, and as oyle: in that day shall thy cattel be fedde in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the yong asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the shouel, and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery hie [x] mountaine, and vpon euery hie hill shall there be ruers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towres shall fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the moone shall be as the light of the [y] sunne, and the light of the sunne shall be seuen folde, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lorde shall binde vp the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, [z] the Name of the Lorde commeth from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his spirit is as a ruer that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it diuideth asunder, to fanne the nations with the fanne of [a] vanitie, and there shall be a bridle to cause them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there shall be a song vnto you as in the [b] night, when a solemne feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as he that commeth with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Israel.

30 And the Lorde shal cause his glorious voyce to be heard, and shal declare the lighting downe of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering and tempest, and haile-stones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lorde shall Asshur be destroyed, which smote with the [c] rodde.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shal passe, it shall [d] cleaue fast, which the Lorde shall lay vpon him with [e] tabrets & harpes: and with battels, and lifting vp of hands shal he fight [f] against it.

33 For [g] Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the [h] King: hee hath made it [i] deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuer of brimstone, doth kindle it.

a To driue them to nothing: and thus God consumeth the wicked by that meanes, whereby hee cleanseth his.
b Ye shall reioyce at the destruction of your enemies, as they that sing for ioy of the solemne feast, which began in the euening.
c Gods plague.
d It shall destroy.
e With ioy and assurance of the victorie.
f Against Babel: meaning the Assyrians and Babylonians.
g Here it is taken for hell, where the wicked are tormented, Reade 2. Kings 23. 10.
h So that their estate or degree cannot exempt the wicked.
i By these figuratiue speeches hee declareth the condition of the wicked after this life.

n Oft times by his prophets he put you in remembrance of this, that you should onely depend on him.
o We will trust to escape by our horses.
p Whereas all the trees are cut downe saue two or three to make masts.
q He commendeth the great mercies of God, who with patience waiteth to call sinners to repentance.
r Not onely in punishing, but in vsing moderation in the same, as Iere. 10. 24. and 30. 11.
s Or, instruction.
t God shal direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to goe either hither or thither.
u Ye shall cast away your idoles which you haue made of golde, and siluer, with all that belongeth vnto them, as a most filthie thing, and polluted.
x Shewing, that there can be no true repentance, except both in heart and deede ye shewe our selues enemies to idolatrie.
a By these diuers manners of speach is sheweth that the felicitie of the Church shal be so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.
b When the Church shalbe restored, the glorie thereof shall be seuen times the brightnesse of the sunne: for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, hee sheweth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdome of Christ.
c This threatning is against the Assyrians, the chiefe enemies of the people of God.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

WOe vnto them that [a] goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and stay vpon horses, and trust in charets, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they be very strong: but they looke not vnto the holy one of Israel, nor [b] seeke vnto the Lorde.

2 But he yet is [c] wiseit: therefore he will bring euill, and not turne backe his worde, but hee will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Nowe the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirite: and when the Lorde shall stretch out his hand, the [d] helper shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they shal altogether faile.

4 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vnto me, As the lyon or lyons whelpe roareth vpon his praye, against whome if a multitude of shepheards be called, hee will not bee afrayde at their voyce, neither will humble himselfe at their noyse: so shall a There were two speciall causes, why the Israelites should not ioyne amitie with the Egyptians: first, because the Lord had commaunded them neuer to returne thither, Deut. 17. 16. & 28. 68. lest they should forget the benefite of their redemption: and secondly, least they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatrie of the Egyptians and so forsake God, Iere. 2. 28.

b Meaning, that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.
c And knoweth their craftie enterprises and wil bring all to nought.
d Meaning both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

e Hee sheweth the Iewes, that if they would put their trust in him, he is so able that none can resist his power: and so carefull ouer them, as a birde ouer her yong, which euer flieth about them for their defence: which similitude the Scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deu. 32. 11. matt. 23. 37.

f He toucheth their conscience that they might earnestly feele their grieuous sinnes, and so truely repent, forasmuch as nowe they are almost drowned, and past recouerie.

g By these fruites your repentance shall be knowen, as Chap. 2. 18.

h When your repentance appeareth.

i This was accomplished soone after when Sancheribs armie was discomfited, and hee fled to his castle in Nineueh for succour.

k To destroy his enemies.

the Lord of hostes come e downe to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, so shall the Lord of hostes defend Ierusalem by defending and deliuering, by passing through and preseruing it.

6 O ye children of Israel, turne againe, in as much as yee are f sunken deepe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euery man shall s cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of golde, which your handes haue made you, euen a sinne.

8 h Then shall Asshur fall by the sword, not of man, neither shall the sword of man deuoure him, and hee shall flee from the sword, and his yong men shall faint.

9 And hee shall goe for feare to his i tower, and his princes shalbe afraide of the standard, sayth the Lord, whose k fire is in Zion, and his fornace in Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernement of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

a This prophesie is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, and therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

b By iudgement and iustice is meant an vpright gouernement, both in policie and religion.

c Where men are wearie with trauelling, for lacke of water.

d He promiseth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods worde, and vnderstanding, and zeale of his name, contrary to the threatnings against the wicked, Chap. 6. 9. and 29. 10.

e Vice shall no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches.

f He prophesieth of such calamitie to come, that they will not spare the women and children, and therefore willeth them to take heede and prouide.

BEholde, a a King shall reigne in iustice, and the Princes shall rule b in iudgement.

2 And that man shall bee as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a drie place, and as the shadow of a great rocke in c a weary land.

3 The eyes of d the seeing shall not bee shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shall bee ready to speake distinctly.

5 A e niggard shall no more be called liberall, nor the churle rich.

6 But the niggard will speake of niggardnesse, and his heart will worke iniquitie, and doe wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lorde, to make emptie the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: hee deuiseth wicked counsels, to vndoe the poore with lying wordes, and to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberall man will deuise of liberall things, and he will continue his liberalitie.

9 ¶ Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voyce, ye f careless daughters: hearken to my wordes.

10 Ye women, that are careless, shall be in feare s aboue a yeere in dayes: h for the vintage shall faile, and the gathering shall come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at ease, be astonied: feare, O yee careless women: put off the clothes: make bare, and girde sackcloth vpon the loynes.

12 Men shal lament for the i teates, euen for the pleasant fieldes, and for the fruitfull vine.

13 Vpon the land of my people shal grow thornes and briers: yea, vpon all the houses of ioy in the citie of reioycing,

14 Because the palace shall be forsaken, and the ‖ noyse of the citie shall be left: the tower and fortresse shall be dennes for euer, and the delite of wilde asses, and a pasture for flockes, 15 Until the k Spirit be powred vpon vs from aboue, and the wilderneste become a fruitfull fielde, and the l plenteous fielde be counted as a forest.

16 And iudgement shall dwell in the desart, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitfull fielde.

17 And the worke of iustice shalbe peace, euen the worke of iustice and quietnes, and assurance for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 (When it hayleth, it shall fall on the forest, and the m citie shall be set in the low place.

20 Blessed are yee that n sowe vpon all waters, and o driue thither the feete of the oxe and the asse.

g Meaning, that the affliction should continue long, and when one yeere were past, yet they shoulde looke for newe plagues.

h God will take from you the meanes and occasions, which made you to contemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.

i By the teates, hee meaneth the plentifull fieldes, whereby men are nourished, as children with the teate: or, the mothers for sorowe and leanneste, shall lacke milke.

‖ Or, multitude.

k That is, when the Church shall be restored: thus the Prophets after they haue denounced Gods iudgements against the wicked, vse to comfort the godly, least they should faint.

l The fielde which is nowe fruitfull, shall bee but as a barren forest in comparison of that it shall be then, as Chapter 29. 17. Which shall bee fulfilled in Christes time: for then they that were before as the barren wilderneste, being regenerate, shall be fruitfull, and they that had some beginning of godlineste, shall bring foorth fruites in such abundance, that their former life shall seeme but as a wilderneste where no fruites were.

m They shall not neede to builde it in hie places for feare of the enemie: for God will defende it, and turne away the stormes from hurting of their commodities.

n That is, vpon fatte ground and well watered, which bringeth foorth in aboundance: or in places which before were couered with waters, and nowe made drie for your vses.

o The fields shall be so ranke, that they shall sende out their cattell to eate vp the first croppe, which aboundance shall be signes of Gods fauour and loue towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The destruction of them, by whome God hath punished his Church.

WOe to thee that a spoylest, and wast not spoyled: and doest wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt b cease to spoyle, thou shalt be spoyled: when thou shalt make an ende of doing wickedly, [e] they shall do wickedly against thee.

2 [d] O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs, we haue waited for thee: bee thou, which wast [e] their arme in the morning, our helpe also in time of trouble.

3 At the noyse of the tumult, the [f] people fled: at thine [g] exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoyle shalbe gathered like the gathering of [h] caterpillers: and [i] he shall goe against him like the leaping of grashoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on hie: he hath filled Zion with iudgement and iustice.

6 And there shall bee stabilitie of [k] thy times, strength, saluation, wisedome and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shall be his treasure.

7 Beholde, [l] their messengers shall crie without, and the [m] ambassadours of peace shall weepe bitterly.

8 The [n] paths are waste: the wayfaring man ceaseth: hee hath broken the couenant: hee hath contemned the cities: hee regarded no man.

9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanon is ashamed, and hewen downe: [o] Sharon is like a wildernesse, and Bashan is shaken and Carmel.

10 Now will I [p] arise, saieth the Lord: nowe will I be exalted, nowe will I lift vp my selfe.

11 [q] Yee shall conceiue chaffe, and bring foorth stubble: the fire of your breath shall deuoure you.

12 And the people shall be as the burning of lime: and as the thornes cut vp, shall they be burnt in the fire.

13 Heare, ye that are [r] farre off, what I haue done, and ye that are neere, knowe my power.

14 The [s] sinners in Zion are afrayde: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs shall dwell with the deuouring fire? who among vs shall dwell with the euerlasting burnings?

15 Hee that walketh in iustice, and speaketh righteous things, refusing gaine of oppression, shaking his hands from taking of giftes, stopping his eares from hearing of blood, and shutting his eyes from seeing euill.

16 He shall dwell on [t] high: his defence shall bee the munitions of rockes: bread shall be giuen him, and his waters shall be sure.

17 Thine eyes shall [u] see the King in his glorie: they shall beholde the lande [x] farre off.

18 Thine heart [y] shall meditate feare, Where is the scribe? Where is the receiuer? Where is hee that counted the towres?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a darke speache, that thou canst not perceiue, and of a stammering tongue that thou canst not vnderstand.

20 Looke vpon Zion the citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that cannot bee remoued, and the stakes thereof can neuer bee taken away, neyther shall any of the coardes thereof bee broken.

21 For surely there the mightie Lorde will bee vnto vs, as a place [z] of floods and broade riuers, wherein shall passe no ship with oares neither shall great ship passe thereby.

22 For the Lord is our iudge, the Lord is our lawgiuer: the Lorde is our king, he will saue vs.

23 Thy [a] coardes are loosed: they could not wel strengthen their mast, neither could they spread the sayle: then shall the [b] praye be diuided for a great spoyle; yea, the lame shall take away the praye.

24 And none inhabitant shall say, I am sicke: the people that dwell therein, shall haue their iniquitie forgiuen.

[a] They shall see Hezekiah deliuered from his enemies and restored to honour and glory.

[x] They shall be no more shut in as they were by Sancherib, but go where it pleaseth them.

[y] Before that this libertie commeth, thou shalt thinke that thou art in great danger: for the enemie shall so sharpely assayle you, that one shall crie, Where is the clarke that writeth the names of them that are taxed? another, Where is the receiuer? another shall crie for him that valueth the rich houses, but God will deliuer you from this feare. [z] Let vs bee content with this small riuer of Shiloah, and not desire the great streames and riuers, whereby the enemies may bring in shippes and destroy vs. [a] He derideth the Assyrians and enemies of the Church, declaring their destruction, as they that perish by shipwracke. [b] Hee comforteth the Church, and sheweth that they shalbe enriched with all benefits both of body and soule.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Hee sheweth that God punisheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth his Church.

COme neere, ye [a] nations and heare, and hearken, ye people: let the earth heare, and all that is therein, the world & all that proceedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lorde is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: hee hath [b] destroyed them and deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 And their slaine shall be cast out, and their stinke shall come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines shall be melted with their blood.

4 And all the hoste of heauen [c] shall be dissolued, and the heauens shall bee folden like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figge tree.

5 For my sword shalbe [d] drunken in the heauen:

[a] He propheseth of the destruction of the Edomites and other nations which were enemies to the Church. [b] God hath determined in his counsell, and hath giuen sentence for their destruction. [c] He speaketh this in respect of mans iudgement who in great feare and horrible troubles thinketh that heauen and earth perisheth. [d] I haue determined in my secret counsell and in the heauens to destroy them, till my sword be weary with sheading blood.

[c] The Caldeans shall doe like to the Assyrians, as the Assyrians did to Israel: and the Medes and Persians shall doe the same to the Caldeans.

[d] He declareth hereby what is the chiefe refuge of the faithfull when troubles come, to pray and seeke helpe of God.

[e] Which helpedst our fathers so soone as they called vpon thee.

[f] That is, the Assyrians fledde before the armie of the Caldeans, or the Caldeans for feare of the Medes and Persians.

[g] When thou, O Lord, diddest lift vp thine arme to punish thine enemies.

[h] Ye that as caterpillers destroyed with your number the whole world, shall haue no strength to resist your enemies the Caldeans, but shall be gathered on an heape and destroyed.

7 And the [h] Unicornes shall come downe with them, and the Heifers with the bulles, and their land shall bee drunken with blood, and their dust made fatte with fatnesse.

3 [d] Strengthen the weake handes, and comfort the feeble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are fearefull, Be you strong, feare not: beholde, your God commeth with [e] vengeance: euen God with a recompense, hee will come and saue you.

5 Then shall the eyes of the [f] blinde bee lightened, and the eares of the deafe bee opened.

6 Then shall the lame man leape as an harte, and the dumme mans tongue shall sing: for in the [g] wildernesse shall waters breake out, and riuers in the desart.

7 And the drie ground shall bee as a poole, and the thirstie as springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reedes and rushes.

8 And there shalbe a path and a way, and the way shall be called [h] holy: the polluted shall not passe by it: for [i] hee shall be with them, and walke in the way, and the fooles shall not erre.

9 There shall be no [k] lyon, nor noysome beasts shall ascend by it, neither shall they be found there, that the redeemed may walke.

Sanherib sendeth Rabshakeh to besiege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

NOwe [a] in the [b] fourteenth yeere of king Hezekiah, Sanherib King of Assur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, and tooke them.

2 And the king of Assur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem, vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoste, and hee stood by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers fielde.

3 Then came forth vnto him Eliakim the a This historie is rehearsed because it is as a seale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, that God woulde suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would sende deliuerance.

b When ... had abolished superstition and idolatrie, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church to trie their faith and patience.

c For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophecied, Chap. 22. 20.

d This declareth that there were fewe godly to be found in ỹ kings house, when he was driuen to send this wicked man in such a weightie matter.

e Sancheribs chiefe captaine.

f He speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah falsly charging him that he put his truste in his wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.

g Satan laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another, to wit, from truste in the Egyptians, whose power was weake and would deceiue them, to yeelde himselfe to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any helpe of God.

‖ Or, turne backe.

h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Sancheribs least captaines.

i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lord, but we must trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no.

k They were afrayde, lest by his words, he should haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to growe to some appoyntment with him.

‡ Ebr. the water of their feete.

l The Ebrewe word signifieth blessing: whereby this wicked captaine woulde haue perswaded the people, that their condition shoulde bee better vnder Sancherib then vnder Hezekiah.

sonne of Helkiah the c steward of the house, and Shebna d the chancellor, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the Recorder.

4 And e Rabshakeh said vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus saith the great King, the King of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, f Surely I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: on whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand, and pearce it: so is g Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to mee, Wee trust in the Lorde our GOD, Is not that hee, whose hie places and whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, and said to Iudah and to Jerusalem, ye shall worship before this altar?

8 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the king of Asshur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For how canst thou driue away any captaine of the least of my lordes seruants? and put thy truste on Egypt for charets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the lord to this land to destroy it? The Lorde said vnto me, i Go vp against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna, and Joah vnto Rabshakeh, k Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall, that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne ‡ pisse with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, and said, Heare the wordes of the great king, of the King of Asshur.

14 Thus saith the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lorde, saying, The Lorde will surely deliuer vs: this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the King of Asshur, Make l appoyntment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne well,

17 Till I come and bring you to a lande like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, 18 Least Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Lorde will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

19 Where is the god of m Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?

20 Who is hee among all the gods of these lands, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that ỹ Lord should deliuer Jerusalem out of mine hand?

21 Then they a kept silence, and answered him not a word: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answere him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the stewarde of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and told him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: whereby we see howe euery towne hath his peculiar idole, and howe the wicked make God an idole, because they doe not vnderstand that God maketh them his scourge, and punisheth cities for sinne.

n Not that they did not shewe by euident signes that they did detest his blasphemie: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knewe it was in vaine to vse long reasoning with this infidell, whose rage they shoulde haue so much more prouoked.

AND * when the King Hezekiah heard it, he a rent his clothes, and put on sackecloth, and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And he sent Eliakim the stewarde of the house, and Shebna the chancellor, with the elders of the Priestes, clothed in sackecloth, vnto b Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And they sayde vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the c birth, and there is no strength to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath d heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Asshur his master hath sent to raple on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes which ỹ Lord thy God hath heard, then e lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah said vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraide of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

7 Behold, I will send a blast vpon him,

2. King. 19. 1.

a In signe of griefe and repentance.

b To haue comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed and so his prayer be more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the onely remedies, to seeke vnto God and his ministers.

c We are in as great sorowe as a woman that trauaileth of childe, and cannot bee deliuered.

d That is, will declare by effect that hee hath heard it: for when God deferreth to punish, it seemeth to the flesh, that he knoweth not the sinne, or heareth not the cause.

e Declaring that the ministers office doeth not onely stand in comforting by the word, but also in praying for the people.

and he shall heare f a noyse, and returne to his owne land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the King of Assyr fighting against s Libnah: for hee had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 Yet heard also men say of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: and when he heard it, he sent other messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God h deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the King of Assyr.

11 Behold thou hast heard what i kings of Assyr have done to all lands in destroying them, and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed: as k Gozan, and l Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telassar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah received the letter of the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went vp into the house of the Lorde, and Hezekiah spread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

16 O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, which m dwellest betweene the Cherubims, thou art verie God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, & heare: open thine eyes, O Lord, and see, and heare all the words of Sancherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 Trueth it is, O Lord, that the Kings of Assyr have destroyed all landes, and n their countrey, 19 And have cast their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood or stone: therefore they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lorde our God, saue thou vs out of his hand, that o all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent vnto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Because thou hast prayed vnto mee, concerning Sancherib King of Assyr, 22 This is the word that the Lord hath spoken against him, The p virgine, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou railed on, and blasphemed? and against whome thou hast exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on hie? euen against the q holy one of Israel.

24 By thy seruants hast thou railed on the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my charets I am come vp to the toppe of the mountaines, to the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie cedards thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe vp to the heights of his top and to the forest of his fruitfull places.

25 I have digged and drunke the waters, and with the plant of my feete have I dried all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard howe I have of olde time made it, and have formed it long agoe? and should I nowe bring it, that it should bee destroyed, and layde on ruinous heapes, as cities defenced, 27 Whose inhabitantes ‡ have small power, and are afraid and confounded? they are like the grasse of the fielde and greene herbe, or grasse on the house tops, or corne blasted r afore it be growen.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling, and thy s going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me, and thy tumult is come vp into mine eares, therefore will I put mine t hooke in thy nostrels, and my bridle in thy lips, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou u camest.

30 And this shalbe a y signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eate this yeere such as groweth of it selfe: and the z second yere, such things as grow without sowing: and in the third yeere, sowe yee and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruit thereof.

31 And a the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall againe take roote downeward and beare fruite vpward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shal go a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lorde of hostes shall doe this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, concerning the King of Assyr, he shall not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shielde, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that hee came, he shall returne, and not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

35 For I will defende this citie to saue it for mine owne sake, and for my seruant b Davids sake.

36 ¶ * Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the campe of Assyr an hundreth, fourescore, and fiue thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 So

f Of the Egyptians and Ethiopians, that shall come and fight against him.

g Which was a citie toward Egypt, thinking thereby to haue scared the force of his enemies.

o Whom God had chosen to himselfe, as a chaste virgine, and ouer whom he had care to preserue her from the lustes of the tyrant, as a father would haue ouer his daughter.

p Declaring hereby, that they that are enemies to Gods Church, fight against him, whose quarell his Church onely maintaineth.

q He boasteth of his policie in that that he can find meanes to nourish his armie: and of his power, in that ‡ his armie is so great, that it is able to drie vp whole riuers, and to destroy the waters, which the Iewes had closed in.

r Signifying, that God made not his Church to destroy it, but to preserue it, and therefore he saith that he formed it of olde, euen in his eternall counsel, which cannot be changed.

‡ Ebr. art short in hand.

s He sheweth that the state and power of most flourishing cities endureth but a moment in respect of the Church, which shall remaine for euer, because God is the maintainer thereof.

t Meaning, his counsels, and enterprises.

u Because Sancherib shewed himselfe as a deuouring fish and furious beast, he vseth these similitudes, to teach how he will take him and guide him.

x Thou shalt loose thy labour.

y God giueth signes after two sortes: some goe before the thing, as the signes that Moses wrought in Egypt, which were for the confirmation of their faith: and some goe after the thing, as the sacrifice, which they were commaunded to make three dayes after their departure: and these latter are to keepe the benefites of God in our remembrance, of the which sort this here is.

z Hee promiseth that for two yeeres the ground of it selfe shoulde feede them.

a They whom God had deliuered out of the hands of the Assyrians, shall prosper: and this properly belongeth to the Church.

a Soone after that the Aſſyrians were ſlaine: ſo that God will haue the exerciſe of his children continuall, that they may learne onely to depend vpon God, and aſpire to the heauens.

b For his heart was touched with feare of Gods iudgement, ſeeing he had appoynted him to die ſo quickely after his deliuerance from ſo great ſalamitie, as one vnworthie to remaine in that eſtate, and alſo foreſeeing the great charge, that ſhould come in the Church, foraſmuch as he left no ſonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manaſſeh was not borne: and when he reigned, we ſee what a tyrant he was.

c He doeth not onely promiſe to prolong his life, but to giue him reſt and quietneſſe from the Aſſyrians, who might haue reſtored their armie to reuenge their former diſcomfiture.

1 Hezekiah ſicke. 5 He is reſtored to health by the Lord, and liueth fifteene yeeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefite.

IN * thoſe a dayes was Hezekiah ſicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Iſaiah ſonne of Amoz came vnto him, and ſaid vnto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Put thine houſe in an order: for thou ſhalt die, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiah b turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord,

3 And ſaid, I beſeech thee, Lord, remember nowe howe I haue walked before thee in trueth, and with a perfit heart, and haue done that which is good in thy ſight: and Hezekiah wept ſore.

4 ¶ Then came the word of the Lord to Iſaiah, ſaying,

5 Goe, and ſay vnto Hezekiah, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, & ſeene thy teares: behold, I will adde vnto thy dayes fifteene yeeres.

6 And I will deliuer thee c out of the hand of the King of Aſſhur, and this citie: for I will defend this citie.

7 And d this ſigne ſhalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe this thing, that he hath ſpoken,

8 Behoulde, I will bring againe the ſhadowe of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in the diall of Ahaz by the e ſunne) ten degrees backward: ſo the ſunne returned by ten degrees, by the which degrees it was gone downe.

9 f The writing of Hezekiah King of Iudah, when hee had bene ſicke, and was recouered of his ſickeneſſe.

10 I ſaid in g the cutting off of my dayes, I ſhal goe to the gates of the graue: I am depriued of the reſidue of my yeeres.

11 I ſaid, h I ſhall not ſee the Lord, euen the Lorde in the lande of the liuing: I ſhall ſee man no more among the inhabitantes of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remoued from me, like a ſhepheards tent: I i haue cut off like a weauer, my life: hee will cut me off from the height: from day k to night, thou wilt make an ende of me.

13 I reckoned l to the morning: but hee brake all my bones, like a lyon: from day to night wilt thou make an ende of me.

14 Like a crane or a ſwallowe, ſo did I m chatter: I did mourne as a doue: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, n it hath oppreſſed me, comfort me.

15 What ſhall I ſay? o for he hath ſaide it to me, and he hath done it: I ſhall walke p weakely all my yeeres in the bitterneſſe of my ſoule.

16 O Lord, q to them that ouerliue them, and to all that are in them, the life of my ſpirite ſhalbe knowen, that thou cauſedſt me to r ſleepe, and haſt giuen life to me.

17 Behoulde, for ſ felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleaſure to deliuer my ſoule from the pit of corruption: for thou haſt caſt all my t ſinnes behinde thy backe.

18 For u the graue cannot confeſſe thee: death cannot prayſe thee: they that goe downe into the pitte, cannot hope for thy trueth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, he ſhal confeſſe thee, as I doe this day: the father to the x children ſhall declare thy trueth.

20 The Lord was ready to ſaue me: therefore we will ſing my ſong, all the dayes of y our life in the houſe of the Lord.

21 Then ſaid Iſaiah, Take a lumpe of drye figges and z lay it vpon the boyle, and he ſhall recouer.

22 Alſo Hezekiah had ſaid, What is the ſigne, that I ſhall goe vp into the Houſe of the Lord?

i By my ſinne I haue prouoked God to take my life from me.
k That is, in one day, or ſhortly.
l Ouer night I thought that I ſhould liue till morning, but my pangs in the night perſwaded mee the contrarie: hee ſheweth the horrour, that the faithfull haue, when they apprehend Gods iudgement againſt their ſinne.
m I was ſo oppreſt with ſorowe, that I was not able to vtter my words, but onely to grone and ſigh.
n To wit, ſorowe and griefe both of body and minde.
o God hath declared by his Prophet, that I ſhall die, and therefore I will yeelde vnto him.
p I ſhall haue no releaſe, but continuall ſorowes whiles I liue.
q They that ſhall ouerliue the men that are nowe aliue, and al they that are in theſe yeeres, ſhall acknowledge his benefite.
r That after that thou haddeſt condemned mee to death, thou reſtoredſt mee to life.
ſ Whereas I thought to haue liued in reſt and eaſe, being deliuered from mine enemie, I had griefe vpon griefe.
t He eſteemeth more the remiſſion of his ſinnes, and Gods fauour, then a thouſande liues.
u For as much as God hath placed man in this worlde to glorifie him, the godly take it as a ſigne of his wrath when their dayes were ſhortened, eyther becauſe that they ſeemed vnworthie for their ſinnes to liue longer in his ſeruice, or for their zeale to Gods glorie, ſeeing that there are ſo fewe in earth, that doe regard it, as Pſalm. 6. 5. and 115. 17.
x All poſteritie ſhall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duetie towarde their children, ſhall inſtruct them in thy graces and mercies towarde mee.

of Babel, sent letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that hee had bene sicke, and was recouered.

2 And Hezekiah was c glad of them, and shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto king Hezekiah, and saide vnto him, What sayde these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then said he, What haue d they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Isaiah sayde to Hezekiah, Heare the worde of the Lord of hostes,

6 Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue layde vp in store vntill this day, shall be e carried to Babel: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shall proceede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall bee eunuches in the palace of the king of Babel.

2 Remission of sinnes by Christ. 3. The coming of Iohn Baptist. 18 The Prophet reproueth the idolaters, and them that trust not in the Lord.

a This is a consolation for the Church, assuring them that they shall be neuer destitute of Prophers, whereby he exhorteth the true ministers of God that then were, and those also that should come after him, to comfort the poore afflicted, and to assure them of their deliuerance both of bodie and soule.

COmfort a yee, comfort yee my people, will your God say.

2 Speake comfortably to Ierusalem, & cry vnto her, that her b warrefare is accomplished, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for shee hath receiued of the Lordes hand c double for all her sinnes.

3 A d voyce cryeth in the e wildernesse, f Prepare yee the way of the Lord: make straight in the desert a path for our God.

4 Euery valley shall be exalted, and euery g mountaine and hill shalbe made lowe: and the crooked shall bee straight, and the rough places plaine.

5 And the glory of the Lorde shall bee reuealed, and all h flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lorde hath spoken it.

6 A i voyce said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grasse, and all the k grace thereof is as the flowre of the field.

7 The grasse withereth, the flowre fadeth, because the l Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: surely the people is grasse.

8 The grasse withereth, the flowre fadeth: but the m word of our God shal stand for euer.

9 ¶ O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee vp into the hie n mountaine: O Ierusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with strength: lift it vp, bee not afraide: say vnto the cities of Iudah, Behold o your God.

10 Behold, the Lord God wil come with power, and p his arme shall rule for him: beholde, his reward is with him, and his worke before him.

11 Hee shall feede his flocke like a shepheard: he shal gather the lambes with his arme, and carie them in his bosome, & shal guide them with q yong.

12 Who hath measured the waters in his r fist? and counted heauen with the spanne, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure? and waighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hilles in a balance?

12 Thou shalt seeke them, and shalt not l finde them: to wit, the men of thy strife, for they shall be as nothing, and the men that warre against thee, as a thing of nought.

13 For I the Lorde thy God will holde thy right hand, saying vnto thee, Feare not, I will helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou m worme, Iaakob, and yee men of Israel: I will helpe thee, sayeth the Lorde and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Beholde, I will make thee a roller, and a newe threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh the n mountaines, and bring them to powder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the wind shall carie them away, and the whirlewinde shall scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lorde, and shalt glorie in the holy one of Israel.

17 When o the poore and the needie seeke water, and there is none (their tongue fayleth for thirst: I the Lord will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them)

18 I will open riuers in the tops of the hilles, and fountaines in the middes of the valleys: I will make the wildernesse as a poole of water, and the waste p land as springs of water.

19 I will set in the wildernesse the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrrhe tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wildernesse the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

d Who hath created man and maintayned his succession.

e Though the world set vp neuer so many gods, yet they diminish nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue euer bene, and shalbe for euer.

f Considering mine excellent workes among my people.

g They assembled themselues, and conspired against me to mainteine their idolatrie.

h He noteth the obstinacie of the idolaters to maintaine their superstitions.

i And therefore ought est not to pollute thy selfe with the superstition of the Gentiles.

k That is, by the force of my promise, in the performance whereof I will shewe my selfe faithfull and iust.

l Because they shalbe destroyed.

m Thus he calleth them because they were contemned of all the world, and that they considering their owne poore estate, should seeke vnto him for helpe.

n I will make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they neuer so mighty: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdome of Christ.

o That is, they that shall bee afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon.

p God will rather change the order of nature, then they shoulde want any thing, that crie to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby that they shall lacke nothing by the way, when they returne from Babylon.

20 Therefore let them see and knowe, and let them consider and understande together that the hand of the Lorde had done this, and the holy one of Israel [q] hath created it.

21 [r] Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons, sayeth the King of Iaakob.

22 Let them bring them forth, & let them tell vs what shall come: let them shewe the former things what they be, that wee may consider them, and know the latter ende of them: either declare vs things for to come.

23 Shewe the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, doe good or doe euill, that we may declare it, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath [t] chosen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I haue raised vp [t] from the North, and he shall come: from the East sunne shall [u] hee call vpon my Name, and shall come vpon [x] princes as vpon clay, and as the potter treadeth mire vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may knowe? or before time, that we may say, Hee is righteous? Surely there is none that sheweth: surely there is none that declareth: surely there is none that heareth [y] your words.

27 I am the first, that sayeth to Zion, Behold, behold [z] them: and I will giue to Ierusalem [a] one that shal bring good tidings.

28 But when [b] I beheld, there was none, and when I enquired of them, there was no counsellour, and when I demaunded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confusion.

q That is, hath appoynted and determined that it shall come so to passe.

r He biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forth their idoles, that they may be tryed whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they cannot doe, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

t So that a man cannot make an idole, but he must doe that, which God detesteth and abhorreth: for he chuseth his owne deuices, and forsaketh the Lords.

t Meaning, the Chaldeans.

u That is, Cyrus, who shall doe all things in my Name, and by my direction: whereby he meaneth, that both their captiuitie, and deliuerance shall be ordered by Gods prouidence and appointment.

x Both of the Chaldeans and others.

y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can worke any of these things.

z That is, the Israelites, which returne from the captiuitie.

a To wit, a continuall succession of Prophets and ministers.

b When I looked whether the idoles could do these things, I found that they had neither wisedome nor power to doe any thing: therefore hee concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanitie.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why he was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

a That is, Christ who in respect of his manhood is called here seruant. The Prophets vse to make mention of Christ after that they haue declared any great promise, because he is the foundation whereupon all the promises are made and ratified.

BEholde, [a] my seruant: [b] I will stay vpon him: mine elect, in whome my soule [c] delighteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: hee shall bring foorth [d] iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shall not [e] crie, nor lift vp, nor cause his voyce to be heard in the streete.

b For I haue committed all my power to him, as to a most faithfull steward. Some reade, I will establish him: to wit, in his office, by giuing him the fulnesse of the Spirit.

c He onely is acceptable vnto me, and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meanes of reconciliation, Mat. 12. 18. ephe. 1. 4.

d He shall declare himselfe gouernour ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his word, and rule them by his Spirit.

e His comming shall not bee with pompe and noyse, as earthly princes.

3 A [f] bruised reede shall hee not breake, and the smoking [g] flaxe shall he not quench: he shall bring forth iudgement in [h] trueth.

4 He shal not faile nor be discouraged till he haue [i] set iudgement in the earth: and the [k] yles shall waite for his lawe.

5 Thus sayeth God the Lorde (hee that created the heauens & spread them abroade: hee that stretched foorth the earth, and the buds thereof: hee that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirite to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in [l] righteousnesse, and will holde [m] thine hande, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a [n] couenant of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou maiest open the eyes of the blinde, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and them that sit in darkenesse, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my [o] glory will I not giue to another, neyther my prayse to grauen images.

9 Behold, the former things are [p] come to passe, and new things doe I declare: before they come forth, I tel you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lorde a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that goe downe to the sea, and al that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wildernes & the cities thereof lift vp their voyce, the townes that [q] Kedar doeth inhabite: let the inhabitants of the rockes sing: let them shoute from the toppe of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glorie vnto the Lorde, and declare his prayse in the yles.

13 The Lord shal goe forth as a [r] gyant: hee shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: he shall shoute and cry, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and refrained my selfe: now wil I cry like a [s] trauailing woman: I will destroy and deuoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, and hilles, and dry vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods yles, and I will dry vp the pooles.

16 ¶ And I will bring the [t] blinde by a way that they know not, and leade them by pathes that they haue not knowen: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things streight. These things will I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall bee greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Yee are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, ye deafe: and yee blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but my [u] seruant? or f He will not hurt the weake and feeble, but support and comfort them.

g Meaning, the wicke of a lampe, or candle which is almost out, but he will cherish it and snuffe it, that it may shine brighter.

h Although he fauour the weak, yet will he not spare the wicked, but will iudge them according to trueth and equitie.

i Till hee haue set all things in good order.

k The Gentiles shalbe desirous to receiue his doctrine.

l Meaning, vnto a lawfull and iust vocation.

m To assist and guide thee.

n As him, by whom the promise made to all nations in Abraham, shall be fulfilled.

o I wil not suffer my glory to be dimnished: which I should doe, if I were not faithfull in performing the same, and the idolaters thereby would extoll their idoles aboue me.

p As in time past I haue bene true in my promises, so will I be in time to come.

q Meaning, the Arabians, vnder whom he comprehendeth all the people of the East.

r He sheweth the zeale of the Lorde, and his power in the conseruation of his Church.

f I wil haste thee to execute my vengeance, which I haue so long deferred, as a woman that desireth to be deliuered when shee is in trauaile.

t That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie and care.

n To wit, Israel, which should haue most light, because of my Lawe.

deafe as my x messenger, that I sent? who is blinde as the y perfect, and blinde as the Lords seruant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not? opening the eares, but hee heareth not?

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousnes sake that he may magnifie the lawe, and exalt it.

22 But this people is z robbed and spoyled, and shalbe all snared in dungeons, and they shall be hid in prison houses: they shall be for a pray, & none shall deliuer: a spoyle, and none shall say, a Restore.

23 Who among you shall hearken to this, and take heede, and heare for b afterwards?

24 Who gaue Iaakob for a spoyle, and Israel to the robbers? Did not the Lorde, because we haue sinned against him? for they would not walke in his wayes, neyther be obedient vnto his Lawe.

25 Therefore he hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battel: and it set him on fire round about, and hee knewe not, & it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

x The Priest to whom my word is committed, which should not onely heare it himselfe, but cause others to heare it.

y As the Priests & prophets that should be lights to others?

z Because they will not acknowledge this benefite of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, he suffereth them to be spoyled of their enemies through their owne fault and incredulitie.

a There shall be none to succour them, or to will the enemie to restore that, which hee hath spoyled.

b Meaning, Gods wrath.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiseth deliuerance to the Iewes. 11 There is no God but one alone.

a But now thus saith the Lord, a that created thee, O Iaakob: and hee that formed thee, O Israel, b Feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, Thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the c waters, I will be with thee, and through the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt not bee burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Sauiour: I gaue d Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, & Seba for thee.

4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honourable, and I loued thee, therefore will I giue e man for thee, and people for thy sake.

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seede from the f East, and gather thee from the West.

6 I will say to the North, Giue: and to the South, Keepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

7 Euery one shalbe called by my g name: for I created him for my glory, formed him and made him.

8 I will bring forth the blind people, and they shal haue eyes, and the deafe, and they shall haue eares.

a After these threatnings he promiseth deliuerance to his Church, because he hath regenerate them, adopted them, and called them.

b When thou seest dangers and conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefite and the loue of thy God, and it shall encourage thee.

c By water and fire, he meaneth all kinde of troubles and perils.

d I turned Sancheribs power against these countries, and made them to suffer that affliction which thou shouldest haue done, and so were as the payment of thy ransome, Chap.37.9.

e I will not spare any man rather thē thou shouldest perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithfull, then all the wicked in the worlde.

f Hee prophecieth of their deliuerance from the captiuitie of Babylon, and so of the calling of the vniuersall Church, alluding to that which is written, Deut.30.3.

g Meaning, that he could not be vnmindfull of them, except he would neglect his owne Name and glory.

9 Let all the nations be gathered h together, & let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this and shewe vs former things? let them bring foorth their i witnesses, that they may be iustified: but let them k heare, and say, It is trueth.

10 You l are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my m seruant, whome I haue chosen: therefore ye shal know and beleeue me, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, euen I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Sauiour.

12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saith the Lorde that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, & there is none that can deliuer out mine hand: I will doe it, and who shall let it?

14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and n brought it downe: they are all fugitiues, and the Chaldeans cry in o the ships.

15 I am the Lord your Holy one, the creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus saith the Lorde which maketh a way in p the sea, and a path in the mightie q waters.

17 When hee r bringeth out the s charet and horse, the armie and the power ie together, and shall not rise: they are extinct, and quenched as towe.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.

19 Beholde, I do a new thing: now shall it come forth: shall you not know it? I will euen make a way in the t desart, and floods in the wildernesse.

20 The wilde u beasts shall honour me, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desart, and floods in the wilderneste to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shal shew forth my praise.

22 And thou hast not x called vpon mee, O Iaakob, but thou hast y wearied mee, O Israel.

23 Thou z hast not brought me the sheep of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

h Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous worke, nor all their idols are able to doe the like, as Chap.41.22.

i To prooue that the things which are spoken of them, are true.

k Shewing, that the malice of the wicked hindreth them in the knowledge of the trueth, because they will not heare when God speaketh by his word.

l The Prophets and people to whom I haue giuen my Lawe.

m Meaning specially Christ, and by him, all the faithfull.

n By Darius and Cyrus.

o They shall crie when they would escape by water, seeing that the course of Euphrates is turned an other way by the enemie.

p When he deliuered Israel from Pharaoh, Exod.14.22.

q When the Israelites passed through Iorden, Iosh.3.17.

r When he deliuered his people out of Egypt.

s Pharaoh and his mightie armie.

t Meaning, that their deliuerance out of Babylon, should be more famous then that from Egypt was, Iere.23.7. hag.2.10.2.cor.5.17. reuelat.21.5.

u They shall haue such abundance of all things as they returne home, euen in the drie and barren places, that the very beastes shall feele my benefites, and shall acknowledge them: much more men ought to bee thankefull for the same.

x Thou hast not worshipped mee as thou oughtest to haue done.

y Because thou hast not willingly receiued that which I did commaund thee, thou diddest greene mee. Whereby hee sheweth that his mercies were the onely cause of their deliuerance, forasmuch as they had deserued the contrary.

z Meaning, in true faith and obedience.

24 Thou boughtest me no sweet a sauour with money, neither hast thou made mee drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me b to serue w thy sinnes, and wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, euen I am he that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, & will not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put me in c remembrance: let vs bee iudged together: count thou that thou mayest be iustified.

27 Thy d first father hath sinned, & thy e teachers haue transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I haue f prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuarie, and haue made Iaakob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

a Either for the composition of the sweete ointment, Exod. 30. 34. or for the sweete incense, Exod. 30. 7.
b Thou hast made mee to beare an heauy burden by thy sinnes.
c If I forget any thing that may make for thy iustification, put mee in remembrance and speake for thy selfe. d Thine ancestors. e Thy Priestes and thy Prophets. f That is, reiected, abhorred, and destroyed them in the wildernesse, and at other times.

CHAP. XLIIII.

5 The Lord promiseth comfort, and that he will assemble his Church of diuers nations. 9 The vanitie of idols. 17 The beastlinesse of idolaters.

YEt now heare, O Iaakob my seruant, and Israel, whome I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed a thee from the wombe: he will helpe thee. Feare not, O Iaakob, my seruant, and thou righteous, b whome I haue chosen.

3 For I will powre water vpon the c thirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I wil powre my Spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy buds,

4 And they d shall growe as among the grasse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.

5 One shall say, I am the Lords: another e shalbe called by the name of Iaakob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the king of Israel, and his redeemer, the Lord of hostes, f I am the first, and I am the last, and without me is there no God,

7 And who is like me, that shall g call, and shall declare it, & set h it in order before me, since I appointed the i ancient people? and what is at hand, and what thinges are to come? let k them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraid: haue not I told thee of olde, & haue declared it? I you are euen my witnesses, whether there bee a God beside mee, and that there is no God that I knowe not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and m their delectable things shall nothing profite: and they are their owne witnesses, n that they see not nor know; therefore they shall be confounded.

10 Who hath made o a god, or molten an image, that is p profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all that are of the q fellowship thereof shall be confounded: for the workemen themselues are men: let them all bee gathered together, and r stand vp, yet they shall feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and facioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an f hungred, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he facioneth it with a red threede, hee planeth it, and he purtreieth it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, and according to the beautie of a man that it may remaine in t an house.

14 He will hewe him downe cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: hee planteth a firre tree, and the raine doeth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he will take thereof and u warme himselfe: he also kindleth it and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worshippeth it: hee maketh an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, & vpon the halfe thereof he x eateth flesh: he rosteth the roste and is satisfied: also he warmeth himselfe and sayth, Aha, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And the residue thereof hee maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it, and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and sayth, Deliuer me: for thou art my God.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstood: y for God hath shut their eyes that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none ‡ considereth in his heart, neither is their knowledge nor vnderstanding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coales thereof: I haue rosted flesh, and eaten it, and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I bowe to the stocke of a tree?

20 He feedeth z of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceiued him, that hee cannot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

a He created and chose the from the beginning of his owne mercie, and before thou couldest merit any thing.
b Whome God accepteth as righteous: or which haddest occasion thereunto because of the Lawe, and of thine holy vocation.
c Because man of himselfe is as the drie and barren lande, hee promiseth to moysten him with the waters of his holy Spirit, Ioel. 2. 28. Iohn 7. 38. acles 2. 17.
d That is, thy children and posteritie shall increase wonderfully after their deliuerance from Babylon. e By this diuersitie of speech hee meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shall be holy and receiue the true religion of God, as Psalm. 87. 5. f I am alwayes like my selfe, that is, mercifull toward my Church, and most able to maintaine it, as chap. 41. 4. and 48. 12. reuelat. 1. 17. and 22. 13. g And appoint them that shall deliuer the Church. h That is, declare vnto mee, how I ought to proceede herein. i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because he preferred them to all other, in his eternall election. k Meaning their idoles. l Reade Chap. 43. 10. m Whatsoeuer they bestowe vpon their idoles to make them to seeme glorious.

n That is, the idolaters seeing their idoles blinde, must needes be witnesses of their owne blindnesse, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power.
o Meaning, that whatsoeuer is made by y hand of man, if it be esteemed as God, is most detestable.
p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bookes of the laitie, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprofitable, but chap. 41. 24. abominable: and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errors, Ierem. 10. 15. Habakkuk, a lying teacher, 2. 18.
q That is, which by any way consent eyther to the making or worshipping.
r Signifying, that the multitude shall not then saue the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselues thereby among men.
f He describeth the raging affection of the idolaters, which forget their owne necessities to set foorth their deuotion towarde their idoles. t To place it in some Temple.
u Hee setteth foorth the obstinacie and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by dayly experience that their idoles are no better then the rest of the matter whereof they are made, yet they refuse the one part, and make a God of the other, as the Papistes make their cake God, and the rest of their idoles. x That is, hee eyther maketh a table or trenchers. y The Prophet giueth heere an answere to all them that wonder howe it is possible that any should bee so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts. ‡ Ebr. turneth.
z Hee is abused as one that woulde eate ashes, thinking to satisfie his hunger.

21 a Remember these (O Iaakob and Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloude, and thy sinnes as a mist: turne vnto me, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 b Reioyce yee heauens: for the Lord hath done it: shoute, ye lower partes of the earth: breast forth into prayses, yee mountaines, O forest, and euery tree therein: for the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob, and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus sayeth the Lord thy redeemer, and hee that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all things, that spread out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroy the c tokens of the soothsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backwarde, and make their knowledge foolishnesse.

26 ¶ He confirmeth the word of his d seruant, and performeth the counsell of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt bee inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Ye shall be built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 He sayeth to the e deepe, Be drie, and I will drie vp thy floods.

28 Hee sayeth to f Cyrus, Thou art my shepherd: and hee shall performe all my desire: saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt bee built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely layde.

a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, and therefore he warneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleaue to any but to the liuing God, when they should be among the idolaters.

b He sheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people shalbe so great, that the insensible creatures shall be mooued therewith.

c He armeth them against the soothsayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand, that they knewe by the starres that God would not deliuer them, & that Babylon should stand.

d Of Isaiah & the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of Gods fauour and deliuerance. e He sheweth that Gods worke shoulde be no lesse notable in this their deliuerance, then when hee brought them out of Egypt through the Sea. f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person, by whom it should be, more then an hundreth yeere before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iust in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

THus sayeth the Lord vnto a Cyrus his b annoynted, whose right hand I haue holden c to subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loynes of Kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will goe before thee and make the d crooked streight: I will breake the brasen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darknesse, and the things hid in secret places, that thou mayest e knowe that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.

4 For Iaakob my seruants f sake, and Israel mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name, and name thee, though thou hast not knowen me.

a To assure the Iewes of their deliuerance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person and the meanes.

b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anoynted for a time, but after another sort, then he called Dauid.

c To guide him in the deliuerance of my people. d I will take away all impediments and lets. e Not that Cyrus did knowe God to worship him aright, but he had a certaine particular knowledge, as prophane men may haue of his power, & so was compelled to deliuer Gods people. f Not for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthinesse.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I g girded thee though thou hast not knowen me,

6 That they may knowe from the rising of the sunne and from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the h light and create darkenesse: I make peace and create euill: I the Lord doe all these things.

8 Yee heauens, send the dewe from aboue, and let the cloudes droppe downe i righteousnesse: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice growe forth: let it bring them forth together: I the Lord haue k created him.

9 l Woe vnto him that striueth with his maker, the potsherd with the potsherds of the earth: shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, m It hath none hands?

10 Woe vnto him that saith to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the Holy one of Israel, and his maker, Aske me n of things to come concerning my sonnes, and concerning the workes of mine handes: command you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose hands haue spred out the heauens, I haue euen commaunded all their o armie.

13 I haue raised p him vp in righteousnesse, and I will direct all his waies: he shal build my citie, and hee shall let goe my captiues, not for q price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lord, The labour r of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shalbe s thine: they shall followe thee, and shall goe in chaines: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verely thou, O God, t hidest thy selfe, O God, the sauiour of Israel.

16 All they shall be ashamed and also confounded: they shall goe to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall bee saued in the Lord, with an euerlasting saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded, world without ende.

18 For thus saith the Lord (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, g I haue giuen thee strength, power and authoritie.

h I send peace and warre, prosperitie, and aduersitie, as Amos 3.6.

i He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, Though when ye looke to the heauens & earth for succour, ye see nothing now but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring forth most certaine tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promise, which is meant by righteousnesse.

k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vse and purpose.

l Hereby he bridleth their impatience, which in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God, and will not tarie his pleasure: willing that man should match with his like, and not contend against God.

m That is, it is not perfitely made.

n In steade of murmuring, humble your selues, and aske what ye will for the consolation of my children, and you shall bee sure of it, as ye are of these things which are at your commandement. Some reade it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the similitude. o That is, the starres. p To wit, Cyrus, that I may shewe by him the faithfulnesse of my promise in deliuering my people. q Meaning, freely, and without ransome, or any grieuous condition. r These people were tributaries to the Persians, & so king Artahshashte gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra 7.21. s Whereas tofore they were thine enemies, they shall nowe honour thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ. t Hereby he exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliuerance be deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

u To wit, of man, but chiefly of his Church.
x As do the false gods, which giue vncertaine answeres.
y Al ye idolaters, which though you seeme to haue neuer so much worldly dignitie, yet in Gods sight you are vile & abiect.
z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.
a That is, that the thing, which I haue promised, shalbe faithfully performed.
b The knowledge of God, and the true worshipping shalbe through al the world, Rom. 14.11. Phil.2.10. whereby he signifieth that we must not onely serue God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.
c Meaning, the faithfull shall feele and confesse this.
d All the contemmers of God.

and made it: hee hath prepared it, he created it not in vaine: hee formed it to bee u inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secrete, neither x in a place of darkenesse in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto the seed of Iaakob, Seeke you me: I the Lord doe speake righteousnesse, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, and come: draw neere together, y yee abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.

21 Tell yee and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning? or hath told it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside mee, a iust God, and a Sauiour: there is none beside me.

22 Looke vnto me, and yee shalbe saued: all the z endes of the earth shalbe saued: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I haue sworne by my selfe: the word is gone out of my mouth in a righteousnesse, and shall not returne, That euery b knee shall bowe vnto mee, and euery tongue shall sweare by me.

24 Surely c hee shall say, In the Lord haue I righteousnesse and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that d prouoke him, shalbe ashamed.

25 The whole seede of Israel shall be iustified, and glory in the Lord.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles. 3 Hee calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his workes.

a These were the chiefe idoles of Babylon.
b Because they were of gold and siluer, the Medes and Persians caried them away.
c The beastes that caried the idoles, fell downe vnder their burden.
d He derideth the idoles, which had neither soule nor sense.
e He sheweth the difference betweene the idoles and the true God: for they must bee caried of others, but God himselfe carieth his, as Deut.32.11.

BEl is bowed downe: a Nebo is fallen: their idoles were vpon the b beastes, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

2 c They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not ridde them of the burden, and their d soule is gone into captiuitie.

3 Heare ye mee, O house of Iaakob, and all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are c borne of mee from the wombe, and brought vp of me from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I will beare you vntil the hoare haires: I haue made you: I will also beare you, and I will carie you: and I will deliuer you.

5 ¶ To whom will yee make me like, or make mee equall, or e compare mee, that I should be like him?

6 They draw golde out of the bagge, and weigh siluer in the ballance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bowe downe and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they carry him and set him in his place: so doeth hee stand, and cannot remooue from his place. Though one crie vnto him, yet can he not answere, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe b to minde, O ye transgressers.

9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stand, and I will doe whatsoeuer I will.

11 I call a i bird from the East, and the man of my k counsell from farre: as I haue spoken, so will I bring it to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.

12 Heare me, yee stubburne hearted, that are farre from l iustice.

13 I bring m neere my iustice: it shall not be farre off, and my saluation shall not tary: For I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glory vnto Israel.

f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserue you for euer.
g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie, and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, shoulde bee tempted to thinke that their God was not so mightie as the idoles of their enemies: therefore he describeth the originall of all the idoles, to make them to bee abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can bee spoken in their commendation, is but to prooue them vile, Baruch 6.25.
h Become wise, meaning that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like mad men.
i That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as a bird, and fight against Babylon. k Him by whom I haue appoynted to execute that, which I haue determined.
l Which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promise.
m Hee sheweth that mans incredulitie cannot abolish the promise of God, Rom.3.3.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon, and the causes wherfore.

a Which hast liued in wealth and wantonnesse, and hast not yet beene ouercome by any enemie.
b Thy gouernement shalbe taken from thee.
c Thou shalt be brought to most vile seruitude: for to turne the mill was the office of slaues.
d The things wherein she setteth her greatest pride, shall be made vile, euen from the head to the foote.
e I will vse no humanitie nor pitie toward thee.
f The Israelites shall confesse, that the Lord doeth this for his Churches sake.
g For very shame, and hide thy selfe.
h They abused Gods iudgements, thinking that hee punished the Israelites, because he would vtterly cast them off, and therefore in stead of pitying their miserie, thou diddest increase it.

COme downe and sitte in the dust: O a virgine, daughter Babel, sitte on the ground: there is no b throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and delicate.

2 Take the milstones, and c grinde meale: loose thy lockes: d make bare the feete: vncouer the legge, and passe through the floods.

3 Thy filthinesse shall bee discouered, and thy shame shall bee seene: I will take vengeance, and I will not meete thee as a e man.

4 f Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes is his Name, the Holy one of Israel.

5 g Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more bee called, The ladie of kingdomes.

6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou diddest shewe them no h mercie, but thou diddest lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

7 And thou saydest, I shall be a lady for euer, so that thou diddest not set thy minde to these things, neither didst thou remember the latter ende thereof.

8 Therefore nowe heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest careleslie, She saith in her heart, I am and none else: I shall not sitte as a widowe, neither shall knowe the losse of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children, and widowhoode: they shall come vpon thee

i So that the punishment shall be so great as is possible to be imagined.

k Thou diddest thinke that thine owne wisedome & pollicie would haue saued thee.

l He derideth their vaine confidence, that put their trust in any thing, but in God, condemning also such vaine sciences, which serue to no vse, but to delude the people, and to bring them from depending only on God.

m They shall vtterly perish, and no part of them remaine.

n They shall flee euery one to that place, which he thought by his speculations to be most safe: but that shall deceiue them.

thee in their i perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse: thou hast sayde, None seeth mee. Thy k wisedome and thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast sayde in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shal euill come vpon thee, and thou shalt not knowe the morning thereof: destruction shall fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not bee able to put away: destruction shall come vpon thee suddenly, yer thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, & in the multitude of thy soothsayers (with whome thou hast l wearied thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou mayest haue profite, or if so be thou mayest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the Astrologers, the starre-gazers, and Prognosticators stande vp, and saue thee from these things, that shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble: the fire shall burne them: they shall not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame: there shall be no coales m to warme at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shal they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen thy merchants from thy youth: euery one shall wander to his owne n quarter: none shall saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reprooued. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

a He detecteth their hypocrisie which vaunted themselues to be Israelites and were not so in deede.

b Meaning, the fountaine and stocke.

c They make a shew, as though they would haue none other God.

d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, forasmuch as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubbernes and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.

f Howe thou shouldest be deliuered out of Babylon.

g Will yee not acknowledge this my benefite, and declare it vnto others?

HEare yee this, O house of Iaakob, which are a called by the name of Israel, and are come out of b the waters of Iudah: which sweare by the Name of the Lorde, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in trueth, nor in righteousnesse.

2 For they are called of the holy citie, and stay themselues c vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared the former things of old, and they went out of my mouth, and I shewed d them: I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knewe, that e thou art obstinate, and thy necke is an yron sinew, and thy browe braße.

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of old: before it came to passe, I shewed it thee, lest thou shouldest say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, beholde all this, and wil not ye f declare it? I haue shewed thee new things, euen nowe, and hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created nowe, and not of old, and euen before this thou heardest them not, least thou shouldest say, Beholde, I h knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest knowe them, neither yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldest grieuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a transgressour from the i wombe.

9 For my Names sake will I deferre my wrath, and for my prayse will I refraine it from thee, k that I cut thee not off.

10 Beholde, I haue fined thee, l but not as siluer: I haue m chosen thee in the fornace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake will I doe it: for how should my Name n be polluted? o surely I will not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iaakob, and Israel, my called, p I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: when I call them, q they stand vp together.

14 All you, assemble your selues, and heare: which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loued r him: he will doe his will in Babel, and his arme shall be against the Caldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, and his way shall prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secrete from the s beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and spirit hath t sent me.

17 Thus sayth the Lorde thy Redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee u to profite, and lead thee by the way, that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh that thou haddest hearkned to my commandements! then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, and thy righteousnes as the waues of the Sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene as the sand, and the fruite of thy body like the graueli thereof: his x name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 y Goe ye out of Babel: flee yee from the Caldeans, with a voyce of ioy: tell and declare this: shewe it foorth to the ende of the earth: say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iaakob.

21 And they z were not thirstie: hee led them through the wildernesse: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no a peace, sayeth the Lord, vnto the wicked.

h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doeth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisedome.

i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as the birth of the Church.

k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercie that must saue thee.

l For I had respect to thy weakenes and infirmitie: for in siluer there is some purenes, but in vs there is nothing but drosse.

m I tooke thee out of the fornace where thou shouldest haue bene consumed.

n God ioyneth the saluation of his with his owne honour: so that they can not perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32. 27.

o Read Chap. 42. 8.

p Reade Chap. 41. 4.

q To obey me, and to doe whatsoeuer I command them.

r Meaning Cyrus, whom he had chosen to destroy Babylon.

s Since the time that I declared my selfe to your fathers.

t To assure them of good. x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel. y After that hee had forewarned them of their captinitie, and of the cause thereof, hee sheweth them the great ioy that shall come of their deliuerance. z Hee sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh, that the wicked hypocrites shoulde not abuse Gods promise, in whome was neither faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57. 21.

t Thus the Prophet speaketh for himselfe, and these things. u What things shall doe thee good. x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel. y After that hee had forewarned them of their captinitie, and of the cause thereof, hee sheweth them the great ioy that shall come of their deliuerance. z Hee sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh, that the wicked hypocrites shoulde not abuse Gods promise, in whome was neither faith nor repentance, as Chap. 57. 21.

wided the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hoſtes is his Name.

16 And I haue put my woordes in thy [a] mouth, and haue defended thee in the ſhadowe of mine hand, that I may plant the [o] heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and ſay vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and ſtand vp, O Ieruſalem, which haſt dronke at the hand of the Lord the [p] cup of his wrath: thou haſt dronken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the ſonnes, whome ſhee hath brought forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the ſonnes that ſhee hath brought vp.

19 Theſe two [q] things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? deſolation and deſtruction, and famine, and the ſword: by whom ſhall I comfort thee?

20 Thy ſonnes haue fainted, and lye at the head of all the ſtreetes as a wilde bull in a net, [r] are full of the wrath of the Lorde, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miſerable and dronken, but [r] not with wine.

22 Thus ſaith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cauſe of his people, Behold, I haue taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, euen the dregs of the cup of my wrath: thou ſhalt drinke it no more.

23 But I wil put it into their hand that ſpoyle thee: which haue ſayd to thy ſoule, Bowe downe, that wee may goe ouer, and thou haſt layd thy body as the ground, and as the ſtreete to them that went ouer.

n Meaning, of Iſaiah, and of all true miniſters, who are defended by his protection.
o That all things may be reſtored in heauen and earth, Ephe 1.10.
p Thou haſt bene iuſtly puniſhed and ſufficiently, as Chap. 40.2. and this puniſhment in the elect is by meaſure, and according as God giueth grace to beare it: but in the reprobate it is the iuſt vengeance of God to driue them to an inſenſiblenes and madneſſe, as Iere 25.15,16.
q Whereof the one is outward, as of the things that come to the body: as warre and famine: and the other is in inward, and appertaineth to the minde: that is, to be without comfort: therefore he ſayth, Howe ſhalt thou be comforted?
r But with trouble and feare.

CHAP. LII.

1 A conſolation to the people of God. 7 Of the meſſengers thereof.

Aryſe, aryſe: put on thy ſtrength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beautie, O Ieruſalem, the holy citie: for henceforth there ſhall no [a] more come into thee the vncircumciſed and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy ſelfe from the [b] duſt: ariſe, and ſit downe, O Ieruſalem: looſe the bands of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zion.

3 For thus ſayth the Lord, Ye were ſolde for [c] nought: therefore ſhall ye be redeemed without money.

4 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, My people went [d] downe aforetime into Egypt to ſoiourne there, and Aſſhur [e] oppreſſed them without cauſe.

5 Nowe therefore what haue I here, ſayth the Lorde, that my people is taken away for nought, and they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, ſayth the Lord: and my Name all the day continually is [f] blaſphemed?

6 Therefore my people ſhall knowe my Name: therefore they ſhall knowe in that day, that I am he that doe ſpeake: beholde, it is I.

7 Howe [g] beautifull vpon the mountaines are the feete of him, that declareth and publiſheth peace! that declareth good tidings, and publiſheth ſaluation, ſaying vnto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

8 [h] The voyce of thy watchmen ſhall be heard: they ſhall lift vp their voyce, & ſhoute together: for they ſhall ſee eye to eye, when the Lord ſhall bring againe Zion.

9 O ye deſolate places of Ieruſalem, be glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: hee hath redeemed Ieruſalem.

10 The Lord hath made [i] bare his holy arme in the ſight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth ſhall ſee the ſaluation of our God.

11 [k] Depart, depart yee: goe out from thence, and touch no vncleane thing: go out of the midſt of her: be ye cleane, that [l] beare the veſſels of the Lord.

12 For ye ſhall not goe out [m] with haſte, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lorde will goe before you, and the God of Iſrael will gather you together.

13 Beholde, my [n] ſeruant ſhall proſper: he ſhall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.

14 As many were aſtonied at thee (his viſage was ſo [o] deformed of men, and his forme of the ſonnes of men) ſo [p] ſhall hee ſprinckle many nations: the Kings ſhall ſhut their [q] mouthes at him: for that which had not bene tolde them, ſhall they ſee, and that which they had not heard, ſhall they [r] vnderſtand.

f To wit, by wicked, which thinke that I haue no power to deliuer them.

1 Of Chriſt and his kingdome, whoſe worde fewe will beleeue. 6 All men are ſinners. 11 Chriſt is our righteouſnes, 12 And is dead for our ſinnes.

Who [a] will beleeue our report? and to whome is the [b] arme of the Lorde reuealed?

2 But hee ſhall growe vp before him as a branche, and as a [c] roote out of a drie [d] ground: hee hath neither forme nor beautie: when we ſhall ſee him, there ſhall be no forme that we ſhould deſire him.

a The Prophet ſheweth that very fewe ſhall receiue this their preaching of Chriſt, and of their deliuerance by him, Iohn 12.38. rom. 10.16.
b Meaning, that none can beleeue, but whoſe hearte God touches with the vertue of his holy Spirite.
c The beginning of Chriſtes kingdome ſhall be ſmall, and contemptible in the ſight of man, but it ſhall growe wonderfully, and flouriſh before God.

g We iudged exuill, thinking that he was punished for his owne sinnes, and not for ours.

h He was chastised for our reconciliation, 1. Cor. 15.3.

n God the Father deliuered him into the hands of the wicked, & to the powers of ỹ world to do with him what they would. o Christ by offering vp himselfe shall giue life to his Church, and so cause them to liue with him for euer. p That is, the fruite and effect of his labour, which is the saluation of his Church. q Christ shall iustifie by faith through his worde, whereas Moses could not iustifie by the Law. r Because he humbled himselfe, therefore he shall be exalted to glory, Philip. 2.7,8. s That is, of all that beleeue in him.

3 He is despised and reiected of men: he is a man full of sorowes, and hath experience of [e] infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: he was despised, and wee esteemed him not.

4 Surely he hath borne our infirmities, and caried [f] our sorowes: yet we did iudge him as [g] plagued, and smitten of God, and humbled.

5 But hee was wounded for our transgressions, he was broken for our iniquities: the [h] chastisement of our peace was vpon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

6 All wee like sheepe haue gone astray: wee haue turned euery one to his owne way, and the Lord hath laide vpon him the [i] iniquitie of vs all.

7 Hee was oppressed, and hee was afflicted, yet did hee not [k] open his mouth: he is brought as a sheepe to the slaughter, and as a sheepe before her shearer is dumme, so he openeth not his mouth.

8 Hee was taken out from [l] prison, and from iudgement: [m] and who shall declare his age? for hee was cut out of the land of the liuing: for the tranigressions of my people was he plagued.

9 [n] And he made his graue with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickednesse, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would breake him, & make him subiect to infirmities: when [o] he shall make his soule an offering for sinne, he shall see his seede and shall prolong his dayes, & the will of the Lord shall prosper in his hand.

11 Hee shall see of the [p] trauaile of his soule, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my [q] righteous seruant iustifie many: for he shall beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I giue him a portion with the great, and he shall diuide the spoile with the strong, because hee [r] hath powred out his soule vnto death: and he was counted with the transgressors, and hee bare the sinne [s] of many, & prayed for the trespassers.

CHAP. LIIII.

1 Moe of the Gentiles shall beleeue the Gospell then of the Iewes. 7 God leaueth his for a time, to whome afterward he sheweth mercie.

h After that hee hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the Church, because it should feele the fruit of the same, and calleth her barren, because that in the captiuitie thee was as a widowe without hope to haue any children. b The Church in this her affliction and captiuitie shall bring foorth moe children then when she was at libertie: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number that shoulde come of him. Her deliuerance vnder Cyrus was as her childehoode, and therefore this was accomplished, when shee came to her age, which was vnder the Gospell.

REioyce, O barren that didst not beare: breake foorth into ioy and reioyce, thou that diddest not trauaile with childe: for the [b] desolate hath moe children then the married wife, sayeth the Lord.

2 [c] Enlarge the place of thy tents, and let them spread out the curtaines of thine habitations: spare not, stretch out thy cordes, and make fast thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt increase on the right hand and on the left, and thy seede shall possesse the Gentiles and dwell in the desolate cities.

4 Feare not: for thou shalt not bee ashamed, neither shalt thou be confounded: for thou shalt not bee put to shame: yea, thou shalt forget the shame of thy [d] youth, and shalt not remember the reproche of thy [e] widowhood any more.

5 For hee that [f] made thee, is thine husband (Whose Name is the Lord of hostes) & thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, shalbe called the God of the whole [g] world.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, and afflicted in spirite, and as a [h] yong wife when thou wast refused, sayth thy God.

7 For a litle while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee,

8 For a moment in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a little season, but with euerlasting mercie haue I had compassion on thee, sayth thy Lord thy redeemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the [i] waters of Noah: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noah should no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shall remoue and the hils shall fall downe: but my mercie shall not depart from thee, neither shall the couenant of my peace fall away, sayth the Lord, that hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, beholde, I will lay thy stones with the [k] carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with saphirs, 12 And I will make thy windowes of ‖Emeraudes, and thy gates shining stones, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall be [l] taught of the Lord, and much peace shall be to thy children.

14 In [m] righteousnes shalt thou be established, and be farre from oppression: for thou shalt not feare it: and from feare, for it shall not come neere thee.

15 Beholde, the enemie shall gather himselfe, but without [n] me: whosoeuer shall gather himselfe vnto thee, [o] against thee, shall fall.

16 Beholde, I haue created the [p] smith that bloweth the coales in the fire, and that bringeth foorth an instrument for his worke, and I haue created the destroyer to destroy.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and euery tongue, that shall rise against thee in iudgement, that shalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lordes seruants, c Signifying that for ỹ great number of children, that God should giue her, thee should seeme to lacke roome to lodge them.

d The afflictions which thou hast suffered at the beginning.

e When as thou wast refused for thy sinnes, Chap. 50.1.

f That did regenerate thee by his holy Spirit.

g His glory shall shine through ỹ whole worlde, which seemed before to be shut vp in Iudea.

h As a wife which wast forsaken in thy youth.

i As sure as the promise that I made to Noah, that the waters should no more ouerflowe the earth.

k Hereby hee declareth the excellent estate of the Church vnder Christ.

‖ Or, Iaspar, or pearle.

l By the hearing of his word and inward mouing of his Spirit.

m In stabilitie and sureneesse, so that it shal stand for euer.

n And therefore shall not preuaile.

o Meaning, the domesticall enemies of the Church, as are the hypocrites.

p Signifying hereby that man can doe nothing but so farre as God giueth power: for seeing that all are his creatures, hee must needes gouerne and guide them,

and

and thy righteousnesse is of mee, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counsels are not as mans. 12 The ioy of the faithfull.

a Christ by proposing his graces and giftes to his Church, exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined works, and the Epicures, which are full with their worldly lustes, and so thirst not after these waters.

b Signifying, that Gods benefites cannot be bought for money.

c By waters, wine, milke and bread, he meaneth all things necessarie to the spirituall life, as these are necessarie to this corporall life.

d He reprooueth their ingratitude, which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, and in the meane time spare neither cost nor labour to obteine those which are nothing profitable.

e You shall be fed abundantly.

f The same couenant, which through my mercie I ratified and confirmed to Dauid that it should be eternall, 2 Sam. 7. 13. actes. 13. 34.

g Meaning, Christ, of whome Dauid was a figure.

HO, euery one that a thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and yee that haue b no siluer, come, buy and eate: come, I say, buy c wine and milke without siluer and without money.

2 Wherefore doe ye lay out siluer and not for bread? d and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto mee, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delite in e fatnesse.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I will make an euerlasting couenant with you, euen the f sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witnesse to the people, for a Prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, h and a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lord thy God, and the holie one of Israel: for he hath glorified thee.

6 Seeke yee the Lord while he may i be found, call ye vpon him while he is neere.

7 Let the wicked k forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he will haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgiue.

8 For my l thoughtes are not your thoughtes, neither are your wayes my wayes, saith the Lord.

9 For as the heauens are higher then the earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughts aboue your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe and the snowe from heauen, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring foorth and bud, that it may giue seede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth:

11 So shal my m word be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto mee voide, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shal prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

12 Therefore yee shall goe out with ioy, and bee led forth with peace: the n mountaines and the hils shall breake forth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the fielde shall clap their handes.

13 For thornes, there shall growe firre trees: for nettles shall growe the myrthe tres, and it shall be to the Lord o for a name, and for an euerlasting p signe that shall not be taken away.

h To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou diddest not receiue to bethy people.

i Whē he offereth himselfe by the preaching of his word.

k Hereby he sheweth that repentance must be ioyned with faith, & how we cannot call vpon God aright, except the fruits of our faith appeare.

l Although you are not soone reconciled one to another, and iudge me by your selues, yet I am most easie to be reconciled, yea, I offer my mercies to you.

m If these small things haue their effect, as dayly experience sheweth, much more shall my promise which I haue made and confirmed, bring to passe the thing which I haue spoken for your deliuerance.

n Reade Chap. 44. 23. and 49. 13.

o To set forth his glory.

p Of Gods deliuerance, and that he will neuer forsake his Church.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepheards that deuoure their flocke.

a God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath deliuered them: to wit, the workes of charitie, whereby true faith is declared.

b Which I will declare toward you, and powre into your hearts by my spirit.

c Vnder the Sabbath he comprehendeth the whole seruice of God and true religion.

d Let none thinke himselfe vnmeete to receiue the graces of the Lorde: for the Lord wil take away all impediments, and wil forsake none which wil keepe his true religion and beleeue in him.

e Meaning, in his Church.

f They shall be called after my people, and be of the same religion: yea, vnder Christ the dignitie of the faithful shalbe greater then the Iewes were at that time, g Hereby hee meaneth the spirituall seruice of God, to whome the faithfull offer continuall thankesgiuing, yea, themselues and all that they haue as a liuely and acceptable sacrifice.

h Not onely for the Iewes, but for all others, Mat. 21. 13.

i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. Thus hee speaketh to feare the hypocrites, & to assure the faithfull, that when this commeth, they may know that it was told them before.

k He sheweth that this affliction shall come through ỹ fault of the gouernours, prophets, & pastors, whose ignorance, negligence, auarice, and obstinacie prouoked Gods wrath against them.

l We are wel yet, and to morow shalbe better: therefore let vs not feare ỹ plagues, before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations, which were made them in the Name of God.

HVs sayth the Lord, a Keepe iudgement and doe iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my b righteousnesse to be reuealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: he that keepeth the c Sabbath and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which d is ioyned vnto the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely seperate me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus sayth the Lorde vnto the Eunuches, that keep my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take holde of my couenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine e House and within my walles, a place and a f name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I wil giue them an euerlasting name, that shall not be put out.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto the Lorde, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lorde, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and embraceth my couenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt g offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar: for mine House shall be called an House of prayer for h all people.

8 The Lord God saith, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet wil I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye i beasts of the fielde, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.

10 Their k watchmen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumme dogs: they can not barke: they lye & sleepe and delite in sleeping.

11 And these greedy dogs can neuer haue ynough: and these shepheards cannot vnderstand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I wil bring wine, and we wil fill our selues with strong drinke, and to l morowe shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked idolaters, 9 And their vaine confidence.

THe righteous perisheth, and no man conſidereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderſtandeth that the righteous is taken away [a] from the euill to come.

2 [b] Peace ſhall come: they ſhall reſt in their beds, euery one [p] walketh before him.

3 But you [c] witches children, come hither, the ſeede of the adulterer, and of the whore.

4 On whom haue ye ieſted? vpon whom haue yee gaped and thruſt out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, & a falſe ſeed?

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euery greene tree? and ſacrificing the [d] children in the valleyes vnder the tops of the rockes?

6 Thy portion is in the ſmooth ſtones [e] of the riuer: they, they are thy lot: euen to them haſt thou powred a drinke offering: thou haſt offered a ſacrifice. Should I delite in [f] theſe?

7 Thou haſt made thy [g] bed vpon a very hie mountaine: thou wenteſt vp thither, euen thither wenteſt thou to offer ſacrifice.

8 Behinde the [h] doores alſo and poſtes haſt thou ſet vp thy remembrance: for thou haſt diſcouered thy ſelfe to another then me, and wenteſt vp, and diddeſt [i] enlarge thy bedde, and make a couenant betweene thee and them, and louedſt their bedde in euery place where thou ſaweſt it.

9 Thou wenteſt [k] to the Kings with oyle, and diddeſt increaſe thine ointments and ſendſt thy meſſengers farre off, and diddſt humble thy ſelfe vnto hell.

10 Thou wearieſt thy ſelfe in thy manifolde iourneys, yet ſaydeſt thou not, [l] There is no hope: thou [m] haſt found life by thine hand, therefore thou waſt not grieued.

11 And whom diddeſt thou reuerence or feare, ſeeing thou haſt [n] lied vnto mee, and haſt not remembred mee, neither ſet thy minde thereon? is it not becauſe I holde my peace, and that of [o] long time? therefore thou feareſt not me.

12 I will declare thy [p] righteouſnes and thy workes, and they ſhall not profite thee.

13 When thou cryeſt, let them that thou haſt gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde ſhall [q] take them all away: vanitie ſhall pull them away: but hee that truſteth in mee, ſhall inherite the land, and ſhall poſſeſſe mine holy Mountaine.

14 [r] And hee ſhall ſay, Caſt vp, caſt vp: prepare the way: take vp the ſtumbling blockes out of the way of my people.

15 For thus ſayth he, that is hie and excellent, hee that inhabiteth the eternitie, whoſe Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the hie and holy place: with him alſo that is of a contrite and humble ſpirit, to reuiue the ſpirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contend for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, [ſ] for the ſpirit ſhould faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked [t] couetouſneſſe I am angry with him, and haue ſmitten him: I hid me and was angry, yet he went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue ſeene his wayes, & will [u] heale him: I will leade him alſo, and reſtore comfort vnto him, and to thoſe that lament him.

19 I create the [x] fruit of the lippes to be peace: peace vnto them that are [y] farre off, and to them that are neere, ſayth the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging ſea, that can [z] not reſt, whoſe waters caſt vp mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, ſayth my God, to the wicked.

a From the plague that is at hand, and alſo becauſe God will puniſh the wicked.
b The ſoule of the righteous ſhalbe in ioy, and their body ſhall reſt in the graue vnto the time of the reſurrection, becauſe they walked before the Lord.
c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the Name of Gods people, iderided Gods worde and his promiſes: boaſting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but becauſe they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them baſtards, and the children of ſorcerers, which forſooke God and fled to wicked meanes for ſuccour.
d Reade Leuit. 18.21. 2.King. 23.10.
e Meaning, euery place was polluted with their idolatrie: or euery faire ſtone that they founde, they made an idole of it.
f In the ſacrifices which you, offering before theſe idoles, thought you did ſerue God.
g To wit, thine altars, in an open place like an impudent harlot, that careth not for the ſight of her husband.
h In ſtead of ſetting vp the word of God in the open places on the poſts and doores to haue it in remembrance, Deut. 6.9. and 27.1. thou haſt ſet vp ſignes & marks of thine idolatry in euery place.
i That is, diddeſt increaſe thine idolatrie more and more.
k Thou diddeſt ſeeke the fauour of the Aſſyrians by giftes and preſents, to helpe thee againſt the Egyptians: and when they failed, thou boughteſt to the Babylonians, and more & more diddeſt torment thy ſelfe.
l Although thou ſaweſt all thy labours to bee in vaine, yet wouldeſt thou neuer acknowledge thy fault and leaue off.
m He derideth their vnprofitable diligence which thought to haue made al ſure, and yet were deceiued.
n Broken promiſe with me.
o Meaning, that the wicked abuſe Gods lenitie, and growe to further wickedneſſe.
p That is, thy naughtineſſe, idolatries, and impieties: which the wicked call Gods ſeruice: thus he derideth their obſtinacie.
q Meaning, the Aſſyrians and other, whoſe helpe they looked for.
r God ſhall ſay to Darius and Cyrus.
ſ I will not vſe my power againſt fraile man whoſe life is but a blaſt.
t That is, for the vices and faults of the people, which is meant here by couetouſneſſe.
u Though they were obſtinate, yet I did not withdrawe my mercy frō them.
x That is, I frame the ſpeach and wordes of my meſſengers which ſhall bring peace.
y As well to him that is in captiuitie, as to him that remaineth at home.
z Their euill conſcience doth euer torment them, and therefore they can neuer haue reſt, Reade Chap. 48.22.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods miniſters. 2 The workes of the hypocrites. 6 The faſt of the faithful. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

CRy [a] aloud, ſpare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and ſhewe my people their tranſgreſſion, and to the houſe of Iaakob, their ſinnes.

2 Yet they [b] ſeeke mee dayly, and will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteouſly, and had not forſaken the ſtatutes of their God: they aſke of mee the ordinances of iuſtice: they will drawe neere vnto God, ſaying,

3 [c] Wherefore haue we faſted, and thou ſeeſt it not? wee haue puniſhed our ſelues, and thou regardeſt it not. Beholde, in the day of your faſt you will ſeeke [d] your will, and require all your debts.

4 Beholde, yee faſt to ſtrife and debate, and to ſmite with the fiſt of wickednеſſe: ye ſhall not faſt as ye doe to day, to make your voyce to be [e] heard aboue.

5 Is it ſuch a faſt that I haue choſen, that a man ſhould afflict his ſoule for a day, and to bow downe his head, as a bull ruſh, and to lie downe in ſackecloth, and aſhes? wilt thou call this a faſting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the faſting, that I haue choſen, a The Lord thus ſpeaketh to the Propher, willing him to vſe all diligence and feueritie to rebuke the hypocrites.

b They wil ſeeme to worſhip me, and haue outward holineſſe.
c Hee ſetteth forth the malice and diſdaine of the hypocrites, which grudge againſt God, if their worke be not accepted.
d Thus he conuinceth the hypocrites by the ſeconde table and by their duetie towarde their neighbour, that they haue neither faith nor religion.
e So long as ye vſe contention and oppreſſion, your faſting and prayer ſhall not be heard.

chosen, to loose the bandes of wickednesse, to take off the heauy burdens, and to let the oppressed goe free, and that ye breake euery f yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, & that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from g thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy h light breake foorth as the morning, and thine health shall growe speedily: thy i righteousnesse shal goe before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shal answere: thou shalt crie, and hee shall say, Heere I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting foorth of the k finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou l powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shal thy light spring out in the m darkenesse, and thy darkenesse shalbe as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shall bee of thee, that shall builde the olde n waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repayrer of the breach, and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

13 If thou o turne away thy foote from the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, to consecrate it, as glorious to the Lorde, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lorde, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hie places of the earth, and feede thee with the heritage of Iaakob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of sinnes. 16 God alone wil preserue his Church, though all men faile.

BEholde, * the Lordes hand is not shortned, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But * your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hid his face from you, that hee will not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with a blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies, and your tongue hath murmured iniquitie.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man b contendeth for trueth: they trust in vanitie, and speake vaine things: they conceiue mischiefe, and c bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatche cockatrice d egges, and weaue the spiders e webbe: hee that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shall they couer themselues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of cruelitie is in their hands.

7 Their feete runne to euil, & they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoeuer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is f iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth g iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darknesse: for brightnes, but we walke in darkenesse.

10 We grope for the wall like the h blinde, and wee grope as one without eyes: wee stumble at the noone day as in & twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like i beares, & mourne like doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our k sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lorde, and wee haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of cruelitie and rebellion, conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false l matters.

14 Therefore m iudgement is turned backewarde, and iustice standeth farre off: for trueth is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe n a praye: and when the Lord saw it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when hee saw that there was no man, hee wondered that none would offer himselfe. ° Therefore his arme did p saue it, and his righteousnes it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For hee put on righteousnesse, as an habergion, and a q helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompense, as to requite the furie of the aduerSaries with a recompense to his enemies: hee will fully repay the r Ilands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lorde from the West, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: for the enemie shall s come like a flood: but the spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And t the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto u them that turne from iniquitie in Iaakob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my couenant with them, sayth the Lorde, My Spirite, that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, x shall not def That you leaue off all your extortions.

g For in him thou seest thy selfe as in a glasse.

h That is, the prosperous estate, wherewith God will blesse thee.

i The testimonie of thy goodnesse shall appeare before God and man.

k Whereby is meant all maner of iniurie.

l That is, haue compassion on the r miseries.

m Thine aduersitie shalbe turned into prosperitie.

n Signifying, that of the Iewes should come such as should build againe the ruines of Ierusalem and Iudea: but chiefly this is meant of the spirituall Ierusalem: whose builders were the Apostles.

o If thou refraine thy selfe from thy wicked workes.

Numb.11.23. chap.50.2.

a Reade Chap. 1.15.

b All men winke at the iniuries and oppressions, and none goe about to remedie them.

c According to their wicked deuices, they hurt their neighbours.

d Whatsoeuer proceedeth from them, is poyson and bringeth death.

e They are profitable to no purpose.

f That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.

g Gods protection to defend vs.

h We are altogether destitute of counsell, and can finde no end of our miseries.

i We expresse our sorowe by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

k This confession is generall to the Church to obtaine remission of sinnes, and the Prophets did not exempt themselues from the same.

l To wit, against our neighbours.

m There is neither iustice nor vprightnesse among men.

n The wicked wil destroy him.

o Meaning, to doe iustice, & to remedie y things that were so farre out of order.

p That is, his Church: or his arme did helpe it selfe, and did not seeke ayde of any other.

q Signifying, that God hath all meanes at hand to deliuer his Church, and to punish their enemies.

r To wit, your enemies, which dwell in diuers places, and beyond the sea.

s He sheweth that there shalbe great affliction in the Church, but God will euer deliuer his.

t Whereby he declareth that the true deliuerance from sinne and Satan belongeth to none, but to the children of God, whom he iustifieth.

u Becaufe the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, hee ioyneth the one with the other, and promiseth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

part out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of the seede of thy seed, saith the Lorde, from henceforth even for ever.

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles shall come to the knowledge of the Gospel. 8 They shall come to the Church in abundance. 16 They shall have abundance, though they suffer for a time.

ARise, O Ierusalem: bee bright, for thy [a] light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenesse shall couer the [b] earth, and grosse darkenesse the people: but the Lord shall arise vpon thee, and his glory shalbe seene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in [c] thy light, and Kings at the brightnesse of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes round about, & beholde: all [d] these are gathered, and come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall bee nourished at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see & shine: thine heart shalbe astonied and [e] enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The [f] multitude of camels shall couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: all they of Sheba shal come: they shall bring gold and incense, and shew forth the praises of the Lord.

7 All the sheepe of [g] Kedar shalbe gathered vnto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shall serue thee: they shall come vp to bee accepted vpon mine [h] altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these [i] that flee like a cloude, and as the doues to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shall wait for me, and the shippes [k] of Tarshish, as at the beginning, that they may bring thy sonne from farre, and their siluer, and their golde with them, vnto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the holy one of Israel, because hee hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their [l] kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shal be open continually: neyther day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the [m] kingdome, that will not serue thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be vtterly destroyed.

13 The [n] glory of Lebanon shal come vnto thee: the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuarie: for I will glorifie the place of my [o] feete.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall [p] downe at the soles of thy feete: and they shall call thee, The citie of the Lord, Sion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, and a ioye from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the [q] breastes of Kings: and thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Sauiour, and thy Redeemer, the mightie one of Iaakob.

17 For brasse will I bring golde, and for iron will I bring siluer, & for wood brasse, and for stones iron. I will also make thy gouernement [r] peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call [s] saluation thy walles, and praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightnesse of the [t] moone shine vnto thee: for the Lorde shalbe thine euerlasting light, and thy God, thy glorie.

20 Thy sunne shal neuer goe downe, neither shall thy moone be hidde: for the Lorde shalbe thine euerlasting light, and the daies of thy sorow shalbe ended.

21 Thy people also shalbe all righteous: they shall possesse the lande for euer, the [u] graffe of my planting shall bee the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A litle one shall become as a [x] thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

a The time of thy prosperitie and felicitie: whereas speaking of Babylon he commanded her to goe downe, Chap. 47.1.

b Signifying, that all men are in darkenesse till God giue them the light of his spirit, and that this light shineth to none but to those that are in his Church.

c Meaning, that Iudea should be as the morning starre, and that the Gentiles should receiue light of her.

d An infinite number from all countreys, as Chap. 49.18.

e For ioy, as the heart is drawen in for sorow.

f Meaning, that euery one shall honour the Lorde with that wherewith he is able: signifying, that it is no true seruing of God, except we offer our selues to serue his glory, and all that we haue.

g That is, the Arabians that haue great abundance of cattell.

h Because the altar was a figure of Christ, Hebr. 13.10, hee sheweth that nothing can bee acceptable to him, which is not offered to him by this altar, who was both the offering and the altar it selfe.

i Shewing what great nomber shall come to the Church, and with what great diligence and zeale.

k The Gentiles that are nowe enemies, shall become friendes and setters foorth of the Church.

l Meaning, Cyrus and his successours: but chiefly this is accomplished in them that serue Christ, being conuerted by his Gospel.

m He sheweth that God hath giuen all power and authoritie heare in earth for the vse of his Church: and that they which will not serue and profite the same, shall be destroyed.

n There is nothing so excellent which shall not serue the necessitie of the Church.

o Signifying, that Gods maiestie is not included in the temple, which is but the place for his feete, that we may learne to rise vp to the heauens.

p To worship their head Christ by obeying his doctrine.

q Both hie and lowe shalbe ready to helpe and succour thee.

r Thy gouernours shall loue thee and seeke thy wealth and prosperitie.

s Meaning, not a temporall felicitie, but a spirituall, which is fulfilled in Christes kingdome.

t Signifying, that all worldly meanes should cease, and that Christ shalbe all in all, as Reuel. 21.22. & 22.5.

u The children of the Church.

x Meaning that the Church should be miraculously multiplied.

CHAP. LXI.

1 Hee prophecieth that Christ shall be anoynted and sent to preach. 10 The ioy of the faithfull.

THe* Spirit of the Lorde God is [a] vpon mee, therefore hath the Lorde anoynted me: he hath sent me to preach good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the [b] broken hearted, to preach libertie to the [c] captiues, and to them that are bound, the opening of the prison,

2 To preach the [d] acceptable yeere of the Lord, & the day of [e] vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne, Luke 4.18.

a This apperteineth to all the Prophets & ministers of God, but chiefly to Christ, of whose abundant graces euery one receiueth according as it pleaseth him to distribute.

b To them that are liuely touched with the feeling of their sinnes.

c Which are in the bondage of sinne.

d The time when it pleased God to shewe his good fauour to man, which Saint Paul calleth the fulnesse of time, Gal. 4.4.

e For when God deliuereth his Church, he punisheth his enemies.

3 To

3 To appoynt vnto them that mourne in Zion, and to giue vnto them beautie for f ashes, thy oyle of ioy for mourning, the garment of gladnesse for the spirite of heauinesse, that they might be called g trees of righteousnesse, the planting of the Lorde, that he might be glorified.

4 And they shall builde the olde waste places, and rayse vp the former desolations, and they shall repayre the cities that were desolate and waste through many h generations.

5 And the strangers shall i stand & feede your sheepe, and the sonnes of the strangers shall be your plow men and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shalbe named k the Priestes of the Lorde, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: yee shall eate the l riches of the Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glorie.

7 For your shame you shall receiue m double, and for confusion n they shall reioyce in o their portion: for in their land they shall possesse the p double: euerlasting ioy shall be vnto them.

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement & hate q robberie for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in trueth, and will make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 And r their seed shalbe knowen among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people. All that see them, shall know them, that they are the seede which the Lord hath blessed.

10 s I will greatly reioyce in the Lorde, and my soule shall bee ioyfull in my God: for he hath clothed me with the garments of saluation, and couered me with the robe of righteousnesse: he hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tyreth herselfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth foorth her budde, and as the garden causeth to growe that which is sowen in it: so the Lord God will cause righteousnesse to grow, and prayse before all the heathen.

f Which was the signe of mourning.
g Trees that bring foorth good fruites, as Matth. 3.8.
h That is, for a long time.
i They shalbe ready to serue you in all your necessities.
k This is accomplished in the time of Christ, by whom all the faithfull are made Priests and Kings, 1. Pet. 2. 9. reuel. 1. 6 and 5. 10.
l Reade Chap. 60. 11, 16.
m Abundant recompense, as this word is vsed, Chap. 40. 2. n That is, the Iewes.
o To wit, of the Gentiles.
p Whereas the Gentiles had dominion ouer the Iewes in times past, nowe they shal haue double authoritie ouer them, and possesse twise so much.
q I will not receiue their offring, which are extortioners, deceiuers, hypocrites, or that depriue mee of my glorie.
r That is, of the Church.
s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they feele this their deliuerance.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The great desire that the Prophets haue had for Christes comming. 6 The diligence of the Pastours to preach.

FOr Zions sake I will not a holde my tongue, and for Ierusalems sake I will not rest, vntill the righteousnesse thereof breake forth as the b light, & saluation thereof as a burning lampe.

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousnesse, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by c a newe name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

3 Thou shalt also be a d crowne of glory in the hand of the Lorde, and a royall diademe in the hand of thy God.

a The Prophet saith that hee will neuer cease to declare vnto the people the good tidings of their deliuerance.
b Till they haue full deliuerance: and this the Prophet speaketh to encourage all other ministers to the setting foorth of Gods mercies toward his Church.
c Thou shalt haue a more excellent fame then thou hast had hitherto.
d Hee shall esteeme thee as deare and precious as a King doth his crowne.

4 It shall no more bee saide vnto thee, t Forsaken, neither shall it be saide any more to thy land, Desolate, but thou shalt be called ‖ Hephzi-bah, and thy land ‖ Beulah: for the Lord delireth in thee, and thy land shall haue an u husband.

5 For as a yong man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sonnes x marry thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set y watchmen vpō thy walles, O Ierusalem, which all the day and all the night continually shall not cease: z yee that are mindefull of the Lord, keepe not silence.

7 And giue him no rest, till hee repaire, and vntill he set vp Ierusalem the a prayse of the world.

8 The Lorde hath sworne by his right hand & by his strong arme, Surely I will no more giue thy corne to be meate for thine enemies, and surely the sonnes of the strangers shall not drinke thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured.

9 But they that haue gathered it, shall eate it, and prayse the Lord, and the gatherers thereof shall drinke it in the courtes of my Sanctuary.

10 b Goe through, go through the gates: prepare you the way for ỳ people: cast vp, cast vp the way, and gather out the stones, and set vp a standart for the people.

11 Beholde, the Lorde hath proclaymed vnto the ends of the world: c tel the daughter Zion, Behold, thy Sauiour commeth: beholde, his wages is with him, and d his worke is before him.

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the Lord, and thou shalt be named, A e citie sought out and not forsaken.

t Thou shalt no more be cōtemned as a woman forsaken of her husband.
‖ Or, my delight in her.
‖ Or, married.
u That it may be replenished with children.
x Forasmuch as they confesse one faith and religion with thee, they are in the same bond of mariage with thee: and they are called the children of the Church, in as much as Christ maketh her plentifull to bring foorth children vnto him.
y Prophets, pastors and ministers.
z He exhorteth the ministers neuer to cease to call vpon God by prayer for the deliuerance of his Church, and to teach others to doe the same.
a For the restauration whereof all the world shall prayse him.
b Signifying the great number that should come to the Church, and what meanes he would prepare for the restitution of the same, as Chap. 57. 14.
c Ye Prophets and ministers shewe the people of this their deliuerance: which was chiefly meant of our saluation by Christ, Zech. 9. 9. matt. 21. 5.
d Hee shall haue all power to bring his purpose to passe, as Chap. 40. 10.
e That is, one, ouer whom God hath had a singular care to recouer her when she was lost.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God shall destroy his enemies for his Churches sake. 7 Gods benefites towards his Church.

WHo is this that commeth a from Edom, with red garments from Bozrah? hee is glorious in his apparell, and walketh in his great strength. b I speake in righteousnesse, and am mightie to saue.

2 c Wherefore is thine apparell red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the winepresse alone, & of all people there was none with mee: for a This Prophecie is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after that hee hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Idumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kinred of Abraham, claymed to themselues the chiefe religion and hated the true worshippers, Psalm. 137. 7.

b God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. and sayeth, Yee see now performed in deede the vengeance which my Prophets threatned.
c Another question, to the which the Lorde answereth.

d Shewing, that when God punisheth his enemies, it is for the profite and deliuerance of his Church.
e God sheweth that he hath no needs of mans helpe for the deliuerance of his, and though men refuse to doe their duetie through negligence and ingratitude, yet hee himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies, Reade Chap. 59. 16.
f I will so astonish them, and make them so giddie, that they shall not know, which way to goe.
g The Prophet speaketh this to moue the people to remember Gods benefites in times past, that they may be confirmed in their troubles.
h For I did chuse them to be mine, that they shoulde be holy, and not deceiue mine expectation.
i He bare their afflictions and griefes, as though they had bene his owne.
k Which was a witnesse of Gods presence: and this may be referred to Christ, to whom belongeth the office of saluation.
l That is, the people of Israel being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which hee had bestowed vpon their fathers in times past.
m Meaning, Moses.
n That is, in Moses, that hee might well gouerne the people: some referre this giuing of the Spirite to the people.
o Peaceably and gently, as an horse is led to his pasture.
p Hauing declared Gods benefites shewed to their forefathers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward them.
q Thy great affection which thou bearest toward vs.
r Meaning, from the whole body of the Church.
s Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our Father.

I will treade them in mine anger, and treade them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall bee sprinckled vpon my garmentes, and I will staine all my rayment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, & the d yere of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vphold: therefore mine owne e arme helped mee, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I wil tread downe the people in my wrath, and make them f drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will s remember the mercies of the Lorde and the praises of the Lord according vnto all that the Lorde hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnes towarde the house of Israel, which he hath giue them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For he said, Surely they are my h people, children that will not lie: so hee was their sauiour.

9 In all their troubles hee was i troubled, and the Angell k of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie hee redeemed them, and hee bare them and caryed them all wayes continually.

10 But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemie and he fought against them.

11 Then he l remembred the old time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them vp out of the sea with the m shepheard of his sheepe? where is he that put his holy Spirit within n him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euerlasting Name.

13 He led them through the deepe, as an o horse in the wildernesse, that they shoulde not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the spirit of the Lord gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 p Looke downe from heauen, and beholde from the dwelling place of thine holinesse, and of thy glory. Where is thy q zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from r me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our father: though s Abraham bee ignorant of vs, and Israel knowe vs not, yet thou, O Lorde, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is for euer.

17 O Lorde, why hast t thou made vs to t By taking away thy holy Spirit from vs by whome wee were gouerned, and so for our ingratitude diddest deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscence, and didst punish sinne by sinne erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy u seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed it, but a little x while: for our aduersaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuarie.

19 Wee haue bene as they, ouer whome thou neuer bearest rule, and vpon whome thy Name was not called.

according to thy iust iudgement. u Meaning, for the couenantes sake made to Abraham, Izhak and Iaakob his seruants. x That is, in respect of the promise which is perpetuall: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan a thousand & foure hundreth yere: and thus they lament, to moue God rather to remember his couenant, then to punish their sinnes.

CHAP. LXIIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the sauing of the people, 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a filthie cloth.

O That thou wouldest a breake the heauens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, desiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mightie power, as hee did in Mount Sinai.

2 As the melting fire burneth, as the fire causeth b the waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

b Meaning, the raine, haile, fire, thunder, and lightnings.

3 When thou diddest terrible things, which wee looked not for, y camest downe, and the mountaines melted at thy presence.

c Saint Paul vseth the same kinde of admiration, 1. Cor. 2. 9. marueiling at Gods great benefite shewed to his Church by the preaching of the Gospel.

4 For since the beginning of the worlde they haue not c heard nor vnderstood with the eare, neither hath the eye seene another God beside thee, which doeth so to him that waiteth for him.

d Thou shewedst fauour toward our fathers, when they trusted in thee, and walked after the commandements.

5 Thou diddest meete him, d that reioyced in thee, and did iustly: they remembred thee in thy e wayes: beholde, thou art angrie, for we haue sinned: yet in f them is continuance, and we g shall be saued.

e They considered thy great mercies.

6 But wee haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our h righteousnesse is as filthie cloutes, and we all do fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

f That is, in thy mercies, which hee calleth the wayes of the Lord.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that stirreth vp himselfe to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

8 But nowe, O Lorde, thou art our Father: we are the i clay, & thou art our potter, and we al are the worke of thine hands.

9 Be not angrie, O Lorde, k aboue measure, neither remember iniquitie for euer: loe, wee beseech thee, behold, we are all thy people.

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpon vs. h Wee are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because we haue prouoked thee to anger, and though wee woulde excuse our selues, yet our righteousnesse and best vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as some reade) like the menstruous clothes of a woman. i Albeit, O Lorde, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest vtterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet wee appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children. k For so the flesh iudgeth when God doth not immediatly send succour.

10 [l]Thine holy cities lie waste: Zion is a wilderneſſe, and Ieruſalem a deſert.

11 The houſe of our Sanctuarie and of our glorie, [m] where our fathers prayſed thee, is burnt vp with fire, and all our pleaſant things are waſted.

12 Wilt thou hold thy ſelfe ſtil [n] at theſe things, O Lord? wilt thou holde thy peace and afflict vs aboue meaſure?

l Which were dedicated to thy ſeruice and to call vpon thy Name.

m Wherein we reioyced and worſhipped thee.

n That is, at the contempt of thine owne glory? though our ſinnes haue deſerued this, yet thou wilt not ſuffer thy glory thus to be diminiſhed.

CHAP. LXV.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles and the reiection of the Iewes. 13 The ioy of the elect & the puniſhment of the wicked.

I Haue bene ſought of them that [a] aſked not: I was founde of them that ſought mee not: I ſayde, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue ſpread [b] out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne [c] imaginations:

3 A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that ſacrificeth in [d] gardens, and burneth incenſe vpon [e] bricks.

4 Which remaine among the [f] graues, & lodge in the deſerts, which eate [g] ſwines fleſh, and the broth of things polluted are in their veſſels.

5 Which ſay, [h] Stande apart, come not neere to mee: for I am holier then thou: theſe are a ſmoke in my wrath and a fire that [i] burneth all the day.

6 Beholde, it is [k] written before mee: I wil not keepe ſilence, but will render it and recompenſe into their boſome.

7 Your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers ſhall be [l] together (ſayeth the Lorde) which haue burnt incenſe vpon the mountaines, and blaſphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore will I meaſure their olde worke into their boſome.

8 Thus ſaith the Lorde, As the wine is found in the cluſter, and one ſaith, Deſtroy it not, for a [m] bleſſing is in it, ſo will I doe for my ſeruants ſakes, that I may not deſtroy them whole.

9 But I will bring a ſeede out of Iaakob, and out of Iudah, that ſhall inherite my mountaine: & mine elect ſhall inherite it, and my ſeruants ſhall dwell there.

10 And [n] Sharon ſhalbe a ſheepefolde, & the valley of Achor ſhalbe a reſting place for the cattel of my people, that haue ſought mee.

a Meaning, the Gentiles, which knew not God, ſhould ſeeke after him when he had moued their hearts with his holy ſpirit, Rom. 10.20.

b He ſheweth the cauſe of the reiection of the Iewes, becauſe they would not obey him for any admonition of his Prophets, by whome he called them continually, and ſtretched out his hand to drawe them.

c He ſheweth that to delite in our owne fantaſies, is the declining from God and the beginning of all ſuperſtition and idolatrie.

d Which were dedicate to idoles.

e Meaning, their altars, which he thus nameth by contempt.

f To conſult with ſpirits and to coniure deuils, which was forbidden, Deut. 18.11.

g Which was contrary to Gods commandement, Leuit. 11.7. deu. 14.8.

h He ſheweth that hypocriſie is euer ioyned with pride & contempt of others.

i Their puniſhment ſhall neuer haue ende.

k So that the remembrance thereof cannot be forgotten.

l Shall bee both puniſhed together: and this declareth howe the children are puniſhed for their fathers faultes: to wit, when the ſame faultes or like are founde in them.

m That is, it is profitable: meaning, that God will not deſtroy the faithfull branches of his vineyarde, when hee deſtroyeth the rotten ſtockes, that is, the hypocrites.

n Which was a plentifull place in Iudea to feede ſheepe, as Achor was for cattell.

11 But yee are they that haue forſaken the Lorde, and forgotten mine holy Mountaine, and haue prepared a table for the [o] multitude, and furniſh the drinke offerings vnto the number.

12 Therefore will I [p] number you to the ſword, and all you ſhall bow downe to the ſlaughter, becauſe I called, and yee did not anſwere: I [q] ſpake, and yee heard not, but did euill in my ſight, and did chuſe that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lorde God, Beholde, my ſeruants ſhall [r] eate, and yee ſhall bee hungrie: beholde, my ſeruants ſhall drinke, and ye ſhall be thirſtie: beholde, my ſeruants ſhall reioyce, and yee ſhall bee aſhamed.

14 Beholde, my ſeruants ſhall ſing for ioy of heart, and yee ſhall crie for ſorow of heart, and ſhall howle for vexation of minde.

15 And yee ſhall leaue your name as a curſe vnto my [s] choſen: for the Lorde God ſhall ſlay you, and call his ſeruants by [t] an other name.

16 He that ſhall bleſſe in the [u] earth ſhall bleſſe himſelfe in the true God, and he that ſweareth in the earth, ſhall ſweare by the true God: for the former [x] troubles are forgotten, and ſhall ſurely hide themſelues from mine eyes.

17 For loe, I will create [y] new heauens and a new earth: and the former ſhall not be remembred nor come into mind.

18 But be you glad and reioyce for euer in the things that I ſhall create: for beholde, I will create Ieruſalem as a reioycing, and her people as a ioy, 19 And I wil reioyce in Ieruſalem, and ioy in my people, and the voyce of weeping ſhall be no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.

20 There ſhall be no more there a childe of yeeres, nor an olde man that hath [z] not filled his dayes: for hee that ſhall bee an hundreth yeeres olde, ſhall die as a yong man: but the ſinner being [a] an hundreth yeeres olde ſhall be accurſed.

21 And they ſhall [b] build houſes and inhabite them, & they ſhall plant vineyardes, and eate the fruite of them.

22 They ſhal not build, and another inhabite: they ſhall not plant, and another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect ſhall enioy in olde age the worke of their handes.

23 They ſhall not labour in vaine, nor bring foorth in feare: for they are the ſeede of the bleſſed of the Lorde, and their budde

o By the multitude and number he meaneth their innumerable idoles of whome they thought they could neuer haue ynough.

p Seeing you cannot number your gods, I will number you with the ſword.

q By my prophets whome ye woulde not obey.

r By theſe words, Eate and drinke, hee meaneth the bleſſed life of the faithfull, which haue alwayes conſolation and full contentment of all things in their God, though ſometimes they lacke theſe corporall things.

s Meaning, that he would call the Gentiles, who ſhould abhorre euen the very name of the Iewes for their infidelities ſake.

t Then by the name of the Iewes.

u By bleſſing, and by ſwearing is meant the prayſing of God for his benefites, and the true worſhipping of him, which ſhall not be onely in Iudea, but through all the worlde, x I will no more ſuffer my Church to be deſolate as in times paſt.

y I wil ſo alter and change the ſtate of my Church, that it ſhall ſeeme to dwell in a newe world.

z Meaning, in this wonderfull reſtauration of the Church, there ſhould be no weakeneſſe of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all ſhould bee freſh and flouriſhing: and that is accompliſhed in the heauenly Ieruſalem, when all ſinnes ſhall ceaſe, and the teares ſhall be wiped way.

a Whereby hee ſheweth that the infidels and vnrepentant ſinners haue no part of this benediction.

b Hee propoſeth to the faithful the bleſſings which are contained in the Lawe, and ſo vnder temporall things comprehendeth the ſpirituall promiſes.

with them.

24 Yea, before they call, I will answere, and whiles they speake, I will heare.

e Reade Chap. 11.6.

25 The e wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the lyon shall eate strawe like the bullocke: and to the serpent dust shall be his meate. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy mountaine, saith the Lorde.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 Hee despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles. 23 The perpetuall Sabbath. 24 The punishment of the wicked is everlasting.

Acts 7.48.49.

THus sayth the Lorde, * The a heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footestoole: where is that house that yee will build vnto me? and where is that place of my rest?

a My maiestie is so great that it filleth both heauen and earth, and therefore can not be included in a Temple like an idole: condemning hereby their vaine confidence, which trusted in the Temple and sacrifices.

2 For all these things hath mine hande made, b and all these things haue bene, saith the Lorde: and to him will I looke, euen to him that is poore, and of c a contrite spirite and trembleth at my wordes.

b Seeing that both the Temple and the things therein, with the sacrifices, were made and done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hath no neede thereof, and that he can be without them, Psal. 50.10.

c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueth my doctrine with reuerence and feare.

3 Yee that killeth a bullocke, is as if hee d slewe a man: he that sacrificeth a sheepe, as if he cut off a doggs necke: he that offereth an oblation, as if hee offered swines blood: he that remembreth incense, as if hee blessed an idole: yea, they haue chosen their owne waies, and their soule delighteth in their abominations.

d Because the Iewes thought themselues holy by offering of their sacrifices, and in the meane season had neither faith nor repentance, God sheweth that hee doeth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of the heathen, who offered men, dogges and swine to their idoles, which things were expresly forbidden in the law.

4 Therefore will I e chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answere: I spake, and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

e I will discouer their wickednesse and hypocrisie, wherewith they thinke to blinde mine eyes, to all the world.

5 Heare the word of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his f worde, Your brethren that hated you, and cast you out for my names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shall appeare to your ioye, and they shall be ashamed.

f He encourageth the faithfull, by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites, and hated them that feared God.

6 g A voyce soundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lorde, that recompenseth his enemies fully.

g The enemies shal shortly heare a more terrible voyce, euen fire and slaughter, seeing they would not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance.

7 Before h shee trauailed, shee brought forth: and before her paine came, shee was deliuered of a man childe.

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seene such things? shall the earth bee brought forth in one i day? or shall a nation be borne at once? for as soone as Sion trauailed, she brought forth her children.

h Meaning, the restauration of the Church should bee so sudden and contrary to all mens opinion, as when a woman is deliuered before she looke for it, and that without paine in trauaile.

i This shall passe the capacitie of man to see such a multitude that shall come vp at once, meaning, vnder the preaching of the gospel, whereof they that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure.

9 Shall I k cause to trauaile, and not bring forth? shall I cause to bring forth and shalbe barren, saith thy God?

k Declaring hereby, that as by his power and prouidence woman trauaileth and is deliuered: so hath he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed.

10 Reioyce yee with Ierusalem, and bee glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioy with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That ye may sucke l and bee satisfied with the breastes of her consolation: that yee may milke out and bee delighted with the brightnesse of her glory.

l That ye may reioyce for all the benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church.

12 For thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will extend m peace ouer her like a flood, and the glory of the n Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shal be borne vpon her sides, and bee toyfull vpon her knees.

m I will giue her felicitie and prosperitie in great abundance.

n Reade Chap. 60.16.

13 As one whome his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall bee comforted in Ierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shal reioyce, and your o bones shall flourish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lorde shall be knowen among his seruants, and his indignation against his enemies.

o Ye shall be cherished, as hee dearely beloued children.

15 For behold, the Lorde will come with fire, and his charets like a whirlewinde, that he may p recompense his anger with wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

p Ye shall haue newe strength and new beautie.

16 For the Lord wil iudge with fire, and with his sworde all flesh, and the slaine of the Lord shall be many.

17 They that sanctifie q themselues, and purifie themselues in the gardens behinde one tree in the middes eating r swines flesh, and such abomination, euen the mouse, shall be consumed together, saieth the Lord.

q This vengeance God began to execute at the destruction of Babylon, and hath euer continued it against the enemies of his Church, and will doe till the last day, which shall bee the accomplishment thereof.

r Meaning, the hypocrites.

18 For I will visite their workes, & their imaginations: for it shall come that I will gather all nations, and tongues, and they shall come, and see my s glory.

s The Gentiles shall be partakers of that glory, which before I shewed to the Iewes.

19 And I wil set a t signe among them, and will sende those that u escape of them, vnto the nations of x Tarshish, y Pul, and z Lud, and to them that draw the a bowe, to b Tubal and c Iauan, yles afarre off, that haue not heard my fame, neither haue seene my glory, and d they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

t I will marke these that I chuse, that they perish not with the rest of the infidels: whereby hee alludeth to the marking of the postes of his people, whome hee preserued, Exodus 12.7.

u I will scatter the rest of the Iewes, which escape destruction, into diuers nations.

x That is, Cilicia.

y Meaning Affrica.

z Towit, Lydia, or Asia Minor.

a Signifying the Parthians.

b Italie.

c Grecia.

d Meaning, the Apostles, Disciples, and others, which hee did first chuse of the Iewes to preach vnto the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your e brethren for an offring vnto the Lord out of all e That is, the Gentiles, which by faith shall be made the children of Abraham, as you are.

nations, vpon ſ horſes, and in charets, and in horſe litters, and vpon mules, and ſwift beaſtes, to Ieruſalem mine holy mountaine, ſaith the Lorde, as the children of Iſrael offer in a cleane veſſel in the houſe of the Lord.

21 And I will take of them for h prieſts, and for Leuites, ſaith the Lord.

22 For as the new i heauens, & the newe earth which I will make, ſhall remaine before mee, ſayeth the Lord, ſo ſhall your ſeede and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, & from Sabbath to Sabbath ſhall all fleſh come to worſhip before me, ſaith the Lord.

24 And they ſhal go forth, and looke vpon the k carkales of the me that haue tranſgreſſed againſt me: for their l worme ſhall not die, neither ſhall their fire be quenched, and they ſhall bee an abhorring m vnto all fleſh.

g Whereby he meaneth that no neceſſarie meanes ſhall want when God ſhall call the Gentiles to the knowledg of the Goſpell, h To wit, of the Gentiles, as he did Luke, Timothie, and Titus firſt, and others after, to preach his word.

i Hereby he ſignifieth the kingdome of Chriſt, wherein his Church ſhalbe renued: and where as before there were appointed ſeaſons to ſacrifice, in this there ſhall be one continuall Sabbath, ſo that all times and ſeaſons ſhall be meete.

k As he hath declared the felicitie that ſhall be within the Church for the comfort of the godly, ſo doth hee ſhewe what horrible calamitie ſhall come to the wicked, that are out of the Church.

l Meaning, a continuall torment of conſcience, which ſhall euer gnawe them and neuer ſuffer them to bee at reſt, Marke 9.44.

m This is the iuſt recompenſe for the wicked, which contemning God and his worde, ſhall be by Gods iuſt iudgement abhorred of all his creatures.

Ieremiah.

THE ARGVMENT.

THE Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, was the ſonne of Hilkiah, whome ſome thinke to be he that found out the booke of the Law, and gaue it to Ioſiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and moſt euident reuelations of prophecie, ſo that by the commandement of the Lorde he beganne very yong to prophecie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Ioſiah, and continued eighteene yeeres vnder the ſaide King: and three moneths vnder Iehoahaz, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeeres, and three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, & vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were caryed away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue fourtie yeeres, beſide the time that he prophecied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares and lamentation the deſtruction of Ieruſalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetouſneſſe, ſubtiltie, crueltie, exceſſe, rebellion, and contempt of Gods word, and for the conſolation of the Church, reueileth the iuſt time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to bee conſidered three things. Firſt the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more ſtubborne and obſtinate, when the Prophets doe admoniſh them moſt plainely of their deſtruction. Next how the Prophets and Miniſters of God ought not to be diſcouraged in their vocation, though they be perſecuted and rigorouſly handled of the wicked for Gods cauſe: And thirdly, though God ſhewe his iuſt iudgement againſt the wicked, yet wil he euer ſhewe himſelfe a preſeruer of his Church, and when all meanes ſeeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then will he declare himſelfe victorious in preſeruing his.

CHAP. I.

1 In what time Ieremiah prophecied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is ſtrengthened of the Lorde. 11 The Lorde ſheweth him the deſtruction of Ieruſalem. 17 He commaundeth him to preach his word without feare.

THe a words of Ieremiah the ſon of b Hilkiah one of ỹ Prieſts that were at c Anathoth in the lande of Beniamin,

2 To whome the d worde of the Lord came in the dayes of Ioſiah the ſonne of Amon King of Iudah in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And alſo in the dayes of Iehoiakim the e ſonne of Ioſiah King of Iudah, vnto the ende of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, the ſonne of Ioſiah King of Iudah, euen vnto the carying away of Ieruſalem captiue in the fift f moneth.

4 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

5 Before I g formed thee in the wombe, I knew thee, and before thou cameſt out of the wombe, I ſanctified thee, and ordeined thee to bee a Prophet vnto the h nations.

6 Then ſaid I, i Oh, Lord God, behold, I cannot ſpeake, for I am a childe.

7 But the Lorde ſaide vnto mee, Say not, I am a childe: for thou ſhalt goe to all that I ſhall ſende thee, and what ſo euer I commaunde thee, ſhalt thou ſpeake.

8 Be not afraide of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord ſtretched out his hand a That is, the ſermons and propheſies.

b Which is thought to be he that found the booke of the law vnder king Ioſiah, 2. Kings 22.8.

c This was a citie about 3. miles diſtant from Ieruſalem, & belonged to the prieſts the ſons of Aarõ, Ioſh. 21.18.

d This is ſpoken to confirme his vocation and office: foraſmuch as hee did not preſume of himſelfe to preach, and propheſie, but was called thereunto by GOD.

e Meaning, the nephewe of Ioſiah: for Iehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Ioachin that reigne no longer.

f Of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, who was alſo called Mattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchad-nezzar.

g The Scripture vſeth this maner of ſpeach, to declare that God hath appointed his miniſters to their offices before they were borne, as Iſaiah 49. 1. galat. 1, 15.

h For Ieremiah did not onely propheſie againſt the Iewes, but alſo againſt the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites and other nations.

i Conſidering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings ſhoulde come vpon the worlde, hee was moued with a certaine compaſſion on the one ſide to pitie them that ſhoulde thus periſh, and on the other ſide by the infirmitie of mans nature, knowing, how hard a thing it was to enterpriſe ſuch a charge, as Iſaiah 6.11. Exodus 3. 11. and 4.1.

k Which declareth, that God maketh them meete, and assureth them, whom he calleth to set forth his glorie: giuing them all meanes necessarie for the same, Exod.4.12. Isa.6.7.

l He sheweth, what is the authoritie of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beat downe whatsoeuer lifteth it selfe vp against God: and to plant and assure the humble, and such as giue themselues to the obedience of Gods word, 2.cor.10.4.heb, 4.12.and these are the keyes which Christ hath left to loose and binde, Matth.18.18.

m He ioyneth the signe with the word for a more ample confirmation, signifying by the rod of the almond tree, which first buddeth, the hastie comming of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

n Signifying, that the Caldeans and Assyrians shoulde be as a pot to seeth the Iewes, which boyled in their pleasures and lustes. o Syria and Assyria were Nothward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion. p I will giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance against the idolaters, which haue forsaken me for their idoles. q Wh ch declareth that Gods vengeance is prepared against them, which dare not execute their duetie faithfully, eyther for feare of man, or for any other cause, 1.Cor.9.16. r Signifying on the one part, that the more that Satan & the world rage against Gods ministers, the more present will he be to helpe them, Iosh.1.5. Heb.13.5. and on the other part, that they are vtterly vnmeete to serue God, and his Church, which are afraide, and doe not resist wickednesse, whatsoeuer danger depend thereon, Isa.50.7. Ezek.3.8.

and k touched my mouth, and the Lord sayd vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this day haue I set thee ouer the l nations and ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throwe downe, to builde, and to plant.

11 After this the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying, Ieremiah, what seest thou? And I sayde, I see a m rodde of an almond tree.

12 Then sayd the Lorde vnto me, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my word to performe it.

13 Againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I sayde, I see a seething n potte looking out of the North.

14 Then sayde the Lord vnto mee, Out of the o North shall a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, sayeth the Lorde, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my p iudgementes touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incense vnto their gods, and worshipped the woorkes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them, all that I commaund thee: be not afraide of their faces, lest I q destroy thee before them.

18 For I, behold, I this day haue made thee a defenced citie, and an r yron pillar and walles of brasse against the whole lande, against the kings of Iudah, and against the princes thereof, against the Priestes thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 For they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, sayeth the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 God reheaseth his benefits done vnto the Iewes. 8 Against the Priests and false prophets. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

MOreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe, and crie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the s kindnesse of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after mee in the wildernesse t in a land that was not sowen.

3 Israel was as a thing u halowed vnto the Lord, and his first fruites: all they x that eate it, shall offend; euill shall come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare yee the word of the Lorde, O house of Iaakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus sayth the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers found in mee, that they are gone y farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become z vaine?

6 For they sayde not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the lande of Egypt? that led vs through the wildernesse, through a desert, and waste lande, through a drie land, and a by the shadowe of death, by a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull countrey, to eate the fruite thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when yee entred, ye b defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priestes sayd not, c Where is the Lorde? and they that shoulde minister the d lawe, knewe mee not: the e pastours also offended against mee, and the Prophets prophecied in f Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I will yet g pleade with you, saith the Lord, and I will pleade with your childrens children.

10 For goe yee to the yles of h Chittim, and beholde, and send vnto i Kedar, and take diligent heede, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their k glorie, for that which doth not k profite.

12 O yee l heauens, bee astonied at this: be afraid and vtterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils: they haue forsaken mee m the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge them a According to that grace and fauour, which I shewed thee from the beginning, when I did first chuse thee to be my people, and married thee to my selfe, Ezek.16.8.

b When I had deliuered thee out of Egypt.

c Chosen aboue all other to serue the Lord only, & the first offred to the Lord of all other nations.

d Whosoeuer did chalenge this people, or els did annoy them, was punished.

e That is, fallen to most vile idolatrie.

f Altogether giuen to vanitie, and are become blind and insensible, as the idoles that they serue.

g Where for lacke of al things necessary for life, ye could looke for nothing euery houre but present death.

h By your idolatrie and wicked maners, Psal.78.58. and 106.38.

i They taught not the people to seeke after God.

k As the Scribes, which should haue expounded the Lawe to the people. l Meaning, the princes and ministers: signifying that all estates were corrupt. m That is, spake vaine things, and brought the people from the true worshippe of God to serue idoles: for by Baal, which was the chiefe idole of the Moabites, are meant all idoles. n Signifying, that hee woulde not as he might, streightway condemne them, but sheweth them by euident example their great ingratitude, that they might bee ashamed and repent. o Meaning, the Grecians and Italians. p Vnto Arabia. q That is, God which is their glorie, and who maketh them glorious aboue all other people: reprooving the Iewes, that they were lesse diligent to serue the true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities. r Meaning, the idoles, which were their destruction, Psal.106.36. s Hee sheweth that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements against the same. t Signifying, that when men forsake Gods word, which is the fountanie of life, they reiect God himselfe, and so fall to their owne inuentions, and vaine confidence, and procure to themselues destruction, Ionah 2,8, Zech.10.2.

pittes, euen broken pittes, that can holde no water.

14 Is Israel a u seruant, or is hee borne in the house? why then is he spoyled?

15 The x lyons roared vpon him and yelled, and they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without y an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of z Noph and Tahapanes haue a broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when hee b ledde thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou nowe to doe in the way of c Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Assyria? to drinke the water of the d Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall e correct thee, and thy turnings backe shall reproue thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euil thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hostes.

20 For of olde time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, and thou saydest, f I will no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all hie hilles, and vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whole ‡ plants were all naturall: how then art thou turned vnto me vnto the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with g nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before mee, saith the Lord God.

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I h followed Baalim? beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift i dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes:

24 And as a wilde k asse, vsed to the wildernesse, that snuffeth vp the winde by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seeke her, will not wearie themselues, but will find her in her l moneth.

25 Keepe thou thy foote from m barenesse, and thy throte from thirst: but thou saydest desperately, No, for I haue loued strangers, and them will I followe.

26 As the n thiefe is ashamed when hee is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their princes, and their Priests, and their Prophets,

27 Saying to a tree, Thou art my o father, and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou hast made thee? Let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according p to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

29 Wherefore will q ye pleade with me? yee all haue rebelled against mee, sayeth the Lord.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your r owne sworde hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.

31 O generation, take heede to the word of the Lorde: haue I beene as a s wildernesse vnto Israel? or a land of darknesse? wherefore sayeth my people then, Wee are lordes, t wee will come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attyre? yet my people haue forgotten me, dayes without number.

33 Why doest thou prepare thy way, to u seeke amitie? euen therefore will I teach thee, that thy wayes are wickednesse.

34 Also in thy x wings is founde the blood of the soules of the poore innocents: I haue not found it in holes, but vpon all these places.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am guiltlesse, surely his wrath shall turne from mee: beholde, I will enter with thee into iudgement, because thou sayest, I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes? for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, y as thou art confounded of Assyria.

37 For thou shalt goe forth from thence, and thine hands vpon z thine head, because the Lorde hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

u Haue I ordered them like seruants, and not like dearely beloued children? Exo 4.22. therefore it is their fault onely, if the enemie spoyle them.

x The Babylonians, Caldeans, and Assyrians.

y Not one shall be left to dwell there.

z That is, the Egyptians: for these were two great cities in Egypt.

a Haue grieuously vexed thee at sundry times.

b Shewing, that God would haue full ledde them aright, if they would haue followed him.

c To seeke helpe of man, as though God were not able ynough to defend thee, which is to drink of the puddles, and to leaue the fountaine, reade Isa. 31.1.

d To wit, Euphrates.

e Meaning, that the wicked are insensible till the punishment for their sinne waken them, as verse 26. Isa. 3.9.

f When I deliuered thee out of Egypt, Exod. 19.8. deut. 5.27. iosh. 24.16. ezra. 10.12. nehe. 8.6. ‡ Ebr. seede was all true.

g Though thou vse all the purifications and ceremonies of the Lawe, thou canst not escape punishment, except thou turne to me by faith and repentance.

h Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worshippe the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods seruice.

i Hee compareth the idolaters to these beasts, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for both valleys and hilles are full of their idolatrie.

k Hee compareth the idolaters to a wilde asse: for shee can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as she runneth, shee can take her winde at euery occasion.

l That is, when she is with foale, and therefore the hunters wayte their time: so though thou canst not be turned backe nowe from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie shall be at the full, God will meete with thee.

m Hereby hee warneth them that they should not goe into strange countreys to seeke helpe: for they shoulde but spend their labour, and hurt themselues, which is here meant by the bare foote and thirst, Isa. 57.10.

n As a thiefe will not acknowledge his fault, till he be taken with the deede, and ready to be punished: so they will not confesse their idolatrie, till the plagues due to the same light vpon them.

o Meaning, that idolaters spoyle God of his honour: and whereas he hath taught to call him the father of all flesh, they attribute this title to their idoles.

p Thou thoughtest that thy gods of blockes and stones could haue holpen thee, because they were many in number and present in euery place: but now let vs see whether either the multitude, or their presence can deliuer thee from my plague, Chap. 11.13.

q As though I did you iniurie in punishing you, seeing that your faultes are euident.

r That is, you haue killed your Prophets that exhorted you to repentance, as Zechariah, Isaiah, &c.

s Haue I not giuen them abundance of all things? t But will trust in our owne power and policie. u With strangers. x The Prophets and the faithfull are slaine in euery corner of your countrey. y For the Assyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Iuda, euen vnto Ierusalem: and the Egyptians slewe Iosiah, and vexed the Iewes in sundry sortes. z In signe of lamentation, as 2. Sam. 13.19.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 Hee promiseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reproueth Iudah, and Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

THey a say, If a man put away his wife, and shee goe from him, and become another mans, shall hee returne againe a According as it is written, Deut. 24.4.

b If he take such one to wife again.
c That is, with idoles, and with them, whome thou hast put thy confidence in.
d And I will not cast thee off, but receiue thee according to my mercy.
e Which dwelleth in tents, and waiteth for them that passe by to spoyle them.
f As God threatned by his lawe, Deut. 28. 24.
g Thou wouldest neuer be ashamed of thine actes & repent: & this impudencie is common to idolaters, which will not giue off, though they be neuer so manifestly conuicted.
h He sheweth that the wicked in their miseries will crie vnto God and vse outward prayer, as the godly doe, but because they turne not from their euill, they are not heard, Isa. 58. 3, 4.
i Meaning, the ten tribes.
k And gaue her vnto the handes of the Assirians.
l The Ebrewe word may either signifie lightnes and wantonnes, or noise & bruite.
m Iudah fained for a time that she did returne, as vnder Iosiah and other good Kings, but she was neuer truely touched, or wholy reformed, as appeared, when occasion gaine vnto her? shall not this lande b bee polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many c louers: yet d turne againe to me, saith the Lorde.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the hie places, and beholde, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the e Arabian in the wildernesse: and thou hast polluted the lande with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue bene restrained, & the f latter raine came not, and thou haddest a g whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Didst thou not stil cry h vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe his anger for euer? will he reserue it to the end? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lorde saide also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebell i Israel hath done? for she hath gone vp vpon euery hie mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, & there played the harlot.

7 And I saide, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but shee returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah sawe.

8 When I sawe, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast k her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraid, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the l lightnesse of her whoredome shee hath euen defiled the land: for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheless for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with m her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath n iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and cry these wordes towarde o the North and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, and I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast p scattered thy wayes to the strange gods vnder euery greene tree, but ye would not obey my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe, and will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, in those dayes, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The q Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for it shal come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, r The throne of the Lorde, and all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lorde in Ierusalem: and thenceforth they shall followe no more the hardnesse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the s North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I saide, How did I take thee for children, and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and saide, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her t husband: so haue yee rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lorde.

21 u A voyce was heard vpon the hie places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerted their way, and forgotten the Lorde their God.

22 O yee disobedient children, returne and I will heale your rebellions. x Behold, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lorde our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lorde our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our y fathers labour, from our youth, their sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 Wee lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereth vs: z for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth, euen vnto this day, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde our God.

was offered by any wicked prince. n Israel hath not declared her selfe so wicked as Iudah, which yet hath had more admonitions and examples to call her to repentance. o Whereas the Israelites were now kept in captiuitie by the Assyrians, to whom he promiseth mercie, if they will repent. p There was no way, which thou diddest not haunt to seeke after the idoles, and to trot a pilgrimage.

q This is to be vnderstoode of the comming of Christ: for then they shall not seeke the Lord by ceremonies, and all figures shall cease.

s Where they are now in captiuitie.
t The Ebrewe worde signifieth a friend or companion, and here may be taken for a husband, as it is vsed also, Hos. 3. 1 u Signifying, that God whome they had forsaken, would bring their enemies vpon them, who should leade them captiue and make them to crie and lament.
x This is spoken in the person of Israel to the shame of Iudah, which stayed so long to turne vnto God.
y For their idolatrie Gods vengeance hath light vpon them and theirs.
z They iustifie not themselues, or say that they would followe their fathers, but condemne their wicked doings, and desire forgiuenesse of the same, as Ezra. 9. 7. Psal. 106. 6. Isa. 64. 6.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophecied for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

O Israel, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, saith the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou shalt b sweare, the Lord liueth, in trueth, in iudgement, and in righa That is, wholy & without hypocrisie, Ioel 2. 12. not dissembling to turne & serue God as they doe which serue him by halues, as Hose. 7. 16.

b Thou shalt detest the name of idoles, Psal. 16. 4. and shalt with reuerence sweare by the liuing God, when thine othe may aduance Gods glory, and profite others: and here by swearing he meaneth the true religion of God.

treousnesse, and the nations shal be blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to the men of Iudah, and to Ierusalem,

4 Breake vp your fallow ground, and sow not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitantes of Ierusalem, lest my wrath come forth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 Declare in Iudah, and shew forth in Ierusalem, and say, Blowe the trumpet in the land: crie, and gather together, and say, Assemble your selues, and let vs goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standart in Zion: prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The lion is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy lande waste, and thy cities shall be destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with sackecloth: lament and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, sayth the Lorde, the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the Princes, and the Priests shal be astonished, and the Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lorde God, surely thou hast deceiued this people, and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall haue peace, and the sword pearceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be saide to this people & to Ierusalem, A drie winde in the hie places of the wildernesse commeth toward the daughter of my people, but neyther to fanne, nor to cleanse.

12 A mightie winde shall come vnto me from those places, and now will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, hee shall come vp as the cloudes, and his charets shall be as a tempest: his horses are lighter then eagles. Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednesse, that thou mayest bee saued: how long shall thy wicked thoughtes remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Ierusalem, Behold, the skoutes came from a farre countrey, and crie out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the field, becausse it hath prouoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednes: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall pearce vnto thine heart.

19 My belly, my belly, I am pained, euen at the very heart: my heart is troubled within me: I cannot be still: for my soule hath heard the sound of the trumpet, and the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my tents destroyed, and my curtaines in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standart, and heare the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen me: they are foolish children, and haue none vnderstanding: they are wise to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and loe, it was without forme and voide: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wildernes, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lorde saide, The whole lande shalbe desolate: yet will I not make a full ende.

28 Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shall bee darkened, because I haue pronoūced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie shal flee, for the noyse of the horsemen and bowe men: they shall goe into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes: euery citie shalbe forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt bee destroyed, what wilt thou doe? Though thou clothest thy selfe with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of golde, though thou paintest thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy selfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee and seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noyse as of a woman trauailing, or as one labouring of her first childe, euen the voyce of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her handes: y woe is mee now: for my soule fainteth because of the murtherers.

deliuer thee. y As the Prophets were moued to on of their people, so they declared it to the people to repentance, Isa. 22.4. chap. 9.1.

s Their wisedome and policie tend to their owne destruction and pulleth them from God.

t By these maner of speaches hee sheweth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the land, and also condēneth the obstinacie of the people, who repent not at the feare of these terrible tidings, seeing that the insensible creatures are moued therewith, as if the order of nature should be changed, Isa. 13.10. and 24.23. ezek. 32.7. ioel. 2.31. and 3.15.

yee can finde a man, or if there bee any that executeth iudgement, and seeketh the truth, and I will spare [a] it.

2 For though they say, The [b] Lord liueth, yet doe they sweare falsely.

3 O Lorde, are not thine eyes vpon the [c] truth? thou hast [d] stricken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I sayde, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get me vnto the [e] great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowen the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore [f] a lyon out of the forrest shall slay them, and a wolfe of the wildernesse shall destroy them: a leopard shall watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsaken me, and [g] sworne by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled themselues by companies in the harlots houses.

8 They rose vp in the morning like fedde horses: for euery man *neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shal I not visit for these things, saith the Lord? Shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

10 [h] Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full end, [i] take away their battlements, for they are not the Lordes.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grieuously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue [k] denyed the Lorde, and sayd, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shal we see sword nor famine.

13 And the prophets shall be as [l] winde, and the word is [m] not in them: thus shall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because yee speake such wordes, beholde, I will put my wordes into [n] thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall deuoure them.

15 Loe, I will bring a nation vpon you [o] from farre, O house of Israel, sayth the Lorde, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neyther vnderstandest what they say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an [p] open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eate thine harueſt and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy sonnes, and thy daughters: they shall eate vp thy sheepe and thy bullockes: they shall eate thy vines and thy figge trees: they shall destroy with the sworde thy fenced cities, wherein thou triddest trust.

18 Neuertheless at those dayes, saith the Lord, I will not make a full ende of [q] you.

19 And when *ye shall say, Wherefore doeth the Lorde our God doe these things vnto vs? then shalt [r] thou answere them, Like as yee haue forsaken mee and serued strange gods in your land, so shall yee serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iaakob, and publish it in Iudah, saying, 21 Heare now this, O foolish people, and ‡without vnderstanding, which haue *eyes and see not, which haue eares & heare not.

22 Feare yee not me, saith the Lorde? or will ye not be afraide at my presence, which haue placed the sande for the *bounds of the sea by the perpetuall decree that it can not passe it, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not preuaile, though they roare, yet can they not passe ouer it?

23 But this people hath an vnfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lorde our God, that giueth raine both early and late in due season: he reserueth vnto vs the appointed weekes of the harueſt.

25 Yet your [s] iniquities haue turned away these things, and your sinnes haue hindred good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay waite as hee that setteth snares: they haue made a pit to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceite: thereby they are become great and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and shining: they doe ouerpasse the deedes of the wicked: *they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherlesse: yet they [t] prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lorde? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthie thing is committed in the land.

31 The [u] prophets prophesie lyes, and the priests ‖receiue gifts in their hands, and my people delight therein. What will yee then doe in the ende thereof?

c Reade Nehemiah 3.14. was a citie in Iudah sixe miles from Beth-lehem, 2. Chron.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion, to [d] a beautifull and daintie woman.

3 The pastors with their flockes [e] shall come vnto her: they shall pitch their tents rounde about by her, and euery one shall feede in his place.

4 [f] Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs goe vp toward the South: woe vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lorde of hosts said, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this citie must be visited: all oppression is in the middes of it.

7 As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: [g] crueltie and spoyle is continually heard in her before me with sorowe and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O [h] Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer vnto the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and admonish, that they may heare? Behold, their eares are [k] vncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: beholde, the word of the Lord is vnto them as a reproche: they haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: [l] I will powre it out vpon the [m] children in the streete, and likewise vpon the assembly of the yong men: for the husband shall euen bee taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their landes, and wiues also shall bee turned vnto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the lande, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto couetousnesse, and from the prophet euen vnto the priest, they all deale falsly.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete words, saying, [n] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the [x] slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the waies and beholde, and aske for [o] the olde way which is the good way, & walke therein, and ye shal finde rest for your soules: but they said, We will not walke therein.

17 Also I set watchmen ouer you, which said, Take heed to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not take heede.

18 Heare therefore, yee [q] Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, behold, I wil cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken heede vnto my words, nor to my lawe, but cast it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou mee [r] incense from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a farre countrey? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shal fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, a people commeth from the [s] North countrey, and a great nation shal arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shielde shall they be weaponed: they are cruell, and will haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 Wee haue heard their fame, and our hands [t] wax feeble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorowe of a woman in trauaile.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sworde of the enemie and feare is on euery side.

26 O daughter of my people, girde thee with sackcloth, and wallow thy selfe in the ashes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning as for thine only sonne: for the destroyer shall suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set [u] thee for a defence and fortresse among my people, that thou mayest knowe and trie their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious traytours, walking craftily: they are braste, and yron, they all are destroyers.

29 The [x] bellowes are burnt: the lead is consumed in the fire: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Judah and in the streetes of Jerusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, & the women knead the dough to make cakes to i the Queene of heauen and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, saith the Lord, and not themselues to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruite of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacrifices, and eate the flesh.

22 For k I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commaunded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: & walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commaunded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubburnnesse of their wicked heart, and went backewarde and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, m rising vp early euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke, and did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they n will not heare thee: thou shalt also cry vnto them, but they will not answere thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lorde their God, nor receiueth discipline: trueth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine o haire, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint in the hie places: for the Lorde hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his p wrath.

30 For the children of Judah haue done euill in my sight, sayeth the Lorde: they haue set their abominations in the house, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie place of q Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I r commaunded them not, neyther came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that it shall no more bee called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shal burie in Topheth till there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall be meate for the foules of the heauen and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 *Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streetes of Jerusalem, the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bride-grome a Beleeue not the false prophets, which say that for the Temples sake, and the sacrifices there, the Lord will preserue you, and so nourish you in your sinne, and vaine confidence.

b God sheweth on what condition he made his promise to this Temple: that they should be an holy people vnto him, as he would be a faithfull God to them.

c As theeues hid in holes, and dennes, thinke themselues safe, so when you are in my Temple, you thinke to be couered with the holinesse thereof, and that I can not see your wickednesse, Matt.21.13.

d Because they depended so much on the Temple, which was for his promise, that he would be present, and defend them where the Arke was: he sendeth them to Gods iudgements against Shilo, where the Arke had remained about 300. yeeres, and after was taken, the Priests slaine and the people miserably discomfited, 1.Sam.4.

f He sheweth what is the onely remedie to redresse our faultes: to suffer God to leade vs into the way, and to obey his calling, Isai.66.4.

g I will send you into captiuitie as I haue done Ephraim, that is, the ten tribes.

h To assure them that God had determined with himselfe to punish their wickednesse, he sheweth that the prayer of the godly can nothing auaile them, whiles they remaine in their obstinacie against God, and will not vse the meanes that he vseth to call them to repentance, Chap.11.14.&14.11.

i That is, They sacrifice to ỹ sun, moone, & starres which they called the queene of heauen, Chap.44.17.2.king.23.5.

k Shewing that it was not his chiefe purpose and intent that they should offer sacrifices: but that they should regard, wherfore they were ordeined: to wit, to be ioyned to the word, as seales & confirmations of remission of sinnes in Christ: for without the word they were vaine and vnprofitable.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lorde mooueth the people to amendment. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine and the couetousnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

AT that time, saith the Lorde, they shall bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudah, and the bones of their Princes, and the bones of the priestes, and the bones of the Prophets, & the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their [a] graues.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne and the moone, and all the hoste of heauen, whome they haue loued, and whom they haue serued, and whome they haue followed, and whom they haue sought, and whom they haue worshipped: they shall not be gathered nor be buried, but shall bee as dung vpon the earth.

3 And death shalbe desired [b] rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scattered them, sayth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shalt say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shall they [c] fall & not arise? shall he turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem turned backe by a perpetual rebellion? they gaue themselues to deceite, and woulde not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euery [d] one turned to their race, as the hoste rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the stoorke in the ayre knoweth her appointed times, and the Turtle and the crane and the swallow obserue the time of their comming, but my people knoweth not the [e] iudgement of the Lord.

8 How doe ye say, Wee are wise, and the [f] lawe of the Lord is with vs? Lo, certeinely in vaine made he it, the penne of the scribes is in vaine.

9 The [g] wise men are ashamed: they are afraide and taken. loe, they haue reiected the worde of the Lord, and what wisedome is in them?

10 Therefore will I giue their wiues vnto others, and their fields to them that shal possesse them: for euery one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euery one dealeth falsely.

11 For they haue healed the heart of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, [h] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, neither could they haue any shame: therefore shall they fall among the slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

13 I will surely consume them, saith the Lord: there shall bee no grapes on the vine, nor figges on the fig tree, and the leafe shall fade, & the things that I haue giuen them, shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? [i] assemble your selues, & let vs enter into the strong cities, and let vs be quiet there: for the Lorde our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water with [k] gall to drinke, because we haue sinned against the Lord.

15 [*] Wee looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and beholde troubles.

16 The neying of his horses was heard from [l] Dan, the whole land trembled at the noyse of the neying of his strong horses: for they are come, and haue deuoured the land with all that is in it, the citie and those that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I will [m] send serpents, and cockatrices among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall sting you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue [*] comforted my selfe against sorow, but mine hart is heauy in me.

19 Beholde, the voyce of the crie of the daughter of my people for feare of them of a farre countrey, Is not the Lord in Sion? is not her King in her? Why [o] haue they prouoked mee to anger with their grauen images, and with the vanities of a strange god?

20 The [p] haruest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not holpen.

21 I am [q] sore vexed for the hurt of the daughter of my people: I am heauie, and astonishment hath taken me.

22 Is there no balme [r] at Gilead? is there no Phisicion there? Why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recouered?

a The enemie for greedinesse of gaine shall rifle your graues, and lay you before those idoles, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can helpe you.

b Because of the afflictions that they shall feele through Gods iudgements.

c Is there no hope that they will returne?

d They are full of hypocrisie, and euery one followeth his owne fantasie without any consideration.

e He accuseth them in that that they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements, then these birds are of their appointed seasons, to discerne the colde and heate, as Isa. 1.3.

f The Law doth not profite you, neither needed it to haue bin written for ought that you haue learned by it.

g They y seeme wise may be ashamed of their ignorance for all wisedome consisteth in Gods worde. Isa. 56.11. chap. 5.31. & 6.13.

o Thus the Lord speaketh.

p The people wonder that they haue so long time looked for succour in vaine.

q The Prophet speaketh this. r Meaning, that no meanes could saue them: for in Gilead was precious balme, Chap. 46.11. or else deriding the vaine confidence of the people, who looked for helpe at their Priestes, who should haue bene the Phisicions of their soules, and dwelt at Gilead, Hos. 6.8.

CHAP. IX.

1 The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we only to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

OH that mine head were full of [a] water, and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slaine of the daughter of my people.

a The Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people seeing that hee could neuer sufficiently lament the destruction that he sawe to hang ouer them. Which is a speciall note to discerne the true pastors from the hirelings: Reade Chap. 4.19.

2 Oh, that I had in the wildernes a [b] cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people and goe from them: for they bee all [c] adulterers and an assembly of rebels,

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for [d] lies: but they haue no courage for the trueth vpon the earth: for they proceede from euill to worse, and they haue not knowen me, saith the Lord.

4 Let euery one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any [e] brother: for euery brother will vse deceit, and euery friend will deale deceitfully, b He sheweth that this were more quietnesse, and greater safety for him, to dwell among the wild beasts then among this wicked people saue that God hath inioyned him this charge. c Vtterly turned from God. d To belie and slander their neighbours. e Meaning that all were corrupt, and none could finde an honest man.

5 And

f They haue so practised deceit, that they cannot forsake it.
g They had rather forsake God then leaue their wicked trade.
h With the fire of affliction. Psal.28.3.and 120.4.
i Signifying, that all ỹ places about Ierusalem should be destroyed.
k Meaning that they are all without sense and vnderstanding, and that God hath taken his spirite from them.
l He sheweth that the children cannot excuse themselues by their fathers: for both father and childe, if they be wicked, shall perish.
m Reade Chap. 8.14.
n Seeing you can not lament your owne sinnes, call for those foolish women, whome of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fained teares may prouoke you to some sorowe.
o As though they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities, Leuit.18. 28.and 20.22.
p Hee derideth the superstition of the women, which made an art of mourning, and taught to weepe with fained teares.
q Signifying, that there is no means to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgements: but when they thinke to be most sure, and most farre off, then are they soonest taken.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friend, and wil not speake the trueth: for they haue taught their tongues to speake lyes, and take great paines to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the mids of deceiuers: f because of their deceite they refuse to knowe me, saith the Lord.

7 Therfore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I wil g melt them, and trie them: for what should I else doe for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue *is as an arrow shot out, and speaketh deceite: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him.

9 Shal not I visit them for these things, saith the Lorde? or shall not my soule bee auenged on such a nation as this?

10 Vpon the i mountaines will I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wildernesse a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so ỹ none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voyce of the flocke: both the foule of the ayre, and the beast are fled away and gone.

11 And I wil make Ierusalem an heape, and a den of Dragons, & I wil make ỹ cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is wise to k vnderstand this? and to whom the mouth of the Lorde hath spoken, euen he shall declare it. Why doeth the lande perish, and is burnt vp like a wildernesse, that none passeth through?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neyther walked thereafter,

14 But haue walked after the stubbernesse of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which l their fathers taught them,

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I wil feede this people with wormewood, and giue them waters of gall m to drinke.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whome neither they nor their fathers haue knowen, and I wil send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heede, and call for the n mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye lids gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and vtterly confounded! for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings o haue cast vs out.

20 Therfore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regard the wordes of his mouth, and p teache your daughters to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our q windowes, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the yong men in the streetes.

22 Speake, Thus saith the Lorde, The carkeises of men shall lie euen as the dounge vpon the fielde, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the r wise man glory in his wisedome, nor the strong man glory in his strength, neither the rich man glory in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glory in this, that hee vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which s shew mercy, iudgement, and righteousnesse in the earth: for in these things I delight saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the dayes come, saith ỹ Lord, that I will visite all them, which are t circumcised with the vncircumcised:

26 Egypt, and Iudah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wildernesse: for all these nations are vncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

r Forasmuch as none can saue himselfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lorde, and reioyce in him, who onely can deliuer vs, 1.Cor. 1.31. 2.Cor.10. 17.
s These three poyntes are necessarie to knowe aright: his mercie, wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against the wicked: and his iustice, whereby he defendeth and maintayneth the faithfull. t Meaning, both Iewes and Gentiles, as in the next verse hee sheweth the cause, reade Chap.4.4.

CHAP. X.

1 The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 5 The weakenesse of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Their pastours are become brute beasts.

HEare the worde of the Lorde that hee speaketh vnto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and bee not afraide for the a signes of heauen, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the b customes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it with c siluer, and with golde: they fasten it with nayles, and hammers that it fall not.

5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they cannot goe: feare them not, for they cannot doe euill, neither can they doe good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: d ỹ art great: & thy name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O king of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among al the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a e doctrine of vanitie.

a God forbiddeth his people to giue credite or feare the constellations and coniunctions of starres and planets, which haue no power of themselues, but are gouerned by him, and their secrete motions and influences are not knowen to man, and therefore there can be no certaine iudgement thereof, Deut.18.9.
b Meaning, not onely in the obseruation of the starres, but their Lawes and ceremonies, whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden, Deut.12.30. c The Prophets vse thus plainely and simply to set forth the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be asshamed of that, whereunto their corrupt nature is most subiect, reade Isa.44.12. d He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath all power, and therefore ought onely to bee feared: and herein hee sheweth them not onely the euill that they ought to eschew, but the good which they ought to follow, Reuel. 15.4. e Because the people thought that to haue images was a meane to serue God, and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor bringeth man into greater errours and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the worke of errors, verse 15, and Hab.2.18. calleth them the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the lay people.

f Whereas they founde the best golde: shewing, that they thought nothing too deare for their idoles: some reade Ophir, as 1. King. 9.28.

9 Siluer plates are brought from Tarshish, and golde f from Uphaz, for the worke of the workeman, and the handes of the founder: the blue silke, and the purple is their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

g This declareth, that all that hath bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they should be in Caldea among the idolaters, and nowe with one sentence he instructeth them both how to protest their owne religion against the idolaters, & how to answere them to their shame which should exhort them to idolatrie, & therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the rest of his writing is Ebrewe.

10 But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlasting king: at his anger the earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods g that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

12 Hee hath made the earth by his power, and established the worlde by his wisedome, and hath stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth: hee turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

14 Euery man is a h beast by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by his grauen image: for his melting is but falsehoode, and there is no breath therein.

h The more that man thinketh to doe any thing well by his owne wisedome, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proue himselfe to be a vile beast.

15 They are vanitie, and the worke of errours: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The i portion of Iaakob is not like them: for hee is the maker of all things, and Israel is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lord of hosts is his Name.

i By these words, portion and rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning that God should be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consisted in him alone, and therefore they ought to renounce all other helpes, and succours, as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32.9. Psal. 16.5.

17 k Gather vp thy wares out of the lande, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

k The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare themselues to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they should feele the things, whereof he had tolde them.

18 For thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, at this time I will throw as with a sling the inhabitants of the lande, and will trouble them, and they shall finde it so.

19 Woe is mee, for my destruction, and my grieuous plague: but I thought, Yet it l is my sorowe, and I will beare it.

l It is my iust plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby hee teacheth the people how to behaue themselues toward God.

20 m My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my coardes are broken: my children are gone from mee, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set vp my curtaines.

m Hee sheweth how Ierusalem shall lament.

21 For the Pastors n are become beasts, and haue not sought the Lorde: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: and all the flockes of their pastures are scattered.

n The gouernours & ministers.

22 Beholde, the noyse of the bruite is come, and a great commotion out of the o North countrey to make the cities of Iudah desolate, and a denne of dragons.

o Reade Chap. 4.15.

23 O Lorde, I know, that p the way of man is not in himselfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his steppes.

p He speaketh this, because that Nebuchad-nezzar purposed to haue made warre against the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedechias rebellion, he turned his power to goe against Ierusalem, Ezek. 21.21. therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lords direction.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with q iudgement, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

q Considering that God had reuealed vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7.16. he onely prayeth, that he would punish them with mercie, which Isaiah calleth in measure, Chap. 27.8. measuring his rods by their infirmitie, 1. Cor. 10.13. for heere by iudgement is meant not onely the punishment, but also the merciful moderation of the same, as Chap. 30.11.

25 Powre out r thy wrath vpon the heathen, that knowe thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakob, and deuoured him and consumed him, and made his habitation desolate.

r Forasmuch as God cannot onely bee knowen and glorified by his mercie, that he vseth toward his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he prayeth that his glory may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 79.6.

CHAP. XI.

3 A curse of them that obey not the word of Gods couenant. 10 The people of Iudah following the steps of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiah to pray for them.

THe worde that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, a Cursed bee the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this couenant, a He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of Gods mercies, who freely chose them, made a couenant of eternal felicitie with them, and how he euer performed it on his behalfe, and how they euer shewed themselues rebellious and ingrate toward him, and brake it on their part, and so are subiect to the curse of the Law Deut. 27.26.

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all these things, which I commaund you: so shall ye be my people, & I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a lande, which floweth with milke, and honie, as appeareth this day. Then answered b I and said, So be it, O Lord.

b Thus he speaketh in the person of the people, which agreed to the couenant.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Cry all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and doe them.

c Reade Chap. 7.13.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, c rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheless, they would not obey, nor incline their eare: but euery one walked in ỹ stubburnnes of his wicked d heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the e wordes of this couenant, which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not.

d According to his owne fantasie, and not as my word appointed him.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A f conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

e Meaning, the menaces and curses conteined in the Lawe, Leuit. 26.14. Deut. 28.16.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

o Let vs destroy the Prophet and his doctrine. Some reade, Let vs corrupt his meate with wood, meaning poyson.

p Thus he spake not for hatred, but being moued with the spirite of God, he desireth the aduancement of Gods glory and the verifying of his word which is by the destruction of his enemies.

q To wit, both the priestes and the rest of the people: for this towne was the priestes, and they dwelt in it, reade Chap. 1.1.

r Not that they ould not abide heare God named: (for herein they would shew themselues most ly) but because they could not abide to be sharpely reproued and erefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30.10. and to be maintained in eir pleasures, Micah. 2.11. and not to heare vice condemned, Amos 12.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they cry vnto me, e I will not heare them.

12 Then shal the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, goe, and cry vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shall not be able to help them in time of their trouble.

13 h For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray i for this people, neyther lift vp a crie, or prayer for them: for when they crie vnto mee in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What shoulde my k beloued carie in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh l goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene olme tree, faire, and of goodly fruite: but with m noyse and great tumult hee hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lorde of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselues to prouoke mee to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I know it, euen then thou shewedst me n their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, & I knewe not that they had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs o destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may bee no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, p iudgest righteously, and triest the reines and the heart, let me see thy p vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of q Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, r Prophecie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our hands)

22 Thus therefore saith p Lord of hostes, Behold, I will visite them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sons and their daughters shall die by famine,

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yeere of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet marueileth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lord, 10 He speaketh against pastours and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations that troubled Iudah.

O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doth the way of the wicked b prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they growe, and bring foorth fruite: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their c reines.

3 But thou, Lorde, knowest mee: thou hast seene mee, and tried mine heart towarde thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and d prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the herbes of euery field wither for the wickednes of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed and the birds, because they said, e He will not be our last end.

5 If thou hast run with the f footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iorden?

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleeue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken g mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the deare ly beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto mee, as a h lyon in the forest: it crieth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage be vnto mee as a bird i of diuers colours? are not the birds about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eate her?

10 Many pastours haue destroyed my k vineyard, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wildernesse.

11 They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto mee: and the whole lande lyeth waste, because no man letteth a The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his actes.

b This question hath beene alway a great tentation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Iob 21.7. psalm. 37.1. and 73.3. Hab. 1.3.

c They professe God in mouth, but deny him in heart, which is here meant by the reines, Isa. 29.13. matth. 15.8.

d The Ebrewe word is, Sanctifie them, meaning, that God would be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whome God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterward they should the more feele his heauie iudgement when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercie.

e Abusing Gods lenitie and his promises, they flattered themselues as though God would euer be merciful, and not vtterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselues in sinne, till at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubburne rebellion against God.

f Some thinke that God reproueth Ieremiah, in that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to match with men, that hee were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the foote men, meane them of Anathoth, and by the horsemen them of Ierusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse then his owne countreymen did.

g God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence.

h Euer ramping and raging against me and my Prophets.

i In steade of bearing my liuery and wearing onely my colours, they haue change and diuersitie of colours of their idols and superstitions: therefore their enemies, as thicke as the foules of the ayre, shall come about them to destroy them.

12 The destroyers are come vpon al the high places in the wildernes: for the sword of the Lord shall deuoure from the one ende of the lande, euen to the other ende of the lande: no flesh shall haue peace.

13 m They haue sowen wheate, and reaped thornes: they were n sick, & had no profite: & they were ashamed of o your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine euill p neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Behold, I wil plucke them out of r their land, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I q will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the r wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (s The Lord liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal) then shall they bee built t in the mids of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I vtterly plucke vp, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

m To wit, the Prophets.

n They lamented the sinnes of the people.

o For in stead of amendment, you grewe worse and worse as Gods plagues testified.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was receiued to bee the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

THus saith the Lord vnto me, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes,

3 And the worde of the Lorde came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go toward a Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

a Because this riuer Perath or Euphrates was farre from Ierusalem, it is euident that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Iewes shoulde passe ouer Euphrates to be captiues in Babylon, and there for length of time should seeme to be rotten, although they were ioyned to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes, the Lord saide vnto me, Arise, goe toward Perath, & take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, and walke after the stubbornesse of their owne heart, & walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shall be as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tied to mee the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, saith the Lorde, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and prayse, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Euery b bottel shalbe filled with wine, & they shall say vnto thee, Do not we know, that euery bottell shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will fill all the inhabitants of this lande, euen the kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priestes, and the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennes, 14 And I c will dash them one against another, euen the fathers and the sonnes together, saith the Lorde: I will not spare, I will not pitie nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proude: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord your God before he bring d darkenesse, and or euer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles ye looke for light, he turne it into the shadow of death and make it as darkenesse.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall f weepe in secrete for your pride, & mine eye shall weepe and droppe downe teares, because the Lordes flocke is caryed away captiue.

18 Say vnto the king & to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of h the South shalbe shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shalbe caried away captiue: it shall be wholy caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the i flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when he shal visite thee? (for thou hast k taught them to bee captaines and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorowe take thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon mee? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts l discouered and thy heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moore change his skinne? or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, ye are accustomed to do euil.

24 Therefore wil I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and the part of thy measures from me, saith the Lorde, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in lyes.

26 Therefore I haue also discouered thy skirts vpon thy face, m that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy neyings, b Euery one of you shal be filled with spirituall drunkennes, and be without all knowledge to seeke howe to help your selues.

c It shal be as easie for me to destroy the greatest, & the strongest, as it is for a man to breake earthen bottels.

d That is affliction and miserie, by the Babylonians, Isa. 8.22.

THE woꝛd of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the a‖ dearth.

2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are deſolate, they haue bin b brought to heauineſſe vnto the ground, and the crie of Ieruſalem goeth vp.

3 And their nobles haue ſent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and found no water: they returned with their veſſels emptie: they were aſhamed and confounded, and c couered their heads.

4 For the ground was deſtroyed, becauſe there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were aſhamed, and couered their heads.

5 Yea, the hinde alſo calued in the fielde, and forſook d it, becauſe there was no graſſe.

6 And the wilde aſſes did ſtand in the hie places, and drewe in their winde like e dragons: their eyes did faile, becauſe there was no graſſe.

7 f O Lord, though our iniquities teſtifie againſt vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, wee ſinned againſt thee.

8 O the hope of Iſrael, the ſauiour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a ſtranger in the land, as one that paſſeth by to tarie for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man aſtonied, and as h a ſtrong man that can not helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy name is called vpon vs: forſake vs not.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wander: they haue not refrained their feete, therefore the Lord hath no delight in them: but he will nowe remember their iniquitie, and viſite their ſinnes.

11 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, i Thou ſhalt not pray to doe this people good.

12 When they faſt, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will conſume them by the ſworde, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

13 Then anſwered I, Ah Lord God, behold, the k Prophets ſay vnto them, Ye ſhall not ſee the ſworde, neither ſhall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you aſſured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, The prophets prophecie lies in my Name: * I haue not ſent them, neither did I commaund them, neither ſpake I vnto them, but they prophecie vnto you a falſe viſion, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulneſſe of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophecie in my Name, whome I haue not ſent, yet they ſay, Sworde and famine ſhall not be in this land, by ſworde and famine ſhall thoſe prophets be conſumed.

16 And the people to whom theſe prophets doe prophecie, ſhalbe caſt out in the ſtreetes of Ieruſalem, becauſe of the famine, and the ſworde, and there ſhall bee none to burie them, both they, and their wiues, and their ſonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednеſſe vpon them.

17 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this woꝛd vnto them, Let mine eyes droppe downe l teares night and day without ceaſing: for the virgine daughter of my people is deſtroyed with a great deſtruction, and with a ſore grieuous plague.

18 For if I goe into the fielde, beholde the ſlaine with the ſworde: and if I enter into the citie, beholde them that are ſicke for hunger alſo: moreouer the prophet alſo and the Prieſt goe a wandring m into a land that they know not.

19 Haſt thou vtterly reiected n Iudah, or hath thy ſoule abhoꝛred Zion? why haſt thou ſmitten vs, that we cannot be healed? We looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

20 We o acknowledge, O Lord, our wickednеſſe and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue ſinned againſt thee.

21 Doe not abhoꝛre vs: for thy names ſake caſt not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the p vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue ſhowres? is it not thou, O Lord our God? therefore we will waite vpon thee: for thou haſt made all theſe things.

1 The falſe prophets promiſed peace and aſſurance, but Ieremiah calleth to teares and repentance for their affliction, which is at hand, as Chap. 9.1. Lamen.1.16, and 2.18.
m Both hie and lowe ſhalbe led captiues into Babylon.
n Though the Prophet knewe that God had caſt off the multitude, which were hypocrites and baſtard children, yet hee was aſſured that for his promiſe ſake hee would haue ſtill a Church, for the which he praieth.
o He teacheth the Church a forme of prayer, to humble themſelues to God by true repentance, which is the only meane to auoyde this famine, which was the beginning of Gods plagues.
p Meaning, their idoles, reade Chap.10,15.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 But threatneth to deſtroy them with foure plagues.

THen ſayde the Lord vnto me, a Though Moſes and Samuel ſtoode before mee, yet mine affection could not bee towarde this people: caſt them out of my ſight, and let them depart.

2 And if they ſay vnto thee, Whither ſhall we depart? then tell them, Thus ſaith the Lord, * Such as are appoynted to death, vnto death: and ſuch as are for the ſworde, to the ſworde: and ſuch as are for the famine, to the famine: and ſuch as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

3 And I will appoynt ouer them foure kindes, ſaith the Lord, the ſworde to ſlay, and the b dogs to teare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beaſts of the earth to deuoure, and to deſtroy.

4 I wil c ſcatter them alſo in al kingdoms

a Meaning, that if there were any man liuing mooued with ſo great zeale toward the people, as were theſe two, yet that he would not graunt this requeſt, foraſmuch as he had determined the contrary, Ezek. 14.14. Zach.11.9.

of the earth, d because of Manasseh the sonne of Hezekiah king of Iudah, for that which he did in Ierusalem.

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shall be sorie for thee? or who shall goe to pray for thy peace?

e That is, I will not call backe my plagues, or spare thee any more.

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, and gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I e am wearie with repenting.

f Meaning, the cities.

7 And I will scatter them with the fanne f in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

g Because I had slaine their husbands.

8 Their widowes g are increased by mee aboue the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the ‖ assemblie of the yong men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, and the citie suddenly, and ‖ speedily.

‖ Or, mother.

‖ Or, fearefully.

9 She that hath borne h seuen, hath bene made weake: her heart hath failed: the sunne hath failed i her, whiles it was day: she hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

h Shee that had many, lost all her children.

i Shee was destroyed in the middes of her prosperitie.

10 ¶ k Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striueth with the whole earth: I haue neither l lent on vsurie, nor men haue lent vnto me on vsurie: yet euery one doth curse me.

k These are the Prophets words, complaining of the obstinacie of the people, and that he was reserued to so wicked a time: wherein also he sheweth what is the condition of Gods ministers: to wit, to haue all the world against them, though they giue none occasion.

l Which is an occasion of contention & hatred.

11 The Lord said, m Surely thy remnant shall haue wealth: surely I will cause thine enemie to intreate thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

m In this perplexitie, the Lord comforted me, and said that my last dayes should be quiet: and by the enemie he meaneth here, Nebuzar-adan the captaine of Nebuchad-nezzar, who gaue Ieremiah the choise either to remaine in his countrey, or to goe whither hee would: or by the enemie he meaneth the Iewes, which should afterward knowe Ieremiahs fidelitie, and therefore fauour him.

12 Shall the n yron breake the yron, and the brasse that commeth from the North?

n As for the people though they seemed strong as yron, yet shoulde they not be able to resist the hard yron of Babylon, but shoulde bee ledde captiues.

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I giue to be spoiled without ‖ gaine, and that for all thy sinnes euen in all thy borders.

‖ Or, ransome.

14 And I will make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visite me, and reuenge me of my o persecuters: take mee not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I haue suffered rebuke.

o Hee speaketh not this for desire of reuengeance, but wishing that God would deliuer his Church of them whom he knewe to be hardened and incorrigible.

16 Thy wordes were found by me, and I p did eate them, and thy word was vnto mee the ioy and reioycing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon mee, O Lord God of hostes.

p I receiued them with as great ioy, as hee that is affamished, eateth meate.

17 I sate not in the assemblie of the mockers, neither did I reioyce, but late alone q because of thy plague: for thou hast filled mee with indignation.

q I had nothing adoe with the wicked contemners of thy word, but lamented bitterly for thy plagues: shewing what the faithfull should doe when they see tokens of Gods anger.

18 Why is mine heauinesse continuall? and my plague desperate and cannot be healed? why art thou vnto me r as a lyar, and as waters that faile?

r And hast not assisted me according to thy promise? wherein appeareth, that in the Saints of God is imperfection of faith, which through impatiencie is oft times assailed, as Chap.20.7.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, If thou s returne, then wil I bring thee againe, and thou shalt stand before mee: and if thou take away the t precious from the vile, thou shalt be u according to my word: let them returne x vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

s If thou forget these carnall considerations, and faithfully execute thy charge, t That is, seeke to winne the good from the bad.

u To wit, as my mouth hath pronounced, chap.1.18. and as here followeth verse 20.

x Conforme not thy selfe to their wickednesse, but let them follow thy godly example.

20 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wall, and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not y preuaile against thee: for I am with thee to saue thee and to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

y I will arme thee with an inuincible strength and constancie, so that all the powers of the world shall not ouercome thee.

21 And I wil deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

CHAP. XVI.

2 The Lorde forbidding Ieremiah to marrie, sheweth him what should be the afflictions vpon Iudah, 13 The captiuitie of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 The word of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

a Meaning, that the affliction should bee so horrible in Ierusalem, that wife and children should but increase his sorow.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deaths and diseases: they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall bee as dong vpon the earth, and they shall bee consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeises shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beastes of the earth.

5 For thus sayeth the Lord, b Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor be mooued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, euen mercie and compassion.

b Signifying that the affliction should be so great, that one should not haue leasure to comfort another.

6 Both the great, and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, c nor cut themselues, nor make themselues bald for them.

c That is, should not rent their clothes, in signe of mourning.

7 They shall not stretch out the hands for them in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they giue them the d cuppe of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

d For in these great extremities all consolation and comfort shalbe in vaine.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sitte with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your dayes the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt shew this people all all these wordes, & they shall say vnto thee, *Wherefore hath the Lorde pronounced all this great plague against vs? or what is our iniquitie? & what is our sinne that we haue cõmitted against the Lorde our God?

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, sayeth the Lorde, & haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, and haue forsaken mee, and haue not kept my Law,

12 (*And ye haue done worse then your fathers: for beholde, you walke euery one after the stubburnesse of his wicked heart, and will not heare me)

13 Therefore will I driue you out of this land into a land that yee knowe not, neither you, nor your fathers, & there shall yee serue other Gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

14 *Behold therefore, sayth the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more bee sayde, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But, the Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel [f] from the land of the North, and from al the lands where hee had scattered them, and I wil bring them again into their land ỹ I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Beholde, saith the Lorde, I will sende out manye fishers, and they shall fish them, and after will I sende out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from euery mountaine and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rockes.

17 For mine eyes are vpon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I wil recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy [k] carions and their abominations.

19 D Lorde, thou art my [i] force, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shal come vnto thee, from the endes of the world, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited [k] lies, and vanitie, wherein there was no profite.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto himselfe, and they are no gods?

21 Beholde, therefore I will this once [l] teach them: I will shew them mine hand and my power, and they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

k Our fathers were most vile idolaters: therefore it commeth onely of Gods mercy, that he performeth his promise, and hath not vtterly cast vs off. l They shall once againe feele my power, and mercie for their deliuerance, that they may learne to worship me,

CHAP. XVII.

1 The frowardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursedbee those that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath commanded.

a The remembrance of their contempt of God cannot passe, albeit for a time he deferre the punishment, for it shal bee manifest to men and Angels.

THe sinne of Iudah is [a] written with a penne of yron, and with the poynt of a diamonde, and grauen vpon the [b] table of their heart, and vpon the hornes of your [c] altars.

2 [d] They remembred their altars as their children, with their groues by the greene trees vpon the hie hilles.

3 [e] O my mountaine in the fielde, I will giue thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoyled, for ỹ sinne of thy hie places throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou shalt rest, & in thee, shalbe a rest from thine heritage that I gaue thee, and I wil cause thee to serue thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for yee haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shal burne for euer.

5 ¶ Thus sayth the Lord, [g] Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shalbe like ỹ heath in ỹ wildernes, & shall not see whē any good commeth, but shall inhabite the parched places in the wildernes, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man, that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 [h] For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the riuer, & shal not feele when the heate commeth, but her leafe shalbe greene, and shall not care for the yeere of drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruit.

9 [i] The heart is deceitfull and wicked aboue all things, who can know it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, and trie the reines, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 [k] As the partrich gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leaue them in the midst of his dayes, and at his ende shall be a foole.

12 As a glorious throne [l] exalted from the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuary.

13 O Lord, the hope of [m] Israel, all that forsake thee, shal be confounded: they that depart from thee, shall be written [n] in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale me, O Lorde, and I shall bee whole: [o] saue mee, and I shall be saued: for thou are my prayse.

15 Behold, [p] they say vnto mee, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

b In stead of the lawe of God, they haue written idolatrie and all abominations in their heart.

c Your sinnes appeare in all the altars that you haue erected to idoles.

d Some read, So that their children remember their altars, that is, follow their fathers wickednesse.

e Zion that was my mountaine, shal now be left as a waste fielde.

f Because thou wouldest not giue the lande rest at such times, dayes, and yeres as I appoynted, thou shalt hereafter be carried away, and it shall rest for lacke of labourers.

g The Iewes were giuen to worldly policies and thoughte to make themselues strong by the friendship of the Egyptians, Isai. 31. 3. and strangers, and in the meane season did not depend on God, and therefore he denounceth Gods plagues against them, shewing that they preferre corruptible man to God, n He desireth God to preserue him that he fall not into tentation, considering the great contempt of Gods worde, and the multitude that fall from God.

o The wicked say, that my prophesie shall not come to passe, because thou deferrest the time of thy vengeance.

*Chap. 5. 19.

c Because the wicked are alwayes rebellious and dissemble their own sinnes, and murmure against Gods iudgements as though he had no iust cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answere.

f Signifying, the benefite of their deliuerãce out of Babylon shoulde be so great, that it should abolish the remembrance of their deliuerance from Egypt: but he hath here chiefly respect to the spirituall deliuerance vnder Christ.

g By the fishers and hunters are meant the Babylonians and Caldeans, who should destroy them in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other shoulde take them.

h That is, their sonnes and daughters, which they offered to Molech.

i He wondereth at the great mercy of God in this deliuerance, which shall not only extend to the Iewes, but also the Gentiles.

p I am assured of my vocation, and therefore know that the thing which thou speakest by mee, shall come to passe, and that I speake not of any worldly affection.

q Howsoeuer the wicked deale rigorously with me, yet let me finde comfort in thee.

t By meaning the Sabbath day, hee comprehendeth the thing, that is thereby signified: for if they transgressed in the ceremony, they must needes be culpable of the rest, read Exod.20.8. and by the breaking of this one commandement, hee maketh them transgressors of the whole Lawe forasmuch as the first and second Table are contained herein. *Chap.*22.4.

16 But p I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pastoure after thee, neither haue I desired the day of misery, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not q terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them be confounded, that persecute mee, but let not me bee confounded: let them bee afraide, but let not me be afraide: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, r and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lorde sayd vnto mee, Goe and stande in the s gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, and in all the gates of Ierusalem.

20 And say vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lorde, yee Kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by these gates.

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burthen in the t Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem, 22 Neither carrie forth burthens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neyther doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheless if yee will heare mee, saith the Lord, and beare no burthē through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that yee doe no worke therein.

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this citie, & shall sit * vpon the throne of Dauid and shal ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their Princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from the South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meate offerings, and incense, & shall bring sacrifice of prayse into the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye will not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden nor to goe through the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the dispisers of his word.
18 The conspiracie of the Iewes against Ieremiah.
19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

THe worde which came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, & there shall I shew thee my wordes.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, and beholde, he wrought a worke on the wheeles.

4 And the vessell that hee made of a clay, was broken in the hand of the potter, so hee returned, and made it an other vessell, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this potter, sayth the Lorde? behold, as the clay is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation or against a kingdom to plucke it vp, and to roote it out and destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whome I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I will b repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I will speake suddenly concerning a nation, & concerning a kingdome to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight & heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good that I thought to do for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they sayde c desperatly, Surely wee will walke after our owne imaginations, and do euery man after the stubbornesse of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard de such thinges? the virgine of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snow of Lebanon, which commeth from the rocke of the field? or shal the cold flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, & their prophets haue caused thē to stumble in their wayes from the e ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate & a perpetuall derision, so that euery one that passeth there by, shall be astonished and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an Eastwinde before the enemie: I will shew them the backe, and f not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayd they, Come, & let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Lawe g shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite a As the potter hath power ouer the clay to make what pot he will, or to breake them, when he hath made them: so haue I power ouer you to doe with you as seemeth good to me, Isa.45.9. wis.15.7.rom. 9.20,21.

b When the Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordeined in his secrete counsell: but when he threateneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatning (which euer containeth a condition in it) taketh no places and this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, because it so appeareth to mans iudgement.

c As men that had not remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion, and to their owne selfe will.

d As no man that hath thirst, refuseth fresh conduit waters which he hath at home, to goe and seeke waters abrode to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seeke for helpe and succour at strangers and leaue God, which was present with them.

e That is, the way of trueth, which God had taught by his Lawe, reade Chap.6.16.

f I will shewe mine anger and not my fauour toward them, him with the h tongue, and let vs not giue heede to any of his wordes.

19 Hearken vnto me, O Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill be recompensed for good? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stoode before thee, to speake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

i Seeing the obstinate malice of the aduersaries, which grew daily more and more, the Prophet being moued with Gods Spirit, without any carnal affection prayeth for their destruction, because hee knew that it should tend to Gods glory, and profite of his Church.

21 Therefore, i deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their yong men bee slaine by the sword in the battell.

22 Let the crie be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an host suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pitte to take me, and hid snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsell against me tendeth to death: forgiue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

He prophecieth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

THus sayde the Lord, Goe, and buy an earthen bottell of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priests,

2 And goe forth vnto the valley of Benhinnom, which is by the entrie of the ‖ East gate: and thou shalt preach there the words, that I shall tell thee,

‖ Or, gate of the sunne.

3 And shalt say, Heare yee the word of the Lord, O a Kings of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon this place, the which whosoeuer heareth, his eares shall b tingle.

a By kings here and in other places are meant counsellours and gouernours of the people: which he called the ancients, verse 1.

b Reade of this phrase, 1. Sam. 3.11.

4 Because they haue forsaken mee, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue knowen, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offrings vnto Baal, which I c commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde)

c Whereby is declared, that what soeuer is not commanded by Gods word touching his seruice, is against his word.

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that this place shall no more bee called d Topheth, nor the valley of Benhinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

d Reade Chap. 7.31. and 2. king. 23.10. Isa. 30. 33.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to naught in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises will I giue to be meate for the foules of the heauen, and to the beasts of the field.

8 * And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing: so that euery one that passeth thereby, shall be astonished and hisse because of all the plagues thereof.

*Chap. 18. 16. and 49.13. & 50.13.

9 * And I will feede them with the flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friende in the siege and straitnesse, wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues, shall holde them straite.

*Deut. 28.53. Iament. 4.10.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, euen so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a e potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shall burie them in Topheth till there be no place to burie.

e This visible signe was to confirme them, touching the assurance of this plague which the Lord threatned by his Prophet.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lord, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the f houses vpon whose g rooffes they haue burnt incense vnto all the host of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

f He noteth the great rage of the idolaters: which left no place free from their abominations, in so much as they polluted their owne houses therewith, as we see yet among the Papists.

g Read Deut. 22.8.

14 Then came Ieremiah from Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophecie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon al her townes, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their necks, and would not heare my words.

CHAP. XX.

1 Ieremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 Hee prophecieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

WHen Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiah prophecied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the a stockes that were in the high gate of Beniamin which was by the house of the Lord.

a Thus we see that the thing which neither the King, nor the princes, nor the people durst enterprise against the Prophet of God, this Priest as a chiefe instrument of Satan first attempted, reade Chap. 18.18. ‖ Or feare round about.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Ieremiah out of the stocks. Then sayd Ieremiah vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashur, but ‖ Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreouer, I wil deliuer al the substance of this citie, and all the labours thereof and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah wil I giue into the hande of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt bee buried there, thou and all thy b friendes, to whome thou hast

b Which haue suffered themselues to be abused by thy false prophecies.

prophecied lies.

7 ¶ O Lord, thou hast deceiued me, and I am e deceiued: thou art stronger then I, and hast d preuailed: I am in derision daily: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed e desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, & I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the railing of many, and feare on euery side. f Declare, said they, and wee will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceiued: so we shall preuaile against him, and we shall execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 g But the Lord is with me like a mightie gyant: therefore my persecuters shalbe ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shalbe greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euerlasting shame shall neuer be forgotten.

12 * But, O Lord of hostes, that triest the righteous, and seest the reines and the heart, let mee see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for hee hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 ¶ h Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be blessed.

15 Cursed bee the man, that shewed my father, saying, A man childe is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man bee as the i cities, which the Lord hath ouerthrowen and repented not: and let him heare the crie in the morning, and the shouting at noonetide, 17 Because hee hath not slaine me, euen from the wombe, or that my mother might haue beene my graue, or her wombe a perpetuall k conception.

18 Howe is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorowe, that my dayes should be consumed with shame?

e Herein appeareth the impatiencie which oftentimes ouercommeth the seruants of God, when they see not their labours to profit, and also feele their owne weakenesse, reade Chap. 15. 18.

d Thou diddest thrust me forth to this worke against my will.

e He sheweth that he did his office in that he reprooued the people of their vices, and threatned them with Gods iudgements: but because hee was derided and persecuted for this, he was discouraged and thought to haue ceased to preach, saue that Gods spirit did force him thereunto.

f Thus the enemies conferred together to know what they had heard him say, that they might accuse him thereof, reade Ier. 29. 21.

g Here he sheweth how his faith did strive against tentation, and fought to the Lord for strength.

CHAP. XXI.

Hee propheseth that Zedekiah shall bee taken, and the citie burned.

THe word which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, when King Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

2 * Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may returne vp from vs.

3 Then sayde Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I will b turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which beliege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the middes of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a mightie arme, euen in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saieth the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the king of Iudah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sworde, and from the famine into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 ¶ And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus sayeth the Lord, Beholde, I set before you the c way of life, and the way of d death.

9 * He that abideth in this citie, shal die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that beliege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a e pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie, for euill & not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 ¶ And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord.

12 O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lord, * Execute iudgement i in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath goe out like fire and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your workes.

13 Beholde, I come against thee, s O inhabitant of the valley, and rocke of the plaine, saith the Lord, which say, Who shall come downe against vs? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will visite you according to the fruite of your workes, saieth the Lord, and I will kindle a fire h in the forest thereof, and it shall deuoure round about it.

b To wit, from your enemies to destroy your selues.

c By yeelding your selues to Nebuchad-nezzar.

d By resisting him. Chap. 38. 2.

h That is, in the houses thereof, which stoode as thicke as trees in the forest.

CHAP. XXII.

2 He exhorteth the king to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophecied.

THus sayde the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the word of the Lord,

O King of Iudah, that sittest vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruantes, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus sayeth the Lorde, * Execute yee iudgement and a righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hande of the oppressour, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widowe: doe no violence, nor sheade innocent blood in this place.

4 For if yee doe this thing, then shal the Kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, * and ride vpon charios, and vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these wordes, I b sweare by my selfe sayth the Lord, that this House shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the Kings house of Iudah, Thou art c Gilead vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I wil make thee a wildernesse, and as cities not inhabited,

7 And I will d prepare destroyers against thee, euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe the chiefe e cedar trees, and cast them into the fire.

8 f And many habitations shall passe by this citie, and they shall say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lorde done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shal they answere, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lorde their God, and worshipped other gods and serued them.

10 ¶ Weepe not for the dead, and be not mooued for them, but weepe for him g that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native countrey.

11 For thus saith the Lorde, as touching h Shallum the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shal not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Wo vnto him ỳ buildeth his house by i vnrighteousnes, & his chambers without equitie: he vseth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He sayth, I wil build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make him selfe large windowes, and sieling with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy k father eate and drinke and prosper, when hee executed iudgement and Iustice?

16 When he iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, sayth the Lorde?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnesse, and for to sheade innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, They shall l not lament him, saying, Ah, my brother, or Ah, sister: neyther shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glory.

19 He shall be buried as an asse m is buried, euen drawen and cast foorth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 ¶ Goe vp to n Lebanon, & cry: shoute in o Bashan and cry by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saydest, I will not heare: this hath bene thy maner from thy youth, ỳ thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The winde shall feede all thy pastors, p and thy louers shal go into captiuitie: and then shalt thou bee ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the q cedars, how beautifull shalt thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorowe of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, sayeth the Lorde, though r Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hande of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carie thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where yee were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to ỳ lande, whereunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah as a despised and broken idole? or as a vessell, wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they carried away, he and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not?

29 O f earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lord.

30 Thus sayth the Lord, Write this man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seede that shall prosper and sitte vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

people, Yee haue scattered my flocke and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: behold, I will visit you for the wickednesse of your workes, sayth the Lord.

3 And I wil gather the d remnant of my sheepe out of all countries, whither I had driuen them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, & they shall grow and increase.

4 And I will set vp shepheardes ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shal dread no more nor be afraide, neither shall any of them be lacking, sayth the Lord.

5 Beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I wil raise vnto Dauid a righteous e branch, and a king shall reigne, and prosper, and shall execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall bee saued, and * Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name whereby they shal call him, *The Lorde our righteousnesse.

7 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that they shall no more say, The f Lorde liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 But the Lorde liueth, which brought vp and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North countrey and from all countries where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within mee, because of the g prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whome wine hath ‡ ouercome) for the presence of the Lord, and for his holy words.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, and because of othes the lande mourneth, the pleasant places of the wildernes are dryed vp, and their h course is euil, and their force is not right.

11 For both the prophete and the priest ‖ doe wickedly: and their wickednes haue I found in mine i house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall bee vnto them as slipperie wayes in the darkenesse: they shalbe driuen forth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, sayth the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnesse in the prophetes of Samaria, that prophecied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophetes of Ierusalem k filthines: they commit adulterie and walke in lyes: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto l me as Sodom, & the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes concerning the prophets, Beholde, I will feede them with m wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is ‖ wickednesse gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of Hostes, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophecie vnto you, and teache you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne n heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say stil vnto them that despise mee, The Lorde hath saide, Ye o shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubburnesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For p who hath stoode in the counsell of the Lord that he hath perceiued & heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Behold the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlewind shal fall down vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lord shal not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughtes of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shal vnderstand it plainely.

21 *I haue not sent these prophets, sayth the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not spoken to them and yet they prophecied, 22 But if they had stoode in my counsell, and q had declared my wordes to my people, then they shoulde haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednes of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, sayth the Lorde, and not a God r farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secrete places, that I shal not see him, sayth the Lord? Do not I fill heauen and earth sayth the Lorde?

25 I haue heard what the prophets said, that prophecie lies in my Name, saying, I s haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? ‡ Doe the Prophets deuise to prophecie lies, euen prophecying the deceite of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause t my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet y hath a dreame, let him tel a dreame, and he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheate, sayth the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore behold I will come against the prophets, sayth the Lord, that u steale my word euery one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come against the prophets, sayeth the Lorde, which haue sweete tongues, and say, x He saith.

32 Beholde, I will come against them that prophecie false dreames, saith the Lord, and doe tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profite vnto this people, sayth the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest shall aske thee, saying, What is the b burden of the Lorde? thou shalt then

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The vision of the baskets of figges 5 signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie, 8 And that Zedekiah and the rest of the people should be caried away.

THe Lorde shewed me, and beholde, two [a] baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babel had caried away captiue Jeconiah, the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah with the workemen, and cunning men of Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket had very good figges, euen like the figges that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughtie figs, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then sayd the Lord vnto mee, What seest thou Jeremiah? And I sayd, Figges: the good figges very good, and the naughtie very naughtie, which cannot be eaten, they are so euill.

4 Againe the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

5 Thus sayth the Lorde, the God of Israel, Like these good figges, so will I know them that are caried away captiue of Iudah to be good, whome I haue sent out of this [b] place, vnto the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I will set mine eyes vpon them for good, and I wil bring them againe to this land, and I will build them, and not destroy them, and I will plant them, and not roote them out.

7 And I will giue them [e] an heart to knowe mee, that I am the Lorde, and they shall be my *people, and I will be their God: For they shall returne vnto mee with their whole heart.

8 *And as the naughtie figges which can not bee eaten, they are so euill (surely thus sayth the Lord) so wil I giue Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remaine in this land, and them that dwell [d] in the land of Egypt:

9 I will euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproche, and for a Prouerbe, for a common talke, and for a curse, in all places, where I shall cast them.

10 And I wil send the sworde, the famine, and the pestilence among them, till they be consumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

CHAP. XXV.

1 He propheseith that they shall be in captiuitie seuentie yeeres. 12 And that after the seuentie yeeres the Babylonians should be destroyed. 15 The destruction of all nations is propheseid.

THe worde that came to Jeremiah, concerning all the people of Judah in the [a] fourth yeere of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Judah that was in the first yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel:

2 The which Jeremiah the Prophet spake vnto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Josiah the sonne of Amon King of Judah, euen vnto [b] this day (that is the three and twentieth yeere) the word of the Lord hath come vnto me, And I haue spoken vnto you [c] rising earely and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lorde hath sent vnto you all his seruants the Prophets, rising earely and sending them, but yee would not heare, nor incline your eares to obey.

5 They [d] sayd, Turne againe nowe euery one from his euill way, and from the wickednesse of your inuentions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lorde hath giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And goe not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke mee not to anger with the workes of your handes, and I will not punish you.

7 Neuertheless ye would not heare me, sayth the Lord, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes, 9 Beholde, I will send and take to me all the [e] families of the North, sayth the Lord, and Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my [f] seruant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations [g] round about, and will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continuall desolation.

10 *Moreouer, I wil ‖take from them the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnesse, a Because this worde was brought to contempt and derision, hee will teach them another manner of speach, and will cause this worde burden to cease, and teach them to aske with reuerence, What sayth the Lord?

d The thing which they mocke and contemne, shal come vpon them.

‖Or, take you away.

8 And the nation and kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visite, saith the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, vntill I haue wholly giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your prophets nor your toothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, nor your sorcerers, which say vnto you thus, Yee shall not serue the King of Babel.

10 For they prophecie a lie vnto you to cause you to goe farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to Zedekiah king of Iudah according to all these words, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why will yee die, thou, and thy people by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel?

14 Therefore heare not the words of the prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, Ye shall not serue the king of Babel: for they prophecie a lie vnto you.

18 But if they bee Prophets, and if the worde of the Lorde be with them, let them g intreate the Lord of hosts, that the vessels, which are left in the house of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, go not to Babel.

19 For thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, concerning the * pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this citie,

2. King. 25.13.

21 For thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the House of the Lorde, and in the house of the king of Iudah, and at Ierusalem, 22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall be vntill the day that I visite h them, saith the Lord: then will I bring them vp, and restore them vnto this place.

h That is, for the space of seuentie yeres, till I haue caused the Medes & Persians to ouercome the Caldeans.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophecie of Hananiah. 12 Ieremiah reproueth Hananiah, and prophesieth.

AND that same yeere, in the beginning a of the b reigne of Zedekiah King of Iudah in the b fourth yeere, and in the fifth moneth, Hananiah the sonne of Azur the prophet, which was of c Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and sayd, a When Ieremiah began to beare these bonds and yokes.

b After that the land had rested, as Leuit. 25.2.

c This was a citie in Beniamin belonging to the sonnes of Aaron, Ioth. 21.17.

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 ‡ Within two yeeres space I wil bring into this place all the vessels of the Lordes house, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

‡ Ebr. two yeres of dayes.

4 And I wil bring againe to this place Ieconiah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Iudah, and went into Babel, saith the Lorde: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiah said vnto the d prophet Hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stoode in the house of the Lord, d Hee was so esteemed, though he was a false prophet.

6 Euen the Prophet Ieremiah said, So be it: the e Lorde so doe, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lordes House, and all that is caried captiue, from Babel, into this place.

e That is, I would wish the same for Gods honour, and wealth of my people, but hee hath appointed the contrary.

7 But heare thou nowe this worde that I wil speake in thine eares and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before me and before thee in time past, f prophecied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

f Meaning, that the Prophets that did either denounce warre or peace, were tried either true or false by the successe of their prophecies. Albeit God maketh to come to passe sometime that which the false prophet speaketh, to trie the faith of his, Deu. 13.3.

9 And the Prophet which prophecieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet bee knowen that the Lord hath truely sent him.

10 Then Hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, g This declareth the impudencie of the wicked hirelings, which haue no zeale to the trueth, but are led with ambition to get the fauour of men, & therefore cannot abide any that might diſcredite them, but burſt forth into rages, and contrary to their owne conſcience paſſe not what lies they report, or howe wickedly they doe, ſo that they may maintaine their eſtimation.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiah) ſaying, 13 Goe, and tell Hananiah, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood, but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſrael, I haue put a h yoke of yron vpon the necke of all theſe nations, that they may ſeeke Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they ſhall ſerue them, and I haue giuen him the i beaſtes of the fielde alſo.

15 Then ſaid the Prophet Ieremiah vnto the prophet Hananiah, Heare nowe Hananiah, the Lorde hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lie.

16 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will caſt thee from off the earth: this yeere thou ſhalt die, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken rebelliouſly againſt the Lord.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiah writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 Hee propheciеth their returne after ſeuentie yeeres. 16 He propheciеth the deſtruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ieruſalem. 21 Hee threatneth the prophets that ſeduce the people. 25 The death of Shemaiah is propheciеd.

NOwe theſe are the wordes of the ‖booke that Ieremiah the Prophet ſent from Ieruſalem vnto a the reſidue of the Elders which were caried away captiues, and to the Prieſtes, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Ieruſalem to Babel:

2 (After that Ieconiah the King, and the b Queene, and the Eunuches, the c princes of Iudah, and of Ieruſalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Ieruſalem)

3 By the hand of Elaſah the ſonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the ſonne of Hilkiah, (whome Zedekiah king of Iudah d ſent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) ſaying,

4 Thus hath the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael ſpoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whome I haue e cauſed to be caried away captiues from Ieruſalem vnto Babel:

5 Build you houſes to dwell in, & plant you gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget ſonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your ſonnes, and giue your daughters to huſbands, that they may beare ſonnes and daughters, that yee may be increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

7 And ſeeke the proſperitie of the citie, whither I haue cauſed you to be caried away captiues, and f pray vnto the Lorde for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Let not your prophets and your ſoothſayers that be among you, deceiue you, neither giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they propheſie you a lie in my Name: I haue not ſent them, ſayeth the Lorde.

10 But thus ſayth the Lord, That after ſeuentie yeeres be accompliſhed at Babel, I will viſite you, and performe my good promiſe toward you, and cauſe you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughtes, that I haue thought towards you, ſayth the Lord, euen the thoughts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an ende, and your hope.

12 Then ſhall you cry vnto mee, and ye ſhall goe and pray vnto mee, and I will heare you,

13 And yee ſhall ſeeke me, and finde me, becauſe yee ſhall ſeeke mee with all g your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, ſayth the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I wil gather you from all the nations, & from all the places, whither I haue caſt you, ſayth the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I cauſed you to be caried away captiue.

15 ¶ Becauſe ye haue ſayd, The Lorde hath raiſed vs vp h prophets in Babel,

16 Therefore thus ſayth the Lord of the King, that ſitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Behold, I wil ſend vpon them the i ſword, the famine, and the peſtilence, & will make them like vile i figges, that cannot be eaten, they are ſo naughtie.

18 And I will perſecute them with the ſword, with the famine, and with the peſtilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, and k a curſe, and aſtoniſhment and an hiſſing, and a reproch among all the nations whither I haue caſt them,

19 Becauſe they haue not heard my wordes, ſayth the Lorde, which I ſent vnto them by my ſeruants the Prophets, l riſing vp early, and ſending them, but yee would not heare, ſayth the Lord.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the worde of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue ſent from Ieruſalem to Babel.

e The Prophet ſpeaketh not this for the affection that he bare to the tyrant, but that they ſhoulde pray for the common reſt and quietneſſe, that their troubles might not be increaſed, and that they might with more patience and leſſe griefe waite for the time of their deliuerance, which God had appointed moſt certaine: for elſe not onely the Iſraelites, but all the world, yea, and the inſenſible creatures ſhould reioyce when theſe tyrants ſhould be deſtroyed, as Iſa. 14. 4.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, the Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whome the King of Babel burnt [m] in the fire, 23 Because they haue committed [n] villanie in Israel, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue spoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, and testifie it, sayth the Lord.

24 ¶ Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the ‖ Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ierusalem, and to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, and to all the Priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for [o] Iehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the House of the Lorde, for euery man that raueth and maketh himselfe a Prophet, to put him in prison and in the stockes.

27 Nowe therefore why hast not thou reproued Ieremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long: build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Ieremiah [p] Prophet.

30 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Ieremiah, saying,

31 Sende to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus sayth the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Beholde, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seede: he shall not haue a man [p] to dwell among this people, neither shall he beholde the good, that I will doe for my people, sayth the Lord, because he hath spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

THe worde that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee, in [a] a booke.

3 For loe, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of of my people Israel and Iudah, sayth the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

a Because they should be assured and their posteritie confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promised.

4 Againe, these are the wordes that the Lorde spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus sayth the Lorde, Wee haue heard a [b] terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demaund nowe and beholde, if man trauaile with childe? Wherefore doe I beholde euery man with his handes on his loynes as a woman in trauaile, and all faces are turned into paleneſſe?

7 Alas, for this [c] day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iaakobs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that [d] day, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will breake [e] his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serue themselues [f] of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lorde their God, and [g] Dauid their King, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iaakob, sayth the Lord, neither be afraide, O Israel: for loe, I will deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie, and Iaakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie, and none shall make him afrayd.

11 For I am with thee, sayth the Lorde, to saue thee: though I vtterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not vtterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, and not [h] vtterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, and [i] thy wound is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, or to lay a plaister: there are no medicines, nor helpe for thee.

14 All thy [k] louers haue forgotten thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue striken thee with the wound of an enemie, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, because thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why crieſt thou for thine affliction? thy sorowe is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: because thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 [l] Therefore all they that deuoure thee, shall be deuoured, and all thine enemies euery one shall goe into captiuitie: and they that spoyle thee, shall be spoyled, and all they that robbe thee, will I giue to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy wounds, sayth the Lord, because they called thee, The caſt-away, saying, This is Zion, whome no man seeketh after.

18 Thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iaakobs tents, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: and the citie shall be builded vpon her owne heape, [m] and the palace shall remaine after the maner thereof.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me [d] of olde, saying: [e] Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue drawen thee.

4 Againe I will builde thee, [f] thou shalt be builded, O virgine Israel: thou shalt still [f] be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt goe forth in the daunce of them that be ioyfull.

6 For the dayes shall come that the [i] watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let vs goe vp vnto [k] Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus sayth the Lord, Reioyce with gladnesse for Iaakob, and shoute for ioy among the cheefe of the [l] Gentiles: publish prayse and say, O Lorde, saue thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Beholde, I will bring them from the North country, and gather them from the coastes of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woman with child, and her that is deliuered also: a great company shall returne hither.

9 They shall come [m] weeping, and with mercie will I bring them againe: I will leade them by the riuers of [n] water in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is [o] my first borne.

10 ¶ Heare the worde of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, and declare in the yles a farre off, and say, He that scattered Israel, wil gather him and will keepe him, as a shepheard doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iaakob, and ransomed him from the hand [p] of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shal come and reioyce in the hight of Zion, and shall runne to the bountifulnesse of the Lorde, euen for the [q] wheate and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheep and bullockes: and their soule shall bee as a watered garden, and they shall haue no more sorrow.

13 Then shall the virgine reioyce in the [r] daunce, and the yong men, & the olde men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, and will comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I will replenish the soule of the Priests with [s] fatnes, and my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voice was heard on hie, a mourning & bitter weeping. [t] Rahel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus sayth the Lorde, Refraine thy voyce from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shalbe rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe from the land of the enemie:

17 And there is hope in thine ende, sayth the Lord, that thy children shall come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard [u] Ephraim lamenting thus, Thou hast corrected me, and I was chastised as an [x] vntamed calfe: [y] conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captiuitie, The Lord blesse thee, O habitation of iustice and holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shall dwell in it, and all the cities thereof together, the husbandmen and they that goe forth with the flocke.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers [g] haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth shall be set on edge.

30 But euery one shall die for his owne iniquitie: euery man that eateth the sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a [h] newe couenant with the house of Israel, & with the house of Iudah, 32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenant they [i] brake, although I was ‖ an husband vnto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After [k] those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawe in their inward parts, and write it in their heartes, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall [l] teach no more euerie man his neighbour and euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lord, for they shal all knowe mee from the least of them vnto the greatest of them, saith the Lorde: for I will forgiue their iniquitie, and will remember their sinnes no more.

35 Thus saieth the Lord, which giueth [m] the sunne for a light to the day, and the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hostes.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, saith the Lorde, then shall the seede of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heauens can be measured, [n] or the foundations of the earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seede of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

38 Beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that the [o] citie shalbe built to the Lord from the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall goe forth in his presence vpon the hill Gareb, and shall compasse about to Goath.

Ieremiah is cast into prison because he propheſied that the citie should be taken of the King of Babylon. 7. Hee sheweth that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his seruants, and he is their Lord.

THe worde that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the [a] tenth yeere of Zedekiah King of Iudah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the King of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Ieremiah the Prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah king of Iudah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore doest thou propheſie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, * Beholde, I will giue this citie into the handes of the king of Babel, and he shall take it:

4 And Zedekiah the king of Iudah shall not escape out of the hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the hands of the King of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall beholde his face,

5 And he shall leade Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall hee be, vntill [b] I visite him, saith the Lorde: though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

d Because their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he sheweth, how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ whom a woman should conceiue & beare in her wombe. Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be borne of a virgin without man: or, hee meaneth, that Ierusalem which was like a barren woman in her captiuitie should be fruitful as she, that is ioyned in mariage, & whom God blesseth with children.

e Hauing vnderstoode this vision of the Messiah to come, in whom the two houses of Israel and Iudah should be ioyned, I reioyced.

g The wicked vsed this prouerbe, when they did murmure against Gods iudgements pronounced by the Prophets, saying, that their fathers had committed the fault, and that the children were punished, Ezek. 18.3.

h Though the couenant of redemption made to the fathers and this which was giuen after, seeme diuers, yet they are all one, and grounded on Iesus Christ, saue that this is called newe, because of the manifestation of Christ, and the aboundant graces of the holy Ghost giuen to his Church vnder the Gospel.

to mee in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said vnto mee, Buy my e fielde, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Beniamin: for the right of the possession is thine, and the purchase belongeth vnto thee: buy it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the word of the Lord.

e Of the possession of the Leuites, Reade Leuit. 25. 32.

8 And I bought the fielde of Hanameel, mine vncles sonne, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the siluer, euen seuen f shekels, and ten pieces of siluer.

f Which mounteth to of our money about ten shillings sixe pence, if this shekell were the common shekel, read. Gen. 23. 15. for the shekell of the Temple was of double value, and ten pieces of siluer were halfe a shekell: for twentie made the shekell.

9 And I wrote it in the booke, and signed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him the siluer in the ballances.

10 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed g according to the Lawe, and custome, with the booke that was open, g According to the custome, the instrument or euidence was sealed vp with the cõmon seale, and a copie thereof remained, which conteined the same in effect, but was not so authenticall as the other but wasleft open to be seene, if any thing should be called into doubt.

11 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that sate in the court of the prison.

12 And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

13 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Take the writings, euen this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen h vessell, that they may continue a long time.

h And so to hide them in the ground, that they might be preserued as a token of their deliuerance, ‖Or bid. Exod. 34. 7. Deut. 5. 9.

14 For the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel sayeth thus, Houses and fieldes & vineyards shalbe possessed againe in this land.

15 Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

16 Ah Lorde God, beholde, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, and there is nothing ‖hard vnto thee.

17 * Thou shewest mercie vnto thousands, and recompensest the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their i children after them: O God the great and mightie, whose Name is the Lord of hostes, i Because the wicked are subiect to the curse of God, he sheweth, that their posteritie, which by nature are vnder this malediction, shalbe punished both for their owne wickednesse, and that the iniquitie of their fathers, which is likewise in them, shall be also reuenged on their head.

18 Great in counsell, & mightie in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to giue to euery one according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes)

19 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this k day, and in Israel, and among all men, and hast made thee a Name, as appeareth this day, k Meaning, that his miracles in deliuering his people, should neuer be forgotten.

20 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terrour,

21 And hast giuen them this lande, which thou diddest sweare to their fathers to giue them, euen a land, that floweth with milke and honie,

22 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, neither walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedst them to doe, they haue not done: therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

23 Beholde, the l mountes, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight against it by meanes of the sworde, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and beholde, thou seest it.

l The word signifieth any thing that is cast vp, as a mount or rampart. and is also vsed for engins of warre, which were laid on an hie place to shoote into a citie, before that gunnes were in vse.

24 And thou hast sayd vnto me, O Lord God, Buy vnto thee the field for siluer, and take witnesses: for the citie shall bee giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

25 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto Ieremiah, saying,

26 Beholde, I am the LORD GOD of all m flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?

m That is, of euery creature: who as they are his worke, so doth he gouerne and guide them as pleaseth him, whereby he sheweth that as he is the author of this their captiuitie for their sinnes, so will he for his mercies be their redeemer to restore them againe to liberty.

27 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I will giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, & he shal take it.

28 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this citie, and set fire on this citie, and burne it, with the houses, vpon whose rookes they haue offered incense vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto anger.

29 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euill before mee from their n youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked mee to anger with the workes of their hands, sayeth the Lord.

n From the time that I brought them out of Egypt, and made them my people, and called them my first borne.

30 Therefore this citie hath bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine anger, and of my wrath, from the day, that they built it, euen vnto this day, that I shoulde remoue it out of my sight,

31 Because of all the euil of the children of Israel, & of the children of Iudah, which they haue done to prouoke mee to anger, euen they, their Kings, their Princes, their Priestes, and their Prophets, and the men of Iudah, and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem.

32 And they haue turned vnto mee the back & not the face: though I taught them, o rising vp earely, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine, o Reade Pro. 1. 24. isa. 65. 2.

34 And they built the hie p places of Baal, which are in the valley of q Ben-hinnom, to cause their sonnes & their daughters to r passe through the fire vnto Molech, which I commaunded them not, neyther came it into my minde, that they shoulde doe such abomination to cause Iudah to sinne.

36 And now therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shalbe deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel by the sworde, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.

4 For thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the Kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the c mounts, and by the sword, e He sheweth that Gods fauour is cause of all prosperitie, as his anger is of all aduersitie.

5 They come to d fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fill themselues with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my e face from this citie, because of all their wickednesse.

f In the mids of his threatnings, God remembreth his, and comforteth them.

6 ¶ Beholde, f I will giue it health and amendment: for I will cure them, and will reueile vnto them the abundance of peace, and trueth.

g Declaring that there is no deliuerance nor ioy, but whereas we feele remission of sinnes.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah, and the captiuitie of Israel to returne, and will build them as at the first.

8 And I wil g clense them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue sinned against mee: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they haue sinned against mee, and whereby they haue rebelled against me.

9 And it shall be to me a name, a h ioy, a praise, and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I doe vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for all the goodnesse, and for all the wealth, that I shew vnto this citie.

h Whereby he sheweth that the Church, wherein is remission of sinnes, is Gods honour & glorie, so that whosoeuer is enemie to it, laboureth to dishonour God.

10 Thus sayeth the Lord, Againe there shall be heard in this place (which yee say shall be desolate, without man, & without beast, euen in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

i Which was a song appoynted for the Leuites to praise God by, 1.Chro.16.8. psal.105.1.isa.12 4.psal.106.1.and 107.1.& 118.1, and 136.1.

11 The voyce of ioy and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the voyce of them that shall say, i Praise the Lord of hostes, because the Lord is good: for his mercy endureth for euer, and of them that offer the sacrifice of praise in the house of the Lord, for I will cause to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the first, saith the Lord.

k Meaning, that all the countrey of Iudah shalbe inhabited againe.

12 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Againe in this place, which is desolate without man, and without beast, and in all the cities thereof there shall bee dwelling for shepheards to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities of the k mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, & in the cities of the South, and in the land of Beniamin, and about Ierusalem, and in the cities of Iudah shal the sheepe passe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

l That is, I will send the Messiah which shall come of the house of Dauid, of whom this prophesie is meant, as testifie all the Iewes, and that which is written, Chap. 23.5.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, sayeth the Lord, that I wil performe that good thing, which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Iudah.

m To wit, Christ that shall call his Church.

15 In those dayes and at that time wil I cause l the branch of righteousnesse to growe vp vnto Dauid, and he shall execute iudgement, and righteousnesse in the land.

n That is, Christ is our Lord God, righteousnesse, sanctification, and redemption, 1.Cor.1.30.

16 In those dayes shall Iudah bee saued, & Ierusalem shal dwel safely, & he that shall call m her, n the Lord our righteousnesse.

o This is chiefly meant of the spirituall sacrifice of thankesgiuing, which is left to the Church in the time of Christ, who was the euerlasting Priest and the euerlasting sacrifice figured by the sacrifices of the Lawe.

17 For thus sayeth the Lord, Dauid shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neyther shall the Priestes and Leuites want a man before me to offer o burnt offerings, and to offer meate offerings, and to doe sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah, saying,

20 Thus sayeth the Lorde, If you can breake my couenant of the p day, and my couenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my seruant, that he should not haue a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, and Priestes my ministers.

q Meaning, the Caldeans and other infidels, which thought God had vtterly cast off Iudah and Israel or Beniamin, because he did correct them for a time for their amendment.

22 As the armie of heauen can not be numbred, neyther the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites, that minister vnto me.

23 ¶ Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came to Ieremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what q this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, lies, which the Lord hath chosen, hee hath euen cast them off: thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my couenant be not with day and night, & if I haue not appointed the order of heauen and earth, 26 Then will I cast away the seede of Iaakob & Dauid my seruant, and not take of his seede to bee rulers ouer the seede of Abraham, Izhak, and Iaakob: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, and haue to mpassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Hee threatneth that the citie, and the King Zedekiah shalbe giuen into the handes of the King of Babylon. 11 Hee rebuketh their crueltie towardes their seruants.

THe worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord (when a Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babell, and all his hoste, and all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities thereof) saying, a Who commonly of Ieremiah was called Nebuchad-rezzar, and of others Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Goe, and speake to Zedekiah King of Iudah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, * I will giue this citie into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

2. Chro. 36. 19. chap. 29. 16, 17. and 32. 3.

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eyes shall beholde the face of the King of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lord, O Zedekiah, King of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of thee, thou shalt not die by the sword, b Not of any violent death.

5 But thou shalt die in b peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, so shall they burne odours for thee, and they shall lament thee, saying, Oh Lord! for I haue pronounced the word, saith the Lord.

c The Iewes shall lament for thee their Lorde and King.

6 Then Ieremiah the Prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah King of Iuhah in Ierusalem,

7 (When the king of Babels hoste fought against Ierusalem, and against all the cities of Iudah that were left, euen against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Iudah)

8 This is the word that came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah had made a couenant with all the people, which were at Ierusalem, d to proclaime libertie vnto them, d When the enemie was at hand, and they saw themselues in danger, they would seeme holy and so began some kinde of reformation: but soone after they vttered their hypocrisie.

9 That euery man should let his e seruant goe free, & euery man his handmaid, which was an Ebrue or an Ebruesse, and that none should serue himselfe of them, to wit, of a Iewe his brother.

e According to the Lawe, Exod. 21. 2. Deu. 15. 12.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the couenant, heard that euery one should let his seruant goe free, and euery one his handmaide, and that none should serue themselues of them any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But afterward they ‡ repented, and caused the seruants and the handmaides, whom they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruantes and handmaides.

‡ Ebr. returned.

12 Therefore the word of the Lord came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a couenant with your fathers, whe I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of ‖ seruants, saying,

‖ Or, bondage.

14 * At the terme of seuen yeeres let yee goe, euery man his brother an Ebrewe which hath bene solde vnto thee: and when hee hath serued thee sixe yeeres, thou shalt let him goe free from thee: but your fathers obeyed me not, neither inclined their eares.

Deut. 15. 1, 12.

15 And yee were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclayming libertie, euery man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenant before me in f the House, whereupon my Name is called.

f Meaning, in the Temple, to declare that it was a most solemne and straite couenant, made in the Name of the Lorde.

16 But yee repented, and polluted my Name: for yee haue caused euery man his seruant, and euery man his handmaide, whome yee had set at libertie at their pleasure, to returne, and holde them in subiection to bee vnto you as seruants and as handmaides.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lorde, Ye haue not obeyed me, in proclayming freedome euery man to his brother, and euery man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaime a libertie for you, saith the Lord, to g the sworde, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

g That is, I giue the sword libertie to destroy you.

18 And I will giue those men that haue broken my couenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the couenant, which they had made before me, when they h cut the calfe in twaine, and passed betweene the partes thereof:

h As touching this maner of solemne couenant which the ancient vsed by passing betweene the two partes of a beast, to signifie that the transgressor of the same couenant should be so deuided in pieces, reade Gene. 15. 10.

19 The princes of Iudah, and the princes of Ierusalem, the Eunuches, and the Priestes, and all the people of ỹ land, which passed betweene the partes of the calfe, 20 I will euen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the handes of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meate vnto the foules of the heauen, & to the beastes of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Iudah, and his princes will I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke their life, and into the hand of the King of Babels hoste, which i are gone vp from you.

i To fight against the Egyptians, as Chap. 37. 11.

22 Beholde, I will commaund, sayth the Lord, and cause them to returne to this citie, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

He proposeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

THe worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, in the dayes a of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, saying, a For the disposition and order of these prophecies reade chap. 27. 3.

2 Goe vnto the house of the [b]Rechabites, and speake vnto them, and bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iaazaniah, the sonne of Ieremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, & his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought them into the House of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan, the sonne of Igdaliah a man [c] of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboue the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the ‖ treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of ỹ house of the Rechabites, pots full of wine, and cups, and [d] said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, We wil drinke no wine: For [e] Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, [f] Yee shall drinke no wine, neither you nor your sonnes for euer.

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sowe seede, nor plant vineyarde, nor haue any, but all your daies ye shall dwell in tentes, that yee may liue a long time in the lande where ye be strangers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the voyce of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that he hath charged vs, & we drinke no wine all our daies, neither we, our wiues, our sonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Neither builde wee houses for vs to dwell in, neither haue we vineyarde nor field, nor seede,

10 But we haue remained in tents, and haue obeyed, & done according to [g] all that Ionadab our father commanded vs.

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel came vp into ỹ land, we said, Come, and let vs goe to Ierusalem, from the hoste of the Caldeans, and from the hoste of Aram: so we [h] dwell at Ierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremiah, saying,

13 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Go, and tell the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, Will [i] ye not receiue doctrine to obey my words, saith the Lord?

14 The commandement of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab that he commaunded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, is surely kept: for vnto this day they drinke none, but obey their fathers commaundement: notwithstanding I haue spoken vnto you, [k] rising early, and speaking, but ye would not obey me.

15 I haue sent also vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising vp early, & sending thē, saying, *Returne now euery man from his euill way, & amend your workes, and goe not after other gods to serue them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, & to your fathers, but yee would not incline your eare, nor obey me.

16 Surely, the sonnes of Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, haue kept the commaundement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hath not obeyed me.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, all the euill that I haue pronounced against them, because I haue [l] spoken vnto them, but they would not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but they would not answere.

18 And Ieremiah said vnto the house of the Rechabites, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Because ye haue obeyed the commaundement of Ionadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hath commanded you, 19 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Ionadab the sonne of Rechab shall [m] not want a man, to stand before me for euer.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Baruch writeth, as Ieremiah inditeth, the booke of the curses against Iudah & Israel. 9 He is sent with the booke vnto the people and readeth it before them all. 14 He is called before the rulers and readeth it before them also. 23 The King casteth it in the fire. 28 There is another written at the commandement of the Lord.

AND in the fourth [a] yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this worde vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Take thee a roule or booke, and write therein all the words that I haue spoken to thee against Israel, and against Iudah, and against all the nations, from the day that I spake vnto thee, euen [b] from the daies of Iosiah vnto this day.

3 It may bee that the house of Iudah will heare of all the euill, which I determined to doe vnto them, that they may returne euery man from his euill way, that I may forgiue their iniquitie, and their sinnes.

4 Then Ieremiah called Baruch the sonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote [c] at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the Lorde, which he had spoken vnto him, vpon a roule, or booke.

5 And Ieremiah commaunded Baruch, saying, I am [d] shut vp, and cannot goe into the house of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou, & reade the roule, wherein thou hast written at my mouth the wordes of the Lorde, in the audience of the people in the Lordes House vpon the [e] fasting day: also thou shalt reade them in the hearing of all Iudah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may bee that they will [f] pray before the Lorde, and euery one returne from his euill way, for great is the anger, and the wrath, that the Lord hath declared against this people.

8 So Baruch the sonne of Neriah did according vnto all, that Ieremiah the Prophet commaunded him, reading in the booke the wordes of the Lorde in the Lordes Lords house.

g The fast was then proclaimed, and Baruch read this roule, which was a little before that Ierusalem was first taken, and then Iehoiakim and Daniel and his companions were led away captiues.

9 ¶ And in the fift g yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaymed a fast before the Lorde to all the people in Ierusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudah vnto Ierusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Ieremiah in the House of the Lorde, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretarie, in the hier court at the entrie of the h newe gate of the Lordes house, in the hearing of all the people.

h Which is the East gate of the Temple.

11 ¶ When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord, 12 Then hee went downe to the kings house into the Chauncellors chamber, and loe, all the Princes sate there, euen Elishama the Chancellour, & Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Iehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemia, the sonne of Chushi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand y roule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, & come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah, tooke the roule in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they sayd vnto him, Sit downe nowe, and reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Nowe when they had heard all the wordes, they were i afraide both one and other, and said vnto Baruch, We will certifie the king of all these words.

i The godly were afraide, seeing God so offended, and the wicked were astonied for the horror of the punishment.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs nowe, howe diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, Hee pronounced all these wordes vnto mee with his mouth, and I wrote them with yncke in the booke.

19 Then said the Princes vnto Baruch, Goe, k hide thee, thou and Ieremiah, and let no man knowe where ye be.

k They that were godly among the princes, gaue this counsell, by whose meanes it is like that Ieremiah was deliuered: for they knew the rage of the King and of the wicked to bee such, that they could not escape without danger of their liues.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king to the court, but they layde vp the roule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour, and tolde the king all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Iehudi to fet the roule, and hee tooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, and Iehudi read it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the king.

22 Nowe the King sate in the winter house, in the l ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

l Which conteined part of November and part of December.

23 And when Iehudi had read three, or foure lines, he cut it with the penknife and cast it into the fire, that was on the hearth, vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afrayde, nor rent m their garments, neyther the king, nor any of his seruants, that heard all these wordes.

m Shewing that the wicked in stead of repenting when they heare Gods iudgements, growe into further malice against him and his worde.

25 Neuertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had besought the king, that he would not burne the roule: but hee would not heare them.

n Thus we see the continuall care that God hath euer ouer his to preserue them from the rage of the wicked.

26 But the king commaunded Ierahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Ieremiah the Prophet, but the Lorde n hid them.

27 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiah (after that the king had burnt the roule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe o another roule and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Iehoiakim the king of Iudah hath burnt.

o Though the wicked thinke to haue abolished the word of God, when they haue burnt the booke thereof: yet this declareth that God wil not only raise it vp againe, but also increase it in greater abūdance to their condemnation, as verse 32.

29 And thou shalt say to Iehoiakim king of Iudah, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, p Why hast thou written therein, saying, that the king of Babel shall come and certainely destroy this lande, and shall take thence both man and beast?

p These are Iehoiakims words.

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Iehoiakim king of Iudah, He shal haue q none to sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his r dead body shall bee cast out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the frost.

q Though Iehoiakin his sonne succeeded him, yet because he reigned but three moneths, it was esteemed as no reigne.

r Reade Chap. 22.19.

31 And I will visite him and his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and vpon the men of Iudah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

32 Then tooke Ieremiah another roule, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiah all the wordes of the booke which Iehoiakim the king of Iudah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides them many like wordes.

y That is, was out of prison, and at liberties.

4 (Now Ieremiah a went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

a That is, he was not yet shut vp in prison.

5 Then Pharaohs hoste was e come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they ‡ departed from Ierusalem)

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Iudah, that sent you vnto me to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this citie, and take it and burne it with fire.

9 Thus sayeth the Lorde, ‖ Deceiue not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shal surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole hoste of ỹ Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet shoulde euery man rise vp in his tent, and burne this citie with fire.

11 ¶ When the host of the Caldeans was broken vp frō Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiah went out of Ierusalem to goe into the f lande of Beniamin, separating himselfe thence from among the people.

13 And when hee was in the g gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Iriah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and hee tooke Ieremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou ‡ fleest to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Ieremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Iriah tooke Ieremiah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angrie with Ieremiah, and smote him, and layde him in prison in the house of Ionathan the scribe: for they had made that ỹ h prison.

16 When Ieremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prisons, and had remained there a long time, 17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke him out, and the king asked him secretly in his house, and sayde, Is there any word from the Lord? And Ieremiah said, Yea: for, said he, thou shalt be deliuered into the hand of the king of Babel.

18 Moreouer Ieremiah sayde vnto king Zedekiah, What haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison?

19 * Where are nowe your prophetes, which prophecied vnto you, saying, The king of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare nowe, I pray thee, O my Lord the king: let my prayer ‡ be accepted before thee, that thou cause mee not to returne to the house of Ionathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commaunded that they should put Ieremiah in the court of the prison, & that they shoulde giue him dayly a piece of bread out of the bakers streete vntill all the bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the motion of the rulers Ieremiah is put into a dungeon. 10 At the request of Ebed-melech the king commandeth Ieremiah to be brought foorth of the dungeon. 17 Ieremiah sheweth the king how he might escape death.

Then Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Iucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of a Malchiah, heard the wordes that Ieremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lorde, He that remaineth in this citie, shall die by the ‖sworde, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shal liue: for he shall haue his life for b a pray, and shall liue.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, This citie shall surely be giuen into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes sayde vnto the King, We beseech you, let this man bee put to death: for thus he ‖ weakeneth the hands of the men of warre c that remaine in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes vnto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hands, for the king can denie d you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah ỹ sonne of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Ieremiah with cordes: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Ieremiah stacke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-melech the ‡ blacke Moze, one of the Eunuches, which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Ieremiah in the dungeon (then the king sate in the e gate of Beniamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men haue done euill in all that they haue done to Ieremiah the Prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and hee dieth for hunger in the place where hee is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commaunded Ebed-melech the black Moze, saying, Take from hence thirtie men ‡ with thee, and take Ieremiah the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king vnder the treasurie, and tooke there old rotten ragges, and olde worne cloutes, and let them downe by cordes into the dungeon to Ieremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moze sayd vnto Ieremiah, Put nowe these olde rotten ragges and worne vnder thine armeholes, betweene the cordes. And Ieremiah did so.

13 So they drewe vp Ieremiah with cordes, and tooke him vp out of the dungeon, dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the Court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and tooke Jeremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king saide vnto Jeremiah, I will aske thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah saide to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slaye me? and if I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the king sware secretly vnto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lorde liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then said Jeremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saieth the Lorde God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt goe foorth vnto the king of Babels [b] princes, then thy soule shall liue, and this citie shall not bee burnt vp with fire, and thou shalt liue, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe foorth to the king of Babels princes, then shall this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes.

19 And Zedekiah the king saide vnto Jeremiah, I am carefull for the Jewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, least they deliuer me into their hands, & they [i] mocke me.

20 But Jeremiah saide, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lorde, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shal liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to goe foorth, this is the word that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And beholde, all the women that are [k] left in the king of Judahs house, shall bee brought foorth to the king of Babels princes: and those women shall say, Thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy feete are fastened in the mire, and they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes, but shalt bee taken by the hande of the king of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to bee burnt with fire.

24 Then saide Zedekiah vnto Jeremiah, Let no man knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes vnderstand that I haue talked with thee, and they come vnto thee, and say vnto thee, Declare vnto vs nowe, what thou hast saide vnto the King, hide it not from vs, and we will not slay thee: also what the king saide vnto thee,

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly [l] besought the king that hee would not cause me to returne to Jehonathans house to die there.

27 Then came all the Princes vnto Jeremiah and asked him. And he tolde them according to all these wordes that the king had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Jeremiah abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there, when Jerusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besiegeth Jerusalem. 4 Zedekiah fleeing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremiah is prouided for. 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captiuitie.

IN * the ninth yeere of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel and all his host against Jerusalem, and they besieged it. 2. King. 25. 1. chap. 52. 4.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was broken [a] vp.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babel came in, and sate in the middle gate, euen Nergal, Sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, Rab-saris, Nergal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the king of Judah sawe them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went out of the citie by night, thorowe the kings garden, and by the [b] gate betweene the two walles, and he went toward the wildernesse.

5 But the Caldeans hoste pursued after them, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vnto [c] Riblah in the lande of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Then the king of Babel slew the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babel slewe all the Nobles of Judah.

7 Moreouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him in chaines, to carie him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings house, and the houses of the people with fire, and brake downe the walles of Jerusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the ‖ chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the citie, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the [d] poore that had nothing, in the lande of Judah, and gaue them vineyardes and fieldes at the same time.

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremiah ‡ vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying,

12 Take him, and ‡ looke well to him and doe him no harme, but doe vnto him * euen as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Nergal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babels princes:

15 Now the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, while hee was shut vp in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Goe and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke More, saying, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my wordes vpon this citie for euill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lorde, and thou shalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sworde, but thy life shall be for a praye vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lorde.

CHAP. XL.

4 Ieremiah hath licence to goe whither he will. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

THe worde which came to Jeremiah from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe from Ramath, when hee had taken him being bound in chaines among all that were caryed away captiue of Ierusalem and Judah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 [a] And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and saide vnto him, The Lord thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Nowe the Lorde hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because yee haue [b] sinned against the Lorde, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And nowe beholde, I loose thee this day from the chaines which were on thine hands: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, [‡] tarie still: behold, all the land is ‖before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to goe, thither goe.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he saide, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, whome the king of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people, or goe whereesoeuer it pleaseth thee to goe. So the chiefe Steward gaue him vitailes and a rewarde and let him goe.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to [c] Mizpah, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Nowe when all the Captaines of the hoste, [d] which were in the fieldes, euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the lande, that were not caryed away captiue to Babel,

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen [e] Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan, and Jonathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanehumeth, and the sonnes of Ephai, the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan * sware vnto them, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: dwell in the lande, and serue the king of Babel, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for mee, beholde, I will dwell at Mizpah to ‖serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and sommer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities, that ye haue ‖taken.

11 Likewise when all the Iewes that were in [f] Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babel had left a remnant of Judah, and that hee had set ouer them Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were driuen, & came to the lande of Judah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer fruites, very much.

13 Moreouer Johanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were in the fieldes, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And said vnto him, knowest thou not that [g] Baalis the king of the Ammonites, hath sent Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee? but Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleeued them not.

15 Then Johanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Wherefore should hee kill thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?

16 But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam saide vnto Johanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt [h] not doe this thing: for thou speakest falsly of Ishmael.

3 Ishmael also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and all the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 Now the second day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knewe it,

5 There came men from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, euen fourescore men, hauing their beards shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with [d] offrings and incense in their handes to offer in the house of the Lorde.

d For they thought that the Temple had not bene destroyed, and therefore came vp to the feast of Tabernacles: but hearing of the burning thereof in the way, they shewed these signes of sorowe.

6 And Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meete them, weeping as he went: [e] when he met them, he sayd vnto them, Come to [e] Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

e For his death was kept secret, and hee fained that he lamented for the destruction of Ierusalem, and the Temple: but after slewe them when they seemed to fauour Gedaliah.

7 And when they came into the middes of the citie, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah slewe them, and cast them into the middest of the pit, hee and the men that were with him.

8 But tenne men were found among them, that sayde vnto Ishmael, Slay vs not: for wee haue treasures in the fielde, of wheate, and of barley, and of oyle, and of hony: so hee stayed, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Ishmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whom hee had slaine because of Gedaliah) is it, which Asa the king had [f] made because of Baasha King of Israel, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slaine.

f Asa fortified Mizpah for feare of the enemie, and cast ditches and trenches, 1.King.15.22.

10 Then Ishmael caried away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, euen the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them away captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and al the [g] captaines of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euill that Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done, g Which had bene captaines vnder Zedekiah.

12 Then they al tooke their men, [f] went to fight with Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Nowe when all the people whome Ishmael caried away captiue, sawe Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Ishmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned, and came againe, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the [h] Ammonites.

h For Baalis the king of the Ammonites was the cause of this murther.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, [f] all the captaines of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had caried away captiue from Mizpah, (after that hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) euen the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the eunuches, whome hee had brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth [i] Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to goe and to enter into Egypt, i Which place Dauid of old had giuen to Chimham the sonne of Barzillai the Gileadite, 2.Sam. 19.38.

18 Because of the Caldeans: for they feared them, because Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babel made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captaines aske counsell of Ieremiah what they ought to doe. 7 He admonisheth the remnants of the people not to goe into Egypt.

THen all the captaines of the hoste, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Iezaniah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And said vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, [‡] Heare our prayer, wee beseech thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lorde thy God, euen for all this remnant (for wee are left, but a fewe of many, as thine eyes doe beholde)

‡ Ebr. let our prayer fall before thee, as chap.36.7

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein wee may walke, and the thing that we may [a] doe.

a This declareth the nature of hypocrites, which would know of Gods word what they should doe, but will not follow it, but in as much as it agreeeth with that thing which they haue purposed to doe.

4 Then Ieremiah the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: beholde, I will pray vnto the Lorde your God, according to your words, and whatsoeuer thing the Lord shall answere you, I will declare it vnto you: I will keepe nothing backe from you.

b There are none more ready to abuse the Name of God and take it in vaine, then the hypocrites, which to colour their falshood vse it without all reuerence, and make it a meanes for them to deceiue the simple and the godly.

5 Then they saide to Ieremiah, [b] The Lorde be a witnesse of trueth, and faith betweene vs, if wee doe not, euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shall send thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whom we send thee, that it may be well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 ¶ [c] And so after ten dayes came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiah.

c Here is declared the vision & the occasion thereof, whereof mention was made, chap.40.1.

8 Then called hee Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

d Reade Chap. 18.8.

9 And saide vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, and not roote you out: for I [d] repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

e Because all kings hearts and wayes are in his hands, hee can turne them and dispose them as it pleaseth him, and therefore they neede not to feare man, but onely obey God, Proue b.21.1.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whom ye are afrayd: be not afrayd of him, saith the Lorde: for I am with you to saue you, and to deliuer you [e] from his hand, 12 And I will graunt you mercy that he may haue compassion vpon you, and he shal cause you to [f] dwell in your owne land.

f Or, returne.

13 But if ye say, Wee will not dwell in this lande, neither heare the voyce of the Lorde

Lorde your God.

14 Saying, Nay, but we will goe into the lande of Egypt, where wee shall see no warre, nor heare the sound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the worde of the Lorde, yee remnant of Iudah, thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, If yee set your faces to enter into Egypt, and goe to dwell there)

16 Then the sword that ye feared, f shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which yee care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, and there shall yee die.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall die by the sworde, by the famine and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene powred foorth vpon the inhabitantes of Ierusalem: so shall my wrath bee powred foorth vpon you, when yee shall enter into Egypt, and ye shall bee a detestation, and an astonishment, and a g curse, and a reproch, and yee shall see this place no more.

19 O yee remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath sayde concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: knowe certainely that I haue admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye h dissembled in your hearts when yee sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Pray for vs vnto the Lorde our God, and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lorde our God shall say, and we will doe it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Now therfore, know certainely that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, i in the place whither yee desire to goe and dwell.

f Thus God turneth the policie of the wicked to their owne destruction: for they thought themselues sure in Egypt, and there Nebuchadnezzar destroyed them and the Egyptians, Chap. 46.25.

g Reade Chap. 26.6. & 44.12. shewing that this should come vpon them for their infidelitie and stubburnnesse.

h For you were fully minded to goe into Egypt, whatsoeuer God spake to the contrary.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Ieremiah. 8 Ieremiah prophecieth the destruction of Egypt.

a Who was also called Iezaniah, Chap. 42.1.

b This declareth that pride is the cause of rebellion, and contempt of Gods ministers.

c When the hypocrisie of the wicked is discouered, they burst foorth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, reade Isa. 30.10.

NOw when Ieremiah had made an end of speaking vnto the whole people all the wordes of the Lorde their God, for the which the Lorde their God had sent him to them, euen all these wordes,

2 Then spake a Azariah the sonne of Hoshaiah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the b proud men, saying vnto Ieremiah, c Thou speakest falsly: the Lord our God hath d not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to dwell there,

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah e prouoketh thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hande of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and cary vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaines of the hoste, tooke all the remnant of Iudah, that were returned from all f nations, whither they had bene driuen, to dwell in the land of Iudah:

6 Euen men and women, and children, and the Kings daughters, and euery person that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, and Ieremiah the Prophet, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voyce of the Lorde: thus came they to h Tahpanhes.

8 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto Ieremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and i hide them in the clay in the bricke kil, which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will sende and bring Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel k my seruant, and will set his throne vpon these stones that I haue hidde, and he shall spread his pauilion ouer them.

11 And when he shall come, he shal smite the land of Egypt: l such as are appointed for death, to death, and such as are for captiuitie, to captiuitie, and such as are for the sword, to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt, and he shall burne them and cary them away captiues, and he shall arap himselfe with the lande of Egypt, as a m shepheard putteth on his garment, and shal depart from thence in peace.

13 Hee shall breake also the images of ‖ Beth-shemeth, that is in the lande of Egypt, and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burne with fire.

d He sheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, to faine that they would obey God and embrace his worde, if they were assured that his messengers spake trueth: though in deed they be most farre from all obedience.

e Thus the wicked doe not only contemne and hurt the messengers of God, but slander & speake wickedly of all them that support or fauour the godly.

f As from the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites, Chap. 40.11.

CHAP. XLIIII.

Hee reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatning of the Lorde, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Iewes therein, is prophecied.

THe worde that came to Ieremiah concerning all the Iewes, which dwell in the lande of Egypt, and remained at Migdol and at a Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathros, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene all the euill that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and beholde, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein, a These were all famous & strong cities in Egypt, where the Iewes that were fled, dwelt for their safetie: but the Prophet declareth that there is no holde so strong, that can preserue them from Gods vengeance.

3 Because

3 Because of their wickednesse which they haue committed, to prouoke me to anger, in that they went to burne incense, and to serue other gods, whom they knew not, neither they nor you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets [b] rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare nor incline their eare to turne from their wickednesse, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore [c] my wrath, and mine anger was powred forth and was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, and wasted, as appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Wherefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, childe and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine?

8 In that yee prouoke mee vnto wrath with the workes of your handes, burning incense vnto other gods in the lande of Egypt whither ye be gone to dwell: that ye might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might bee a curse and a reproch among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue yee forgotten the wickednesse of your Fathers, and the wickednesse of the [d] kings of Iudah, and the wickednesse of their wiues, and your owne wickednesse, and the wickednesse of your wiues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

10 They are not ‖ humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor walked in my Lawe nor in my statutes, that I set before you, and before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will set my face against you * to euil, and to destroy all Iudah, 12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah, that [e] haue set their faces to goe into the land of Egypt there to dwell, and they shall all be consumed and fall in the lande of Egypt: they shall euen be consumed by the sworde, and by the famine: they shall die from the least vnto the most, by the sworde, and by the famine, and they shall be a detestation and an astonishment and a [f] curse and a reproch.

13 For I will visite them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sworde, by the famine, and by the pestilence, 14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or remaine, that they should returne into the land of Iudah to the which they ‡ haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but [g] such as shall escape.

15 Then all the men which knewe that their wiues had burnt incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stoode by, a great multitude, euen all the people y dwelt in the lande of Egypt in Pathros, answered Ieremiah, saying,

16 The word that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the name of the Lorde, wee will [h] not heare it of thee,

17 But wee will doe whatsoeuer thing goeth out of our owne mouth, as to burne incense vnto [i] the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, as wee haue done, both wee and our fathers, our Kings and our princes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem: for then ‡ had we [k] plentie of vitailes and were well and ‖ felt none euil.

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings vnto her, wee haue had ‖ scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sworde and by the famine.

19 And when wee burnt incense to the Queene of heauen, and powred out drinke offerings vnto her, did wee make her cakes to ‖ make her glad, & powre out drinke offerings vnto her without [l] our husbands?

20 Then said Ieremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had giuen him that answere, saying,

21 Did not the Lorde remember the incense, that yee burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, both you, and your fathers, your Kings, and your princes, and the people of the lande, and ‡ hath he not considered it?

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbeare, because of the wickednesse of your inuentions, and because of the abominations, which yee haue committed: therefore is your land desolate and an astonishment, and a curse and without inhabitant, as appeareth this day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense, and because ye haue sinned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lorde, nor walked in his Lawe, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth this day.

24 Moreouer Ieremiah sayde vnto all the people and to all the women, Heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, Yee and your wiues haue both spoken w your mouthes, and fulfilled with your [m] hande, saying, Wee will performe our vowes that wee haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to powre out drinke offerings to her: yee will performe your vowes, and doe the things that yee haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt. Beholde, I haue sworne by my great Name, saieth the Lorde, that my Name

c He setteth before their eyes Gods iudgments against Iudah & Ierusalem for their idolatrie, that they might beware by their example, and not with the like wickednes prouoke the Lord: for then they should be double punished.

d He sheweth that we ought to keepe in memorie Gods plagues from the beginning, that considering the, we might liue in his feare, and know if he haue not spared our fathers, yea, kings, princes and rulers, and also whole countries, and nations for their sinnes, that we vile wormes cannot looke to escape punishment for ours.

i Reade Chap. 7.18. It seemeth that the Papistes gathered of this place, their Salue Regina, & Regina cœli lætare, calling the virgin Mary Queene of heauen, and so of the blessed virgine, and mother of our Sauiour Christ made an idole: for here the Prophet condemneth their idolatrie.

‡ Ebr. We were satiate with bread.

‡ Ebr. Is it not come vp into hu heart?

m You haue committed double euil in making wicked vowes, and in performing the same.

n This declareth an horrible plague toward idolaters, seeing that God wil not vouchsafe to haue his Name mentioned by such as haue polluted it.

o We see therefore, that God hath a perpetuall care ouer his, whersoeuer they are scattered: for though they be but two or three, yet he will deliuer them when he destroyeth his enemies.

p He sheweth the meanes wherby they should be destroyed, to assure them of the certaintie of the plague, and yet they remaine still in their obstinacie till they perish: for Iosephus lib. 10. de Antiq. cap. 11. writeth, that fiue yeere after the taking of Ierusalem, Nebuchadnezzar the yonger, hauing ouercome the Moabites and the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slewe the king, and so brought these Iewes, and other into Babylon.

27 Behold, I will watch ouer them for euil and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall bee consumed by the sword, and by the famine, vntill they be vtterly destroyed.

28 Yet a small number that escape the sword, o shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the lande of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall knowe whose words shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall bee a signe vnto you, sayeth the Lorde, when I visite you in this place, that yee may knowe that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euill.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will p giue Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hande of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah king of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel his enemie, who also sought his life.

CHAP. XLV.

Ieremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring him that he should not perish in the destruction of Ierusalem.

THe worde that Ieremiah the Prophet spake vnto a Baruch the sonne of Neriah, when hee had written these b wordes in a booke at the mouth of Ieremiah, in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, saying,

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lorde saith thus, Beholde, that which I haue built, will I d destroy, & that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp, euen this whole land.

5 And seekest e thou great things for thy selfe? seeke them not: for beholde, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, sayeth the Lorde: but thy life will I giue thee for f a praye in all places, whither thou goest.

THe wordes of the Lord, which came to Ieremiah the Prophet against the a Gentiles,

2 As against Egypt, against the armie of b Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the riuer Perath in Carchemish, which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel smote in the fourth yeere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah.

3 c Make ready buckler and shielde, and goe forth to battell.

4 Make ready the horses, and let the horsemen get vp, and stand vp with your casters, furbish the speares, and put on the brigandines.

5 d Wherefore haue I seene them afraid, and driuen backe? for their mightie men are smitten, & are fled away, & looke not backe: for feare was round about, saith the Lord.

6 The swift shall not flee away, nor the strong man escape: they shall stumble, and fal toward the e North by the riuer Perath.

7 Who is this, that commeth vp as f a flood, whose waters are mooued like the riuers?

8 Egypt riseth vp like the flood, and his waters are mooued like the riuers, and hee saith, I will go vp, and will couer the earth: I wil destroy the citie with them that dwel therein.

9 Come vp, yee horses, and rage ye charets, and let the valiant men come forth, s the blacke Mores, and the Libyans that beare the shield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bowe.

10 For this is the day of the Lorde God of hostes, and a day of vengeance, that hee may auenge him of his enemies: for the sworde shall deuoure, and it shalbe satiate, and made drunke with their blood: for the Lord God of hostes hath h a sacrifice in the North countrey by the riuer Perath.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, & take balme, O i virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vaine shalt thou vse many k medicines: for thou shalt haue no health.

15 Why are thy valiant men put backe? they could not stand, because the Lorde did driue them.

16 He made many to fall, & one fell vpon another: and they saide, Arise, let vs goe againe to our l owne people, & to the land of our nativitie from the sword of the violent.

The worde of the Lord against the Philistims.

THe wordes of the Lorde that came to Ieremiah the Prophet, against the Philistims, before that Pharaoh smote a Azzah.
2 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, waters rise vp out of the b North, and shall bee as a swelling flood, and shall ouerflowe the land, and all that is therein, and the cities with them that dwell therein: then the men shal crie, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howle,
3 At the noise and stamping of the hooues of his strong horses, at the noyse of his charets, and at the rumbling of his wheeles: the fathers shall not looke c backe to their children, for feeblenesse of d hands,
4 Because of the day that commeth to destroy all the Philistims, and to destroy Tyrus, and Zidon, and all the rest that take their part: for the Lord wil destroy e Philistims, the remnant of the yle of f Caphtor.

a Which was also called Gaza, a citie of the Philistims.
b He meaneth the armie of the Caldeans, Isa. 8. 7. 8.
c The great feare shall take away their naturall affection.
d Their heart shall so faile them. e For the Caphtorims, which are also called Cappadocians, had destroyed in olde time the Philistims and dwelt in their lande, euen to Gaza, Deut. 2. 23.

5 f Baldnesse is come vpon Azzah: Ashkelon is cut vp with the rest of their vallets. How long wilt thou cut thy selfe?
6 O thou sworde of the Lord, how long will it bee or thou cease? turne againe into thy scabbard, rest and be still.
7 How can it b cease, seeing the Lord hath giuen it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea banke? euen there hath he appointed it.

f They haue pulled off their haire for sorowe and heauinesse.
g As the heathen vsed in their mourning, which the Lord forbad his people to do, Deut. 14. 1.
h Meaning, that it is not possible that the wicked shoulde by any meanes escape or stay the Lord, when he will take vengeance.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The worde of the Lorde against the Moabites, 26 Because of their pride and crueltie.

COncerning Moab, thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Woe vnto a Nebo: for it is wasted: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and afraid.
2 Moab shall boast no more of Heshbon: for they haue deuised euill against it. b Come, and let vs destroy it, that it bee no more a nation: also thou shalt bee destroyed, c O Madmen, and the sword shall pursue thee.
3 A voyce of crying shall be from Horonaim with desolation and great destruction.
4 Moab is destroyed: her litle ones haue caused their cry to be heard.
5 For at the going vp of d Luhith, the mourner shall goe vp with weeping: for in the going downe of Horonaim, the enemies haue heard a cry of destruction,
6 Flee, and saue your liues, and bee like vnto the e heath in the wildernesse.
7 For because thou hast trusted in thy f workes and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and g Chemosh shall goe forth into captiuitie with his priests & his princes together.
8 And the destroyer shall come vpon all cities, and no citie shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plaine shall bee destroyed as the Lord hath spoken.
9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall bee desolate, without any to dwell therein.
10 h Cursed be hee that doeth the worke of the Lord ‖ negligently, and cursed be hee that keepeth backe his sword from blood.
11 Moab hath beene at rest from his youth, and hee hath setled on his lees, and hath not bene i powred from vessell to vessell, neyther hath hee gone into captiuitie: therefore his taste remayned in him and his sent is not changed.
12 ¶ Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that I will sende vnto him such as shall carie him away, and shall empty his vessels, and breake their bottles.

a These were cities of the Moabites which Nebuchad-nezzar tooke before he went to fight against Necho king of Egypt.
b Thus shall the Babylonians incourage one another.
c Reade Isa. 25. 10.
d Horonaim and Luhith were two places, whereby the Moabites should flee, Isa. 15. 5.
e Hide your selues in barren places, where the enemie will not pursue after you, Chap. 17. 6.
f That is, the idoles which are the workes of thine handes. Some reade, in thy possessions, for so the word may signifie, as 1. Sam. 25. 2.
g Both thy great idole, and his maintenours shall be ledde away captiues, so that they shall then know that it is in vaine to looke for helpe at idoles, Isa. 15. 2.
h Hee sheweth that God would punish the Caldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a courage, and calleth this executing of his vengeance against his enemies, his worke: though the Caldeans sought another ende, Isa. 10. 12. ‖ Or, deceitfully.
i Hath not bene remoued as the Iewes haue, but haue liued at ease, and as a wine that feedeth it selfe on his lees.

13 And

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of k Beth el their confidence.

14 How thinke you thus, We are mightie and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, ‡ his cities burnt vp, & his chosen yong men are gone downe to slaughter, saith the King, whose name is, The Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab is ready to come, and his plague hasteth fast.

17 All ye that are about him, mourne for him, and all yee that knowe his Name, say, l How is the strong staffe broken, and the beautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that doest inhabite Dibon, come downe from thy glorie, and sit in thirst: for the destroyer of Moab shall come vp vpon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holdes.

19 Thou that dwellest in Aroer, stand by the way, and beholde: aske him that fleeth and that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 m Moab is confounded: for it is destroyed: howle, and crie, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is made waste,

21 And iudgement is come vpon the plaine countrey, vpon Holon and vpon Iahazah, and vpon Mephaath, 22 And vpon Dibon, and vpon Nebo, and vpon the house of Diblathaim, 23 And vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth-gamul, and vpon Beth-meon,

24 And vpon Kerioth, and vpon Bozrah, and vpon all the cities of the lande of Moab farre or neere.

25 The n horne of Moab is cut off, and his arme is broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make ye him o drunken: for he magnified himselfe against the Lord: Moab shal ‖ wallowe in his vomite, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For diddest not thou deride Israel, as though he had bin found amog theeues? for when thou speakest of him, thou art p mooued.

28 O yee that dwell in Moab, leaue the cities, and dwell in the rockes, and bee like the doue, that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 * We haue heard the pride of Moab (hee is exceeding proude) his stoutnesse, and his arrogancie, and his pride, and the hautinesse of his heart.

30 I knowe his wrath, sayth the Lorde, but it shall not bee so; and his dissimulations, for they doe not right.

31 r Therefore will I howle for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab: mine heart shall mourne for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibnah, I will weepe for thee, as I wept for Iazer: thy p'lants are gone ouer the sea, they are come to the sea f of Iazer: the destroyer is fallen vpon thy sommer fruites, and vpon thy vintage,

33 And ioy, and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field & from the lande of Moab: and I haue caused wine to fayle from the wine presse: none shal tread with showting: their showting shalbe no showting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon vnto Elaleh, and vnto Iahaz haue they made their noyse: from Zoar vnto Horonaim, the t heifer of three yeere olde shall go lowing: for the waters also of Nimrim shalbe wasted.

35 Moreouer, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the Lorde, him that offered in the hie places, & him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like a u shaume, and mine heart shall sound like a shaume for the men of Kir-heres, because the riches that hee hath gotten, is perished.

37 * For euery head shalbe ‖ balde, and euery beard plucked: vpon all the handes shalbe cuttings, and vpon the loynes sackecloth.

38 And mourning shall bee vpon all the house toppes of Moab & in all the streetes thereof: for I haue broken Moab like a vessell wherein is no pleasure, sayeth the Lord.

39 They shall howle, saying, How is hee destroyed? Howe hath Moab turned the backe with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a feare to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, x he shall flie as an eagle, and shall spread his wings ouer Moab.

41 The cities are taken, and the strong holdes are wonne, and the mightie mens hearts in Moab at that day shall bee as the heart of a woman in trauell.

42 And Moab shall bee destroyed from being a people, because hee hath set vp himselfe against the Lord.

43 y Feare, and pit and snare shalbe vpon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the Lord.

44 He that escapeth from the feare, shall fall in the pit, and hee that getteth vp out of the pit, shalbe taken in the snare: for I will bring vpon it, euen vpon Moab, the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

45 They that fled stoode vnder the shadowe z of Heshbon, because of the force: for a the fire came out of Heshbon, and a flame from Sihon, and deuoured the corner of Moab, and the toppe of the seditious children.

46 Wo be vnto thee, O Moab: the people of b Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken captiues, and thy daughters led into captiuitie.

47 Yet will I bring againe the captiuitie of Moab in the c latter dayes, sayth the Lorde. Thus farre of the iudgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The worde of the Lorde against the Ammonites, 7 Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Kedar, 34 and Elam.

VNto the children of a Ammon thus saith the Lorde, Hath Israel no sonnes? or hath hee none heire? Why then hath their b king possessed Gad? and his people dwelt in c his cities?

2 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that I will cause a noyse of warre k As the calfe of Beth-el was not able to deliuer the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliuer the Moabites.

‡ Ebr. gone vp, or destroyed.

l How are they destroyed that put their trust in their strength and riches.

m Thus they that flee, shall answere.

n That is, his power and strength.

o He willed the Caldeans to lay afflictions vpon them, till they bee like drunken men that fall downe to their shame and are derided of all.

‖ Or, shalbe full, or clap his hands.

p Thou reioycest to heare of his miserie.

Isa.16.6.

q He shall not execute his malice against his neighbours.

r Reade Isa.16.7.

f Which citie was in the vtmost border of Moab: and hereby he signifieth that the whole land should be destroyed, and the people caried away.

t Reade Isa.15.5.

u Their custome was to play on flutes or instruments, heauie and graue tunes at burials and in the time of mourning, as Matth. 9.23. Isa 15.2,3. *ezek.*7.18.

‖ Or, shauen.

x That is, Nebuchad-nezzar, as Chap.49.22.

y He that escapeth one danger, shalbe taken of another, Isa.24.17.

z They fled thither, thinking to haue succour of the Amorites.

a The Amorites had destroyed the Moabites in times past, and now because of their power, the Moabites shall seeke to them for helpe.

b Which vaunted themselues of their idole, as though he could haue defended them.

c That is, they shalbe restored by the Messiah.

a They were separated from the Moabites by the riuer Arnon, and after that the tenne tribes were caried away into captiuitie, they inuaded the countrey of Gad.

b To wit, of the Ammonites.

c Meaning, of the Israelites.

warre to be heard in d Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shalbe burnt with fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lord.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ai is wasted: crie ye daughters of Rabbah: girde you with sackecloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their king shall goe into captuitie, and his Priestes, and his Princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the e valleys? thy valley floweth away, O rebellious daughter: thee trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come vnto me?

5 Beholde, I will bring f a feare vpon thee, sayeth the Lorde God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and ye shalbe scattered euery man g right foorth, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And h afterward I will bring againe the captuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 ¶ To Edom thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Is wisedome no more in i Teman? Is counsell perished from their children? Is their wisedome vanished?

8 Flee, ye inhabitants of Dedan (k they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell) for I haue brought the destruction of Esau vpon him, and the time of his visitation,

9 If the l grape gatherers come to thee, would not they not leaue some grapes? if theeues come by night, they will destroy till they haue ynough.

10 For I haue discouered Esau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hide himselfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shall be none to say,

11 Leaue thy m fatherlesse children, and I will preserue them alive, and let thy widowes trust in mee.

12 For thus saith the Lorde, n Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cup, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shall escape free? thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sworne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that o Bozrah shall be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumour from the Lord, and an ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against p her, and rise vp to the battel.

15 For loe, I will make thee but small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy ‖ feare, & the pride of thine heart hath deceiued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rocke, and keepest y height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the egle, I will bring thee downe from thence, saith the Lord.

17 ¶ Also Edom shall be desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, & shall hisse at all the plagues thereof,

18 As in the ouerthrow of Sodome, & of Gomorah, and the places thereof neere about, saith the Lorde: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Behold, q he shall come vp like a lyon from the swelling of Iorden vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, euen I will make r him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is the s shepheard that will stand before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord that he hath deuised against Edom, and his purpose that hee hath conceiued against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least t of the flocke shall draw them out: surely u he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is mooued at the noyse of their fall: the cry of their voyce is heard in the red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come vp, and flie as the egle, x and spread his wings ouer Bozrah, and at that day shall the heart of the strong men of Edom bee as the heart of a woman in trauell.

23 ¶ Vnto y Damascus he saith, Hamath is confounded and Arpad, for they haue heard euill tidings, & they are faint hearted as one on the fearefull sea that cannot rest.

24 Damascus is discouraged, and turneth herselfe to flight, z and feare hath seased her: anguish and sorowes haue taken her as a woman in trauell.

25 How is the glorious a citie not reserued, the citie of my ioy?
